The residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. Barger, at the end of Park avenue, was badly damaged by fire of unknown origin last Wednesday evening. As the house was closed for the winter when the owners went to Detroit, the fire gained much headway before it was discovered, and the interior and roof were partially destroyed. The house was formerly occupied by the Town Club for Girls.

License Sales Drop

Returns on hunting license sales through the first week in November show a drop of approximately 25 per cent of the number sold in 1942, conservation officials estimate. Gas rationing, shortage of ammunition, lack of time to go hunting and poor weather were probably all contributing factors in keeping hunters out of the field during the upland game bird season just ended.

Injured in England

Sgt. Edward K. Golden, with the army air forces somewhere in England, was injured about three weeks ago during a blackout. Knocked down by a truck at the air field where he is stationed, Sgt. Golden has been hospitalized with a fractured leg.

SERVICES TUESDAY FOR FRANK CHENEY

Former Resident Died Saturday at Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the See Funeral Home for Frank Cheney, 63, for many years a resident of Charlevoix. He died Saturday morning in Milwaukee, Wis., following a heart attack.

Born at Bracebridge, Ontario, Canada, Mr. Cheney came to Charlevoix when he was six years old, and lived here until about a year ago, when he went to Milwaukee.

Surviving are a son, Perry, with the U. S. army air forces in England; four sisters, Mrs. Louis Allard, Mrs. F. J. Gallagher, Mrs. Eva McDonald, of Charlevoix, and Mrs. William Muntingh, of Racine, Wis.; two brothers, George, of St. Louis, Mo., and Dan Cannon, of Detroit.

Rev. Donald R. Evans conducted funeral services Tuesday. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

PURCHASES P. M. RAILROAD LAND

NORTH SIDE LOTS BOUGHT BY FRANK J. BROWN

Improvement of Property Starts; Construction Awaits Lifting Government Restrictions

Frank J. Brown, of Detroit and East Jordan, has completed the purchase of about 135 parcels of land on Charlevoix's north side from the Pere Marquette Railway Company.

As a result of the negotiations, Mr. Brown has acquired the former site of The Inn, the Dixon cottage with a considerable area north of the cottage and east of Mercer boulevard; a large number of lots fronting on Petoskey and Dixon avenues, and also on Meech, Cherry and Elm streets, and 500 feet of frontage on Lake Charlevoix across from the Pere Marquette Railway Company's depot.

Improvement of the property has already commenced. Mr. Brown intends to restore the Dixon cottage, one of Charlevoix's oldest landmarks and the former home of John S. Dixon, who came here in May, 1855, when the only settlers were four Mormon families. Other building operations will be started as soon as governmental restrictions on materails are lifted.

Floyd A. Supp, local broker, who made the sale for the railway company, says that the improvement of this property will add much to Charlevoix's resort accommodations.

FORMER RESIDENT DIED OCTOBER 4 IN LANSING

Harry K. Graves, 83, former resident of Charlevoix, died October 4 at his home in Lansing, where he had resided for the past four years. Burial was in Mount Hope cemetery, at Lansing. He is survived by his wife, Ray Graves, of this city, is a nephew.

WAR FUND DRIVE LAGGING IN CITY

ONLY ONE-THIRD OF QUOTA RAISED TO DATE

One Contribution to Fund Drive Will Help Suffering People In Many War-Torn Lands

Only one-third of the amount to be raised in Charlevoix for the National War Fund drive has been received as the drive enters its final week.

Charlevoix is one of the few cities in Michigan which has not already passed their goal, or are very near to success. Boyne City reported last week that $1,091.45 of their quota had been raised.

Of this city's $2,768 quota, the sum of $942.50 has been contributed so far in the drive, leaving $1,825.50 to be raised by next Tuesday, November 30. Contributions may be left at the Charlevoix County State Bank, depository for the local campaign.

Charlevoix has not yet failed to reach or surpass any quota assigned in war drives, and it is to be hoped that this one will not fail. Every citizen who has not already given to the drive may help to put it over the top by a contribution of a dollar, or three, five or ten—or more.

By one contribution to this campaign, it is possible to aid the work of 17 different war-related relief agencies. Almost half of the funds raised will go to United Service Organizations for their splendid work in entertaining service men in this country and abroad, at service clubs and with traveling shows. The rest of the funds go to such organizations as United Seaman's Service, which provides rest centers for men of the merchant marine who are in need of recuperation from torpedoing or the tension of wartime sea duty; to authorized agencies which provide food and clothing to the thousands upon thousands of homeless and hungry refugees in war-racked lands, in China, and in European lands outside the Axis lines. Inside German-held territory no aid can go, but outside there are thousands of wanderers who have fled from their homelands, and thousands more who have joined forces with the United Nations. AERIAL GUNNER HOME FROM SOUTH PACIFIC

Distinguished Flying Cross Won by Sgt. Frank Winnick

Sgt. Frank Winnick, U. S. army air forces, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal, has returned to Salt Lake City, Utah, after a visit with local relatives.

Sgt. Winnick was gunner of a Flying Fortress in the South Pacific area, and was recently sent back to this country. For his heroism during raids over Jap-held territory, he won the highest awards of the army air forces.

While in Charlevoix, he was guest of his sister, Mrs. Otto Kano.

Lighthouse Tender in Port

The lighthouse tender "Hyacinth" arrived in port Monday to make headquarters in Charlevoix while picking up buoys and navigation aids in upper Lake Michigan.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

Lest we forget—there's exactly 29 days before Christmas.

The OPA caused an awful rumpus by investigating deer hunters for gasoline ration violations when they were trekking to and from the upper peninsula at the Straits last week. While I believe gasoline ration rulings are a wartime necessity, made with the interests of this country's war effort uppermost, OPA's refusal to allow hunters to pool "A" coupons was a mistake. Certainly officials knew the amount of gasoline rationed through "A" coupons when it was authorized, and whether my coupons were used in someone else's car or theirs used in mine, wouldn't have made a particle of difference. There are thousands of men who work steady and faithfully for eleven and a half months for a deer hunting vacation trip of two weeks, which they are entitled to. You can get more with sugar than you can with vinegar, anytime, a lesson OPA apparently has yet to learn.

And speaking about deer, reminds me that quite a few bucks were killed near Charlevoix this year. In addition to Bert Straley, Carl Ikens and Al Smith, mentioned last week, there are John Budek, Kenneth Bare and Gordon Willis, who bagged theirs out north of town, and Philo Gillis, Lynn Mayne and Medrick Waffle out south of town. There no doubt are others we haven't heard of, too. As I recall, Budek and Mayne have hunted with success locally for at least two and maybe more years.

And as usual, I didn't get my buck. I did get in four days in camp, though, and if I never shoot another deer, I'll have the pleasant memory of those days spent close to nature, the pleasure of enjoying the companionship of a group of congenial fellows, the opportunity to retard the pace of life by a return to simple ways of living. Whether it explains anything or not, getting away from everyday

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

I received the Courier yesterday and certainly was glad to get it. I sure was glad to get the news of Charlevoix.

I saw Bruce Easenberg the other day and was glad to see someone from home. We are doing a lot of drilling for graduation, which is November 28, and I will be home the first of December.

Must close now. Thanking you again for the paper.

Yours truly,
Vernard Hamlin, AS
Co. 1554, U.S.N.T.S.
Great Lakes, Ill.

Hi, Ken,

Since arriving in Australia, I have been kept very busy by the navy, and without the usual excuses will write a long overdue letter.

The Couriers are finally catching up with me, although too slow to suit me. September issues are just arriving, but nevertheless I read from column one to the end of page eight. Thanks again to you and CSO for making it possible for us to read it.

Within 10 days I have seen Bruce Healey and Bert Pearl over here, so this world isn't so large after all. Met Bruce riding on a street car and could hardly believe it when I saw him. Between the both of us, we sure got caught up with the news from home. I found out that Bert would be around these parts and looked him up. I was only able to see him one night and again Charlevoix was raked over the coals. Just like a couple of old maids at a hen's meeting. It certainly is swell to see someone from home, and am wondering who next I will see. I have been so fortunate in meeting people I know. Also met a fellow from Marquette that I went to school with in Big Rapids. I also came across with a fellow from Petoskey.

With Michigan's winter setting in, summer is just getting under way here, and at present it is like July and August at home and it won't get hot until around Christmas time. A snowball here would be as rare as one in——,

INWOOD

(Too late for last week)

Sorry to hear that Henry Hilton is ill. Wish him a speedy recovery.

George VerSnyder has also been laid up with an infected hand.

Miss Evelyn Ager was guest of Miss Julia Krchak, Thursday.

A fine group of Barnard Grangers and friends attended the farewell dance given in honor of Lloyd Cummings, who leaves for the army on the 26th of November.

Mrs. Ed. Gregory entertained the Epworth Ladies' Aid at her home Wednesday afternoon. There were fourteen members and one visitor present. After the regular business meeting, a lovely supper was served by the hostess. Mrs. Orville Hilton will entertain next.

Clarence Murray, Carlton Ager and Archie Balch left for their hunting camp over east last Saturday morning. A party consisting of Lon and Ralph Shapton, Iver Lyons and Kenneth Ager, all of Detroit, were to join them Sunday.

Pfc. Leonard Furgeson is home on a 30-day leave. He will return to Nevada.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Baker are spending a week at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker.

Mary Speigl is back in school after the trouble with her sore foot.

Lucille May was home over the week end.

ROCK ELM

Another taste of winter, which was no doubt more appreciated by deer hunters than by farmers who still have corn to husk.

Mr. and Mrs. George DeKam, of Columbus, Ohio, visited Mrs. DeKam's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jensen, from Saturday until last Wednesday. While here, Mr. DeKam saw a deer but failed to get it.

Mr. Cooling, of Ellsworth, bought some spring roosters of Jesse Lawton last week.

Mrs. Thomas Cox, of Kalamazoo, visited her brother-in-law and sister from Wednesday until Friday of last week.

Pomona Grange will meet with Rock Elm Grange the first Saturday in December.

Jesse Lawton helped Ben Smotts buzz wood two afternoons last week.

Mrs. Julia Gunther and daughter, Mrs. Elmer Poole, of East Jordan, were callers at the Lawrence Jensen home Sunday afternoon.

This writer is in full accord with the article by a Courier reader in the November 10th issue. It certainly is time government payrolls were cut. Another mistake in preventing inflation was not putting a ceiling on wages at the same time it was placed on commodity prices. Living costs cannot be kept down and wages allowed to skyrocket.

MARION CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. Vern McGhan visited at the Sam Straw and Rowley Williams homes Sunday.

Jimmy Raymon is home on a 6-day furlough. Mildred Raymon is home also.

Shirley Black and Alma Raymon visited Jay VanZant, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Black visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ligo O'Brien, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard McGinnis were visitors Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Kleeman.

Norval Kleeman went to the army Monday.

Ludwig Greiner did some plowing for James McClanaghan, Saturday.

Some of the folks out this way were deer hunting, but we don't know what luck they had.

BEAVER ISLAND

Mrs. Erwin Belfy, Sr., of Charlevoix, spent several days here this week visiting relatives and friends.

Emil Mielke, of South Haven, spent a few days here last week hunting. He was guest of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mielke.

Mrs. J. Giles McCann returned this week to the island after visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pischner and family, at Two Rivers, Wis., also her brother, Norbert, and family, at Muskegon, and her aunt, Mrs. Fred Zoluskey, in Ludington. She was accompanied on her trip by Mrs. M. J. McCann, of Charlevoix.

Earl Spencer and party from Muskegon, spent a few days here last week hunting. He returned home Friday.

Dr. Kiefily, John Gallagher, and Lew Niles and son returned Saturday to their home in South Haven.

Dr. Mitchell, of Grand Rapids, returned to his home Thursday.

Dr. Saltonstall, Glenn See and Arthur Ranger, of Charlevoix, spent several days here this week hunting. They returned home Sunday.

Erwin Belfy, Sr., spent some time here Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives and friends, returning home Sunday.

Ray Polderdyke, son of Lawrence Polderdyke, returned to his home in Grand Rapids, Saturday, after getting a deer.

The marriage of Anna Marie Sendenburgh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sendenburgh, to Francis G. Ricksgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ricksgers, was solemnized in Holy Cross church, November 20, by Rev. Fabian Keenan. The bride was attended by Miss Rose Green and Jewell Gillespie was best man. In the afternoon a reception and dinner was served to 200 guests at the home of the bride's parents, followed by dancing at the town hall. The young couple will make their home on the island for the present.

Miss Anna Mae Connaghan, who has been in Detroit for several months, returned home this week.

Postmaster Joe Foster, Pfc. Bernie Foster, Carl Erber, Harry G. Foster, of the Foster Boat Co., and J. F. Scudder, all of Charlevoix, are hunting here this week with headquarters at the J. W. Gallagher house in Peaine township.

H. R. Pischner, who has been employed at a boat works in Benton Harbor the past year, arrived home this week and expects to remain here for the winter.

ON A WING AND A PRAYER

USE COURIER CLASSIFIED ADS

They called it the "Pursuit of Happiness"

THEY TELL you it's over there, where the guard stands on watch. So you walk expectantly over the marble floor, hearing your footsteps shatter the hush and the quiet all about you. And then, suddenly, there you are—peering at it.

And there are the famous signatures—John Hancock. Charles Carroll, of Carrollton. Samuel Adams. Button Gwinnett.

The words, scrawled on parchment, are hard to read at first. But you know by heart the opening paragraphs—remember them from your history book in the sixth grade.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

You've heard those words, you've seen them—many times. But somehow, standing there before that wrinkled parchment, you become conscious of meanings that used to be only sounds in the music of the language.

Those men who signed that document called it "the pursuit of Happiness." The right that every man was to enjoy in this new country was the right to pursue happiness. To roll up his sleeves and go after it and struggle and win it with his own two hands and his wits.

And because the people who first heard those words understood them—because they realized their right was one of pursuit—they went out with strength and courage and faith to hew quarries out of Vermont rock, to dig mines in the West Virginia earth, to build mills along the rivers of North Carolina.

Their sons, too, understood — and sucked oil out of the sand and harnessed the power in steam and welded one end of the country to the other with rails of steel.

Because of that right—and because they understood it—the people who came to this country, and their sons, made it the richest, most powerful, most restless nation on earth.

Today, there are those who voice other words. Words not of courage or strength or faith. Words of despair. We are too wise, too old, too civilized, they say, to pursue happiness. We have inherited the right to sit back and have happiness brought to us—decked out and trussed up like a roasted turkey on a silver platter. A dead turkey.

The words they speak are not new words. They have been spoken in other nations throughout history, and people hearing them have been lulled by their golden promise into complacency and submission. And slavery.

They are words that ought to be looked at for their meaning, not just listened to for their music—as all words ought to be scrutinized, including those that have become so familiar, so much a part of our lives, that their wisdom is likely to be lost.

So long as the true meaning of those earlier words is understood, the rights that they proclaim will never be lost.

NO GOLDEN AGE

What will the coming Armistice of this war bring?

With all the postwar planning—and some of it is really good—one word of caution. The millennium will not be here just because there are clover-leaves on highways, marvelous developments in building and operating homes.

It will seem an age of gold at first—that beautiful silence which will flow over the world when the guns stop firing and the bombs no longer drop. It will be like sitting on a mountain top after a steep and difficult climb, looking over a lovely valley, drawing rest and strength and beauty in with every breath. But all too soon the pause will be over, the workaday life begin again.

There will be, it is fair to hope, better, friendly, more sound and more realistic relations among the nations of the earth. There will be a chance to plan, to move about, to live more fully than for a long time. Sleep will be better, nerves quieter. Joy, for some, will take the place of fear. Certainty, for others, will at least be easier to bear than suspense. But the new world will be only as good as people will make it.

Do they really care about lasting peace? Americans didn't last time, enough to assure it. Do they care for friendliness? Free flow of trade? Freedom for all nations? Then they must be friendly, tolerant, let trade freely flow.

The great new world will not appear at once by magic. Its beauties and comforts must be produced by degrees, by fallible human beings.

Turkey for All Overseas

Every man and woman on duty in American armed forces, everywhere abroad and at home stations, will be served a pound of turkey Thanksgiving Day, November 25, and will have all the traditional "fixin's." A special effort will be made to reach those in areas where troops are strictly rationed.

Mimeograph supplies of all kinds handled at Courier office.—Adv 28

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

RETAILERS: Because of the serious shortage of manpower, the necessity of transportation priorities for war supplies, and the growing scarcity of merchandise, Michigan shoppers who wait until mid-December to buy and mail Christmas gifts are due for abrupt awakening and tearful disappointments. This warning comes from the Michigan Retail Institute at Lansing this week, and it is supported by official statements from Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission, and Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Facts: Michigan retailers are in a jam. They lack adequate labor to handle the normal December buying rush. Many types of merchandise are not available or cannot be replaced readily when present supplies are depleted. Postal service is badly bogged down. Trains are jammed with war supplies, and gifts cannot be permitted to interfere with transportation of arms and supplies to our fighting forces. Packages mailed after the first week of December are not assured of delivery before Christmas—even if then. Moral: If you want to avoid disappointments for yourself and for others, buy and mail your usual Christmas gifts NOW. This is not commercial ballyhoo. We're at war.

INFLATION. Purchase of other than essential merchandise by Christmas shoppers is frowned upon by Messrs. Walker, McNutt and Eastman who emphasize the peril of inflation in a wild buying spree. Michigan consumers have more money to spend than ever before. Farm crops this year are valued at $500,000,000, highest on record, while industrial payrolls are at all-time peaks.

Irving Fisher, noted economist, warned a few days ago "the general public and many in Congress have not been waked up to this fact: Inflation is already upon us." Fisher cautions that continued financing of the war "raising money not by taxes, not by loans out of savings, but by the 'invisible greenbacks' issued by the banks" is a certain path to "terrific inflation." His recommendations: Save more, spend less. Best Christmas gift: A U. S. war bond!

REVOLT. The Michigan Retail Institute reports that the numerous directives of the OPA, containing 11,000,000 words as used by 857 lawyers, had flooded merchants with an epidemic of confusing orders. Statement by Otis Cook, managing director: "How can any man in business hope to understand all the various rulings and restrictions which have been designed to control his business?" Result, says Cook: 32,000 retailers are in revolt against government controls.

HOAX. When town officials and merchants of Sparta made an exodus for the north woods this month, H. J. Kurtz, newspaper publisher, printed a special edition which featured this startling headline: "Crime runs rampant as buck fever gets mayor. Moonshiners display wares on street corners as police chief and other city officials vacate city hall. Slot machines block traffic when Spartans line up for chance at jack pots. Gamblers have Roman holiday." Pictures of the mayor and police chief illustrated sensational story. Actually, the edition was a hoax, printed after the regular issue and given a limited destribution.

Gasoline facts: New B and C coupons, due Dec. 1, are publicized by OPA as means of reducing clerical work, for coupons will be worth five gallons. However, Washington observers unite in forecasting further reduction of coupon value after Jan. 1. Reasons: We are using our oil reserves fast; North Europe mechanized invasion is coming; increased air assaults are consuming vast amounts of high octane gasoline.

INVASION. Slow progress of American and British troops in Italy and further reports of German morale tend to substantiate the viewpoint of U. S. military authorities, as expressed recently to Michigan leaders at Fort Knox, Kentucky, that collapse of Germany is not yet in sight. The government conference sought to curb (1) German hopes that Americans will become weary of war; (2) turnover of war workers which has reached serious proportions, according to a national survey by the OWI; and (3) overoptimism that war will end in a few weeks. American official view is that an invasion must come from the west before Germans surrender unconditionally.

EXCESSIVE. The OWI survey of war plants revealed that it is necessary today to hire 17 workers to get a net increase of three for every 100 employed. Here are the highlights: More women than men are quitting jobs. In September 800,000 persons left their jobs, a total exceeded during 1942 only in August. Reasons given for change to "better and more essential jobs": "Because of unsuitability for their work, because of general restlessness and because of home duties." Summary: "The present excessive rate must be substantially reduced or the whole pattern of war production will be jeopardized, WMC officials say."

BONUS TALK. While Governor Kelly renewed his pledge for a Michigan soldiers' and sailors' war bonus, Congress was being asked to approve uniform payments of $12 to $15 a week for 26 weeks to demobilized men who fail to find jobs. When Germany surrenders in 1944—such is the Allied war timetable—Michigan war plants may expect some scaling down in government contracts. Production for air and sea forces will be maintained at high levels. Land forces today are taking only one-third of our total war production, and inventories in ground ordnance—tanks, guns and shells—may be about large enough to carry war aainst Japan. End of the war in Europe will have a limited deflationary effect. That's the dope as the experts see it.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS. The resolution by the National Grange in convention at Grand Rapids last week, endorsing American participation in a world court or league of nations, has been interpreted as another illustration of how public opinion has changed since the days of Woodrow Wilson. The Foreign Policy association in a booklet, "American Foreign Policies," written by Prof. Thomas A. Bailey of Stanford university, puts a new light on our recent post-war isolationism.

Bailey says that Wilson by his refusal to accept reservations to the peace treaty, defining our obligations under the Covenant of the League of Nations, "actually slew the League of Nations with his own hands." Bailey adds that the Republicans in 1918, led by Henry Cabot Lodge, did not expect to defeat the treaty and that even Harding had favored an Association of Nations. If Wilson had accepted the reservations, the United States would have been in the League and post-war history might have been different, as the author concludes.

The Brazilian Rubber Scandal?

A group of Washington newspaper correspondents recently brought back from Brazil reports which indicate that when the full story of our endeavors to obtain Brazilian rubber is told, it will possibly constitute one of the worst money-spending scandals of this war. It has, of course, been no secret that we have been most generously pouring money into latin America—our generosity having been claimed justified on the grounds of keeping the Good Neighbor policy in high gear during this war. But the scandal of the Brazilian rubber jungles involves no good neighborliness, but in short is a case of this administration forcing socialistic reforms down there at an astonishingly high cost to the American taxpayer.

It appears that Vice President Henry Wallace, in his position as head of the bureau of economic warfare, and Milo Perkins, his chief assistant, tried to change the normal production and business practices of the rubber jungles of Brazil, which had existed on the rubber plantations since the Spanish padrons. For example, they sought to do away with the middle man by supplying foodstuffs and clothing direct to the workers instead of distributing such items to the merchants from whom the workers normally made their purchases. A parallel case would be if the government, now operating the coal mines, were to undertake to supply housing, clothing and food direct to the miners and thus make it impossible for the small merchants around the mines to do business. Needless to say, the experiment proved no more of a success in Brazil than it would here in the United States.

Unfortunately for those of us who wanted rubber instead of reform out of the Brazilian jungles, the merchants controlled the labor supply; and the question arises how much bad neighborliness was caused by our attempt to interfere in foreign relationships.

After Uncle Sam had spent untold millions of dollars endeavoring to get Brazilian rubber, we are told by our returning correspondents that we will get but around 15 or 20 thousand tons at the most. All told, $150,000,000 has been spent in Brazil; just how much has been spent directly to get rubber and how much can be charged to good neighborliness, cannot be determined as yet.

Here are but a few examples of how some of our taxpayers' money was spent in this connection. Great quantities of a kind of flour and a kind of bean, which the native of the Brazilian jungle simply would not eat, were bought and sent to them. Fifty million tin cups, thousands of shotguns, thousands of machetes were sent down there. In another instance, a cool million was spent in the purchase of Brazil nuts on the theory that the nut workers would thus be released for work in the rubber fields. Although elaborate plans were worked out by our "planners" to move 70,000 workers to the rubber plantations, indications seem to be that we will be fortunate if as many as 12,000 are transferred by the end of the year. To top it all off, other large sums have been spent to refit river steamers sent all the way from this country for which there is no use, inasmuch as we simply aren't getting the rubber. Seems as if we counted our chickens before they were hatched.

Briefly, it is estimated our Brazilian rubber—counting the spending in all directions—is costing us around $500 a pound as compared with 20 cents which we paid in normal times.

Orginally Jesse Jones was head of the Rubber Development Corporation, which has the Brazilian project. But apparently Mr. Jones was considered too efficient by those in power in the administration, and the job was given to Wallace and his assistant, Milo Perkins. Following the recent row between Wallace and Jones, Leo Crowley fell heir to the position of head of this corporation. It has indeed all the ear-marks of a hot potato being passed around. Is it any wonder that we receive letters from taxpayers de-

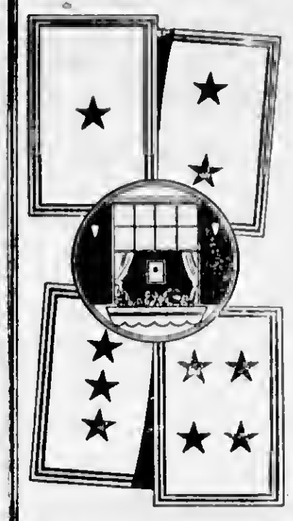
Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago cuts a ribbon in the central station of his city's new five-mile subway. A few minutes later trains were roaring through the $10,000,000 tubes which are being operated by the elevated lines.

FREE SERVICE STAR CARDS
FOR THE FAMILIES OF SERVICE MEN



Produced in Red, White and Blue
Actual size 6 inches x 9¼ inches.

This space contributed by the Charlevoix Courier as a patriotic service to those who are giving their loved ones to the cause of victory.

This Service Star window card should be seen in every home in America that is represented by a father, husband, son or brother in the Armed Forces of the United States. It emphasizes America's pride in those who are serving our country in time of war.

BLUE, SILVER OR GOLD

The Blue Star indicates service in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps within the boundaries of the United States.

The Silver Star denotes service outside the continental United States, either on the high seas, in the United States possessions, or on foreign soil.

The Gold Star is America's tribute to those who make the supreme sacrifice under the Stars and Stripes in time of war.

You are entitled to display the proper star for each member of your family serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America. For example, if you are the parent of one boy in camp in the U.S.A., you are entitled to one Blue Star. If you have two sons in service—one in the U.S.A. and one outside the U.S.A.—you are entitled to a Service Star card bearing one Blue Star and one Silver Star.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control'."

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

COMPETITION HELPS CHARLEVOIX

Charlevoix county, which has an important stake in the nation's huge travel business, is one of the regions of the country that should benefit considerably as a result of the aggressive post-war plans of the competing factors in the transportation industry.

Railway Age, reporting a survey of railroad executives in its current issue, says that the railroads are going out vigorously after more business when the war is over. The executives interviewed unanimously declared their intention of "doing everything in their power" to make railroad travel far more attractive to the public.

At perhaps the most alert and foresighted point in their history, the railroads are now blueprinting new, lightweight, streamlined trains, more luxurious cars to increase the fun of travel, high-capacity low-fare cars and generally reduced passenger fares, the survey shows. To top it all off, the rail chiefs look forward to a vigorous merchandising and advertising program.

That the railroad industry is making these plans is good news for all of the areas of the country which share substantially in the travel business, and good news for all Americans who love to travel.

Suro winners in the post-war battle for traffic will be areas like ours where the appeal to the travel instinct is great.

Home Economics Extension Leaders to Meet December 3

Home-made and remodeled furniture will be the subject for discussion at the home economics extension meeting for Charlevoix county, presented by Miss Jessie Marion, extension specialist in home furnishings from Michigan State College, on Friday, December 3rd, at 10 a. m., in the Boyne City library.

How to transform out-dated furniture to be useful and good looking is a real wartime job. Everyone is trying to conserve materials and make things do for the duration, at least. Cast-off furniture from the attic, the basement and the junk shop can be made over into useable pieces. The ugly old-fashioned buffet, the big metal bed that stands across the window, the old secretary with the bulging glass door, and rickety writing desk can be made to function and to look better than some that are brand new.

These are some of the problems for discussion and some of the things we have always intended to do, but never got around to do until this year.

The other subjects selected by the home economics extension groups for this winter's meetings are as follows: "We Keep Our House In Repair" and "Wartime Point-Saving Meals."

Wilcox Poultry Farm Attains High Production Record

Many times a person does not realize the success that some folks have enjoyed through the fruits of their own efforts. Such is the case if one notices the Wilcox Poultry Farm, located at a point about midway on the Boyne City-Horton Bay road. Folks have driven by this place for three years and have noticed that somebody must be keeping poultry, but have never visualized its accomplishments. This poultry enterprize is rapidly becoming known throughout this section of the state.

From a modest beginning three years ago last June, the owners, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wilcox and son, Dale, have now a very fine poultry farm. It was carved right out of the woods. Today they have five laying houses for breeding flocks where all birds are trapnested, one laying house 24x40 for the regular layers and five brooder houses approximately 10 by 10 for the baby chicks. The construction work has been largely done by the owners, who have used excellent judgment in the type of construction used.

When asked what he thought was the main elements contributing to his success and in securing the high production attained, Mr. Wilcox stated that sanitation, open range, good drainage, proper feed, high quality chicks and good housing were the most important. He maintains an average flock of around 300 layers with exceedingly high production and with a very small mortality. He keeps individual records of each bird, day by day, and thus knows exactly the production of each individual. One pen of 25 birds averaged 201 eggs per bird for the last fiscal 12 months period, which is seldom equaled. As a means of comparison, the highest flock at the last Michigan state egg contest, consisting of 13 birds, averaged 196.1 eggs per bird.

Only White Rocks are raised on this farm. At the very outset, the very highest quality baby chicks were secured from the Conway Poultry Farm of national reputation. He has cooperated with the Tompkins Hatchery, Boyne City, since the beginning. Together they purchase the best cockerels to head up the flock that can be bought. Then each year a nationally known poultry expert is engaged to select the outstanding pullets which are then placed in the breeding flock laying houses. Each house having from thirty to thirty-five layers. Only birds with proper type, in good health, and of good size are selected. Mr. Wilcox is exceedingly proud of one individual which laid 238 eggs in one year.

To maintain fertility, three cockerels are placed in each laying house. The Tompkins Hatchery is just as much interested in the progress of this flock as the owners, as they are interested in selling to local poultrymen high quality baby chicks. Each year several dozen eggs are purchased from outstanding poultrymen throughout the country to perpetuate the high production.

When one considers that the average farm flock only lays around ten dozen eggs per year per bird, when one obtains production double this, it is quite an accomplishment. Some time when driving by, stop and visit this interesting place. Mr. Wilcox will enjoy showing you what they have accomplished in this short time of three years.

ber of enemy transports in the action. When the mighty ship returned to the United States, 28 of her crew were left at a south Pacific base hospital, too severely wounded to travel. None of them, himself included, says Carl, were expected to pull through, but every one of them recovered after treatment with sulfa drugs and injections of blood plasma. Carl himself, his throat so badly burned he could not swallow food or water, lived for 10 days with injections of blood plasma. A 22-day trip on a hospital transport brought him to Oakland, Calif., where he entered the naval hospital. In March, he was transferred to Philadelphia naval hospital, then later to St. Albans hospital on Long Island, his present station. On October 20, he was awarded the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

His broken jaw and arm could not be set for seven months, until the deep burns had healed. When his 30-day furlough is concluded at the end of November, he will return to St. Albans hospital for plastic surgery to restore his burned face.

By the time this letter gets to Charlevoix, most of the hunters will be back with deer that they got and the weird tales of the ones that got away. Imagine Ted Coblentz "and his men and his outfit" have the best tales of all to tell. They sure make a good bunch of liars, don't they.

Well, enough of this nonsense and, rushing the season a little, I'll say "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" to everyone in Charlevoix and the rest of the fellows scattered all over the world from Charlevoix.

A Charlevoix dreamer,
Lewis E. Brown, Y2c
U. S. Navy

Dear Ken,

The weather in Mississippi has changed again, much to my dismay, and these rebels grin and laugh at us Yankees running around with our "longies" on and collars tight around our necks. Every morning at reveille the fillings in my teeth get a thorough workout, and I do mean chatter. My blood is so thin it would easily substitute for red ink.

We've all become human barometers, for every change of weather is well known in advance by the creaking sensation in our joints.

To sum it up, the atmospheric conditions are much different down here, due to the delta at the mouth of the Mississippi river. The air is moist or damp instead of the dry atmosphere we have in northern Michigan, and is noticed more by those who are not accustomed to it. I've been down here almost a year now and haven't been acclimatized as yet.

I'd give a lot to shiver back in Charlevoix right now, but Uncle can't seem to spare me at the moment. I'm hoping for a furlough next year sometime, and also hope to have another stripe because the one I've got now looks so lonesome all by itself.

Must draw to a dreary end now, 'cause our boogie woogie bugle boy is swinging out "taps."

Bill.

Dear Ken,

Just a line to let you know that I arrived at college safe and sound, and coming along fine, although I'm restricted for two weeks, which is a general rule with student cadets.

The college is very military and strict about the way we walk and march. During classes, everything is done in a military manner. We go to and from classes in formation and we march at "attention", which means we don't swing our arms, we don't look around, but we walk stiff as a board (cadet style.)

I would appreciate it very much if you would continue sending me the Courier, which I have enjoyed very much. My new address is: A/S Wm. R. Steffens, 36874238, 44th College Training Det., Air Crew, Union University, Jackson, Tenn.

Air crew is studying for commission as pilot, bombardier or navigator. I'm studying for pilot.

If we have a day or two over Christmas I won't have time to get home and back, but will try and get to Athens, Tenn., about 200 miles away, and See Jill Chapman, who went to school in Charlevoix last year. You might remember her, cute little Southern girl (and how.) I wonder if she will remember this big jerk?

Well Ken, that's all for now.

A friend,
Bill Steffens.

Hello, Ken,

A line or two before I hit the sack again, to let you know that I have a new address to which you can send the paper.

We arrived here at this base on the 10th, and so far I haven't been able to wander around and look it over. However, today our company and Company B were over to the rifle range and I found out that I'm a better shot with an .03 than I am with a carbine. Only wish that those .03's had the same amount of kick a carbine has, which is practically nil.

Imagine Charlevoix has a little bit of snow laying around about now, or has it? Sure would like to have spent the holidays coming up home, and might truthfully add that I'm not alone in wishing for a leave over the holidays. But as the saying goes, there's a job to be done and that's that. Tut-too just blew so I'll close for now and it may be a little bit ahead of time, but I'll probably not be around to say it personally, so I'll wish you a merry Christmas and happy New Year.

Yours truly,
John Joseph High, S2c

Dear Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know my new address. I have been transferred from Montbrook to Brooksville.

People can talk all they want to about Florida, but for me, I would rather be up north where the snow flies. We have had frost down here for the past three nights and it is real cold, but the days are real warm.

I want to tell all the folks in and around Charlevoix "hello."

We live in tents down here. It is kind of a let-down from barracks, but we will survive it for the length of time we are here.

Dear Ken and friends in Charlevoix,

Just a few more lines to let you know us boys overseas are well and still carrying on. As yet I haven't received the Courier, but I imagine I'll get one soon.

By the way, how is the fishing up your way? Are they getting any perch lately? A nice skillet full of fresh water fish would really taste good out here. We had cherry pie here two or three times, and the cherries came from J. C. Morgan & Co., of Traverse City, and were they good!

I'll bet you had a nice, quiet summer this year. I guess lots of the boys are spending their vacation down my way. I really can't say much about anything, so I will close and, anxiously awaiting the paper, I remain

Sincerely,
James Annis, CM3c

P. S.—Keep up the good work, you folks in Charlevoix.

Dear Ken,

Just a line to let you know that I've been stationed at a new camp, for advanced training. I've only been here a few days, but so far it's swell. I'm hoping for a furlough soon and hope I can make it home.

So long, and thanks.

Dear Sir,

Just a few lines to thank you for sending the paper for the past two and a half years. I'm still here at the Kingman aerial gunnery school as aerial gunnery instructor. My new address is;

S/Sgt. Harrison H. Warner

Dear Ken,

I want to thank you and the people who make it possible for me to receive the Courier. I look forward to receiving the paper every week.

I am going to school again. It seems to me that all I do is go to school. I am here at Fort Knox to study motors. It is a very good school, and not too much studying—that makes it a good school, by itself. I will be here for 10 weeks, after that I will return to the 16th Armored Division.

Will you please send the Courier to my new address. So, saying thanks and hello to all my friends in Charlevoix, I will close.

As always,
Ken

Lt. Kenneth L. Empey

Dear Ken,

I have a little time, so will try and write you a few lines before they call me out.

I have been getting the paper and it sure is nice to receive some home town news after being gone for a year. I have heard from some of the boys in the South Pacific—Bob Pearl and Charles Cellner, also Leonard Thompson from Ironton. He has been in the hospital for some time. Bud Rowe wrote me a line, the first I've heard from him since I left Fort Lewis. But I guess he has more work than he can do.

I saw in the paper that you are a proud father again. Nothing like children, Ken. When I get home I'm hoping to raise a dozen or so.

It's time for work again, so give my regards to my friends. Hoping to hear from the boys in service,

As ever,
Pvt. Donald W. Stevens

Hi, Ken,

Just a line to say "hello." Am sending my new address. After waiting six months, I finally got to primary. School yesterday. Your paper sure is swell company.

Blue Star Mothers Met

Mrs. Ross Alexander was hostess to 15 members of the Blue Star Mothers chapter at her Ironton home last Thursday evening. Following the business meeting, cards were played and refreshments served.

LOIS GOLDIE BRIDE OF KEITH E. CAREY SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14

Wearing a green wool gabardine suit and an ivory satin blouse, fashioned from her mother's wedding gown, and trimmed with the original lace and tiny covered buttons, Lois Jane Goldie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Goldie, of Detroit, became the bride of Keith Emrey Carey, specialist first class, U. S. navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, of Charlevoix, Sunday afternoon, November 14.

Completing her wedding costume, which she also wore for traveling, Miss Goldie chose a tiny hair ornament of gold sequins and carried an arrangement of green orchids. Brown alligator pumps completed her ensemble.

The quiet home wedding service was performed by the Rev. H. E. Ridly of Ascension Episcopal church, Detroit, before a small group of friends and relatives at one o'clock.

The bride was attended by Jessie McClean, of Dearborn, who wore a suit of cyclamen pink gabardine and a shoulder corsage of rapture roses.

Assisting Mr. Carey as best man was Jack Goldie, brother of the bride.

Both Mrs. Geldie and Mrs. Carey chose afternoon dresses of soft blue tones and were identical corsages of pink carnations.

During the afternoon a reception was held at the Geidle home. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake which was topped by a large white wedding bell. The centerpiece was flanked with burning white tapers.

The bride and groom received their guests in the living room, which was attractively decorated with appropriate floral arrangements.

Immediately following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Carey left for Kenosha, Wis., where they will make their home at 5711 20th street. The bridegroom is stationed at Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station. Both he and Mrs. Carey are graduates of Alma college.

Attending the wedding from Charlevoix were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carey, William and Robert Corey and Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Preston.

MARRIAGE OF RUTH HUDSON AND LEWIS GREENMAN IS TOLD

The marriage of Miss Ruth Hudson, daughter of Mrs. Grenan Hudson, of Alpine, Texas, to Lt. Robert Lewis Greenman, stationed at the army air forces pilot school at Alpine, took place Friday, October 8, at the home of the bride's mother. Lt. Greenman is the son of Mrs. Blanche Greenman, of Pasadena, Calif., a former Charlevoix resident.

The double ring ceremony was performed at eight o'clock in the evening by Fr. Francis Juaniz in the presence of relatives and close friends. Miss Nancy Hudson was her sister's only attendant, while Lt. William L. Riggs acted as best man.

A reception for 60 guests followed the ceremony. Lt. and Mrs. Greenman are making their home in Alpine.

A graduate of Charlevoix high school in the class of 1935, Lt. Greenman entered the army in the summer of 1942.

AT THE MOVIES

"The City That Stopped Hitler"

Eight Russian army cameramen were killed in making "The City That Stopped Hitler—Heroic Stalingrad," Paramount's thrilling true picturization of the world's greatest battle film which opens next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palace Theatre. Brian Donlevy speaks the narration from a continuity by John Wexley.

"Victory Through Air Power"

Air-minded Americans, meaning all 130,000,000 of them, will be particularly interested in the opening sequence of "Victory Through Air Power," the full-length Walt Disney feature coming to the Palace Theatre on Thursday and Friday through United Artists release. It contains a humorously contrived history of aviation, particularly appropriate this year, which is the 40th anniversary of the Wright Brothers' historic flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

"Victory Through Air Power" was authored by Major Alexander P. de Seversky, the famous flier, inventor and air strategist. He also plays a part in the film.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mrs. C. M. Bice entertained Friday with a party for the ninth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Barbara. Fifteen guests were seated for dinner at a gaily decorated table, and following dinner they attended the theater.

Mrs. Clarence Heise and Mrs. B. Nickerson entertained Saturday evening with a bridge party at the Heise residence on State street. With three tables in play, Mrs. Harold Withers won first prize, while second award went to Mrs. Sam King. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Honoring Mrs. Lillian Hansen, of Traverse City, former chief operator of the local Michigan Bell Telephone Company exchange here last week to visit friends, Mrs. Miles Olmstead entertained telephone operators and other guests at her home last Thursday evening. At the close of an enjoyable evening of games, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Warren Shapton entertained members of her sewing club Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Nickerson.

An impromptu party for Chaplain 1st Lt. John W. Collins, pastor of St. Mary's church, home this week from his station at Camp Adair, Ore., was given Monday evening at St. Mary's recreation center. About 40 of Lt. Collins' parishioners were present for an informal social evening, concluded by serving of refreshments.

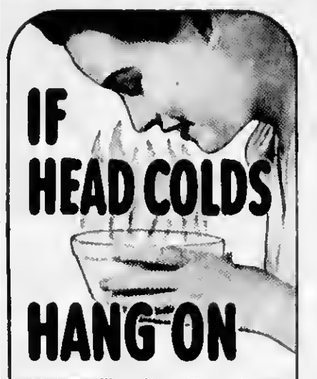
Mrs. Harold Hoss, the former Mary Merrow, was guest of honor at a post-nuptial shower at the home of Mrs. Greg Shidko, Friday evening. Guests present for an enjoyable social evening were Mrs. Mike Hamlin, Mrs. Caroline Sessions, Mrs. Glenn Maxon, Mrs. C. M. Bice, Mrs. M. C. Lewis, Mrs. Florence Ripley and the Misses Ann Wilson, Jeanne Gobles and Jean Kemp.

ENGAGEMENT OF VERA BELDING AND JOHN K. WAGNER IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Belding, of Au Gres and Charlevoix, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vera, of Midland, to John Kenneth Wagner, also of Midland. Mr. Wagner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, of Ellinwood, Kansas.

The wedding will take place Saturday, December 11, at St. John's Episcopal church in Midland, in which city the couple will reside.

Fifty-one thousand tons of blackplate have been saved by cutting down its use in bottle caps or enough to turn out 2,000,000 55-gallon drums for shipment of oil to Australia.



IF HEAD COLDS HANG ON

DO THIS! To relieve discomforts, one of the best things you can do is put a good spoonful of home-tested Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water.

Then breathe the wonderful relief comfort as you breathe in the steaming medicated vapors that penetrate to the cold-congested upper breathing passages! See how this soothes irritation, quiets coughing, and helps clear the head—bringing grand comfort.

FOR ADDED RELIEF . . . rub throat, chest and back with VapoRub at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub works for hours—2 ways at once—to bring relief from distress. Try it. VICKS VAPORUB

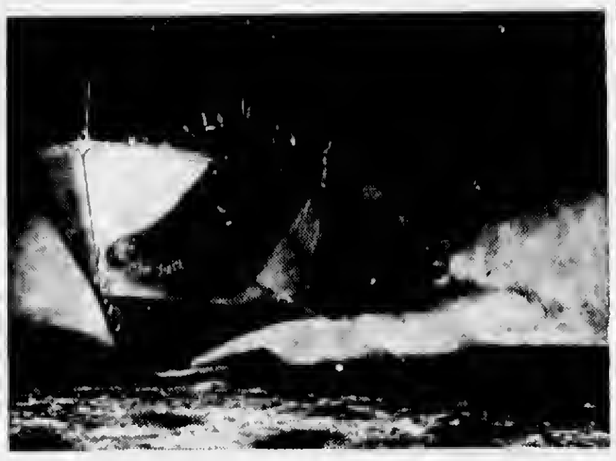
They Strike at Night



A Japanese warship is moored at night in the black waters of an island bay waiting to attack Allied vessels. The only sound is the lapping of water at her sides and occasional high-pitched oriental chatter. A motor roar is heard at the mouth of the bay. Shrill oriental orders are screamed aboard the warship as her searchlights knife through the night to reveal a tiny PT boat racing along her port side. Flames suddenly shoot from the huge enemy craft. The PT boat spins around and dashes for the open sea as enemy bullets pouring from the burning enemy ship sing around the little battle wagon. But the hail of enemy fire fails to stop the tiny vessel as it dashes back into the protecting blackness of the night. Another successful PT raid has become history.

HERO—Lieutenant John D. Bulkley, who was in command of the PT boat which took General MacArthur from Bataan. Bulkley is credited with the torpedoing of an enemy vessel.

CONFERENCE—It's serious business as the officers of a Patrol Torpedo Boat squadron confer before going into action. PT's match their speed against the power of big guns. Right: Caught in a Jap searchlight, a PT crew sends out a smoke screen.

VIGILANCE is vital. This enlisted man watches for the dark hull of an enemy ship.

MACHINE GUNS often put out Jap searchlights. Main PT weapon is the torpedo.

QUICK GETAWAY is executed seconds after torpedo is launched.

CHATTERER IS SURE THIS IS HIS LAST DAY

THERE was no hope, not the teeniest-weeniest ray of hope, in the heart of Chatterer the Red Squirrel, as Farmer Brown's Boy picked up the wire rat-trap in which Chatterer was a prisoner and started for the house—Black Pussy, the cat, following at his heels and looking up at Chatterer with cruel, hungry eyes. Chatterer took a farewell look at the Old Orchard and way beyond it the Green Forest from which he had been driven by fear of Shadow the Weasel. Then the door of the farmhouse closed and shut it all out. If there had been any hope in Chatterer's heart, the closing of that door would have shut the last bit out. But there wasn't any hope. Chatterer was sure that he was to be given to Black Pussy for her breakfast.

Farmer Brown's Boy put the trap down on a table. "What have you there?" called a great voice. It was the voice of Farmer Brown himself, who was eating his breakfast.

"I've got the thief who has been stealing our corn in the crib," replied Farmer Brown's Boy, "and who do you think it is?"

"One of those pesky rats," replied Farmer Brown. "I'm afraid you've been careless and left the door open some time and that is how the rats have got in there."

"But it isn't a rat—and I don't believe that there is a rat there," replied Farmer Brown's Boy, in triumph. "It's that little red scamp of a squirrel we've been racing along the wall on the edge of the Old Orchard lately. I can't imagine how he got in there, but there he was and now here he is."

Farmer Brown's Boy picked up the wire trap and started for the house.

"What are you going to do with him?" asked Farmer Brown, coming over to look at Chatterer.

"I don't know," replied Farmer Brown's Boy, "unless I give him to Black Puss for her breakfast. She has been teasing for him ever since I found him." Farmer Brown's Boy looked over to the other side of the table as he said this and his eyes twinkled with mischief.

"Oh, you mustn't do that! That would be cruel!" cried a soft voice. "You must take him down to the Green Forest and let him go." A gentle face with pitying eyes was bent over the trap. "Just see how frightened the poor little thing is! You must take him right down to the Green Forest right after breakfast."

"Isn't that just like Mother?" cried Farmer Brown's Boy. "I believe it would be just the same with the ugliest old rat that ever lived. She would try to think of some excuse for letting it go."

"God made all the little people who wear fur, and they must have some place in His great plan," said Mrs. Brown.

Farmer Brown laughed a big hearty laugh. "True enough, Mother," said he. "The trouble is, they get out of place. Now this little rascal's place is down in the Green Forest and not up in our cornerib."

"Then put him back in his right place!" was the prompt reply, and they all laughed.

Now all this time poor Chatterer was thinking that this surely was his last day. You see, he knew he had been a thief, and he knew that Farmer Brown's Boy knew it. He just crouched down in a little ball too miserable to do anything but tremble every time anyone came near. He was sure that he had seen for the last time the Green Forest and the Green Meadows and jolly Mr. Sun and all the other beautiful things he loved so, and it seemed as if his heart would burst with despair.

COMMUNICATION

Dear Ken:

Am enclosing $2.00 for which please send me the Courier as long as the two bucks holds out. I like to keep posted on the "happenings" in Charlevoix, as I am still interested in the "old home town."

As you probably know, I am in Dayton, Ohio, and although Dayton is a beautiful city and I like it, still I do miss the blue lakes of Charlevoix.

The Headquarters, Air Service Command, Patterson Field, where I am employed as supervisor of Stenographic Pool, Fuels & Lubricants Branch, Supply Division, had its second anniversary October 17. Just in case you are interested in the job we are doing, am enclosing the anniversary edition of our paper, "The Muscot," which contains a picture of our main building, our commanding general, etc. By furnishing supplies and equipment for the army air forces all over the United States and overseas, we feel that we are doing an important part to "Keep 'Em Flying" and to help win this war.

Sincerely,
Caroline Greiner.

The paper Caroline sent contains a picture of the huge building at Patterson Field which houses the headquarters of Air Service Command. From this building the staggering task of issuing and maintaining army air forces equipment throughout the world is directed.

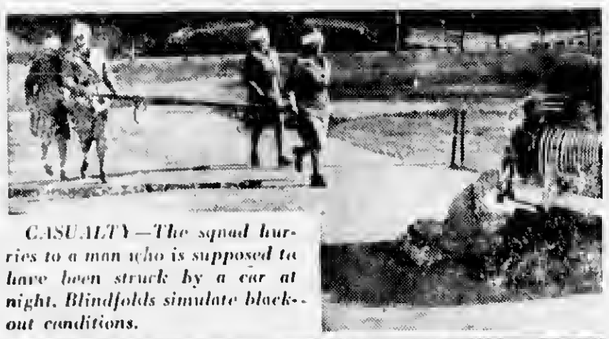
If Bombs Should Fall Here

We have not been bombed by enemy planes—yet. Most of us believe it will never happen, but some of our best minds still think that before the Axis gives up it will attempt to strike one desperate blow at this country. There is u group of women in this country who refuse to succumb to over-optimism. They call themselves the Women's Ambulance nnd Defense Corps of America. They are adhering to u program of preparedness for the worst. And if Axis planes should succeed in bombing the United States the WADC will be ready to do the job of caring for casualties.

EMERGENCY CALL—A unit of the WADC rushes to the scene of a "disaster" during a drill in Los Angeles, Calif. They wear natty uniforms designed for utility rather than decorativeness.



CASUALTY—The squad hurries to a man who is supposed to have been struck by a car at night. Blindfolds simulate black-out conditions.

TOUCH SYSTEM—Injuries are a fractured leg, bleeding artery and a fractured rib. All diagnosis is done by touch.

FIRST AID quickly follows diagnosis. Still blindfolded, the women tie bandages, apply splints and make tourniquets.

IMPORTANT to whoever gets the patient next is the time tourniquet was applied. It must be loosened every 15 minutes. Time is written on forehead.

GAS MASK DRILL is part of the training of the WADC. A member is pictured testing her mask. She places her palm over the intake and sucks in. If the mask is leakproof, the cheek pieces collapse inward. She wears her blindfold over the mask.

THE WADC was organized in 1940 with 200 members. Today it numbers 35,000 in 130 units throughout the United States.

Money spent here—stays here.

cures, seeing the thrilling winter beauty of snow-trimmed forests, are some of the urges that take thousands into the woods every fall.

Some people think that the Wacs, Waves and Spars have enlisted in search of glamor. Any woman could have told them that there is no glamor in always wearing the same hat.

Some say that the best housekeeping in the world is done by men. Witness the U. S. army.

The kitchens of tomorrow, says a housewure designer, will be mostly glass or some glass-like substance. Meat in the oven will hu visible through transparent panels, as will food in refrigerators. Mixers, toasters, and other touls will be built into the walls, so that they will be out of the way. Most of the work for a meal will bu done while sitting down. It will make eating at home easy and interesting.

"You were engaged to a manicurist, I believe?"

"Yes—and I got trimmed."

Most people make mistakes and no one else ever knows about them, but when a newspaper errs, the blob is open to the scrutiny of all its readers. In thus remarking, I was thinking about last week's failure to change all the date lines. Part of the pages were dated Nov. 17, others Nov. 24. Well, anyway, you know now how such things happen.

Thursday is another Thanksgiving Day, and if you think you haven't anything to be thankful for, you should live in some of the war-torn countries of Europe.

When I was a boy a quart of milk was just a quart of milk. It might have been Jersey, Holstein, or Guernsey, but we considered one about as good as the other. It was sold raw, dipped from a can in a tin cup with a long handle. Now we have a half dozen grades, carefully packed and labeled. You have to take a dairyman's advice or shop around, as you do with bread. And incidentally, if you have good bread and good milk, the two make a tasty combination. Maybe you haven't tried it for years. It's just as good as ever. If the milk you're buying isn't rich enough, add a small portion of cream. It makes a perfect late evening snack.

The calmest husbands make the stormiest wives.

Mrs. George Light Jr., and son, George, of Detroit, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Light, Sr.

Charles Lord, also Robert Santos, of Detroit, spent the past week visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lord.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mayne, of Grand Rapids, spent the past week visiting the former's mother, Mrs. William Mayne, and other relatives. Lynn was very successful in filling his license with a nice, big buck.

Mrs. Joseph Holocheck left on Wednesday of last week for Flint and Pontiac, where she is visiting with relatives.

Doyle Richardson, who sails on the Great Lakes, spent the past ten days visiting his family, Mrs. Richardson and infant daughter, who lives near Eastport, also with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Richardsen, and other relatives.

CLARKE DISTRICT

Our stamp sales this week totaled $7.10.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parsons and children were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner, Saturday evening.

J. Jr. Boss is home for a 15-day leave to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Boss, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klooster were guests at the John Boss, Sr. home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parsons and Mrs. A. J. Bolhuis and Mrs. Clyde Warner were Petoskey visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Helen Krieghoff visited our school Friday in the interests of Red Cross. Mrs. Warner was appointed Junior Red Cross chairmann. Mr. Palmer is Roll Call chairman this year and will soon visit all the schools to enroll them in the Junior Red Cross.

We are going to entertain our parents Wednesday evening with a Thanksgiving program. Mr. Kesterling, 4-H Leader, is going to show moving pictures.

Happy Thanksgiving!

MAPLE GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Baker, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker the past week, have returned to their home at St. Louis, Mich. While here they visited friends and relatives and the men folks were busy deer hunting.

Ralph Davidson and Arthur Burnett, Jr., were in Petoskey, Saturdays afternoon, on business.

Leonard Furgeson, who is home on furlough, visited his sister, Mrs. Floyd Baker, Thursday afternoon.

Bob White and sons harvested their turnip crop Saturday.

Mrs. Kenneth Bare and daughter, Sally, are helping her mother, Mrs. Lee Sneathen, keep "bachelor quarters" while the men folks are deer hunting. Kenneth Bare was one of the lucky hunters and bagged a fine buck the first few days of the season.

George Huston was a caller at the Bob White home last Saturday night.

Due to gas rationing, many deer hunters are doing their hunting in the woods nearby. Some of the local hunters have been bothered by the bean threshers, who were in the neighborhood last week. However, the fresh snowfall has revived their spirits and they still have visions of venison steaks.

The 4-H get-together Tuesday night was well attended in spite of the poor roads. Mr. Festerling showed colored slides which were most interesting and, following community singing, everyone did full justice to the potluck supper. The hardest job the club members seem to have is to select a name for their club.

Donald Bare left for New Mexico last week, where he is stationed, following a two-day furlough spent with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Bare and little daughter, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sneathen, accompanied him to New Mexico.

Davidson's mill will resume operations Monday, November 22, following a week's deer hunting vacation.

BUSINESS MEETING OF CHRIST CHURCH

Wilbur Cline Elected Warder to Succeed Sylvester Vaughan

A business meeting of Christ Episcopal church was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cline, presided over by Rev. Arthur G-T Courteau.

The members present formed a committee of the mission, and were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Cline, Mrs. Clara Todd, Miss Minnie Payton, Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Mrs. Leo Carey, Mrs. Frank Partridge, Mrs. Stewart Coleman, Mrs. Mabel Goddard, also two representatives of the youth of the church, Frank Partridge, Jr., and William Carey.

Mr. Cline was elected warder to fill the unexpired term of Sylvester Vaughan. Mrs. Coleman was appointed organist. A committee on religious education was named, comprised of Mrs. Bergeon, Mrs. Carey and Mrs. Partridge.

It was decided to make Christ church available to the women of Charlevoix for the national Women's Day of Prayer in February.

Following this week, when there will be a communion service at 8 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning, the regular weekday communion service will be on Saturday mornings at 8 o'clock.

Charlevoix, along with the rest of the United States, cannot fail these helpless people who, all over the world, are asking only for a chance to survive the hardships which have been their lot in this war. If one of them should come to your door and ask for food or shelter, you would not turn him away—why then let him down because you can't actually see just how miserable his life is?

Remember Me?

I'M THE GUY who looked at you from a USO poster a little over a year ago.

I'm the guy you forked over $34,000,000 for—so that, through the USO, you could let me and all my buddies know that someone home still thought about us—still cared enough not to want us to miss out on any of the things we were in uniform fighting for.

A hot cup of coffee for example, when you come in all grimy and tuckered out from a little "business" trip...

A club house with easy chairs to melt into and desks to sit at and write home and a dance floor and some decent girls to give us out here a little reminder of what it's still like back there.

You remember, don't you?

You probably dug deep for a lot of other things that year, too...for British War Relief, United China Relief, and so on. Well, this year it's going to be simpler for you. Because this year, seventeen war relief agencies have banded together into one great big campaign—the National War Fund. This time you are only asked to give once for all seventeen.

And take it from me, as one who ought know, that contribution you're going to make is one of the greatest things you can do to bring about victory. Not just because part of it's going to USO to do wonders for the morale of the fellows under arms, but because a good deal of it is going to help relieve distress at home through local agencies—as well as abroad, to help keep our allies in the fight.

So when you're asked to give to the united campaign of the National War Fund and our community's own war fund this month, remember me. Every dollar you give helps me out in countless ways, and does its bit to bring me home sooner.

Give in a big way, will ya?

Give ONCE for ALL these

VOLUME 48 NUMBER 48 SIX PAGES — THE CHARLEVOIX COURIER, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1943 — PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

"THE PHANTOM BELLS" IS MYSTERY COMEDY

Cast Rehearsing for Production December 9; Miss Nellie Smith Is Director

"The Phantom Bells," a mystery comedy in three acts, will be presented by the senior class of Charlevoix high school next Thursday evening, December 9, at 8 p. m. at the high school gymnasium.

Directed by Miss Nellie Smith, the play was written by Robert St. Clair. Musical numbers will be presented by the Charlevoix high school band under direction of Earl E. Beach.

Cast members now rehearsing for the production are Helen Jeanne Hammond, as Laura Rhodes, a sweet, unspoiled girl with a vast amount of courage and loyalty; Don Bellinger, as Jack Page, who is much interested in Laura; Elaine Edwards as Mrs. Rhodes, stepmother of Laura; Bob Belfy as Victor Lavelle, a typical man of the world; Beverly Fisher as Harriet, the maid, the real comedy element of the play; Lois Walstad as Lela Sayles, the brusque and business-like trained nurse, Hubert Olach, as an invalid in a wheel-chair; Don Boss as Detective Joseph Kennedy, complete with moustache, spectacles and gray suit; Susie Miller as Anne Carruthers, the female attorney with a good sense of humor, with whom is always found her secretary, Miriam Booth, played by Virginia Young.

Otto Harvey is in charge of the play's settings and sound effects, which play an important part in the plot. He is assisted by Hubert Olach. Other committee members are: tickets, Lomso Loaiselle, Lucille May, Donna Bennett, Ione Wickersham; advertising, Susie Miller, Marie Jancha, Louise Bartunek; properties, Phyllis Martin, Marjorie Matchett, Alice Livingston. Miss Ruth Parish is assisting Miss Smith in direction of the production.

The play promises to be of outstanding merit.

FIRST REPORT STATE REVENUE DEPARTMENT

Sales Tax Yield Highest in Ten Years of Operation

Louis M. Nims, commissioner of the state department of revenue, has just presented to Governor Kelly and members of the legislature his annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1943.

Since the effective date of the act creating the department was January 10, 1942, this is the first annual report covering a full fiscal year's collections and disbursements. The report shows collections amounting to $104,612,184.67, compared to total state taxes of $170,539,186.27.

The sales and use tax yield for 1942-43 reached the unprecedented amount of $86,388,234.31. First inaugurated by Michigan on July 1, 1933 and now used in 28 states, the sales tax yield has risen steadily each year.

SPARS WILL TAKE NEW OFFICERS FROM RANKS

No Civilians Will Be Accepted After January 15, 1944

After January 15, civilians will not be accepted for officers' training in the Spars, women's reserve of the United States coast guard, it was announced today by Ensign Lee Kheel, officer in charge of Spar recruiting in the western Michigan area. After this date, all candidates will be chosen from the ranks of enlisted girls.

Civilian women interested in applying for officers' training school before January 15th must have a college degree from an accredited college or university, plus some working experience, be between the ages of 20 and 36, have no children under 18 years of age and be in good physical condition.

Requirements for enlisted girls are the same except educational requirements are 2 years of high school or more.

Applications and information can be secured from the Spar recruiting office, Room 615, Post Building, Battle Creek, Mich.

FIRST CAGE TILT IS FRIDAY NIGHT

RAYDERS MEET PETOSKEY ON HOME COURT

Reserve Teams Will Open Double Bill; Contest First on 12-Game Schedule for Locals

Charlevoix high school's Red Rayder basketball team will open their 1943-44 season Friday night of this week on the home court.

Petoskey high school comes here for the initial tilt of the Rayders' 12-game schedule. The Northmen defeated Boyne City last Friday night, 49 to 25, and the Rayders expect a hard battle.

Coach Ray Kipke will have two veterans of last year's first team in the starting line-up Friday nite. They are Gerald Chambers, guard, and Don Bellinger, forward. Occupying the other forward position will be Bernie Zeitler; Bernie Ward will hold the center position, while George Plumm will complete the line-up at the other guard position. Others of the first team are Hubert Olach, forward; Bob Belfy, center, and Don Brown, gaard.

The preliminary contest at 7:15 will match local and visiting reserve teams. Sam McClutchey, of Pellston, will officiate at the main game at 8:15.

Charlevoix's schedule following the Petoskey game is as follows: Dec. 10, Harbor Springs there; Dec. 17, Mancelona here; Jan. 11, Pellston here; Jan. 21, East Jordan there; Jan. 28, Boyne City here; Feb. 1, East Jordan here; Feb. 4, Petoskey there; Feb. 8, Pellston there; Feb. 11, Grayling there; Feb. 18, Boyne City there; Feb. 25, Harbor Springs here.

Sophomores—Don Brown, Don North, Ed. Novotny, Bernie Zeitler, Bernie Ward.

Freshmen—Richard Hardy.

EXTEND WAR FUND DRIVE

CAMPAIGN WILL CONTINUE TO DECEMBER 15

Entire County Is Reported Short of Goal; Extension of Two More Weeks Granted

Contributions of $1,822 for the National War Fund drive in this city were recorded at noon Wednesday, reports the Charlevoix County State Bank. The city's quota is $2,768.

While the campaign was scheduled to close Tuesday, November 30, extension to December 15 was granted for Charlevoix county because quotas have not been reached here, in Boyne City or East Jordan.

Boyne City passed the $1,100 mark last week, and expected to make another canvass of the Michigan Tanning & Extract Co. plant this week for the final $800 of their quota. East Jordan reported only $500 in contributions up to last week.

As contributions in Charlevoix last week totaled only $942.50, it appears that the campaign gained much headway during the past week. However, the city is still almost a thousand dollars short of its quota.

As this drive combines campaigns for almost all war relief organizations except Red Cross and Salvation Army, it provides an opportunity to make one contribution to 17 war relief agencies at the same time.

WPB BANS OUTDOOR CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

Restrictions Applied Last Year Again Placed in Effect

Outdoor electrical Christmas decorations will again be banned in Charlevoix this year, according to orders received Wednesday morning by city officials from the War Production Board.

WPB restrictions last year banned outdoor lighting because of the heavy drain on power plants, necessitating greater use of fuel oil.

COAST GUARDSMAN ON NAVY VESSEL

FORMER LOCAL COMMANDER IN MEDITERRANEAN

Lt. Paul B. Hellmen Only Coast Guard Officer in Charge of Ship with Navy Crew

Stationed in Charlevoix from February, 1941, to April, 1942, he will be remembered by many local residents. When he volunteered for active duty in the war, he was Captain of the Port at Green Bay, Wis. Hellman's rise through 20 years of service is told in the magazine's editorial section, which relates how he enlisted at a Great Lakes station and worked his way to a lieutenancy along a hard and often discouraging route. He studied mathematics, engineering and many other subjects through facilities of the Coast Guard Institute to prepare himself for his present success. When taking a course in port security work—after becoming a lieutenant—Hellman was assumed by his instructors to be a recruit from civilian life, and went through the most elementary phases of instruction in coast guard duties without revealing his years of experience. "A fellow can always learn something new if he applies himself diligently enough," he explained.

Volunteering for overseas duty, he went to Africa and spent two months in an army hospital in Algiers with a fractured elbow, incurred during landing operations on maneuvers. Then he received orders to fly to Bizerte, where he was asked by navy officials "if he had any objections to taking command of an LST boat that had an entire navy crew." Says Hellman, "It's a wonder I didn't throw my arms around the

NORTHERN MICHIGAN AIRLINE IS PLANNED

Charlevoix Would Be Stop on Air Route to Northern Cities

Northern Michigan Airlines, of Traverse City, has applied to the Public Service Commission at Lansing for permission to carry mail, passengers and property between up-state cities by air, it was announced last week following filing of applications by the company.

Charlevoix is scheduled as a stop on the proposed air route, which will inaugurate service as soon as a six-passenger twin-engine airplane can be purchased. The company's application will remain on file pending enactment of air transportation legislation by the next session of the legislature.

PSC Chairman Gilbert T. Stillson said the firm proposed a route which calls for stops at Frankfort, Manistee, Ludington, Oscoda, Alpena, Rogers City, Cheboygan, St. Ignace, Pellston, Petoskey, Charlevoix and Traverse City.

Incorporators of the firm include: Ebba K. Wood, president; Austin C. Batdorff, vice president; and W. Mark Wood, secretary, all of Traverse City. Batdorff is president and publisher of the Traverse City Record-Eagle.

GIVE RATION STAMPS FOR HOUSEHOLD FATS

Plan to Spur Lagging Collections In Effect December 13

In order to spur the kitchen fats salvage campaign, the office of price administration will authorize meat dealers and other fats salvagers to give two points a pound for fats returned by housewives and others. The new plan will go into effect December 13.

Brown stamps which the retailers collect from war ration book three will be used for this purpose. Later, when one-point ration tokens are used in making point change under rationing, they will be used instead of paper stamps.

SECOND SCRAP PAPER PICK-UP

COLLECTION DATES ARE SET FOR DECEMBER 10-11

Boy Scouts, City Employees Will Canvass Town; Old Corrugated Board Is Urgently Needed

A second waste paper pick-up will be conducted in Charlevoix on Friday and Saturday, December 10 and 11, in an effort to collect another carload of paper in this city for the national paper salvage program.

Boy Scouts and city employees, with city trucks, will canvass residential and business districts to collect paper on these days. Paper should be placed in containers or bundles at the curb or other convenient location, as was done in the previous pick-up.

Anyone who has paper which they wish to turn in before the regular pick-up, may bring it to the city hall. Paper brought here must be bundled, or in boxes. Farmers especially are asked to bring their waste paper into town, if convenient. All paper will be stored in the Lewis building until it may be shipped out.

While waste paper of all types—except waxed or transparent varieties—is desired in the program, particular emphasis is placed on old corrugated board, boxes, brown paper bags and brown wrapping paper. Michigan paper mills face a curtailment of their war

ISLAND MAIL BOAT CHANGES SCHEDULE

Three Trips Weekly Are Provided Beginning December 1

A change in operating schedule of the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Mary Margaret, effective December 1 to January 1, was announced this week by Capt. Leroy Allers.

For that period the boat will leave Charlevoix at 6 a. m. and return here at 2 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

BROWN STAMP VALIDITY DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Validity dates of additional brown stamps in war ration book three are as follows: Stamp N, good December 5; P, December 12; Q, December 19; all expire January 1, 1944. Stamp R, good December 26, expires January 29, 1944.

BETTY WILLIS CHOSEN BY HONORARY SOCIETY

Highest Scholarship Students Are Picked by Phi Kappa Phi

Miss Betty Willis, senior at Michigan State College and a graduate of Charlevoix high school, has been chosen for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Willis.

Selected on a scholarship basis, members of Phi Kappa Phi represent the top ranking scholarship students from all divisions of the college and must have attained a 2.5 all-college average, which is almost equivalent to an all-A record. Miss Willis is enrolled in the home economics division, majoring in textiles, clothing and related arts.

This year she was awarded a scholarship by the Pratt-Whitney Aircraft Corporation of Hartford, Conn., and following her graduation in March, she will go to Connecticut to be employed in the corporation's engineering department.

WOOD PRODUCTS COMPANY FORMED

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE FOR CHARLEVOIX

Fred Kaunitz Installs Equipment In Roy Ranger Shop; First Shipment This Week

A new business enterprise has been inaugurated in Charlevoix with establishment of the Charlevoix Wood Products Co., owned and operated by Fred Kaunitz.

Wood working machines have been installed in the shop owned by Roy Ranger on the south shore of Round lake, and a mill has been built for bolt saw and planer. Electric power lines carrying 220 volts have been extended from Belvedere avenue to the shop and mill.

First shipment will be made this week on a large cabinet contract, beginning of wholesale manufacture of cabinet work and wood products. Work will soon begin on cutting parts for a sub-contract for the Foster Boat Co. Lack of proper wood-working machinery and floor space is a handicap which will eventually be overcome, says Mr. Knunitz.

Owner and operator of the Bay City Yacht Works for 35 years, Mr. Knunitz designed and built many boats and large yachts. Among these was a palatial seagoing yacht for William P. Knudsen, General Motors executive. About a year and a half ago he came to Charlevoix as marine engineer for the Foster Boat Co. and has since purchased a home here.

POST-WAR PLANE TRAVEL PLANNED

REGIONAL MEETING FRIDAY AT TRAVERSE CITY

Eleven Northern Communities Represented; Michigan Must Compete With Canada

If northern Michigan is to compete successfully with Canada for post-war vacation business it must build airports and landing fields, representatives of 11 northern communities were informed at a regional aviation meeting at Traverse City's Park Place hotel, Friday night.

Attending from Charlevoix were E. J. Edwards, Robert Emrey, Stewart Coleman and Earl A. Young.

The meeting was addressed by George Ross, planning consultant for the Michigan Board of Aeronautics, and Mr. Stevens, the board's planning engineer.

Canada is preparing to make a strong bid for tourist and vacation air travel as soon the war is over, and is active right now in preparing landing fields and advertising its recreational opportunities. Unless this part of Michigan, known nationally as a recreation center, prepares to handle the post-war air travel, it will pass overhead on its way to Canada, these board officials stated.

Small communities were urged to begin at once to investigate the possibility of establishing or improving existing airports. They were cautioned not to attempt anything too big on the theory that a big airport would attract commercial airplanes, but to concentrate on facilities for handling pleasure craft. An 1,800 foot runway would be the minimum for pleasure planes.

While Charlevoix has at present no area large enough for an airport, several prospective sites are under consideration. To make this city a regular stop for post-war airlines would assure a chance for future prosperity.

FUEL OIL COUPONS STILL 10 GALLONS

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

A man should be taller, older, heavier, uglier and hoarser than his wife.

Some commentators have attributed the increase in hunting fatalities during the 1943 seasons to what they term "war nerves," but having read the accounts of most of these "accidents" in the daily press, we'll stick to the claim that the greatest share of them have been caused by carelessness and by failure to look carefully before shooting.

Uneasy lies the head that's trying to figure out what tomorrow will bring.

The Cheboygan Observer's Bob Hamphrey comes out with the following very solid reasons why Americans should be thankful this year and I'm passing them on, even though somewhat belatedly: "Things we can be thankful for—this still may be a one-horse town, but as the song goes; it's still good enough for me—and it's still a place where you can get a pound of butter, order your turkey from the family butcher, get a bar of P & G soap, get costume jeyelry, enjoy a chocolate soda, and where a knock at the door means a visit from a friendly neighbor instead of a warning to hike for an air raid shelter—and we can get down on our knees and thank God for these favors."

One thing we are quite sure of and that is, this world will be a much better place in which to live when everyone learns that another person may belong to a different race, faith, sex, or nation, even vote a different political ticket, and still be a human being.

First Firefly: "Put out that light. This is supposed to be a blackout."

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Quite some time since I've written you, I was still in Camp Peary, Va., I guess. Boy, what a difference there is between the camps. This Camp Endicott is tops as far as I am concerned. Really a nice camp. We've got swell two-floor barracks, steam heated and all cement walks and roads, no mud like Virginia had. You can't buy meals like we get here in camp. They're really the best, not just a lot of chow, but real good hearty meals and you eat 'til you're full. We've got some good cooks in our battalion.

I just got back here a week ago today from a 10-day furlough. Of course I went to Detroit on the furlough. Had a nice trip, but was kind of hard to return again. We have it pretty good here. Helen and I see each other every night and we do get a few liberties, too, and we can bring our wives into the theatre and into church, too, which we do, of course. We get some first class pictures here, such as "Johnny Come Lately" and "Guadalcanal Diary" and others. We saw "Banjo on My Knee" the other night. That's a good morale picture, lots of good laughs in it.

We're having a wee rain storm here today—we're secure in our barracks until further orders and I'm using the good fortune to write to you. Have been getting the paper regularly. After I read it, I take it out for Helen to take home with her.

The perch ought to be starting to bite pretty soon now, hadn't they, Ken? I've been watching the paper for the announcement of a perch run, but not us yet has it been there. Better get those fishermen "on the ball" up there. We get oysters up here quite often—on Friday usually. They usually fry them. We can see them fishing for them out here in the bay when we're out on extended order drills.

I just came back from chow. We had a fair chow today, nothing special—cinnamon roll, bread, butter, lettuce salad with dressing, cocoa, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, hamburger and apple pie. No points, either.

production unless they can secure stocks of brown-colored waste paper—and Michigan produces nearly one-third of all corrugated board made in the country.

Paper is going to war in the shape of overseas shipping containers, airplane parts, and as a protection for ammunition. Waste paper from Charlevoix county homes may be made into bomb bands, that protective fibre girdle with which each aerial bomb designed for dumping on Berlin and Tokyo, is wrapped.

A bomb band is used on all bombs from 250 pounds up to the one-ton "blockbusters" to protect the lugs used to hook bombs onto an airplane for shipment to battle areas. Once they were made of steel, weighing 13 pounds. Today, the bands are made of paperboard held in place with a thin metal band, and the entire protection weighs only two and three-quarters pounds.

Householders are urged to search basements and attics for paper missed in the last drive, and to turn in all that has since accumulated.

Excellent cork is now procurable from Douglas fir bark, with an annual potential supply of 200,000 tons a year.

Forty years ago the first known cross-continent automobile trip was made from San Francisco to New York in 52 days.

I sure was surprised to get a card from Glenn Rose. We always like to hear from different ones along with our regular correspondents.

We had a barracks inspection of the whole battalion. There are five barracks and we rated second high, so I guess I can figure I'm living with a pretty clean bunch of fellows.

I was thinking this morning it won't be very long before they'll be sprinkling down the tennis courts and the kids will be putting on their ice skates. Wish we could all come back and put them on with them.

I imagine, Ken, while I'm writing this yetter you are probably toting a deer rifle around in the woods some place. Here's wishing you good luck, and the same for the rest of those Charlevoix buck hunters.

I am wondering what happened to Bob King. He was in Peary while I was there. Is he here in Endicott?

We're due to go someplace for advance base depot training, but never know when or where. We're way behind schedule now. There's a chance we stay right here, and I hope we do.

We've got a pretty nice air base here. Always a bunch flying over or going in for a landing. Sure would like to get over and see it, but I guess that is quite the impossible.

I've got a 12-hour liberty tonight, so I'll start getting ready about four o'clock so I can get in line to get my pass early. Everything is in lines, you know, so first there, first served.

Tuesday morning the C.P.O. gave me my mail and in it was the issue with the Christmas greetings in it. I also received a greeting from the Kiwanis Club and I want to thank the club for it and everyone of the 26 who signed it. That picture of Round Lake sure looks awfully inviting to me.

Guess when I get started I never know enough to quit and just keep rambling on, so I better make this the end. Hello to everyone and all kinds of holiday wishes. As Mr. Scudder said in his "best wishes", I hope we can all be home for the next year's holidays. As ever

Dear Ken,

It's been quite some time since I've written you, in fact, about four months. During this time I've been in Tennessee on manouvers and now I'm back in Georgia again. It seems as though no matter how far away I go or where I'm sent, I always end up in Georgia. It's a swell state, but one can get an over-dose of swell things sometimes.

We are getting very intensive training now and what time we do have off, the home town paper comes in very good. In fact, I read it sometimes whether I'm off or not.

I'll have to cease firing for this time. Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and thanking you very much for the paper, I am

Dear Ken,

Here I am, stretched out in my pup tent, writing this to you. I'm here in the backwoods of Jasper, Texas, for the time being, having just finished with a Thanksgiving dinner. Although it was eaten in the woods and out of a mess-kit, it was very enjoyable.

Will be here in Texas for the remainder of the week and then back in the Louisiana swamps, so here's my address for a while. It will probably be changed again in the near future. And here's hoping the Courier finds me. So long.

As ever,

Dear Ken,

Just a letter to let you know that I am feeling just fine and hope all the folks at Charlevoix are, k.

Received the paper, which I was very happy to get. The weather out here in California is nice. It sure is a nice country.

I went into the army April 7, 1941, and am now a private, first class, gunner.

Yours truly,
Pfc. Clinton C. Howe

Manhattan Beach, Calif.

Dear Ken,

I suppose it's time I dropped you and my friends in Charlevoix a line and let you know I'm still alive, and also to thank you again for the Courier.

I just received the Christmas Greeting issue, and I wish to send my Christmas greeting to each and everyone of them. I only wish I could be there to wish everyone a Merry Christmas, but as I'm unable to do so in person, I'll have to do the next best. So Merry Christmas to all and a happy and victorious New Year. Also to the boys and girls that are in the service, I wish the same.

Since you last heard from me I have been promoted from machinist's mate second class, to first class, after answering 380 questions from 5 p. m. until 1:30 a. m., receiving a mark of 90 per cent.

Since I've been here I haven't seen anyone from Charlevoix. I received a card from Glenn Rose and it sure was nice to hear from someone from good old Charlevoix.

Ken, I don't know if I ever told you, but when I was interviewed by the Seattle paper I was also decorated with the Purple Heart. I would like to belong to the V. F. W. at Charlevoix if they will accept me, as Charlevoix will always be home to me no matter where I am.

Please give my greetings to all.

Dear Ken,

Guess it's about time I repossessed a little ambition, enough anyway to express my appreciation to the givers of the CSO for making possible the Courier, a regular occurrence at mail call. Each edition is read and re-read and appreciated far more than mere words can say.

Have been in these parts for almost ten months and I still haven't figured out where the beauty of the South Seas lies. Notice I said "beauty" not "beauties", as I'm well convinced that beautiful girls in grass skirts just ain't. Possibly, though, I haven't found the right island, so I shall keep my eyes open as the scenery changes. This is rather funny—a person can buy a grass skirt from the natives here for a buck, but understand the white man had to show them how to make them to begin with.

The natives like the white men real well and they are very friendly. In most of their dealings they are quite shrewd. However, one time one was selling bracelets for ten cents apiece or six for a dollar. (I bought four for 40 cents.)

There is one thing that has appealed to me as beauty. That is the fish life. They are honestly every size, shape and color. Some are spotted, some stripped, not with one or two colors, but with every color of the rainbow.

At times the sun really blazes down and is almost unbearable. It doesn't take long for a fellow to get a tan. I've never seen it sprinkle—when the clouds gather, you're in for a real cloudburst. One night my shoes were washed right out of the tent. I've heard the rainy season mentioned many times, but to me it seems it must last about 12 months out of the year.

The time to hit the mail again is near. Thanks again for the Courier.

Sincerely yours,
Tom

Dear Ken,

Just a line to thank you for sending the Courier. I get it every week and I read every word in it.

Last night I saw Glen Miller and his orchestra, and boy, are they sharp!

This navy and I sure click. You couldn't pull me out with a team of horses. I expect to be home about the 16th of December for my 9-day leave.

I suppose you have got your buck by now. I sure would like to get a crack at a deer, or a Jap would be better yet.

Must close now, so thanks again for the Courier.

Sincerely,
Walter Henley Jr. AS
Co. 1618, U.S.N.T.S.

P. S.—Keep those papers coming.

Dear friend Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know I am still in the (censored) and still kicking. It is pretty hot here under the tropical sun. I think just about now I could go to Myers' or the Sugar Bowl and eat them out of ice cream.

I met a fellow on the same island from Petoskey and also one from Cheboygan. The one from Petoskey is Don Krusell. He knows quite a few of my friends from Bay Shore and Charlevoix. We had a nice long talk and it really was swell talking about home with someone who really knows what home is up northern Michigan way. The other fellow was a coast guard boatswain named Roda.

I hope to receive the Courier soon. Until next time—

Sincerely,

P. S.—I got a swell card from Glenn Rose.

Hi, Ken,

Just a short line to let you know I received the paper and was sure glad to get it. It helps out a lot being able to read about things going on in the home town.

I'm training here at Jefferson Barracks. I'm all through with my basic training and waiting to ship out of here to airplane mechanic school, also to be a mechanic gunner. I haven't much time to write tonight. I'll let you know again how things are going by me.

Since I've been here, I've been a drill master. In plain words, an instructor of a few different groups of men.

The paper comes in very handy, and I'm telling you I was very glad to receive it. Thanks a lot.

It's getting near time for lights out, so I'll close now. Will write you again soon. Thanks again for the paper. My new address is:

Pvt. Elmer E. Poole, Jr.

Hi, Scoop,

Finally, after roaming nearly all over the globe, I guess I've hit in one place for a while.

I've been over here before, but not to stay for long. But this time it looks like I'll be here for quite a period.

I'd appreciate it very much if you would send my paper here. I met Bob Pearl in New York just before I sailed and we had a nice long visit.

How is the fishing up there? I'm getting some fishing in, but not the kind I'm used to.

I haven't had a paper in a couple of months or more, so if you have any old copies, they would still be news to me. There isn't much I can say about this place, except it's pretty nice but don't compare with the old home town.

Give my regards to everyone, and 'til later I'll sign off. Best of luck and lots of fish.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

A B-25 was taking off somewhere in North Africa. It crashed and burst into flames. Private Eugene A. Ganter rushed forward with three other soldiers to aid the crew. The heat was overwhelming but Ganter and his companions, drenched from the hoses of rescue apparatus, rescued three crew members from the blazing ship. Then Ganter returned to remove loaded 50 caliber machine guns. He won the Soldier's Medal. Such are the men your War Bonds fight beside.

"Bob" King, of the navy seabees, has returned to his station at Camp Endicott, R. I., after spending several days' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam King.

Family Adopts Orphaned Fawn

When a train killed a doe near Harriman Heights, N. Y., recently, "Bambi," a tiny fawn, was orphaned. The family of young Elwood Lewis adopted her, fed her with a medicine dropper, but did not confine her. "Bambi," pictured above, lives in the woods near Elwood's home. She comes out each morning for breakfast and again after school to romp with Elwood.

ABOUT the only time he can get to the telephone is a few short hours in the evening. That's when thousands of other boys in the camps want to use long distance, too.

Any time you are not on the lines, there's a better chance for a soldier's call to get through.

So unless it's urgent, we hope you won't be using long distance from 7 to 10 o'clock at night. Save those hours for the service men.

A summary of shipments as reported from the Charlevoix custom house for the week ending Wednesday evening is as follows: hardwood lumber, 237,000 feet; 1,300 cedar posts; 575 cords of wood; 640 tons of pig iron. An average of 3,000 pounds of fresh fish has been shipped daily by steamers and by rail.

Marine news: The tug Higgie has been laid up for the winter . . . The Clara Belle is being hauled out at Washburn's yard . . . The old steamer Wright is being rebuilt at Campbell's yard . . . The scow Hercules has been stripped and prepared for winter . . . The Nellie Booth is running to Boyne City since the Clara Belle laid up . . . The schooner Florence Smith came in Saturday evening on her last trip for the season . . . Since the Clara Belle has discontinued the mail business, the mail comes through by stage from Boyne Falls.

Wint. Lamphear has built and now occupies a neat little house on Mason street.

Burns & Scroggie responded promptly to the alarm of fire last night, and sent a team to the engine house.

The tug Minnie Warren has been chartered by Pat O'Neil, Geo. Weaver and Mr. Flannigan for fishing. They left for Northport, Monday morning.

Saturday night the Life Savers were called to the rescue of the tug Schnoden, in command of Captain Allard, which went on the rocks about 3½ miles north of Charlevoix at 7:30. The Schnoden was on her way from Cross Village with a 20-ton cargo of grain for the Argo Milling Co. when she became lost in the fog. At 11 o'clock the same night, the life saving crew went to the rescue of the Arbutus, Booth Fisheries boat, and took Amos Webster off. Returning from Northport, the boat went aground in the fog off Big Rock Point. Capt. Partridge of the life saving station informs us that no attempt can be made to release the grounded boats until the lake is calm.

The Misses Ruth and Marian Emrey entertained 30 guests at a four-course luncheon Tuesday, announcing their engagements to, respectively, William Donahue, of Hancock, and Leo Carey, of this city.

Douglas Nettleton writes from France, that after their arrival at an unnamed port, his outfit took a train which was so light that if it had run off the track a dozen men could have thrown it back on, and so overcrowded that some had to sleep lying across the extended legs of others sitting along the sides of the box cars. He says he won't get paid for several months, as they have lost track of the payroll.

It's a small world! Lt. William Mitchell, with the A. E. F. in France, met a local girl, Miss Eva Crum, Red Cross nurse, in a French town recently. Also, Pvt. Lynn Thomas encountered Loren Hart in a little French town when his company stopped during a march.

Perhaps some of our readers have noticed in their Sunday jaunts out to the south point or other places along the lake shore, that the waters of Lake Michigan are steadily lowering from year to year, leaving wide stretches of dry flats along the beaches. This is the result of a bare-faced steal—the Chicago drainage canal, which is taking 660,000 gallons of water from the lake daily. (We got it all back this year.)

Supt. Charles H. Hamilton entertained the football squad, coaches, cheer leaders and athletic manager at a chicken dinner Wednesday evening. Toastmaster was Harold Hallett, guests included McMullkin, Austin, Todd, Hamilton, Roe, Swartout, Blakeslee, Jensen, Alexander, Cooper, Bourrissau, Oberlin, Dagwell, Glasgow and Altenburg. Leonard Burns was elected captain for next year's team.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

LEGISLATURE. Reversing the usual procedure, Governor Kelly has formulated the following policy for the 1944 special session of the legislature:

The date of the session will be set AFTER legislative committees complete a tentative outline of the most urgent post-war needs and the state's critical needs for the coming fiscal year, and AFTER members of the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee have agreed upon a budget to fit these needs.

The 1944 session, because of the war emergency, should be streamlined in order to speed up the handling of bills and permit an early return of legislators to their homes. Many legislators are working long hours and lack help to handle their business affairs during a prolonged session at Lansing.

BILLS. The governor's office, aided by legislative leaders and key committees, should prepare tentative drafts of bills. Legislators should have these bills awaiting them upon their arrival in Lansing. Any changes in the bills can be made in the committees and acted upon by the house and senate. Thus, considerable time should be saved for everyone. In fact, a printed outline of pending legislation should be mailed to every legislator well in advance of the first legislative session. Such legislation should be not "Kelly bills" but should reflect the judgment of legislative leaders summoned into deliberations well before the governor issues the call.

LONG RANGE. Post-war needs of the State of Michigan, such as state hospitals, state training schools and state educational institutions, and office buildings in Detroit and Lansing, should be "budgeted" according to a long-range program. Needs should be given priority according to their urgency, and thus the most critical of state building fire hazards might be placed first on the list and given right-of-way for 1944-45.

NO MELON. However, the state's post-war reserve, which Auditor General Vernon J. Brown now estimates will be $50,000,000 by next July 1, should not become a "melon" to be sliced up during the 1944 legislative session. A substantial amount should be retained to meet unforeseen contingencies if they arise in the post-war period.

HEALTH. Health needs of the Detroit metropolitan area, the scene of a race riot last June, should receive recognition in the legislative call. These health needs (which prompted 75,000 or more Negroes to jam Belle Isle on one hot Sunday) should be met by an appropriation to acquire parks and playgrounds in the southeastern counties of Michigan. Emphasis, however, should be on a long-range program.

PLANNING. A focal point in the governor's program is the Michigan Planning commission which is the state's "board of directors" in determining post-war needs and their priorities. For the first time, the state of Michigan now possesses a complete inventory of state property—an accomplishment which should net $50,000 saving each year in building repairs alone. The building committee of the state administrative board is another key agency.

OFFICES. An additional office building in Lansing would save $150,000 a year in rentals. Such a structure, built on functional lines, should permit savings in governmental costs through a possible centralized accounting department for many state agencies. The same thing could be done for a Detroit office building.

CRITICISM. The Detroit Labor News (AFL) has been using the harpoon regularly at Governor Kelly. In October it charged by editorial innuendo that Kelly either was catering for support of the Anti-Saloon league or was in league with bootleggers. Reason: Scarcity of liquor. On Nov. 19 the same publication carried this page one headline: "Milk Sought—Gov. Kelly Offers Whiskey". Reason: Scarcity of milk. The shortage of hairpins offers new possibilities. Maybe Kelly can be blamed for that, too.

BEER. The state liquor control commission reports that production of Michigan breweries during October was 21.37 per cent greater than in October, 1942.

FOOD. A subcommittee of the Michigan food marketing council is working on plans for a statewide advertising program to encourage greater use in Michigan of Michigan food products. Benefits: Relief to war-time transportation through short hauls from farm to Michigan markets; education on quality of Michigan products; better consumer appreciation of Michigan agriculture. A 25 per cent increase in food law violations is reported. Offenders blame shortage of help.

DELINQUENCY. Parents who neglect their children and thus are indirectly responsible for repeated acts of juvenile delinquency would be liable to citation for contempt of court under a plan approved by the Michigan juvenile code study commission at Lansing. The commission also endorsed proposals requiring parents to pay at least half the cost of institutionalizing or caring for offspring they have neglected.

ACCIDENTS. Just as the 1943 rise of hunting accidents has been accredited to war-time nerves, so the experts are forecasting a rise in automobile accidents after the war. The danger is "emotional letdown", announces Muxwell Halsey, executive director of the state safety commission. Halsey said the present 35-mile limit would probably be raised gradually, first to 50.

HELICOPTERS. Inspired by the rapid expansion of aviation in World War II, experts now envision a future for Michigan citizens in which Detroit would become the air center of the world and 85 per cent of the state's population would have access to air travel through helicopters and huge transport planes served by a network of 240 airfields outside of Detroit. Thomas E. Walsh, director of the Michigan Board of Aeronautics, presented the above picture recently in Detroit. Use of aviation will accelerate the population trend from city to outlying suburbs and farms.

The Administration's Subsidy Program

During the past week, as may be expected, I received some telegrams and letters—some rather strongly worded, requesting me to vote for the Administration's subsidy program. In order that my position may be clearly understood by all, I set forth below the reply sent to one of my correspondents:

"Dear Sir:

I acknowledge with thanks your letter of the 22nd urging I cast my vote in favor of subsidies.

The Steagall Bill, extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation, was adopted in the House yesterday by a roll-call of 278 to 117. The large majority of our people seem to feel that the Commodity Credit Corporation should be extended, believing that much of its work has been of a meritorious character. I assume you are among those who would not like to have seen it discontinued and a vote against the Steagall Bill would have discontinued it.

After extensive hearings over a long period of time, the banking and currency committee by a vote of 23 to 3 wrote into the bill a provision which banned the payment of subsidies for the so-called food rollback program after December 31, 1943. No record vote was had on this provision. An effort was made on the floor to wipe out this section banning subsidies and was defeated by a sound majority.

This roll-back program, according to the testimony and debate, admittedly cost eight hundred million dollars last year. It was frankly admitted by the Administration authorities that they expected it to cost one and one-half billion dollars in 1944. The only way any subsidy can ever be paid is out of the United States treasury. The treasury gets its money either from direct taxation or thru the sale of bonds. It is freely admitted by the Secretary of Treasury that it takes three dollars out of the taxpayers' money to eventually retire each dollars worth of bonds. That money comes out of the taxes of the future. Those taxes will be paid in large measure by the boys and girls who are now serving overseas. It was by conscientious opinion that no person in this country today has any right to expect them to pay our grocery bills of today. We are at this very moment debating, and will vote on today, a tax bill for this year to raise an additional two and one-quarter billion dollars. The President had asked for ten billion dollars to meet immediate pressing obligations. The ways and means committee, after extended hearings, conscientiously felt that it absolutely could not find additional sources of revenue that could stand that greater tax load at this time.

In the face of all that, I could not conscientiously vote for a measure which would increase our tax load by another 4½ billion per year, because the only way subsidies can be financed today is through the sale of bonds that our people are going to have to retire some time in the future unless this country is to face complete bankruptcy or revolution. Which would you prefer?

The completely erroneous statement has been advanced by the administration, and apparently swallowed hook, line and sinker by many people, that this subsidy program would prevent inflation. Nothing could be farther from the truth. It induces inflation rather than retards it. Many people seem to have forgotten that almost exactly two years ago, the President—at his request—was given what he then told us was all the power he needed to control inflation through the passage of the Emergency Price Control Act. At that time the congress was asked to order the stabilization of prices of commodities but it was asked to leave the question of wage stabilization in Presidential hands, with his promise that he would stabilize wages. This promise has not been kept. The one way to prevent inflation now or at any other time—and the President has had that authority for a long while—is to freeze prices of everything, wages included." (Letter dated Nov. 24, 1943)

To give you a more detailed idea of the cost of subsidies, let me quote from a radio broadcast which I delivered August 8, 1943, over stations WSOO, Sault Ste. Marie, and WMAM, Marinette, Wisconsin:

"To roll back the price of butter five cents per pound would cost the treasury $90,000,000 and save the consumer 60 cents per year on the price of butter. A roll-back of two cents per pound on meat would cost the treasury around $300,000,000, thereby saving four cents per week or $2.08 per year per individual. A roll-back of two cents per pound on coffee would cost the treasury $100,000,000. This would save the individual 20 cents per year. This according to experts."

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

A farewell party for Mrs. Earl Preston, who with Mr. Preston will leave Friday for Wyandotte and Arizona, was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leo Carey. Guests who enjoyed a potluck supper, and presented a gift to Mrs. Preston, were Mesdames Clara Todd, Miles Olmstead, Chas. Emrey, Milton Bleck, Harry Glossenger, Robert Emrey and Stewart Goleman.

Miss Annabelle Gunningham entertained members of her sewing cinh Monday evening at her home on East Upright avenue.

CORRESPONDENCE

ROCK ELM

Mr. and Mrs. William Slough have gone to Lansing, where both are employed in some kind of war work.

Earl Bradley called on Jesse Lawton, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whitfield, Mrs. Julia Gunther and daughter, Elaine, Mrs. Elmer Poole, also mother, Mrs. Johanna Jensen, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jensen.

Lawrence Jensen and Jesse Lawton were busy Saturday and Monday trying to pile up the wood recently buzzed before it is covered with snow.

Kenneth Slough recently purchased a house of Mrs. Julia Gunther. He plans to use the lumber to build a house on his farm. It looks suspicious. Wedding bells may be ringing soon.

The hound owned by Mr. Dewey, of Ellsworth, got lost while on a fox hunt last week and took refuge at the Lawton home, where he waited for his master to call for him.

MAPLE GROVE

George Wianick, seaman first class, came Tuesday from Camp Peary, Va., for a few days visit with relatives and friends. He left on Monday to return to duty.

Belma Kane was absent from school Monday, as she paid a visit to the dentist. Kenneth Allison also visited the dentist last Wednesday afternoon.

Our Christmas Seals have been received and the pupils are busy selling them. They have chosen sides and the side selling the least stamps must entertain the other side.

The Maple Grove Grange had a chicken supper and installed their new officers last Tuesday night.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker on Thanksgiving day were Neeland Baker, Mrs. Ella Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Furgeson and son, Junior, also Miss Myrtle Furgeson, of Detroit, and Leonard Furgeson, who is home on furlough.

Miss Myrtle Furgeson and Leonard Furgeson were dinner guests of their sister, Mrs. Floyd Baker, on Monday.

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

After two weeks of snow and winter weather, we are enjoying some very nice fall weather, and certainly appreciate it.

Farmers have their crops all harvested by this time and some are busy plowing for next year's crops.

Miss Julia Senneker, of Grand Rapids, is spending a few days at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. Senneker.

Mrs. Jacob DeGroat, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Grand Rapids and Chicago for a couple of weeks, returned home Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Oosterbaan and family spent Thanksgiving afternoon with her parents.

Harry DeGroot, of Ellsworth, is working for Jay Kulper this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oosterbaan and family had Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Timmer and family in Charlevoix.

James Rubingh, of Lansing, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mettus Rubingh.

Elsie Fay, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Postmus, of Grand Rapids, is making an extended visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. U. Senneker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Timmer, of Ellsworth, were in Charlevoix last Friday, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Timmer.

Harry DeGroot, of the Bentley Hill district, was in this neighborhood a few days last week helping his brother, Jacob, making some repairs on his residence.

Card of Thanks

We are sincerely grateful to friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hiller and family.—Adv. 48t1pd.

AT THE MOVIES

"Hoppy Serves a Writ"

Once again "Hopalong" Cassidy rides forth on the screen in a rip-roaring Western film, "Hoppy Serves a Writ," opening at the Palace Theatre on Saturday only thru United Artists release, with colorful, two-fisted Bill Boyd in his familiar role of the quiet-voiced, quick-witted cowboy detective.

"Claudia"

"Claudia", the play that rocked Broadway for three years, is coming to the Palace Theatre on Sunday and Monday. Dorothy McGuire plays the title role, with Robert Young in the role of Claudia's serious young husband.

"Hostages"

After a four years' absence from filmland, Luise Rainer shares stardom with Arturo de Gordova, Paul Lukas and William Bendix in Paramount's exciting and dramatic adaptation of Stefan Heym's best-selling novel, "Hostages," coming on Thursday and Friday to the Palace Theatre.

A story of love, devotion and courage among those battling Hitler inside his own lines, "Hostages" tells a dramatic tale of the terror the Nazis are now experiencing on the powder keg of their own "Fortress Europe."

Graduates at Lowry Field

Cpl. Ormiston F. Bergeon, son of Arthur Bergeon, graduated Monday from the armament school of the army air forces technical training command at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo. Entering the armed forces two years ago, he served in the coast artillery until transferring to the air corps about six months ago.

trim and Sherman streets? Although we were school kids together, I had almost completely forgotten him until Monday, when I received a letter, along with a Christmas and New Year's greeting from him from "Somewhere in China." Dick wrote, in part, as follows: "These wars are coming too dura often. It is getting a bit monotonous. I sow the lost one with the nuvy, as you probably recall, so thought I'd get n glimpse of this one with the same outfit. My son, Dixon, is also with the outfit and stationed at the Navul Research Loboratory at Washington, but rarin' to come to China with me. The old bunch, Sammy King, Clare Hanshew, King Saunders, Ernie Olney, are all pretty well senttered by now, I suppose. With best wishes to everyone for n fine time during the holidays nnd better years to come." Dick added a postscript snying that George Hopkins, of Hopkins Beach, nt Eastport, is a captain in the nlr force and a neighbor of his right down the way in India. Dick's letter was a pleasant surprise.

A man who seemed to know what he wns talking about told me that a maker of one of the tablets that fizz when you put them in water disliked the Roosevelt administration so much in its early days that he decided to spend all his profits in advertising so he wouldn't have to pay any taxes. The upshot was that his business doubled, tripled, and keeps on growing. His taxes now greatly exceed his total earnings of a few years ago. There's something amusing about this, although I can't say just what it is.

Which counts the most—a pretty face, a shapely figure, or a warm response? They seldom all come in the same package.

I was as persistent deer hunting as Joe Foster, but I didn't have his luck. Joe bagged one over near Springvale last Sundoy, I understand. I'll have to wait another year, now, and no doubt will be just as optimistic as ever. And while on the subject of deer hunting, it reminds me thot Clarence Heise wonts to advertise for a shirt lost while hunting, and that he came home with one suit of long underweor ond one suck belonging to an entirely unkown party. With Kit Carson and Frank Bird at home tending their turkeys, the average of the lucol gang which hunts northeast of Newberry on the Two Heart river sagged badly. Guess I'd better stop there.

Exchange greetings this week with: John J. Woods, MM1c, U. S. navy, Seattle; Bill Bogart, Seabees, Davisville, R. I.; Tom Carey, Seabees, Southwest Pacific; Walter Henley, U. S. novy, Great Lakes, Ill.; James Annis, U. S. Navy, Pacific; Elmer Poole, Jr., U. S. army, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; "Bud" Heise, U. S. navy, in England; Clinton C. Howe, U. S. army, Manhattnn Beach, Calif.; Benjnmin Walker, U. S. nrmy, Shreveport, La.; Harry L. Oldham, U. S. army, Camp Gordon, Ga. Thumbs up, youse guys!

Figures may not lie, hut girdles keep a lot of them from telling the truth.

Strange "duel" with a Nazi bomber. The dashing widow of England's nativesborn Mohammedon nobleman needed only her bicycle to outwit the Luftwaffe nce and save n village. Charles Robbins tells of this heroic exploit in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

CUB SCOUTS PACK MEETING TUESDAY

Achievement Awards, Handicraft Displays to Be Featured

A pack meeting of Charlevoix Cub Scouts will be held next Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's recreation center. Everyone is welcome to attend the meeting.

Five dens, with 34 registered cubs, will bo represented. Achievement uwards will be given at the meeting, which will feature handicroft displays, den stunts, and movies. Purents of prospective cubs—nine year old boys—are especially invited to attend, as well as parents of the cubs.

Cubmaster is Ralph Hamilton; the pack committee is comprised of O. P. North, Glenn See, Chas. Hamiln and Harold Withers. Women who are serving as den mothers nre Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Mrs. Ronuld Fairbanks, Mrs. L. P. Petersen and Mrs. Raymond Cross.

Den chiefs are William Petersen, Nicholas Hamilton, Bill Carey, Warren Shadko and John Eccleston.

Boys in cub scouting are preparing for their later entry into the Boy Scouts, learning together the essentials of good citizenship and patriotism. Their pledge is "To be square and obey the law of the cub pack."

POSTMASTER GENERAL URGES EARLY MAILING

Send Christmas Gifts by Dec. 10 To Assure Delivery

All Christmas gifts must be mailed before December 10 for delivery before Christmas, wurns Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

Because 30,000 postal employees have gone into the army and nnvy, extra help is not uvailable, and railroads are burdened with war traffic, the only possible way to assure gifts being delivered before Christmas is to nail them now.

People in this city who wish to send packages to Detroit, but think that early mailing is not necessary becnuse of the comparative nearness uf that metropolis, ure cautioned to send their gifts at once. Packuge delivery in the city itself is so delayed because of the overburdened post office and branches, that even when packages arrive there the day after mailing from Charlevoix, they mny not be delivered for ten days or more.

Mork parcels "Do Not Open Until Christmas," ond mail them at once. Enrlier shopping is also urged by stores, ond will be advantageous to the shopper in theso times of retoil scorcities nnd shortnges.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Income Tax Meeting Monday, Dec. 6, Charlevoix City Hall

A discussion that will greatly assist farmers in the filing of their income tax returns will be held Monday afternoon, December 6, at 2 o'clock, in the city hall at Charlevoix.

This year proctically every farmer in the county must file a deelnrution of income on or before December 15th if they are on the cnlendor year basis. If on the March 1st fiscol year period, return must be filed on February 15th, or in other words, the fifteenth duy of the lnst month of your taxable yenr. It is hoped that this meeting will help onswer the many questions thut farmers have regarding this year's income tax program.

While Specialist C. O. May can only be in the county for the one date of Mondoy afternoon, December 6, two other meetings hnve been arranged for Wednesday and Thursdoy, December 8 and 9, to nssist farmers in other communities in the county. On Wednesday afternoon, December 8, the meeting will be held in the city hall, East Jordan, beginning at 2 o'clock, and on Thursday, December 9 in the city library, Boyne City, also nt 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

We will have forms to give out and hope to help you in enrrying out this new responsibility.

COMMUNICATION

Mrs. Clura Nowland Holmes, a former Charlevoix resident who lives in Everett, Wash., was among speakers at a recent meeting of the Writers' Forum in Everett. She rend a chapter from her book, "Return at Twilight." Her interesting letter follows:

Dear Ken,

I do not know if this will be of interest to you or not, but I am enclosing a write-up that wus in several papers out here. This was in the Seattle Post-Independent, November 21.

I got my first writing ambition in the Courier office, where I worked for n short time in 1922. While I have had many short stories and articles accepted by Psychology, Street and Smith's, etc., this ("Return at Twilight") is the first book I have written, although I hnve another started now. This book I got the material for when I was in France in 1934.

As you know, I am the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nowland, nnd sister to Mrs. Joe Moore, Mrs. John Zeitler and Frank Nowland.

Perhnps it would be of interest to some of your readers if at this time I add a little news from out here, of old Charlevoix people, also to say thnt anyone, soldiers or old friends, may call on me and I cnn get them in touch with many people from Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNally are still taking the Courier after many years of living out here. They puss it on to the rest of us.

Retn LeMaster, who is the daughter of Sandy Shearer, will likes to read the old home town pnper, nnd looks up nnyone from there that she can.

Wallace Whitford is alive and hearty although he is 87 years of nge. He has pictures of the deer hunting days in nnd around Charlevoix when it was really worth while to hunt. He is well known there, as the son of Charles Whitford, who had the lumber mills on Pine lake. His wife was a Smith girl from Undine. He has five grandsons overseas in this war.

Mabel Gillman and Marian MacDowell, sisters of Mrs. Kate Block, run a rest home for old or niling people in Bellingham, Wash.

Mrs. Hazen Whitford, whom I just met at a large gathering of Charlevoix people, is the sister of Mrs. Claude Bowen from out of Charlevoix. She says to say hello for her to her friends and relatives back there.

There are many more I could tell you about if you care to hear. Let me know.

Sincerely,
Clara Holmes

COAST GUARDSMAN ON NAVY VESSEL

navy officer who was interviewing me. I was proud as a peacock at the honor."

The next evening he sailed out of un unnomed horbor, picking a perilous channel among the masts of sunken ships, where the trick was to sail between masts of different ships, not two masts of the some one. Leaving that port with six Nazis bombers as escorts—giving his craft their undivided attention—the ship unloaded at Sicily during an air roid the following night. That was how, Lt. Hellman says, in two easy lessons, he learned in a hurry how his new ship handled.

"Handling motor lifeboats in some of those mid-winter blizzards on the Great Lakes was great training for my present job," he says. "A fellow soon learns how to make quick decisions nnd how to maneuver under the foulest circumstnnces when stuck out on those lakes with ice fields closing in . . . There are lots of coast guardsmen in this area and, as usual, they are doing a good job, many of them in crews of the LCI's and LST's. A couple of weeks ago a boxing program was presented in Oran, Algeria, with men from all the services taking part. The coast guard cleaned house! The results were four victories, one draw and one defeat. This was quite a surprise to some of the people, for, by the news reports, a lot of them didn't even know there were any coast guardsmen over here."

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

"THE PHANTOM BELLS" IS MYSTERY COMEDY

Cast Rehearsing for Production December 9; Miss Nellie Smith Is Director

"The Phantom Bells," a mystery comedy in three acts, will be presented by the senior class of Charlevoix high school next Thursday evening, December 9, at 8 p. m. at the high school gymnasium.

Directed by Miss Nellie Smith, the play was written by Robert St. Clair. Musical numbers will be presented by the Charlevoix high school band under direction of Earl E. Beach.

Cast members now rehearsing for the production are Helen Jeanne Hammond, as Laura Rhodes, a sweet, unspoiled girl with a vast amount of courage and loyalty; Don Bellinger, as Jack Page, who is much interested in Laura; Elaine Edwards as Mrs. Rhodes, stepmother of Laura; Bob Belfy as Victor Lavelle, a typical man of the world; Beverly Fisher as Harriet, the maid, the real comedy element of the play; Lois Walstad as Lela Sayles, the brusque and business-like trained nurse, Hubert Olach, as an invalid in a wheel-chair; Don Boss as Detective Joseph Kennedy, complete with moustache, spectacles and gray suit; Susie Miller as Anne Carruthers, the female attorney with a good sense of humor, with whom is always found her secretary, Miriam Booth, played by Virginia Young.

Otto Harvey is in charge of the play's settings and sound effects, which play an important part in the plot. He is assisted by Hubert Olach. Other committee members are: tickets, Louise Louiselle, Lucille May, Donna Bennett, Ione Wickersham; advertising, Susie Miller, Marie Jancha, Louise Bartanek; properties, Phyllis Martin, Marjorie Mutchott, Alice Livingston. Miss Ruth Parish is assisting Miss Smith in direction of the production.

The play promises to be of outstanding merit.

Sales Tax Yield Highest in Ten Years of Operation

Louis M. Nims, commissioner of the state department of revenue, has just presented to Governor Kelly and members of the legislature his annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1943.

Since the effective date of the act creating the department was January 10, 1942, this is the first annual report covering a full fiscal year's collections and disbursements. The report shows collections amounting to $104,612,-184.67, compared to total state taxes of $170,539,186.27.

The sales and use tax yield for 1942-43 reached the unprecedented amount of $86,388,234.31. First inaugurated by Michigan on July 1, 1933 and now used in 23 states, the sales tax yield has risen steadily each year.

SPARS WILL TAKE NEW OFFICERS FROM RANKS

No Civilians Will Be Accepted After January 15, 1944

After January 15, civilians will not be accepted for officers' training in the Spars, women's reserve of the United States coast guard, it was announced today by Ensign Lee Kheel, officer in charge of Spar recruiting in the western Michigan area. After this date, all candidates will be chosen from the ranks of enlisted girls.

Civilian women interested in applying for officers' training school before January 15th must have a college degree from an accredited college or university, plus some working experience, be between the ages of 20 and 36, have no children under 18 years of age and be in good physical condition.

Requirements for enlisted girls are the same except educational requirements are 2 years of high school or more.

Applications and information can be secured from the Spar recruiting office, Room 615, Post Building, Battle Creek, Mich.

FIRST CAGE TILT IS FRIDAY NIGHT

RAYDERS MEET PETOSKEY ON HOME COURT

Reserve Teams Will Open Double Bill; Contest First on 12-Game Schedule for Locals

Charlevoix high school's Red Rayder basketball team will open their 1943-44 season Friday night of this week on the home court.

Petoskey high school comes here for the initial tilt of the Rayders' 12-game schedule. The Northmen defeated Boyne City last Friday night, 49 to 25, and the Rayders expect a hard battle.

Coach Ray Kipke will have two veterans of last year's first team in the starting line-up Friday nite. They are Gerald Chambers, guard, and Don Bellinger, forward. Occupying the other forward position will be Bernie Zeitler; Bernie Ward will hold the center position, while George Plumm will complete the line-up at the other guard position. Others of the first team are Hubert Olach, forward; Bob Belfy, center, and Don Brown, guard.

The preliminary contest at 7:15 will match local and visiting reserve teams. Sam McClutchey, of Pellston, will officiate at the main game at 8:15.

Charlevoix's schedule following the Petoskey game is as follows: Dec. 10, Harbor Springs there; Dec. 17, Mancelona here; Jan. 11, Pellston here; Jan. 21, East Jordan there; Jan. 28, Boyne City here; Feb. 1, East Jordan here; Feb. 4, Petoskey there; Feb. 8, Pellston there; Feb. 11, Grayling there; Feb. 18, Boyne City there; Feb. 25, Harbor Springs here.

LT. MAX NOVAK MEETS WENDELL L. WILLKIE

A recent meeting with Wendell L. Willkie in New Orleans, La., is reported by Lt. (j.g.) Maxwell Novak, U. S. naval reserve, in a letter to Mrs. Novak. Waiting in the lobby of the Roosevelt Hotel to meet Pvt. Ervin Racignol, also stationed in New Orleans, Lt. Novak was introduced to Mr. Willkie by another officer, and conversed with him for some time.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS PRESENTED LETTERS

Sixteen Members 1943 Squad Get Awards from Coach Kipke

Members of the 1943 Charlevoix high school football squad were presented letters by Coach Ray Kipke at an assembly program at the high school last Wednesday morning.

Those receiving letters were:

Seniors — Bob Belfy, Marvin Cross, Jay Chambers, Don Bellinger, Hubert Olach.

Juniors — Ken Hardy, Versal Shearer, Russell Lewis, Bill Graves, George Plumm.

Sophomores—Don Brown, Don North, Ed. Novotny, Bernie Zeitler, Bernie Ward.

Freshmen—Richard Hardy.

EXTEND WAR FUND DRIVE

CAMPAIGN WILL CONTINUE TO DECEMBER 15

Entire County Is Reported Short of Goal; Extension of Two More Weeks Granted

Contributions of $1,822 for the National War Fund drive in this city were recorded at noon Wednesday, reports the Charlevoix County State Bank. The city's quota is $2,768.

While the campaign was scheduled to close Tuesday, November 30, extension to December 15 was granted for Charlevoix county because quotas have not been reached here, in Boyne City or East Jordan.

Boyne City passed the $1,100 mark last week, and expected to make another canvass of the Michigan Tanning & Extract Co. plant this week for the final $800 of their quota. East Jordan reported only $500 in contributions up to last week.

As contributions in Charlevoix last week totaled only $942.50, it appears that the campaign gained much headway during the past week. However, the city is still almost a thousand dollars short of its quota.

As this drive combines campaigns for almost all war relief organizations except Red Cross and Salvation Army, it provides an opportunity to make one contribution to 17 war relief agencies at the same time.

WPB BANS OUTDOOR CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

Restrictions Applied Last Year Again Placed in Effect

Outdoor electrical Christmas decorations will again be banned in Charlevoix this year, according to orders received Wednesday morning by city officials from the War Production Board.

WPB restrictions last year banned outdoor lighting because of the heavy drain on power plants, necessitating greater use of fuel oil.

O. E. S. INSTALLATION SET FOR DECEMBER 10

Charlevoix Chapter No. 72, Order of Eastern Star, will have open installation ceremonies on Friday, December 10, at 8 p. m. in the Masonic temple.

COAST GUARDSMAN ON NAVY VESSEL

FORMER LOCAL COMMANDER IN MEDITERRANEAN

Lt. Paul B. Hellman Only Coast Guard Officer in Charge of Ship with Navy Crew

Stationed in Charlevoix from February, 1941, to April, 1942, he will be remembered by many local residents. When he volunteered for active duty in the war, he was Captain of the Port at Green Bay, Wis. Hellman's rise through 20 years of service is told in the magazine's editorial section, which relates how he enlisted at a Great Lakes station and worked his way to a lieutenancy along a hard and often discouraging route. He studied mathematics, engineering and many other subjects through facilities of the Coast Guard Institute to prepare himself for his present success. When taking a course in port security work—after becoming a lieutenant—Hellman was assumed by his instructors to be a recruit from civilian life, and went through the most elementary phases of instruction in coast guard duties without revealing his years of experience. "A fellow can always learn something new if he applies himself diligently enough," he explained.

Volunteering for overseas duty, he went to Africa and spent two months in an army hospital in Algiers with a fractured elbow, incurred during landing operations on maneuvers. Then he received orders to fly to Bizerte, where he was asked by navy officials "if he had any objections to taking command of an LST boat that had an entire navy crew." Says Hellman, "It's a wonder I didn't throw my arms around the

Charlevoix Would Be Stop on Air Route to Northern Cities

Northern Michigan Airlines, of Traverse City, has applied to the Public Service Commission at Lansing for permission to carry mail, passengers and property between up-state cities by air, it was announced last week following filing of applications by the company.

Charlevoix is scheduled as a stop on the proposed air route, which will inaugurate service as soon as a six-passenger twin-engine airplane can be purchased. The company's application will remain on file pending enactment of air transportation legislation by the next session of the legislature.

PSC Chairman Gilbert T. Shilson said the firm proposed a route which calls for stops at Frankfort, Manistee, Ludington, Oscoda, Alpena, Rogers City, Cheboygan, St. Ignace, Pellston, Petoskey, Charlevoix and Traverse City.

Incorporators of the firm include: Ebba K. Wood, president; Austin C. Batdorff, vice president; and W. Mark Wood, secretary, all of Traverse City. Batdorff is president and publisher of the Traverse City Record-Eagle.

GIVE RATION STAMPS FOR HOUSEHOLD FATS

Plan to Spur Lagging Collections In Effect December 13

In order to spur the kitchen fats salvage campaign, the office of price administration will authorize meat dealers and other fats salvagers to give two points a pound for fats returned by housewives and others. The new plan will go into effect December 13.

Brown stamps which the retailers collect from war ration book three will be used for this purpose. Later, when one-point ration tokens are used in making point change under rationing, they will be used instead of paper stamps.

SECOND SCRAP PAPER PICK-UP

COLLECTION DATES ARE SET FOR DECEMBER 10-11

Boy Scouts, City Employees Will Canvass Town; Old Corrugated Board Is Urgently Needed

A second waste paper pick-up will be conducted in Charlevoix on Friday and Saturday, December 10 and 11, in an effort to collect another carload of paper in this city for the national paper salvage program.

Boy Scouts and city employees, with city trucks, will canvass residential and business districts to collect paper on these days. Paper should be placed in containers or bundles at the curb or other convenient location, as was done in the previous pick-up.

Anyone who has paper which they wish to turn in before the regular pick-up, may bring it to the city hall. Paper brought here must be bundled, or in boxes. Farmers especially are asked to bring their waste paper into town, if convenient. All paper will be stored in the Lewis building until it may be shipped out.

While waste paper of all types—except waxed or transparent varieties—is desired in the program, particular emphasis is placed on old corrugated board, boxes, brown paper bags and brown wrapping paper. Michigan paper mills face a curtailment of their war

Three Trips Weekly Are Provided Beginning December 1

A change in operating schedule of the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Mary Margaret, effective December 1 to January 1, was announced this week by Capt. Leroy Allers.

For that period the boat will leave Charlevoix at 6 a. m. and return here at 2 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

BROWN STAMP VALIDITY DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Validity dates of additional brown stamps in war ration book three are as follows: Stamp N, good December 5; P, December 12; Q, December 19; all expire January 1, 1944. Stamp R, good December 26, expires January 29, 1944.

BETTY WILLIS CHOSEN BY HONORARY SOCIETY

Highest Scholarship Students Are Picked by Phi Kappa Phi

Miss Betty Willis, senior at Michigan State College and a graduate of Charlevoix high school, has been chosen for membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Willis.

Selected on a scholarship basis, members of Phi Kappa Phi represent the top ranking scholarship students from all divisions of the college and must have attained a 2.5 all-college average, which is almost equivalent to an all-A record. Miss Willis is enrolled in the home economics division, majoring in textiles, clothing and related arts.

This year she was awarded a scholarship by the Pratt-Whitney Aircraft Corporation of Hartford, Conn., and following her graduation in March, she will go to Connecticut to be employed in the corporation's engineering department.

WOOD PRODUCTS COMPANY FORMED

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE FOR CHARLEVOIX

A new business enterprise has been inaugurated in Charlevoix with establishment of the Charlevoix Wood Products Co., owned and operated by Fred Kaunitz.

Wood working machines have been installed in the shop owned by Roy Ranger on the south shore of Round lake, and a mill has been built for bolt saw and planer. Electric power lines carrying 220 volts have been extended from Belvedere avenue to the shop and mill.

First shipment will be made this week on a large cabinet contract, beginning of wholesale manufacture of cabinet work and wood products. Work will soon begin on cutting parts for a sub-contract for the Foster Boat Co. Lack of proper wood-working machinery and floor space is a handicap which will eventually be overcome, says Mr. Knunitz.

Owner and operator of the Bay City Yacht Works for 35 years, Mr. Kaunitz designed and built many boats and large yachts. Among these was a palatial seagoing yacht for William P. Knudsen, General Motors executive. About a year and a half ago he came to Charlevoix as marine engineer for the Foster Boat Co. and has since purchased a home here.

MAPLE GROVE GRANGE INSTALLED OFFICERS

Installation of officers was held by Maple Grove Grange No. 1255 at the grange hall at their regular meeting on Sunday, November 21. Mrs. E. E. Stroud acted as installing officer. After the meeting, a chicken supper was enjoyed by those who attended.

POST-WAR PLANE TRAVEL PLANNED

REGIONAL MEETING FRIDAY AT TRAVERSE CITY

Eleven Northern Communities Represented; Michigan Must Compete With Canada

If northern Michigan is to compete successfully with Canada for post-war vacation business it must build airports and landing fields, representatives of 11 northern communities were informed at a regional aviation meeting at Traverse City's Park Place hotel, Friday night.

Attending from Charlevoix were E. J. Edwards, Robert Emrey, Stewart Coleman and Earl A. Young.

The meeting was addressed by George Ross, planning consultant for the Michigan Board of Aeronautics, and Mr. Stevens, the board's planning engineer.

Canada is preparing to make a strong bid for tourist and vacation air travel as soon the war is over, and is active right now in preparing landing fields and advertising its recreational opportunities. Unless this part of Michigan, known nationally as a recreation center, prepares to handle the post-war air travel, it will pass overhead on its way to Canada, these board officials stated.

Small communities were urged to begin at once to investigate the possibility of establishing or improving existing airports. They were cautioned not to attempt anything too big on the theory that a big airport would attract commercial airplanes, but to concentrate on facilities for handling pleasure craft. An 1,800 foot runway would be the minimum for pleasure planes.

While Charlevoix has at present no area large enough for an airport, several prospective sites are under consideration. To make this city a regular stop for post-war airlines would assure a chance for future prosperity.

FUEL OIL COUPONS STILL 10 GALLONS

Period Two Began November 30 In 33 Rationed States

Householders' fuel oil rations for period two will remain at their current value of 10 gallons, Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced Friday.

Period two began Nov. 30 in the 33 rationed states and extends to Feb. 8 in all rationed areas except the south, where it ends on January 25.

MOTORISTS MUST GIVE OLD IGNITION POINTS

War Production Board Asks for Salvage, Reclamation

Motorists must turn in an old ignition point contact to get a new one for their car, the War Production Board has ruled.

WLB also is asking for salvage and reclamation of used points because of the critical shortage of tungsten rod for ignition contact points, Walter F. Wright, deputy director, automotive division, Detroit regional WLB office, said.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

A man should be taller, older, heavier, uglier and hoarser than his wife.

Some commentators have attributed the increase in hunting fatalities during the 1943 seasons to what they term "war nerves," but having read the accounts of most of these "accidents" in the daily press, we'll stick to the claim that the greatest share of them have been caused by carelessness and by failure to look carefully before shooting.

Uneasy lies the head that's trying to figure out what tomorrow will bring.

The Cheboygan Observer's Bob Hamphrey comes out with the following very solid reasons why Americans should be thankful this year and I'm passing them on, even though somewhat belatedly: "Things we can be thankful for—this still may be a one-horse town, but as the song goes, it's still good enough for me—and it's still a place where you can get a pound of butter, order your turkey from the family butcher, get a bar of P & G soap, get costume jewelry, enjoy a chocolate soda, and where a knock at the door means a visit from a friendly neighbor instead of a warning to hike for an air raid shelter—and we can get down on our knees and thank God for these favors."

One thing we are quite sure of and that is, this world will be a much better place in which to live when everyone learns that another person may belong to a different race, faith, sex, or nation, even vote a different political ticket, and still be a human being.

First Firefly: "Put out that light. This is supposed to be a blackout."

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Quite some time since I've written you, I was still in Camp Peary, Va., I guess. Boy, what a difference there is between the camps. This Camp Endicott is tops as far as I am concerned. Really a nice camp. We've got swell two-floor barracks, steam heated and all cement walks and roads, no mud like Virginia had. You can't buy meals like we get here in camp. They're really the best, not just a lot of chow, but real good hearty meals and you eat 'til you're full. We've got some good cooks in our battalion.

I just got back here a week ago today from a 10-day furlough. Of course I went to Detroit on the furlough. Had a nice trip, but was kind of hard to return again. We have it pretty good here. Helen and I see each other every night and we do get a few liberties, too, and we can bring our wives into the theatre and into church, too, which we do, of course. We get some first class pictures here, such as "Johnny Come Lately" and "Guadalcanal Diary" and others. We saw "Banjo on My Knee" the other night. That's a good morale picture, lots of good laughs in it.

We're having a wee mini storm here today—we're secure in our barracks until further orders and I'm using the good fortune to write to you. Have been getting the paper regularly. After I read it, I take it out for Helen to take home with her.

The perch ought to be starting to bite pretty soon now, hain't they, Ken? I've been watching the paper for the announcement of a perch run, but not as yet has it been there. Better get those fishermen "on the ball" up there. We get oysters up here quite often—on Friday usually. They usually fry them. We can see them fishing for them out here in the bay when we're out on extended order drills.

I just came back from chow. We had a fair chow today, nothing special—cinnamon roll, bread, butter, lettuce salad with dressing, cocoa, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, hamburger, and apple pie. No points, either.

production unless they can secure stocks of brown-colored waste paper—and Michigan produces nearly one-third of all corrugated board made in the country.

Paper is going to war in the shape of overseas shipping containers, airplane parts, and as a protection for ammunition. Waste paper from Charlevoix county homes may be made into bomb bands, that protective fibre girdle with which each aerial bomb designed for dumping on Berlin and Tokyo, is wrapped.

A bomb band is used on all bombs from 250 pounds up to the one-ton "blockbusters" to protect the lugs used to hook bombs onto an airplane for shipment to battle areas. Once they were made of steel, weighing 13 pounds. Today, the bands are made of paperboard held in place with a thin metal band, and the entire protection weighs only two and three-quarters pounds.

Householders are urged to search basements and attics for paper missed in the last drive, and to turn in all that has since accumulated.

Excellent cork is now procurable from Douglas fir bark, with an annual potential supply of 200,000 tons a year.

Forty years ago the first known cross-continent automobile trip was made from San Francisco to New York in 52 days.

I sure was surprised to get a card from Glenn Rose. We always like to hear from different ones along with our regular correspondents.

We had a barracks inspection of the whole battalion. There are five barracks and we rated second high, so I guess I can figure I'm living with a pretty clean bunch of fellows.

I was thinking this morning it won't be very long before they'll be sprinkling down the tennis courts and the kids will be putting on their ice skates. Wish we could all come back and put them on with them.

I imagine, Ken, while I'm writing this letter you are probably toting a deer rifle around in the woods some place. Here's wishing you good luck, and the same for the rest of those Charlevoix buck hunters.

I am wondering what happened to Bob King. He was in Peary while I was there. Is he here in Endicott?

We're due to go someplace for advance base depot training, but never know when or where. We're way behind schedule now. There's a chance we stay right here, and I hope we do.

We've got a pretty nice air base here. Always a bunch flying over or going in for a landing. Sure would like to get over and see it, but I guess that is quite the impossible.

I've got a 12-hour liberty tonight, so I'll start getting ready about four o'clock so I can get in line to get my pass early. Everything is in lines, you know, so first there, first served.

Tuesday morning the C.P.O. gave me my mail and in it was the issue with the Christmas greetings in it. I also received a greeting from the Kiwanis Club and I went to thank the club for it and everyone of the 20 who signed it. That picture of Round lake sure looks awfully inviting to me.

Guess when I get started I never know enough to quit and just keep rambling on, so I better make this the end. Hello to everyone and all kinds of holiday wishes. As Mr. Scudder said in his "best wishes", I hope we can all be home for the next year's holidays. As ever

Dear Ken,

It's been quite some time since I've written you, in fact, about four months. During this time I've been in Tennessee on maneuvers and now I'm back in Georgia again. It seems as though no matter how far away I go or where I'm sent, I always end up in Georgia. It's a swell state, but one can get an over-dose of swell things sometimes.

We are getting very intensive training now and what time we do have off, the home town paper comes in very good. In fact, I send it sometimes whether I'm off or not.

I'll have to cease firing for this time. Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and thanking you very much for the paper, I am

Dear Ken,

Here I am, stretched out in my pup tent, writing this to you. I'm here in the backwoods of Jasper, Texas, for the time being, having just finished with a Thanksgiving dinner. Although it was eaten in the woods and out of a mess-kit, it was very enjoyable.

Will be here in Texas for the remainder of the week and then back in the Louisiana swamps, so here's my address for a while. It will probably be changed again in the near future. And here's hoping the Courier finds me. So long.

Dear Ken,

Just a letter to let you know that I am feeling just fine and hope all the folks at Charlevoix are o. k.

Received the paper, which I was very happy to get. The weather out here in California is nice. It sure is a nice country.

I went into the army April 7, 1941, and am now a private, first class, gunner.

Yours truly,

Dear Kon,

I suppose it's time I dropped you and my friends in Charlevoix a line and let you know I'm still alive, and also to thank you again for the Courier.

I just received the Christmas Greeting issue, and I wish to send my Christmas greeting to each and everyone of them. I only wish I could be there to wish everyone a Merry Christmas, but as I'm unable to do so in person, I'll have to do the next best. So Merry Christmas to all and a happy and victorious New Year. Also to the boys and girls that are in the service, I wish the same.

Since you last heard from me I have been promoted from machinist's mate second class, to first class, after answering 380 questions from 5 p. m. until 1:30 a. m., receiving a mark of 90 per cent.

Since I've been here I haven't seen anyone from Charlevoix. I received a card from Glenn Rose and it sure was nice to hear from someone from good old Charlevoix.

Ken, I don't know if I ever told you, but when I was interviewed by the Seattle paper I was also decorated with the Purple Heart. I would like to belong to the V. F. W. at Charlevoix if they will accept me, as Charlevoix will always be home to me no matter where I am.

Please give my greetings to all.

Dear Ken,

Guess it's about time I repossessed a little ambition, enough anyway to express my appreciation to the givers of the CSO for making possible the Courier, a regular occurrence at mail call. Each edition is read and re-read and appreciated far more than mere words can say.

Have been in these parts for almost ten months and I still haven't figured out where the beauty of the South Seas lies. Notice I said "beauty" not "beauties", as I'm well convinced that beautiful girls in grass skirts just ain't. Possibly, though, I haven't found the right island, so I shall keep my eyes open as the scenery changes. This is rather funny—a person can buy a grass skirt from the natives here for a buck, but understand the white man had to show them how to make them to begin with.

The natives like the white men real well and they are very friendly. In most of their dealings they are quite shrewd. However, one time one was selling bracelets for ten cents apiece or six for a dollar. (I bought four for 40 cents.)

There is one thing that has appealed to me as beauty. That is the fish life. They are honestly every size, shape and color. Some are spotted, some stripped, not with one or two colors, but with every color of the rainbow.

At times the sun really blazes down and is almost unbearable. It doesn't take long for a fellow to get a tan. I've never seen it sprinkle—when the clouds gather, you're in for a real cloudburst. One night my shoes were washed right out of the tent. I've heard the rainy season mentioned many times, but to me it seems it must last about 12 months out of the year.

The time to hit the ball again is near. Thanks again for the Courier.

Sincerely yours,
Tom

Dear Ken,

Just a line to thank you for sending the Courier. I get it every week and I read every word in it.

Last night I saw Glen Miller and his orchestra, and boy, are they sharp!

This navy and I sure click. You couldn't pull me out with a team of horses. I expect to be home about the 15th of December for my 9-day leave.

I suppose you have got your hack by now. I sure would like to get a crack at a deer, or a Jap would be better yet.

Must close now, so thanks again for the Courier.

Sincerely,

P. S.—Keep those papers coming.

Dear friend Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know I am still in the (censored) and still kicking. It is pretty hot here under the tropical sun. I think just about now I could go to Myers' or the Sugar Bowl and eat them out of ice cream.

I met a fellow on the same island from Petoskey and also one from Cheboygan. The one from Petoskey is Don Krusell. He knows quite a few of my friends from Bay Shore and Charlevoix. We had a nice long talk and it really was swell talking about home with someone who really knows what home is up northern Michigan way. The other fellow was a coast guard boatswain named Ruda.

I hope to receive the Courier soon. Until next time—

Sincerely,

P. S.—I got a swell card from Glenn Rose.

Hi, Kon,

Just a short line to let you know I received the paper and was sure glad to get it. It helps out a lot being able to read about things going on in the home town.

I'm training here at Jefferson Barracks. I'm all through with my basic training and waiting to ship out of here to airplane mechanic school, also to be a mechanic gunner. I haven't much time to write tonight. I'll let you know again how things are going by me.

Since I've been here, I've been a drill master. In plain words, an instructor of a few different groups of men.

The paper comes in very handy, and I'm telling you I was very glad to receive it. Thanks a lot.

It's getting near time for lights out, so I'll close now. Will write you again soon. Thanks again for the paper. My new address is:

Hi, Scoop,

Finally, after roaming nearly all over the globe, I guess I've hit in one place for a while.

I've been over here before, but not to stay for long. But this time it looks like I'll be here for quite a period.

I'd appreciate it very much if you would send my paper here. I met Bob Pearl in New York just before I sailed and we had a nice long visit.

How is the fishing up there? I'm getting some fishing in, but not the kind I'm used to.

I haven't had a paper in a couple of months or more, so if you have any old copies, they would still be news to me. There isn't much I can say about this place, except it's pretty nice but don't compare with the old home town.

Give my regards to everyone, and 'til later I'll sign off. Best of luck and lots of fish.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

A B-25 was taking off somewhere in North Africa. It crashed and burst into flames. Private Eugene A. Ganter rushed forward with three other soldiers to aid the crew. The heat was overwhelming but Ganter and his companions, drenched from the hoses of rescue apparatus, rescued three crew members from the blazing ship. Then Ganter returned to remove loaded 50 caliber machine guns. He won the Soldier's Medal. Such are the men your War Bonds fight beside.

Family Adopts Orphaned Fawn

When a train killed a doe near Harriman Heights, N. Y., recently, "Bambi," a tiny fawn, was orphaned. The family of young Elwood Lewis adopted her, fed her with a medicine dropper, but did not confine her. "Bambi," pictured above, lives in the woods near Elwood's home. She comes out each morning for breakfast and again after school to romp with Elwood.

Help him get a line to home

ABOUT the only time he can get to the telephone is a few short hours in the evening. That's when thousands of other boys in the camps want to use long distance, too.

Any time you are not on the lines, there's a better chance for a soldier's call to get through.

So unless it's urgent, we hope you won't be using long distance from 7 to 10 o'clock at night. Save those hours for the service men.

Saturday night the Life Savers were called to the rescue of the tug Schnoden, in command of Captain Allard, which went on the rocks about 3½ miles north of Charlevoix at 7:30. The Schnoden was on her way from Cross Village with a 20-ton cargo of grain for the Argo Milling Co. when she became lost in the fog. At 11 o'clock the same night, the life saving crew went to the rescue of the Arbutus, Booth Fisheries boat, and took Amos Webster off. Returning from Northport, the boat went aground in the fog off Big Rock Point. Capt. Partridge of the life saving station informs us that no attempt can be made to release the grounded boats until the lake is calm.

The Misses Ruth and Marian Emrey entertained 30 guests at a four-course luncheon Tuesday, announcing their engagements to, respectively, William Donahue, of Hancock, and Leo Carey, of this city.

Marriage licenses issued this week include: Harold E. Jacobs and Gertrude Block, of Charlevoix; Edward B. Gallagher, St. James, and Nora E. Barry, Detroit; Merrill Richardson, of Norwood, and Cora Lord, of Atwood.

The Michigan avenue curbing and sewer is finished and the paving will soon be under way.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," big attraction of the local theatrical season, will be presented at the Charlevoix Theatre this Friday. Featuring the funniest Topsy, the meanest Legree, and a pack of genuine Siberian bloodhounds.

Douglas Nettleton writes from France, that after their arrival at an unnamed port, his outfit took a train which was so light that if it had run off the track a dozen men could have thrown it back on, and so overcrowded that some had to sleep lying across the extended legs of others sitting along the sides of the box cars. He says he won't get paid for several months, as they have lost track of the payroll.

It's a small world! Lt. William Mitchell, with the A. E. F. in France, met a local girl, Miss Eva Cram, Red Cross nurse, in a French town recently. Also, Pvt. Lynn Thomas encountered Loren Hart in a little French town when his company stopped during a march.

Harold Usher has been invalided back to the United States from France, and is at the debarkation hospital on Staten Island, New York.

Charlevoix beat Boyne City at football last Thursday, 21 to 19. (That's twice in 25 years.)

Perhaps some of our readers have noticed in their Sunday jaunts out to the south point or other places along the lake shore, that the waters of Lake Michigan are steadily lowering from year to year, leaving wide stretches of dry flats along the beaches. This is the result of a bare-faced steal—the Chicago drainage canal, which is taking 660,000 gallons of water from the lake daily. (We got it all back this year.)

Supt. Charles H. Hamilton entertained the football squad, coaches, cheer leaders and athletic manager at a chicken dinner Wednesday evening. Toastmaster was Harold Hallett, guests included McMulkin, Austin, Todd, Hamilton, Roe, Swartout, Blakeslee, Jensen, Alexander, Cooper, Bourrissau, Oberlin, Dagwell, Glasgow and Altenburg. Leonard Burns was elected captain for next year's team.

Ralph Hamilton has a position in Indianapolis, Ind., for the winter.

Miss Hilda Byers, who is teaching at the Burgess school, is spending the Thanksgiving week end in Grand Rapids with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kohler.

LEGISLATURE. Reversing the usual procedure, Governor Kelly has formulated the following policy for the 1044 special session of the legislature:

The date of the session will be set AFTER legislative committees complete a tentative outline of the most urgent post-war needs and the state's critical needs for the coming fiscal year, and AFTER members of the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee have agreed upon a budget to fit these needs.

The 1944 session, because of the war emergency, should be streamlined in order to speed up the handling of bills and permit an early return of legislators to their homes. Many legislators are working long hours and lack help to handle their business affairs during a prolonged session at Lansing.

BILLS. The governor's office, aided by legislative leaders and key committees, should prepare tentative drafts of bills. Legislators should have these bills awaiting them upon their arrival in Lansing. Any changes in the bills can be made in the committees and acted upon by the house and senate. Thus, considerable time should be saved for everyone. In fact, a printed outline of pending legislation should be mailed to every legislator well in advance of the first legislative session. Such legislation should be not "Kelly bills" but should reflect the judgment of legislative leaders summoned into deliberations well before the governor issues the call.

LONG RANGE. Post-war needs of the State of Michigan, such as state hospitals, state training schools and state educational institutions, and office buildings in Detroit and Lansing, should be "budgeted" according to a long-range program. Needs should be given priority according to their urgency, and thus the most critical of state building fire hazards might be placed first on the list and given right-of-way for 1944-45.

NO MELON. However, the state's post-war reserve, which Auditor General Vernon J. Brown now estimates will be $50,000,000 by next July 1, should not become a "melon" to be sliced up during the 1944 legislative session. A substantial amount should be retained to meet unforeseen contingencies if they arise in the post-war period.

HEALTH. Health needs of the Detroit metropolitan area, the scene of a race riot last June, should receive recognition in the legislative call. These health needs (which prompted 75,000 or more Negroes to jam Belle Isle on one hot Sunday) should be met by an appropriation to acquire parks and playgrounds in the southeastern counties of Michigan. Emphasis, however, should be on a long-range program.

PLANNING. A focal point in the governor's program is the Michigan Planning commission which is the state's "board of directors" in determining post-war needs and their priorities. For the first time, the state of Michigan now possesses a complete inventory of state property—an accomplishment which should net $50,000 saving each year in building repairs alone. The building committee of the state administrative board is another key agency.

OFFICES. An additional office building in Lansing would save $150,000 a year in rentals. Such a structure, built on functional lines, should permit savings in governmental costs through a possible centralized accounting department for many state agencies. The same thing could be done for a Detroit office building.

CRITICISM. The Detroit Labor News (AFL) has been tossing the harpoon regularly at Governor Kelly. In October it charged by editorial innuendo that Kelly either was catering for support of the Anti-Saloon league or was in league with bootleggers. Reason: Scarcity of liquor. On Nov. 19 the same publication carried this page one headline: "Milk Sought—Gov. Kelly Offers Whiskey". Reason: Scarcity of milk. The shortage of hairpins offers new possibilities. Maybe Kelly can be blamed for that, too.

BEER. The state liquor control commission reports that production of Michigan breweries during October was 21.37 per cent greater than in October, 1942.

FOOD. A subcommittee of the Michigan, food marketing council is working on plans for a statewide advertising program to encourage greater use in Michigan of Michigan food products. Benefits: Relief to war-time transportation through short hauls from farm to Michigan markets; education on quality of Michigan products; better consumer appreciation of Michigan agriculture. A 25 per cent increase in food law violations is reported. Offenders blame shortage of help.

DELINQUENCY. Parents who neglect their children and thus are indirectly responsible for repeated acts of juvenile delinquency would be liable to citation for contempt of court under a plan approved by the Michigan juvenile code study commission at Lansing. The commission also endorsed proposals requiring parents to pay at least half the cost of institutionalizing or caring for offspring they have neglected.

ACCIDENTS. Just as the 1943 rise of hunting accidents has been accredited to war-time nerves, so the experts are forecasting a rise in automobile accidents after the war. The danger is "emotional letdown", announces Maxwell Halsey, executive director of the state safety commission. Halsey said the present 35-mile limit would probably be raised gradually, first to 50.

HELICOPTERS. Inspired by the rapid expansion of aviation in World War II, experts now envision a future for Michigan citizens in which Detroit would become the air center of the world and 85 per cent of the state's population would have access to air travel through helicopters and huge transport planes served by a network of 240 airfields outside of Detroit. Thomas E. Walsh, director of the Michigan Board of Aeronautics, presented the above picture recently in Detroit. Use of aviation will accelerate the population trend from city to outlying suburbs and farms.

The Administration's Subsidy Program

During the past week, as may be expected, I received some telegrams and letters—some rather strongly worded, requesting me to vote for the Administration's subsidy program. In order that my position may be clearly understood by all, I set forth below the reply sent to one of my correspondents:

"Dear Sir:

I acknowledge with thanks your letter of the 22nd urging I cast my vote in favor of subsidies.

The Steagall Bill, extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation, was adopted in the House yesterday by a roll-call of 278 to 117. The large majority of our people seem to feel that the Commodity Credit Corporation should be extended, believing that much of its work has been of a meritorious character. I assume you are among those who would not like to have seen it discontinued and a vote against the Steagall Bill would have discontinued it.

After extensive hearings over a long period of time, the banking and currency committee by a vote of 23 to 3 wrote into the bill a provision which banned the payment of subsidies for the so-called food rollback program after December 31, 1943. No record vote was had on this provision. An effort was made on the floor to wipe out this section banning subsidies and was defeated by a sound majority.

This roll-back program, according to the testimony and debate, admittedly cost eight hundred million dollars last year. It was frankly admitted by the Administration authorities that they expected it to cost one and one-half billion dollars in 1944. The only way any subsidy can ever be paid is out of the United States treasury. The treasury gets its money either from direct taxation or thru the sale of bonds. It is freely admitted by the Secretary of Treasury that it takes three dollars out of the taxpayers' money to eventually retire each dollars worth of bonds. That money comes out of the taxes of the future. Those taxes will be paid in large measure by the boys and girls who are now serving overseas. It was by conscientious opinion that no person in this country today has any right to expect them to pay our grocery bills of today. We are at this very moment debating, and will vote on today, a tax bill for this year to raise an additional two and one-quarter billion dollars. The President had asked for ten billion dollars to meet immediate pressing obligations. The ways and means committee, after extended hearings, conscientiously felt that it absolutely could not find additional sources of revenue that could stand that greater tax load at this time.

In the face of all that, I could not conscientiously vote for a measure which would increase our tax load by another 4½ billion per year, because the only way subsidies can be financed today is through the sale of bonds that our people are going to have to retire some time in the future unless this country is to face complete bankruptcy or revolution. Which would you prefer?

The completely erroneous statement has been advanced by the administration, and apparently swallowed hook, line and sinker by many people, that this subsidy program would prevent inflation. Nothing could be farther from the truth. It induces inflation rather than retards it. Many people seem to have forgotten that almost exactly two years ago, the President—at his request—was given what he then told us was all the power he needed to control inflation through the passage of the Emergency Price Control Act. At that time the congress was asked to order the stabilization of prices of commodities but it was asked to leave the question of wage stabilization in Presidential hands, with his promise that he would stabilize wages. This promise has not been kept. The one way to prevent inflation now or at any other time—and the President has had that authority for a long while—is to freeze prices of everything, wages included." (Letter dated Nov. 24, 1943)

To give you a more detailed idea of the cost of subsidies, let me quote from a radio broadcast which I delivered August 8, 1943, over stations WSOO, Sault Ste. Marie, and WMAM, Marinette, Wisconsin:

"To roll back the price of butter five cents per pound would cost the treasury $90,000,000 and save the consumer 60 cents per year on the price of butter. A roll-back of two cents per pound on meat would cost the treasury around $300,000,000, thereby saving four cents per week or $2.08 per year per individual. A roll-back of two cents per pound on coffee would cost the treasury $100,000,000. This would save the individual 20 cents per year. This according to experts."

trim and Sherman streets? Although we were school kids together, I had almost completely forgotten him until Monday, when I received a letter, along with a Christmas and New Year's greeting from him from "Somewhere in China." Dick wrote, in part, as follows: "These wars are coming too darn often. It is getting a bit monotonous. I saw the last one with the navy, as you probably recall, so thought I'd get a glimpse of this one with the same outfit. My son, Dixon, is also with the outfit and stationed at the Naval Research Laboratory at Washington, but rarin' to come to China with me. The old bunch, Sammy King, Clare Hanshew, King Saanders, Ernie Olney, are all pretty well scattered by now, I suppose. With best wishes to everyone for a fine time during the holidays and better years to come." Dick added a postscript saying that George Hopkins, of Hopkins Beach, at Ensport, is a captain in the air force and a neighbor of his right down the way in India. Dick's letter was a pleasant surprise.

A man who seemed to know what he was talking about told me that a maker of one of the tablets that fizz when you put them in water disliked the Roosevelt administration so much in its early days that he decided to spend all his profits in advertising so he wouldn't have to pay any taxes. The upshot was that his business doubled, tripled, and keeps on growing. His taxes now greatly exceed his total earnings of a few years ago. There's something amusing about this, although I can't say just what it is.

Which events the midst—a pretty face, a shapely figure, or a warm response? They seldom all come in the same package.

I was as persistent deer hunting as Joe Foster, but I didn't have his luck. Joe bagged one over near Springvale last Sunday, I understand. I'll have to wait another year, now, and no doubt will be just as optimistic as ever. And while on the subject of deer hunting, it reminds me that Clarence Heise wants to advertise for a shirt lost while hunting, and that he came home with one suit of long underwear and one sock belonging to an entirely unkown party. With Kit Carson and Frank Bird at home tending their turkeys, the average of the local gang which hunts northeast of Newberry on the Two Heart river sagged badly. Guess I'd better stop there.

Exchange greetings this week with: John J. Woods, MM1c, U. S. navy, Seattle; Bill Bogart, Seabees, Davisville, R. I.; Tom Carey, Seabees, Southwest Pacific; Walter Henley, U. S. navy, Great Lakes, Ill.; James Annis, U. S. Navy, Pacific; Elmer Poole, Jr., U. S. army, Jeffersan Barracks, Mo.; "Bud" Heise, U. S. navy, in England; Clinton C. Howe, U. S. army, Manhattan Beach, Calif.; Benjamin Walker, U. S. army, Shreveport, La.; Harry L. Oldham, U. S. army, Camp Gordon, Ga. Thumbs up, youse guys!

Figures may not lie, but girdles keep a lot of them from telling the truth.

Strange "duel" with a Nazi bomber. The dashing widow of England's native-born Mohammedon noblesman needed only her bicycle to outwit the Luftwaffe one and save a village. Charles Robbins tells of this heroic exploit in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

CUB SCOUTS PACK MEETING TUESDAY

Achievement Awards, Handicraft Displays to Be Featured

A pack meeting of Charlevoix Cub Scouts will be held next Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's recreation center. Everyone is welcome to attend the meeting.

Five dens, with 34 registered cubs, will be represented. Achievement awards will be given at the meeting, which will feature handicraft displays, den stunts, and movies. Parents of prospective cubs—nine year old boys—are especially invited to attend, as well as parents of the cubs.

Cubmaster is Ralph Hamilton; the pack committee is comprised of O. P. North, Glenn See, Chas. Hamlin and Harold Withers. Women who are serving as den mothers are Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Mrs. Ronald Fairbanks, Mrs. L. P. Petersen and Mrs. Raymond Cross.

Den chiefs are William Petersen, Nicholas Hamilton, Bill Carey, Warren Shadko and John Eccleston.

Boys in cub scouting are preparing for their later entry into the Boy Scouts, learning together the essentials of good citizenship and patriotism. Their pledge is "To be square and obey the law of the cub pack."

POSTMASTER GENERAL URGES EARLY MAILING

Send Christmas Gifts by Dec. 10 To Assure Delivery

All Christmas gifts must be mailed before December 10 for delivery before Christmas, warns Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

Because 30,000 postal employees have gone into the army and navy, extra help is not available, and railroads are burdened with war traffic, the only possible way to assure gifts being delivered before Christmas is to mail them now.

People in this city who wish to send packages to Detroit, but think that early mailing is not necessary because of the comparative nearness of that metropolis, are cautioned to send their gifts at once. Package delivery in the city itself is so delayed because of the overburdened post office and branches, that even when packages arrive there the day after mailing from Charlevoix, they may not be delivered for ten days or more.

Mark parcels "Do Not Open Until Christmas," and mail them at once. Earlier shopping is also urged by stores, and will be advantageous to the shopper in these times of retail scarcities and shortages.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Income Tax Meeting Monday, Dec. 6, Charlevoix City Hall

A discussion that will greatly assist farmers in the filing of their income tax returns will be held Monday afternoon, December 6, at 2 o'clock, in the city hall at Charlevoix.

This year practically every farmer in the county must file a declaration of income on or before December 15th if they are on the calendar year basis. If on the March 1st fiscal year period, return must be filed on February 15th, or in other words, the fifteenth day of the last month of your taxable year. It is hoped that this meeting will help answer the many questions that farmers have regarding this year's income tax program.

While Specialist C. O. May can only be in the county for the one date of Monday afternoon, December 6, two other meetings have been arranged for Wednesday and Thursday, December 8 and 9, to assist farmers in other communities in the county. On Wednesday afternoon, December 8, the meeting will be held in the city hall, East Jordan, beginning at 2 o'clock, and on Thursday, December 9 in the city library, Boyne City, also at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

We will have forms to give out and hope to help you in carrying out this new responsibility.

SERVICES SATURDAY FOR L. P. PETERSEN

Killed in Truck-Train Crash at Mulliken Last Wednesday

Funeral services were held Saturday for L. Peter Petersen, 46, who was killed last Wednesday morning when his truck was hit by a train at Mulliken, near Lansing.

Born near Copenhagen, Denmark, September 8, 1897, Mr. Petersen came to this country with his parents when he was three years old. After several years of residence at Sidney, Mich., he came to East Jordan. For 10 years he was employed as lineman for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. He was married to Mildred Best, of Charlevoix, at Cadillac, on July 6, 1929, and they have made their home in this city since then.

Mr. Petersen was hauling gravel for the Battle Creek Sand and Gravel Co., and was driving his own truck to work when struck by a Pere Merquette freight train at the Mulliken crossing. He had been working in southern Michigan for two months, but had been employed at this location only two days.

Surviving are his widow, two sons, William and Larry; three brothers, Rue, of Plainwell, John and Chris, of Detroit.

Rev. Donald R. Evans officiated at funeral services at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the See Funeral Home. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

COMMUNICATION

Mrs. Clara Nowland Holmes, a former Charlevoix resident who lives in Everett, Wash., was among speakers at a recent meeting of the Writers' Forum in Everett. She read a chapter from her book, "Return at Twilight." Her interesting letter follows:

Dear Ken,

I do not know if this will be of interest to you or not, but I am enclosing a write-up that was in several papers out here. This was in the Seattle Post-Independent, November 21.

I got my first writing ambition in the Courier office, where I worked for a short time in 1922. While I have had many short stories and articles accepted by Psychology, Street and Smith's, etc., this ("Return at Twilight") is the first book I have written, although I have another started now. This book I got the material for when I was in France in 1934.

As you know, I am the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nowland, and sister to Mrs. Joe Maore, Mrs. John Zeitler and Frank Nowland.

Perhaps it would be of interest to some of your readers if at this time I add a little news from out here, of old Charlevoix people, also to say that anyone, soldiers or old friends, may call on me and I can get them in touch with many people from Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNally are still taking the Courier after many years of living out here. They pass it on to the rest of us.

Reta LeMaster, who is the daughter of Sandy Shearer, still likes to read the old home town paper, and looks up anyone from there that she can.

Wallace Whitford is alive and hearty although he is 87 years of age. He has pictures of the deer hunting days in and around Charlevoix when it was really worth while to hunt. He is well known there, as the son of Charles Whitford, who had the lumber mills on Pine lake. His wife was a Smith girl from Undine. He has five grandsons overseas in this war.

Mabel Gillman and Marian Maydowell, sisters of Mrs. Kate Blork, run a rest home for old or ailing people in Bellingham, Wash.

Mrs. Hazen Whitford, whom I just met at a large gathering of Charlevoix people, is the sister of Mrs. Claude Bowen from out of Charlevoix. She says to say hello for her to her friends and relatives back there.

There are many more I could tell you about if you care to hear. Let me know.

Sincerely,
Clara Holmes

navy officer who was interviewing me, I was proud as a peacock at the honor."

The next evening he sailed out of an unnamed harbor, picking a perilous channel among the masts of sunken ships, where the trick was to sail between masts of different ships, not two masts of the same one. Leaving that port with six Nazis bombers as escorts—giving his craft their undivided attention—the ship unloaded at Sicily during an air raid the following night. That was how, Lt. Hellman says, in two easy lessons, he learned in a hurry how his new ship handled.

"Handling motor lifeboats in some of those mid-winter blizzards on the Great Lakes was great training for my present job," he says. "A fellow soon learns how to make quick decisions and how to maneuver under the foulest circumstances when stuck out on those lakes with ice fields closing in . . . There are lots of coast guardsmen in this area and, as usual, they are doing a good job, many of them in crews of the LCI's and LST's. A couple of weeks ago a boxing program was presented in Oran, Algeria, with men from all the services taking part. The coast guard cleaned house! The results were four victories, one draw and one defeat. This was quite a surprise to some of the people, for, by the news reports, a lot of them didn't even know there were any coast guardsmen over here."

RECORD OF THE COUNCIL

NOVEMBER 29, 1943

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Alderman Wood presiding. Aldermen present: Goss, Nettleton, Ochs and Wood.

Aldermen absent: Bellinger and Hooker.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

(43-94) Payroll Approved.

The finance committee having examined bills aggregating $5,926.97, find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Ochs, seconded by Alderman Goss, that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. Motion carried by the following yea and nay vote:

Yeas: Aldermen Goss, Nettleton, Ochs and Wood.

Nays: None.

Absent: Bellinger and Hooker.

(43-95) Agreement with Weather Bureau for Electric Service Approved.

Moved by Alderman Ochs, seconded by Alderman Goss, that the Mayor and Clerk, on behalf of the City of Charlevoix, be authorized to enter into the proposal for public utility service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944, and thereafter until further notice, with the U. S. Weather Bureau. Motion carried.

(43-96) Resolution to the Family of Ensign Lee C. Hiller.

Alderman Ochs offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, seconded by Alderman Goss:

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that whereas the death of Lee Christian Hiller while in the performance of his duty with the armed forces of the United States of America, has taken from the city, one of its finest young men, who, the citizens of Charlevoix knew, would render whole-hearted, honest and honorable service to his country in its fight for the freedom of the people of the world, and for which his service has been cut short while he was yet in the prime of life, bringing home to the citizens of Charlevoix in one sharp blow the seriousness of the conflict being waged;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Council, on behalf of the citizens of Charlevoix, express to the bereaved family our honest and sincere sorrow and sense of deep loss in the death of their son and brother; and that we further convey our heartfelt sympathy and consolation to them in their hour of darkness.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family of the deceased. Adopted by unanimous vote of the Council on this 29th day of November, A. D. 1943.

On motion the council adjourned.

WAR FUND ORIVE IN FINAL WEEK

BEAVER ISLAND REPORTS SURPASSING QUOTA

Salvation Army Will Get $1,000 of Charlevoix County Funds; Summer Residents Donate

Beaver Island is the first district of Charlevoix county to report reaching and passing its quota in the National War Fund drive, which has been extended to December 15 because other areas of the county have failed to meet their quotas.

With a goal of $293, the Islanders Friday reported collections of $295. The committee which was active in attaining this goal was composed of Earl Boyle, chairman, Vernon H. Lafreniere, Lloyd McDonough, Gus Mielke and F. D. O'Donnell.

Contributions in Charlevoix amounted to $1,565 at noon Wednesday, just $1,200 short of the goal set for this city. Robert Bridge, local chairman, is expected to enlist aid of Kiwanis Club members to make a final effort to raise this amount. It is planned to make a long-delayed house-to-house canvass, as well as to complete solicitation in the business district.

Contrary to last week's news article in this paper, the Salvation Army is one of the beneficiaries of the campaign. In this county alone, $1,000 of the county quota of $10,000 is earmarked for that organization, whose bonneted lasses are such a familiar sight wherever there is charitable work to be done.

Another $1,000 of Charlevoix county funds will go to the Boy Scout organization. Remainder of the contributions is for the United Service Organizations and 16 other war relief agencies serving humanity all over the world.

Last week's feather party given by the American Legion resulted in a donation of $45.89 to the fund. Many contributions have come from Charlevoix summer residents, whose loyalty and generosity has been a material aid in putting over many local fund-raising drives.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY IS THURSDAY NIGHT

"The Phantom Bells" Is Mystery Comedy in Three Acts

Seniors of Charlevoix high school have completed rehearsals for the three-act mystery comedy, "The Phantom Bells", to be presented at the gymnasium Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

A matinee performance Wednesday afternoon for grade students previewed an enjoyable evening for those who attend the Thursday night presentation.

With Helen Jeanne Hammond and Don Bellinger in the leading roles, the cast includes Elaine Edwards, Beverly Fisher, Bob Belfy, Lois Walstad, Hubert Olach, Don Hoss, Susie Miller and Virginia Young. Miss Nellie Smith is directing the play, while Otto Harvey is in charge of the stage settings and spectacular sound effects.

APPOINT NEW WAR SERVICE CHAIRMAN

Boyne City Man Picked for Post by County Defense Council

Charles F. Dunnette, of Boyne City, has been appointed civilian war service chairman for Charlevoix county by the county defense council.

Captain Donald S. Leonard, Michigan director of civilian defense, in a letter to Floyd A. Supp, county defense council chairman, commenting on the appointment, said: "It is especially pleasing to know that you have made so excellent a choice as Mr. Dunnette. From my previous acquaintance with him, I am sure that he will carry out the duties of this important post in a very satisfactory manner."

Prior to coming to Boyne City and engaging in the oil and gasoline business, Mr. Dunnette was a member of the Dearborn, Mich., police department and actively organized the war protective services there.

FIFTH PURPLE HEART AWARD

MELVIN PLUM WOUNDED IN MEDITERRANEAN ACTION

One of Three Brothers in Navy; Five Local Service Men Now Decorated for Wounds

Melvin Plum, 21, fireman first class, United States navy, has been decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds received in action, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Helen Plum.

He was wounded by shrapnel in action somewhere in the Mediterranean in August, shortly after the invasion of Sicily, in which he had taken part.

After a month in an American base hospital in north Africa, Melvin was discharged only to discover that his ship had left port. Immediately he was put aboard a vessel of the English fleet and was temporarily considered a "limey" until he was able to rejoin his ship in the Mediterranean some time in October.

Although the letter telling of his decoration was written from north Africa, Mrs. Plum believes her son has since been transferred to another scene of action. His promotion to fireman first class, from fireman second class, was received but a short time ago.

Melvin enlisted in the navy in August, 1942, and went overseas in April, 1943. Another brother, Leroy, is with the navy in the Pacific, while Calvin, youngest of the three sailor brothers, is now presumed to be in the Pacific also.

Melvin is the fifth Charlevoix man to be decorated with the Purple Heart in recent months. Others were Cpl. Frank Pap, Jr., army infantry; Sgt. Raymond J. Nowland, Jr., marine corps; John J. Woods, machinists mate first class, navy; and Carl Beattie, musician first class, navy.

Women's Guild Meeting

The Congregational Women's Guild will meet next Wednesday, December 15, at 2:30 p. m., in the church. A Christmas program will be presented under direction of Mrs. A. F. Novotny, and officers will be elected for the ensuing year. The Margaret Parker Circle will be hostesses.

U. S. Marines Win First Round on Bougainville

United States marines are shown as they battled their way through vicious Japanese defense tactics to form a six-mile-long beachhead on Bougainville Island in the South Pacific. Left: As marines take to landing barges smoke is seen rising from Jap installations. Top Inset: Tired marines drink water and rest behind a Jap pillbox. Right: Trees on Bougainville are stripped of leaves and branches by intensive bombardment.

PUBLISH MICHIGAN FISH LAW DIGEST

New Regulations Govern Public Fishing Sites, Ice Shanties

A new feature of the 1944 Michigan Fish Law Digest, just published by the state conservation department, is the listing of rules and regulations governing the use of public fishing sites. Fishermen who do their angling on the 188 public sites purchased with funds provided by law from resident fishing license fees will find this list a handy guide to the regulations.

The 1944 digest also gives a summary of the new law, in effect this year for the first time, concerning ice shanties, houses and shelters. The law states that all structures placed on the ice and left unattended must have the name and address of the owner on the outside in legible letters at least 2 inches high. Also required is that all structures must be removed before ice conditions become unsafe or within 30 days after the ice melts.

The Fish Law Digest is sent out with fishing licenses or may be obtained from the conservation department.

PARK ATTENDANCE LOW DURING 1943 SEASON

Dropped to Almost Half of 1942; Few Out-of-State Campers

That travel difficulties have severely affected the popular American recreation of camping and picnicking is shown by the drop in attendance at state parks during the 1943 season, the first summer of gas rationing.

Attendance this year was only 3,041,588, the lowest on record and a drop of over three and a half million from the 1942 attendance when 7,513,000 people enjoyed the state parks.

Only 9,689 camping permits for both trailers and tents were issued in contrast to 23,486 in the 1942 camping season and 51,131 in 1938 which was the peak camping year.

Practically no out-state campers, who usually make up approximately 15 per cent of the total park attendance, were able to reach Michigan state parks in the 1943 season, conservation figures show.

RATION POINTS GIVEN FOR HOUSEHOLD FATS

Materials Needed to Make Sulfa Drugs and Explosives

Beginning next Monday, December 13, housewives will get one brown ration point for each half-pound of salvage kitchen fat they sell to butchers.

Bonus coupons may be used for any commodity rationed with brown points. Points will not be given for small quantities or for any fraction above each even half-pound. In addition to points, the housewife will receive the old price of four cents a pound for turned-in fats.

The deal, designed to boost collection of materials required to make explosives and sulfa drugs, applies only to householders and operators of boarding houses with fewer than 50 residents.

SON OF FORMER LOCAL RESIDENTS IS MISSING

Lt. C. Robert Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thomas, of St. Petersburg, Fla., has been missing in action in the south Pacific area since November 2, according to word received by local friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were formerly residents of this city. Army air forces B-25 pilot, Lt. Thomas had been overseas since the first of August.

BEAVER ISLAND AIRPORT OPENS

THOMAS WALSH IN FIRST PLANE TO LAND

May Use Pellston As Mainland Terminus of Island Route; Bids Being Received

First plane to land on Beaver Island's recently completed airport last Thursday brought Thomas Walsh, of Grand Rapids, state director of aeronautics, to the island. Landing at noon, the plane returned to Grand Rapids the same day. With Walsh were D. E. Mollenkopf, pilot, and Paul C. Miller, co-pilot.

Built for emergency use when the winter mail plane cannot land on the ice of St. James harbor, the field is designated a class 3 airport. It was started with an appropriation of $1,500 by the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, $1,000 raised by the islanders themselves, and $2,500 contributed by the state of Michigan. Since then, additional funds have been appropriated by the state for completion of the field.

At present, the airport has three runways 500 feet wide and 3500 feet long, and can be enlarged to a mile in length if necessary. Plans are being made to construct a cement block hangar. Island residents provided volunteer labor to build the airport, and will maintain it. Last week a four and one-quarter ton roller was taken to the island on the motorship Mary Margaret, to be used in leveling the field.

Charlevoix may not be the mainland terminus of the island air route, as some of the bids now being received are based on flying time from the Pellston airport. Inasmuch as the office of the Charlevoix-Beaver Island Transportation Co. is located in this city, it may prove an inconvenience to route passengers and freight thru Emmet county. However, unless a suitable airport is provided here, it appears possible that the mail contract may be let to some bidder using Pellston as a base.

Present government regulations require a two or three-motor plane

FIRST CHRISTMAS SEAL PURCHASERS

Michigan a Danger Spot for TB, Says Association Treasurer

"Early birds" in the 1943 Christmas seal sale in Charlevoix are reported by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association of Lansing to be the following ten:

Charlevoix County State Bank, Peter H. Timmer, Lowell L. Merica Taxi Cab, Harry Bloch, Walter F. Conklin, Miss Marie L. Heaton, James J. Reis, Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., M. A. Levinson & Co., Edwards Florist.

Unsolicited advance sale of seals has topped everything in the association's history, reports Harry Bennett, of Lansing, treasurer. Michigan is one of the danger spots for tuberculosis because of the concentration of war industries in the state, so a ten per cent increase in seal sales is needed to take care of the expected increase in tuberculosis cases.

All-wool hand knits for baby's Christmas gift, or shower gifts. On sale by Mary Burns Circle, Congregational church. Inquire Mrs. Robert Miles.—Adv. 49t1.

COUNTY POST-WAR PLANNING SESSION

Meeting of 40 County Leaders in Boyne City, Tuesday

B. C. Mellencamp, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, called together 40 men representing the county's business and rural life, at Boyne City on Tuesday, December 7, to discuss post-war problems.

Following luncheon at the Dilworth hotel, the afternoon was spent in exchanging open forum ideas on zoning, unemployment, road and building projects for the betterment of the county's future. Dr. L. A. Wolfanger, Michigan State College specialist in land use, explained what has transpired thus far in zoning in townships and counties of Michigan, and plans for the future.

Attending from Charlevoix were Robert Bridge, J. F. Sculder, A. L. Livingston, Fenton R. Bulow, O. P. North, Clarence B. Meggison, Fred Willis, Lige O'Brien, Frank Fouchard, Arlo Wickersham, Howard Stephens, A. J. Belhuis, William K. Straw, Orton Van Dusen, L. E. McGhan and Clinton Blanchard.

RED CROSS SURGICAL DRESSINGS FINISHED

Work Room Will Be Closed Until After Christmas Holidays

Work was completed Tuesday on 5,250 Red Cross surgical dressings at the city hall work room. As this comprises the November-December quota, the room will be closed until after Christmas.

Those who made dressings during the past week were: Mrs. Peter Tapovic, Mrs. N. A. Tillotson, Mrs. Arthur Edwards, Mrs. Luther Hannah, Mrs. R. L. Lewis, Mrs. Gertrude Dick, Mrs. Will Supernaw, Mrs. A. W. Goddard, Mrs. F. E. Cartier, Mrs. Allen Campbell, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mrs. O. P. North, Mrs. F. F. McMillan, Mrs. Jeff Novotny, Mrs. George Jardine, Mrs. George Meggison, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, Mrs. A. B. Saltonstall, Mrs. Frank Supernaw, Mrs. Leo Carey, Mrs. W. E. Goss, Mrs. A. WILD ANIMALS ADD TO WARTIME FOOD SUPPLY

Hunters Could Supplement Diet by One Million Pounds

Approximately a million pounds of meat could be added to Michigan's ration if modern consumers followed their pioneer ancestors' example of eating meat of wild animals killed for sport or fur, according to state conservation department game men.

Over 500,000 pounds of muskrat alone could be used to supplement the wartime food supply and could be made into delicious dishes as many connoisseurs who have already made use of the "marsh rabbit" will testify. 'Possum, woodchuck and raccoon also have their supporters among consumers who have taken advantage of this source of meat.

NEW PLAN FOR USE TRUCK GAS COUPONS

Serial Number System to Combat Black Market Operations

A change in usage of the new "T" gasoline ration coupons after January 1 has been announced by the local war price and rationing board.

Serially numbered coupons, valued at 5 gallons each, will be issued to truckers on the basis of need as certified on the certificate of war necessity issued to the truck owner by the office of defense transportation.

In making this change, the truck operator is not required to fill out further applications or forms, but must mail or present to the board his master fleet certificate or single certificate, not later than December 15.

The new set-up is designed to enable OPA to trace all gasoline coupons from the time of issuance until cancellation, which will prove effective against black market operations.

COLLECT WASTE PAPER SATURDAY

"EVERY SCRAP COUNTS" IS SLOGAN OF DRIVE

Paper An Indispensable Material of War; Boy Scouts and USO Will Benefit from Sale

Charlevoix citizens will have a chance to provide one of the indispensable raw materials of war—waste paper—during the city-wide collection scheduled for this Saturday, December 11.

Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman, asks housewives to put their scrap paper on the curb in front of their homes early Saturday, as the pick-up by city trucks and Boy Scouts will begin at 9 o'clock.

Paper should be bundled or in containers. Brown paper bags and wrapping paper, cardboard and corrugated board are particularly needed in this drive, but almost every other type of paper is playing an important part in the war.

Proceeds from the sale of the paper will go to the Boy Scouts and United Service Organizations, Mr. Emrey stated. So a pile of waste paper can serve a double purpose—to feed the nation's mills whose stock piles are running low, and to provide funds for these two patriotic organizations.

The waste paper drive is national, to combat a national crisis. To back up American fighting forces there must be a constant flow of supplies involving more than 700,000 different items. In each and every one of them paper is a factor, either as a protective material or as a wrapper or container. In strictly military uses, more than 600,000 tons of paper are consumed every month. The monthly collection of waste paper has been 500,000 tons—so an acute shortage has developed.

RAYDERS LOSE OPENING GAME

PETOSKEY IS VICTOR BY 37 to 20 SCORE

Kipmen Meet Harbor Springs on Harbor Court Friday Night for Second Cage Tilt

Charlevoix's Red Rayders dropped their first basketball game of the season to Petoskey Friday night, losing 37 to 20 on the home court.

While Coach Ray Kipke's tossers defeated the Northmen twice last year, the class B outfit had already proved themselves a winning combination this season by defeating Boyne City the previous week.

The Rayders made a good start, tying the score 7 to 7 in the first period. During the second quarter Petoskey pulled away to a lead which the locals were not able to overcome. Scoring 18 points in the second stanza while holding the locals to 6 points, the Northmen led 25 to 13 at the half. Petoskey tallied 10 points to the Rayders' 4 during the third period, making the count 35 to 17. Charlevoix rallied in the final quarter and held Petoskey to a single field goal, but added only 3 points to their own score.

Charlevoix made good on 8 of their 15 chances for free throws, while Petoskey connected on only 5 out of 12 attempts.

Bellinger, forward and captain, led Rayder scoring with 10 points. Chambers, guard, marked up 5, Hardy 4, Ward 4. Harbaugh was high man for Petoskey with 17 points, Cooper and Tousaln each scored 7, Maylunk 6. Coach Kipke used 8 men during the game.

In the preliminary, Petoskey's reserves defeated Charlevoix's second stringers 33 to 21. Benuet led the local team in scoring, making 8 points. V. Olack and North each tallied 5, Martin 2, A. Bergmann 1.

The Rayders will play their next game away from home, meeting Harbor Springs on the Harbor floor next Friday night.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM BY GRADE STUDENTS

At Gymnasium Thursday, Dec. 16; Vacation Dates Announced

Students of Charlevoix grade school will present a Christmas program next Thursday evening, December 16, at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium, to which the public is invited.

The program will feature musical numbers by grade students, under direction of Earl E. Beach, band director. Full details of the entertainment will be announced next week.

Christmas vacation in Charlevoix schools will begin at the closing of school on Friday, December 17. Classes will resume Monday, January 3, announces Supt. O. P. North.

Extension Club to Meet

The Charlevoix Extension club will meet Friday afternoon, December 10, at 2 o'clock, for the second lesson of the year. Lesson will be on "Remodeled furniture." Members are asked to bring notebook and pencil.

Guess from the way the boys talk, not one-tenth of the bucks in the near vicinity of Charlevoix were killed during the hunting season. Heard one fellow say, "They're just too darn smart to get out where you can throw hot lead at 'em." Well, that's a good thing, too, for next year when we probably won't have gas or tires, and maybe not even a car to use, we can go out afoot after those bucks close by. Beaver Island held its reputation as one of the best buck producing areas in the state. "Cap" Allers says his boat brought back 61 bucks, Bill Wallace's boat fetched two and there must have been quite a few killed and kept on the island. Figuring around 200 hunters, that's about 1-in-3, which is better than the state average.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

I am sure getting to see a lot of this country while I am in the army. I am writing this letter from the Lone Star state of Texas. And what a state!

After forming a new squadron in Florida, we shipped down here for another phase in our training. We have a pretty nice base. It is a new field and we are the only outfit on it. So we have everything pretty much to ourselves.

Our base is a stopping off place for planes flying across country, so we get to see a lot of different kinds of planes. Most of them are navy planes. Some of those navy pilots sure know how to fly an airplane, they make them do everything but talk. I can see why they are doing such a good job in the south Pacific.

It sure doesn't seem like December down here. The only time it gets cold is at night and early in the morning. I doubt if it will snow here all winter. Boy, I sure would like to see some of the snow that you'll have up there.

I guess I had better close this letter and let someone else use the typewriter. You will have to correct some of these errors for me again. I want to thank you for the Couriers I have received in the past, and if you will, please send it to my new address. So long for now, and a merry Christmas to you and your family.

As ever,
"Monk."

Who Owns the Railroads?

BIG BANKERS? With white ribbing on their vests? And heavy loops of gold watch chain?

Guess again! Think of a small brick house in a whole row of brick houses in a large city in Ohio or Illinois. Think of a large stone mansion on a Pennsylvania hillside, a place for old folks to go to when they're left alone in the world. Think of hospitals in Indiana and Wisconsin, colleges in Virginia and Washington, insurance companies in New York, and Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Think of a cross-section of American life. Now you're getting warm. If ever there was a public property—in the sense of widespread ownership—it's our American railroads.

Here are the facts about a typical railroad—the Chesapeake and Ohio.

275,083 shares of its stock are owned by colleges, hospitals, churches, charitable institutions and insurance companies.

40,496 of its common stockholders own 50 shares or less. These represent approximately 70 per cent of the total common stockholders.

These people live in every state of the union and in its territories. They come from nearly every walk of life, and include employees of the road, teachers, lawyers, business men, stenographers, farmers, men in the Army and Navy—people who live "just around the corner" from you.

In some countries the people have not been enterprising enough to build and maintain their own railroads. And the government has had to do it for them. With us the citizen and not the state has been the force behind our railroads. We have preferred the progress that comes from free competition to the stagnation that accompanies political patronage and bureaucracy.

This system has worked. In the face of the greatest emergency ever to strike this country, the railroads of America have proved more able than ever before to meet the task imposed on them. With consideration for their welfare in the future, they will meet post-war tasks in the same way.

In short, the railroads could be in no better hands than in the hands of the American people. For they, in the long run, must be served.

POOR LADY! This morning she got a call for Ben's Men's Haberdashery. And yesterday one for Larry's Bowling Alley. Judging from the piece of her mind she gave the last caller, her peace of mind is definitely disturbed. Unfortunately, mix-ups like these are bound to occur when people trust to memory in calling telephone numbers. Even more unfortunately, a wrong number means an extra call on the already overburdened telephone system to correct the mistake. You will get fewer wrong numbers—and every one will benefit—if you will follow these practices:

1 If you are not absolutely sure of a number, check it in your telephone directory.

2 If you compile and use your own telephone list, go over it once in a while and eliminate obsolete numbers . . . write in the correct ones.

Your Car's Life Can Be

STRETCHED FIFTY PERCENT

The engineers who build America's automobiles say proper care can stretch car life fifty percent. Yes, ten simple rules will do the job. And high on their list is the choice of suitable winter motor oils and greases. Proper lubrication, these experts explain, reduces friction, avoids unnecessary engine wear, makes cars start and run easier. Knowing this, millions of motorists prefer high-quality Mobiloil, the world's largest-selling motor oil.

Mobiloil Arctic gives exceptional lubrication, guarding every vital engine surface with a tough, protective film at all times -- even during cold starts and fast warm-ups. Mobiloil is refined for extra purity, too, and thus resists dangerous carbon and sludge formation. Such impurities can gum up your engine, make it harder to start and run -- and even do a lot of damage. So, for the safe, dependable winter lubrication you need to make your car last, ask for Mobiloil Arctic.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Michigan continues to hold the national spotlight in today's home front battle against inflation.

First it was Prentiss M. Brown who sponsored the price-fixing bill for the administration while he was a member of the United States Senate. Brown is an able man, and his rise to leadership is proof of his talents. But when he ran for reelection, he was defeated by the Michigan farmer.

Then Brown became the nation's price administrator. Fixing and controlling prices when the national income is almost twice, and fixing the value of all available merchandise is a tough job at its very best. Brown knew it. He said "No" to the President repeatedly until he finally submitted to the appointment on the war-time responsibility of obeying our commander-in-chief. And with the aid of selective subsidies, he was moderately successful in "holding the line" for three or four months and thus keeping the cost of living from further rises of the inflation spiral.

In the meanwhile, the Michigan farm revolt which resulted in Brown's defeat at the 1942 polls has continued—and, in fact, has actually increased in intensity. The gap between farmer and war worker has widened. This is interesting for a state which has received a greater percentage of government war contracts than any other state in the nation. It merely reflects the extreme difficulty which Governor Kelly experiences in trying to deal with both farm and labor groups on matters of this kind. The milk situation was a recent illustration.

This widening gap between farm and city labor has been due, perhaps for one reason more than any other, to the conviction of the farmer that the administration has been following an easy wage policy with respect to labor, while being unwilling to give the same favored treatment to the farmer. That industrial wages have risen far beyond the cost of living prices and far beyond the comparative earnings of the farmer is the firmly held belief of the average Michigan farmer today. The city workman, paying perhaps 70 cents a dozen for fresh eggs, forgets that the farmer may receive only about one-half of this amount despite high feed costs.

Also to illustrate how complex this inflation problem has become, the action of the House at Washington in defeating food subsidies is being interpreted by competent observers there as a coalition protest by southern Democrats and northern Republicans against a fourth term. And there you have the emotional situation of politics eclipsing economics—a negative action that bares the basic problem of inflation still unsolved. Responsibility for the partisan vote can be argued indefinitely, like which came first—the chicken or the egg?

The farmers' revolt, based chiefly on a belief of economic inequality, has come a congressional about-face on a 1944 political issue. That food subsidies are inflationary to the degree that they are financed by the U. S. Treasury and hence are payable out of taxes of some kind, tomorrow or a 100 years from now, there can be no question. That the removal of food subsidies would start a rise of food prices that would lead inevitably to higher wages for the city war worker is also conceded. And that the middle-class—the so-called white collar folk—would be hurt worst of all is also generally admitted. Try to reconcile these statements!

What then is the solution — if any?

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who enjoys a national reputation for sound leadership, believes that the basic trouble lies in the Washington policy of trying to control wages by Presidential directives and prices by legislative restrictions. The two are like oil and water—they won't mix and won't work.

Senator Vandenberg is of the opinion that we should follow the example of England and Canada in linking together wages and prices, even at this late hour in a war that for us has gone more than two years. If the Administration were required to hold wages along with prices, then the John L. Lewis type of irresponsible labor leader—and he is in a minority — could be restrained from raiding the consumer's pocketbook in the form of higher coal prices that have already followed the granting of higher wages to the coal miners. Then the cost of living could be stabilized thru limited and selective food subsidies, and the expense of these subsidies would be far less than the cost of higher prices which become, in reality, hidden tax. And since the government itself is the greatest consumer of commodities today—food or munitions—the public would ultimately benefit through a brake on the national indebtedness. So goes the logic.

"Cost-plus has made the manufacturer inclined to be indifferent. If the government grants higher wages, the extra production cost doesn't come out of his pocket—the government pays it. The higher the costs, the higher the profits—except for the profits reclaimed through excess profit tax or renegotiation.

This combination of cost-plus profits and wages—one being dependent upon the other in an endless cycle—is another invitation to inflation, and is probably one of the prices we must pay in conducting the hazardous business of a war.

Senator Vandenberg has pointed out that inflation is the deadliest menace today on our home front. He warns that unless something is done at Washington with wisdom and courage—putting national interests ahead of selfish interests—a lot of Americans are going to be badly hurt when inflation gets out of control.

We are inclined to believe that Vandenberg has something worth thinking about. The Michigan senator may have the answer.

The Blue Star indicates service in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps within the boundaries of the United States.

The Silver Star denotes service outside the continental United States, either on the high seas, in the United States possessions, or on foreign soil.

The Gold Star is America's tribute to those who make the supreme sacrifice under the Stars and Stripes in time of war.

You are entitled to display the proper star for each member of your family serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America. For example, if you are the parent of one boy in camp in the U.S.A., you are entitled to one Blue Star. If you have two sons in service—one in the U.S.A. and one outside the U.S.A.—you are entitled to a Service Star card bearing one Blue Star and one Silver Star.

WINNER PURPLE HEART ADVANCED TO SERGEANT

Raymond J. Nawland, U. S. marine corps, has been promoted from corporal to sergeant, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nowland, of Bay City and Charlevoix. Serving in the south Pacific area, he was recently decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart for wounds received in action at Guadalcanal in 1942.

LETTERS FROM THE ARMY CAMPS

lucky ones can turn up their nose at the local butchers for awhile. I hope you are one of them.

If I had my choice in choosing a place to live, I know it wouldn't be this neck of the woods. You can give me the "good ole north" anytime, and as soon as this war has finally come to and end, you won't see me for all the dust I will raise, because I'll be heading north mighty fast.

I sure welcome the good old home town paper and I've been getting it right on time except lately I've been moving around quite a bit. I hope to be here for some time and I sure would appreciate it if you would send it to me here.

I will have to close and get to work now because I see my boss, the old man coming my way, and I know he has something special for me to do.

I will write again soon and let you know what my new address will be.

I want to thank everyone concerned that keeps us posted on the home town news.

Dear Ken,

It's about time I crawled out of the grass hut and shook off the hula gals long enough to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

This is my only means of thanking you and the people of Charlevoix for the Courier. Thanks a million.

I'm looking forward to the day when I can walk into your office and tell you to stop sending it to this address.

Until that day—the best of luck.

Sgt. Charles Cellner.

Dear Ken:

I have been receiving the paper and it sure is appreciated. I look forward to getting it every week so as to see what is going on back home. I hope that you will continue to send it to me at my new address. I will put it at the close of my letter.

We are now at Camp Sun Luis Obispo, Calif., and it sure is a swell place. This is the first time we have been in barracks in almost a year. The scenery here is quite beautiful, for we are surrounded by mountains. The sun is very late in rising in the morning because of this, but it is still a pleasure to be in barracks once again. We have everything here that we want—theaters, field house, churches, amphitheater and service clubs and post exchanges—so there is really very little that we could ask for.

Thanking you once again, I remain

Yours truly,
Pfc. Thurlow McLellan.

Dear Ken,

I am not trying to write a weekly column, but it seems we get moved around quite often and I do like to get the H. T. paper as soon as possible. If all the transfers were like this one, it would be swell to stay in the service from now on.

Dunedin is only four miles from Clearwater. Kellogg, from Battle Creek, has turned his winter home over to the marines and we have quarters there. We have a dock in the front yard and the fishing is very good. It has been a little cold for swimming, but I have been playing a little golf. I really never expected to get a break like this when I joined the marines.

I expect to be here until the first of February, so if anyone from Charlevoix gets down this way I would sure appreciate a call. I get off each afternoon at four and do have a little studying to do each nite, but could always find time for anyone from home.

Before closing I want to mention the nice card I received from Glenn Rose and the Christmas greeting from the Kiwanis. It was swell to know that you are all thinking of us. I would gladly change this Florida sunshine and war training for a snow shovel and peace in good old Charlevoix.

As ever,
Willinm Foster.

Dear Ken,

We have two weeks of "boot" training in. Our platoon has the highest rating of any in this area for drilling and cleanliness, both in person and barracks. We are coming through with flying colors and are supposed to be out of detention the 16th of December and break "boot" the 27th. However, I think we'll break "boot" by the 22nd so most married men will be home for Christmas.

I got in touch with Holland Dutton here, a former Charlevoix boy, and am trying to contnct some of the others.

Best of the season's greetings to all the folks in Charlevoix and to our other pals in the service.

Yours in service,
Clarence C. McCnlmon.

Dear Ken,

Another change in address. After due consideration, they put us back here in Texas, and not that I mean to run competition with the Texas chamber of commerce, but Louisiana was never like this!

Incidentally, I ran into Lyle Miles while I was on maneuvers in Louisiana, and we had quite a time battin' the breeze back and forth. Seemed good to see an old buddy again.

Time's a-wastin', so I'll close with my new address.

Dear Sir,

Just a few lines to let you know I have been getting the Courier right along and I enjoy it, as there is nothing like some home news after a fellow has been away for a while.

I am giving you my new address, as I would appreciate the continuance of the Courier. I'm not the only one that enjoys the paper aboard my ship, as my shipmates like to read it also.

It's about time to turn in, so thanks again for sending me the Courier.

Yours truly,
Keith Ager,
U. S. Navy

Hi, Ken,

Just a line or two today to let you know I'm receiving the paper regularly and certainly glad to get it. Also received a message of greetings for Christmas already, from the Kiwanis Club.

I am in the best of health, and getting fat. I have a rather soft job now, working in a P. X. But the heck of it is the job is not going to last, as we're moving to a new camp in Kansas. So if you don't mind, I'd like to have you send the paper to this address:

Pfc. Guy J. John

Hope to be there the first week in December. I'll see you soon, I hope. As ever, I remain.

Dear Ken,

One letter always follows another, but not always so soon. It is a simple reason, though—just another change of address. We're on the move. I should have written before I left Rhode Island, but somehow passed it up. Anyway, here I am somewhere in Mississippi, and from what I've seen of it since we got here last night, I don't think I'm going to like it as well.

However, it is a nice new camp and nice barracks, but it just won't match up with Camp Endicott. We're scheduled to move on to California, but it is a matter of time, so I will give you my address here.

Dear Ken,

I'm sorry I haven't written again before this, but I find very little time to do any letter writing.

It seems as though I'm on extra duty too often. Three weeks ago I was on KP for the first time since I've been in the army. That is what I call a very good streak of luck, don't you?

I got up as far as Traverse City on my furlough last month, but my time was too short for me to go any further. In fact, I was five whole minutes late in getting back. Yes, I know that is what I would call good if I was home. But here, they say there is no excuse for being late.

Tell the members of the Kiwanis Club I'm sending my thanks in regards to the letter which I received from them. And I want to thank you again for the Charlevoix paper. Even though I don't write as often as I should, I want you and the folks back home to know I appreciate getting the paper and I'm thinking of them every day, and praying that some time real soon we boys can all get back to good old Charlevoix.

Until then, I'll say good-bye, with the best of luck to everyone.

Hi, Ken,

Just a few lines tonight to let you know I am still kicking around and am feeling fine.

We are having some very nice weather here in the south, but I sure would love to see a little snow and do a little deer hunting. It makes me very mad not to be up there to wade in the snow for a while. It has been over two years since I have seen any snow. I have been here for over a year, but it doesn't seem that long.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the paper, as it is a big help in knowing what is going on back home. Also I want to thank the Blue Star Mothers and the Kiwanis for their Christmas greetings. It was very nice of them. And I want to say hello to the best cop in Charlevoix, Glenn Rose, I suppose he has his back by now.

Well, I must close, and thanks again for the paper. Hope I can get up there again soon and see them all. Until then

So long,
Paul.

Dear Ken,

I just thought I'd drop you a line and let you know I'm still getting the paper and expect to get another one tomorrow (Sunday). Thanks a million—there's nothing like the good old Courier.

We expect to graduate on the 14th of December, and we get nine days' leave then.

I suppose you've got plenty of snow up there by now. Down here the sun shines every day, and there's no snow at all. I guess it won't be a white Christmas in Great Lakes and I don't care either, because I don't plan on being here by that time.

Well Ken, I've got to do some washing and get ready for inspection tomorrow, so I'll have to close. Thanking you again for the paper.

As always,
Bruce.

Dear Ken,

Just a few words to let you know that I am leaving the island the end of next week, as I have finished my training here and now I will, after a short time, be assigned to a merchant ship. I have enjoyed the paper very much and I want everybody to know that I appreciated it every time I looked through its pages.

I went in yesterday for a test from the communications commission. Just tonight I received a statement from the training office that I had passed. This license is a second class commercial operators' license.

I am going to Flint from here and am hoping that I will be with my folks on Christmas. If it is at all possible, I would like to come back to Charlevoix during Christmas, as I suppose some of the fellows will be home.

Thanks again for the paper, and I remain

Sincerely,
Donald L. Bogart

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Never knew that before, Judge... I would have sworn it was just the other way 'round."

"No, Arthur, the grain used in distilling war-alcohol is not wasted. In an efficient distillery up to 29% of it is reprocessed and is returned to farms like yours in the form of premium-quality livestock feed.

"Remember, this nourishing remainder is plumb full of protein, vitamins and carbohydrates and becomes a highly-prized feed concentrate.

"By developing new products from this processed grain, the modern distilling industry has taken a leading part in solving the vital shortage of cattle and poultry feed ingredients which are rich in vitamins B-1 and B-2, so essential to satisfactory growth and production.

"And what I have told you about the absence of grain waste in making war-alcohol, Arthur, also applies in the making of whiskey, although not a drop has been made in this country for over a year."

Remarkable Production

Last weekend, Donnld M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, disclosed that in November we produced 8,789 airplanes, which is a rate of 338 each working day or one plane every five minutes day and night. More than 1,000 were four-engined bombers. November's output exceeded that of October by 427 planes. Deliveries in November were 97 percent on schedule. November's production record was 15 times that of July, 1940, when we started to expand our aircraft production.

The navy, as announced by Secretary Knox, likewise enjoyed an all-time production record. More than 250,000 standard displacement tons of naval vessels, including about a dozen aircraft carriers of all types, and well over 2,000 planes—the majority being fighters and bombers—were completed in November. Secretary Knox, at a press conference, indicated that eight of the carriers produced last month were of large size and that the fighter plane production "was especially pleasing"; and that despite the changeover necessary for manufacturing the new Corsair and Hellcat fighters, the "steep production schedules" on these planes were either being met or bettered. Last weekend the navy received its 266th destroyer escort built in 1943.

Truly our battle of production is being won.

Can We Buy Good-Will?

In my news letter of two weeks ago, I drew your attention to the waste of government funds down in Brazil in our effort to produce Brazilian rubber. Another story of waste and extravagance has recently come to light upon the return of Senator Hugh Butler, of Nebraska, who made a lengthy report on his trip to Latin America,

The improvements in the roads make all mails and stages on time.

G. A. R. election next Monday night.

Raw oysters are recommended as a cure for hoarseness.

Berns & Scroggie will run a stage to East Jordan next week, to accommodate all who desire to attend the murder trial.

The schooner Fleetwing, grain laden for the Rifenburg flour mill, is overdue and fears for her safety are entertained.

About 50 men and a number of teams turned out in a bee today to get out timber for a new barn for John Shapton, who lost his barn and grain by fire recently.

Take Notice—The fiat has gone forth that no railroad news, from whatever source obtained, can be considered reliable, except it be first published in the Charlevoix Sentinel.

Personal: Not much, Miss H—, I am going to stay right here. G. (Sounds like a lover's quarrel carried on in the want ad column.)

Citizens of the second and third wards met with the council Monday night and made a vigorous protest against building of the proposed sewers for the south side. Main objection was that in many instances the city intended to build a sewer where there were no water mains and no chance of getting water for some time, also that their present taxes were high enough without the additional burden of the excessive sewer tax. Attorney R. L. Lewis represents the taxpayers, and a committee comprised of Charles Zeitler, R. P. Wilkinson, A. M. Bardick, Louis Orlowski, Harry Widdifield and Reuben Greer will discuss the matter with the council.

George W. Weaver is building two bungalows on the south terrace, next to the Linda Vista cottage.

Last week the last one of the 97 cottages on the Belvedere resort was closed for the winter, when Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Parmalee of Breezy Point, moved to the Bartlett.

Mr. Bemis, an Arkansas lumberman, is building a new cottage on the Belvedere resort. The site of the cottage is where Hon. A. Buttars was married, and also where Mr. and Mrs. Morris J. Stockman started housekeeping.

Ironton—A new light has been put up near the ferry to guide the big boats through the south arm.

One of the most disastrous fires that has visited Charlevoix for some time started shortly after five o'clock Friday evening in the net house formerly owned by G. C. Geiken, and about a year ago purchased by the Fox Island Fish Company. Spreading rapidly to the east, the flames destroyed the L. S. Rapert boat house, containing two gasoline launches and a rowboat, and a building used for storage by Hamilton & Son, housing launches owned by Charles Gilbert and Mr. Keifer, of the Belvedere. Falling snow kept the spectacular blaze from spreading to other buildings on the Belvedere resort.

Brewing beer and other malt beverages stopped at midnight Saturday throughout the United States, through proclamation by President Wilson.

Men returning home after discharge from service, on account of cessation of the war, include Harry Gebeau, George Miller and Ray Hamilton, from Camp Custer.

Hopyard school—Students neither absent nor tardy during November were Clara and Robert Winnick, Dorothy and Wilma Fairchild, Monica Smith, Edith Struthers, Esther Gardner and Clarence Arnold.

Foundations for the new addition to Charlevoix Hospital are now completed. The annex will house the heating plant, laundry, dining room and kitchen, elevator, nursery, maternity ward, and the physiotherapy department, where electrical baths and treatment will be administered.

Glenn Beard and family are moving today from the house at 206 Mason street to the Allen Campbell house on East Upright avenue.

The Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co., Messrs. Heise and Yettaw, proprietors, has moved its office from the Bronersky building, 313 Bridge street, to the south half of the building occupied by Mont Withers' lunch room at 321 Bridge street.

Miss Doris Vincent and Cleveland Roe, both local high school instructors, were married last Wednesday at the Presbyterian parsonage. They are residing in apartments at the Shanahan residence.

Long delayed action in the matter of a permanent resident physician for the Beaver group of Islands has finally been taken. The state board of health will soon appoint a doctor for the 1,200 people in the 12 islands.

Discussing winter sports at their meeting Monday night, the city council decided to maintain a skating rink and also a hockey pen on the school grounds as in former years, to ice Bridge street hill for coasting, skiing and tobogganing.

The Red and White basketball team will meet Clare at the local gymnasium Saturday evening. The visitors will be coached by "Punk" Aldrend, formerly athletic director in Charlevoix high school.

John McCann and family, of St. James, will occupy the Bert Beaudoin residence during the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Beaudoin expect to leave shortly for the south.

C. H. S. Notes—Taking part in the Thanksgiving day program were: Clara Kehlerhouse, Gerald Roderick and Bill Foster, who gave the play "Courtship of Miles Standish"; Doris Trimble, piano solo; Dr. B. G. Mattson, who gave a short speech.

Barnard school: Winners of a poetry contest, one selected from each grade, were: Jessie Potter, Sidney Clarke, Charles Dhaseleer, Hattie Potter, Clayton Smith, Warren Simpton, Ernest Potter, Elizabeth Dhaseleer.

When the Charlevoix county board of supervisors meet in special session here Friday morning, they will be asked to consider a proposal to build a new county court house. Provisions of the National Recovery Act may be used to finance such a project.

Coach Ray Kipke's basketball team goes to Traverse City, Friday night for their opening game. Hopes of victory are somewhat dimmed by Jack Foster's sprained ankle, which may keep him out of the game. Other players will be Pearl, Carey, Richardson and Rolfe, forwards; Ance, center; Roen, Hebert and Orlowski, guards.

Home from college for Thanksgiving: Norman Ance, Marquette University, Milwaukee; Esther Brady, student nurse at St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids; Devere Bird, Kalamazoo; David Livingston, Marian Smith, Mt. Pleasant.

WASTE PAPER CRISIS HITS WAR PLANTS

Tons of Waste Paper Wanted At Once for Food and Ammunition Containers

SOLDIERS NEED BOXES—Millions of boxes are needed for the K- and C-Rations eaten by our soldiers on the battle lines.

SAILORS NEED BOXES—It takes tons of paperboard to pack shiploads of munitions for the long voyages to the other side of the world.

THE HOME FRONT NEEDS BOXES—Huge stocks of paper are needed for the containers which have replaced metal for dozens of grocery and household products.

TURN IN YOUR WASTE PAPER... YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS IT NOW!

As you read this, paper mills are closing... others are running only a few days a week. These mills make the paper boxes, cartons, and shipping cases in which our soldiers and sailors get their food and ammunition.

Without these cartons, they won't get vital supplies! Such cartons are made from waste paper pulp.

And it's a fact that there isn't enough waste paper to make the enormous quantities of boxes called for... to keep K-rations and cartridges flowing out to the fighting fronts! There isn't enough waste paper to make the cardboard packages now substituting for metal on the home front!

Right here is where you come in. Clean our your cellar and attic now!

SAVE THESE WASTE PAPERS... Newspapers... Magazines... Cardboard Boxes... Paper Bags... Wrapping Paper... Letters... Envelopes... Advertising Matter

This shortage is serious! Never in history has so much waste paper been needed so fast! So tell your friends and neighbors about it. Every boy and girl can be a paper hunter, too!

Above all... don't burn any waste paper. Don't throw any away! Scour every corner... save every scrap.

Keep the paper coming... and you'll keep the war goods rolling! Start now!

HERE'S WHAT YOU DO WITH THEM...

Place waste paper on the curb early Saturday morning, December 11, and it will be picked up by city trucks. If your paper is not collected, call 37.

Proceeds from sale of paper will be used for the benefit of United Service Organizations and Boy Scouts.

Firemen of the Fleet

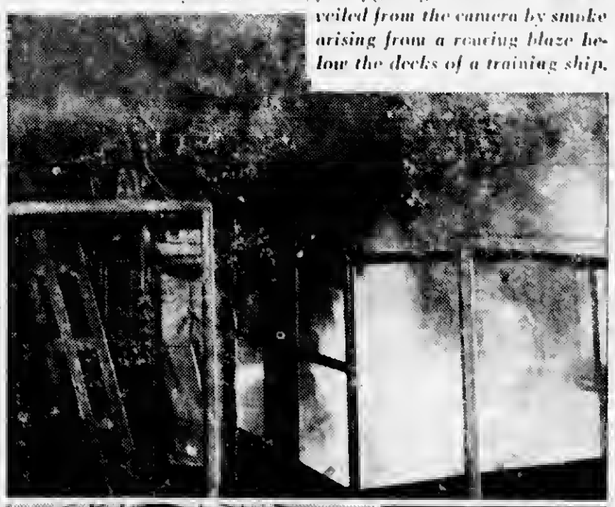
During times of peace or war there is one foe eternally feared by every man that goes to sea—fire. In wartime ship fires reach their maximum deadliness. Ignited by enemy shells or bombs, the flames menace personnel already busy at battle stations. Also, every man called from his post to fight fire gives the enemy that much more advantage. Thus, the navy has founded fire-fighting schools to train specialists in the art of extinguishing fires anywhere aboard ship quickly and methodically. Fire-fighters train aboard limitation ship sections built on land in which fires can be ignited for teaching purposes.

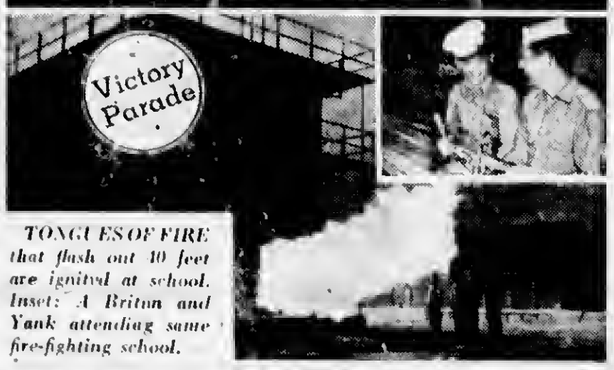
SOOT SUITS might be a proper slang term for these weird looking asbestos suits and oxygen breathing apparatus. These student firemen are equipped to fight a fire below decks.

AT ANNAPOLIS midshipmen fight a test blaze. Fire-fighting is part of their regular training.

NOZZLE KNOWLEDGE—Fireman First Class George Gruber, above, explains the uses of a spray nozzle to a class. Practical demonstrations follow.

INFERNO—A member of the fire-fighting school is almost veiled from the camera by smoke arising from a roaring blaze below the decks of a training ship.





TONGUES OF FIRE that flash out 10 feet are ignited at school. Inset: A Britan and Yank attending same fire-fighting school.

DOWN THE HATCH go asbestos clad fire-fighters and soon a blaze spreading below will be out.

Money spent here—stays here. Old newspapers at Courier office.

CHATTERER LISTENS TO THE SMALL VOICE

THE very first of the little meadow and forest people to see Chatterer the Red Squirrel after he had reached the Old Orchard safely was Tommy Tit the Chickadee. It just happened that Tommy was very busy in the very apple tree in which was the old home of Drummer the Woodpecker, when Chatterer reached it. You know, Chatterer had moved into it for the winter just a little while before he had been caught in the cornerib by Farmer Brown's Boy.

Yes, sir, Tommy was very busy, indeed. He was so busy that, as sharp as his bright little eyes were, he had not seen Chatterer racing along the old stone wall. It wasn't until he heard Chatterer's claws on the trunk of the apple tree that Tommy saw him at all.

"Why! Whe-el Is this really you, Chatterer?" he exclaimed. "However did you get out of your prison? I'm glad, aver and ever so glad, that you got away."

Chatterer flirted his tail in the saucy way he has, and his eyes twinkled. Here was just the best chance ever to boast and brag. He could tell Tommy Tit how smart he had been—smart enough to get away from Farmer Brown's Boy. Tommy Tit would tell the other little people. Everybody knew that Chatterer had been a prisoner, and now that he was free everybody would believe whatever he told them about how he got away. Was there ever such a chance to make his friends and neighbors say: "What a smart fellow he is!"

"I—I—" Chatterer stopped. Then he began again. "You see, it was this way: I—I—" Somehow Chatterer couldn't say what he had meant to say. It seemed as if Tommy Tit's bright merry eyes were looking right into his head and heart and could see his very thoughts. Of course, they couldn't. The truth, that little small voice inside, which Chatterer so often had refused to listen to when he was tempted to do wrong, was talking again. It was saying: "For shame, Chatterer! For shame! Tell the truth. Tell the truth." It was that little small voice that made Chatterer hesitate and stop.

"You don't mean to say you were smart enough to fool Farmer Brown's Boy and get out of that stout little prison he made for you, do you?" asked Tommy Tit.

"No," replied Chatterer almost before he thought. "No, I didn't. The fact is, Tommy Tit, he left the door open purposely. He let me go. Farmer Brown's Boy isn't half so bad as some people think."

"Dee, dee, dee," laughed Tommy Tit. "I've been telling a lot of you fellows that for a long time, but none of you would ever believe me. Now, I guess, you know it. Why, I'm not the least bit afraid of Farmer Brown's Boy- not the least little bit in the world. If all the little forest and meadow people only would trust him instead of running away from him, he would be the very best friend we have."

"Perhaps so," replied Chatterer, doubtfully. "He was very good to me while I was in his prison and—and I'm not so very much afraid of him now. Just the same, I don't mean to let him get hands on me again."

"Pooh!" said Tommy Tit. "Pooh! I'd just as soon eat out of his hands."

"That's all very well for you to say when you are flying around free, but I don't believe you dare go up to his house and prove it," retorted Chatterer.

"Can't now," replied Tommy. "I've got too much to do for him right now, but some day I'll show you. Dee, dee, dee, chickadee! I'm wasting my time talking when there is such a lot to be done. You didn't know that Farmer Brown's Boy and I are partners, did you?"

AT THE MOVIES

"Adventure In Iraq"

A new, exciting film about adventure and violence in the old-world country known as Iraq will be the screen fare presented at the Palace Theatre next Saturday only.

The fast-paced film features John Loder, Ruth Ford and Warren Douglas.

"Wintertime"

Sonja Henie returns to the screen of the Palace Theatre next Sunday and Monday in "Wintertime," which has been hailed as her most successful screen musical. The story is set in Canada, where an enterprising young hotel owner, Cornel Wilde, can't seem to make ends meet. He tries, thru the aid of his overly-optimistic partner, Jack Oakie, to bring a wealthy Norwegian and his attractive niece (guess who) to enhance the reputation of his resort.

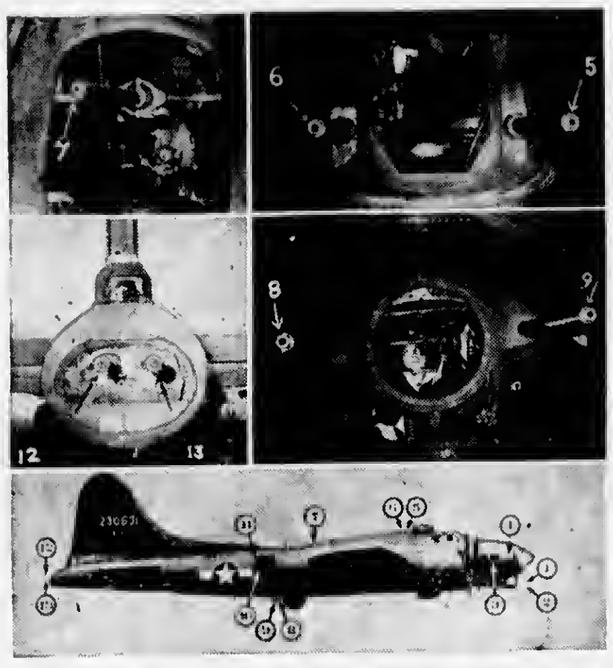
7 Reasons Why Our Bombers Return Home



Close-ups of four of the gun positions and seven of the thirteen machine guns that make the American Flying Fortress the most formidable airship in combat today. Nos. 5 and 6 are in the turret atop the fuselage. No. 7 is on top of the plane. Nos. 8 and 9 are in the ball turret midships on the underside. The gunner curls up and spins turret in direction of enemy planes. Nos. 12 and 13 are in the tail of the plane beneath the dorsal fin. Picture at bottom shows all 13 positions.

SPARS Celebrate First Anniversary

Members of the Women's Auxiliary Reserve in the Coast Guard learn to tie knots on a coast guard schooner in Boston harbor. They recently celebrated the first anniversary of their organization which is known as the "SPARS." This name is a condensation from the coast guard motto "Semper Paratus," meaning "Always Prepared."

Hundreds Die Daily in India Famine

A dying Indian family is pictured on the streets of Calcutta where 250 persons perished daily in the worst famine to strike India for decades. This scene was typical of the condition in India as appeals were made for Allied assistance in the form of "mercy ships" bearing food. The famine was reported to have killed 25,000 in Bengal within four months.

Badoglio Tells His Plans to U. S. Newsmen

Pietro Badoglio, Italian premier, is pictured with American reporters during a recent interview in which he revealed his plans for the immediate future of Italy. He said he would resign as head of the government as soon as Rome is set free. He also announced that he would appoint a temporary government of undersecretaries.

I've often heard men talk of what they would miss most if certain things were all taken away by the war. They ranked coffee, cigarettes and beer in that order. Nearly all of them said they could get along without candy. Personally, I'd go without coffee and keep my cigarettes, but if I had to choose between beer and coffee, I'd take coffee.

Married couples who enjoy each other's company without too much conversation seem to get along amazingly well.

I want to acknowledge this week a Xmas greeting from Richard "Big" Bergmann, 9th Photo Squadron, India; a postal from Sgt. That Pontiac preacher who said he found gasoline ration books on his desk after praying for them, may have something, at that. The only trouble with the deal was that his ration board apparently thought three books were too many and suspended them all for 90 days. Well, there's nothing like trying.

ANNUAL FARMERS' WEEK SET FOR FEBRUARY 1-3

Michigan State College officials have selected February 1, 2 and 3 to hold the 29th annual Farmers' Week program at East Lansing. Wartime production aids will be offered by all departments in the agricultural division, according to E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture. The program will be streamlined to war conditions, as it was in early 1943.

RURAL PANTRIES LINED FOR WINTER

At least 48,200,000 quart jars of food form shiny rows on storeroom shelves in 200,000 suburban and farm homes of Michigan, according to a conservative estimate of the work of foresighted families in bridging the winter food season of 1943-44.

Figures just compiled by Miriam Eads, MSC nutrition specialist, show that 1581 families reported canning 105,737 quarts of vegetables, 190,209 quarts of fruit, 82,919 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice. With an average of 3.5 members in these families, this provides 35.3 quarts of fruit, 19.7 quarts vegetables and 16 quarts tomatoes. An adequate canning budget to give good meals rich in needed minerals, vitamins and other nutrients suggests about 50 quarts of fruit, 30 quarts vegetables and 35 quarts of tomatoes for each adult.

The amount stored and eaten fresh must be counted in too, says Miss Eads, who points out that these records were compiled before full amounts to be stored were in cellars or pits. Families have an average of 3 bushels of vegetables and nearly a bushel of fruit for each person in the family. Since potatoes, 1½ to 4 bushels for each person, are not included in the amount, the quantity stored is close to the 100 pounds recommended. These 1581 homemakers report just 5197 quarts of fruit and vegetables in freezer lockers.

There were 460 who improved their storage cellars, 104 who used a pressure cooker for the first time this year, and 1058 who helped their neighbors. More than 18,000 folks attended more than 1100 demonstrations that reached 81 counties. Other agencies cooperating were the O. C. D., F. S. A. and community nutrition committees.

FEWER ARRESTS IN SMALL GAME SEASON

Conservation Department Reports on October Law Violations

Evidence of lighter hunting pressure in the small game season this fall is found in the conservation department report of 488 arrests for violations of conservation laws in October as compared with 690 arrests in the same month in 1942. A total of $7,914.55 in fines and $3,161.36 in costs was paid and 60 days were served in jail.

Nearly all the October cases concerned violations of game laws, the largest number being for carrying a loaded gun in a car, not displaying back tag, and possessing or shooting of hen pheasants.

Lumberjacks and papermill workers have gone to war, pulpwood is going for other purposes. So to keep munitions and supplies going uninterrupted to our fighting forces, every scrap of waste paper must be gathered.

Every shell shipped overseas to shoot at the enemy travels in a paper container. A ton of waste paper will produce 1,500 shell containers; or 47,000 boxes for 30-caliber ammunition; or 71,000 dust covers for airplane engines; or 36,000 practice targets. Army ordnance plants require 30,000 tons of paperboard each month for packaging shells. Of lend-lease materials, nine-tenths must be protected by waterproof paperboard. More than a full carload of blueprint paper is needed to lay out plans for a single battleship. Each time a pursuit plane is built, 20,000 sheets of protective paper are required. Most of the army's food is shipped to bases in paperboard containers. On island outposts, supplies are dropped from ships to float ashore in V-containers made of waterproof cardboard.

This is the last waste paper drive until spring, and enough tons of paper must be gathered to keep mills supplied until then. "Every Scrap Counts" must be the motto of Charlevoix residents in turning all their waste paper into war materials.

BOY STRUCK BY CAR, LEG IS FRACTURED

Duane Walker, 7-year-old son of Mrs. Clara Walker, is under treatment at Charlevoix Hospital for a fracture of the left leg incurred Monday morning when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Margaret Hipp, of Petoskey. The accident occurred on Bridge street, just south of the swing bridge, as the lad was on his way to school. Mrs. Hipp was reported to be driving north on the highway.

Record Water Levels

With the rise of ground water levels in north central Michigan .41 feet from mid-October to mid-November, breaking previous records and making November water levels the highest on record, state geological survey field men predict that with normal rain and snow during the winter, water levels will again be high in the spring of 1944.

Restaurant Ceiling Prices

Ceilings on restaurant and drinking establishments' retail prices went into effect December 1, the Grand Rapids OPA office has announced. Prices are based on those charged during the base period of April 4-10, 1943. Only exceptions are schools, hospitals, religious organizations, institutions and common carriers.

WARREN DUPLESSIS IN NAVY BASE HOSPITAL

Pfc. Warren Duplessis, of the marine corps tank units, was admitted to a navy base hospital on December 2 with a fractured left leg, and is seriously ill, according to word received Wednesday morning by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duplessis. Pfc. Duplessis enlisted in the marines in July, 1942, and went overseas in July, 1943. He is in the south Pacific area.

Technical School Graduate

Pfc. Gerald E. Gravelin, U. S. army air corps, graduated November 18 from air corps technical school at Seymour Johnson Field, Goldsboro, N. C., and has been transferred to Chanute Field, Ill., for special training in electricity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gravelin, former residents of Charlevoix who now make their home in Detroit.

Swig of Salt Water

Sea-water is now drinkable with the aid of a small briquette resembling a candy bar which removes the injurious salts in 20 minutes. William Hall of the air transport command illustrates its use. One briquette provides a 14-day supply of drinkable water.

CUT DOWN PRINTING OF 1944 FISHING LICENSES

Having estimated the probable effect of travel difficulties, long working hours and other possible wartime problems on fishing in the coming year, the state conservation department has cut down its printing of 1944 fishing licenses by 75,000. A total of 1,025,000 has been ordered. This is approximately 25 percent less than the number of licenses sold during the last peacetime season.

Awaits Navy Assignment

Lt. (jg) C. Maxwell Novak, U. S. naval reserve, has completed his training and is now stationed at the naval armed guard center, New Orleans, La., awaiting assignment as commander of a navy gun crew aboard an American merchant ship. He will be responsible for defense of the vessel against enemy air, submarine or surface attack.

Stationed at Camp Hood

Pvt. Helen Novotny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novotny, has arrived at Camp Hood, Tex., as a member of the WAC detachment, 1848 unit. She is a former Charlevoix high school student.

WAR FUND DRIVE SHORT OF GOAL

BOYNE CITY, EAST JORDAN REPORT SUCCESS

Contributions Will Be Received to End of Week; $1,825 Is Total on Wednesday

Contributions to the National War Fund drive in Charlevoix totaled $1,825 Wednesday, last day of the drive, reports Robert Bridge, city chairman.

While the drive officially closed Wednesday, contributions will be solicited for the remainder of this week in an effort to bring the fund up to the $2,000 mark.

East Jordan, with a quota of $1,245, reported contributions of $1,557 last week. Boyne City's $1,891 goal was reached, according to their city chairman, Rev. J. M. DeVinney, by a generous last-minute gift. Charlevoix, with a quota nearly equal to those of both these cities combined, remains almost $1,000 short of the goal.

Members of the Kiwanis Club have been soliciting contributions in the residential districts, and business places have been canvassed. Many contributions have been received from summer residents.

The state of Michigan has, as a whole, raised 97 per cent of its War Fund quota of $5,749,425. Thirty-eight counties report going over the top in their local drives, and the state stands in fourth place among the 14 states in the northeast section.

While Chairman Bridge does not anticipate that the city's quota will be raised, it is hoped that more contributions will be received this week, before official reports of the drive must be compiled.

In Charlevoix county, $1,000 will be given to the Salvation Army, and $1,000 to the Boy Scouts. United Service Organizations and 17 other war-related relief agencies will benefit from the campaign.

NEW STRAITS FERRY SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Continued Reduction in Traffic Necessitates Change

A new ferry schedule providing departures every three hours across the Straits of Mackinac was announced this week by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The state operated ferry, City of Cheboygan, is making six round trips daily. Northbound crossings from Mackinaw City begin at 7:30 a. m. with the last sailing at 10:30 p. m. The boat leaves St. Ignace on southbound crossings from 6 a. m. through 9:00 p. m.

Because of the continued reduction in traffic crossing the Straits, the change was necessary for economy reasons, Ziegler said. All crossings are scheduled on Eastern Standard Time.

Legion Auxiliary Party

The American Legion Auxiliary will have a business meeting and Christmas party next Monday evening, December 20, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Brant, 205 West Garfield avenue. Members are to bring a gift for exchange.

TRIPLE-A ELECTIONS ARE SET FOR FRIDAY

Communities Will Pick Delegates at Township Meetings

Charlevoix county 1944 Triple-A community committee elections will be held on Friday, December 17, at various locations in the county.

Delegates will be chosen at these meetings who will meet the following day and elect county committees for next year.

Following are the places where election meetings will be held: Hay township, Hay town hall; Boyne Valley, Hudson and Chandler, Boyne River grange; Evangeline and Melrose, Walloon Lake community hall; Evelina township, Eveline town hall; Hayes and Charlevoix, Hayes town hall; Marion and Norwood, Marion town hall; South Arm, South Arm town hall; Wilson, Wilson town hall.

All meetings will be at 8 p. m., Friday with the exception of that in Marion town hall, which will be at 1:30 p. m.

TWENTY MEN TO ENTER SERVICE

PASSED EXAMINATION AT DETROIT LAST WEEK

Eight Army Inductees Get Three Weeks Furlough; Twelve Go Into Service of Navy

Twenty Charlevoix county men enter the nation's service this month, after passing examinations at the Detroit induction center last Tuesday. Twelve of these chose to enter the navy, while the remaining eight were accepted in the army.

Those inducted into service were:

Charlevoix—William I. Supernaw, Walter C. Hergeon, Simeon C. Perron, army. Choosing navy service were Louis A. Edwards, Archie L. Livingston, Otto T. Skoel, Stanley L. Dean, Tracy L. Harvey.

Boyne City—John W. Smith, Delbert O. Paquette, Russell G. Chipman, army. Jackie C. Sutliff selected the navy.

East Jordan—Stanley C. Hale, army; Lawrence H. Bennett, LeRoy F. Allen, navy.

St. James—John C. Cunningham, army; Daniel A. LaFreniere, navy.

Boyne Falls—Alfred A. Lick, Stanley Stephen Skop, Peter A. Jarema all selected navy service.

Navy inductees were to report at Detroit for transfer to training stations on Tuesday, December 14. While the draft board has not received notification as to the date army inductees are to report at Fort Sheridan, Ill., the usual three-weeks furlough will be given.

METHODIST CHURCH CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Family Night Supper Wednesday; Sunday School Gives Play

Annual Christmas program and family night supper of the Methodist church will be held Wednesday evening, December 22, at the church.

Following potluck supper at 6:30, a program will be given by the Sunday school. A play, "Christmas Everywhere", is to be presented under direction of Mrs. Harry Stewart.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

If a man could get along without gravy, he could assemble his meals without much trouble.

In the past few weeks many of our boys in the service have ventured, when writing, that we probably have plenty of snow now. Up until Saturday, their guess wasn't true. We had snow about mid-November which went away and, until the blizzard-like spell over last week end, were without "the beautiful." It looks like a "white" Christmas now, though, and with the mercury hovering around zero, there is no mistake about it being winter, either.

Boyne City's Uncle Josh, commenting about juvenile delinquency, says: "We read and hear a lot about 'Juvenile Delinqueacy' now and how to cure it. When I was a boy they called it 'General Cussedness' and a very effective cure was 'Dad's' right hand wielding a shingle or other paddle, well applied to the place on a boy's anatomy where it should be applied." Well said, Josh.

"She turned off all the lamps 'cept the funny little green table lamp."

"Then what happened?"

"Well, I've driven automobiles long enough to know what a green light means."

Up in northern Wisconsin there is a little weekly newspaper that believes in keeping its news up to the minute. It reported thus: "Grandma Jones is very low as we go to press. If she dies, she will be buried on Sunday."

Lyle Miles, writing from Shreveport, La., sort of pokes fun at me for not getting a buck this fall and remarked, "It must get tiresome to carry an unshot gun around all day." Well, if Lyle had known the circumstances, he wouldn't have talked that way. In the first place, I had trouble finding a gun, and then twice as much trouble locating some ammunition for it. The fellow who loaned me the shells said I'd have to give him fifty cents for every one I shot

SPEBSQSA CHAPTER MIDWINTER FROLIC

Barber Shop Singers Entertained by President D. C. Nettleton

Voices were blended in close harmony at the second annual midwinter frolic of Charlevoix Chapter No. 19, SPEBSQSA, held Sunday evening at the home of the president, Dr. D. C. Nettleton.

Following the president's address by Dr. Nettleton, and secretary's report by Dallas Henry, was a program of varied selections by the several quartettes which comprise chapter membership. While the Ballad Benders, first quartette to be formed here, were featured performers, entertaining numbers were presented by the Four Phenglers, Tune Twisters, Donnu and Doris Ouderkirk, Barbershop Balladeers, Musical Misfits, Ironton quartette, Traverse City quartette, Foster Boat Co. quartette, and Charlevoicos trio. Rev. Donald R. Evans led the entire company in chorus.

Refreshments were served to the more than 60 guests who were present.

MASONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS TUESDAY

J. C. Marshall Heads Lodge As Worshipful Master

Officers for the coming year were elected and installed Tuesday evening by Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A. M., at the Masonic temple.

S. M. Rose acted as installing officer. Those taking office were: worshipful master, J. C. Marshall; senior warden, Rowley Williams; junior warden, Harry Gebeau; treasurer, E. J. Hiller; secretary, Lloyd Curtis; senior deacon, Stewart E. Coleman; junior deacon, Robert C. Emrey; tyler, John Macey.

William Bogart was named a trustee for three years. George Priest was selected as alternate delegate to Grand Lodge.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served.

NO OUTDOOR LIGHTS IN HOLIDAY SEASON

Holiday Decorations Are Banned As Conservation Measure

For the second successive war year, Charlevoix will have no community Christmas tree or outdoor lighting decorations, in accordance with a recent ruling of the war production board.

Restrictions prohibiting installation of temporary extensions for Xmas lighting fixtures were ordered by WPB as a measure to conserve critical resources. By curtailing outside lighting for the holiday season, rationed fuel oil for the diesel plant will be conserved.

NEW HOME SERVICE CHAIRMAN IS NAMED

Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff Appointed to Local Red Cross Job

Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff has been appointed local home service chairman for the American Red Cross, a post held for some time by Mrs. R. F. Sloan.

Due to the illness of Mrs. Sloan, appointment of Mrs. Wexstaff to the position was made by Mrs. C. F. Krieghoff, chairman of the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter.

Baptist Christmas Program

Members of the Baptist church Sunday school will give their Christmas program on Sunday, December 19, at 7:30 p. m., in the church.

LOCAL MAN IN TARAWA ACTION

PFC. WARREN DUPLESSIS IS IN NAVAL HOSPITAL

Believed to Be at Pearl Harbor Naval Base; Member Marine Corps Tank Units

Pfc. Warren Duplessis, reported last week to have been admitted to a naval hospital for treatment, is believed to have participated in the marine's landing at Tarawa.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Duplessis, received notification by naval "speedletter" last Wednesday that he had incurred a broken leg and was seriously ill. Tuesday, they received a letter from their son, in which he said he had suffered burns about the hands and face, as well as the broken leg.

Recent news dispatches have revealed that marines injured in action at Tarawa have been taken to the naval hospital at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Pfc. Duplessis' letter, while not revealing his location, gave substantiation to the belief that he was among the comparatively few marines who survived the costly landing on Japheld Tarawa.

Enlisting in the marine corps tank units in July 1942, Pfc. Duplessis went overseas in July, 1943.

RESPECTED RESIDENT IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Services for Mrs. George W. Smith Held Monday Afternoon

Mrs. George W. Smith, 69, died Friday afternoon following a stroke which she suffered Thursday evening. Although she had not been in good health for more than two years, her death was a shock to her family and friends.

Born January 15, 1874, in Greensboro, N. C., Minnie Jane Gray came to Petoskey with her parents in 1880. Here she resided until her marriage to George W. Smith, of Charlevoix, on November 16, 1898. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have made their home in this city since their marriage.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, Marcus, of Charlevoix, and George E., of Benton Harbor; seven grandchildren; one brother, Edgar Gray, of Petoskey. A son, Vane H., a brother, Fred Gray, and sister, Nellie Gray, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the See Funeral Home, with Rev. Donald R. Evans officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

DEADLINE FOR FILING NOMINATIONS IS SET

Candidates Must File January 3 for February 21 Primary

Deadline for filing nominating petitions for the February 21 primary election has been set for 4 p. m. Monday, January 3, states Robert C. Emrey, deputy city clerk.

Form of nominating petitions has been changed to require that the person who circulates the petition must sign it and swear before a notary public that he is an elector living in the city of Charlevoix.

Filing deadline has been advanced three weeks from the usual date, Mr. Emrey stated.

POINTS-FOR-FATS PROGRAM STARTED

Anticipate Increase in Salvage Under New System

Sharply increased collections of household fats are expected with the inauguration this week of the points-for-fats program.

"By furnishing incentive the plan should result in an immediate and substantial gain in collections," it was stated by Kenneth M. Burns, chairman of the state salvage committee of the Michigan office of civilian defense. "Michigan has been averaging about 45 per cent of its monthly quota of 806,500 pounds. We look forward to a substantial increase."

One brown point will be given for each half pound of household fat. The stamps will be given only to the consumer and the operators of boarding houses where 50 persons or less are fed. They may be used in purchasing meats, cheese, butter and other food bought with brown stamps.

CLASSES IN PILOTING, SEAMANSHIP, TO START

Organization Meeting of Power Squadron on January 6

The Charlevoix Power Squadron will begin its 1944 series of classes in elementary piloting and seamanship on January 13, announces Mason Bond, chairman of the squadron's training program.

The initial meeting, designed to organize classes for the series, will be held the evening of Thursday, January 6, in the commercial classroom at the high school building. All persons desiring to participate in this elementary training are asked to be present at this meeting, or they may contact Mr. Bond in advance at the Western Union office.

Any person may attend the classes, which are given at no charge. To men who have, or intend to enlist in any branch of marine service, they are of especial value.

CADET EXAMINERS AT TRAVERSE CITY

Youths 17 to 18 Encouraged to Take Army Examination

The army aviation cadet examining board will be in Traverse City next Tuesday, December 21, announces Lt. C. B. Anderson, of Traverse City.

The traveling examining board now is based at Detroit, as the Fort Custer board has been discontinued. Boys 17 to 18 years of age are encouraged to take this examination. For information or application blanks, contact Lt. Anderson, C. A. P., 602 South Union St., Traverse City, Mich.

PALACE THEATER WILL ENTERTAIN CHILDREN

Annual Christmas Free Movie Is Scheduled December 21

Mrs. Elizabeth Moon, owner and operator of the Palace Theatre, will again present a free movie for children of Charlevoix and vicinity as a Christmas treat.

A matinee program is to be given at 2 p. m. Tuesday, December 21. Due to prevailing war shortages, no candy will be given as has been done in former years.

Service Contest Winners

Winners of the servicemen's popularity contest concluded last week at St. Mary's recreation center, were Robert King and Clinton Howe. Another contest starts this week.

RATION TOKENS TO BE MADE SMALLER

Manufacture Started Last Week; Go Into Use February 27

Twice as many ration tokens will be put into circulation than was planned originally, and they will be nearer the size of a dime than a quarter as previously announced, the office of price administration has disclosed.

Manufacture of the tokens was started last week and they will go into use on Feb. 27.

The order now calls for manufacture of 1,100,000,000 red tokens for buying meats and fats, and 900,000,000 blue tokens for processed foods. The original order was for about half this number.

OPA said the number of tokens was increased because it was necessary to assure an adequate supply to meet all needs starting from the day the plan goes into effect. The size was reduced to get a larger number manufactured from the quantity of limited material allocated for this purpose.

RAYDERS LOSE FRIDAY'S GAME

HARBOR TEAM VICTORIOUS BY 23 TO 20 SCORE

Local Tossers Will Play Mancelona Friday at Local Gym; Second Home Game of Season

Charlevoix high school's Red Rayder basketball team, playing their first out of town game of the season, lost to Harbor Springs, Friday night, 23 to 20 on Harbor's court. It was the Rayders' second successive defeat this year.

The game was a successful season opener for Harbor, though closely fought all the way. Harbor proved superior in field goals, while the locals connected six times from the foul line.

Charlevoix made one point to Harbor's two in the opening quarter. The locals tallied nine points during the second period, while Harbor made eight to even the score at 10-all at the half. Harbor pulled ahead during the third stanza, making six points to the Rayders' four, and led 16 to 14. Charlevoix made six points during the last quarter and Harbor scored seven.

Ward was high man for Charlevoix with a total of 12 points. Bellinger scored 5, Chambers 2, Plumm 1. Smith led Harbor's scoring with 8 points, Wilcox made 6, Newman and Duvert 4 each, Elliot 1.

Coach Kipke used Zeitler, Bellinger, Ward, Chambers and Plumm as his starting line-up. Hardy substituted for Zeitler during the game. The preliminary game was a contest between two Harbor Springs reserve teams.

The Rayders will play their second home game Friday when they meet Mancelona on the local floor. Preliminary starts at 7:15, main game at 8:15.

HOLIDAY RECESS BEGINS FRIDAY

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Public Invited to Grade Program in Gym Thursday Night; High School Play Friday

Students of Charlevoix public schools have prepared Christmas programs for Thursday and Friday, preceding the closing of school at 3:30 p. m. Friday for the annual Christmas vacation. The public is invited to both programs.

On Thursday evening at 8 p. m., in the gymnasium, grade students will present a program of musical numbers and silhouettes, directed by grade teachers and Earl E. Bench, music director.

Opening the Thursday program will be the high school band, with "Star-Spangled Banner," "Student Prince Overture," by Sigmund Romberg, and "Merry Men" by Max Thomas. The kindergarten rhythm band will present "A Toy Maker's Dream," by Ernie Golden, with piano accompaniment by Teddy Beach. "Up on a Housetop" and "Jingle Bells" will be given by the first grade rhythm band, accompanied by Neta Bruton. The high school girls' glee club will follow with the selection, "Christmas Bells," by F. Hubbs. Two silhouettes, "Away in a Manger," by the second grade, and "The First Noel," by the third grade, will precede the sixth grade's carols, "Cantique Noel," and "Deck the Halls." Following this is the fifth grade's silhouette, "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and the fourth grade's silhouette, Brahms' "Lullaby." To conclude the program, the high school band will play "Christmas Rhapsody," by Newell H. Long, and "Silent Night," in which the grades will join.

HARRY WITHERS WINS BOMBARDIER'S WINGS

Graduated from Army Air Forces School, Big Springs, Texas

Harry J. Withers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Withers, of Wyandotte, former Charlevoix residents, was awarded bombardier's wings and a commission as second lieutenant in the army air forces on Thursday, December 4, at Big Springs, Texas, bombardiers school.

A graduate of Charlevoix high school, Lt. Withers attended Michigan State College, and prior to entering the army air forces was employed by the Sharples Chemical Co., in Wyandotte.

Lt. Withers is at present spending a 16-day leave in Wyandotte with his wife and parents, and will then go to Salt Lake City, Utah. His wife will accompany him.

SENIORS, CSO PLAN SERVICEMEN'S PARTY

Holiday Dance is Scheduled for Thursday, December 30

The senior class of Charlevoix high school and the Charlevoix Service Organizations are cooperating in planning a Christmas dance for Thursday, December 30.

Specially planned for entertainment of service men in the city, the dance will be given at the high school gymnasium. Further details will be announced next week.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

I have plenty of time on my hands for the present, and as I haven't written you since I have been in Britain, I'll correct that error at once.

Just now I am recuperating in the hospital from an accident at the field, in which I received a broken leg and busted jaw. My face is in a slightly different shape than before, but I imagine most people will say that it is a decided improvement!

The section of country I am in is very picturesque; in the summer, the cottages with their thatched roofs, climbing vines and tiny, neat gardens, make a beautiful picture. The people are exceptionally friendly, and I was very fortunate in becoming acquainted with a young couple living in a small town near the base. Rationing has not affected them seriously, as they have a large farm and rabbits and pheasants are plentiful. I take my ration card when I visit them, so that helps some.

We have quite a bit of excitement in my area, as you no doubt are aware, but we have been lucky, too. Our bomb group is rated as one of the best in Britain, and they certainly deserve the praise.

My work is concerned primarily with landings and take-offs, and as we work 24-hour shifts, it keeps me and my crew of ten men busy enough.

I will take this opportunity to wish you, your family and the good people who make it possible for "the boys" to receive the cheery Charlevoix Courier, a very merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Your friend,
Ed.
Sgt. E. K. Golden.

Hi, Ken,

Just a line to let you know I have a new address and to say thanks again for sending the paper!

Arrived in Norfolk a week ago Sunday and have been assigned to Utility Squadron 4. We have many different types of planes

Republicans Gain in State, City Elections

Republican and Democratic political strength is apparently more on a par than it has been for many years, according to results of the recent off-year state and city elections. GOP candidates won not only the posts they were expected to get but also some they were not expected to get. Three of the victors are pictured above. Left: Walter E. Edge, Republican, elected governor of the State of New Jersey. Center: Joe R. Hanley, Republican, elected lieutenant-governor of New York state. Right: Simeon S. Willis, Republican, elected governor of Kentucky in a tight vote battle. Kentucky had not elected a Republican governor since 1927. The recent election was said to have been the closest in that state since 1915. In Philadelphia, Pa., Mayor Bernard Samuel won over his Democratic opponent, William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to F... in 1936.

The Oil Problem:

By next year, according to a diagnosis of the United States oil supply by the Petroleum Industry War Council, we will face a serious problem in keeping the rate of oil production up to an estimated "minimum essential demand" of 4,400,000 barrels a day. To bring the supply up to the future demand, the Council recommended an increase of 35 cents a barrel in the price of crude oil, contending that higher prices are needed to promote wildcat drilling and to keep the country's 400,000 oil wells in production. Since Pearl Harbor the price of all commodities has increased 15.6 points and that of raw materials 29.9 points but the price of crude oil, one of the most important raw materials in war, has increased but 1.6 points.

How grave is our future oil problem? This country controls approximately 35 per cent of the world's oil reserves outside Axis control, and we are contributing for this war effort not according to our reserves but very much in excess, namely 80 per cent. Britain controls approximately 24 per cent of the same oil reserves, but she is contributing only eight per cent to the war effort, while Russia, with almost 40 per cent of the reserves, is contributing two per cent.

Oil is the most powerful single item in any country's repository of war or peace. A nation built on oil will be able to outfight and out-trade a nation built on coal. One ton of bombs on Berlin means the burning of four to five tons of petroleum. When we read of a raid of 1,000 bombers over German territory, we can figure that a million and a half gallons of 100 octane gasoline were consumed in that raid and that is a trainload of about 200 tank cars. One aircraft carrier like the ill-fated Hornet uses 500 gallons of fuel oil per sea mile. We have some 40 carriers in operation with many more being built. These examples give us some idea of how our oil reserves are being drained.

Senator Brewster, who delved carefully into the world-wide petroleum situation on his recent global tour, says, "We are using our petroleum at the present time at the rate of more than 6 per cent a year of our discovered reserves, which would mean their exhaustion within the next 20 years, if no additional sources are found." Uncle Sam is footing much of the bill for this war with men, munitions, money and materials of war, which include 80 per cent of our oil reserves. "The British Empire," according to Senator Brewster, "is using its known resources (of oil) at the rate of little over one per cent, which means they should last for 100 years. The Russians are apparently in a similarly favorable position." The machine age of which our country is so proud may disappear when our oil reserves are gone. The picture is far from bright.

If we are to improve our future situation and maintain our motorized economy in this country, it is obvious that new oil reserves must be located. Oil cannot be discovered at will, it takes planning, research, surveys and money. It takes far more than merely the price of an average wildcat well; it takes exploration expense in finding a geologically favorable site on which to locate a well. The reasons for there having been a lag in exploration activity are several. Economic uncertainty has retarded this type of investment, coupled with an actual shortage of critical materials, some of which are required in oil exploration and of which not a sufficient supply has been set aside for the oil industry. Then there is shortage of manpower in the oil fields due to men going into the armed forces and others transferring to war industries where higher wages prevail. Likewise it is becoming increasingly more difficult to find new fields; and, lastly, the present price of oil discourages exploration.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation, many of us as individuals have protested in vain to the OPA, seeking a minimum price increase of at least 35 cents per barrel on crude oil, which if granted might increase the price of gasoline not to exceed one cent per gallon. I believe motorists would be willing to pay an additional cent a gallon if we could have all the gasoline we wanted and without which increase I see no hope for any discontinuance of the rationing program. However, the OPA, the White House and the larger oil companies have steadfastly opposed any such increase. This denial has forced many of the independent producers to discontinue business and in some instances their abandoned properties have been, or are in the process of being, gobbled up by the larger companies, who, because of their large quantity production, are able to operate at considerably lower costs than the independent companies. If this policy continues within a few years our entire petroleum supply would be controlled by a small circle of the larger companies and we would be completely at their mercy. Apparently this is what the Administration desires.

Failing to get action as individuals, we have gotten together as an informal committee on various occasions. Secretary Ickes appeared at one of these meetings in Chicago last summer and as Petroleum Coordinator for War, and with the approval of the independent oil companies, stoutly advocated this 35 cent per barrel minimum increase. By presidential directive Ickes is in charge of petroleum production, but he has no control over the price. Consequently after our return to Washington this fall, and under the leadership of Congressmen Wesley Disney, of Oklahoma, our committee again sought this price increase from OPA, from Byrnes and from Vinson without success. Whereupon Mr. Disney introduced a bill, originally designed to take the price of crude petroleum out of the hands of the OPA and place it under the Petroleum Coordinator for War, directing him to increase the price of crude oil a minimum of 35 cents per barrel and in accordance with a formula which would establish the price of crude on a parity with the average price of all commodities as determined by the regular reports from the Department of Labor. This bill was referred to the committee on banking and currency, which, however, has been busy all fall with the food subsidy problem. Failing to get action from the committee, a petition was circulated in accordance with the House rules and the majority of the House having signed that petition forced the bill on the floor on Monday of this week. As I prepare this news letter, it is confidentially expected that this bill will pass by a large majority, but it is also expected that the control of the price of crude will be left in the hands of the OPA.

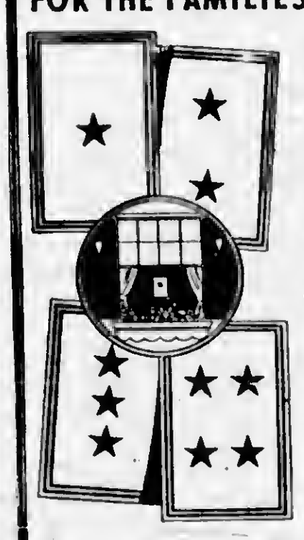
FREE SERVICE STAR CARDS
FOR THE FAMILIES OF SERVICE MEN



Produced in Red, White and Blue
Actual size 6 inches x 9¼ inches.

This space contributed by the Charlevoix Courier as a patriotic service to those who are giving their loved ones to the cause of victory.

This Service Star window card should be seen in every home in America that is represented by a father, husband, son or brother in the Armed Forces of the United States. It emphasizes America's pride in those who are serving our country in time of war.

BLUE, SILVER OR GOLD

The Blue Star indicates service in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps within the boundaries of the United States.

The Silver Star denotes service outside the continental United States, either on the high seas, in the United States possessions, or on foreign soil.

The Gold Star is America's tribute to those who make the supreme sacrifice under the Stars and Stripes in time of war.

You are entitled to display the proper star for each member of your family serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America. For example, if you are the parent of one boy in camp in the U.S.A., you are entitled to one Blue Star. If you have two sons in service—one in the U.S.A. and one outside the U.S.A.—you are entitled to a Service Star card bearing one Blue Star and one Silver Star.

16 Italians Die for Shooting of Nazi

Mourning relatives gather around the fresh graves of 16 Italians who were killed by the Nazis in retaliation for the shooting of a German soldier. The soldier had stolen a chicken from a local family. Inscription on the cross reads: "They died from the forces of Nazlism and Fascism." According to reports from Italy, this scene is common in many towns through which the Nazis are retreating before the might of Allied armies which were steadily rolling toward Rome and Berlin.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

If some strange creature from Mars were to descend on Michigan tonight, and our sons and fathers were summoned in defense of our own homes and our own lives, the situation couldn't be much different, in fact, than today's fight-to-the-death struggle with the fanatic Japanese.

All of which is merely preliminary observation to this forecast:

The governor of Michigan during the years 1945 and 1946 will be, too, a "war governor."

Likewise, the president of the United States during the years 1945 to 1948 inclusively will be, for the most part, the military commander-in-chief of a fighting American army and navy.

Germany's capitulation by Christmas of 1943 now seems to be a mirage. Hopes that Allied leaders were secretly considering peace terms have now vanished. The significance of the Roosevelt-Churchill - Stalin - Chiang conferences, already termed to be unsurpassed in historical importance for a century, is beginning to crystalize here back home. We are pledged to make frontal invasions upon Germany; to impose near annihilation and destruction on Japan. The verdict is extreme; the terms are harsh; the price of peace is high.

Surely, the Michigan home front—farm and factory — has a REAL job. We must gird ourselves as never before for a costly assault in Europe, for a long war in the Orient.

Imagine a race of people, living on some far-off planet, who believe they are devinely led by an emperor who is the direct descendant of a sun goddess. Here is a race which believes the greatest achievement in life is to die for the empire; that they will live after death to enjoy the glory of such sacrifice; that their supreme temporal mission is to rule the earth!

From Mars to Michigan is an incomaprehensible distance.

And yet Michigan sons and fathers are fighting in the Pacific today against a race of fanatics who have such a creed and who cling to such a dream. To us, Japan may well be Mars. The Parallel is just about the same.

The edict that the Japanese empire must be driven to extinction is unprecedented in the light of any war in which the American people have participated.

We not only demand the defeat of Japan. We insist upon dismemberment of the Japanese empire and its right in the sun; we would confine its 75 million people within the limits of a few mountainous islands.

This, in effect, is complete and total destruction of an empire. The U. S. News points out, "the job as against Japan is to be longer and more painful than most Americans believe. We have perhaps lengthened it by our decisions of the Cairo conference."

The fact that the Japanese do not surrender, that they choose to die in suicidal attacks than to be captured, is difficult for Americans to believe. It sounds too much like fiction tales of Mars. And yet our captured pilots have been beheaded; our citizens tortured in prison camps. The facts are wierd-like in seeming unreality.

At the eve of a national and state political campaign, the home front has a dilemma of unusual proportions.

David Lawrence, editor of the U. S. News, presents the problem in these courageous words:

"Let the talk of demobilization and 'post-war' be soft-pedaled and let's keep politics out of war problems as much as possible. The coming year will bring us an unwelcome presidential campaign in the midst of the biggest war in which we have ever participated.

"If we could have had a parliamentary form of government, we would have been spared the negative effects of such a campaign at such an unpropitious time. But the constitution provides for that election in 1944.

"Let us then face the future without partisanship. Let us consider men and their abilities rather than the petty resentments that arise from irritations in time of war. Let us not look to the mistakes of pre-war years or to the grievances that are simulated by the pocketbook nerve. Let us keep faith with the boys who are dying to achieve victory and security for us all. Let us tax to the utmost, let us accept economic restrictions to the utmost. Let us strive earnestly to overcome class and group desires and selfishness."

This is a big order. Translate this into the Michigan scene, and you will expect restraint and tolerance and courage from the leaders of both parties. You will expect organized labor not demand higher wages and for farmers not to press for higher commodities prices. You will expect less grumbling over war-time restrictions; more willingness to pay high taxes and to buy war bonds; less worry about profits and more concern about production.

The price of an enduring peace incompasses these sacrifices as well as lives of our Michigan men.

Are we willing to make such sacrifices?

This is the question each American must answer in his own heart.

(Chief, Horse Husbandry at University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.)

"Be kind to and as considerate of your horses as you would want to be treated yourself," is a safe rule to follow in handling work stock during hot weather.

Essentially the same rules which apply to the human being in hot weather also apply to the farm horse. Plenty of water and the proper feed, careful driving, sufficient rest and the prevention of overheating are the principal precautions to observe in caring for the hard-working horse in summer.

When horses are doing hard field work during hot weather, a barrel of water and a pail should be taken to the field so the horses can be watered once an hour.

Since the freely perspiring work horse has a high salt requirement, he will stand the heat better when liberally supplied with salt.

In extremely hot weather it may be necessary to reduce working hours and lighten the load. The noon rest period may be lengthened or work begun very early and stopped before noon. Some farmers have successfully worked their horses at night.

Like human beings, horses that are "off feed" should not be expected to do a hard day's work in summer, since it is too risky. Instead, such horses should be kept in the barn or on pasture where there is shade.

When the sweat "dries in," and the horse starts to pant and gets "wobbly" in his gait, he has been overworked. The careful horseman will stop and rest his team before this stage is reached. An overheated horse should be put into the shade, and cold water or ice bags applied to his head, spine and legs.

Serious cases of overheating are even difficult for experienced veterinarians to handle. Prevention is therefore especially important. Once the horse is overheated, even though he recovers, he is seldom able to do hard work during high temperatures.

Veterinarians Urge 'War' Against Swine Diseases

The government's recent appeal for increased swine production as an aid to national defense has had one quick result in most rural communities—farmers are exerting new vigilance to guard against prevalent swine diseases which annually take a toll of nearly 30 per cent of the nation's hog population.

Hog cholera is being looked upon as "public enemy No. 1" in the current drive to reduce swine losses, because cholera kills more hogs than any other single disease.

Veterinarians and livestock officials are urging utmost possible vigilance against fresh epizootics this season, and prompt control measures wherever cholera may make its appearance. Symptoms of the disease include sluggishness, a tendency to pile up, partial or total prostration, fever, and scours. At the first signs of such symptoms a veterinarian should be called.

"The best insurance against this No. 1 swine killer is to have pigs vaccinated against cholera around weaning time," says the American Foundation for Animal Health report. "When pigs are young they require less serum and virus, and the immunization generally lasts until they are ready for market. Cholera generally strikes so swiftly and kills so quickly that there is little that a farmer can do, once his hogs are down with the disease. That is why immunization is the best insurance against cholera losses."

Farm Notes

A silage crop can be grown, harvested and put in the silo for about $2 a ton.

A cow must eat 100 pounds or more of grass daily to produce 20 to 25 pounds of milk.

Since the beginning of 4-H club work on a nation-wide basis, it has reached over 8,000,000 rural young people.

Hens lay about as many eggs during March, April, May and June as they do all the other eight months of the year.

Adolf—Down to Witchcraft

Worried Hitler, according to reports, spends hours with sorcerers, seeking to counteract the "mass spell" invoked by dabblers in witchcraft. An authority on Voodoo tells, in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Dec. 19) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, why he thinks occult "Psychic Blitz" may be driving Adolf to a series of ruinous mistakes.

FARMER CAN PICK 1944 FARM PLAN

To enable Michigan's war and peace-minded farmers to make their own plan of operation for 1944, a handy six-page leaflet has been made available in offices of county agricultural agents.

Mixed in are a few simple suggestions on feed and seed supplies and sources, but the leaflet is designed primarily to permit a farmer to take stock of his soil and livestock assets, his feed supplies and probable needs until 1944 harvests are offering relief.

Blank spaces are provided for listing the 1943 and 1944 livestock program so that a farmer can balance up with his feed supplies the most logical livestock program for 1944.

"Michigan's hay crop was good in most areas," says C. O. Muy, Michigan State College specialist in farm management. "But the shortage of grain and protein feeds and the heavy livestock load will result in abnormally rapid disappearance of the hay supplies. The result will be a high-priced hay."

Similarly, the leaflet advises a farmer to obtain now any necessary oats and barley for seed, since scarcities indicate high prices will prevail by seeding time next spring. Spaces are provided for estimating crop plans and seed needs.

Another page is devoted to machinery needs, including new equipment and repair parts. Fertilizer and hired labor requirements in 1944 also are given consideration with spaces blank for estimates of needs.

A single armored division uses more than 600 tons of ammunition and 78,000 pounds of food for every day it is in action.

His wives talked too much, so he buttoned up their lips. The police of two South American countries would like to punish the Indian Chief responsible for this crime, but because of ancient custom, he may get away with it. NOTICE

The War Production Board has recommended that cities refrain from using electricity for outdoor Christmas decorations this year as it requires the use of more fuel oil than normal. In complying with this request the City Council will not have the usual lighted community Christmas tree and urges that citizens also refrain from using electricity for outdoor decorations. Fuel oil for the diesel plant is rationed, which means that the oil we can save will be available for United Nations ships.

WAR CHRISTMAS

Many families are puzzled as to whether to have a jolly Christmas at home when one of the family is overseas, especially if he is in one of the fighting lines. They don't like to spend money which should be held till the war is over, and they don't like to celebrate when he is in danger or discomfort.

Most of the Christmas money, without any doubt, should be put into bonds and stamps. And for grown-up families, rather quiet Christmases will no doubt be the order of the day. But there ought to be joy, and jollity, and that touch which the Christmas magic never fails to bring.

As for families with children, Major Harlan Miller, now in England, has a word for it: "What will please overseas fathers most this year is that the family go ahead with a humdinger of a Christmas, just as if he were there to trip over the toys in person."

POST-WAR PLANNING

(By William M. Sanderson, Eveline Township Supervisor)

Every thinking man realizes the great need for post-war planning. When the war ends, a struggle for land has the prospect of developing in each of our communities. Thousands of war industry workers, fighting men and even men of means, will seek homes away from the cities. Charlevoix county, especially, is well and favorably known throughout the state as a very desirable place for a home for any of them. Keen rivalry for land and location will arise.

We must have a plan so that they can all live together and each one's interest be protected. Each of them must be assured his investment in property will not be jeopardized by the wrong use of lands by his immediate neighbors. Thus encouraged, he will spend money in improvement as he has done in the past, thereby helping to furnish employment to the worker, trade to the tradesman, and market to the farmer; and by the same token, find an opportunity for gaining a livelihood for himself if he so desires.

To do this, there must be some kind of zoning program which is primarily concerned with uses, chiefly uses of land and in special situations, uses of buildings. Now what has been done so far in the promotion of this matter? Under the direction of County Agricultural Agent H. C. Mellencamp, of this county, the various township committees have met and analyzed the 133,000 acres of Charlevoix county. They report that of the 95,000 acres not in farms, only 10,000 acres are suitable for farming, that the rest, or 85,000 acres, are best suited for the production of forest products. That 15,000 acres used as farming have questionable value as such. That 8,000 acres bordering on lakes, should be classified as resort property.

With these facts in mind, there have been several meetings in the past two years of representative citizens from all over the county. They agree something should be done about following the example of one-half of the 15 counties of the state which have had a similar survey made, and which have either zoned or are preparing to zone. However, nothing can be done unless by a favorable referendum initiated by petition of the citizens of the county to the board of supervisors, in which only new or changed uses of land are effected. Before the board of supervisors can approve any referendum, there must be at least one public hearing.

Inasmuch as we can be zoned as a county as a whole, or zoned as a township, the supervisor of Eveline township urges its citizens to give this matter their immediate and careful attention. The best time for any community or township or county to study and consider zoning is today, so they will be prepared for post-war planning when the need of it arrives, which we believe is right now.

and some of them are pretty fast. Our main job here to to tow targets for the fleet. I had my choice of engineering crew or plane crew. Just couldn't resist those JM's, better known as B-26's, so for the past week have been getting the data on their maintenance and operation.

Here's wishing you and everyone in and from Charlevoix a very merry Christmas, and hoping that by another Christmas all the boys might be home again.

Sincerely,
Bruce Zeitler
V. J. 4—N. A. S,
Norfolk, Va.

Dear Ken:

You have been extended the profound thanks of so many men (for the paper) that it doesn't seem appreciable to say just "thanks." However, I have enjoyed receiving it for the past year, and am always looking forward to its arrival.

I have a slightly different address now, and would appreciate it if you would make the necessary change.

Sincerely,
Lee.

Sgt. Lee J. Scott,
Hq. HD of SD,
Fort Rosecrans,
San Diego 15, Calif.

With his letter, Lee sent the December 3 copy of the Fort Rosecrans weekly, "Cannon Report", containing his humorous column, "HD-Commandos". Among other things, Lee says: "For my money, the marines that turn on their alleged charm at the coke counter in the PX, forcing us GI's to wait, can go back to the Halls of Montezuma."

Hello, Ken,

I think it is about time I was writing you and telling you the change in my address. My barracks number is now T-5536, so if you will change it, I will appreciate it very much.

I sure miss Charlevoix and I am sure the rest of the boys do, too, but the paper helps a whole lot, and I am again thanking the people who make it possible for us to get it.

I suppose you have a lot of snow up there, or have you still got bare ground to look at, like we have?

I enjoyed hearing about the fellows getting their bucks, even if I couldn't go hunting.

I wish all the boys and all the folks back home a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Dear Ken,

Just a line or two with my Christmas greetings to all back home and the Charlevoix boys in the service. I would like to send each and every one a card, but we are unable to get cards, as the supply is limited. Uncle Sam is trying his best to supply us.

This will be my first Christmas overseas, but we'll have a merry Christmas, even if we have C rations and dog biscuits for our Christmas dinner—it will all be toward Victory in '44.

Haven't received the Courier since May.

Sincerely,
George Fratrick
Cr. Postmaster
New York N. Y.

Dear Ken,

Perhaps you had better just stick to fishing! Must get mighty tiresome carrying an unfired gun around all day!

All kidding aside, though, I'm sorry you had no luck. Next year, maybe?

The Courier gets much handling when it arrives, though it sometimes takes a little detour, and a little time. Your Christmas greetings issue was very fine, and well received, you can be sure. That list of names isn't a short one, is it? Which makes me think, Ken, you and the dozen other people in Charlevoix seem to be doing all right!

If hoping will get me there, I will be in the home town for Christmas. But if the army says "No", who am I to argue?

Don't have a heavy thaw when I get home. I want to see some real snow for a change!

As ever,
Lyle.

Dear Ken,

Just a line to let you know I am getting the Courier o. k., and am sure glad to get it and read what is happening in the old home town. I have passed my papers on to a friend and former Charlevoix resident, Roliand E. Dutton, machinists mate second class, a nephew of Bill Bellinger and a swell fellow. He is in another area and breaks "boot" a week or two before us, and he plans to come over and see me.

We have all our shots taken and passed all our obstacle course with flying colors, so we can break "boot" any time now.

Our platoon has the honor of being the best drilled, best dressed and neatest. We have the best daily and weekly average record for cleanliness and orderliness in the barracks of any in Area D-9. We are having competition drill tomorrow for D area record, and hope we can come off with top honors, as that gives us 24-hour liberty as soon as we get our I. D. cards, so we are trying like everything to really get on the ball and stay on it.

Well, Ken, I must close and go to bed before lights go out.

Your friend in service,
Clarence C. McCalmon WT 1c
Platoon 2752, Area D-9
Camp Peary, Va.

Clarence enclosed a copy of Camp Penry's newspaper, "Beelines."

Hello Ken and Charlevoix!

Here it is December 8th, and I have just received the December 1st edition of the Courier, and enjoyd it very much. I'm still here in the backwoods of Jasper, Tex. Don't know when we will head back for Louisiana, but in another month we will be off maneuvers and after that it looks as if it's adios for me to the U. S. (?) And I hope the Japs will get a taste of what the Fighting 9th Armored Division is made of.

But before this takes place, I wish all of the rest of the boys a merry Christmas and a happier coming year. I also wish my ex-boss, Harold Pearl, a merry Christmas, also to the rest of the paint slapper-onners like Tiger Allard and Tim Shores. Hope they all go back to painting as usual.

So long and a merry Christmas to all of Charlevoix. I remain as ever

Sincerely a friend,

Hi, Ken,

I just received my Courier, the first one since the 7th of November, so you can see I was really glad to get it.

We have been shifting around from one barracks to another. I think this will be my last move until a few weeks from now. At that time I'll be seeing a heck of a lot of salt water.

I'm going to school to learn how to be a fireman the navy way. As you probably have heard, there's the right way, and the wrong way, and the navy way.

Here it is just 14 days from Christmas, and in all my 20 years, this will be the first one away from home. But I guess there are a few million others who won't be home.

I would like to take this time to wish everyone a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. Maybe next year we can all be merry together.

Well, Ken, I'm going on lib tonight, so I had better get re I'll close for now, thanking and the swell people of our city of Charlevoix for the paper.

As ever,

Peter McCafferty, F2e

INSTALLATION OF O.E.S OFFICERS WAS FRIDAY

Miss Frances Durance Installed As New Worthy Matron

At open installation ceremonies Friday evening at the Masonic temple, new officers of Charlevoix Chapter No. 72, Order of the Eastern Star, took their offices for the coming year.

Opening the program, Mrs. Lloyd Curtis, retiring worthy matron, gave a farewell speech to her officers of the past year and presented each with a gift.

Installing officers were Mrs. William Shepard, of East Jordan, installing officer; Mrs. Neil Dorgan, of Boyne City, installing marshall; Mrs. G. W. Bechtold, of East Jordan, installing organist.

Miss Frances Durance, worthy matron, was escorted to the east by her officers, through an arch of American Beauty roses, while "Star of the East" was sung by the Charlevoices trio, Mrs. C. S. Webster, Mrs. E. D. Hawley and Mrs. Charles Bellinger. Mrs. Harry Walstad, associate matron, was then escorted to her station and presented with a basket of flowers by her daughter, Lois. Dr. F. F. McMillan, worthy patron, and Horace R. Fowler, associate patron, were each presented with a Jerusalem cherry plant from the chapter.

Other chapter officers are: conductress, Mrs. Harry Ladd; associate conductress, Mrs. Stewart Coleman; secretary, Mrs. Clair S. Webster; treasurer, Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman; marshall, Mrs. Lloyd Curtis; organist, Mrs. Charles Bellinger; chaplain, Mrs. Floyd Ikens; Adah, Mrs. Joseph Arvilla; Ruth, Mrs. Joseph Smith; Esther, Mrs. Robert C. Emrey; Martha, Mrs. Harry Gebeau; Electa, Mrs. Denn Davenport; warder, Mrs. S. O. Sorenson; sentinel, Mrs. E. E. Stroud.

At conclusion of the installation, Mrs. Curtis, retiring matron, was presented with a gift from her officers, a past matron's pin from the chapter, and a corsage from her family. Miss Durance, newly installed worthy matron, was presented with a corsage from her family, and a gavel from a cousin in Portland, Ore. Mrs. Horace R. Fowler made the presentation of the gavel.

After brief talks from out of town visitors, refreshments were served in the dining room at card tables covered with holly cloths and each centered with a lighted taper in a star holder. At one end of the dining room was a lighted Christmas tree, and tapers burned in all the windows.

About 75 members and friends, including visitors from East Jordan, Boyne City and Boyne Falls, were present at the ceremony.

INWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Orton VanDusen were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farmer, last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Miller, who has been visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. VerSnyder, was called away last Tuesday on account of the illness of her sister.

Miss Geraldine VerSnyder was an overnight guest of the Misses Marie and Evelyn Sippel, of Charlevoix, Thursday.

Mrs. Elmer Lyons entertained the Epworth Ladies' Aid at her home last Wednesday afternoon. There were 13 members present. The Aid is going to send Christmas greetings to each of the exmembers. Some weeks ago the Aid sent Christmas gifts to boys overseas whose mothers are members of the Epworth Ladies' Aid, and other boys in the community. After the regular business meeting, names were drawn for Xmas gifts. A lovely supper was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be the Christmas party, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Marray. Don't forget your gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ager were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Orton VanDusen, Monday evening.

BEAVER ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Emerald Gallagher arrived last Monday from Detroit to spend the holidays with the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher.

Alfred Ricksgers returned home last week from sailing on the lakes.

Bob Carpenter, manager of the Kroger store at Charlevoix, spent a few hours here Monday.

Carl Kuebler, game warden, spent a few days this week on the mainland.

Mrs. Gus Mielko returned Wednesday from South Haven, where she visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Soergel and three children.

Archie Lafrenivre left Monday for Detroit, where he was inducted into the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Boyle, of Chicago, arrived Monday to visit relatives and friends for a few days.

Leo C. Gallagher, who sailed on the lakes the past season, returned home this week to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gallagher.

Ed. Youngs is spending a few days on the mainland on business.

LIQUOR PURCHASERS MUST BE IDENTIFED

Persons Between 21-25 to Show Proof of Eligibility

Effective January 1, purchasers or consumers of liquor who are between the ages of 21 to 25, inclusive, must be prepared to furnish proper identification when purchasing liquor in the state of Michigan.

Identification cards may be obtained from the county clerk's office in the county in which the applicant resides. A small photograph and birth certificate of applicant must be furnished when making application for the card. Any person selling liquor to a person 25 years of age or less may demand to see this identification card.

A ruling from the state attorney general's office fixes a fee of one dollar for the cards, which will go into the county's general fund.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Twenty-one business men of Charlevoix have organized what will be known as the "Committee of 21", whose initial purpose is to promote the welfare of Charlevoix.

We would suggest that one of the first and most needed duties of the "committee of 21", whose primary object is the welfare and betterment of Charlevoix, is to insist that the evening mail, which arrives on the late train, is distributed and in the post office boxes of the patrons not later than 7:30 the following morning.

Messrs. Craig, Fletcher, Ewing and Pierre, teachers in the Charlevoix schools, returned Monday from the Soo, where they spent Thanksgiving vacation.

While playing tag last Friday, Harold Curtier, son of Alderman F. E. Curtior, fell and broke his right arm. Harold tumbled 16 feet from the porch roof of his home.

E. B. Ward left Monday for Flint to attend the State Grange meeting. He will stop in Alma to visit his daughter, Edna, who is attending school there.

Leff Carey writes from France, under date of November 12, to tell of the Armistice celebration in the French village where he is stationed. The French weren't joyful enough, the doughboys decided, so after waiting all day for a real celebration to break loose, 12 of the men in Leff's office started out in the evening with a mandolin and two pie tins and their hearty voices, and soon collected a crowd singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," until the mandolin broke.

More soldiers returning home: John Bird, from Columbus, Ohio; Arthur Fagan, from Camp Raritan, N. J.; Joe Sanford, from Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.; Robt. Bridge, who has been in navy training; Victor H. Hampton, will be home Saturday from Camp Kearney, Calif.

Franklin Sears, of the 57th Regt. Engineers, is captain of a U. S. tug carrying army supplies on rivers and small lakes in France.

Lt. L. B. Aseltine, former principal of C. H. S., and Glenn L. Lammis, who succeeded him, are both desirous of resuming their former positions on the faculty.

STORY OF THE WEEK

He Understood Women

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service)

AT TWENTY-FOUR Rance Fiske was a handsome lad and very much aware of the fact. He knew women and understood them. He delighted in conquests, prided himself on the long list of broken hearts for which he was responsible, possessed no scruples and believed himself infallible. In brief, Rance was a maker of love par excellence.

That was why Lorna Simms puzzled him. Lorna was the belle of Holbrook where Rance had gone to recuperate from a slight nervous breakdown. He met her the day after he arrived, and the forlorn, unhappy look left his eyes. It wasn't going to be so bad having to spend a month in this hick town, after all. In fact, he was rather glad he'd come, because Lorna looked as though she would be worth the effort of conquest.

Still she puzzled him. She didn't rise to his bait, didn't display any more interest in him than she did in the local youths, didn't seem at all flattered by his attentions. At first he was amused. He'd seen 'em set this way before, and knew exactly the system to use to bring 'em to terms.

And so Rance bided his time, waited two days, in fact, before making another try—and discovered she'd practically forgotten him in the interval. This was annoying. For a moment or two he was actually upset. No girl he'd ever known had reacted quite in this manner before. He analyzed the situation, assured himself that pretty Lorna was, after all, only a woman, despite her background, hence human, and sure-fire methods of approach.

She didn't rise to his bait, didn't seem at all flattered by his attentions.

He buckled down in dead earnest to the business of making a success of this new conquest and succeeded, much to the annoyance of one Gerald Niles, a local youth who had designs on the gorgeous Lorna, in causing her to display toward him what he identified as keen interest. But the keen interest was, as far as Lorna was concerned, nothing more than an amused attraction. She accepted an occasional invitation to attend a movie and go for a drive with him, but she never encouraged his attentions, never laughed more than was politely necessary at his wisecracks.

After two weeks, Rance took account of stock. There was only one explanation: Lorna wasn't the yokel he'd supposed. She was smart and she was playing the game as subtly and as cleverly as he. Well, all right. If that were her attitude he had a means of frustrating any female when it came to matters of the heart.

And so the next time Lorna accompanied him on a drive into the country he said casually: "Well, it looks as though I'll have to cut my visit short. Had a telephone call from New York last night and I guess I'll have to pull up stakes early tomorrow morning."

"It doesn't pay," said Lorna indifferently, "to stay away from your work too long in these times."

Rance coughed and looked away over the hills. "I don't suppose," he mused, "I'll be missed a great deal."

"That," said Lorna, "is because you haven't made many friends here. Folks think you're cold and hard and distant." She laughed apologetically. "I can understand why you feel you won't be missed. Though, frankly, I think it's your own fault."

"And I suppose," he said tetly, "the interest you've displayed in me was out of pity?"

She looked at him in grave concern. "Oh, I didn't want you to feel that way! You mustn't!"

Rance stepped on the starter of his hired car and headed it for town. He was grimly silent and annoyed. So she was still playing the game, eh? She thought he would swallow that line like those local apple knockers. So she knew that that telephone call business had been a gag and she wanted to impress him with the fact. Well, he'd show her she was wrong! He'd actually pack up and leave, and see how she liked that! He'd give her three days before he came back and if she weren't ready to come to terms by then—well, the system had never failed him yet.

And so the next day Rance packed his bags and walked around by Lorna's house a good hour before train time, to say good-by. Much to his disgust Lorna took his hand warmly. "It's really been nice knowing you, Rance I — I hope you don't think that my interest was wholly out of—" She broke off, laughing and Rance felt a wave of contempt surge through him. She was, after all, pretty crude about it. Telling him in such a sloppy manner that she really did care! As if he didn't know that! Well, she had gone a little too far. There was a limit to what a man could stand. He decided in that moment to go through with his plan, actually leave town for awhile and let her suffer.

"It's been nice knowing you, too," he told her with nicely gauged sarcasm. "Perhaps we'll meet again sometime."

"Oh, I hope so. I'd love to have you come up for the wedding."

"Wedding?"

"Mine and Gerald's. We're to be married next month, you know."

"No," said Rance, "I didn't know. But I think that's splendid. Just dandy!"

He turned and left her and during the five minutes it took to reach the station, a host of thoughts paraded through his mind. He couldn't settle on anything definite, however, couldn't convince himself of the reality of the facts that kept pounding against his brain.

The station platform, save for a solitary figure, was deserted, because it was still 45 minutes before train time. The solitary figure approached Rance and blocked his path.

"I guess," said the figure, "you know me. Well, I'm Gerald Niles and ever since the day you arrived I've wanted to punch your nose. In fact, I promised myself I wouldn't let you get out of town without doing it. Only reason I haven't is because of Lorna. Sometimes she makes me mad with that kind heart of hers. Just because everyone else thought you were a conceited, ignorant fool, Lorna took pity and thought it was her duty to befriend you. Well, that's O.K., except that I don't like the way you've been treating her. Why, damn it, you've acted as though you were doing her a favor, letting her ride around with you like that. And I maintain that a guy like you needs his nose punched, if he ever wants to learn anything, and in view of the fact that Lorna and I are to be married next month, I feel that it's my duty."

Whereupon Mr. Niles swung into action and presently Rance Fiske found himself sitting on the station platform with blood spurting from his nose and a dazed expression in his eyes. Presently his distorted vision cleared and he saw Gerald Niles shuffling disinterestedly out toward the village. He felt tenderly of his injuries and a smirk appeared on his face. The facts which had been pounding at his brain suddenly gained admission and asserted themselves. And Rance Fiske, maker of love par excellence, was for the first time in his life abruptly convinced of something besides his own ability in his chosen profession.

Chief Joseph Retreat Epic Military Move

Chief Joseph, upright, intrepid sachem of the Nez Perces (that's French for pierced noses), is renowned for a masterful military retreat that ended in his betrayal by the white man. Early in 1877 the government ordered the Nez Perces to move from their home in the Wallowa valley of Oregon to the Lapwai reservation in Idaho. Joseph, refusing, said that his claim to the valley had been upheld by President Grant in 1873. Attempts to eject the Indians were resisted, some white settlers were killed, and war was declared. After several battles which the whites lost, Joseph displayed remarkable generalship in a retreat that is famous to this day. Though soldiers were in front and behind him and on his flank, he brought his warriors, with their wives and children, to within 50 miles of the Canadian border before reinforcements compelled his surrender. When he yielded, it was with the promise that he would be permitted to return to his own country. The promise, given, was not kept, and the valiant sachem and his homesick people were sent to Indian territory in Oklahoma. But we can conclude on a pleasant note: Chief Joseph in time became the warm friend of his captor, Colonel Miles, and passed on in 1904, conscious that he was held in high esteem by his white brothers.

Police Orders Beyond Law

Magistrate Solomon ruled not long ago in New York city that the public need not obey police orders that go beyond the law.

Believe it or not, you don't really have to move on when a policeman orders you.

A Brooklyn man watching a sidewalk dice game dared to tell a policeman that it was a free country and that he was not going to move on until he was told the reason why. The magistrate upheld him, saying that he was well within his rights and not subject to such a dictatorial order.

RECOMMEND STOCKING ANTRIM COUNTY LAKE

Stocking of Central Lake in Antrim county with legal-sized rainbow trout has been recommended to the conservation department by the fish division's institute for fisheries research. The institute suggests that 2,000 of the fish be planted annually for three years beginning in the spring of 1944. The institute also recommends the discontinuing of bass and bluegill plantings until the results of the trout plantings are determined.

LEGAL NOTICES

Order for Publication

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1943.

Present: Hon. Rollie L. Lewis, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Hannah Rae Gilden.

Harry A. Craig, administrator, having filed in said court his petition, praying for license to sell the interest of said estate in certain real estate therein described,

It is ordered, that the 20th day of December, A. D. 1943, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said court, at said time and place, to show cause why a license to sell the interest of said estate in said real estate should not be granted;

It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

"If you bring in your car regularly you'll get the most out of it"

Studebaker's expert service gives you top-notch mileage

IT'S highly important to have your car inspected frequently, if you want to get top-notch mileage with a minimum of expense for repairs.

Our Studebaker mechanics are Essential Transportation workers who have been factory-trained to spot and correct trouble in a car before it gets serious.

Come in for inspections frequently, whatever make of car you drive. Our servicing is prompt and efficient because we use special procedures devised by factory experts on the great 800-acre Studebaker-pruving ground and in the famous Studebaker engineering laboratories.

Don't take chances with your car. Keep it up to par with Studebaker service.

How to get more out of your car

1. Lubricate on a time instead of a mileage basis.
2. Have an expert inspection made at frequent intervals.
3. Drive only when it's absolutely necessary.
4. Share rides with neighbors and fellow workers.
5. Have your tires switched regularly to prevent undue wear.

A typical illustration of the sudden sweep of righteous belligereney which suddenly transformed Ameriea into a hard hitting war machine is a group of women who guard the Allis-Chalmers supercharger plant in Milwaukee, Wis. Before Pearl Harbor, these women probably would have been shocked at the sight of a gun. Now they are crack shots with pistols, shotguns, and tommy guns, as they and other patriotic women guard our vital war plants.

CHATTERER HAS A PLEASANT SURPRISE

CHATTERER the Red Squirrel, the mischief-maker of the Green Forest, never had been more comfortable in his life. No matter how rough Brother North Wind roared across the Green Meadow and through the Green Furest, piling the snow in great drifts, he couldn't send so much as one tiny shiver through the little red coat of Chatterer. And always right at hand there was plenty to eat—corn and nuts and other good things such as Chatterer loved. But he wasn't happy, not truly happy. You see, he was in prison, and no matter how nice a prison may be, no one can be truly happy there.

Chatterer's prison was a nice, roomy cage made by Farmer Brown's Boy and kept in Farmer Brown's house. Since he had been a prisoner, Chatterer had learned to think very differently of Farmer Brown's Boy from what he used to think.

"He isn't at all like what I had thought," said Chatterer, "and if I was free I wouldn't be afraid of him at all. I—I'd like to tell some of the little Green Forest people about him. If only—"

Chatterer's prison was a roomy cage.

Chatterer didn't finish. Instead, a great lump filled his throat. You see, he was thinking of the Green Forest and the Old Orchard and how he used to race through the treetops and along the stone wall. Half the fun in life had been in running and jumping, and now there wasn't room in this little prison to stretch his legs. If only he could run—run as hard as ever he knew how—once in a while, he felt that his prison wouldn't be quite so hard.

That very afternoon, while Chatterer was taking a nap in his bed in the hollow stump, something was slipped over his little round doorway, and Chatterer awoke in a terrible fright to find himself a prisoner inside his hollow stump. There was nothing he could do about it but just lie there in his bed and shake with fright and wonder what dreadful thing was going to happen next. He could hear Farmer Brown's Boy very busy about something in his cage. After a long, long time his little round doorway let in the light once more. It had been opened. At first Chatterer didn't dare go out, but he heard the soft little whistle with which Farmer Brown's Boy always called him when he had something especially nice for him to eat, so at last he peeped out. There on the floor of the cage were some of the nicest nuts. Chatterer came out at once. Then his sharp eyes discovered something else. It was a queer-looking thing made of wire at one end of his cage.

Chatterer looked at it with great suspicion. Could it be a new kind of trap? But what would a trap be doing there when he already was a prisoner? He ate all the nuts, all the time watching this new, queer looking thing. It seemed harmless enough. He went a little nearer. Finally he hopped into it. It moved. Of course, that frightened him and he started to run up. But he didn't go up. No, sir, he didn't go up. You see, he was in a wire wheel, and as he ran the wheel went around. Chatterer was terribly frightened, and the faster he tried to run the faster the wheel went around. Finally he had to stop because he was out of breath and too tired to run another step. When he stopped the wheel stopped.

Little by little Chatterer began to understand. Farmer Brown's Boy had made that wheel to give him a chance to run all he wanted to and whenever he wanted to. When he understood this, Chatterer was as nearly happy as he could be in a prison. It was such a pleasant surprise! He would race and race in it until he just had to stop for breath, while Farmer Brown's Boy looked on and laughed to see how much happier he had made Chatterer.

FARM LABOR AID IS REPORTED BY MSC

Few farmers asked and did not receive help from the 1943 emergency farm labor program supervised by the Michigan State College extension service, according to a summary which indicates 95,547 placements were made in answer to 103,360 requests for such emergency labor.

Actually only 3,039 farmers failed to receive help, since the 21,017 farmers who sought help during the months of May through October needed an average of five workers during critical periods.

Men, women and children filled emergency roles in planting, cultivating and harvesting crops, according to A. B. Love, MSC farm economist who headed up the college's labor assistance program. There were 21,371 men, 02,393 children and 11,783 women who gave their time in helping Michigan's farm war production in 1943.

Public and private agencies cooperated. There was the War Manpower Commission, the U. S. Employment Service, labor division of the War Food Administration, War Relocation Authority, O. P. A., Defense Transportation, state and county war boards, Selective Service, Michigan Civilian Defense, State Department of Public Instruction, State Board of Control for Vocational Education, State Department of Agriculture and the Michigan Department of Health and county health units.

Private agencies included the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association, state associations of pickle manufacturers, cherry growers, muck farmers, canners, bean growers, Michigan State Grange and the Michigan State Farm Bureau. Newspapers and radio stations also were credited by Supervisor Love in aiding throughout various critical labor periods.

MICHIGAN LEADS IN LUMBER PRODUCTION

Survey of Retail Yard Stocks Shows Drop Since 1941

Lumber production during the third quarter of 1943 in the three important lumber producing lake states was only one per cent below that for the third quarter of 1942, with Michigan again producing the highest number of board feet, the conservation department's forestry division has announced.

During this quarter Michigan produced 101,700,000 board feet, 5,100,000 more than in the previous quarter. Wisconsin was next with 83,300,000 and Minnesota third with 54,100,000 board feet.

Although production fell off so little in the third quarter, the drop during the first half of the year was so sharp that output for the first nine months in the three lake states is down 20 per cent from production in the same period of 1942. Board feet produced in the first three quarters of 1943 in Michigan totaled 317,900,000, or 42.9 per cent of the amount produced by all three of the lakes states.

Besides the decline in lumber production, stocks in retail yards have decreased 64 per cent since December 1941 with more than 60 per cent of the decrease in the period since December 1942, a recent survey of lumber stocks by the Forest Service for the War Production Board reveals.

SIX TONS OF PAPER GATHERED IN DRIVE

Boy Scouts, City Trucks Picked Up Scrap Paper Saturday

The scrap paper drive staged Saturday in Charlevoix netted nearly six tons of paper, reports Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

It is expected that this will be loaded for shipment at Boyne City, where about 12 tons of paper was collected in Saturday's drive. East Jordan collected 15 tons, a full carload.

Boy Scouts and city trucks conducted the pick-up in this city.

OPA CHANGES RULES ON SALE WAR TIRES

Recapping Encouraged As Tire Conservation Measure

Tires manufactured principally from reclaimed rubber, or war tires, may now be bought by those persons heretofore eligible only for used tires, according to announcement from the Grand Rapids district OPA office.

Others who may obtain these used and reclaimed tires include military personnel who secure gasoline for official travel in their private cars.

Recapping of tires for commercial vehicles with truck-type camelback was removed from rationing, effective December 1. This action was taken to encourage more use of recapping service, thereby contributing to tire conservation by reducing the demand for replacement tires.

"JEEP" BOND DRIVE IN ISLAND SCHOOLS

Bonds Totaling $3,250 Maturity Value Sold by Students

December 7, second anniversary of Pearl Harbor, marked the climax of a successful "Jeep Drive" by students of Beaver Island schools.

During the three-month drive, students of St. James high school, McKinley school and Sunnyside school sold enough bonds and stamps to purchase an amphibian jeep for the army. Bonds and stamps sold totaled $2,675, with maturity value of $3,250.

McKinley school will receive a citation, awarded by the treasury department, for purchasing the greatest number of stamps during the drive.

The elementary room presented several musical selections. Lawrence Cull and Lillian Connaghan, seniors, addressed the student body on the subjects, "Supporting the U. S. A.," and "America's Patrons."

AREA SUPERVISOR IS LOANED TO OCD

Charles Hurd Takes Welfare Post Resigned by Gladwin Lewis

Charles Hurd, former supervisor of the Bureau of Social Aid in Wexford county, will succeed Gladwin H. Lewis, of Traverse City, as area supervisor of the State Bureau of Social Security in northern area.

Mr. Lewis, an employe of the state welfare commission, will be loaned to the state office of civilian defense as chief of the health and welfare section of that office. He has served four years as district consultant in Child Welfare Services, and four years in his present capacity as area supervisor.

ONLY RABBITS ARE LEFT FOR HUNTERS

February 15 Deadline for Filing Game Kill Reports

With deer hunting over, duck hunting ended December 3, the upland bird and squirrel season long past and 'coon and 'possom season closing December 15, the rabbit season is the only one with much time left (December 31 in the southern part of the lower peninsula, January 31 in the northern part and March 1 in the upper peninsula).

Now, while hunters are still comparing notes on their success, is the time for them to fill out and mail their game kill report cards, the conservation department's game division advises.

Although the deadline for filing report cards is February 15, this is believed the opportune time for the many thousands of hunters to make their reports so their individual scores can be tallied to get a composite picture of hunting conditions throughout the state.

These game kill reports are of as much importance to hunters who did not make a kill as to those who were successful, as they furnish the only reliable check on the abundance and location of game, conservation officials point out.

Hunters who have lost or mislaid their game kill report cards (the short stub of their licenses) can get duplicate report cards free of charge from district or regional conservation offices or from local conservation officers. Duplicate cards are available for small game, deer and trapping reports.

OPEN BEAVER SEASON IN LOWER MICHIGAN

Trapping in Southern Section to Be Permitted in 1944

For the first time since pioneer days, counties in the southern section of the lower peninsula will be open to beaver trapping next spring, while a closed season has been ordered for the upper peninsula by the state conservation commission.

The open trapping season for the lower peninsula will run from March 15 to March 31. Trappers will be permitted to take eight pelts each. They will be permitted to include two otter pelts in their limit of eight.

During the 1943 season, 4,766 beaver pelts were taken from the upper peninsula and 1,824 from the lower peninsula. Value of individual pelts ran as high as $50.

DRAFT STATUS IS UNCHANGED

OCCUPATIONAL DEFERMENTS WILL BE REVIEWED

Pre-Pearl Harbor Father Draft Delayed Long As Possible, Few Single Men Left

Following enactment of selective service legislation designed to place pre-Pearl Harbor fathers at the bottom of draft lists, the Charlevoix county selective service board is reviewing all 2-A and 2-B occupational deferments in an effort to delay drafting these fathers as long as possible.

However, little or no change in present policies has been effected by the recent congressional action. For some time, the state selective service board has been assigning county quotas on a percentage basis according to the number of single and childless men available in that county.

Single and childless men hitherto deferred for occupational reasons will be drafted before pre-Pearl Harbor fathers whenever possible, but in this county there are available very few men without dependents. Even reviewing occupational deferments is not expected to alter materially the draft status of fathers.

Deferments of men employed in farming, and on freight-carrying vessels, as well as those in war plants, are still in force. During the winter months, farmers and sailors may be employed in lumbering—a vital war industry—or in essential industries, without losing their deferment.

Occupational deferments in the future will be reviewed by the appeal board having jurisdiction over the area where the applicant is employed. Thus, Charlevoix men working in Detroit will have their cases reviewed by Detroit boards, rather than the local board. Those registered here will be included in Charlevoix county draft quotas, unless transferred to another board.

To date, 14 pre-Pearl Harbor fathers have been accepted for service from Charlevoix county of about 30 who have gone to the Detroit induction center for examination.

SAVE SERVICE MEN'S LETTERS, IS ADVICE

May Be Used to Establish Claims for Disability After War

Penton R. Bulow, chairman of the executive committee of Leslie T. Shupton Post No. 226, American Legion, recommends that parents, wives and sweethearts of service men and women should save all letters from these members of the armed forces which might later be used to verify disability claims following the war.

"It is a safe bet that records of the present war will be similar to those of World War 1, and will fail in many instances to show hospitalization or treatment for sicknesses, wounds or disabilities suffered in service," he said. "These letters should be saved and may be of great value in proving disability claims."

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Portray Living Christmas Cards in Unique Program

Mrs. Robert Bonthron opened her Dixon avenue home for the annual Christmas party of the Tuesday Study Club, held Tuesday evening, December 14.

Christmas greens and lighted candles provided the background for the portrayal by tableau, charade and music of living Christmas cards, direction and design of which were under the personal supervision of Mrs. Rosa Nettleton.

"The Guardian Angel," played by Mrs. Stewart Coleman and Mrs. Kit Carson, and "The Dorcas Society of 1730," with Mrs. O. P. North, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Mrs. Otta Krueger and Mrs. Lloyd Curtis, were voted the high lights of the evening, and varied numbers of well-acted, colorful historic Christmas scenes.

Mrs. Bonthron provided and arranged the decorations, and Mrs. Rose Nettleton wrote the script and designed costumes and accessories for the evening.

Mrs. Wilbur A. Cline, Mrs. A. W. Goddard and Mrs. Frank Courier were in charge of refreshments.

Third Period Spurt Gave Mancy Advantage; Pellston Comes Here on January 11

Mancelona won a fast and exciting basketball game from Charlevoix, Friday night, triumphing over the Rayders 24 to 18 on the local floor. It was Charlevoix's third loss of the season.

The two teams played on even terms in the first quarter, with the score knotted 5-all at the intermission. Four points for the locals and five for Mancelona made the score 9 to 10 at the half. During the third quarter, Mancelona piled up 12 points while holding the Rayders to three, ending that period with a score of 22 to 12. Charlevoix rallied in the final period to make six points to Mancelona's two.

Charlevoix had 12 chances for free throws and made good on four. Mancelona connected with four of seven tries from the foul line.

High scorer for Charlevoix was Chambers, with 7 points. Bellinger made 6, Ward 4, Plumm 1. Garlick tallied 14 points for Mancelona, J. Nothstine 5, Hamblin 3, McManus 2.

The Rayders will not play again until January 11, when Pellston comes here for a mid-week game.

MARION TOWNSHIP PIONEER SUCCUMBS

Services for Charles M. Pierce Held Saturday Afternoon

Charles M. Pierce, 87, pioneer Marion township resident, died Thursday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. August Cellner, with whom he resided. Although in failing health for several years, his death, resulting from a stroke, was sudden.

Born in Dearborn, March 1, 1857, Mr. Pierce came to Marion township with his wife, the former Anna Bigelow of Wayne county, in 1881. He spent the rest of his life as a farmer, residing successively on four farms in Marion township. Mrs. Pierce preceded him in death in 1933.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. August Cellner, of Marion township; a son, Lee; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Donald R. Evans from the Seo Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

CADILLAC CIRCUIT JUDGE IN CHARGE

Parm C. Gilbert Goes to Florida for Winter Months

Judge Fred S. Lamb, of Cadillac, judge of the 28th judicial circuit of Michigan, has been assigned to take care of court work in the 13th district, during the absence of Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

Judge Gilbert, who only recently returned to his duties after a long absence because of illness, has gone to Miami, Fla., for the winter.

No other state has a shore line equal to Michigan's with 1,624 miles on the Great Lakes. Michigan also has approximately 5,000 inland lakes.

First Air WAC

Miss Betty Ross, who was sworn into the Women's Army Corps in Detroit on December 13, is the first young woman from Charlevoix to enter the newly-organized Air Wacs. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Ross.

Placed on a reserve list of Wac recruits, she will be sent to basic training after January 1. Upon completion of basic training, she will be assigned as an Air Wac to a position in the army air forces. Miss Ross' interest in aviation led her to request assignment to this branch of service.

Graduate of Charlevoix high school, she has two brothers in service, Cpl. Lyle Ross, somewhere overseas, and Franklin Ross, with the coast guard at Ludington.

Contributions to CSO

Contributions to the Charlevoix Service Organization have been received from Mrs. Harry Powers, Rosemary Swanson, Mrs. Dan Potter, and Winfield Emrey, of Lowell, Mass.

SCHEDULE OF POWER SQUADRON CLASSES

Eight Lessons on Piloting Will Be Given This Winter

Schedule of classes for the Charlevoix Power Squadron's winter course in elementary piloting was announced this week by Muson Bond, chairman of the training program.

Organization meeting will be Thursday, January 6, at the high school commercial classroom. Lectures, given by experienced navigators, will be as follows: January 13, equipment and lights for all types of vessels; Jan. 20, rules of the road at sea; Jan. 27, seamanship; Feb. 3, safety at sea; February 10, the mariner's compass; Feb. 17, aids to navigation; Feb. 24, charts and pilating; Mar. 2, manners and customs on shipboard.

Everyone is welcome to attend the classes, which will be given at no charge. Those who wish to attend any certain lecture are asked to refer to the above list and keep that date in mind for future attendance.

DRAFTEES TO FORT SHERIDAN TUESDAY

County's December Army Group Given Notice to Report

Eight army selectees from Charlevoix county will leave for Fort Sheridan, Ill., on the 3:35 train Tuesday, December 28.

Comprising the December army contingent are: William 1. Supernaw, Walter C. Bergoon, Simeon C. Perron, of Charlevoix; John W. Smith, Delbert O. Paquette, Russell G. Chipman, of Boyne City; Stanley C. Hale, of East Jordan; John C. Cunningham, of St. James.

DICKENS CLUB GUESTS OF SHAKESPEARE CLUB

Christmas Program Given at Home of Mrs. Robert Bridge

The Charlevoix Shakespeare Study Club entertained the Charles Dickens Club on Monday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. Robert Bridge, who was assisted by Mrs. Glenn See and Mrs. Ray Kipke.

Opening the Christmas program were the Charlevoices trio, Mrs. Clair Webster, Mrs. Charles Bellinger and Mrs. E. D. Hawley, who sang "Winter Wonderland." Tommy Erber sang "Jolly Old St. Nicholas."

Mrs. G. H. Saltanstall read a Christmas story, which was supplemented by carols sung by the clubs, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Don Swinton. Mrs. Clair Webster and Mrs. Karl Erber read a bit of nonsense titled "The Dickens and Shakespeare Hodge Podge." "Jesu Bambino" was sung by the Charlevoices to close the program.

Refreshments of tea, cakes and cookies were served from a table at which presided Mrs. A. W. Goddard, Dickens Club president, and Mrs. Glenn See, Shakespeare Club president.

JACK GOLOMAN IS INJURED ON SHIP

SAVES TWO MEN IN BLAZE ON LCI BOAT

Commander of Craft Operating in Southwest Pacific; Admitted to Naval Base Hospital

Ensign Jack Goldman, U. S. naval reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin D. Goldman, of St. Louis, Mo., and Charlevoix, is in a naval hospital somewhere in the southwest Pacific following a near-disaster on the LCI boat which he commands. He emerged a hero from the incident, which occurred about the middle of November.

According to reports reaching the Goldman family from Lt. Ernest G. Loeb, U. S. naval reserve, of Chicago and Charlevoix, Ensign Goldman had gone into the ship's engine room to repair a leak in fuel oil lines which was discovered as the ship was approaching port, though yet a few miles out from harbor. While he was in the engine room, the oil ignited and he was forced to make a dash for safety. Rescuing two other men from the flames, Ensign Goldman himself suffered severe burns.

Lt. Loeb said he had visited Ensign Goldman in the hospital where he is undergoing treatment. He has recovered sufficiently from his burns to sit up in a wheelchair, and will suffer no permanent injury.

The Goldmans have maintained a summer home in Charlevoix for many years.

RECREATION CENTER IS CLOSED UNTIL JANUARY

St. Mary's recreation center will be closed as a youth recreation place until after January 1, it was announced Monday. The center will re-open when a regular supervisor is secured for the evenings when it is open to the youth of Charlevoix.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

CHRISTMAS IN CITY CHURCHES

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES HELD THIS WEEK

Midnight Service Christmas Eve Planned at Congregational and Catholic Churches

Charlevoix churches are observing Christmas week with special programs and services in celebration of the most joyous season of the year.

At the Congregational church, a candlelight service will begin at 11:30 Christmas eve. Youth of the church are in charge of the service, at which adult and youth choirs will join in singing traditional music. Sunday school children presented their program at the church Tuesday evening.

Twelve o'clock on Christmas eve will mark beginning of midnight mass at St. Mary's church. On Christmas day, there will be a mass at Bay Shore at 8:30 a. m. Mass at 10:30 a. m. in Charlevoix is to be followed by benediction. On Sunday, mass will be celebrated at 8 a. m. at Bay Shore, and 10 a .m. in the Charlevoix church.

Baptist Sunday school students presented a Christmas program at the church Sunday evening. No special service is planned for Friday night or for Christmas day.

"The Miracle of the Wooden Shoe" is the title of the play presented Wednesday evening by juniors and intermediates of the Church of God Sunday school, followed by a Christmas hymn pantomime by the young people's group.

While a Christmas program was given Sunday afternoon at the Episcopal church, there will be a celebration of holy communion at the church at 8 a. m. on Christmas morning.

At the Methodist church a family night potluck supper and Sunday school Christmas program will be given Wednesday evening. Due to the absence of Rev. Leigh H. Hagle, the usual Christmas eve service is not scheduled.

RETURNED VETERANS RECORD DISCHARGES

File Papers With County Clerk As Soon as Discharged

Veterans discharged from service during the present war are reminded that they may have their discharge papers recorded in the county clerk's office at no charge, thereby assuring a permanent record of their war service.

Certified papers will be necessary for bonuses, disability claims, and other possible uses after the war. Veterans who have mislaid or lost their discharge papers may be greatly inconvenienced when unable to produce proof of honorable discharge.

Many Charlevoix county veterans have already recorded their discharges. Others are urged to do so as soon as they are discharged.

Announce Birth of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isaksen announce the birth of a son, Harold John, at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey on Wednesday, December 8. Mrs. Isaksen, who is the former Lucille Shorter, of Petoskey, and her infant son are now at the home of Mr. Isaksen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isaksen, on Mason street.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

Here's wishing you, and You, and YOU, a very merry Christmas.

Christmas is one of America's greatest traditions. Probably nowhere in the world is it observed with the same deep sentiment as in this country. And this year, even amidst the thunder of a global war which has taken hundreds from our community, the magic of Christmas will prevail, for we know that among the things these absent loved ones are fighting for is to preserve the privilege to observe this tradition. So as in years before, the Yuletide spirit will reach into the hearts of everyone with a mellowing influence which arouses generosity, erases ill feelings, pushes aside the bothersome little things which seem at other times to plague our everyday existence. It will again be a season of good followship. The boys "over there" would want it that way, I am sure

And speaking of Christmas sentiment, contributions to a local "Santa Claus" fund have been received from Mrs. Arthur P. Taylor and Mrs. W. H. McGregor, summer residents, and Mrs. Ruby Staley, of Detroit. These contributions, which are evidence and portray the Yuletide sentiment referred to in the foregoing paragraph, are motivated, no doubt, by the childish appeals contained in a "Letters to Santa Claus" column carried in this and two previous issues of the Courier. Many of these children would have been provided for without aid, and now those who would perhaps have been de-

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Am waiting out here to get assigned to a combat outfit as an aerial gunner. If they don't hurry things up here, I will be missing the victory parade in Berlin. Chuck Greeley wants me to meet him there to collect souvenirs and shoot craps with the German prisoners.

Say, that wasn't a misprint about Joe Foster getting a buck near Springvale, was it?

Best of luck to the boys sweating it out in the jungles.

The news about Joe's buck was just the way we heard it, Bernie—from Joe himself.

Gentlemen:

Please accept my belated thanks for sending me your paper. That link that it maintains between me and the home town is very concrete and appreciated. Both here at Solomons, and at Great Lakes, I have seen bundles of home town papers, unopened, thrown in G. I. cans, but rest assured the Courier I receive never gets that fate until I've read it from cover to cover.

The "boots" and the 9-day leave granted by Great Lakes long past, I am truly about to become a seaman. I was one of a group of 20 selected to attend a relatively new boatswain's mates school here at Solomons. Generally speaking, the course is seamanship—knots, splices, fenders—"the works," as they say. With my agricultural background, this will require considerable transition for me. The things that are taught us are all practical and I believe they will prove useful to me after the war.

There are a couple of items about Charlevoix and its activities I should like to mention. First, let me say that my former employment took me into many small towns—not only in Michigan, but out of state, too—and I have yet to find a finer Roll of Honor than you have there at home. Next I would like to thank and congratulate the Kiwanis for their very

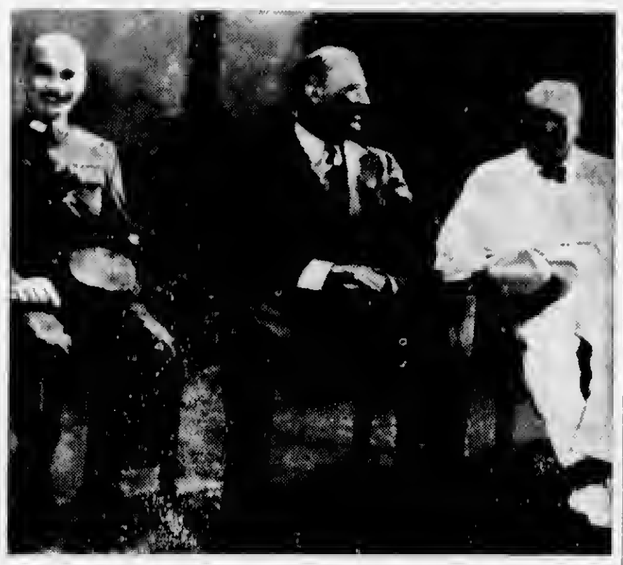
Triumvirate Plans to Smash Japanese



Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, representing the triumvirate of China, the United States and Britain, as they conferred in Cairo, Egypt. Decisions were reached to beat Japan into unconditional surrender and to force her to give up all the islands she has seized in the Pacific since the Sino-Japanese war in 1891, and all other territories which she has taken by violence and greed." Later, at a conference in Iran, Roosevelt, Churchill and Premier Josef Stalin of Russia were reported to have decided on a similar policy toward Germany. Germany, it was reported, would be quarantined as the world's No. 1 aggressor and thrown back inside her original borders. Unless Germany surrenders unconditionally it is believed she will be subjected to more of the intense bombing which has destroyed much of Berlin.

CORRESPONDENCE

MAPLE GROVE

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Leslie Howe. Deepest sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

Keaneth Allison is visiting (?) in Boyne City today. We're all wishing him a pleasant visit, for it was the dentist he went to see.

Mrs. Otto Kane and son, Billy, left for Detroit, Saturday, where they will make their home during the winter months.

The Peter Winnick family have been taking turns having the flu. Just now Peter, Sr., is the unlucky one.

Over the week end the fox hunters were busy, but to date the fox seems to be alive. At least no report to the contrary has been given out.

Clifford Short called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, Saturday evening.

The Christmas program at the school will be held Thursday night, Dec. 23, at 8:00. All the parents and friends of the children are given a most cordial invitation to attend. There will be no Christmas vacation this year, so we expect to be on the job every school day all winter.

The 4-H Club members are very busy with coping saws these days, and if enthusiasm is any evidence of success, this club should receive credit. The three girls in the club, Dolores Winaick, Belma Kane and Dolores Kaskey, are giving the boys plenty of competition. They are all interested in making toys and Christmas gifts just at present.

MARION CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. Lud Greiner went on a visit to Holly, Mich., to see relatives and friends. They expect to stop at Frankfort on their way back.

Beans

So long as a soldier can eat and think up disparaging names for his equipment the Army will do all right. Food is either "beans," or "chow."

"Chow" may consist of a well cooked meal or if circumstances demand our fighting men have learned to subsist on "Ration K," the concentrated food that all of them carry into battle.

With millions of men and women in the services it will require a lot of War Bond buying on our part to keep them happy.

CHATTERER IS MADE FUN OF

"HA, HA, HA! HO, HO, HO! Mr. Smarty caught at last!" Sammy Jay fairly shrieked with glee as he peered down from the top of an apple tree at Chatterer the Red Squirrel in the cage Farmer Brown's Boy had made for him. Sammy Jay was so relieved to think that Chatterer was not dead, and he was so tickled to think that Chatterer, who always thought himself so smart, should be caught, that he just had to torment Chatterer by laughing at him and saying mean things to him until Chatterer lost his temper and said things back quite in the old way. This tickled Sammy more than ever, for it sounded so exactly like Chatterer when he had been a free little imp of mischief in the Green Forest that Sammy felt sure that Chatterer had nothing the matter with him.

But he couldn't stop very long to make fun of poor Chatterer. In the first place, Farmer Brown's Boy had put his head out of the barn door to see what all the fuss was about. In the second place, Sammy fairly ached all over to spread the news through the Green Forest and over the Green Meadows. You know he is a great gossip. And this was such unusual news! Sammy knew very well that no one would believe him.

"All right," Sammy would reply. "It doesn't make the least bit of difference in the world to me whether you believe it or not. You can go up to Farmer Brown's house and see him in prison yourself, just as I did!"

So, late that afternoon when all was quiet around the farmyard, Chatterer saw something very familiar looking behind the old stone wall, on the edge of the Old Orchard. It bobbed up and then dropped out of sight. Then it bobbed up again, only to drop out of sight just as quickly.

"It looks to me very much as if Peter Rabbit is over there and feeling very nervous," said Chatterer to himself, and then he called sharply, just as when he was free in the Green Forest. Right away Peter's head bobbed up for all the world like a jack-in-the-box, and this time it stayed up. Peter's eyes were round with surprise as he stared across at Chatterer's prison.

"Oh, it's true!" gasped Peter, as if it was as hard work to believe his own eyes as it was to believe Sammy Jay. "I must go right away and see what can be done to get Chatterer out of trouble." And then because it was broad daylight and he really didn't dare stay another minute, Peter waved a good-by to Chatterer and started for the Green Forest as fast as he could run.

A little later who should appear peeping over the stone wall but Reddy Fox. It seemed very bold of Reddy, but really it wasn't nearly as bold as it seemed. You see, Reddy knew that Farmer Brown's Boy and Bowser the Hound were over in the Old Pasture and that he had nothing to fear. He grinned at Chatterer in the most provoking way.

"Smarty, smarty, Mr. Smarty
Glad to see you looking hearty!
Weather's fine, as you can see,
Won't you take a walk with me?"

So said Reddy Fox, knowing all the time that Chatterer couldn't take a walk with anyone. At first Chatterer scolded and called Reddy all the bad names he could think of, but after a little while he didn't feel so much like scolding. In fact, he didn't half hear the mean things Reddy Fox said to him. You see, it was coming over him more and more that nothing could take the place of freedom. He had a comfortable home, plenty to eat and was safe from every harm, but he was a prisoner, and having these visitors made him realize it more than ever. Something very like tears filled his eyes, and he crept into his hollow stump, where he couldn't see or be seen.

AAA FEED PAYMENTS MADE AFTER JAN. 1

Farmers Submit Cream Statements to Boyne City Office

Farmers in Charlevoix county may receive their dairy feed payments for the months of November and December, beginning January 1, at the AAA office in Boyne City, by presenting evidence of sale of whole milk, butterfat and dairy butter.

Farmers who may find it inconvenient to call at the AAA office for their payment, may submit their cream statements or other evidence by mail. The draft covering the amount due will be forwarded to the farmer at once and all supporting evidence will be returned with the payment.

All farmers are urged to submit their evidence immediately after the first of the year in order that all payments may be made promptly.

FOR THAT CAR OF YOURS!

SOUNDS FUNNY -- BUT IT'S TRUE! Cars that do a lot of "marking time" in garages actually need more care than cars that are used constantly. That's not just our idea. It's a scientific fact! When a car stands idle, water condenses in the crankcase -- greases tend to dry and harden -- there's a better chance for corrosion . . . to mention just a few of the evils that arise. So don't let the mileage fool you. In Wartime, your car needs regular attention no matter how much or how little you drive it. And that goes double in warm weather!

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Christmas in Michigan this year of our Lord, 1943:

It will not be a "merry" Christmas. The shadow of war is heavy on nearly 400,000 homes. The flower of Michigan's manhood will be absent from the family table this Saturday. Many chairs will be vacant, temporarily; only a few, permanently.

Many will be the prayers offered for the safe return of loved ones—sons and husbands and fathers, and even brothers and sisters and daughters and mothers.

We are beginning to know the meaning of "all-out" war.

No, it will not be the old-fashioned happy Christmas such as Michigan has enjoyed traditionally in yesteryears.

But even the clouds of war, fraught as they are with fears, cannot eclipse the spirit of Christmas in our hearts. We have the genuine satisfaction, denied to millions of people in Europe and Asia, of dwelling here in security. No enemy plane has yet rained sudden or lingering death upon men, women and children in our American cities, our homes, our factories and our farms.

We can give thanks that the battle front today is on foreign soil, not American soil. And we do so with recognition that this security of Christmas-tide is being bought at a high price—the risk of the lives of many Michigan men. In our sadness at their absence, we find comfort in the realization that our Christmas security represents an American ideal for which our boys are fighting, and that they would prefer to have it that way.

The war has done many things to Michigan.

Our factories, for the most part, have been converted to production of weapons of war. Michigan's mass production plants are in the larger cities, and they have become magnets drawing thousands of citizens from small towns and villages.

The drain of men into the service and workers into war plants has been particularly heavy in counties which are at a distance from the big industrial centers. Thus only one county in the Upper Peninsula has escaped a decline in war-time population.

While Michigan cities are badly congested with war workers, our northland has become an increasingly important health haven. Resorts served by good transportation were heavily patronized last season; many war executives and workers found physical and spiritual rest in northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. More of them will do so in 1944.

Michigan farmers and their families will have Christmas dinner with few ration worries and with much to be thankful for. The early spring rains were followed by a good growing season. Livestock and poultry are plentiful, even if adequate feed is becoming a serious problem.

If there is an abundance of food at the Christmas tables of our 100,000 Michigan men in military service, then Michigan owes thanks to the perseverance and determination of the farmers and their families. Crops were harvested this year literally by women and children instead of by adult farm hands.

The breech between farm and labor has been widened. Class and sectional interests are dominant. The American Farm Bureau federation, for example, has just criticized the government for paying "excessive wages for war plant construction and operation" and thus setting into motion a "wage inflation" for city workers, some of whom were drained from farms. Such typifies the feeling of many Michigan farmers.

Michigan working men in war plants are restless, too.

There are demands for increased wages to offset the "rapid rise" in the cost of living, the demands that unless the "orgy of war profiteering is stopped" the worker's war morale will be seriously affected. (Quotation from a labor resolution).

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has warned that in the postwar period Michigan would have six ex-service men for every ten persons employed in 1940, or a labor surplus of 60 per cent on the 1940 basis. What is to become of the war worker? He would like to know. What is to become of the state's new citizens, migrants from other states who were attracted here by high wages? Will they go on relief or return to their former homes?

General Motors corporation has announced its post-war "master plan" whereby approximately $500 millions will be spent for reconversion of war plants, technological improvements and re-tooling for new cars. This is based on an expectation of an annual national income of $100 billions instead of $70 billions prior to the war.

As a result of today's tremendous backlog of purchasing power—Michigan banks are loaded with extra money—industry's gradual return to peace-time production should be accompanied by a boom in the sale of automobiles and other consumer goods.

Yes, the future of Michigan's automobile industry is decidedly bright, compared with the uncertain outlook of airplane plants. We can be thankful for that.

Management looks to the opportunity of free enterprise, predicated on voluntary collective bargaining by labor and on joint responsibility for the general welfare. Both management and labor prefer responsibility to government control on a collective type, call it what you may—fascism, communism, or socialism.

At Lansing the state administration—Governor Kelly and other elected state officials—have watched the steady growth of a state surplus which it is estimated will reach $50 millions by July 1. The productive 3 per cent sales tax, abetted by an unwelcome price inflation, is creating a needed post-war reserve fund.

The state legislature will meet in special session, probably around Feb. 1, to consider specific fiscal and war legislation. By then the atmosphere should be cleared of the recent confusion surrounding the grand jury investigation. Judge Leland W. Carr is running the show, for a grand jury inquiry is strictly a judicial responsibility.

Legislative leaders are cooperating with administrative leaders in seeking to avoid a wartime feast of the $50 million fund. A long-range planning program may be approved, permitting priority on needed improvements during the post-war period.

Nationally, 1943 has brought complete agreement among the Allies that 1944 will see full-fledged invasions of Europe and attempts at a "knock-out blow" against Germany. Fighting in the Pacific has been of the "perimeter" character, at the outer fringe of Japan's new empire.

Christmas will be observed by Michigan with the conviction that while the worst days are ahead, Victory is assured.

We are already thinking ahead to the winning of the peace.

That is a good omen.

"Old Acquaintance"

"Old Acquaintance," adapted from the successful Broadway production of the same name by John Van Druten, starring Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins, will be the new screen fare presented at the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday.

The new Warner Bros. picture features Gig Young, John Loder, and Dolores Moran. Directed by Vincent Sherman, "Old Acquaintance" is the poignant story of two women, complete opposites as to character and intelligence, whose lives run parallel in the course of many years.

Canada's Ice Murder Solved But Still a Mystery

Whiteman's justice amazes Eskimos, especially legal procedure when a family affair like murder is committed. Which is why the frozen body of a murdered Eskimo remains embalmed in ice waiting for next summer when thawed out justice may take it course . . . but probably won't. Read the details in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Dec. 26) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

From Your Congressman
Fred Bradley

Senator Hugh Butler, Republican of Nebraska, has charged gross waste and extravagance in the use of our money in Central and South American countries. His report has caused a storm of criticism throughout the country. Recently a sub-committee of the House military affairs committee made an inspection trip by air over much of this same territory. This committee reported that our good-neighbor policy has produced mutual benefit throughout the western hemisphere but added "bungling tactics by amateur good-will emissaries who bid against each other have created confusion and injured American standing." As an example of "poor planning" the committee cites the board of economic warfare who sought to develop a number of airports for the rubber trade, bringing in great quantities of supplies and high priority equipment for this purpose. Development of airports along the upper reaches of the Amazon is a tremendous undertaking and not at all necessary because seaplanes could be used to take advantage of Brazil's great natural waterways and eliminate the time and cost required for airport construction.

In discussing Butler's charges there are two things to be considered. First, the dire military necessity that confronted us after Pearl Harbor in preventing the Germans and Japanese from becoming entrenched in South America. It was imperative we rid ourselves of our enemies and secure bases—both air and naval—on the coast of Brazil from which we could transport both men and materials to North Africa and Europe. Of the estimated six billion dollars spent in those countries we must not forget the vast sums which went for building up our own defenses at the Panama Canal, in Guatemala, at the Galapagos Islands—800 miles out in the Pacific—where we have an enormous air and naval base. Any waste in these projects could be considered unavoidable because we were fighting against time. Defenses have been built up at Trinidad, and great air bases at Belem and Natal—where beautiful airports have been carved out of a jungle with runways two miles long and from which our transport planes take off for Africa, India and Europe—and the naval base at Recife, all of these were absolutely necessary in order to maintain vigilant patrols over the shipping lanes off the coast of Africa to blast enemy subs and keep open the highways of the sea in order to bring raw materials from South America to our own industrial centers. Secondly, South America today is furnishing us with many raw materials such as manganese, which is essential for the manufacture of steel; bauxite, from which aluminum is made and which comes from Dutch Surinam; tin from Bolivia; rubber from Amazonia and quinine from Ecuador. Our entire war effort would have been stymied were it not for these raw materials which South America is shipping.

Now here is an all-important question—to whom does the title to all these various bases rest? Are we going to have any use of them after the war or do they revert to the nations upon whose soil they are resting? Under present arrangements they all will be turned over the government in which they happen to be located within six months after the cessation of hostilities. It is obvious that these countries themselves can never operate such costly enterprise and it is equally true that the United States cannot allow these valuable fields and properties to fall into the hands of any potential enemy. While these fields took us closer to the enemy, they are at the same time bringing the enemy closer to us and we today are in more danger of attack from a hostile foe than before the fields were built unless we maintain control of them. Our government should immediately arrange to retain control of all these important bases after the war and put forth every effort to use them in the development and control of postwar commerce for the potential possibilities of post-war trade with South America are almost unlimited.

The committee agreed that there is much waste of social planning where it is not desirable and they are agreed that it is impossible to impose our culture or our philosophy of life upon other peoples. They found several New Deal agencies down there which after being repudiated at home had been lifted bodily out of this country to try the braintrusters' experiments on our South American neighbors just as if they were so many guinea pigs. That is an absurd inexcusable waste of our money and an unwise policy that should be speedily ended.

The home poultry flock of 15 hens should produce at least 1,825 eggs a year.

Dear Santa Claus,

I would like very much to have a pair of flannel slacks, size 16, and a pair of skating socks, size 10. And my two little sisters would like a set of dishes and a sewing set. And my three brothers would like a bunny gun and two painting sets, or two clay sets.

I guess we're not asking for too much.

Yours truly,

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEIF

On the far side of a knoll exposed to enemy guns to the Solomons, one of Pfc. Rondell Lyons' comrades was wounded. Marine Private Lyons brought him in. Another man was hit. Lyons brought him, too, to safety. The injured men were thirsty. But all canteens were empty, and the Japs had the only water hole covered. Lyons went out in the face of continuous Jap fire and brought back water for his comrades. For this he wears the Silver Star. He risked his life for his fellows. The least we can do is buy more War Bonds for them.

NOTICE

The War Production Board has recommended that cities refrain from using electricity for outdoor Christmas decorations this year as it requires the use of more fuel oil than normal. In complying with this request the City Council will not have the usual lighted community Christmas tree and urges that citizens also refrain from using electricity for outdoor decorations. Fuel oil for the diesel plant is rationed, which means that the oil we can save will be available for United Nations ships.

NEW LICENSE PLATES FOR MICHIGAN AUTOS

One-Plate System Adopted from Florida; On Sale Jan. 1

Michigan motorists who have been using 1942 plates—with 1943 tabs affixed—may obtain a brand new license plate after January 1. Shipment of 1944 plates to state department branch offices has already started.

Only one plate will be issed this year, to be attached to the rear of the auto. Full-year licenses are white numerals on maroon background; half-year, maroon numerals on white background. The one-plate system, which originated in Florida several years ago, has been adopted by Michigan to conserve metal.

Lettering and numbering systems remain the same. Licenses for the city of Charlevoix will run from 2201 to 3300 this year. The secretary of state's office has again stressed that no favors can be granted in giving special numbers to any motorist. Plates must be issued in exact numerical order, and no applications or fees can be held up until a certain number is reached.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

HOSPITAL RECEIVES BLOOD PLASMA STOCK

Supply Apportioned on Basis of Collections at Clinic

Charlevoix Hospital has received a stock of blood plasma from the Michigan state health department's Lansing laborntories, as one of the communities whose residents gave blood for establishing civilian plasma reserves.

The plasma was processed from blood collected during visits of a traveling clinic to Lansing, Dowagiac, Holland, Cadillac, Midland, Boyne City, Big Rapids, Manistee, Owosso and Sturgis. Charlevoix and East Jordan residents were included among those who gave blood at the Boyne City clinic.

Stocks of plasma were apportioned among communities on the basis of units of blood supplied locally by donors. It is furnished to local physicians free of charge by the state health department, thus making it necessary for the patient to pay only the physician's fee for administering the transfusion.

The Lansing laboratories will maintain plasma reserves also to meet emergency needs anywhere in the state, the office of civilian defense having first priority. Plasma now being processed is in liquid form and is stored at room temperature.

CUT LONG DISTANCE CALLS IN HOLIDAYS

Give Service Men Chance to Call Home, Says Michigan Bell

Civilians who want to do something for service men during the coming holidays can take a tip from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and lay off non-essential long distance calls.

The company urges "home fronters" to put aside the long distance impulse on Christmas eve and day and New Year's eve and day, in order that service men be given the right-of-way over the nation's telephone network. Men in uniform are expected to flock to telephones all over the country during those four days to get in touch with the "folks back home."

It isn't that service men's calls won't be put through just as rapidly as possible. On the contrary, the Bell system has more than 300 telephone centers at military and naval establishments, USO quarters, railroad stations, and the like where operator-attendants are on hand to expedite their calls. It's simply a matter, the company points out, of the capacity of the long distance network during wartime when materials are unobtainable to expand facilities. If civilians refrain from using long distance, service men have a better chance of their calls being completed.

INLAND LAKES ARE SURVEYED BY STATE

Fish-Mapping Parties to Cover Five Northern Counties

Three fish-mapping parties now surveying state inland lakes are expected to cover approximately 75 lakes in Charlevoix, Oakland, Livingston, Hillsdale and Leelanau counties during the winter, the conservation department's institute for fisheries research announces.

The surveys, which include soundings taken through the ice, contour mapping and study of the character of bottom material, form the basis for biological work done during the summer. They also serve as guide to the maintenance and improvement of fishing in popular Michigan lakes.

Fifteen hundred lakes in the state have already been mapped for the conservation department by the institute for fisheries research, the forest service and the C. C. C.

Charlevoix County State Bank

AAA COMMITTEE ELECTIONS HELD

WALTER HENLEY IN FIFTH TERM AS CHAIRMAN

Delegates Chosen Friday; Met in Boyne City, Saturday, to Pick Officers for 1944

Walter H. Henley, of Marion township, was re-elected Charlevoix county AAA chairman for his fifth consecutive term at the AAA county convention in Boyne City, Saturday.

Melvin J. Somerville, of Evangeline township, was elected vice-chairman, and Lawrence Addis, of South Arm township, was elected as third member. LeRoy Hardy, of Wilson township, and Carl Prohaska, of Bay township, were chosen as alternates to the county committee. The 1944 term of office begun immediately upon election of the members to office.

Norrine L. Porter, of Boyne City, was re-appointed secretary-treasurer of the county association by the county committee at conclusion of the election.

Delegates taking part in the county convention were chosen at community elections on Friday evening. At these meetings community AAA committees were elected as follows:

Bay township: chairman, Carl Prohaska; vice-chairman, Tom Willis; third member, Mrs. Frances Skornia; alternates, Albert Skornia and Fred Stolt.

Boyne Valley, Chandler and Hudson townships: chairman, Henry Korthase; vice-chairman, Perry McGee; third member, Peter Debonink; alternates, Harry DeNise and Thomas Mntelski.

Evangeline and Melrose townships: chairman, Frank Carlson; vice-chairman, Allen Sherk; third member, James Hnbasco; alternates, Robert Tainter and Carl Stevens.

Hayes township: chairman, William J. Price; vice-chairman, Carlos J. Cole; third member, Wolfe Price; alternates, William Hair and Leo Berg.

Eveline township: chairman, Walter Kemp; vice-chairman, Herbert Gould; third member, Arthur Nicloy; alternates, Philo Giffin and Frank Russell.

Marion and Norwood townships: chairman, Clayton Smith; vice-chairman, Archie Brown; third member, Clyde Cunningham; alternates, Lavern McGhan and Orville Hilton.

South Arm township: chairman, Theodore LaCroix; vice-chairman, Ira Lee; third member, William Boss; alternates, Manuel Bartholomew and Delbert Ingalls.

Wilson township: chairman, LeRoy Hardy; vice-chairman, Ralph Lenosky; third member, Luther Brintnall; alternates, Claude Pearsall, Jr. and Charles Shepard.

Beaver Island: chairman, William Schmidt; vice-chairman, Geo. Ricksgers; third member, Frank D. O'Donnell.

These community and county committeemen were elected by farmers in the townships and county to cooperate with and assist the secretary of agriculture in the administration of the national farm program during the coming year.

OLMSTED AGAIN HEADS NORTHERN BOY SCOUTS

Re-Elected President of Scenic Trails Council for 1944

George E. Olmsted, of Traverse City, has been re-elected president of the Scenic Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, for 1944, according to Hugh J. Johnston, chairman of the council nominating committee.

Other officers are: Lawrence A. Larsen, Manistee; vice-president; Glenn Townsend, Petoskey, treasurer; W. E. Baker, Mesick, commissioner.

Council committee chairmen will be appointed by the president. Officers of each district will be elected before January 15.

personal way of extending the season's greetings.

I know that there are many of us fellows from Charlevoix now scattered all over the world, but I feel that as Christmas approaches, each wishes he were there so he could go out to the swamp, wade through the snow and get his own Christmas tree once more. I would that next year he can.

Again accept my thanks and wishes to all of you and yours for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Sincerely,
David Coulter, S2c

Dear Ken,

I am sorry I have not written to you sooner, but I have been rather busy.

I have been sent to school out here in California. I am going to ordnance school to take up a course in small arms. We study rifles, carbines, Garand, B. A. R., machine guns, pistols, cannons. You would never think a gun has so many parts. I have taken four tests so far and passed every one.

Yesterday they took us to the range. There they take guns and gum them all up. Our job is to fix them so they will fire.

It is a swell course and I will be an independent man in my outfit, because none of them know anything about small arms. I will be my own boss and inspect guns only when the boys and officers have them perfectly clean.

California sure is a beautiful state, and I am sure you would like it. We are stationed at the famous Santa Anita race track. We have orange trees all over the place. Just open a window and have an orange.

The entertainment here is something to talk about. They took us to Hollywood last Saturday night. I saw all the swell movie stars such as Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Linda Darnell, Kay Francis, Carole Landis and many others. We have these stage shows out here every week.

You can keep sending my paper to Fort Rene, Okla., as I will go back the last of January.

I will close and wish all the people of Charlevoix a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. I hope to see you all next year.

Yours truly,

Dear Ken,

I received the Courier today and was glad to get it. I wish to thank you and everyone in Charlevoix who makes it possible for the Charlevoix boys in service to receive the good old home town paper.

I'm now in sick bay and expect to be here only for a couple of days. I've got "cntfever". That's what the navy calls it, but it's really the flu. I expect to get a leave in about three weeks. Well, I must close now and am looking forward to the next Courier and wishing you and all my friends, especially Art Fagan, a merry Christmas.

A friend,

Dear Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know I finally received the Courier dated September 22, and believe me, it sure was nice to receive. I must have read it several times.

I hope everyone is well up Charlevoix way, as I am fine. I hope you have received some of my letters by now. I am still here near (censored) but don't know for how long. It sure is mighty hot here except for a few cool, torrential rains now and then.

I wrote several letters to my buddy, Harold Hohn, in Australia, but have not received an answer as yet. I'll bet you have quite a bit of snow by now.

By the way, how is fishing? I'd give a million to fish for perch in Round lake right about now.

I saw "Hit Parade of '43" and Glenn Miller in "Orchestra Wives" several nights ago and they were swell pictures. We had turkey for Thanksgiving, also pie to top it off. So you see we boys over here have much to be thankful for.

Am coming to the end of my paper, so until next time,
Very respectfully yours,
James Annis,
Southwest Pacific.

P. S.—Say hello to Glenn Rose, Mr. Heise and Joe Smith for me, please.

Hello, Ken,

First of all, I want to thank you and the people of Charlevoix for sending me the paper, which I am always looking forward to. I have received my second copy. Without news from good old Charlevoix, I would feel lost, although I moved away from there just before I came in the navy.

It has been almost a year since I have been to Charlevoix. I had eight weeks of navy "boot" training and then I went to Detroit for a week to see my folks. After that, I had a long train ride to the west coast. I am now on a ship, as a fireman. My rate is fireman 3rd class. That's about all I can tell you about the ship.

How is everything going in Charlevoix? I hope you got your buck this year. I wish to thank each and everyone of the Kiwanis Club for their Christmas greeting.

I wish everyone in Charlevoix, and to the rest of the boys in service, a very very merry Christmas.

As ever,
Emerson W. Rice, F3c
U. S. Navy—Pacific.

Dear Ken,

It is Friday night, and one we all hate, as it means work, since we are in a camp with real barracks. Does it seem good after being on the desert for seven months!

I am writing this to change my address and also to find out if there are any of the boys from Charlevoix in this camp. It seems as though I read a letter that was in the paper from someone from this camp, some time ago. If there are any of them here, will you let me know who they are and what outfit, as I sure would enjoy seeing someone from home.

There is a fellow from East Jordan who has been with me from the start, but I never knew him until we entered the service. He is Jeff Griffin, a swell fellow, but I can't figure him out—he hasn't taken a furlough since he has been in.

I only wish I could do something, but it seems that they are holding us for some reason unknown. But maybe I will go yet, as we are close to the ocean, but on the other hand that doesn't mean much.

There isn't much to say, as I have only been here two days, so don't know my way about.

I wish to thank the members of the Kiwanis Club for their greeting card, and I wish everyone a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Pfc. Charles R. Mitchell

BELDING-WAGNER VOWS SPOKEN DECEMBER 11 AT MIDLAND CHURCH

St. John's Episcopal church in Midland was the scene of the wedding of Miss Vera Belding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Belding, of Charlevoix and Au Gres, to Kenneth Wagner, of Midland, at eight o'clock Saturday evening, December 11. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, of Ellinwood, Kansas.

Mrs. L. H. Ashman played the wedding march from Lohengrin preceding the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. R. Stephenson. Miss Ruth Larabee was bridesmaid, while Joseph Smick, of Charlotte, acted as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

White satin fashioned the bride's gown, with which she wore a fingertip veil held by a single white rose, and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Miss Larabee was gowned in pink taffeta, with colonial bouquet of deep pink roses.

Ushers were Victor Whittier and Lynn McPhail, while Delbert Corpus served as altar boy.

A reception for thirty guests was given in the church parlors, where the wedding cake and bouquets of white feather mums were placed on a lace-covered table. Mrs. Belding, mother of the bride, and Mrs. L. H. Ikens, of Chesaning, the bride's sister, presided at the refreshment table.

Out of town guests included Tom Belding, of Au Gres, and Mrs. Nellie Aling, of Mt. Pleasant.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner are at home at 708 George street, Midland.

COMMUNICATION

Dear Ken,

If it is possible for you to find a small space in the paper, I would like to have you wish the boys and girls from Charlevoix a very merry Christmas and a victorious New Year. I think of them always. I think you are doing a wonderful thing in keeping up the morale of these boys. I can imagine what the paper means to them, because I would be lost without it myself.

I wonder if you would be good enough to send me the address of Winfield Kirby, also Harry Goldstick. I expect to drop in and see Verl Crandall the first of the year. I tried to see him before, but he was on the road. Would also like Harold Newman's address.

Please see the enclosed amount finds its way to the CSO.

Dick and Margaret Finucan wish to be remembered. Best wishes also to Clair and Lucille. How is Addie?

Does any group in Charlevoix make a practice of sending out communiques, other than the paper?

A very merry Christmas to you and yours,

Winfield Emrey
272 Merrimack St.
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Mr. Usher:

It's so nice of you to publish the letters from the boys in service. I enjoy them so much. Yesterday, I received a letter from Staff Sgt. Bob Heise, my "adopted son," which was written November 24. Will quote a few passages that might be of interest to his family and Charlevoix friends:

"Dear Mom—I received your letter this morning, the first mail I've had in two months, and believe me it was mighty welcome. I finally made it back to the right side of the equator, where winter is winter and summer comes at the right time of the year, too. At present I'm in a hospital somewhere in India, and when I say 'somewhere,' I'm not even sure of that. I haven't seen a map yet, so I'm taking someone else's word for it that I am in India.

"Maybe it won't be long before we'll be able to spend our summers in Charlevoix, Floyd and I working for Fred Cartier and Esther buying the cokes for us when the afternoons get too warm.

Love to all,
Bob."

We have written every week to Bob. We sent his Christmas packages October 15. I also had the Detroit Times daily paper sent to him for Christmas, but evidently nothing has caught up to him yet.

Best Christmas wishes to you all,

Ruby Staley,
Detroit.

Aviation Student Honored

Richard F. Hallett, army air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hallett, was honored while in training at Texas Tech College, Lubbock, Texas, by appointment to the rank of student major. He was one of nine students, picked by tests from 1,500, who instructed new cadets in etiquette and conduct when entering training. His present address is: A/S Richard F. Hallett, Sqdn. 8, Flight B, Santa Ana Army Air Base, Santa Ana, Calif.

The firm of Cooper Bros., grocers, is dissolved, O. A. retiring and R. J. continuing the business alone.

It is said that the Pine Lake Lumber Co. will do a greater lumbering business this winter than in any previous winter.

Upright & Emrey's camp starts up this week. We understand that more than ten times the amount of posts, ties, telegraph poles, and shingle timber will be gotten out this winter than in any previous one.

Marion—Married, on Wednesday, Dec. 9, Mr. Will Withers to Miss Belle Black. The Journal extends congratulations.

Burgess—When Dr. Lewis is called to visit a patient in this town, especially in the evening, it would be well for him to carry a lantern . . . The Hop Yard school house and the one near the state road at Burgess are nearly completed, and the schools will commence about Jan. 1st, 1886.

The Sentinel has gone to the railroad company and produced a contradiction of our item of Nov. 26th in regard to the railroad for Charlevoix.

H. L. Brady, Melvin Brady and John Widerman had a narrow escape Sunday, December 6, when their tug, Lucy A., went ashore on the west side of little Fox Island. A shanty on the island was used as shelter, and with the stove taken off their boat, the men managed to keep warm. They had in their possession a gun and some shells, and shot rabbits until the shells were used up, then resorted to a bow and arrows to get meat. The tug McCann, of the Beavers, saw them and phoned to this city for assistance. One week after the shipwreck, the men were rescued by Roy Rangor and Hunter Davis.

Will Parmalee, who went to Beaver Island for the winter, is in the city this week.

Deputy City Clerk Fred L. Slaght and wife left Tuesday for Grand Rapids and Lansing to spend the next ten days visiting relatives and friends.

Marion—D. Spuyde has moved his saw mill to Beaver Island.

Irantun—Gale Allen fell off a frightened horse Sunday, but was not badly hurt.

Charles H. Hamilton, superintendent of schools, publishes the following communication: "Charlevoix basketball fans will be pleased to hear that all improvements possible have been made in the rink for the comfort of the team and spectators. The sail so kindly loaned by Captain John Roen has been put up to shield the building from the cold north breeze off the lake. All the windows have been fixed, window guards put on and the holes along the wall have been plugged. The seats will be covered with heavy wrapping paper to shut off the draft coming from the ground. Those who attended the other night when the local team defeated Boyne Falls, 31 to 8, will testify to the fact that the place is the most comfortable that it has been in years."

John Roen's big freighter, the Interlaken, is laid up at the foot of Mason street for the winter.

Miss Lottie Ager is assisting in the dry goods department of A. E. Mason's store, afternoons after school hours.

Presents for every member of the family at McHugh's Bazaar.

The new five-piece orchestra which will play for the dance to be given December 26 at the Bunk hall, by nurses of Charlevoix hospital, is the sensation of the winter season. Will Bellinger will perform on the trombone; Arthur Winnick is cornetist; Ike Byers will pound the drum; E. L. Denny scrapes a mean bow on the fiddle; Miss Margaret Saunders is at the piano.

SHORT STORY

Quick Job

By JAMES FREEMAN

(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

TWO hours ago, Leland Barth had walked in his, Nelson's house, a big, strong, healthy young man, wearing a faintly questioning look. He had come in response to a telephone call.

"It is important that you come," Nelson had said. "For the matter I want to discuss with you concerns Sheila."

Sheila was the cause of everything that had happened. Nelson had loved her, and she for a time had loved Nelson. She had loved him until Leland Barth came along. After that—well, things had been different.

Nelson had brooded for months, and brooding is not good for a man. Eventually he had begun to scheme and plan. The scheming and planning had taken months. But now—this morning—everything was in readiness, down to the minutest detail. Leland had said he would come, as Nelson knew he would. And no one would know, because Nelson had arranged to make his telephone call when he was sure Leland would be alone. He had arranged that with as much care and caution as he had arranged every other detail.

And so Leland had come and they had sat together for an hour or more in Nelson's living room and talked. Or rather Nelson had talked. He held a gun in his hand all the while, and told Leland how much he hated him and how much he loved Sheila, and how bitter he had become and what he planned to do. It had taken an hour. Leland's expression had changed from a good-natured willingness to humor to rival to grave concern and eventually to fear. The blood left his cheeks and a sort of wildness crept into his eyes.

Nelson's dark eyes glinted with satisfaction. This was exactly what he wanted. This was the satisfaction he had dreamed about. He knew that Leland thought him insane, and he wondered about it himself. He'd said everything he had been wanting to say for months and he pulled the trigger of the gun and Leland's body lay dead on the floor.

He picked up the body and carried it to the basement and laid it in the pit he'd dug in the cellar floor and then went back upstairs and collected the gun and the small oriental rug on which were stains of blood from Leland's wound, and Leland's hat. He stood there looking around the room to make sure that there was no scrap of evidence remaining.

And because there was no further evidence he returned to the cellar with the rug and gun and hat and threw them into the pit beside Leland's body. Then he went to a shelf and took down a bag of quick-drying cement he had purchased two months ago. He poured water into a wooden trough he'd made with his own hands, and which later he would burn in his own furnace, and began mixing the cement.

He mixed a large quantity, the exact amount needed, and poured it hastily into the pit. It covered Leland's body and filled up the spaces around the other things. Presently there was nothing to see but the level of grayish, oozy cement, which steadily rose until it came even with the rest of the floor.

Nelson ceased pouring and dropped to his knees and began smoothing the surface. He didn't want it to look like a finished job. It would be better to leave the surface a little rough. Later, very soon now, it would dry and harden and evolve into the exact color of the remainder of the floor. He would sift a few coal ashes over the whole business and then roll some barrels on top of it, and no one would know the difference. Every scrap of evidence would be beneath that hard, rock-like surface. Every scrap.

Oh, it was a remarkable plan. The work of an ingenious mind. Who, now, would have thought of quick-drying cement? Who would have taken that small precaution? Certainly not a man with—for example—Leland Barth's intelligence.

Nelson chuckled to himself. It was a pity, he thought, that Sheila couldn't have seen the light. She would have done better to marry him, much better. For sooner or later that ingenious mind of his would think of something that would bring the world to his feet.

What fools women were! What a fool Sheila had turned into! Curse her anyway! And curse Leland Barth, too. Curse them both. He hated them.

Nelson swore aloud and drove his hands into the thickening cement with a savage gesture. Abruptly then he got control of himself. This would never do. Not now. Time enough later for gloating.

Nelson sat back on his haunches and began to draw his hands out of the cement. Just a flick here and there now and the job would be complete. Then to burn the trough and go about his daily business as if nothing had happened.

The cement, he discovered, was hardening faster than he had supposed it would. Much faster. The thick ooze of it made drawing his hands out difficult. He had to exert a good deal of strength to get them loose. The cement clung to his wrists and pulled away, looking like molasses candy he'd once seen in a store window. He tugged harder and still harder. His wrists were free now, but the tips of his fingers were still quite deep, and they felt strangely numb, as if down there the cement had already hardened to solidity.

Perspiration stood out on Nelson's brow. He stood up, leaning over, bracing his feet. He shifted once or twice to attain a more comfortable position, and unthinkingly placed a foot on the pit's surface. The foot sank a little, and when he tried to withdraw it, he found the task impossible.

A desperate look came into Nelson's eyes, a sort of panic clutched at his heart. Horrible fear assailed him. He looked about, wildly, tried to get a purchase with his free foot, only to have it slip along the surface of the cellar floor.

Curious little whimpering sounds escaped his lips as he tugged and strained. Sweat dropped from his forehead and splashed on the surface of the pit. It was the fact that they splashed that told him the cement was now almost solid. His foot slipped, and he went down on his knee, the knee making the faintest of indentations in the freshly laid cement. He tried to stand up, succeeded only momentarily. His breathing came sobbingly; exhaustion was close. He was worn out, tired, and the position in which the cement held him wasn't the most comfortable.

Suddenly Nelson raised his head and shouted, even though he knew the consequences, he shouted. It wasn't the shout of a sane man, but a man in ordinary distress. The shouts became screams, then shrieks, then faded and were nothing more than whimpers.

They found him ten minutes later. A passerby had heard the shrieks and summoned the police. He was unconscious lying on his right knee with his right leg buckled under him. They had to get a chisel to loosen the cement, and in doing so they dug deeper, curiously suspicious, and found the rug covering Leland's body.

When Nelson came to he was in a hospital, but he saw iron gratings at the window and understood.

La Conga Dance Tempo Originated From Africa

La Conga—the dance that has taken the American public by storm—came first to Cuba as a single step in the tempo of today but with an accented fourth beat instead of kick. The kick was inserted later when it became a dance.

In the Congo river regions of Africa many slaves were used to cultivate the lands and do the heavy work. They were chained together in a long line, neck to neck and ankle to ankle. In their walkings they became accustomed to walking in definite rhythm so that their chains would not become entangled in those of their neighbors. They found that by taking three short steps and then, on the fourth step, hitching their chains along everything went smoothly and nobody was tripped up in the chains.

Thus originated the tempo. Well, when slaves from Africa arrived in Cuba they were still chained and walking in their peculiar Conga rhythm. Later they were unshackled by the Spanish but still they worked in the fields and walked in the "one-two-three-hitch" rhythm.

In their evenings they were wont to gather around a fire in front of their quarters and start a jam session. Their only instruments were drums of various sizes and pitch, some filled with water, others just an animal's skin tied over a hollow tree stump. They would beat out the basic rhythm of their walking tempo which was the definite "one-two-three-hitch."

The dancers would then merely revert to type and in groups of five or six would slowly pace out the rhythm, accenting the fourth beat with a hitch of their body in a convulsive movement.

This was born the modern version of La Conga.

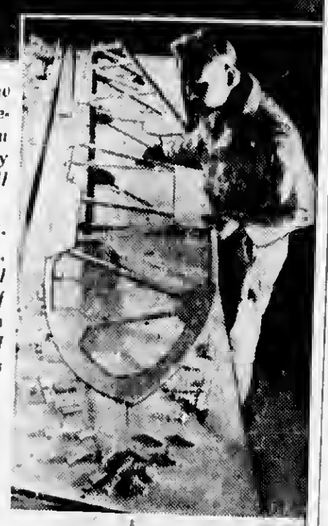
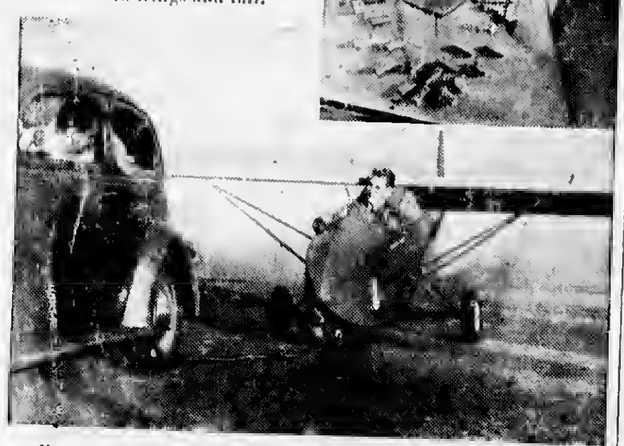
Juvenile Fliers Learn Tricks Of Air Currents on Ground

Schoolboys may be too young to fly real airplanes for their country, but they want to learn the principles of aviation in a manner which approaches the thrill of the real thing. A California glider company and Aeronautical Engineer Volmar Jensen have created a preflight glider which brings youngsters plenty of thrills and a basic flying technique without risking their necks. With the glider, schoolboys learn to keep a steady course through rushing air currents. They do it on the ground towed by a car going 30 miles an hour.

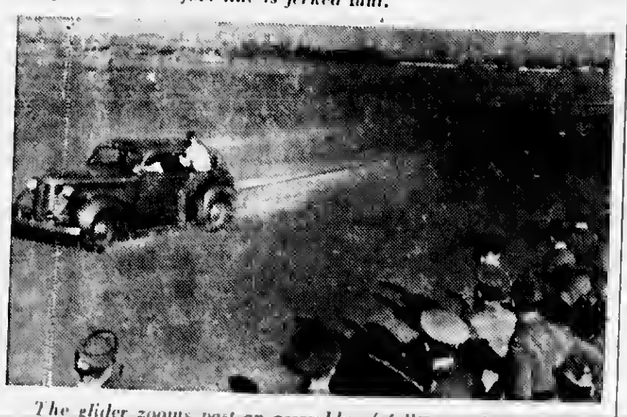


Breezing along behind the tow car, the cadet above tries to prevent the glider's wing tips from scraping the ground. Perfectly controlled, the glider will roll smoothly with tail up.

Right: Use of these jigs simplifies construction of the glider. Wood parts are fitted in, nailed and glued. The glider is made of non-priority materials and can be assembled by school manual training classes. A control stick is connected to wings and tail.

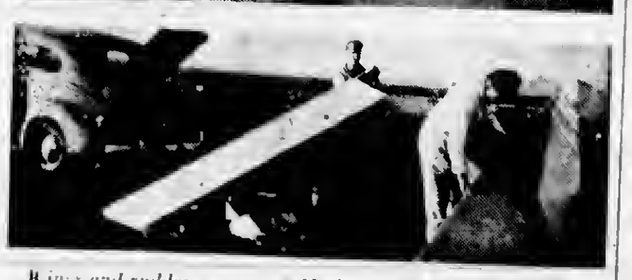


Ready to match his technique against air currents, the student, above, informs the automobile driver that he is ready. Tow car pulls away and the 100 foot line is jerked taut.



The glider zooms past an assembly of fellow students. Despite rushing air, it is level. The operator is controlling its balance, something that any pilot must master before he takes to the air.

Below: Volmar Jensen attaches the rudder to the tail. He built several safety devices into the craft to eliminate the usual risks of preliminary glider instruction. Any ideas that the non-ascending gliders were "sissified" were soon dispelled. It was quite difficult to keep a level course at a speed of 30 miles an hour. But most of them soon mastered this technique.



Wings and rudder are removable for transportation purposes.

SAMMY JAY'S SHARP EYES

EVERYBODY knows that Sammy Jay has sharp eyes. In fact there are very few of the little forest people whose eyes are as sharp as Sammy's. That is because he used them so much. A long time ago he found out that the more he used his eyes the sharper they became, so there are very few minutes when Sammy is awake that he isn't trying to see something. He is always looking.

Now, of course, Chatterer the Red Squirrel couldn't disappear without being missed, particularly by Sammy Jay. And, of course, Sammy couldn't miss Chatterer and not wonder what had become of him. At first Sammy thought that Chatterer was hiding, so as not to have to get Sammy any more corn, but after peeking and peering and watching in the Old Orchard for a few days he was forced to think that either Chatterer had once more moved, or else that something had happened to him.

"Perhaps Shadow the Weasel has caught him after all," thought Sammy, and straightway flew to a certain place in the Green Forest where he might find Shadow the Weasel. Sure enough, Shadow was there. Now, of course, it wouldn't do to ask right out if Shadow had caught Chatterer, and Sammy was smart enough to know it.

"Chatterer the Red Squirrel sends his respects and hopes you are enjoying your hunt for him," called Sammy.

Shadow looked up at Sammy and anger blazed in his little red eyes. "You tell Chatterer that I'll get him yet!" snarled Shadow.

Sammy's eyes sparkled with mischief. He had made Shadow angry, and he had found out what he wanted to know. He was sure that Shadow had not caught Chatterer.

"But what can have become of him?" thought Sammy. "I've got no love for him, but just the same I miss him. I really must find out."

So every minute that he could spare Sammy Jay spent trying to find Chatterer. He asked everyone he met if they had seen Chatterer. He peeked and peered into every hollow and hiding place he could think of. But look as he would and ask as he would he could find no trace of Chatterer. At last he happened to think of Farmer Brown's cornerib. Could it be that Chatterer had moved over there or had come to some dreadful end there? Very early the next morning Sammy flew over to the cornerib. He looked it all over with his sharp eyes and listened for sounds of Chatterer inside. But not a sound could he hear. Then he remembered the hole under the edge of the roof, through which Chatterer used to go in and out. Sammy hurried to look at it. It was closed by a stout board nailed across it. Then Sammy knew that Farmer Brown's Boy had found it.

"He's killed Chatterer, that's what he's done!" cried Sammy, and flew over to the Old Orchard filled with sad thoughts. He meant to wait until Farmer Brown's Boy came out and then tell him what he thought of him. After that he would fly through the Green Forest and over the Green Meadows to spread the sad news.

After a while the door of the farmhouse opened and Farmer Brown's Boy stepped out. Sammy had his mouth open to scream, when his sharp eyes saw something unusual. Farmer Brown's Boy had a queer looking box in his arms, which he put on a shelf where the sun would shine on it. It looked to Sammy as if something moved inside that box. He forgot to scream and say the bad things he had planned to say. He waited until Farmer Brown's Boy had gone to the barn. Then Sammy flew where he could look right into the queer box. There was Chatterer the Red Squirrel!

"Chatterer hopes you are enjoying your hunt for him," called Sammy.

TEST TUBE CALF TO BE NO RARITY

Plans to set up a central Michigan artificial dairy breeding cooperative to increase by superior breeding stock the milk and butterfat production and to reduce the costs and hazards of keeping bulls on the average farm were put into motion in a recent meeting on the Michigan State College campus.

More than 100 leading dairymen from 14 counties proposed the cooperative and recommended incorporation along a pattern now operating in New York State.

Local units of 10 to 20 farmers with a minimum total of 300 cows in each would be set up. A central laboratory and bull barn would be established in the Lansing area. Michigan State College would offer a short course for training the technicians who would service the cows with the inseminating materials sent out from the central laboratories.

A. C. Baltzer, MSC dairy extension specialist, explained how such a cooperative operates in New York. Thirty bulls in the eastern states service 40,000 cows. In the first generation of calves so produced an average gain of 45 pounds of butterfat in a year was obtained over the mother cows.

In Michigan, according to Baltzer, an initial start could be made with 20 or 25 bulls of the leading breeds. These would be sufficient for the artificial breeding of a minimum of 15,000 dairy cows in perhaps 50 local units. These bulls would replace nearly 500 bulls, many inferior, now necessary for natural breeding for the same number of cows.

With artificial breeding, the dairymen were told, the average Michigan cow could increase, in her offspring, from 5,200 pounds of milk with 220 pounds of butterfat annually to 8,000 pounds of milk containing 350 pounds of butterfat.

Santa Claus Arrives Early in Italy

American fighters in Italy celebrate Christmas when their presents arrive from home. As a rule the packages are too cumbersome to be carried around until December 25. This group of men is shown opening their presents near a battle zone. Several unopened packages are lying in the foreground.

prived of Christmas gifts because of unfortunate circumstances, will be cured for, too. There is a Santa Claus, isn't there?

Jack: "She appears to be a well-reared young lady."

If American military leaders had no better control over their troops than American labor leaders have over their union members, few battles would result in victory for our arms.

A hick town is where there is no place to go that you shouldn't.

The Charlevoix city council and particularly Alderman W. E. Goss, who engineered the project, can be very proud of the distinction given this city's Roll of Honor in East Park by David Coulter, U. S. navy. Mr. Coulter says in a letter appearing elsewhere in this issue, that in all his travels to numerous small towns prior to entering service, he had never seen a better one.

This week's Xmas greetings, which I hereby acknowledge, came from Lewis Brown, navy, Australia; Pfc. Ernie Nowland, army, Camp Butner, Durham, N. C.; Carl W. Beattie, navy, U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans, L. I.; Pvt. Eugene Bergmann, army, Camp Benie, Calif.; and last, but not least, the Thomas Olsens, Conrier readers residing in Chicago. Letters, likewise acknowledged and appearing elsewhere in this issue, come from Emerson W. Rice, navy, Pacific; Pfc. Bernard J. (the one-and only) Foster, army air corps, Salt Lake City, Utah; Harry E. Zeitler, navy, Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Va.; Pfc. Charles R. Mitchell, army, Camp Cooke, Calif.; David Coulter, navy, Washington, D. C.; James Annis, navy, Pacific. I also want to mention a communication from Mrs. Ruby Staley appearing elsewhere in this issue, which carries news of another local boy, Staff Sgt. Bob Heise, now in India. And seeings how this will be the last opportunity I'll have this year, I'm wishing a merry Christmas to the above mentioned and all the rest of the Charlevoix boys and girls carrying on for Uncle Sam.

Salesman: "Can I interest you in an attachment for your typewriter?"

Executive: "Nothing doing! I'm still paying alimony because of the attachment I had for the last one."

What with driving them and eating them, it seems that the horse has again come into its own.

FOSTER BOAT PLANT NEEDS ADDED HELP

Will Inaugurate Special Evening Shift; Mechanics Wanted

In order to maintain their production schedule, the Foster Boat Company has made an appeal for additional help and will inaugurate a special work shift with hours from 8:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. as soon as the required help can be obtained.

In addition to their need of mechanics and persons handy with tools, clerks now employed will be accepted for part time employment. Several women workers are also needed. Anyone desiring employment should contact Gordon Clement at the main plant for an interview.

TREE CUTTING DANGER TO FOREST RESOURCES

Reports have been received in the conservation department of Christmas tree cutters in certain parts of the state who have been cutting trees as large as 6 inches in diameter to get 10 foot Christmas trees from their tops. The rest of the tree is then wasted. If such practices were to become widespread, the cutting of Christmas trees might do serious damage to our forest resources, conservation men state.

PETER RABBIT TRIES TO HELP

PETER RABBIT is one of the most kind-hearted little people of the Green Forest or the Green Meadows. He is happy-go-lucky and his dreadful curiosity is forever getting him into all kinds of trouble. Perhaps it is because he has been in so many scrapes himself that he always feels sorry for others who get into trouble. So, just as soon as he found out for himself that Sammy Jay had told the truth about Chatterer the Red Squirrel he began to think and think of some way to help Chatterer.

Now, of course, Peter didn't know what kind of a prison Chatterer was in. He remembered right away how Prickly Porky the Porcupine had gnawed a great hole in the box in which Johnny Chuck's lost baby was kept by Farmer Brown's Boy. Why shouldn't Prickly Porky do as much for Chatterer? He would go see him at once. The trouble with Peter is that he doesn't think of all sides of a question. So now he scampered down into the Green Forest as fast as his long legs would carry him to hunt for Prickly Porky. It was no trouble at all to find him, for he had only to follow the line of trees that had been stripped of their bark.

"Good afternoon, Prickly Porky. Have you heard the news about Chatterer?" said Peter, talking very fast, for he was quite out of breath.

"Yes," replied Prickly Porky. "Serves him right, I hope it will teach him a lesson."

Peter's heart sank. "Don't you think it is dreadful?" he asked. "Just think, he will never, never be able to run and play in the Green Forest again unless we can get him out."

"Have you heard the news about Chatterer?"

"So much the better," grunted Prickly Porky. "So much the better. He always was a nuisance. Never did see such a fellow for making trouble for other people. No, sir, I never did. The rest of us can have some peace now. Serves him right." Prickly Porky went on chewing bark as if Chatterer's trouble was no concern of his.

Peter's heart sank lower still. He scratched one long ear slowly with a long hind foot, which is a way he has when he is thinking very hard. He was so busy thinking that he didn't see the twinkle in the dull little eyes of Prickly Porky, who really was not so hard-hearted as his words sounded. After a long while, during which Peter thought and thought and Prickly Porky ate and ate, the latter spoke again.

"What have you got on your mind, Peter?" he asked.

"I—I was just thinking how perfectly splendid it would be if you would go up there and gnaw a way out of his prison for Chatterer," replied Peter timidly.

"Huh!" grunted Prickly Porky. "Huh! Some folks think my wits are pretty slow, but even I know better than that. Put on your thinking cap again, Peter Rabbit."

"Why can't you? You are not afraid of Bowser the Hound or Farmer Brown's Boy, and everybody else is, excepting Jimmy Skunk," persisted Peter.

"For the very good reason that if I could gnaw into his prison Chatterer could gnaw out. If he can't gnaw his way out with those sharp teeth of his, I certainly can't gnaw in. Where's your common sense, Peter Rabbit?"

"That's so. I hadn't thought of that," replied Peter slowly and sorrowfully. "I must think of some other way to help Chatterer."

"I'd be willing to try if it was of any use, but it isn't," said Prickly Porky, who didn't want Peter to think that he really was as hard-hearted as he had seemed at first.

So Peter bade Prickly Porky good-by and started for the dear old Briar Patch to try to think of some other way to help Chatterer.

CADET NURSE CLASS AT TRAVERSE CITY

Course Open in February; Apply to Superintendent of Nurses

Through the United States Cadet Nurse Corps, free nurse's training is now available at the Traverse City State Hospital school of nursing, it was announced today.

On order to secure admission to the Cadet Nurse Corps, applicants must agree to engage in essential nursing, either civilian or military, for the duration of the war. If accepted the student takes the regular accredited nursing course with all tuition and fees paid and free room and board. The student is paid $15 per month for the first nine months, $20 per month for the next 15 to 21 months and $30 per month for the remainder of the course.

The next nursing class opens at Traverse City next February and those interested in the Cadet Nurse Corps may secure all necessary information from the superintendent of nurses.

PETOSKEY YOUTHS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Crashed Tree Near Greensky Hill Monday; In Hospital Here

Four Petoskey 17-year-olds were injured Monday evening when their automobile ran off the road and struck a tree 20 rods west of Greensky Hill, as they were on the way to Charlevoix. The crash occurred about 10:15 p. m.

Injured were: Miss Beverly Mason, who suffered fractures of both legs; Miss Marian Pettingill, brain concussion; Ed Beers, driver of the auto, and Jim Leigl incurred Crashed Tree Near Greensky Hill only cuts and bruises. All were taken to Charlevoix Hospital for treatment.

It was reported that the car was proceeding on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred. Wayne Smith, Petoskey insurance salesman, was first on the scene and reported the crash.

STRAITS FERRIES GO ON WINTER SCHEDULE

Ice Crusher Sainte Marie Placed In Service Monday

The state highway department's winter ferry schedule calling for five round trips daily by the ice crusher, Sainte Marie, went into effect Monday, it was announced by Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

Northbound crossings are scheduled from Mackinaw City at 6:30 a. m., 10 a. m., 1 p. m., 4:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. Southbound passages are scheduled from St. Ignace at 5 a. m., 8:30 a. m., 11:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 6 p. m. The ferry schedule is operated on eastern standard time.

The City of Cheboygan, which has been operating on a schedule of six round trips daily since close of the hunting season, will be held in readiness for possible use during the holiday season if additional trips are necessary and ice conditions permit, Ziegler said.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Richardson, accompanied by the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Drenth, of Ellsworth, were visitors in Traverse City on Saturday of last week.

Mrs. Percy Empey and daughters, Elaine and Margaret, and son, Norman, also Mrs. Cecil Richardson, were visitors in Petoskey on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Colon McKenzie, also the latter's father, George Lord, of Charlevoix, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lord.

Mrs. William Parsons and son, Dale, spent the past week visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murphy, of East Jordan.

The pupils of Norwood school are having their Christmas program on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Everyone welcome.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.

MRS. LESLIE HOWE SERVICES TUESDAY

Was Resident of Hayes Township More Than 20 Years

Funeral services were held here Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Leslie Howe, 50, who died Friday at Little Traverse Hospital, in Petoskey.

Mrs. Howe had entered the hospital Monday of last week for treatment, and her sudden death was a great shock to her family and friends.

Born October 6, 1893, at Pierson, Mich., Ida May Milton was married to Leslie Howe at Charlevoix on May 24, 1922. Previous to her marriage, she was teacher at the Maple Grove school.

Surviving are her husband, four daughters, Eleanor, Ardith, Vanda and Arvilla; two sisters, Mrs. S. A. Anderson and Mrs. James Anderson, of Flint; two brothers, Harry Milton, of Cadillac, and Melvin Milton, of Newberry.

Rev. Donald R. Evans conducted funeral services at the See Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. Interment was at Maple Lawn cemetery in Boyne City.

VEHICLE REPLACEMENT PROGRAM DURING 1944

Only Most Urgent Applications Filled, Warns ODT

Truck operators in the Cadillac district are urged by Harold L. Frier, manager of the district office of defense transportation, to redouble their maintenance efforts and to regard their present vehicles as probably the last which they will be able to obtain until the end of the war.

Reports reaching the ODT indicate that a great many operators who read recent announcements approving the new replacement vehicle program were apparently convinced that their equipment problems will shortly be over.

But, of the 123,000 new vehicles approved, only about 80,000 will actually be for civilian use. This will be sufficient to take care of only the most urgent applications, and most of them are not scheduled to be ready for delivery until the last half of 1944.

TOTAL IN WAR FUND DRIVE IS REPORTED

City Falls Short of Quota But Goes Over $2,000 Mark

Contributions to the Charlevoix United War Fund drive for the National War Fund amount to $2,057.89, reports Robt. Bridge, city chairman for the campaign.

This amount was reported Tuesday, as belated contributions continued to be received. While missing the city's quota by $700, the sum nevertheless represents an excellent contribution to USO war relief, Salvation Army and Boy Scout organizations.

BAY SHORE

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Sherwood, of Muskegon, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Johnson.

Mrs. Oakley Saunders was a visitor Friday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Yahr.

The Bay Shore Presbyterian church will present a Christmas program Tuesday evening. After the program, stockings filled with candy will be given to the children.

We wish you a very merry Christmas and the happiest New Year.

NINE TONS SCRAP PAPER IS NEEDED

SCHEDULE SECOND PICK-UP DURING JANUARY

Charlevoix Only City in County Failing to Make Carload; More Paper Necessary

Because Charlevoix did not fill a train carload of paper in the scrap paper pick-up coducted three weeks ago, it will be necessary to stage another collection some time in January, announces Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Although it was originally announced that no more scrap paper would be collected until spring, the six tons collected recently cannot ha shipped to the paper mills, as only a full carload can ba shipped. Nine more tons must be added to the present collection before any of it can start for the paper mills where it is so vitally needed.

East Jordan collected a full carload in the December pick-up. Boyne City's original 12 tons was augmented by three more tons, and a carload shipped from there. Charlevoix also should be able, with full cooperation from all residents, to make up a carload of waste paper for war uses.

"Save a bundle a week—Save some boy's life", slogan of the nation-wide scrap paper drive, points out the great need for all types of waste paper. Nearly everything our armed forces use is shipped in paperboard cartons—blood plasma containers, life boat rations, boxes of surgical dressings, cartons for army "K" rations, protective bands for 500-lb. bombs—maps, battle plans, communications must be written on paper. Christmas wrappings will furnish a good source of waste paper, also newspapers, magazines, discarded books, catalogues, wrapping paper and brown paper bags, even old letters and calendars are needed. Business places may have files loaded with old letters and useless records. Stores may supply numerous cardboard cartons and smaller boxes. A thorough search of homes and business places may reveal large quantities of waste paper missed in the previous pick-up.

REGULAR COLLECTION OF TIN CANS IN CITY

Home Owners Asked to Phone 37 for Pick-Up Service

Regular pick-ups of salvaged tin cans will be made in Charlevoix during the winter months, says Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Home owners are asked to phone 37 and request that their cans be collected. During the winter, cans prepared for salvage should not be placed outdoors until they are to be picked up, or they will quickly rust and be of no value as salvage.

DEATH TAKES MRS. LOUIS BOURISSAU

Was Resident of City 50 Years; Services Held Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Louis Bourissau, 64, who died Friday night after an extended illness.

Born in Grand Haven on April 14, 1879, Lillian M. Noantay came to Charlevoix in 1895. She married Louis Bourissau in this city on January 11, 1905.

Member of the Church of God, Mrs. Bourissau also belonged to the Maccabee and Rebekeh lodges.

Surviving are her husband, a son, Louis, this city; a brother, William Noantay, of Grand Haven; and a half-brother, Anthony DeBoer, of Racine, Wis.

Rev. W. D. Wood coducted services at the See Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

CHRISTMAS MAIL RUSH WAS EARLY

HEAVIEST VOLUME BEFORE DECEMBER 15

Scarcity of Numerous Articles Resulted in Fewer Packages; War Bonds Popular Gift

Christmas mail receipts at the local post office were somewhat less than last year's record business, totaling $1,975 as compared to $2,125 in 1942.

Due to scarcity of toys and countless other articles, fewer packages were mailed. Difficulty of obtaining goods from mail order firms caused a drop in volume of money orders sold. Less than half the usual amount of money orders were processed during the first 15 days of December.

Urgent requests by the post office department that Christmas packages be mailed early were met with splendid cooperation from local people. Biggest day of mailing packages was 12 days before Christmas. By December 22 the seasonal rush of outgoing packages was over, and all incoming mail was distributed by Christmas eve.

Number of Christmas cards mailed from this post office was estimated at 38,000—equal to the number sent last year.

War bonds proved a popular Christmas gift. Pre-holiday bond sales were $5,050 (maturity value), much larger than the usual amount of monthly bond sales at the post office.

REPORT ON DRUMMOND ISLAND DEER SEASON

Although the number of nimrods hunting on Drummond Island during the deer season was larger than in 1942, their success was 7 per cent lower than in the previous year, conservation statistics reveal. In the 1943 season, 1,116 hunters bagged only 340 bucks, while in the previous year 1,067 riflemen took 397 deer.

AWARD ISLAND MAIL CONTRACT

TRI-MOTOR SHIP BASED AT PELLSTON AIRPORT

Passengers Must Board Plane at Pellston Until Ice Is Strong Enough for Landing Here

Award of the Beaver Island winter mail contract to the Wolverine Aviation Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, has been announced by the U. S. post office department.

As the tri-motored, 10-possenger plane to be used on the run is not in readiness, the motorship Mary Morgaret will continue to operate until January 9. The plane will make three trips a week, beginning January 10.

Pellston airport is to be the plane's base, as adequate landing facilities are not available in Charlevoix. All mail will be routed direct to Pellston. Only mail sent or received by local residents will be handled at the Charlevoix post office.

When the ice on Lake Charlevoix is strong enough to permit landing here, the plane is scheduled to pick up passengers and freight. Until then, passengers must board the ship at Pellston.

BRUCE ARMSTRONG SERVING OVERSEAS

Rockford, Ill., Physician Is With Anti-Aircraft Battalion

Capt. Robert Bruce Armstrong, of Rockford, Ill., formerly of Charlevoix, has arrived overseas as a member of an anti-aircraft battalion, according to word received by local friends.

Son of the late Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, of Charlevoix, Capt. Armstrong was a practicing physician in Rockford for five years before entering the army as a first lieutenant in November, 1942. He served in Camp Barkeley, Texas, Camp Hean, Calif., Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., Camp Stewart, Ga., and Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas.

Mrs. Armstrong and their two children, Robert Bruce III, and Helen Elizabeth, reside in Rockford.

ICE FISHING SEASON NEAR

FREEZING WEATHER BRINGS SAFETY WARNING

1943 Licenses Expire December 31; Spearing Legal After Jenuery 1, 1944

With the advent of freezing weather, conservation fish division men are warning ice fishermen to be sure the ice is safe before beginning their fishing operations.

With almost all species of fish legal until January 1 when the season on largemouth and smallmouth black bass closes, the cold weather has come at an opportune time for devotees of this winter sport.

Bluegills and sunfish may be taken until February 28, but may be caught or in a fisherman's possession on the ice only from 7:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m., Eastern War Time.

Fishing through the ice with hook and line or "tip-up" is permitted as soon as the ice is solid, but spearing is not legal until January 1.

Ice fishermen are reminded also of the new regulation which makes it compulsory to have the owner's name and address in legible letters on each shanty left on the ice.

Fishing licenses for 1943 expire December 31 and anyone fishing after that date must have a new 1944 license, conservation men point out. The 1944 fish law digest is also ready for distribution.

YANKS, AUSSIES BECOME FRIENDS

JOURNALIST WRITES FROM "DOWN UNDER"

American Service Men Get Along with Australians As in Last War, Is His Opinion

That American and Australian soldiers are becoming firm friends "down under" is evidenced by a recent letter received by Leo Powers from an Australian newspaperman, John Cusack, of Sydney, New South Wales.

Mr. Cusack met Sgt. Maurice Dixon, of this city, who has been with American forces in Australia and New Guinea since October, 1942, and during October and November was hospitalized in Australia because of illness.

Following is his letter to Mr. Powers:

"I had the pleasure of meeting your brother-in-law, Sgt. Maurice Dixon, the other day, and he took great pride in showing me a card which he had received from you indicating his credentials to membership in the American Legion. As I served in World War 1, and have since been in close touch with the American Legion, naturally I was very interested in this card, and assured Sgt. Dixon that I would be very glad to act upon his invitation to write you. Hence this letter.

"Well, though I only met Sgt. Dixon, in Sydney, on the tail end of his leave, we still found opportunities to swap a few yarns. He introduced me to his mates, fine fellows they are, too. They are all fit and well, and we hope to have a further meeting with them before long.

"Though I work on a Sydney newspaper, as per above address, I conduct a war veterans journal, for the RSSAILA, (Returned Soldiers, Sailors and Airmens Imperial League of Australia) which in Australia is a counterpart of what the Legion is in America. Naturally, I have established a close contact with the Legion, and they regularly send me copies of the American Legion Journal. I was able to pass on a few recent copies to Sgt. Dixon before he left Sydney, and he was pleased to have

By KEN USHER

"Well, I guess I might as well put the motion before the house," thought the chorus girl as she glanced out onto the stage.

In the mail last week came the December issue of "The Rushin' News", a monthly mimeographed publication turned out by five Pontiac girls especially for service men from Beaver Island, bringing them chatty accounts of happenings on the island and news of the men in service. Looks to me like a wonderful morale builder for the men from the Beavers and, judging from some of their comments printed in the little paper, they think so, too.

Love makes the world go round, but then, so does a good swallow of tobacco juice.

Next time you go to Traverse City—whenever your gas and tires will allow—notice the orchard near Kewadin in which stands the monument built of stones from every county in Michigan for the late Hugh J. Gray, head of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association for many years. From this orchard came a bushel of McIntosh apples which sold in the Detroit Union Produce Terminal for $325 a short time ago. Winning the sweepstakes prize in the Grand Rapids horticultural exhibit in December, the apples were entered in the Detroit produce auction, and the money paid for them was turned over to the Goodfellow fund to make a merry Xmas for many boys and girls in Detroit.

I had belated Christmas greetings from C. E. Scott, Jr., AMM1c, navy, New York City, and John Bissell, S2c, navy, Ottumwa, Ia., so I'll say happy New Year to you guys first and then add the same thing for all the boys and girls in the service, and everyone else, too. I hope 1944 brings you lands of happiness and everyhing else that's good.

Dear Ken,

I thought that I would send you my new address. We moved to Kansas last week, and I don't want to miss any of the Couriers, because it sure seems good to get them and find out what is going on back home.

This camp that I am in now sure is a nice camp. It was 8 below here yesterday morning, and we sure thought it was cold, because we haven't seen any cold weather for 18 months now, and then right out of the desert to cold weather.

Will close for this time, wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

As ever,

Dear Ken,

How is everyone in dear old Charlevoix?

It has been some time since I have written, so I'll take this opportunity to thank you for the Courier, also thanking the Blue Star Mothers for the Christmas card.

It sure would be nice to see snow again. I have five boys from Michigan here, and when we all sit down and start talking about hunting, fishing and ice skating, all the rest of the boys say that after the war, they're going to see this paradise we're always talking about.

I hope you can untangle this so it is possible to read.

PAUL REVERE WAS BORN ON NEW YEAR'S DAY, 1735. WE HAIL THAT DAY! AND JUST AS HE RETURNED TO HIS GOLDSMITH'S WORK, LONG AFTER HIS HISTORIC RIDE, SO WILL WE RETURN TO NORMAL OCCUPATIONS OF THE WAYS OF PEACE. THAT DAY WE ALSO HAIL, LOOKING FORWARD TO IT WITH RENEWED HOPE. ON THIS EVE OF NEW YEAR, 1944, WE SALUTE ALL OF OUR FRIENDS. HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mince any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb...and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect theirs back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"I saw in the paper just the other day the results of a poll taken among American service men in England by the British Institute of Public Opinion. They asked hundreds of men point blank how they would vote on prohibition. 85% of them stated, in unmistakable terms, that they would vote against it. There's no doubt about it, Herb ...the men overseas don't want any action taken on that subject while they're away."

"And they're 100% right, Judge, because I know how I felt when I came home after the last war—only to learn that we had been over there fighting for so impractical a thing as Prohibition."

Maurice Nowland, telling of the Armistice, says: "The guns were to cease at 11 o'clock. They fired right up to the last minute. It was hard to realize that peace was so close, as the big guns kept booming away and the shells went whizzing overhead, but suddenly as the hands struck the hour, they ceased." He says his outfit is living in individual foxholes on a sidehill.

James Krulik has received an honorable discharge from the army and arrived home last Saturday from Paget Sound, Wash. . . . Clarence Hanshew arrived from Camp Lee Hall, Eustice, Va. . . . Bert Taylor has been discharged from the coast guard service and has returned from Highland, N. J. Frank Poole has returned from Camp Morrison, Va.

Lt. Victor H. Hampton and Harold Usher are both home, the first Charlevoix boys who saw service at the front who have as yet returned from France. Usher was in the famous 32nd division, and Hampton with the marines at Verdun, the Somme, and Chateau Thierry.

Miss Hazel Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Richardson, of Norwood, and Earl Publow, of Gaylord, were married Thursday at the Methodist parsonage in Petoskey. They will live in Florida.

Acting upon the suggestion of Mr. Roe, Charlevoix high school students had a Christmas party Friday afternoon. Each class gave a 10-minute program, and each student brought a gift for exchange. Original speeches by sophomores were Walter Bergeon's "What Christmas Means to Me," Norman Shanahan on "The Origin of Christmas," and Clare Usher on "Christmas in Foreign Lands." Myrtle Guild gave a reading entitled "Scrooge's Christmas." The student body, through its president, Charles Dagwell, presented Mr. Hamilton with a handsome mahogany rocker.

Physical training classes of C. H. S., and their teacher, F. H. Austin, hiked to Mt. McSauba on Thursday for a hot-dog social. Ralph Barns proved himself the champion "dog-eater," with a record of about two dozen devoured.

Charlevoix is having unusual weather. The day before Christmas, P. D. Campbell picked a bunch of strawberries, both blossoms and berries, from his back yard. W. M. Russell came in the Courier office Friday with sprouts of soft maple and basswood, with buds nearly ready to open. A light snowfall on Christmas eve was the second slight sprinkling of snow so far this year. After the varsity-alumni basketball game Friday night, members of the team and some of the fans held a real Indian pow-wow, with bonfire and war dance, on Lake Michigan beach. A few hardy souls went in swimming.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

"It waa the best of timea, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it waa the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had overything before as, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way—in short, the poriod was so fur like the present period, that some of its noislest authorities insisted on its being received, for good or for evil, in the saperlativo degree of comparison only."

When were these words written? No, guess again.

Possessing all the timelinesa of 1944, they were written in 1860 by Charles Dickens. The words form the initial paragraph of Dickens' greatest work, "A Tale of Two Cities," a story of the French revolution 70 years enrlier.

Approaching events of history cast their shadow ahead. On the basis of curreat information, we predict for 1944:

BUSINESS. Another boom year! The carve of the Indastrial index is climbing higher. It makes the pre-war years look like the first steps of a tall ladder. Back in 1929 when they say we had prosperity, the peace-time record was $48 billions. The estimated sales total for 1943 is $63 billions, and the experts insist that higher prices in 1944 shoald boost this dizzy snm to around $65 billions! As long as Germany holds oat, American arms prodaction generally aust continae at high level.

FARM INCOME. Casb farm income is expected to rise 5 to 10 per eent in 1944 for another new record. Yet the sale of goods to farmers may decline due to shortage of merchandise. Farmers are accnmulating surplus earnings for the post-war period. They will be heavy buyers of consumer darable goads (refrigerators, etc.) when the situation cases. Watch for a farm land boom. It's nlready on the way.

INVASION. The big channel invasion is likely to take place hetween April and Jane. The Balkans invasion, probably a diversionary thrast, nmy come earlier. Invasions will bring new gasoline restrictions for American motorists. Casualty lists will graw. The time is here for frontal attack hy the doughboy, supported by air and lnnd artillery. Air power alone will not knock out Germany. We predict: Unconditional sarrender of the Nazis by late autumn.

POLITICS. President Roosevelt will be a candidate for a foarth term, and the Repablieans' national choice will be either Thomns Dewey or Wendell Willkie. Vandenberg's pro-MacArthur boom is a tactical move only. Michigan Repablicans are confident that Harry F. Kelly will be re-elected, and this cocksareness is enhaneed by uneertainty among Democrats as to their leader. Inability of soldiers and sailors to vote in the 1944 election, dae to lack of time, handicap of distanee and inadequate legislation, appears to favor G. O. P. chances.

LEGISLATURE. The special session of the Michigan legislature will convene about Feb. 1 at Lansing for consideration of limited fiscal and war needs. With $50 millions in sight for post-war planning and the sales tax assuring continued revenae throughout 1944, legislators will be inclined to be generoas. The governor's program of long-range planning nnd year-to-year spending will be put to practical test in 45 days.

GRAND JURY. Michigan law definitely provides for daal responsibilities. To Judge Leland Carr, of Lansing, full responsibility for the grand jary investigation and indictments; to Attorney General Herbert J. Rashton, fall responsibility for trial prosecations. We predict: That when the facts are revealed WHY Jay Linsey, of Grand Rapids, was named prosecutor, Rashton will emerge stronger than ever in public confidenee.

LOBBYISTS. The grand jary investigation has resulted in indictment of several legislators and a few individuals who were interested in pending legislation at Lansing. Hence, the so-called lobbyists are vulnerable in 1944 to legislative reform. Any severe restriction would affect legislators as well as lobbyists, for it is ethically possible for an attorney to serve both the people and a private client when he votes as a member of the house or senate. We predict that the legislature will impose mild regulations, if any.

TIMBER. Forests of Michigan are being depleted rapidly of valaable timber. The Lake Superior region once supplied from a qaarter to a third of the nation's total lumber cattings. Today, it possesses less thun 4 per cent of the nation'a standing timber, and one-half of this is held hy big corporations sach as General Motors, Ford Motor, and Calumet-Hecla. The state planning commission recommends that the state acqaire the largest anbroken tract of virgin hardwood timber in the United Statea—130,00 acres comprising the Porcapine Mountains in Gogebie and Ontonagon counties. This is a heaatifal and spectacularly scenic region. Lamherjacks are now at its borders. Action hy 1945 may be too late.

AUTOS. General Motors reports it is possible, with government cooperation, for Michigan aatomobile plants to reconvert and retool in three months and to affect full production in six months. Defeat of Germany by mid-summer would mean partial production of automobiles by Thanksgiving. We predict: New aatomobiles not later than spring of 1945 for essential war workers.

RESORTS. Our third sammer in war, plus nerve jitters from invasions, will stimalate public demand for rest and relaxation. Michigan's northland resorts should have a fine season, if their facilties are adequately publicized.

Greetings!

In your pursuit of happiness during 1944, we wish you the fullest measure of attainment.

FARMERS' WEEK LISTS 104 EVENTS

Built around the theme of "Farm Battlefront for 1944", the 29th annual Farmers' Week, Feb. 1, 2, 3, at Michigan State College lists 104 scheduled events in spite of a streamlined version squeezed into a three-day program.

More than three thousand soldiers are in training on the campus, plus another three thousand students, yet more than a score of state associations will hold their annual meetings during the three-day period.

Plans announced by E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture and general chairman, and R. W. Tenny, program chairman, indicate the highlights of each day. Most farm families, if they eat, will bring thermos bottles and basket lunches.

Tuesday, Feb. 1, general sessions will feature Prof. Floyd W. Reeves of the U. of Chicago, describing postwar education programs, and Mrs. Mark W. Clark, wife of the commander of the American Fifth Army, "When Our Boys Come Home". Five dairy breed associations, cow testers, sugar beet growers and horse breeders will meet. Agricaltaral departments will offer information on efficient wartime prodaction on Michigan farms.

Wednesday, Feb. 2, Lewis Bromfield, of Lucas, Ohio, is to discuss "Oar Heritage, the Land". Sheep breeders, lamb feeders, Muster Farmers, short coarse gradaates, the state crop improvement associntion, beekeepers, muck farmers, rural educators, sociologists, state institntional herdsmen and the Michigan Dairy Goat association are scheduled for meetings.

Tharsday, Feb. 3, will inelade sessions of beof eattlemen, muck farmers, Michigan State Grange, farm managers, state farm superintendents, turkey growers, milking shorthorn breeders and park foresters. In the afternoon H. P. Rusk, U. of Illinois dean of agricalture, will indicate how farmers can face 1944. In the evening Demaree Bess, war correspondent, is to describe, "The War as I See It".

One lone session will be held Friday, Feb. 4, when the Michigan Essential Oil Growers' association holds its annual meeting.

activity. Saw two shanties in the vicinity of Ironton when driving by Christmas dey, but whether anything's bitin' or not, I can't tell, because I haven't had time to get out there myself. One thing I do know, is that 1943 fishing licenses expire December 31 and you have to have a 1944 model after that date.

A Scotch traveling man once received the following prearranged code telegram. It read: "Baby arrivad. Features yours, fixtures mine."

Sure hated to see Walt Bergeon and Bill Supernaw leave for army service Tuesday. That's hitting pretty hard when men with growing children must go off to war, and we'll miss both of them. They tell me Bill had a warm send-off, with 26 of the town's fairest beauties at the station to kiss him good-bye. Blame this rumor on the boys at the post office, who are undoubtedly green with jealousy because they got left out of the celebration.

Thanks, Ed. Stinson! Your contribution to this column is appreciated more than you can imagine.

If what they tell me is true, guess I'd better get out that crotched stick I use to hold my rifle while deer hunting for Lloyd Curtis to use while fox hunting.

It was a swell Christmas, after all. A lot of local residents working in city defense plants, young people attending colleges and a surprising number of our young men in the armed forces, were home for the holidays. And I got a shirt and necktie, among other things, that I didn't have to exchange.

Did you hear about the wife who shot her husband with a bow and arrow because she didn't want to wake the children?

Well, anyway, I'm going to sign off for this year. See you in 1944!

SLOAN AGENCY SOLD TO BRIDGE & HAWLEY

Newly-Organized Firm Takes Over Insurance Business

Announcement appears in an advertisement in this issue of the sale of the Charlevoix Insurance Agency, operated since 1916 by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sloan, to Robert Bridge and Elmer D. Hawley, who will conduct the business under the firm name of Bridge & Hawley.

After acquiring the Burnett Insurance Agency, and later the Charlevoix State Savings Bank agency, Mr. and Mrs. Sloan operated the business in co-partnership. Sale of the agency was due to the illness of Mrs. Sloan.

Business of the Charlevoix Insurance Agency has been taken over intact by Bridge & Hawley, and operated in conjunction with the insurance business conducted for 25 years by Mr. Bridge.

The Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co. will continue under Mr. Sloan's operation in the present location, and he will also write title insurance.

JEAN ACKERMAN AND MARTIN RICHARDSON MARRIED IN LANSING

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Ackerman, of Lansing, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Martin Richardson, second class petty officer, U. S. navy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson, of Norwood. The groom is an aerial gunner and has just returned from the European war theater.

The marriage took place Friday, December 10, in the First Church of the Nazarene, with Rev. George Franklin officinting in the presence of about 85 guests. White chrysanthemums, evergreens and palms decorated the altar. George Huff, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Miss Eleanor Smith.

Mrs. Beryl Spross was matron of honor for her sister. Earl Publow was groomsman, and ushers were Rev. Beryl Spress and Larry Pulver. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Ackerman home for 35 relatives and close friends.

The bride and groom will make their home in Quonset Point, R. I., near the navy base where Mr. Richardson is stationed.

Out of town guests at the wedding were the groom's sisters, Mrs. Stanley Lord and Mrs. Vern Baumbach, of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Carl Walter, of Chicago.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Harry Glossenger entertained members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home on East Upright avenue. Prizes were won by Mrs. Will Supernaw and Mrs. Frank Harris. Mrs. Harry Gebeau, whose birthday occurred that day, was honored with a handkerchief showar and a birthday cake beautifully decorated with a poinsettia design.

Honoring the fifth birthday of her daughter, Sharon, Mrs. W. S. Wilson entertained twelve little guests at a party last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Mason street. The refreshment table was decorated with Santa Claus favors and centered with a lighted birthday cake.

WILLIAM C. PALMER SUCCUMBED MONDAY

Was Charlevoix County School Commissioner Since 1926

William C. Palmer, 58, Charlevoix county school commissionar for 17 years, died Monday morning at his boma on West Upright avenus. In poor health for the past year and a half, Mr. Palmer became seriously sick a few weeks ago and his death resulted from a complication of illnesses.

He was born in Leelanau county on June 28, 1885, and was a graduate of Albion College. Following his marriage to Gladys Hilbert on November 22, 1917, at Traverse City, he was for three years pastor of the Copemish Methodist circuit of three churches, and for one year pastor of Boyne Falls and Clarion churches. After five years as teacher of the Clarion school, he was elected Charlevoix county school commissioner in 1926, and the family moved to Charlevoix.

During his 14 years of membership in the Church of God in this city, he served as vice chairman, superintendent and teacher in the Sunday school, trustee and member of the official board.

Surviving are the widow, a son, Dr. Benjamin E. Palmer, of Barryton, Mich., and a daughter, Mrs. Florence Struthers, of Lansdale, Pa., and two grandchildren, John and Fred Struthers.

Funeral services will be at the Church of God at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

YANKS, AUSSIES BECOME FRIENDS

these, the first, I believe, he had seen. As to Reveille, our journal, I have posted some copies to you.

"During this war we have had the pleasure of meeting many American service men—all splendid chaps, whom Australia is proud to have in her midst. The Americans and Aussies have a close affinity—they always get on well together, and turning my mind back to the last war, the position was quite the same then. I personally have many friends among American war veterans, and previous to this war, Reveille was frequently privileged to receive an article from your homeland.

"There is not much to add now, other than to say that Maurice, I feel sure, enjoyed his leave in Sydney. No doubt he will write you in detail on this.

"So for the present, best wishes.

Yours sincerely,
John Cusack."

LOCAL BANKS MAKE PROGRESS

DEPOSIT INCREASE SHOWN OVER LAST YEAR

Year-End Statements of Local Institutions Reveal Strong Financial Position

Financial statements of Charlevoix banking institutions at the close of business on December 31, 1943, published elsewhere in this issue, show a marked increase in deposits from a year ago.

Total deposits of the Charlevoix County State Bank are now $1,233,219.23, an increase of $464,247.89. This increase is the largest the bank has ever had in one year.

The government bond account shows an increase over a year ago of practically $400,000, while loans and mortgages have held steady with only a slight gain of about $15,000.

The capital account shows a very substantial increase for the year and now stands at $60,565.92, which is $10,022.10 over last year. Added to the 6 per cent cash dividend paid during the year, this makes total net earnings of $11,522.10, or about $46 per share on the 250 shares of stock before payment of federal taxes.

Deposits in the Charlevoix State Bank total $528,610.27, an increase of $77,000.00 over last year.

Increase in government bonds was $104,000. Loans and mortgages dropped $34,000 from last year. Transfer of $500 from the capital account to surplus increased the surplus to $5,509. A dividend of $2 per share was paid on bank stock, and after deduction of this dividend and depreciation, the bank's total net earnings were $1,305. Total assets are $566,552.19, a gain of $78,852.24 over 1942.

The year 1943 has seen a marked change in bank procedure. Sale of government bonds, handling of thousands of ration banking items and collection of withholding taxes for the government are all parts of the war effort being carried on by banks thruughout the country.

Charles McGeagh Suffers Heart Attack; Services Friday

Funeral services were held Friday in Detroit for Charles McGeagh, 51, a former Charlevoix resident who died Tuesday morning, December 28, in Detroit, following a heart attack.

Born in Charlevoix, Mr. McGeagh graduated from the local high school in 1911. He had resided in Detroit for many years. Surviving are his wife, the former Isabel Ryan, of Detroit, a son, Richard, of the U. S. naval reserve, his father, James McGeagh, of Detroit and Charlevoix, and two brothers, Dwight, of Flint, and Forest, of Detroit.

COUNTY STATISTICS FOR 1943 REPORTED

Marriages, Births Show a Slight Decrease from 1942

Vital statistics for Charlevoix county during 1943, reported by the county clerk's office show a decrease in births and marriages since 1942.

In the past year, 230 babies were born in the county, as compared with 242 for 1942. Marriages numbered 59, a decrease of 13 from 1942's total of 72 weddings.

County deaths were 136, slightly more than the 125 reported in 1942. Divorces numbered 13, as compared with 10 in 1942.

PURPLE HEART TO PFC. DUPLESSIS

WAS WOUNDED IN LANDING ON TARAWA ISLAND

Sixth Charlevoix Man to Receive Nation's Oldest Medal; In Oakland Naval Hospital

Pfc. Warren Duplessis, U. S. marine corps, wounded in the American landing at Tarawa late in November, is the sixth Charlevoix man to be decorated with the Order of the Purple Heart. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duplessis.

With other wounded marine survivors of the Taruwa landing, he was admitted to a naval hospital at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, on December 2. His parents were notified that he was being treated for burns and a badly fractured leg, but have learned no other details of his injury.

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Duplessis were notified that their son had been awardod the Purple Heart medal and was being brought back to this country. His present address is: U. S. Naval Hospital, Ward 44-A, Oakland, Calif.

Enlisting in the marine corps in July, 1942, Pfc. Duplessis went overseas with a medium tank unit in July, 1943.

Other Charlevoix men awarded the Purple Heart decoration have been Sgt. Raymond Nowland, marine corps; Cpl. Frank Pop, army infantry; Carl W. Beattie, musician first class, navy; John J. Woods, machinists mate second class, navy; Melvin Plum, fireman first class, navy.

MAIL GAME REPORT CARDS BY FEB. 15

Fewer Cards Returned Thus Far Than In Previous Years

A good New Year's resolution for thousands of Michigan hunters who wish to start the new year right is to mail their game kill report cards to the state conservation department at once.

According to the latest reports of 31,553 cards received to date, the rate of return is lower than in previous years. For the 1942 hunting season 40,739 cards were filed before January 1. Records show that deer hunters are more prompt in making their reports than small game hunters. Deadline for returning cards is February 15.

CHURCH GUILD NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Mrs. Oscar Smith New President of Congregational Church

Officers for the ensuing year were elected recently by the Women's Guild of the Congregational church.

NEW LICENSE PLATES GO ON SALE MONDAY

States Allowed 26-Gauge Steel by War Production Board

Michigun's 1944 automobile license plates, which are being issued one to a vehicle, are making their appearance on the streets of Charlevoix this week. They went on sale Monday at the local branch office of the department of state, at the county clerk's office in the court house.

The new plate is made of 26-gauge steel, which is slightly lighter than in previous years. This steel was allowed the states by the war production board when it was shown that the 1942 plates, which had been used through 1943 with a small tab, would not last through another licensing year. From a law enforcing standpoint, it is necessary all cars have tags bearing easily read numbers.

Herman H. Dignan, secretary of state, has called attention to the fact that the one 1944 plate must be attached to the rear of the car or truck, and that no plate—new or old—is to be displayed at the front. He asks that both old plates be removed and surrendered at the license plate office for scrap and re-use.

WASTE PAPER IS VITAL MATERIAL

SAVE SCRAP FOR JANUARY PICK-UP IN CITY

Manpower Shortage in Pulpwood Forests a Factor in Paper Shortage of Nation

Charlevoix residents are asked to save all waste paper for the scrap collection which is scheduled this month, announces Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Anyone who has paper which they would like to turn in before the drive may bring it to the city hall. If the amount of paper is large, call 37 and ask that it be picked up.

Fast increasing military use of paper, and manpower deficiencies in United States and Canadian pulpwood forests have made waste paper the number one material shortage problem. Paper in tremendous quantities is needed to operate a fighting force of nearly ten million men—paper for bombs and shells, for food, medicines, and many other products.

Airplane wing tips, bomb protector bands, parachute flares, shell protectors, fuel tank linings, ammunition chests and blasting powder kegs are some of the military weapons made of paper.

One pound of waste paper may be used to make 19 "K" ration containers, or 12 cartons to hold 15 50-caliber tracer or incendiary bullets, or 16 lifeboat emergency ration containers, or 33 cartons to hold a tube of poison gas ointment, or 30 cartons to hold 10 sealed tube cartridges for inflating life belts, and many other possible uses.

TRUCK CERTIFICATES ARE VALID FOR 1944

Harold L. Frier, district manager of the Cadillac office of defense transportation, has announced that the present certificates of war necessity will remain valid for 1944 unless they are suspended, recalled, cancelled, or revoked.

MRS. R. F. SLOAN TAKEN BY DEATH

PROMINENT IN BUSINESS AND CIVIC AFFAIRS

County Red Cross Treasurer for 25 Years; Was Authority on Abstracts and Titles

Mrs. R. F. Sloan, prominent in business and civic affairs in Charlevoix for many years, died Tuesday evening at Charlevoix Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage on November 17, she had rallied only slightly since that time.

Born December 15, 1888, at Ironton, Isabel Mitchell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell. She was married to Robert F. Sloan in Charlevoix on September 24, 1927.

Chief bookkeeper for the Charlevoix Sugar Beet Co. when that firm was in operation here, she was employed by the company in Ottawa, Ohio, for some time.

In 1916 she entered the employ of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., operated by Mr. Sloan. In that year she organized the Charlevoix Insurance Agency, which was sold last week to Robt. Bridge and Elmer B. Hawley, after 27 years of operation as a copartnership by Mr. and Mrs. Sloan.

Recognized as an authority on abstract and title matters by the National Abstract & Title Association, Mrs. Sloan was also active in the Michigan Title Association.

Since this country's participation in the first World War, she had been a loyal and industrious worker in the Charlevoix county Red Cross. She was county Red Cross treasurer from about 1917 until shortly after the United States entered the present war; member of the board of directors for three years, and home service chairman for the city of Charlevoix until her illness. In addition to these administrative duties, she had organized local citizens for Fashion Note—They're wearing the same thing in brassieres this year.

Frank (Swoonatra) Sinatra apparently doesn't take so well with the local young blades. At least that was the impression I gained at a recent Palace movie when, as the crooner had the fair ones sighing like moon-struck calves, the fellas walked out in a body. Well, that's youth for you, gol dang it. When you get my age it would make no difference whether it was a Sinatra or Cleopatra, the reaction is void.

After a pretty warm encounter with her immediate superior, Sally Stenog declared that she knew why they called it a defense job when she went to work at that place.

Ironton reports a fishing village of considerable size on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix, and some excellent catches of perch being made. And you know, I didn't discover until Monday that the entire west end of Lake Charlevoix had been frozen over for several days and that the Pere Marquette railway swing bridge has been closed for the winter.

Missed the doin's over New Year's week end, too. Entertained a little fellow called the flu, and it was probably just as well, at that.

A little girl went to the grocery store on an errand for her mother, and asked for a roll of bathroom tissue, the purchase to be charged. Remembering the little girl's face but forgetting the name, the grocer asked, "Now who is this for?"

"Oh, we're all going to use it," unswered the little girl.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear friends,

Merry Christmas, and may the weather you're having be cool and refreshing. As for here, the heat is terrible.

I have a new address, so if by chunce any of you should write, your letter will find me back with my old outfit.

The home town paper has reached me in many ways, by boat, by air, and native carrier; it's been dropped to me from a plane in the mountains of New Guinea, but as yet it hasn't found me in my new home.

Still have hopes of coming home—before I'm forty.

Cpl. Edward S. Radle

Dear Friends,

Perhaps several of you will be surprised to hear I am now on the west coast. We—four marine girls—left Edenton, N. C., December 17. It was a long and tiresome trip, but worth all the discomfort, as we saw so many interesting things. We had several delays—one in Atlanta, Ga., and one in New Orleans, which gave us ample time to visit the cities.

Atlanta was very interesting. The climate is much warmer than in North Carolina. But I was very thrilled to learn we had a 18-hour wait in New Orleans, as I have always wanted to visit there. We went down in the French quarter, which was very interesting. We had a delicious steak dinner in an old, old French restaurant, "The Court of the Three Sisters."

We also traveled several miles in Old Mexico, going through Mexicali and Tin Juana. I was very excited and thrilled at the scenery and mountains.

We arrived at San Diego late in the evening of December 22. There we boarded a small liberty launch which took us across San Diego bay to North Island, where our home will be until next summer. We live in the Waves barracks in Coronado, a small town here on the island.

This is one of the prettiest places I have ever been, including Charlevoix in the summer. The lawns are all landscaped, the beau-

MAIL GAME REPORT CARDS BY FEB. 15

Fewer Cards Returned Thos Far Than in Previous Years

A good New Year's resolution for thousands of Michigan hunters who wish to start the new year right is to mail their game kill report cards to the state conservation department at once.

According to the latest reports of 31,553 cards received to date, the rate of return is lower than in previous years. For the 1942 hunting season 40,739 cards were filed before January 1. Records show that deer hunters are more prompt in making their reports than small game hunters. Deadline for returning cards is February 15.

NEW LICENSE PLATES GO ON SALE MONDAY

States Allowed 26-Gauga Staal by War Productian Board

Michigan's 1944 automobile license plates, which are being issued one to a vehicle, are making their appearance on the streets of Charlevoix this week. They went on sale Monday at the local branch office of the department of state, at the county clerk's affice in the court house.

The new plate is made of 26-gauge steel, which is slightly lighter than in previous years. This steel was allowed the states by the war production board when it was shown that the 1942 plates, which had been used through 1943 with a small tab, would not last through another licensing year. From a law enforcing standpoint, it is necessary all cars have tags bearing easily read numbers.

Herman H. Dignan, secretary of state, has called attention to the fact that the one 1944 plate must be attached to the rear of the car or truck, and that no plate—new or old—is to be displayed at the front. He asks that both old plates be removed and surrendered at the license plate office for scrap and re-use.

WASTE PAPER IS VITAL MATERIAL

SAVE SCRAP FOR JANUARY PICK-UP IN CITY

Manpower Shortage in Pulpwaod Forests a Factar in Paper Shartage of Natian

Charlevoix residents are asked to save all waste paper for the scrap collection which is scheduled this month, announces Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Anyone who has paper which they would like to turn in before the drive may bring it to the city hall. If the amount of paper is large, call 37 and ask that it be picked up.

Fast increasing military use of paper, and manpower deficiencies in United States and Canadian pulpwood forests have made waste paper the number one material shortage problem. Paper in tremendous quantities is needed to operate a fighting force of nearly ten million men—paper for bombs and shells, for food, medicines, and many other products.

Airplane wing tips, bomb protector bands, parachute flares, shell protectors, fuel tank linings, ammunition chests and blasting powder kegs are some af the military weapons made of paper.

One pound of waste paper may be used to make 19 "K" ration containers, or 12 cartons to hold 15 50-caliber tracer or incendiary bullets, or 16 lifeboat emergency ration containers, or 33 cartons to hold a tube of poison gas ointment, or 30 cartons to hold 10 sealed tube cartridges for inflating life belts, and many other possible uses.

TRUCK CERTIFICATES ARE VALID FOR 1944

Harold L. Frier, district manager of the Cadillac office of defense transportation, has announced that the present certificates of war necessity will remain valid for 1944 unless they are suspended, recalled, cancelled, or revoked.

MRS. R. F. SLOAN TAKEN BY DEATH

PROMINENT IN BUSINESS AND CIVIC AFFAIRS

County Red Cross Treasurer for 25 Years; Was Authority on Abstracts and Titles

Mrs. R. F. Sloan, prominent in business and civic affairs in Charlevoix for many years, died Tuesday evening at Charlevoix Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage on November 17, she had rallied only slightly since that time.

Born December 15, 1888, at Ironton, Isabel Mitchell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell. She was married to Robert F. Sloan in Charlevoix on September 24, 1927.

Chief bookkeeper for the Charlevoix Sugar Beet Co. when that firm was in operation here, she was employed by the company in Ottawa, Ohio, for some time.

In 1916 she entered the employ of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., operated by Mr. Sloan. In that year she organized the Charlevoix Insurance Agency, which was sold last week to Robt. Bridge and Elmer D. Hawley, after 27 years of operation as a copartnership by Mr. and Mrs. Sloan.

Recognized as an authority on abstract and title matters by the National Abstract & Title Association, Mrs. Sloan was also active in the Michigan Title Association.

Since this country's participation in the first World War, she had been a loyal and industrious worker in the Charlevoix county Red Cross. She was county Red Cross treasurer from about 1917 until shortly after the United States entered the present war; member of the board of directors for three years, and home service chairman for the city of Charlevoix until her illness. In addition to these administrative duties, she had organized local citizens for Fashion Note—They're wearing the same thing in brassieres this year.

Frank (Swoonatra) Sinatra apparently doesn't take so well with the local young blades. At least that was the impression I gained at a recent Palace movie when, as the crooner had the fair ones sighing like moon-struck calves, the fellas walked out in a body. Well, that's youth for you, gol dang it. When you get my age it would make no difference whether it was a Sinatra or Cleopatra, the reaction is void.

After a pretty warm encounter with her immediate superior, Sally Strong declared that she knew why they called it a defense job when she went to work at that place.

Ironton reports a fishing village of considerable size on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix, and some excellent catches of perch being made. And you know, I didn't discover until Monday that the entire west end of Lake Charlevoix had been frozen over for several days and that the Pere Marquette railway swing bridge has been closed for the winter.

Missed the doin's over New Year's week end, too. Entertained a little fellow called the flu, and it was probably just as well, at that.

A little girl went to the grocery store on an errand for her mother, and asked for a roll of bathroom tissue, the purchase to be charged. Remembering the little girl's face but forgetting the name, the grocer asked, "Now who is this for?"

"Oh, we're all going to use it," answered the little girl.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear friends,

Merry Christmas, and may the weather you're having be cool and refreshing. As for here, the heat is terrible.

I have a new address, so if by chance any of you should write, your letter will find me back with my old outfit.

The home town paper has reached me in many ways, by boat, by air, and native carrier; it's been dropped to me from a plane in the mountains of New Guinea, but as yet it hasn't found me in my new home.

Still have hopes of coming home—before I'm forty.

Dear Friends,

Perhaps several of you will be surprised to hear I am now on the west coast. We—four marine girls—left Edenton, N. C., December 17. It was a long and tiresome trip, but worth all the discomfort, as we saw so many interesting things. We had several delays—one in Atlanta, Ga., and one in New Orleans, which gave us ample time to visit the cities.

Atlanta was very interesting. The climate is much warmer than in North Carolina. But I was very thrilled to learn we had a 13-hour wait in New Orleans, as I have always wanted to visit there. We went down in the French quarter, which was very interesting. We had a delicious steak dinner in an old, old French restaurant, "The Court of the Three Sisters."

We also traveled several miles in Old Mexico, going through Mexicali and Tia Juana. I was very excited and thrilled at the scenery and mountains.

We arrived at San Diego late in the evening of December 22. There we boarded a small liberty launch which took us across San Diego bay to North Island, where our home will be until next summer. We live in the Waves barracks in Coronado, a small town here on the island.

This is one of the prettiest places I have ever been, including Charlevoix in the summer. The lawns are all landscaped, the beau-

Membership Drive and Annual Meeting

The Charlevoix County Farm Bureau will conduct its membership drive and hold its annual meeting the week of January 10th. Beginning Monday morning, workers will come together for instruction and the following two or three days will be used in covering allotted areas by designated men to secure members for the coming year.

It is very necessary for farmers to be organized in order to bring up and get action on their problems in the halls of Congress, and to present a united front in all other fields of activity. Our Roll Call manager, Clint Blanchard, is in charge of the membership drive and under him as captains in the several areas are L. E. McGhan, John Hyek, Douglas Gilkerson, and others. All farmers and friends of agriculture are cordially invited and urged to join.

Friday, January 14th, will mark the close of the drive and is the date of the annual meeting. This meeting, an all-day affair beginning at ten o'clock in the morning, will be held at the Marion Grange Hall. Membership and financial reports will be given and directors chosen for the coming year. All are invited to come for the entire program, including dinner, speech in the afternoon by Mr. C. L. Brody, of Lansing. Mr. Brody is well qualified to speak to and for farmers. He knows their problems and fights for them throughout the state and nation. Make it a point to hear him.

Those coming for dinner will bring their own sandwiches and a dish to pass. The Farm Bureau will furnish coffee, potatoes and meat. Musical numbers and other features of interest will be included in the program.

Is local government more efficient than state or federal government?

Ask State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, and you'll receive a prompt and emphatic reply: "Yes!"

So deep routed in his conviction that government must be near to the people if it is to attain effectiveness, Brnke has been quietly working for munths in preliminary spade-work organizing the officinls of all local governments—townships, county nnd municipnl—into n "Michigan Institute of Local Government". The name is tentntive nt present. The institute would function ns a stnte clearing house fur research studies of governmental problems and for cooperative action.

This Thursday (Jnn. 6) the executive committee is meeting at Lansing. A constitution and bylaws are being drafted, and presiding as godfnther over non-state officinls will be Stnte Treusurer Brnke! This fnct, being unusual, merits an explnnation.

Whenever a state official bands together the key men of influential interests, politicians sniff the nir suspiciously and newspapermen sharpen their pencils.

The power of township supervisors hns been utilized for years by Mel McPherson, furmer chairman of the state tax eommission. His nffiliation with the supervisors wns recognized generally as a political asset tht served to hulwark a long and successful career in the public taxation field.

It is inevitnble that the state treasurer's zenl in behnlf of locul governments, which he sincerely believes to be superior to either stnte or federnl public administratiun, should be interpreted by others in vnrying ways. Is Brnke trying to build a "political mnchine"? Is he looking nhend to the governorship? Here is the story, as he relates it.

"For years I have believed that long distnnce control in government is always expense control, and today I am more convinced of this fact that ever," he said. "County governments, ns I have known them in upstate Michigan, nre more efficient thnn stnte government, and they certainly are far more effective than our federal government.

"State guvernment, for cxnmple, is too big to be efficient. It is too far awny from the people bnck home. Graft and waste of publie funds may exist in a state government for a long time before they are uncovered by a grnnd jury investigation. Back home, prnctices of this kind don't survive very long.

"I should explnin that my observations of locnl government are basod, for the most part, on counties in upstate Michigun. I have limited knowledge nbout Wnyne county (Detroit).

"The state institute is not a partisnn movement, and I, have no politicnl axe to grind. William Dowling, of Detroit, president of the state association of prosecuting attorneys, is active on the executive committee, and Dowling, as you know, is a Democrat. We are inviting the president of each affilinting nrgnnization to name four or five delegates, and we may open a limited membership by invitation to laymen who are interested in good government. That's all there is to it."

Affiliating organizations, all state-wide in their scope, represent the following public officials:

County — Clerks, treasurers, sheriffs, prosecutors register of deeds, prohate judges, circuit court judges, drnin cummissioners, county school commisioners, rond commissioners and welfure commissioners.

Municipal — All officials represented through the Michigan Municipnl League.

Township — Township supervisors.

Schools—Michigan Educational associntion and its membership.

If and when the voters of Michigan are asked to consider propused changes to the Michigan state constitution, the new "Michigan Institute uf Locnl Government" would become u logicul channel by which the case of home governments could be presented. Its objectives embrace a defense of local governments nginst "unjust" criticism and attnck ns well ns united upposition to the "unnecessary" remuvnl of any locnl government function to state and nntionnl level. The qunlifying words, you will note, as "unjust" nnd "unnecessnry."

Formntion of the elearing house (critics will probably tag it a "lobby!") is further pruof of u current trend, accelerated by war regimentation, to decentralizo public administration. Washington has discovered it wns becoming top heavy with burcuus and red tape. Mnny offices have been transferred elsewhere.

Now a Michigan officinl, custodian of many millions of public funds, advocates openly the defen e of home rule as a protection against further encroachment of centralized state government and as the taxpayers' best insurance for economy.

If the institute becomes solely a defensive weapon to resist the new and to perpetuate the uld, it will become an overnight target of reformers who regard locnl governmentnl machinery ns "obsolete" nnd who place upon it the old-fnshioned tng of "horse-nnd-buggy."

State Treasurer Brake, six years chairman of the sennte judiciary committee, is nut swnyed by the modernize plens of the politicnl science professors. He agrees tht changes should be made, but he is inelined to keep, for the most part, what we nlrendy have and seek to improve the nunlity of office-holders rather than scrnp machinery itself and adopt u substitute.

Thls attitude is predicated on a belief, as we nnalyze it, tht good government depends more upon the ability and honesty of office-holders than upon the furm of government itself. Thus, n county commission form would probably bring no substantiul improvement over the present system of county boards of supervisors unless members of the commission, as chosen by the people nt the ballot box, were men of MORE ability, more industry and more integrity. It's the man, not the office, that mnkes government gnod or bad.

And back of the man in publie uffice is the voter—you and I—who get pretty much what we deserve through our sponsorship of good candidates for public offices and then through our support of these candidates at the polls. When we fail in our responsibilities at the grass roots of democracy, the chickens of bad government come home to roost right on uur front steps. That's where they belong. The only trouble is that in the cuse of state and federal governments, the chickens have to go farther to get there; sometimes it takes a grand jury to make them move.

ARMY LETTERS

tiful shrubbery, the ocean on one side of us and the bay on the other. And at night San Diego looks so pretty across the hills. Airplanes are in the sky night and day. We also see all kinds of ships in the harbor. The weather is real warm during the day, but cool in the mornings and evenings.

There will only be ten marine girls and one lady officer here until next summer. We're part of Air Base Group II, which has a wonderful marine reputation.

I was assigned to the office of planning and repair. Every airplane has three books with it, wherever it's sent. My job is to keep up these books. It is very interesting. Of course I can't tell you much about them.

The barracks we live in are beautiful—varnished floors, maple furniture, venetian blinds and two large lounging rooms where we can have company. We four marines from Edenton have a private room (temporarily) with a nice closet, desk, lounging chair, chest, and running hot and cold water in the room. It really is nice.

The food is delicious—hot rolls, cake, pie, ice cream, very good meat and salads. To sum it up, it's wonderful. I never imagined such. It seems like a dream.

Now, to tell you about my Christmas. All of these girls I room with have relatives in Los Angeles. So all of them went to see their relatives. I knew Tut (Mrs. Gordon Bartlett) wasn't far from there, so I sent her a telegram telling her to call me. I didn't get a call, therefore on Christmas eve I sent a telegram collect, thinking if she wasn't there the telegram would be returned. At 4:30 when my liberty started Christmas eve, I still hadn't heard from her. But I had a ride to Los Angeles, so I went. To make a long story short, I got to LaVerne at 1:30 a. m. Christmas morning. I learned Tut had come to Michigan the previous week. Boy, was I disappointed! LaVerne, Covina, San Dimas, El Monte are beautiful towns. I saw the orange trees loaded with fruit, and I really enjoyed the ocean-side drive between Los Angeles and San Diego. My trip was worth it, even though I was just riding all Christmas eve and Christmas day.

It was about seven p. m. Christmas day when I came in the barracks. I knew I would be terribly homesick if I sat down and started to write letters home. Consequently I began washing clothes. I washed everything I owned, and pressed my uniform. By that time I was so tired I practically fell into my bunk.

By the way, there's a tip for those girls back home that get so lonesome for their boy friends and husbands—keep yourself so busy you don't have time to think.

Today I went for a long walk along the Pacific beach. It was grand. Tomorrow is my birthday. I plan on going over to San Diego and going to a show, after duty hours, of course.

Wishing you all a happy New Year! Thanks so much for the paper. I certainly do enjoy it.

P. S.—Please write to me. Letters mean so much. Notice my new address.

Dear Ken,

I received the Courier today and was glad to read the news from my home town of Charlevoix. I thank you a million for all the trouble you go through sending the papers out to us. We enjoy them very much, as that way we know what is going on back home.

I just got a letter from my girl over here, so will finish this in a hurry and see what she has to say, because I never saw her in the last four days. Maybe she will be thinking I am stepping out with some other dame. I am having my good time as long as I am here because it might be a long time before I get to come home again.

We have it nice here and get our three square meals a day and are doing very little, so we have it nice if they don't move us on again.

Say "hello" to all my friends in Charlevoix. It doesn't take very long to lose track of them when they get moved around to almost every state like I've been, and I know what it is like. I hope they enjoy their army life as well as I do, so the time really passes by fast for me. This doesn't seem like December yet, to see the ground green with grass. I don't think I will see much snow this year like I did back when I was still around Charlevoix. So I will be looking forward to come back to that home town again some day.

I better sign off for now, as long as there isn't anything to say. So good luck.

Pvt. Andrew Speigl
Englund.

Hi, Ken,

First I wish to thank those who make it possible for me to receive the good old home town paper, because there I find addresses of school mates and friends I haven't seen or heard from since I left Charlevoix in '35, and it's good news to learn they are still going.

I am on a repair crew at this base and every time a new ship or crew comes in, I try to find someone from home, but as yet I have had no luck outside of meeting a lot of my friends from Detroit. But I haven't given up hopes yet, and if any of the fellows ever come here, I wish they would look me up.

I have been all over this place and enjoyed the scenery and animal life here, but when they say the women are beautiful and the men great husky fellows, I dare say those people have had too much torpedo juice and can't see any more. It's great stuff when you want to forget, fact is, we have one fellow here they call "Torpedo" because he uses so much of it. I haven't tried any as yet, but have observed its results.

I trust you all back home are enjoying the snow and clear, fresh air, and if anyone is complaining, I'll gladly change with them any time and let them get a taste of the hell men go through out here and never complain, while back home people stay home because they are tired. If you are tired here you haven't started to work yet, you are just getting the kinks out of your muscles because you are on duty 24 hours a day, unless you are fortunate to get liberty for a few hours.

It's time for work, so thanks again for the paper and keep it coming.

As ever,
Harold W. Mayhew, F2c
Navy—Pacific.

Dear Ken,

Thanks to you, Jerry and the CSO for sending the Courier. Apart from that medium of home contact, I ran into Charlie Sterritt, now in the advanced class here at Schuyler, and we seem to know the same Charlevoix people.

The work here is quite concentrated; we are supposed to absorb (or at least be exposed to) the senior year at Annapolis in eight weeks. I've found that the background acquired in Charlevoix helps in such courses as seamanship and navigation—never tho't my share in the sloop Rogue would ever pay off.

Orders to next assignments come through in another week, we leave in three weeks, and I'll have to send you another address. I'm finding, as most of the lads have, that one does a lot of traveling while in the armed forces.

Thanks again for sending the paper—keep the home front end up.

Sincerely,
Cliff.

Dear Ken,

I thought I had better drop you a line and tell you that I'm moving again and to hang into that paper of mine. I don't know where I'm going or when. Bud Hallett is here with me and he will be staying for some time yet.

The reason for my shift is because I've transferred to the air corps as an aviation cadet. Those that are not transferring from the A. S. T. P. get furloughs starting Saturday. Naturally I miss out.

We had a wet Christmas down here. It rained all day and night. Not like Charlevoix.

I want to thank the Kiwanis Club and the Blue Star Mothers for their Christmas cards. They were swell.

I also want to thank you and two other citizens of that big little city for their letters of recommendation that made it possible for me to get into the air corps.

We had quite a freeze here about two weeks ago. The city of Charleston was very unprepared for snow. We were without water for two days. We got about one canteen a day to do what we wanted to with. You'd be surprised at what you can do with a quart of water when you have to.

Guess it's about time to quit and roll out for chow. That is one thing that is not to be missed.

Yours,
Dick.

Dear Ken,

Once more my address has changed. While on furlough in Denver to see my wife, I was transferred to this new outfit. Had a swell time and would have liked to have made it to Charlevoix if we only had the time.

It snowed in Denver on Thanksgiving day while I was there, but there isn't a chance of me seeing a "white" Christmas this year.

I am enclosing the "Latrine Gazette," a small magazine which is for sale here at Will Rogers. I haven't seen it at any other field, so maybe you don't have it as yet.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ken,

I just want to let you know I've changed company again. The address is Hq. Co., 717th Tk. Bn., instead of C Co., 717th Tk. Bn.

I'm going to try and get up there around the first of the year, I hope I can make it—sure would be swell.

Dear Ken,

Merry Christmas and a very happy New Year, and thanks a million for the old home town paper.

Haven't received last week's Courier, and was disappointed not to get the news from home. Here's hoping I get this week's.

I feel fine, getting plenty of salt water spray these days. I am on an 83-foot boat now.

Your Pal,

Dear Ken,

Boy! I really am ashamed of myself for not writing. But I think it's better late than never. I'd like to thank you and all those responsible for sending the Courier to the fellows in the service. I get a kick out of your line of chatter.

Maybe I can better acquaint myself by telling you that I am one of the fellows who were trying to find an anchor for you in Pine lake. Let's see—I think it was the first week in August of 1942.

I received a swell card from Glenn (the cop on the beat). I thought it was nice of him. Sorry I didn't get a chance to see him when I was home. But I spent a good share of my time in Petoskey. That's right, a girl friend. Oh, heck! You know how it is.

I'm in California now and it's a swell here. It's got Virginia and the southern hospitality beat all ways. This is the first time I'm really dreaming of a "white" Christmas. Oh, well, I wouldn't be satisfied at home until the war is over, which is as it should be, I guess.

Send the Courier to my new address, will you, please?

A home town boy,
George P. Winnick, S1c

Dear Ken,

First of all, I can't tell you how ashamed I am for not writing and thanking you for the Courier for the past 13 months. I guess you might call it writer's cramps, or plain, low down laziness. Anyway, I appreciate it very much. I look forward to it each week, the "little morale builder," is what I call it. When I sent my change of address card, and you responded so quickly, I said: "Boy, that guy is really on the ball."

I guess life in the army for me has been much the same as any other fellow who is still in the states. We have been on maneuvers in Louisiana for three months, after which we came to Camp Howze. We have been here a little more than a month.

I have been on furlough since we moved here. I never seem to be able to spend much time in Charlevoix, but what time I do spend is certainly enjoyed. Perhaps some people could tell you, if they have seen me cutting up at the Outside Inn.

Time-Tested Advice About Chest Colds!

Grandma Was Right
Time Has Proved It

Today, the first choice and family standby for relieving miseries of colds in millions of homes is the same home-remedy grandma used . . . Vicks VapoRub! What better recommendation could a product have!

When you rub time-tested VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work 2 ways at once—and keeps on working for hours to relieve coughing spasms and congestion in the cold-clogged upper breathing passages, to ease muscular soreness or tightness. It invites restful sleep. And often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone! Try it.

Do You Know?

That last week I, among the other business men, wished everyone a very happy and prosperous New year. I wonder how many have considered seriously why we, who live in Charlevoix, have so much to be happy and thankful for, as we prosper.

It appears to me that we have everything the Good Lord ever promised anyone. So — why not make 1944 a year of boosting—let the world know why Charlevoix-the-Beautiful is the best place in the world.

MARY HOWE, BERNARD McCAFFERTY MARRIED IN ASHTABULA, OHIO

The marriage of Miss Mary Howe, of Ashtabula, Ohio, and Sgt. Bernard McCafferty, of Camp Pickett, Va., was solemnized Monday morning, December 20, at a mass celebrated at 10:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's church in Ashtabula.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Howe, of Ashtabula, while the groom is the son of Mrs. Nellie McCafferty, of Charlevoix. Rev. W. J. Murphy was celebrant of the mass, assisted by Mrs. Frank Cragon at the organ and Mrs. Albert Lipps, of Perry, Ohio, as soloist.

Comprising the bridal party were Miss Betty Howe as maid of honor; Mrs. Kenneth Howe, Miss Ann Kollar and Miss Adaline Volpone, of Bedford, Ohio, as bridesmaids; Marian Howe, niece of the bride, as flower girl; Maurice Howe, brother of the bride, as best man; Kenneth Howe, Francis and William McClimans, ushers, and Mr. Howe, who escorted his daughter.

The bride's gown was eggshell velvet. Her veil, slightly longer than knee-length, fell from a Dutch-type headdress. She wore a gold cross, gift of the groom, and carried a white orchid on her prayer book. Two-toned blue dresses with bodices of velvet and skirts of chiffon, and matching velvet Dutch caps, were worn by the bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a wine and old rose gown. They carried colonial bouquets of roses.

Dinner was served at the Hotel Ashtabula for the bridal party and close relatives, followed by a reception in the afternoon at the Howe residence. Sgt. and Mrs. McCafferty left for a wedding trip to Cleveland and Charlevoix, after which he returned to Camp Pickett. Mrs. McCafferty will remain with her parents until she can join him at his post.

The bride attended Ashtabula high school and Stella Niagara Seminary at Stella Niagara, N. Y. Sgt. McCafferty is a graduate of Charlevoix high school, and was employed by the Pickard-Mather steamship line on the Great Lakes before entering service in March, 1943.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.

TAX NOTICE

The final date for tax payment will not be extended this year. Due to the fact that 84% of the taxes on the 1943 Winter Tax roll have been collected and that this amount equals the average annual collections by the City Treasurer, the City of Charlevoix will comply with the recommendations of the United States Treasury Department in their campaign to fight inflation.

Therefore, all taxes not paid by January 10, 1944, will carry a 4% penalty as prescribed by State Law.

ORCHIDS for your Standard Oil Dealer? Well, he wouldn't expect them. And yet the vital character of his job and the steadfast way he is doing it are worthy of real recognition. Without his services on the home front, the war effort would be impeded . . . For instance—millions of war workers have no way of getting to work except by auto . . . At some plants 90% of employees get to and from their jobs by car . . . 2,211 U. S. cities with 11,162,000 population have no trolleys, buses, or other transit facilities—depend on private cars.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON
From Your Congressman
Fred Bradley

The year 1943 is over. It was a year of war—and for most of us it was a year of hard work.

I have read and heard of many tirades about members of Congress by men and women who have an idea that a member of Congress is some sort of different breed than the rest of us. They seem to think that we are not exactly human—that we do not have ordinary everyday feelings like other folks. Well, we do! We members of Congress have first-hand, personal heart wrenching knowledge of the war and thus of the importance of our own work.

I wish I could take all of you through these House office buildings and show you the many pictures of our service men and women on our desks and walls—then you would quickly see what I mean when I say we are just ordinary folks. I would start right in my own office. I have two nephews in the service—my brother's sons—one is a lieutenant commander in command of a destroyer escort vessel somewhere at sea doing his bit. He has been in the navy since 1940—almost a year before Pearl Harbor. His kid brother is in the army studying to become an aerial photographer. I would then take you to Congressman Baldwin's office, whose fighter pilot son, Harry, has been reported missing in action; then to Congressman Bates' office, whose son-in-law was killed in action in the Solomons. The nephew of Congressman McMillan, a flyer, has been killed. Good old John Taber's son, Charles, in the naval service, has been injured in the war. Senator McClellan's son, Max, died in Africa. Senator George's son, Marcus, has been lost and his other son, Heard, is in the air force. Senator Hattie Caraway, the only woman ever elected to the Senate, has two sons in the army, as has my dear friend, Congresswoman Frances Bolton, of Ohio. Senator Bilbo's son, Theodore Junior, and Senator Reed's son, Howard, are both in the army. Congressman Bates has a daughter in the Waves, as does Sam Hobbs. Representative Kearney, of New York has a daughter in the Waes and Chet Gross, of Pennsylvania, has a daughter in the army nurse corps. As a matter of fact, Congressman Bates, whose daughter I just mentioned, has five sons and daughters in the armed forces, including the son-in-law who was killed. Congressman Kelley has five to his credit and Senator Bridges, of New Hampshire, has a son in the service. Our great Senator Byrd, of Virginia, has three sons at war and so does Bob Taft, of Ohio. Fifty members of the Senate and 135 members of the House have close relatives in the service. As a matter of fact, 32 Senators and 165 members of the House have themselves served the nation in war time.

Yes, the Congress is very cognizant of its duties at all times. But let me make myself clear—in the past and I do not in the future intend to be unduly influenced by pressure groups or demagogic issues. Too often we are swamped with pressure telegrams which are run off on a mimeograph machine and the only thing that is typed in is my name and the signature of some party, organization, or union. I know full well that the people who supposedly signed these telegrams usually have not the faintest idea of the contents of the message as I receive it, but they have simply given carte blanche authority to some so-called legislative council here in Washington—and the halls of the House office buildings are filled with them—to decide for you what your stand will be on pending legislation and thus seek by the most unfair kind of pressure to influence my vote. If I think in my own honest judgment such legislation is not for the benefit of the people of our district, or not in keeping with their better judgment were they given an honest opportunity to hear both sides of the question and make up their own minds, I will everlastingly back up in the traces, for to such pressure I have a hide like an elephant.

A year ago one of our members got himself a national radio hookup early in December and advocated free transportation as a Christmas present to all the boys in the armed forces to and from their homes during the holiday season, and asked that Congress pass this legislation. This year just before Christmas the mustering out pay for honorably discharged soldiers was brought before us. I refer not to the worthy issues themselves as being demagogic, but I am right when I say that the halls of Congress are filled with demagogic speeches in behalf of these Christmas presents because the sponsors know full well in both of these instances that if they were sincere in advocating them, their legislation should have been introduced weeks—if not months—earlier for legislation of this kind cannot be rushed through and enacted into law until thoroughly and completely studied.

So when you hear commentators denouncing Congress as hindering the war effort, just remember that we, too, have sons and daughters, nieces and nephews in danger and we too are concerned about the prosecution of the war and about our duties—we are concerned about our efforts to do our utmost so that when the next New Year rolls around we may be able to say to all of you, this is a HAPPY NEW YEAR—Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men.

On Monday, January 10th, the second session of the 78th Congress will get underway and there were many important loose ends left when the first session adjourned on December 21st that will have to be picked up.

One of the first measures is the mustering out pay for honorably

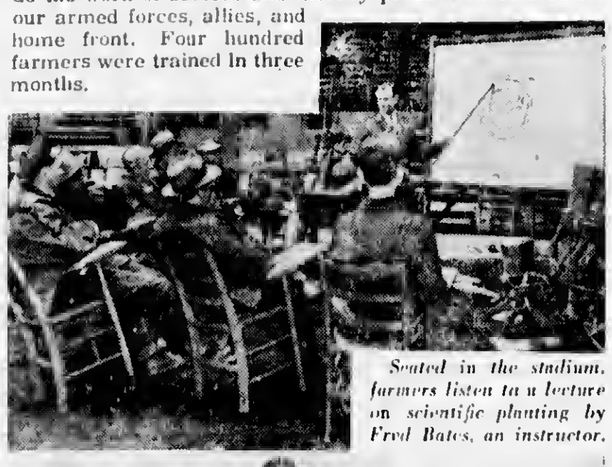
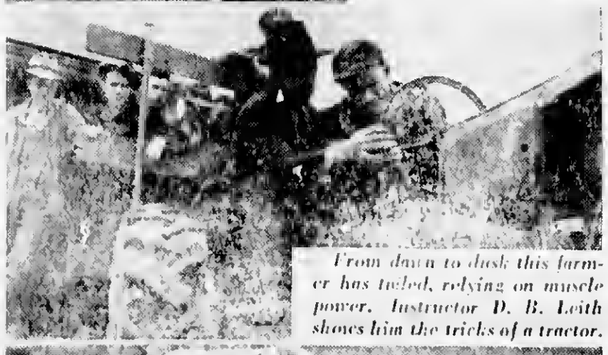
Farmers Go Collegiate

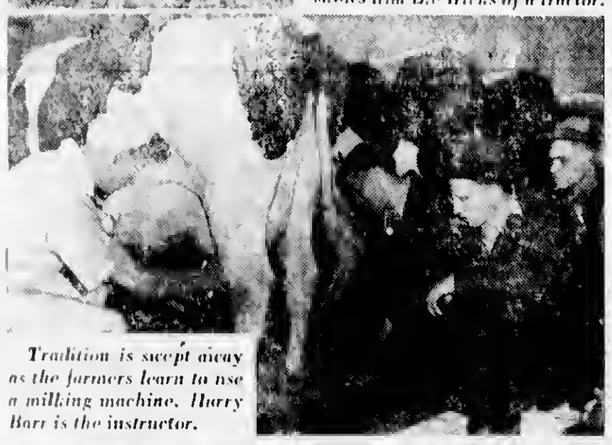
Despite the spotlighting of planes, tanks, block busters, and all the new scientific marvels of war, our army still marches on its stomach. That is one of the reasons why the government is trying to increase American farm production. Its latest move is the government-sponsored Farm Extension Program at Ohio State university. Here Kentucky farmers, who had wrested a living from the soil by the hard old method of strenuous manual labor, were trained to operate modern farm machinery that enables one man to do the work of several and thereby produce more food for our armed forces, allies, and home front. Four hundred farmers were trained in three months.



Seated in the stadium, farmers listen to a lecture on scientific planting by Fred Bates, an instructor.



From dawn to dusk this farmer has toiled, relying on muscle power. Instructor D. B. Leith shows him the tricks of a tractor.



Tradition is swept away as the farmers learn to use a milking machine. Harry Barr is the instructor.

Youths learn to hitch a walking plow. S. J. Belknap is instructor.

Students eat at Pomerene hall on the university campus.

CHATTERER HAS ANOTHER SURPRISE

CHATTERER the Red Squirrel never had had so many surprises—good surprises—in all his life, as since the day he had been caught in a trap in Farmer Brown's cornerib. In the first place, it had been a great surprise to him that he had not been given to Black Pussy the Cat, as he had fully expected to be. Then had come the even greater surprise of finding that Farmer Brown's Boy was ever and ever so much nicer than he had thought. A later surprise had been the wire wheel in his cage, so that he could run to his heart's content.

The fact is, Chatterer could have been truly happy but for one thing—he was a prisoner. Yes, sir, he was a prisoner, and he couldn't forget it for one minute while he was awake. He used to watch Farmer Brown's Boy and wish with all his might that he could make him understand how dreadful it was to be in a prison. But Farmer Brown's Boy couldn't understand what Chatterer said no matter how hard Chatterer tried to make him. He seemed to think that Chatterer was happy.

Chatterer had stood it pretty well and made the best of things until Sammy Jay had found him, and Reddy Fox had made fun of him, and Peter Rabbit had peeped at him from behind the old stone wall. The very sight of them going where they pleased, and when they pleased, had been too much for Chatterer, and such a great longing for the Green Forest and the Old Orchard filled his heart that he could think of nothing else. He just sat in a corner of his cage and looked as miserable as he felt. Farmer Brown's Boy brought him the fattest nuts and other dainties, but he just couldn't eat for the great longing for freedom that filled his heart until it seemed ready to burst. He no longer cared to run in that new wire wheel. He was homesick, terribly homesick, and he just couldn't help it.

Farmer Brown's Boy noticed it and his face grew sober and thoughtful. He watched Chatterer when the latter didn't know that he was about, and if he couldn't understand Chatterer's talk he could understand Chatterer's actions and knew that he was unhappy and guessed why. One morning Chatterer did not come out of his hollow stump, as he usually did when his cage was placed on the shelf outside the farmhouse door. He just didn't feel like it. He stayed curled up in his bed for a long, long time, too sad and miserable to move. At last he crawled up and peeped out of his little round doorway. Chatterer gave a little gasp and rubbed his eyes. Was he dreaming? He scrambled out in a hurry and peeped through the wires of his cage. Then he rubbed his eyes again and rushed over to the other side of the cage for another look. His cage wasn't on the usual shelf at all! It was on the stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard!

Chatterer was so excited he didn't know what to do. He raced around the cage. Then he jumped into the wire wheel and made it spin around and round as never before. When he was too tired to run any more he jumped out. And right then he discovered something he hadn't noticed before. The little door in the top of his cage was open! It must be that Farmer Brown's Boy had forgotten to close it when he put in Chatterer's breakfast. Chatterer forgot that he was tired. Like a little red flash he was outside and whisking along the stone wall straight for his home in the Old Orchard.

"Chickaree! Chickaree! Chickaree!" he shouted as he ran.

"Ha, ha, ha! Go it, you little red scamp!" shouted a voice behind him.

Then Chatterer knew that Farmer Brown's Boy had not left the little door open by mistake, but had given him his freedom, and right then he knew that they were going to be the best of friends.

DARN IT!

Mrs. Smith—Every time I have an argument with my husband, his snippy sister patches things up.

Mrs. Jones—Why, that old sew and-sew!

Jones—Hey, what's the idea of putting such a scalding towel on my face?

Barber—It was too hot for me to hold.

BRADLEY LETTER

discharged members of the armed forces. Over 25 different bills have been introduced on this question and I feel safe in saying that at least 100 plans and different scales of pay have been advocated in the committee hearings. It necessarily takes considerable time and study before legislation as important as this can be enacted into law. When we adjourned the military affairs committee in the House promised to bring a bill on the floor for action within five days after our return and I, therefore, assume that we will vote on this important question next week.

Then there is also the House approved tax bill on which no doubt the Senate will take action next week. The Senate has altered this bill somewhat and therefore it will have to go into conference between the two legislative bodies. The subsidy issue is likewise on the Senate calendar, but I doubt that final action will be had on this measure before the early part of next month.

Another primary concern of Congress has been the political abuse of government agencies created to render a laudable service to the people. Instead of adhering to the purpose for which they were created, the administrators, as is true in all bureaucracies, seek to use their organizations as a medium of garnering votes. By so doing, they maintain themselves in favor with the powers that be and hold on to their particular job. This turned out to be the principal activity of the Farm Security Administration, originally set up to give assistance to the small farmer. Now we have the Rural Electrification Administration before us with unclean hands and this is one of the important matters that Congress is going to have to iron out.

Another issue of considerable importance to which our early attention will be turned is the question of the soldiers' vote. A majority of the Senate, Democrats and Republicans alike, voted against the Lucas-Green bill on the grounds that it was unconstitutional in that it turned all of the voting machinery over to the New Deal to administer their own elections. Under the Constitution, the States are supposed to administer elections. The Senate passed a substitute which would assist the States in making the necessary arrangements such as free air mail service, etc. The House is yet to take action and needless to say we are bending every effort to work out a solution to what is admittedly a very serious problem. I am confident that the governors of the States will call special sessions of their legislatures, if necessary, to iron out these difficulties early in this year if Congress will pass, as I confidently expect it will, within the next several weeks, a satisfactory bill which will permit all of our boys and girls to cast their ballot not only for the president, vice president and members of Congress, but for their state and local county officers as well. This is their right as guaranteed by the Constitution which they are fighting to uphold and the important thing is to see to it that they all have a free ballot or absolute freedom to vote their own convictions.

Congress is in for a busy session during the next few months and there will be much of interest and great importance to the nation to be acted upon. It will be interesting to learn the reactions of various members who have had an opportunity to get back home and talk to their constituents face to face.

TIPS TO HOUSEWIVES

Jelly can be rescued by removing the paraffin, wiping the inside of the top of the glass clean and dry and then pouring on enough hot paraffin to cover the jelly. The glass should be tipped slightly and rotated so the paraffin will run up to the rim on all sides to form a tight seal.

The jelly itself cannot be reheated, since it would lose its consistency. Other spreads like jam, preserves or fruit butter may be reheated if care is taken not to scorch the product.

Any mold should first be removed and then the preserve heated in a double boiler just long enough to boil, then poured boiling hot into clean containers and sealed.

and we're only too happy that this contribution we are able to make in cooperation with the CSO and cooperating local citizens is appreciated.

And that reminds me that we have a fine bunch of letters from those in the service this week. There's communications from Pvt. Elsa Bogart, marine corps, San Diego, Calif.; Charles E. Winnick, army, Camp Heunemo, Calif.; Clarence McCalmon, seabees, Camp Perry, Va. If Elsa can talk in the same glowing terms she writes, the marine corps should have her out recruiting. And we finally got Jimmy Annis located. He's in the Solomon Islands, for sure. He tried to tell us in all the other letters he wrote, but up to this time, the censors always struck out any mention of location. It's sure nice to hear from all of you.

Lt. John Collins, in a postcard from Camp Adair, Ore., has asked us to thank all those who sent him Christmas greetings and letters. As chaplain of the 362nd Infantry regiment, he has little time to answer all the messages personally, but said the remembrances from Charlevoix people made "a swell Christmas" for him.

And in closing, our idea of an optimist is the man who takes the marriage vows at the ripe old age of 87 and starts house hunting for a nice place close to a school.

JUNIOR RED CROSS WORK IS REPORTED

Members Made Xmas Decorations for Hospital, Coast Guard

Activities of the Charlevoix county Junior Red Cross, reported by Anna Warner, chairman, show that the juniors have been busy making articles to be used locally, as well as distributed through the national Red Cross organization.

Members provided menu covers, tray favors, nut cups and decorated paper napkins to be used for Christmas dinners at Charlevoix Hospital, Charlevoix coast guard station and Beaver Island coast guard station.

The quota of these articles asked for by the national Red Cross was also filled and sent to headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., from where it was sent to other service centers.

Junior members will be busy from now until April making wash cloths, bedroom slippers, afghans, writing boards, games, and many other articles requested by the national Red Cross for use in service hospitals. Materials for construction of these articles will be purchased by the service fund of the county, or be found by salvaging woolen yarns and scraps. It is hoped that all schools will cooperate so that Charlevoix county may complete its quota before the summer vacation begins.

PIONEER IRONTON RESIDENT IS DEAD

Mrs. Christana Lyngklip Native of Norway; Services Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the See Funeral Home for Mrs. Christana Lyngklip, 74, native of Norway and a pioneer Ironton resident, who died Friday.

Born in Narvik, Norway, on August 20, 1869, she came to this country 55 years ago and had lived near Ironton since that time. She was married to Christ Lyngklip in 1914. He preceded her in death 10 years ago.

Mrs. Lyngklip was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are two sons, William Skye, of Ironton, and Andrew Skye, of Chicago, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Trayte, of Fort Myers, Fla. A son, John Skye, died in July, 1943.

Rev. M. R. Peterson conducted services at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

STUDENTS NEEDED FOR HOME NURSING COURSE

Enrollment Not Enough to Start Series of Classes

Enrollment in the proposed Red Cross home nursing course has not been sufficient to start classes, announces Mrs. A. W. Goddard, home nursing chairman for Charlevoix.

Those who are interested in taking the course, and have not enrolled, are asked to do so at once by a postcard addressed to Mrs. Goddard, signifying intention of enrolling in the course.

Mrs. D. C. Nettleton will be instructor for the course.

RED CROSS SURGICAL DRESSINGS RECEIVED

Operate Work Room Two Afternoons, Two Evenings

A new quota of Red Cross surgical dressings has been received, and work will begin next week at the work room in the city hall.

Many workers will be needed to complete the 10,000 2 by 2 dressings which comprise this quota. The room will be open Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock; Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 o'clock.

When I receive the Courier, I read it very thoroughly, even to want ads and advertisements and price of groceries. I always read your "Shot at Random" column. I also read the "Do You Remember" column, but the only thing wrong is that I can't remember back that far.

I have been a battery clerk and mail clerk nearly since I came into this outfit. I do like clerking, though. I would much rather sit behind a desk than take those 25 mile hikes, which they toss at us every now and then. We had a 25-miler last week, the first since before maneuvers, and I must admit it nearly killed me for a couple of days, but I am all ready for the next one now, I hope.

I have enjoyed reading the letters from the other Charlevoix boys in the service. Some of them have quite a wit. It seems that all the American soldiers, even though they don't like it some times, can laugh through most anything.

I want to thank the Blue Star Mothers and also the Kiwanis Club for their nice Christmas cards. I also received five dollars from the Council of Catholic Men, for which I want to express my thanks. As I remember, it came in mighty handy at the time. I think Ralph Hamilton is the secretary, and a very regular guy.

I don't know how long I will remain in the states, but I do hope I will be able to help them out in a big way over there before it is all over. A fellow feels as though he isn't doing much here, considering what the other men are going through in other parts of the world. Anyway, that is how I feel about it. One example is the nice Christmas dinner we had—turkey and all the trimmings—while I know there were many who were much less fortunate than I was.

Well, Ken, that is about all I have to say for now, but again I want to thank you and the people of Charlevoix who make it possible to keep up on the home town news.

Sincerely,
Charlie.

Dear Friend Ken,

A few lines to let you know I am fine and hoping you and all the people are the same.

I moved from my last place, that being Florida island, not far from Guadalcanal. I was at Guadalcanal, Tulagi, Garutu, and Tanambogo, all of which comprise the southern Solomons. There surely are some beautiful islands, full of cocoanut palms, crabs, lizards and what have you. Yes, I forgot the pretty colored parrots and cockatoos, can't leave them out.

I'd hate to have fought on those islands. The jungle is so thick. Our marines must have gone thru hell, but they came out victors.

We had very good chow there. The name of our base was Turner City, and for a while Spam was our "only" at chow. But then it got so we had steaks and fresh vegetables, also ice cream.

Have received one issue of the Courier so far.

All I have room to write. Give my best to Charlevoix.

As always,
Jim Annis,
Navy — Pacific

Note—Jim's letter, naming islands in the Solomons group, was passed by the censor. We assume that no vital military information can be revealed.

Dear Ken,

Here I am, scribbling a few lines. Our time is just about up, we hope. We are doing our sixth week of boot now. Just marking time until the man says the word.

We boys that are being transferred to general service in the regular navy have been ready for two weeks, but haven't gone yet.

Part of us are in the Protestant choir and we sure have a grand one. We are going caroling Christmas eve, all over the area. Then Christmas morning we have a program. At noon we sing in our own mess halls, then in the evening we give the big program. As we are the only area in camp giving a program, they are broadcasting it over WRVA, Richmond, Va., station at 8 p. m., December 25. All the officers and their wives will be there and it promises to be a gala affair.

We have been celebrating Xmas the last two weeks. Every time the boys get boxes from home they set them out and we go to town, so we get lots of goodies.

I have seen Harry Zeitler twice so far, and several of the other fellows. And it really seems good to see them.

We always look forward to getting the paper and so we keep up with things at home. Best regards to all my friends.

Yours in service,

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

VOLUME 49 NUMBER 2 EIGHT PAGES THE CHARLEVOIX COURIER, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1944 PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

FOURTH WAR LOAN TO START TUESDAY

COUNTY BOND QUOTA IS SET AT $352,000.00

"Let's All Back the Attack" Is Campaign Slogan; Chairmen In Session Wednesday

Next Tuesday, January 18, marks opening of the Fourth War Loan drive in Charlevoix county and the nation. The campaign will close February 15. "Let's All Back the Attack!" is the slogan with which an appeal is made to those people who make up the major part of the American nation—who perhaps cannot invest a large amount, but by their concerted efforts can assure the success of this drive and the entire war effort.

Charlevoix county's quota is $352,000, somewhat less than the quota of $420,000 assigned in the Third War Loan in September. However, the quota of series E bonds is $156,000, close to half of the total amount to be raised.

For the city of Charlevoix, quotas in various types of bonds are as follows: series E, $52,000; series F and G, $16,000; 2% and 2½% treasury bonds, $17,600; treasury certificates of indebtedness, $31,000. Total amount is $117,200, approximately a third of the county's goal.

Chairman for Charlevoix is Robert Bridge; East Jordan, Robt. Campbell; Boyne City, Mrs. Frank Thompson. These city chairmen and other directors of the campaign met Wednesday afternoon with Ralph Price, county chairman, to formulate plans for the drive.

JUDGE RUEGSEGGER SERVICES SATURDAY

Probate Judge and Prosecuting Attorney This County

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Boyne City for Ervan A. Ruegsegger, former Charlevoix county judge of probate, who died Wednesday after an illness of nearly a year.

Appointed probate judge in 1930 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Servetus A. Correll, he served until illness forced his resignation in July, 1943, when he was succeeded by R. L. Lewis. Prior to that, he had been prosecuting attorney of Charlevoix county for several years. For 23 years he was city attorney for Boyne City, which position he held at the time of his death. He had also served as city clerk for a time.

Rev. John Wyngarden conducted services at the Boyne City Presbyterian church, and interment was in Brookside cemetery.

MRS. LENA WALLACE SUCCUMBED TUESDAY

Funeral Services Not Arranged; May Be Thursday Afternoon

Mrs. Lena Wallace, 77, died Tuesday afternoon at Charlevoix Hospital, where she had been seriously ill for several days.

While funeral services are tentatively set for Thursday, at the See Funeral Home, final arrangements await the arrival of relatives.

W.S.C.S. INSTALLED OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Mrs. Frank Bird President for Fourth Successive Year

Officers for 1944 were installed last Thursday by the Women's Society of Christian Service, meeting at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Frank F. Bird took office for her fourth successive year as president of the organization. Others installed were: vice president, Mrs. L. H. Hegle; recording secretary, Mrs. Clayton Trimble; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dorman Pelky; treasurer, Mrs. La Verne McGhan; secretary of missionary education, Mrs. J. V. Kemp; secretary of Christian social relations, Mrs. Jake White; secretary of students, Mrs. Harry Stewart; secretary of church work, Mrs. LaVerne McGhan; secretary of literature and publications, Mrs. George Meggison; secretary of supplies, Mrs. M. B. Hooker; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. Arthur Edwards.

SNOW REMOVAL IS SERIOUS PROBLEM

RURAL RESIDENTS WARNED BY ROAD COMMISSION

Efficient Plowing Service As In Previous Years Impossible With Worn-Out Road Equipment

Residents of rural areas are advised by the Charlevoix county road commission to prepare themselves for possible isolation in case of a heavy snow storm, because it is now practically impossible to give the same type of efficient snow plowing service as in years past.

Farmers should keep on hand a sufficient supply of stock feed, as well as fuel and food for themselves. While the road commission will attempt to carry on the snow removal program to the best of their ability, they are handicapped by the fact that it is impossible to obtain any new snow removal equipment.

Old equipment is constantly being tied up for needed repairs, and it is extremely difficult to obtain needed replacement parts to keep trucks in running condition. In the event of a severe storm, which would be exceptionally hard on snow plowing equipment, roads may be closed entirely for a time until they can be opened with such equipment as the road commission has available at the time.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHURCH IS THURSDAY

Congregational Officers to Be Elected at Session

Annual meeting of the Congregational church is scheduled for Thursday, January 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Reports for 1943 will be given, and officers elected for 1944. Preceding the meeting there will be a family supper at 6:30, in charge of the Mary Brewster Circle.

Any person desiring my assistance on Income and Victory taxes, please contact me during January. Ralph Hamilton. Phone 434.—Adv. 2tf.

Nazi Soldiers Appear Happiest When Not Fighting

Left: A few hours rest has been granted to these Nazi soldiers who are pictured entertaining themselves somewhere along the Russian front. With Russia's great ally, winter, now in action there is little time for rest in German ranks. This picture was found by the Russians. Right: This photograph which was radioed from Algiers shows young Nazi prisoners of the 26th panzer regiment taken captive in Italy. They smile at the camera, apparently pleased that they are prisoners and no longer must fight and face the difficulties of war against the Allies.

NAVY MEDAL AWARDED ENSIGN JACK GOLDMAN

Won Citation for Action in LCI Boat Fire In Pacific

Ensign Jack Goldman, U. S. naval reserve, has been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps medal for his rescue of two men in an LCI boat fire in the Pacific area during November, according to word received from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin D. Goldman, of St. Louis, Mo., and Charlevoix.

The medal was awarded, to quote the citation given by Admiral W. F. Halsey, commander of the United States Pacific fleet, "for heroism during an explosion and fire while serving as engineering officer aboard an infantry landing craft operating in the south Pacific on November 17, 1943.

"Ensign Goldman, upon investigating an explosion in the engine room, found that a fuel tank had burst and coated the space with inflammable fuel oil. He ordered the men on watch, who were covered with oil, out of danger and proceeded to secure the main engines.

"Aware that the slightest spark would ignite the fumes, he attempted to secure the generator, but was unable to do so. When a spark set the engine room aflame, he ordered two men, who had come to aid him, out of the room and without regard for his own personal injuries, reported the extent of the fire to the commanding officer and assisted in extinguishing the flames before submitting to medical treatment. His courageous conduct was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

Now receiving treatment in a naval base hospital in the Pacific, Ensign Goldman will soon be transferred to a hospital in this country.

SERVICES FRIDAY FOR MRS. FRANK E. WOOD

Resident of Charlevoix Almost 62 Years; Died Wednesday

Mrs. Frank E. Wood, 84, who died last Wednesday at the home of her son, Clarence, had been a resident of Charlevoix for nearly 62 years.

Born in Grand Rapids on July 9, 1859, Mary L. Moore came to Charlevoix in 1882. On December 6, 1882, she was married to Frank E. Wood, and they made their home in this city. Mr. Wood preceded her in death on January 13, 1930.

Until a year ago, Mrs. Wood was an active member of the Baptist church. She had been in ill health for the past several months.

Surviving are two sons, DeForest H. and Clarence F., of this city; two brothers, Judson K. Moore, of Charlevoix, and Arthur Moore, of Denver, Colo.; one sister, Mrs. C. H. Wood, of Pasadena, Calif., and two grandchildren, Marjorie and Robert Wood.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Friday afternoon at the See Funeral Home, with Rev. M. R. Peterson officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

LEITH KERR WOUNDED IN ACTION IN ITALY

Word has been received by local friends that Staff Sgt. Leith S. Kerr, with the army air forces in Italy, has been wounded in action. Sgt. Kerr is a gunner in the crew of a heavy bomber.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

YANKS PLAYED SANTA CLAUS

STAFF SGT. OLACH WRITES FROM ENGLAND

Americans Saved Candy Rations for Christmas Treat to English Children

How Yankee soldiers played Santa Claus for children "somewhere in England" is told in a recent letter written by Staff Sgt. Clement F. Olach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olach, of this city. Sgt. Olach is with the U. S. army signal corps in England.

His letter follows:

"Would have written sooner but was rather busy during Christmas week—you know how those things are. So many people to buy gifts for, people to pay visits to, cheer up a sick friend and a million and one other things. Well, I can dream, can't I?

"I did have a busy time during Christmas, though. I played Santa Claus for the little ones in surrounding small towns. We, of the Yanks, saved our candy, gum and cookies and gave them to the kids over here. You should see their faces light up. Most of them haven't seen any candy for four years. Now and then there are a lot of them that don't even know what candy is. Poor kids, I feel sorry for them. But it does your heart good to see their beaming faces when you give them their sweets, as they call candy.

"Army photographers went along and took pictures, so I got my mug in them four different times. I am trying to get some prints so I can send them to you and let you see for yourself how a happy child looks. I just wish there was a lot more we could do for the poor unfortunate ones who have to suffer for the selfish greed of one mad man.

"Boy, you should see the dinner we got on Christmas. It was fit for a king, and I'm not just batting the breeze. Many is the fellow who left the mess hall with that overstaffed feeling and went back for some baking soda. We got turkey galore, with all the trimmings—and it was good, too. Now we will probably have to suffer for it and eat rations for the next six months. But life is like that.

"Got to close now, so best of luck to you all.

Clem."

FIRST LOCAL AIR WAC CALLED FOR TRAINING

Gigantic Rally Monday Night at Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor

Miss Betty Ross, first Charlevoix young woman to join the newly-organized Air Wacs, left Sunday for Ann Arbor to be sworn into the new Michigan Wac unit of 118 recruits.

A Women's Army Corps rally was held Monday night at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, at which Governor Harry F. Kelly was a speaker. Major Wayne King, who in civilian life was a popular orchestra leader, was master of ceremonies for the army entertainment program.

Miss Ross will receive her initial training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and will later be assigned to an army air unit.

SPEBSQSA JAMBOREE HELD SUNDAY NIGHT

Plan "Gay Nineties" Party for January 29 at Argonne

Charlevoix Chapter No. 19 of the SPEBSQSA held another of its popular "jamborees" at the residence of Dr. D. C. Nettleton, last Sunday evening, with an attendance of some 75 enthusiasts.

Musical units of the association taking part included the Bathal Benders, Tunelwisters, Phenaglers, the Hopeless Four, the Charlevoices and the Outorkirk Twins. Pleasing guest features of the evening were the Teachers' Tonette Trio, composed of Evelyn Wiltse, Gladys Anderson and Dorothy McRae, performing upon the "sweet potato"—an instrument something on the order of an ocarina or piccolo—the High School Girls' Trio, represented by Solly Miller, Jane Kohler and Audrey Myers; duets by Deano and Mona Davenport and solos by Jon Henry.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. "Pat" Hawley, assisted by other members of the ladies auxiliary of the organization, presented some novel and entertaining ideas. Each member and guest was required to wear something indicative of the month in which he or she was born. Costumes ranged from a complete trout fisherman's outfit to a simple June rose, worn in the lapel. Persons having the same birth month were grouped and later each group presented a tableau or playlet in keeping with the month represented. Several participants carried away with them a toothsome cake as a token of their good fortune in the lively "walk", which was one item of the evening's entertainment.

The association has plans under consideration (details of which will be later announced) for a Gay Nineties party to take the place of the President's Ball on January 29th, at The Argonne.

MEMBERS OF MEMORIAL FUND COMMITTEE MET

Would Appreciate Knowledge of People in Need of Aid

A meeting of the local committee of the Lenore Goldman Myer Memorial Fund was held last Wednesday, January 5. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger comprise the committee.

Records of the fund's operations show that 20 people have received help during the last two months. The committee is working on new cases which will receive help in the near future.

Charlevoix is fortunate in having such an emergency fund, and all of those who have been aided have expressed their deepest gratitude for such help in their time of need.

Because it is often difficult to learn of cases where help is badly needed, the committee would be glad to have brought to their attention any reports of people in unfortunate circumstances.

LOCAL MAN IS AWARDED SILVER GUNNERS' WINGS

Charles W. Wexstaff graduated this week from the army air forces aerial gunnery school at Harlingen, Texas, army air field. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wexstaff. Along with his diploma he received a pair of aerial gunners' wings and a promotion to grade. After a furlough at home, he will join an aerial combat team.

RESIDENT OF BAY TOWNSHIP TAKEN

Services for Paul Johnecheck Held Tuesday in Petoskey

Paul Johnecheck, age 84, died suddenly Sunday morning at his residence near Horton Bay. He was born in Germany, Jan. 18, 1859, and came to this country 64 years ago.

He is survived by four daughters and three sons: Mrs. Robert Dell, Lansing; Mrs. Wilfred Sterzik, of Resort township; Mrs. Frank Hunt, North Bay; Miss Ina Johnecheck, of Detroit and Petoskey; Paul Jr., Charlevoix; Albert and August, both of North Boy, and twenty-six grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren.

Mr. Johnecheck was a member of the Evangelical church of North Boy. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. H. A. Baines, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical church of Petoskey. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery, Petoskey.

SEEK SUMMER BOAT SERVICE

"CITY OF GRAND RAPIDS" MAY STOP HERE

Board of Commerce Makes Effort to Secure Tri-Weekly Steamer for Summer Visitors

Charlevoix's summer travel difficulties may be solved if the board of commerce succeeds in their present efforts to make this city a regular port of call for the Cleveland & Buffalo steamship "City of Grand Rapids."

Because of Charlevoix's distance from large cities such as Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis, the city is faced with an acute travel problem. Gas restriction, the tire situation and general condition of motor vehicles make it imperative that every available means of transportation be utilized to enable summer people to come here.

For the past two months, the board of commerce has been negotiating to make Charlevoix a port of call for the steamer "City of Grand Rapids" three days each week, starting in June. If the project becomes a reality, it will require the combined cooperation of all local citizens with the board of commerce to advertise the fact to our prospective summer guests.

Possibility of having this added travel facility is now in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is hoped that a favorable report on their decision may soon be made.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BANK STOCKHOLDERS

Officers Are Elected by Charlevoix County State Bank

Stockholders of the Charlevoix County State Bank held their annual meeting Tuesday, January 11.

Officers elected were: president, Robert Bridge; vice president, E. J. Hiller; cashier, E. D. Hawley. Board of directors includes these officers, also J. M. Foster and M. A. Levinson.

Candidate Withdraws

Kit Carson, candidate for alderman in the first ward at the February 21 primary, has withdrawn from the race. Karl J. Erber is uncontested as candidate for the office.

RAYDERS LOSE PELLSTON TILT

TOPPED LOCAL TEAM 22-21 TUESDAY NIGHT

Charlevoix Plays at East Jordan January 21; Will Be Third Conference Clash

Pellston's undefeated basketball team won Tuesday night's game by a one-point margin, 22 to 21, over the Rayders on the local floor.

The contest was close all the way. As the first quarter ended, Charlevoix led 6 to 3. The visitors scored 10 points to the locals' 7 during the second period to tie the count 13-all at the half. Each team tallied six points in the third quarter for a 19-19 deadlock at third intermission. Two field goals and a free throw comprised the final quarter's scoring. Bellinger's goal was the Rayder's only score, and Pellston evened the count at 21-all. Bonter, Pellston's husky center, made a free throw to break the deadlock and win the game in the closing seconds.

Captain Bellinger led the local team's scoring with 14 points, highest individual score made by the Rayders this season. Chambers tallied 4, Ward 2, Hardy 1. These four, and Plum, were the Kipmen's starting line-up, with Belfy going in as substitute.

Bonter made 7 points for the visitors, Snider 5, Shurtliff 4, Warneck and Sydow 2 each. Coach McClutchey used seven players during the game.

Each team had five chances for free throws. Pellston made good on two, while Charlevoix connected with only one.

The Rayders go to East Jordan on Friday, January 21, to meet the Jordanites for the first time this season. Latest reports give the Jordan basketeers one victory and two defeats so far this year.

WOULD SEND COURIERS TO MORE SERVICEMEN

Estimate 100 Local Soldiers Not Getting Home Town Paper

Although this week's issue of the Courier is being sent to 352 Charlevoix men and women in service, by the Charlevoix Service Organization, it is estimated that about 100 more local men are not receiving the paper.

Because the Charlevoix Service Organization is endeavoring to maintain home ties for service men far from home, by sending them the home town paper, they hope to be able to send it to those not now on the subscription list.

Addresses of service men should be given to the Courier office, where these papers are mailed out in precisely the same manner as those of civilian subscribers.

NO INFORMATION ON COUNTY DRAFT GROUP

Will Publish Complete List of Inducted Men Next Week

No official information has yet been received by the local draft board as to the number of men who passed army examinations at the Detroit induction station last Thursday.

Thirty-six Charlevoix county men were sent for examination, but it is not known how many of these were inducted. A complete list of the January contingent will be published next week.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

It is reliably reported that Mahatma Gandi left college because all the girls were after his pin.

After printing Ed. Radle's letter last week about how the Courier reached him in various odd ways, went over to the drug store to get my Saturday Evening Post and there was the first of two articles on "The Terrible Days of Company E", which, by the way, is Ed's outfit. Ed., you may remember, was the first enlisted man to set foot on New Guinea when the first American air-borne troops landed at Port Moresby in September, 1942. Company E's march across the Owen Stanley mountains took 19 days. Later troops, transported by air to Moresby and from there by plane to the vicinity of Buna, made the trip in 45 minutes. No doubt Ed, one of C. H. S's huskiest football toters, must have slimmed down some in that march, but came out the winner in his bout with malaria and is back with his company again.

There is good in everything. If ancients hadn't neglected bathing, nobody would have invented perfume.

Last Friday night's low temperature covered Lake Michigan with ice nearly from the Beavers to the mainland, according to Mike Cull, whose boat, after having engine trouble, was towed into port here by the Mary Margaret. Mike said they encountered ice almost all the way over. It's been a long, cold winter so far, but mild compared to a year ago when at this time we had mountains of snow and a lot of country roads were blocked. So far, snowfall has been extremely light.

Telephone operator to new girl she is breaking in: "No, honey, you say, 'Just a moment, please', not 'Hang onto your pants, mister'."

Frank Harris reminded me Saturday night that it was only 90 days until the trout fishing season opened, and said he had his minnow bait for next season already salted down. Well, Frank, you're not any more anxious for the trout season to open than I am, but you're going to have to wait 109

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Received the September 29th copy of the Courier today (December 19). While in camp back in the states, it sure felt good to receive the Courier each Sunday or Monday. Imagine how I felt to get my hands on it after not seeing it for almost seven months, even if it is a 2½-month-old paper. It's a very nice Christmas present, I must say. Thanks a million!

I read the paper through and through. Glad to see that Paul White (he raised his right hand the same day I did a little over a year ago) was home on furlough. It sure was nice to read the letters from army camps, to hear how the boys are making out at their respective camps, and what they do to earn their $50 a month if they are a private.

I can't say what all we do, but it isn't much. I believe I have had it easier in the last three or four months than I've had in the army so far. I hate to admit it, nevertheless we are kept quite busy doing nothing. We catch a detail once in a while, take a hike once in a while. The other morning we hiked up a mountain, from which I believe we saw half of Italy. It was quite a sight. All we needed was the baskets and it would have been a real picnic. I might add that we didn't have to carry the sea bags on each shoulder like Bill Bogart does in the Seabees.

This sure is a swell outfit. First thing you know, I'll have all of the Charlevoix boys in the service wishing they were here with Co. B, the first of the first of the first. As far as comfort goes, we have that, too. Nothing like five or six inches of straw to sleep on in our little pup tents out in the fresh air. We have four blankets. Three is all I use to roll up in, the fourth I use for a pillow. We get at least 10 or 11 hours of sleep a night. What more can a guy ask for in the line of rest? The chow is good, not like it was back in the states. Can't complain, though.

Now I'll have to tell you of an incident that took place in a cafe in Rome, back in Africa. A cou-

Where Allied Diplomacy Is Winning

Three Balkan developments recently indicated the growing strength of Allied prestige in that area: 1. A Russian military mission to Yugoslavia. 2. Increasing tension in Bulgaria. 3. Turkey's proclamation of "unity" with the United Nations.

Signs of Santa in Iceland Hospital

It was only a short trip from Santa Claus' North Pole headquarters to these American soldiers in a hospital in Iceland. That he didn't forget them is clearly indicated by the colorful trimmings which help bring Christmas cheer to these wounded warriors.

A Giver Gets a Birthday Cake

Mayor LaGuardia of New York recently made an appeal on behalf of the National War Fund. On his birthday he was able to present $1,348.92 to officials of the fund. They reciprocated by presenting him with a birthday cake. He is shown tasting the cake with Emil Schram, left, chairman of the New York committee of the fund.

Men Who Smashed Nazi Greenland Base

U. S. armed forces that penetrated Arctic wastes to discover and destroy a Nazi radio base on Greenland were sketched by Coast Guard Combat Artist Norman Thomas. In this picture two U. W. H. WALLACE

Today, with the eyes of the world upon us,

THE FOURTH WAR LOAN IS LAUNCHED!

TUESDAY, the 18th of January, America's Fourth War Loan starts.

It is the largest of all war loans in terms of individual participation—in the amount you must dig down for.

And—it is, perhaps, the most important of all War Loans. For it comes at a time when the eyes of all the world are upon us; the eyes of our friends, the eyes of our enemies, the eyes of our own fighting men.

We have just entered the crucial year of the war, a year of destiny, a year that promises to decide how good or bad a world we'll have to live in all the rest of our lives. And the world is wondering how deeply we mean it when we promise our men we'll back their attack, and when we promise our Allies we'll stick with them not only through the winning of the war but through the winning of the peace as well.

The Fourth War Loan is the home front's first big test of this new and vital year. It will take unity and determination of will of all the people to make the Loan succeed.

The need for this and other War Loans should be clear to every American. This war is the costliest effort ever undertaken by any country. It costs 250 million dollars each day. This is just the cost of the war, in addition to the regular, inescapable cost of running a great and huge country. Taxes can't take care of all this outgo. Neither can government borrowing from insurance companies, savings banks, corporations, and other large investors. It is necessary to turn to the people, their weekly wages, their savings accounts, the money tucked away in pantry sugar bowls, in socks, under mattresses.

This is as it should be. In a democracy, war is the business of all the people. Some must fight, some must work and put up the money.

It's the only way to raise the money. It's also the right way to raise the money. It gives you a good place to invest the extra money you have today. It's a curb on inflation, on that dangerous bulk of pocket money that leads to black markets and disastrous spending. It's a mattress for tomorrow, a sort of individually planned Social Security that will bring in welcome money in the years ahead when income might not be the Mississippi flood it is today.

These last are not the reasons for the Loans. They are extra reasons, however, over and above the $1 interest you get on every $3 you invest. The fundamental reason for the Fourth War Loan is that your beloved America, at war and in danger, needs your help!

Every one who has a job or savings, should invest at least $100—if possible, $200, $300, or $500 extra. Some 5,000,000 Americans, volunteers, will be working to sell these Bonds. One of these volunteers will ask you to buy, where you work, at your home, or some other place. If by some chance, you're missed, find out where to buy and buy on your own.

The place where you work will have a quota. That's where you should make your major investment. That's where your personal quota really counts.

But . . .

The place you live also has a quota. Try to invest there, too. Other people will ask you. Salespeople, in retail stores, have volunteered to help and have an individual quota. If they ask you to buy, try to buy from them, too. Movie theaters, restaurants, schools, banks, postoffices, and many other places also will be selling bonds.

The Fourth Loan is a test of us as a nation.

The eyes of our fighting men are upon us to see if we are backing them.

. . . The eyes of our Allies are upon us to see if we are with them.

. . . The eyes of our enemies are upon us to see if we are soft enough to fall for a non-victorious, here-today-gone-tomorrow peace . . .

Are we? The answer is in your pocket!

Let's all BACK THE ATTACK!

DISCHARGE BUTTONS FOR EX-SERVICEMEN

Write Detroit Army Headquarters for Lapel Insignia

Discharged servicemen can get special lapel buttons by presenting or mailing original discharge papers to U. S. Army Headquarters, District 1, Sixth Service Command, 472 Federal Building, Detroit, 26, Michigan.

The discharge papers will be endorsed and returned.

The buttons will be given to all persons honorably discharged from the army since Sept. 8, 1939. They are gold colored plastic with spread eagle design.

Tally Game at Straits

A check by conservation officers revealed that a total of 7,349 animals were taken across the Straits during the deer season as compared with 10,185 in the 1942 season. Hunters in 9,777 cars crossed with 7,140 deer, 85 bear, 37 coyotes, 47 foxes, 34 bobcats and six wolves.

FISH SHANTIES MUST BE MARKED, WARNING

Conservation Officials Remind Ice Fishermen of New Law

Ice fishermen are reminded by conservation department district headquarters at Boyne City that new ice fishing regulations are in force this year.

Act 134 of the Public Acts of 1943 requires that all fish shanties which are left unattended bear the name and address of the owner in legible letters on the outside of the shanty; that the letters be not less than two inches in height and in material not soluble in water.

All fish shanties must be removed from the ice before conditions are unfavorable to removal, and if prevented from doing so by condition of the ice, they shall be removed from the water within 30 days after the ice melts. Failure to remove the shanty, or have name and address on it in accordance with the law, subjects the owner to costs of removal and a fine not to exceed $50 and costs, or imprisonment for not to exceed 30 days, or both.

Many shanties have been placed on the ice without complying with this statute, but conservation officials believe this is largely through ignorance of the law rather than an attempt to evade its requirements.

WILL APPOINT COUNTY SCHOOL COMMISSIONER

Applications Received by Clerk; Requirements Are Listed

Applications are being received by County Clerk Fenton R. Hulow for an appointment to the office of county school commissioner, left vacant by the death of William C. Palmer.

Requirements are that the applicant have a degree from an accredited college, plus 45 months of teaching experience. Appointment will be made by a committee comprised of the probate judge, prosecuting attorney and county clerk.

The position is open to both men and women.

Angling Statistics for 1943

Only 4,258 anglers, as compared with 6,798 in 1942, fished 13,304 hours in Michigan in 1943 and caught 11,377 fish. Brook trout had an average length of 8.8 inches, rainbow 11.7 inches and brown trout 11 inches.

ple of fellows and myself stepped into this joint and decided to have a steak. The waiter couldn't figure out what we were trying to say. After we practically tore the place apart trying to make him understand, he finally went back and brought out some beef and mutton. He pointed at the mutton, saying "bah, bah," then at the beef with a "moo, moo," so all we had to say was "moo, moo" and I still believe we got the "bah, bah." Rather simple after you argue for an hour, even if we didn't get what we asked for.

Here in Italy the people seem to be more friendly and wiser. When on pass here, we eat two meals in the town or city in which we visit. In the cafes they have a menu in English. All we have to do is point to what we want. After we eat, they hit us with the hook. We give them a little argument if the cost is too high, or higher than we got orders to pay—a Yank is always the winner. Boy, we sure have some fun with the people around here, trying to speak to them and they to us. We are catching on fast.

We are very much on the alert for mail call nowadays, and when they holler mail call all you can see is a cloud of dust. When the dust clears away you can see the entire company following the lucky boys back to their tents. You'd be surprised to see how many hands it takes to open a Christmas package—quite a few. Takes three or four knives to cut the strings.

According to this new one per cent per month plan, I'll be home in about six or seven years, that is, if the war holds out that long. Being a recruit in this outfit, I am about at the bottom of the list.

Well, Ken, guess I had better start tying up the bag. Once again I want to thank you for sending the grand old home town "shot gun". I am looking forward to receiving it regularly.

Dear Ken:

Just a few lines to let you know my change of address. I've been transferred to an air base and I really like it. We got a lot of air cadets stationed here learning how to fly. They fly the small trainers all day around here and that's all you see.

I got my last Courier when I left Great Lakes and haven't received one since. It sure will be good when they start coming in regular again. There's nothing like the good old Charlevoix paper.

We've got a very nice barracks. It's just like a hotel—radio, lockers, davenports and soft chairs—everything a guy could ask for. Also, we get every other night off and every other week end, so anybody that says the navy isn't any good is nuts.

Thanks again for all the papers I've received and I hope I'll be getting them again soon.

As ever,
Bruce.

Hi, Ken:

I want to take this time to thank you and the CSO for sending me the Courier the seventeen months I spent in the navy. I sure enjoyed it.

I am getting a medical discharge from the navy and I'll be home this week. So you don't have to send the Courier any more. Thank you.

Yours truly,
J. Jr. Boss.

Dear Ken:

I guess it has been almost three months since the last time I wrote, but now that our courses have been completed, I find a little time to drop you a line and thank you for the paper. I have been receiving the Courier regularly, in spite of a slightly changed address. I appreciate it and wish to thank you for it.

The past three months I have been here in Texas, sweating my way through preflight school. The first month and a half as a lower classman, we had studies as follows: naval identification (American, Japanese and British ships), maps and charts, which deals mostly with navigation, math and code, both radio and blinker. Then, the last month and a half, as an upper classman, we got physics, aircraft recognition (American and British planes) and more radio and blinker code. Besides classes, we got drill, P. T. (physical training), K. P. and firing range.

The biggest per cent of the boys wash out on physics and code. Both of them are pretty tough if you have never had any of them before.

Now that the ground work has been laid, the next step will be primary, where a guy really gets a chance to hit the wild blue. They say about 60 per cent of the washouts come in primary. We are scheduled to ship out of here about the 15th of January, but I doubt if we will be as fortunate as to get back in the U. S., as most of the primary fields are right here in Texas. Seriously though, Texas isn't a bad state. The only trouble is, it rains practically all of the time here. Frankly, I prefer that white stuff they call snow.

George Montgomery has been making a motion picture here for the past few weeks. They took our squadron for five scenes, but as yet, none of us has signed any contracts. The film will be used to recruit prospective aviation cadets.

Well, I think I'll be turning in now, so here's wishing the boys luck and success for forty-four.

As ever,
Bob.

Gentlemen:

Since my arrival at this base, the local post office has suffered from a case of the holiday jitters and a copy of your paper has not reached me. Now, I have been assigned to a crew and the address at the conclusion of the letter will assure me of again receiving the paper. It should be good for eight weeks.

I have been attending a school of seamanship here at this base, which is in the Chesapeake and about 60 miles southeast of Washington. While here, I've often wished that while home I had taken a more active interest in the fishing boats, as any knowledge of seamanship would have been valuable. Last Monday, I was interviewed and tested and passed from seaman second class to coxswain. The next day I was assigned to the crew of an LCT. The rest of this week has been spent in attending more classes and mixing concrete. Monday, I go aboard my training ship. I'll operate out of here for about 6 or 8 weeks.

Thanking you in advance for making the change in address, I remain

Sincerely yours,
David Coulter.

Dear Ken,

Just a line to let you know I have moved. This is an armament school, but I haven't started classes as yet. We started Jan. 10th, so we get lots of K. P. in the meantime.

Elmer Poole came here on the same train as I did, but he is in a different squadron. Orm Bergeon was here, but I guess he left a few days before I got here.

Dear friend Ken:

Today I had a big surprise. I finally received the second issue of the Courier, dated Oct. 13th, and couldn't have been any happier to receive it. The news in it still had the fragrance of the parting of summertime in it. But it was the Courier, and that's all that counts. Thanks millions!

It was a very appropriate issue, as it had a picture on the front page of what group of islands I am now on and, at the bottom, right, the picture on the last page with the boat. No. D 83 pictured in it. In the caption under it, the first island it mentions with the words, "air field", in it, is where I am.

I'm sure my mother and father and my friends would like to know where I am, so if you'd please print it, I'd appreciate it very much. Before I close, I'd like to wish all the boys from Charlevoix in the service, all over, my uncle in Virginia in the army, and all my friends, the merriest of Xmases.

Best wishes to you and yours and may the coming New Year find you all home (including me).

As always, just a gob,

Dear Ken,

Just a line to tell you I have a change in address and would like you to send the Courier, as it sure is good to get the home town news out here.

I'm going to school here in San Diego for several weeks. I hope to have a rating when I get out.

I am writing this on the beach of the Pacific ocean and it is really beautiful sitting here. Tell all my friends in Charlevoix "hello", as I probably won't be home for the duration. Also I would love to hear from all the kids up there.

I want to thank you for the paper in the past, and hoping they keep coming, I will close.

Sincerely,

Dear Ken,

Well, Ken, here I am again. We had a swell Christmas, but it would have been better if we could have all been home.

We have been pushed around so much here that we just take it in stride. I came in October 28th, and right away, I went to the hospital and stayed until the 6th of November. Then I joined the group and we passed time until the 16th. Then we came down to D-9 for six weeks' boot training, which was supposed to break the 27th of December. Then they pushed it up to January 3rd and now it has been pushed ahead to the 27th of January, but we might move before then. They are only making schedules a week at a time now, so we can expect anything.

We get twelve hour liberty every fourth night, now, and 48 hour leave for every month of service from January 1st. Service prior to January 1st is allowable at 24 hours a month. But we can't take leave until we get four days coming.

Well, Ken, I guess I'd better close now and go to chow. Best regards to all my friends in Charlevoix and also my buddies in service.

Yours in service,
Clarence.

Dear Ken,

Been a long time since I have written, but I've been receiving the paper regular and wish to thank you very much for it.

I am now at a new station undergoing a month of new tests, and hoping to pass them.

The most important thing to me is to get this war over so I can return home to my wife and son; rather, I am waiting patiently for that day.

Would you please send me the paper at my new address?

Your friend,
Harry.

Pfc. Harry M. Mason

Dear Ken,

Just a line or so to give you my new address.

Quite a lot has happened since you heard from me last. I've been out at Santa Ana, Calif., for about a month and a half, where I was eliminated from cadets. I didn't give you my address as I wasn't in a permanent squadron. Now that I'm in armament school I'd really appreciate the paper, also any old issues, as I didn't receive any during the month of December.

I hope everybody had a merry Christmas. I did—on K. P. I also watched the new year arrive while on the train.

This is rather late, but I want to thank the Kiwanis Club and the Blue Star Mothers for their Xmas greetings.

Dick.

POTTER-CUNNINGHAM WEDDING EVENT OF SATURDAY EVENING

In a ceremony solemnized at 8:30 Saturday evening, Miss Jeanette Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Potter, became the bride of Clyde Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cunningham.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, south of Charlevoix, with about 30 relatives and friends in attendance. Rev. Gradus Aniberts pastor of the Atwood Christian Reformed church, presided.

Miss Betty Potter attended her sister as bridesmaid, while Franklin Cellner served as best man, Miss Ernestine Chew, pianist, played the traditional wedding march.

The bride wore a simply made gown of fern green, with corsage of red roses. Her sister wore a two-piece dress, with floral print skirt and beige jacket, and corsage of lavendar sweet peas.

A reception for the guests was held following the ceremony. Refreshments were served from a table which was centered with the beautifully decorated wedding cake.

After their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will reside at his parents' farm near Ironton.

Among guests at the wedding was the bride's brother, Sgt. Harry Potter, stationed at Waco, Texas.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

"Sure, Michigan is on the fighting front! Don't forget for one minute that Michigan, as well as being the arsenal of democracy, is one of the five states in the nation which were responsible in 1043 for fully 50 per cent of all vital essential war foodstuffs."

Dean Ernest L. Anthony, head of the school of agriculture at Michigan State College and recognized leader of the state's agriculture, punched his fist on the desk. His jaws were firm. His eyes flashed a spirit of determination that was next to belligerence itself.

"It's about high-time that the consumer in our industrial centers realized the importance of the Michigan farm battle front," he continued. "Of course, Michigan factories produce needed weapons of war—airplanes and tanks and cannons and the like. They're all mighty important in the coming invasion fronts of Europe and in the Pacific fronts, too.

"Too many people overlook the significant fact that Michigan, while being a key industrial state in the production of war material, is recognized nationally as being one of five states which account for half of all essential foods that are needed most for war. Here they are: First, livestock products—meat, milk, eggs, and butter. Second, white beans, the old dependable protein food which is non-perishable and can be moved readily with fighting armies. Third, potatoes, for which we rolled up a bumper crop in 1943. Fourth, fruits with all their vitamin values. True, the 1943 yield was low due to the unseasonable weather, but nevertheless the state is a topper in ordinary production. And fifth, all of the vegetables which go into the millions of cans at dozens of canning plants in the state."

The fighters on this Michigan front are the operators of 188,000 farms of which 107,000 are regarded as being commercial farms. Michigan's farm population totals 865,000 men, women and children—quite a sizeable host.

Visualize this home front army, said the dean. You have 75 county agricultural agents throughout the state as key commanders. Nine of these men, all of whom are members of the college extension teaching staff, have full-time assistants. Cost of the service is financed cooperatively by federal, state and county governments.

"The county agricultural agent has come into his own in public recognition and esteem, especially during the past year, as an indespensible man and service in this war battle for foods," said Dean Anthony. "I am happy to pay them this tribute in behalf of the farmers of the state."

The farm prospects of 1944 are both good and bad, as the dean analyzes them. The manpower shortage still continues critical with little relief in prospect until Germany collapses and military demobilization begins in the United States. However, the college extension service did a "masterful" job in mobilizing emergency labor for the 1943 season which was complicated by the bad spring weather, he added, and this organization work will carry over for 1944.

"Farm machinery situation is not radically different than last year," continued Dean Anthony, "except for repair parts. Some restrictions have been removed, machinery, on the whole, is a year older, and hence there will be a greater demand for repair parts. The farm trucking situation isn't a bit good, to be frank about it. A survey was made recently in Wisconsin showing the average truck had 65,000 miles of wear. No doubt Michigan trucks would show the same. Garages are short of help, and transportation is congested for delivery of needed parts. The result is costly delays for farmers, often at times when trucks are needed most.

"The feed situation is bad in Michigan for all classes of livestock, especially milk cows, while production of milk is down, we are short 40,000,000 bushels of oats, 20,000,000 bushels of corn, and 5,000,000 bushels of barley. This adds up to only one-half of the needed feed for dairy cows in Michigan. The livestock picture just isn't bright, and the recent adjustment of the corn price ceiling made it worse. Farmers must pay more for livestock feed, much of which they simply cannot get because it isn't being shipped into the state. It's like paying more for something you can't get.

"On the other hand, nature favored the Michigan farmer last fall, and he is ahead of his usual farm work as of one year ago. More fall plowing was done, which will greatly help out next spring. We have had little snow, and farmers have been able to haul fertilizers to their fields. The fertilizer situation is easing up a bit, by and large.

Generally speaking, the average Michigan farmer is better off financially than he was a year ago, although he may have no more—if even as much—money in his pocket. This sounds paradoxical, but it's true. Farmers had higher income, despite increased production costs, and most of them used this revenue to pay off old debts and to make needed farm repairs. They may not have any more dollars in the bank, but they're better off just the same.

"Of course, I'm prejudiced in my love of farmers, because agriculture is my specialty. I'm mighty proud of the important contribution that the farmers of Michigan are making for Victory. Truly, the Michigan farm is going to be a leading battle front in 1944."

The farmer doesn't get into the front page headlines as often as his city brother. Farmers are not striking for higher wages. They may grumble, as is their traditional right when nature goes into reverse and bureaucrats go haywire, but you can count on them to get up hours before sunrise and to finish their chores by artificial light in the evening, day by day, all without fan-fare of publicity or organization ballyhoo.

The dean didn't say this, but we do. It seems a logical observation to make in January, 1944, to these war-time fighters on our Michigan home front.

Step, Look and Listen When the Prescription Says Dope

One of the formidable postwar problems will be the combatting of widespread narcotic addiction. Gobind Behari Lal, famous science analyst, writing in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Jan. 16) issue of The Detroit Sunday's Times, explains how medical chemists are striving to find a safe substitute for habit forming opiates. Get Sunday's Detroit Times!

Anyhow, we haven't heard yet of men in the trenches fighting about pay.

CAN OPENERS STILL HAVE PLENTY TO DO

Rationing has not emptied the shelves of Charlevoix county residents of canned foods it was revealed today, a total of 75,492 cans being used monthly, according to A. H. Nugent, general sales manager of the American Can Company.

Mr. Nugent based his figure on the government's compilation of 11,184 ration book holders in the county and the statement by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics that the per capita consumption of canned goods so far this year is 225 cans a day. On the basis of the average size pre-war can, approximately 223 pounds of pure metallic tin is reclaimable for the war effort from these cans, he explained.

Men in service eat 8,000,000 cans of food a day and millions of pounds of canned items are being shipped abroad for lend lease, he said.

Many foods strange to American palates are being packed in cans for shipment overseas. One of these is "Tashonka" for Russian consumption, this product being highly seasoned pork packed in lard. Squid, a variety of octopus, is being canned for Italian consumption. Canned foods for England are usually seasoned quite differently to those intended for American use, Mr. Nugent said.

Fewer Auto Fatalities

Deaths resulting from automobile accidents in Michigan last year will not exceed 975, according to a state health department estimate. It was the first time since 1924 that the annual traffic toll has dropped below the 1,000-mark. The estimate represents a 28 per cent decline from the 1,351 total of 1942.

Food Fact: London school children, on a rationed war diet, are two inches higher and 12 pounds heavier than their parents were at that age.

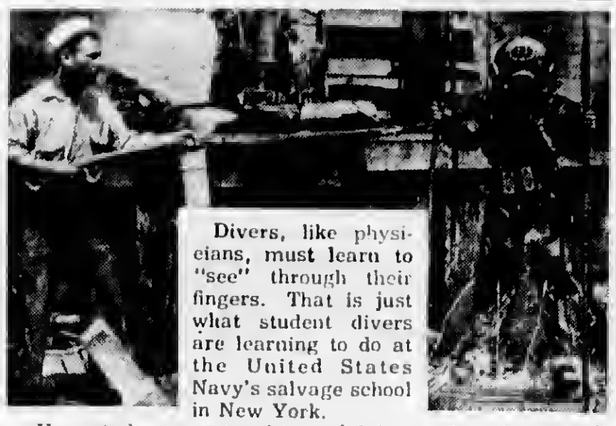
Beating Davy Jones on His Home Grounds



Divers, like physicians, must learn to "see" through their fingers. That is just what student divers are learning to do at the United States Navy's salvage school in New York.

Here students are taught to work by touch and to use all kinds of tools under water. Conditions here are purposely made difficult so that when the students are on their own they will have confidence. For example, Hudson river mud gives the water the constituency of black paint. Yet student divers work in it without lights. When accepted for training, a man is given a submersion test to discover any weakness. A claustrophobe might be totally unaware of such tendency until he is locked up in a suit on the bottom of the river.

In top picture a student diver is being hoisted out of the depths on a special elevator gadget. Note water pouring out of his knee packets. They are used to carry tools when he works below.

Members of the officers' class at the salvage school are pictured around the diving tank. One student is going down to do some underwater welding and burning. Divers also learn to build bulkheads under water, splice cables, rig all kinds of tackle, and do practically everything that skilled mechanics do topside.

Right: Hanging from the rafters to prevent creases or puckers in the rubber, are some of the suits worn by the student divers. Below: Divers bob around a float as they practice air control. Divers can regulate both the intake and outlet air valves. Control of these makes it possible for the diver to remain stationary at the required level. He must guard against inflating his suit very suddenly for the pressure might spread out his arms and legs so that he could not reach the valves, and send him shooting up to the surface. Because of this sudden decrease in pressure he would be in danger of an attack of the dreaded "bends" — bubbles of gas in the blood.

Right: Students listen carefully to a lecture on modern navy diving methods. This course consists of 14 weeks of hard work. Handling the mechanism of his suit must become second nature to the diver. For example, a diver was working on the submerged hull of a ship in North Pacific. Jap planes were spotted. The diver, working on his back in a mud tunnel on the bottom, was told he had four minutes to get out. Even a medium - sized bomb falling anywhere within two or three thousand feet of a submerged diver will bring him to the surface—dead. Although working in the dark, and hampered by lines which might have fouled, he got out in time.

These two students are making models of seagoing craft.

FARMER BROWN'S BOY TRIES TO MAKE FRIENDS

Nobody lives who's wholly bad;
Some good you'll find in every heart,
Your enemies will be your friends,
If only you will do your part.

ALL his life Chatterer the Red Squirrel had looked on Farmer Brown's Boy as his enemy, just as did all the other little people of the Green Meadows, the Green Forest and the Smiling Pool. They feared him, and because they feared him they hated him. So, whenever he came near they ran away. Now, at first, Farmer Brown's Boy used to run after them for just one thing—because he wanted to make friends with them and he couldn't see how he ever was going to do it unless he caught them. After a while, when he found that he couldn't catch them by running after them, he made up his mind that they didn't want to be his friends; so he began to hunt them because he thought it was fun to try to outwit them. Of course, when he began to do that they hated him and feared him all the more. You see, they didn't understand that really he had one of the kindest hearts in the world, and he didn't understand that they hated him just because they didn't know him.

So, when Chatterer was caught in the trap in Farmer Brown's cornerib, he hadn't doubted in the least that Farmer Brown's Boy would give him to Black Pussy or do something equally cr[illegible] when he found that he was only to be kept a pris[illegible] fortable prison, with plenty to eat and drink, he wasn't willing to believe any good of Farmer Brown's Boy. Indeed, he hated him more than ever, if that were possible.

But Farmer Brown's Boy was very patient. He came to Chatterer's prison ever so many times a day and whistled and chucked and talked to Chatterer. And he brought good things to eat. It seemed as if he was all the time trying to think of some new treat for Chatterer. He never came without bringing something. At first Chatterer would hide in his hollow stump, but after a little, as soon as he saw Farmer Brown's Boy coming, Chatterer would begin to wonder what good thing he had brought this time and would grow terribly impatient for Farmer Brown's Boy to go away so that he could find it.

By and by it got so that he couldn't wait, but would slyly peep out of his little round doorway to see what had been brought for him. Then one day Farmer Brown's Boy didn't come at all. Chatterer tried to make himself believe that he was glad. He told himself that he hated Farmer Brown's Boy, and he hoped that he never, never would see him again. But all the time he knew that it wasn't true. It was the longest day since Chatterer had been a prisoner. Early the next morning, before Chatterer was out of bed, he heard a step in the woodshed, and before he thought what he was doing he was out of his hollow stump to see if it really was Farmer Brown's Boy. It was, and he had three great fat nuts which he dropped into Chatterer's cage. It seemed to Chatterer that he just couldn't wait for Farmer Brown's Boy to go away. He darted forward and seized one. Then he scampered to the shelter of his hollow stump to eat it. When it was finished he just had to have another. Farmer Brown's Boy was still watching, but somehow Chatterer didn't feel so much afraid. This time he sat up on one of the little branches of the stump and ate it in plain sight. Farmer Brown's Boy smiled, and it was a pleasant smile.

"I believe we shall be friends, after all," said he.

Extension Leaders Meet

The next lesson in the home economics extension project will be given by Julia Pond, specialist from Michigan State College, in the Boyne City library on Friday, January 14, beginning promptly at 10 a. m. This is the third lesson in this winter's project and gives every indication of being highly interesting and instructive. Some ten different communities throughout the county are enrolled in the course.

The following communities are receiving these lessons from their local leaders: South Arm, East Jordan, Marion Center, Charlevoix, Burgess, Evangeline, Deer Lake, North Boyne, Advance, Star and German Settlement.

District Timber Production War Meeting January 18

W. Ira Bull, extension forester of Michigan State College, has arranged for a series of thirteen forestry meetings to stimulate the production of timber and lumber for war needs. For farmers and local lumbermen the nearest meeting is scheduled to be held in the dining room of the Boyne City gymnasium on Tuesday night, January 18, at 8 o'clock.

As an added attraction for these meetings, Cpl. Oswald Ohlab, a war veteran from the south Pacific, will show two reels of motion pictures illustrating how wood is used in the war. Specialist W. Ira Bull also will be on the program. There is great need for all wood and timber that can be taken from hundreds of farm woodlots in this country. Hardwoods are especially in demand. These include white and red oak, hard maple, elm and white ash. Pulpwood is urgently needed for paper and explosives.

Owners of local saw mills as well as all persons in any way interested in forestry are cordially invited and urged to attend this meeting. A large attendance from Emmet and Antrim counties is expected. Remember Tuesday night, January 18, Boyne City gymnasium.

Destroy Grubs—Save Leather

Grubs in the backs of Michigan cattle marketed each year ruin enough hides to provide shoes one year for 100,000 soldiers. Treatment should be given shortly after grub swellings first appear. Use 12 ounces of cube or derris powder, 2 ounces of soap, and enough water to make a gallon of solution. This wash may be applied with a sprinkler jar to "grubby" backs and worked in with a stiff brush. Treatment should be repeated in 30 and 60 days if needed.

Cornmeal vs. Corn-and-Cob Meal

Corn-and-cob meal or ground ear corn has a value in proportion to the amount of corn grain it contains. On the average, a bushel of ear corn contains 80 per cent and 20 percent cob. The resulting corn-and-cob meal has a feeding value for cows about 80 percent of the value of cornmeal.

The decision as to the feed to use depends solely on the cost. If a dairyman can grind his ear corn or have it ground at less cost than the shelling and subsequent grinding of the shelled corn, it would be better to use the corn-and-cob meal.

Phenothiazine for Sheep

All sheep reserved for breeding purposes should receive a dose of phenothiazine when they go into winter quarters. In most cases, this should be sufficient until just before the pasture season next year. A mixture of one pound of phenothiazine and one pound of salt should be kept before very "wormy" old sheep or last spring lambs during alternate months.

Kill Chicken Lice

Putting nicotine sulphate on the perches is an easy and efficient method of getting rid of lice that reduce egg and meat production from chickens.

Simple directions are for using nicotine sulphate: Clean the perches and arrange matters so the perches will be fully occupied. Just before the chickens go to roost, place drops of nicotine sulphate about ⅛ to 3-4 inches apart on the perch and spread the drops to form a thick line along the top of the perch. When the chickens get on the perches, the nicotine will do the rest. Extension Bulletin 183 has a good illustration of the process. One ounce of nicotine suffices for 30 feet of perch. Repeat in 14 days to take care of hatched nits.

Block Buster and Tiny Relative

The 4,000-pound "block buster" bomb is pictured at Wright Field, Ohio, with its tiny relative, the 100-pound demolition bomb. At present the 4,000-pounder is the largest bomb used by the United States. British bombers, however, carry 8,000-pound bombs. Since they are larger than "block busters" they might be nicknamed "town tossers."

SHOT AT RANDOM

days from today, instead of 90 days from last Saturday. The last Saturday in April, which marks opening of the trout season, falls on the 29th this year.

She: "I'll never go anywhere with you as long as I live."

He: "And why not?"

She: "You asked Mrs. Smith how her husband was standing the heat, and he's been dead for two months."

When this war is over, and they can spare one, I'm going to have one of those new fangled rocket planes. I've come to the conclusion such a gadget as that would solve my hunting problems, for, according to reports, this plane, among other things, sucks in birds flying too close and ejects them from the rear, picked, cooked and ready to serve. It ought to do the same thing with deer and if so, it would save a lot of wear and tear on the shootin' eye. Always said some good comes out of anything.

To those numerous parents and relatives of service men overseas who would like to have their boys' addresses printed in the paper, we regret that censorship regulations forbid identification of army units at our battle fronts, and of our ships on the seas. Such information might be picked up by enemy agents and pieced together to make a picture of our total forces in battle—information they will get anyway, if they try hard enough—but we don't like to help them do it. If friends of these service men would like their addresses, we will supply them, but it must be for the purpose of correspondence alone.

And speaking about service men, we this week publish letters from Clem Cluch, army, England; Walter Henley, navy, San Diego, Calif.; Pvt. George Fruttrick, army, Italy; Pfc. Harry Mason, army, Keesler Field, Miss.; Pvt. Richard Hallett, air corps, Lowry Field, Colo.; Clarence McCalmon, Seabees, Camp Peary, Va.; Jim Annis, navy, south Pacific; Channing C. Clarke, air corps, Lowry Field, Colo.; J. Jr. Bass, formerly in navy; Roland R. Essenberg, navy, Minneapolis, Minn.; Robert C. Sterritt, Jr., air corps, San Antonio, Tex.; David Coulter, navy, Washington, D. C. Greetings, all you fellows!

The mail this week also brought a welcome letter from T. S. (Ted) Kibbe, former local resident now with the U. S. Department of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service, Albuquerque, N. M. Ted's letter read, in part, as follows: "We have our little home here and like the country quite well. Please drop in and see us any time you are in this part of the world. It's interesting country and fishing is fine. Hunting is good nearby with plenty of deer, antelope, quail, wild turkey, etc. My boy, Jack, is 14 years old and a pretty good kid. Myrtle, my wife, and I are just a little grayer overhead—but as the saying goes, 'Just 'cause there's snow on the roof don't mean there is no fire inside'." Ted also sent me a copy of "Dip Net", sort of a "trade" publication they put out monthly, in which he has a column entitled "Shot at Random", for which title he makes apologies for swiping. Under this heading, a paragraph reads: "You will note that this section has a new heading. And it's not original, either. We 'lifted' it from a column written by the editor of one of the best little newspapers anywhere, Ken Usher, Charlevoix, Michigan, The Charlevoix Courier. Ken is an ardent fisherman and never misses an opportunity in giving our service a boost. We're sending Ken a copy of this month's Dip Net in case he wants to bring suit for whatever newspapers call 'Poaching'." Well, Ted, you've got me stopped. If I had had any intention of suing, the kind words you wrote in admitting your guilt, would have brought forgiveness. You're welcome to anything you can use in the Courier. And to this I'll add my most sincere greetings to yourself and family. If I ever get out in your neck of the woods, I'll sure drop in on you.

CLARKE DISTRICT

School began again January 10, after two weeks' vacation.

Miss Irene Warner spent her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner, and has now returned to her work in Detroit.

J. Junior Ross has received his honorable discharge from the navy and is now residing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, Sr.

Mrs. Floyd Wilbur and the Misses Geneva and Anna Potter returned to Flint, Monday, after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Potter.

Pfc. Allen Potter is home for a furlough from Camp Swift, Tex.

Arnold Lopor spent his vacation in Pontiac visiting relatives.

Mrs. James Whitley, of Detroit, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Hubert Skeel. Her husband, Pfc. James Whitley, has been sent overseas with the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner entertained Barnard Grangers with a card party Friday evening. Prizes were won by Harold Totten, Charles Dhasleer, John Fratrick, Josephine Dhasleer, Marie Hilton and Elizabeth Dhasleer.

Mrs. Clyde Warner visited schools in Boyne City, Boyne Falls and East Jordan last week in the interests of the Junior Red Cross. Rural teachers may obtain information and supplies at the next 4-H leaders' training meeting to be held in Charlevoix in January.

We are sorry that Ed. Potter is ill at his home.

RAYDERS TAKE FIRST VICTORY

BEAT ELLSWORTH MONDAY BY 27 TO 24 SCORE

Reserves Won Preliminary Game; Charlevoix Plays at East Jordan Thursday Night

Charlevoix's Red Rayders won their first basketball victory of the season Monday night, defeating Ellsworth 27 to 24 on the Ellsworth floor. It was the Rayder's first win in five games.

The locals led all through the game, taking a 10 to 6 lead in the first quarter. They netted two points to Ellsworth'e four to hold a 12 to 10 margin at the half. During the third period, Charlevoix made 12 points while Ellsworth scored 8, giving the Rayders an advantage of 24 to 18. The Kipmen tallied 3 points in the final quarter to Ellsworth's 6.

Ward was high scorer for Charlevoix with 9 points. Bellinger made 7, Chambers 0, Plum and Novotny 2 each, Hardy 1.

Supernaw led Ellsworth'e scoring with 10 points. Rhis and Van Stedum netted 6 each, Tyrrell 2.

Charlevoix made good on 7 of 14 free throws, and Ellsworth put 2 of 5 free tries through the hoop.

In the preliminary, Charlevoix reserves 'cleaned up' on Ellsworth by the phenomenal score of 60 to 16. High man for the Rayder second string was F. Murtin, who made 22 points. Mol made 12, Byors 10, North 8, Bergmann 6, King 2. Woodcock and G. Klooster tied for Ellsworth's high score with 5 points each, DeJong, J. Klooster and Wieland made 2 each.

The Rayders meet East Jordan on the Jordan floor Thursday night in a game originally scheduled for Friday.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Charlevoix County Farm Bureau Enrolls Many Members

At the close of a three-day drive for members, the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau held its annual meeting Friday at Marion Center grange hall.

Under the able leadership of Clint Blanchard, the drive proved a huge success, and Charlevoix county has now more than doubled the number of members enrolled last year.

Over a hundred people were present at the annual meeting, at which reports were heard and new directors elected. A splendid address was given by C. L. Brody, of Lansing. The Tune Twisters quartette, of Charlevoix, furnished music during the noon hour. Grange ladies gave a fine dinner for all who were present.

MAY WRITE IN NEW LICENSE PLATE NUMBER

The OPA announces that Michigan motorists may write their new 1944 license plate numbers on the covers of their gasoline ration books and tire inspection records. If an individual has already placed his 1943 license number on the coupons, the new plate number need only be written on the ration book cover.

GET EXTRA POINTS TO SEND FOOD OVERSEAS

Special Allowances Given by OPA for Soldiers, Prisoners

Anyone who wants to send food overseas, to a member of the service or someone who is a prisoner of war, may receive from OPA a special ration point allowance to cover the point value of any rationed goods to be included in the package.

Apply by mail to the district OPA office, Grand Rapids, giving the following information: sender's name and address; the port (or other shipping point) from which the food will be shipped, and method of shipment—U. S. mail or otherwise; name and address of person to whom food is to be shipped; number and kind of points needed to cover the rationed foods being sent.

After mailing the package, there will be another simple report to fill out.

POPULAR VOTE ON COMMERCE BOARD

CITIZENS WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS FOR 1944

President, Vice President, Two Directors to Be Selected at Annual Election

In order to give every Charlevoix voter an opportunity to select officers of the Board of Commerce, a new plan for election of officers has been proposed, by which any voter is entitled to nominate one to four candidates for the board.

Expiring terms of office are those of Kit Carson, president; Charles A. Hamlin, vice president; Charles A. Duerr and E. J. Smith, directors. Nominations are thus in order for the presidency, vice presidency, and two directorships for three years each. Directors whose terms do not expire this year are those of Earl A. Young, E. J. Edwards, George LaBlance, Jr., and Fred E. Cartier.

Highest number of nominations submitted for each office will be placed on the ballot at the general Board of Commerce election. It is requested that no one submit names of persons who are not willing to serve.

For convenience of voters, a nominating blank appears on page 8 of this issue. This should be filled out with desired names and mailed to the Board of Commerce.

NEW SERIES RADIO TALKS ANNOUNCED

Local Council of Catholic Men Invites Listeners

An advertisement appearing in this issue, sponsored by the Charlevoix Council of the National Council of Catholic Men, announces a new series of radio talks by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen.

Msgr. Sheen will speak on the Catholic Hour, broadcast each Sunday at 6 p. m., Eastern War Time, on the NBC network. General subject of his sermons will be "One Lord, One World".

Leaders of New European Invasion Team

These are the men who will lead the long awaited Allied "second front" invasion of Europe. Left to right: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of Allied invasion armies; Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, deputy to Eisenhower; Lieut. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of all the American strategic air forces that will hit Germany from west and south; and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, chief of the British land armies. Appointment of Tedder as Eisenhower's deputy indicated that air power was to be a major weapon in the battle to crush the fortress of Europe. Eisenhower, who had never before made a prediction in 13 months of warfare, announced as he left Algiers to assume his new post that "we will win the European war in 1944."

CAPT. T. R. MORRISON IN MERCHANT MARINE

Former "Sylvia" Skipper One of First to Enter Naples Bay

When the first allied convoy steamed into Naples bay carrying members of the American Fifth army, one of the transports was in command of Capt. Thomas R. Morrison, long familiar to Charlevoixans as skipper of the Logan Thomson pleasure yacht "Sylvia".

Sailing into bomb-blasted Naples harbor when the allies moved in, Capt. Morrison anchored his ship directly over a German wreck. Allied skippers, because of their own secret methods, had no trouble unloading in spite of the harbor's condition and the fact that the city of Naples—in the captain's own words—looked as if a giant lawn-mower had cut a swath five blocks deep along the harbor line.

Capt. Morrison, visiting his home in Ann Arbor during the Christmas holidays, had an enthralling story to relate to the Ann Arbor News. For some time after the "Sylvia" was turned over to the navy for patrol work in June, 1941, he directed salvage operations along the east coast. When the war broke out, he attempted to get back into the navy—in which he had been a lieutenant senior grade during and shortly after the last war—but a technicality concerning a birth certificate prevented his enlistment. Entering the merchant marine service in February, 1943, he convoyed three times across the north Atlantic before being assigned to north Africa in command of an army transport.

BOARD COMMERCE ASKS RENTAL INFORMATION

Data on Apartments, Rooms, Is Needed Before Summer

Charlevoix residents who have rooms, apartments, boats or automobiles for rent, or expect to be seeking either part-time or full-time summer employment, are asked to contact the Board of Commerce at once.

Due to the fact that many requests for rentals or employees are received in the early spring, it is hoped that all local people will cooperate in this matter. Only in this way can complete data be compiled for immediate use when the summer season starts.

Numerous requests have been received recently for apartments, it is stated.

FINAL REPORT ON COUNTY WAR FUND

Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, CSO Receive Share of Money

Final report on the recent War Fund drive in Charlevoix county reveals that $7,181.09 was raised in the November-December campaign.

Deducting expenses of $46.95, the sum of $7,134.14 was divided as follows: Michigan United War Fund, $5,397.87; Scenic Trails Council of Boy Scouts of America, $833.01; Salvation Army, $718.11; Charlevoix Service Organization, $185.15.

The city of Charlevoix raised $2,067.89, comprising about 71% of the quota of $2,768. Collections in the entire county also totaled approximately 71 per cent of the $10,000 goal.

CRASH BOAT WORK RISKY, EXCITING

LOCAL MAN RESCUES FLIERS IN NEW GUINEA WATERS

Sgt. Bruce Withers, Commodore of Crash Boat Fleet, Tells of Recent Jungle Trip

Story of a three-day trip thru New Guinea jungles was told by Sgt. Bruce Withers, of the army air forces, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Withers. Commodore of a crash boat fleet operating in New Guinea waters, it is Sgt. Withers' job to rescue allied fliers who have been forced down in the jungles.

His letter follows:

"I have been recuperating today from a three-day stay in the jungle. Had a call (to pick up a pilot) and after a day and a half made our way up rivers infested with crocs—and what I mean, big ones. We counted eight on the way up. After thirty miles of twisting, turning, swift moving river, we reached our destination with the aid of a spotter plane. However, our efforts were in vain.

"Four of us started through this kuni grass, which ranges in height to 15 feet, and reached a lagoon which a doctor and I swam. Then more kuni grass and then our destination. We were so exhausted that we could hardly make our way back.

"My big boat is still out of commission and the Chris-Craft was too small, so I ran the Aussies' big speed boat. Did I have a time. There were five of us going up and the boat will do over 30. That's the way I ran her, around the turns. What a time! A couple of times she got away from me in the strong current, and did I sweat it out!

"We didn't have a great deal of trouble, with the exception of the fact that it got dark when we started back and at midnight we still hadn't reached the sea. So we anchored in the river, and did the mosquitoes have a feast for the rest of the night. We got out the first thing the next morning and the big Aussie job sure looked good, food and water—food of which we had had none for the whole trip up the river because we figured we would only be gone a half a day; and water, which we ran out of. Sure was good to get back to a nice shower and bed.

Love to all,
Bruce."

Sgt. Withers has been overseas almost two years, as he went to Australia early in 1941.

CHILDREN'S LIBRARY SCHEDULE TO CHANGE

Open Three Afternoons Weekly; Mrs. Bowman is Librarian

Beginning next week, a new schedule of hours will be in effect in the children's reading room of the Charlevoix public library.

Hours will be: Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 to 5 o'clock; Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. The reading room will be open during the noon hour Friday for the benefit of rural students who are transported by bus.

Mrs. Margaret Bowman has accepted the position of children's librarian, formerly held by Miss Suzanne Metcalf, who is leaving this week to enter the University of Michigan to study for a degree in library science.

During the business session, a service flag for the lodge was dedicated. A social hour, with games and refreshments, concluded the meeting.

RED CROSS TO STAGE FUND DRIVE IN MARCH

National Campaign Goal Told by Charlevoix County Chairman

Two hundred million dollars is the goal set in March for the 1944 War Fund of the American Red Cross to finance its global service for victory program, according to Mrs. C. F. Kreighoff, chairman of the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter.

The greater part of this sum, one hundred forty million dollars, will be required by the national organization to finance Red Cross national and international services to America's fighting forces. Remaining sixty million dollars will go to the 3,756 local chapters for community work, most of which is related to servicemen and their families.

Mrs. Krieghoff stated that the Charlevoix county goal will be announced soon.

LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF CITY SUCCUMBED

Services Tuesday Afternoon for Mrs. Luella Korth

Mrs. Luella Korth, 60, died Sunday at Charlevoix Hospital after an illness of ten days. She had suffered a stroke on January 6.

Born Luella Miller, in Charlevoix on January 11, 1884, she was a life-long resident of this city. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are a son, Lawrence, of Charlevoix, a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Burns, of Plainwell, and one granddaughter, Pamela Ann Korth.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 by Rev. G. Russell Parker, pastor of the Northport Congregational church. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

WILL GIVE DATE OF PAPER COLLECTION

Nine Tons Required to Complete City's Carload Shipment

Announcement will be made soon as to the date of the city-wide scrap paper collection, according to Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Already a considerable amount of paper has been turned in by citizens who wished to dispose of their waste paper before the drive. Anyone who has paper already bundled or boxed, may bring it to the city hall at any time. If there is a large amount of paper, phone 37 for pick-up service.

Nine tons of paper is the goal set for the drive. This amount, added to the previous collection of six tons, will make a carload to ship from this city. Boyne City and East Jordan have already shipped a carload each—Charlevoix must do as well.

FIFTEEN MEN INTO SERVICE

PASSED EXAMINATION AT DETROIT, JANUARY 6

Only Four Will Enter Army, One in Marines; Ten of County Quota Select Navy

Fifteen men comprise Charlevoix county's January draft group who were inducted at Detroit on January 6. Only four of these draftees will enter the army. One chose the marine corps, and ten registered their choice for service in the navy.

Men passing examinations for the various services were:

Charlevoix — Joseph L. Smith, Glenn B. Snider, army; Harold A. Potter, Harold R. Brock, navy.

Boyne City — Raymond N. Green, army. Entering the navy were Dale T. Spencer, Richard A. Clark, A. C. Fineout, Charles R. Moore, Max Kominski.

East Jordan — John Hoffman, Jr., navy; Ray H. Sloop, marine corps.

St. James—Harvey D. Cornstalk, Francis McCafferty, navy.

Clarion—Louis H. Drost, army.

Navy inductees were to report at Detroit last Thursday, while army inductees will have the usual three weeks' post-induction furlough.

THIRD CRIBBAGE GAME WON BY ODD FELLOWS

Masons Hosts for Next Monday's Round of Winter Series

Third game of the Masonic-Odd Fellow winter cribbage tournament was won Monday night by the Odd Fellows at their own lodge hall.

Team score for the winners was 10,848, while the Masons trailed with 10,748. Odd Fellow high man was George Bergmann, who turned in a card of 947. William Fisher led the Masons with 949. Six tables were in play.

Next Monday night's game is at the Masonic temple.

BOND DRIVE TO OPEN THURSDAY

BLUE STAR MOTHERS WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

Siren Blast Launches Fourth War Loan; Mothers of Servicemen Plan Canvass of City

One long blast of the city fire siren at 7:30 Thursday night will herald the launching of the Feurth War Loan drive in Charlevoix, as the local chapter of Blue Star Mothers of America begin their campaign to sell $117,200 worth of war bonds in the city.

Because their sons and daughters are in the nation's armed forces, these Blue Star Mothers have a powerful incentive to push the bond drive to a successful conclusion. They will make a house-to-house canvass of the city, beginning Thursday night and continuing—going back again and again, if necessary—until the quota is raised. Mrs. P. R. Ross, chapter president, is to organize and conduct the drive.

Residential districts of the city will be divided into zones, which will be assigned to the various canvassers. Most canvassing will be done during the evening, it is understood.

An advertisement in this issue, sponsored by the Foster Bond Co., urges that every citizen welcome these "soldiers of victory" when they come to sell bonds. Only by whole-hearted cooperation can the goal be accomplished.

FIRST PLANE GOES TO BEAVER ISLAND

Wolverine Airways Flies Route from Pellston Airport

Plane service to Beaver Island was instituted Friday from Pellston, according to announcement from T. G. Daines, manager of the Wolverine Airways. The motorship Mary Margaret is being laid up for the winter in this port.

A single-engine Stinson plane with capacity of four passengers will be used until the arrival of a two-motored plane which is undergoing repairs at present.

It is expected that three trips a week will be made from Pellston, where a hangar has been built for the big ship. Schedule of regular trips will be announced later.

Wolverine Airways is one of three mail routes operated by the Wolverine Aviation Co., of Youngstown, Ohio. The company also trains army air forces pilots in instrument flying, graduating a class of 80 students every two months.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR STATE SAVINGS BANK

Annual Meeting of Stockholders Was Held Last Week

Officers were elected last week by stockholders of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, holding their annual meeting.

Elected for 1944 were: president, H. A. Craig; vice president, Dr. F. F. McMillan; cashier, Archie L. Livingston; directors, in addition to officers named, William W. Srigley and P. D. Campbell.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

The easiest way to figure out the cost of living is to take your income and add 10 per cent.

The good things sort of piled in on the Warren Shaptons last week. Here at home, the stork presented them with a dandy new daughter, and somewhere out in the south Pacific, Warren was promoted from ensign to junior grade lieutenant in the naval reserve. Pretty good for one week, I'd say.

The men in the nudist colony were all giving the eye to a shapely new entrant. One man turned to the fellow next to him and said, "Sa-a-a-y! I bet she'd look great in a sweater".

I never knew herring got so big until they told about that 6-pounder a fellow by the name of Evans caught in the south arm of Lake Charlevoix near Ironton one day last week. That sure was a whopper, all right.

Confused groom: "I was asked to buy either a casserole or a camisole. I can't remember which".

Clerk: "That's easy. Is the chicken dead or alive?"

Remember that remark I made a couple of weeks ago about Rowley Williams giving his rooster "Lay or Bust Egg Mash?" Well, I had my bluff called on that one, sure enough. Rowley brought me in a big, fat hen for Sunday dinner and said, "Don't ever say again that my roosters can't produce anything, 'cause here's the proof". And it was mighty good proof, too, if you want to know it.

Charlevoix county farmers, I'm told, did a bang-up job in their Farm Bureau membership drive last week. They doubled last year's membership, I understand, and now have a good organization with which to get at their problems formed. When you consider that apples the local farmer got paid $2 a bushel for are selling for $12 a bushel in Detroit, and that you have to pay nearly 40c a pound for beef that the farmers get less than 10c a pound for live-weight, it's time they started pitching.

It's a small world, after all. Don and Clair Stevens, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens, of

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

I have just got through reading the home town paper, and it sure seems nice to know what is going on in dear old Charlevoix.

I sure do like to read the letters from the other boys in service. I see there are a few down here in Oklahoma and I would like to see them, but I don't have time right now. Our basic training is over now, and we are going to start getting three-day passes, so I will get to see them, I hope.

I wish to express my appreciation. I enjoy reading the paper and hope to keep receiving it.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Douglas Russell

Co. I, 222 Inf., APO 411
Camp Gruber, Okla.

My Dear Ken:

How are you these fine days? I know that I have never acknowledged the fact that I have received the Courier. So I thought that I would sit down and write a letter of thanks.

Ken, do you realize how much it really means to us fellows that are so far away from home, especially when they are so far away from friends that mean so much to them? I know that there are many of the fellows that are all over the world that would be homesick and have a different attitude about the whole situation. But that little newspaper they receive from home gives them a different attitude, as it gives them news of the old home town that means so much to them. I know that I often wonder what has happened to so many of my old friends and that little newspaper that I get from home certainly does solve the mystery.

I have been in sunny California for the last two years. I must say that it is a very nice state. But I don't believe that it can beat the good old home town of Charlevoix. I ran into Keith Wagner's brother quite some time ago and had quite a visit with him. I also ran into Ormy Bergeon. But I have lost track of them both. If possible, please let me know where

The 'Silent Service'

In a small room of an aircraft plant in Inglewood, Calif., soldiers of science, dressed in heavy leather suits and insulated helmets, endure a temperature of 98 degrees below zero as they keep America ahead of her enemies in aviation development. This room is an indoor "cold front" where men are fighting the mysteries of the stratosphere.

In aerial combat, height is as important as firepower and speed. Fighters that can climb higher than their opponents have the advantage. Bombers with the highest ceiling can operate far above antiaircraft range. But high altitudes with their extremely low temperatures do strange things to planes and passengers. These temperatures are brought to earth in the indoor "cold front.

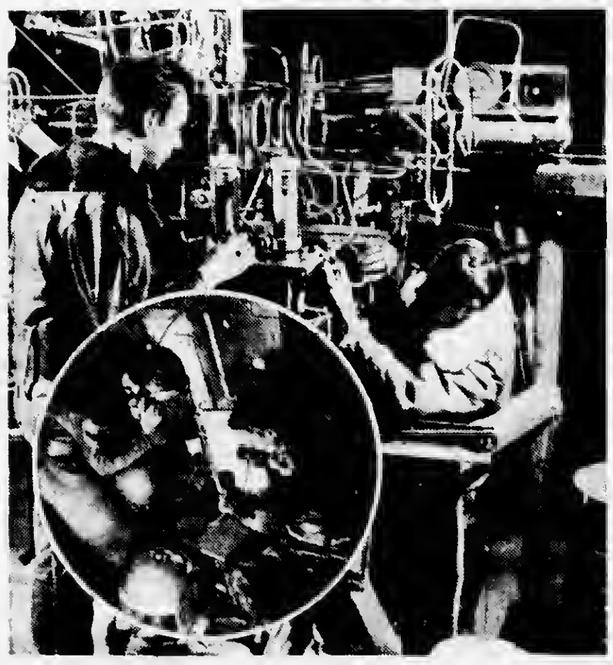
Above: Oil is tested after removal from the cold room. At temperatures lower than 40 degrees below zero lubricating oil congeals. If charged with oxygen it can be kept flowing. Right: The air inside these helmets is warmed in tubes before it is inhaled. But workers can stay in the chamber only 10 minutes.



Engineers check the hydraulic system of a plane before putting it into the cold chamber. Inset: They communicate with cold chamber workers by telephone to check on a test.

Springs are tested to see if intense cold makes them brittle.

Keep 'em firing—with junk! Bomb the Japs with junk!

Welcome these Soldiers of Victory!

THE "shock troops" of your Government's 4th War Loan Drive —a drive that must raise $14 billion to put the punch behind the punch that may make 1944 the date of doom for the Nazis—will soon call on you to buy your personal quota of Bonds. For, of the $14 billion that must be raised in this Drive, $5.5 billion worth must come from individuals.

Welcome these American men and women—5 million of them —who are not only buying their share of Bonds but are giving their time to call on you, personally.

Every office, every plant, every home, every individual in America has a quota to meet. Your personal quota is at least one extra $100 Bond. That's above your regular Bond buying.

If possible, buy your extra Bonds during this drive at the plant or office where you work. A volunteer Bond worker will sell you there. Otherwise, welcome him to your home when he calls. Or find one in the thousands of retail stores all over the United States. They want to find you—you must help see that they do.

If you are unable to make your purchases from a soldier of victory be sure to go to one of these other special War Bond stations to buy your extra Bonds:

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES
U. S. POST OFFICES
SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS
BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS
BROKERAGE AND INVESTMENT FIRMS MOTION PICTURE THEATRES
CREDIT UNIONS
CERTAIN GOVERNMENT AGENCIES
NUMEROUS CORPORATIONS AND FIRMS FOR THEIR EMPLOYEES
PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS
NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS
MISCELLANEOUS BOND BOOTHS
RADIO STATIONS
RETAIL STORES
NEWSPAPERS

Remember your job in this Drive is to buy more than your share of Bonds. That's the only way you can be certain you are still backing the attack. So be ready to meet your War Bond representative with an open check book.

This sticker in your window means you have bought 4th War Loan securities.

Let's all BACK THE ATTACK!

THE PORCUPINE TIMBER PROJECT

Charlevoix folks who have visited the Lake of the Clouds country in the upper peninsula will be sorry to hear that the country's last stand of original hardwood timber, which clothes the Porcupine Mountain slopes, is in denger of slaughter unless the state intervenes soon.

This is the warning from Raymond Dick, secretary of the Save The Porcupine Mountains Association, Ironwood. "This beautiful timber, the like of which exists nowhere else in the country, is privately owned and is being logged," said Mr. Dick.

"Operations are headed for the famous Lake of the Clouds, in Ontonagon county, and its magnificently timbered shores will be stripped within the next few months if something is not done to prevent," continued Mr. Dick. "All good conservationists want the state to take over the area, and perhaps have it administered by the conservation department as a great primeval forest and game refuge, well filled with deer, bear, beaver and other wild life. It would make a wonderfully scenic outing place and recreation spot for the people of Michigan and their summer and winter guests—something the like of which no other state in the union possesses."

The Michigan conservation commission, state planning commission, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and many other organizations are backing the proposal for state purchase and management. It is expected that the February session of the legislature will be asked for a purchase appropriation, covering several thousand acres of the best timber in the area.

Dick said that the downstate press is giving the project substantial editorial and other aid, but that a united effort will be necessary if the tract is to be saved from ruin.

PEACE-MONGERING

This country and others associated with us in the war seem to be flooded with unofficial "peace feelers" lately, coming from Germany and elsewhere. Some of them may be advanced with an honest purpose, but it can doubtless be assumed that nearly all are put forth to "trouble the waters" and confuse the Allied nations.

The leaders of these nations, it may be assumed, are not surprised or foiled by such enterprises. Also, as Major George Fielding Elliot caustically observes, it is a bit late in the day for peace feelers.

Uncle Sam is now as completely committed to this cleansing war as any nation ever was to any war of righteousness, and will see it through. As for the occasional efforts made in this country by well-meaning or misguided citizens to take a hand in the matter, they should understand that the issues have to be fought out to a final conclusion, leaving a clean slate for a free world.

Any other policy would be suicidal. As Major Elliot well says, "our nation must not only be victorious—we must act like victors." That is the only attitude the enemy can understand and respect.

Nazis Preparing for 'H' Hour

Field Marshal Von Ranstedt, who commands German forces in western Europe, is shown as he inspected a sector of the "Atlantic wall" defenses recently. The entire war psychology of Germany apparently has passed from the offensive to the defensive and constant predictions were being made by Nazis as to the date of an Allied invasion from England.

they are located, as I would like to write to them.

I read in the last issue of your paper where Betty Ross has joined the Air Corps. I want to wish her all the luck in the world in her new venture in life. I do wish that this war will be over soon for the sake of all in common.

I will close for now. I want to wish all the men in the armed forces a victorious New Year. I also thank the different organizations that sent me Christmas greetings during the holidays. May this letter find us all re-united in the coming year.

Dick Norton.

Dear Ken,

Just a short note to let you know what my new address is.

My papers haven't caught up with me yet, but while looking for it in the mail room, I found one that was addressed to Sgt. John Martin. It makes me feel good to know that the Courier is so well distributed that I can find my own or steal a copy from another Charlevoix G. I. at almost any camp in the country. Couldn't find Johnny around here anywhere, but if he should want to look me up, I am usually on my bunk in Barracks 333 trying to catch up on my flying time.

Am training out here with a combat crew on a B-17 as the waist gunner. It is nice work, but gets a bit chilly up over 20,000 feet.

As ever,
Bernard.

Note:—It was Jim Martin, not John, that Bernie trailed to Sioux City. Jim—also a waist gunner in a Flying Fortress—is now reported to be on his way to the fighting front.

Dear Ken,

Thought I would like to tell all my friends and school mates in Charlevoix my new address. Would be happy to hear from any of you.

I am now sitting about two feet from the Pacific ocean, writing this. In fact, the waves hit my feet every once in a while.

I start school Monday for a five weeks' course. When I come out of school I will have my first rating as a third class petty officer. In ten weeks more, I will be second class.

You should see how they have the coast protected. Have thousands of all kinds of planes, boats, etc., all the way from battleships to P. C. boats. I wish people back home could see them. It really makes one scratch their head. By the way, we get our last two weeks of school at sea, and aboard ship.

Have seen some beautiful palms and shrubbery of all kinds.

Please excuse this writing, as I said before, I am on the beach, writing on my knee.

We get liberty every night here. I won't be able to get home when I finish school, as they need sound operators so bad they are rushing us through.

Hoping all is well in good old Charlevoix,

Just another sailor,

Following is a letter from Staff Sgt. Vernon Willette, with the army air forces in India, written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McKay, of Norwood:

Dear Mother and Dad,

How is everything going? I hope you all had a good time over the holidays. I sure did. I got feeling pretty good on Christmas night. The club gave away free punch. It wasn't strong at all, and it tasted just like fruit juice, but after I drank five or six glasses things started to get pretty rosy. But I turned out pretty good because I went to midnight mass and then went to bed.

I won't be home like I expected, but I am staying over here a little longer for a good cause. Sgt. Cushman calls me "Instructor Willie" now. I won't be over here any longer then the first of the month that my birthday comes on, and that is no rumor.

I started smoking a pipe a few days ago. Steinberg got a pipe for Christmas, but he wasn't here, so I got it. Did you hear from Steinberg yet? He should have been home for Christmas and I told him to call you up on the phone.

We had a good Christmas dinner here. We had turkey, two kinds of pie and cranberry sauce, etc. I got your two Christmas packages.

I like it over here this time of the year. The nights are cool and the days are warm. And I think it will be awful nice to get home at 'tater planting time, don't you; and the suckers ought to be running by then. You won't have to worry about me as much as you used to, because my job isn't quite so dangerous, so I may not write so often.

Love,
Vernon.

P. S.—I'm at my new station now. Give Ken Usher my new address.

Dear Ken,

I'm closer to home than I've been for some time, and it's really wonderful to enjoy the fruits of my home state again. The drinking water is really tops and so is Michigan bread. I never thought I'd appreciate those little things like I do now.

I'll be here for 28 days and possibly will get a furlough when I'm ready to ship again. I'm hoping to see you all soon.

Yours,
Pfc. William C. Hannah

Hi, Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know my new address. I planned on writing you before this, but I've been awfully busy, and now I'm in the hospital with the flu. But everyone it getting it, so I'm not the only one. I'm writing this lying in a bunk, so hope you can read it all right.

Yes, I'm way out here in old sunny California, where the sun comes down by the bucket full. This liquid sunshine is quite the thing. It can be a nice, clear sunny day, not a cloud in the sky, and all at once it starts raining. But all joking aside, this is a beautiful camp up in the mountains here, and it is supposed to be the healthiest climate in the country.

I'll close for now, thanking the CSO and the Blue Star Mothers for the lovely card, and for the newspaper.

Your friend,
Bob.

Hello, Ken,

Just a line this evening to say hello, and also to thank all the people back home who are making it possible for us servicemen to get the good old home town scandal sheet. Guess I wrote that before, but I reckon it's no harm in expressing my thanks again.

Bet it was plenty cold up around your way when the old year met the new year. So used to this climate here in California I bet I'd freeze if I were to come home for a few days. Fat chance of that, though, so I won't worry about it.

Right now I don't see any sense in getting in my little sack and getting some shut eye, as I only have to hit the deck again in about an hour, go over to the chow hall and get a few cups of java in me, then go stand the dog watch. My sleeping schedule has been taking quite a beating since I've been on regimental guard duty. But I reckon I'll get used to it after a bit.

I can't seem to squeeze anything more out of my thinking cap right now to write about. So in closing, I remain as ever

Yours truly,
John J. High, S2c
Co. D, Plat. 2, 107th USNCB

Dear Ken,

Received the Courier yesterday and it sure looked good. I think the paper is sort of taken for granted at home, but it sure means a lot when you're away.

I've been here since December 29, and actually believe I like it. The conditions are tops for a training station and there aren't too many "gripes" to be heard.

Archie Livingston and Louis Edwards are in the next camp to the south, and I've seen them a couple times in the last two weeks. Good to see a little home town material now and then.

Thanks again for the paper. Will close for now.

Bud.

Clyde Coulter, officer in the merchant marine, writes to say he was in Genoa, Italy, when the armistice was signed. Europe's culture is all very fine, he opines, but you couldn't get a hotel room with a private bath if you tried, and they don't know what a porterhouse steak looks like.

Arthur Edwards returned last Thursday to his radio work in the navy at Key West, Fla.

Miss Marjorie Weaver leavee Monday for Lansing, where she has accepted a position in the auditor general's office.

R. L. Lewis returned home last Wednesday from artillery school at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Miss Rena Cram returned to her school at Deer Lake, Saturday, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown.

Twenty Years Ago
Wednesday, January 16, 1924

In one, two, three order the speedy basketeers of C. H. S. defeated the crack squads of the upper peninsula—Newberry, Sault Ste. Marie, and the army team at Fort Brady. The high school "Chanticleer" reports that the local team's "big six-footers" passed the ball right over their opponents' heads. Hallett, Bacot, Dagwell, Todd, Glasgow, Jones, Brown were responsible for the sensational clean-ups.

Louis Sharrow, rural carrier on Rt. 3, and Orson Everts, Rt. 4, gave their new "snowmobile" its first trial yesterday. A specially-built truck-type chassis, with ranners in front and caterpillar traction behind, cavorts gaily over ditch and snowdrift to deliver the mail through the deepest snow.

A devoted band of local enthusiasts were out on Mt. McSauba Sunday morning, busy clearing away brush to make one of the best ski runs in northern Michigan.

Archie Cross, Irving Nowland and Nelson Holland, Jr., who left Thursday on the gas boat Swallow for the fishing grounds off South Fox island, were stormbound at the island four days. Monday the storm abated and they came back to the mainland, meeting the coast guard crew under Capt. Oscar Smith, who had started out in search of the missing men.

Charlevoix's fourth annual winter sports program opened last Thursday afternoon with the first Polar Bear day program. Ronald Swanson, Frank Smith und Gordon Neff finished in that order in the cross-country ski race at the Belvedere golf coarse. Line-up for the hockey game with Petoskey is Sharrow, Wagner, Gill, Livingston, LaBlanc, Woods; substitutes, Kirby, Foster, Heise.

Boyne City took all three games on Tuesday night's basketball program. Juniors, reserves and main team were winners in the three tilts.

Ice fishing for smelt, a sport in recent years almost wholly confined to the east end of Lake Charlevoix near Boyne City, is this winter available here at Charlevoix. The "smelt village" is located off the mouth of Stover creek.

Miss Lillis Flanders, deputy county treasurer for nine years, has been appointed treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father, Joseph W. Flanders.

Miss Winnifred A. Colley will succeed Miss Edna Lockwood as nurse for the district health unit. Miss Lockwood goes to Baraga county, upper peninsula.

Michigan newspaper editors have always devoted more time to other people's troubles than to their own.

That goes double for 1944.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday (Jan. 27-29) they will assemble again at the state capital. But in addition to threshing over their own war-time affairs such as newsprint and labor shortages, the war and navy departments at Washington and Governor Harry F. Kelly at Lansing have asked Michigan editors to consider some of your problems—winning the war in 1944 and winning the post-war battle on unemployment.

That is a deserved banquet as well as official recognition that newspaper editors still have an essential chore or two to perform on the Michigan home front.

The war and navy departments will present timely information about the strength of our enemies, Germany and Japan, together with an up-to-the-minute summary of the military tasks involved in assaulting Hitler's fortified channel coast and other points in Europe.

Lt. Colonel Karl Detzer, Michigan author who is an army observer on the staff of Lieut. General Brehon Somervell, will tell about the Michigan industrial products which he saw recently in use in the war theaters of Algeria, Tunisia, Middle East, India and England. He will emphasize the importance of maintaining adequate production in Michigan war plants.

Captain Norman C. Gillette, U. S. N., who commanded a task force recently in the Atlantic and is a veteran of years' experience prior to and since World War I, will relate the dramatic story of the remarkable growth of the U. S. navy and its role in World War II. Captain Gillette, an expert, is in charge of the U. S. naval ordnance plant at Centerline, Michigan.

"War Department Report", a special motion picture, will be shown.

....Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, will pay tribute to the American war correspondents who are covering every battle front of today's global war in order that you, back home, may have accurate and fresh information about American soldiers and sailors. Mr. Baillie visited Britain and the Mediterranean battle theaters last June, July and August and interviewed leading allied military leaders.

Leland Stowe, distinguished foreign correspondent who was designated by Time magazine as "America's ace war correspondent", will talk about Russia and the post-war problem of maintaining world peace.

Raymond H. Harries, 27-year-old wing commander who is the top-ranking British fighter pilot of 1943, will relate his experiences at Dieppe and the Battle of Britain and his recent escorting trips with American bombers over Germany. Harries has made 300 flights against the enemy and made 13 "kills" during 1943, the highest in the entire R. A. F.

Michigan's post-war planning, much of which will be presented to the legislature Jan. 31, will be given an official "preview" in an extraordinary program led by Governor Harry F. Kelly and assisted by the following state leaders:

Vernon J. Brown, state auditor general, on "The Planning Program for Michigan".

A. N. Langlas, acting director, Michigan Planning Commission, "Inventory Facilities".

Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, "Roads".

P. J. Hoffmaster, director, conservation department, "Conservation".

Major W. J. Myers, selective service system, "The Returning Veteran".

Bruce Anderson, chairman, aviation advisory committee, "Aviation".

Dr. Howard McClusky, University of Michigan, "Post War Education".

William Palmer, secretary, West Michigan Tourist association, "Tourist and Resort Industry".

Dean E. L. Anthony, Michigan State College, "Agriculture".

Herbert Olson, director, Michigan Municipal League, "Municipal Planning".

Among the "other people's problems" to be considered during the conference will be the Fourth War Bond campaign and the forthcoming program by the Michigan Food Council in behalf of Michigan growers and distributors.

Editors and their wives will be given an opportunity, however, for relaxation and fellowship. There will be music by a 35-piece U. S. army band and a short concert of choral selections by the 85-voice girls' glee club of Michigan State College.

When your home-town editor goes to a "convention" in 1944, he takes along a pad of note paper and a pocket full of pencils.

Uncle Sam has sent him a written invitation to be on hand. Even the governor of Michigan requests his attendance.

Your problems — winning the war and winning the post-war battle on unemployment — will take priority over newspaper topics, such as inadequate newsprint, inadequate skilled labor, rising production costs and the like. That's nothing new for the home-town editor, as you will know. He's been worrying and fussing about other people's problems for many years. In fact, that's his business: Furnishing news about things that are important to you, the reader.

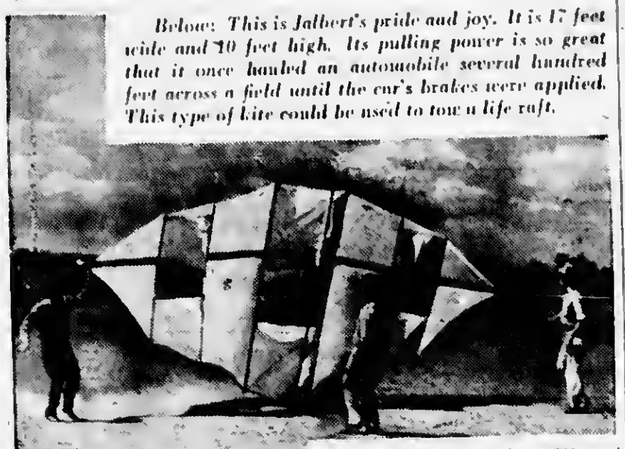
He Wants to Send His Kites To War

Kites are weapons of war in the opinion of Domina C. Jaibert, of Woonsocket, R. I., who says they can be used for towing, signaling, and barrage protection against dive bombers. Attached to a life raft, a good-sized kite would not only serve to attract searching parties but would also tow the raft in the direction of the prevailing wind, he says. Jaibert, a research designer in a war plant, has developed his kite ideas into an extensive hobby. He has made them in sizes from 4 to 17 feet wide and weights from a half-pound to 17 pounds. To demonstrate the lifting power of his kites, Jalbert attaches a bo'sun's chair to a kite line, then places Dorothy, his 11-year-old daughter, in the chair. She is shown at an altitude of 100 feet.

Left inset: One of these tots could easily be carried skyward by one of Jalbert's larger kites. Bottom: A big kite is assembled. All of Jalbert's kites are wider than they are high.

Two views of kite enthusiasts who surround Jalbert with some of his 24 creations which these youths are always ready to help him fly. Most of these kites have a pull of 100 pounds and require winds of 10 to 40 miles an hour for a takeoff. None require a running tow.

Below: This is Jalbert's pride and joy. It is 17 feet wide and 30 feet high. Its pulling power is so great that it once hauled an automobile several hundred feet across a field until the car's brakes were applied. This type of kite could be used to tow a life raft.



In 1897 a Lieutenant Wise of the U. S. army devised a kite which carried him 50 feet up.

Right: Dorothy Jalbert is pictured just before soaring skyward on a cord attached to her father's kites. She ardently admires her father, and calmly leaves the safety of terra firma.

In 1903, "Buffalo Bill" Cody hitched a boat to several kites. They towed him from Calais, France, to Dover, England, in 13 hours. Night signals have also been sent from kites.

PETER RABBIT TRIES TO VISIT PADDY THE BEAVER

"I OUGHT to have thought of thet before. My, my, my. How beedless and thoughtless I em! Here tha winter is nearly over and I haven't once been to call on Peddy the Beaver. Shame on you, Peter Rabbit! Shame on you!"

Peter said all this to himself as he set just outside the edge of the Old Briar Patch looking this way and that to make sure that no danger was near. The meadows glistened white and beautiful, for they no longer were green, but covered with snow. Far, far away, near one edge of the meadow was a tall elm tree, and in the top of it sat Roughleg the Hawk. Peter knew that he was there, because he had seen him go there.

"I've nothing to feer from him because he is too far away," thought Peter. "There is nothing to feer from Reddy end Grenny Fox, because just at break of day I saw them on their way home from an all-night hunt and they were so tired they could hardly walk. There is nothing to fear from Hooty the Owl, because he is fast asleep by this time. Old Man Coyote has just gone up to the Old Pasture, so there is nothing to fear from him. And so I believe I will just run up in the Green Forest and call on Paddy the Beaver."

Farther and farther into the Green Forest scampered Peter Rabbit. It was a long way to the pond made by Paddy the Beaver. Peter wondered if he would find things much changed and what he would find Paddy doing. He didn't for a single minute doubt that he would find Paddy doing something. Somehow he couldn't think of Paddy as doing nothing. But when he reached the edge of the pond made by Paddy the Beaver not a sign of life was to be seen or heard.

Peter stopped on the very edge of the pond. It was smooth and hard and Peter knew that it was very, very slippery. Everything around was white with snow, and rising out of the pond was a great white mound. Peter knew this to be the house of Paddy the Beaver.

At first Peter was very much puzzled, very much puzzled, indeed. Why wasn't the pond covered with snow when everything else was? There it was, smooth and hard and slippery, with not a flake of snow on it. Could it be that Paddy the Beaver had found a way to clear the snow off? He did such wonderful things that Peter would not have been in the least surprised to have found him clearing the pond of snow. But Paddy wasn't to be seen, and there wasn't any sign of him. Then Peter remembered.

"Oh, you stupid!" said he, talking aloud to himself. "Of course Paddy didn't clear the snow from his pond, because there hasn't been any for him to clear away. It snowed before the pond froze over. My, how clear the ice is! I can see right to the bottom of the pond. I wonder if I can get over to Paddy's house without falling down and bumping my nose? Here goes!"

With that Peter made a long jump out on the smooth, slippery ice, slid a little way, slipped, tried to catch his balance, slipped again, and then suddenly his feet flew quite from under him, and down he went on the back of his head.

"Oh! Ouch!" cried Peter, and because the bump hurt so he wanted to dance. Just as if that would help it. But the very minute he began to dance his feet flew out from under him again. Just as if they didn't belong to him, and this time Peter bumped his nose. "Oh! Ouch!" cried Peter and tried to hold the tears back by winking very rapidly. "I've heard my mother say that there are times when the slowest way is the quickest, and I guess this is one of them." Peter began to crawl toward Paddy's house.

Not in the Army?

Stranger—Young man, my son has been in the army for two years. He is now somewhere in the wilds of New Guinea. You're here, milking a cow. Why aren't you at the front?

Young Man—'Cause there ain't no milk at that end.

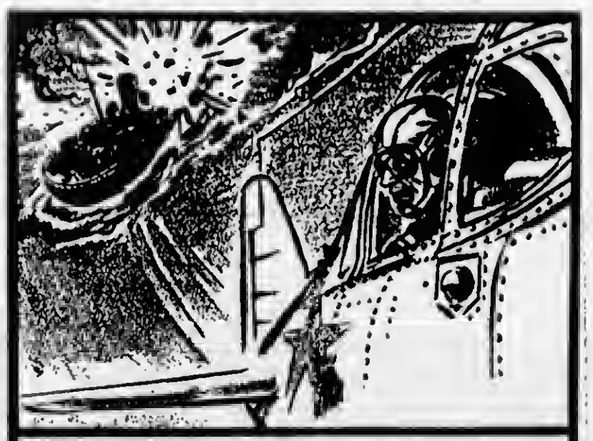
(A LEFT)



The South Perific Aerial Exploits Cross has been awarded to First Lt. William P. Campbell, U. S. M. C., of Minneapolis for his solo bombing attack against five Jap transports and ten destroyers. While ship and shore batteries concentrated all their fire against him, filling the air with flak, he dive-bombed the ship formation, blasted a transport with a direct hit. The War Bond you buy today will help load bomb racks to shelter Jap supply lines.

SHOT AT RANDOM

Phelps, met recently in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. Don, who is an army private, learned that Clair's ship was in port and went to call on his brother. And a short time ago, Sgt. Bruce Withers, commodore of an aircraft rescue boat fleet in New Guinea, got a call to pick up a stranded flier, who turned out to be his former classmate at Western State College, Kalamazoo.

The doctor was questioning the nurse about her patient. "Have you kept a chart on his progress", he asked.

"No", she blushingly replied, "but I can show you my diary".

When Blue Star Mothers come to your house selling bonds for the Fourth War Loan, don't turn them away. Remember these women have a mighty big reason for backing that drive—they all have sons, and some daughters, in the armed forces—and are doing their level best to bring them home.

In the mail this week were welcome letters from these Charlevoix men in service: Pfc. Bernard J. Foster, army air forces, who is probably keeping things cheerful around Sioux City, Iowa; Pvt. Douglas Russell, army, Camp Gruber, Okla.; Pfc. William C. Hannah, army air forces, Willow Run airport, Ypsilanti; another reminder from Walter Henley, Jr., seaman second class, that the weather is swell in San Diego, Calif.; Pfc. Richard Norton, army, San Diego, Calif.; Clair "Bud" Webster, Jr., in boot training at Great Lakes naval training station; Staff Sgt. Vernon Willette, army air forces, India; Robert King, seaman second class, navy Seabees, Camp Parks, Calif.; and John J. High, seaman second class of the Seabees, Port Hueneme, Calif. Now let's hear from the east coast!

Want a New Career?

YOU CAN very likely find just the chance you're looking for—in the WAC.

If you haven't a skill, Army experts will teach you. Perhaps you'd like to drive a jeep, work a teletype machine, or help direct airplane traffic.

Whatever you do, you will get valuable training — learn interesting things—and help get this war won!

BLUE STAR MOTHERS GUESTS OF KIWANIS

Chapter President Makes Appeal for Fourth War Loan

Twenty-one members of the Charlevoix chapter of Blue Star Mothers of America were guests of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly dinner meeting Tuesday.

Robert Bridge, chairman of the Fourth War Loan drive in Charlevoix, introduced Mrs. P. R. Rosa, who, as president of the Blue Star Mothers, is organizing a house-to-house canvass to raise the city's bond quota.

After introduction of chapter members, Mrs. Ross gave the following toast to the assembled Kiwanians:

Here's to you from the Blue Star Mothers,
God bless you one and all,
You can expect to see them soon
Making the Fourth Bond call.

Dig deep and try to please them,
And don't send them away,
Without your name on a war bond,
They'll come another day.

Each one of them have given more—
You buy the boads; our boys will win the war.

Getting the Enemy's Range

A benefit party for the President's Infantile Paralysis Foundation will be given by Charlevoix Chapter No. 19, SPEBSQSA. Watch for the date!

USE VEGETABLE CAN FOR HOUSEHOLD FATS

Homemakrs Advised to Utilize No. 2 Tin for Salvage

Because meat dealers are entitled to deduct the weight of the metal container in which household fat is contributed by homemakers, it is to the housewives' advantage to use a No. 2 vegetable tin can in which to save fats.

Ration points are awarded only for fats in multiples of one-half pound. The No. 2 can, holding 20 ounces of fat, minus the 3.6 ounce weight of the can will yield slightly more than one pound, or two points. Other sizes do not measure out in multiples and the homemaker may be losing points by using them.

LAKE MAPPING PARTY WORKS IN SOUTHEAST

Will Map Charlevoix, Leelanau Lakes at Later Date

Because of wartime difficulties in obtaining personnel and providing transportation, the party first scheduled to map lakes in Charlevoix and Leelanau counties has been shifted to southeastern Michigan and mapping in the northern counties will be continued at a later date.

This work is part of a long range program to map all Michigan lakes as the basis for biologic work on them and as a guide to maintaining and improving fishing.

JUNIOR FARM BUREAU TO HAVE SLEIGHRIDE

All Members Urged to Turn Out for February Meeting

Members of the Marion Center Junior Farm Bureau will enjoy a sleighride for their February meeting, date of which is to be announced later. The ride will start from the August Celiner home.

Plans for the ride were made at the January meeting at the home of Alice DeJong on January 3, with eight members present. All members are urged to turn out for the sleighride and bring a friend.

NO AUXILIARY FUEL OIL RATIONS CAN BE GIVEN

As of January 17, fuel oil consumers in the Traverse City area should not have burned more than 44 per cent of their yearly ration allotment. Charlevoix consumers are advised to check their fuel oil supplies to make sure they are burning no more than this percentage, as no auxiliary rations can be issued by the local rationing board.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF PLANNING COMMISSION

The State Planning Commission will recommend the state legislature at its special session this month appropriate $2,000,000 to be used by Michigan counties and municipalities in making surveys and plans for streets and roads and another $5,000,000 be made available to the state highway department for post-war highway construction.

Weather Favorable to Fish

The danger of winter kill of fish in Michigan lakes by suffocation under the ice has been lessened by the favorable weather and lack of snow so far this season, the conservation department's institute for fisheries research has announced.

Extension Club Meeting

The Charlevoix Extension club will meet Friday, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Albert Edwards, 102 Wood street. Members are asked to meet at noon for a pot-luck luncheon, preceding the regular lesson. Topic for January is "We keep our house in repair". Members are to bring knives and the sharpeners they use, a piece of screen wire about 12 inches square, light cords in need of repair and also the new parts for cords.

RED CROSS SURGICAL DRESSINGS

Twenty-one workers were present at the Red Cross room Monday, while Tuesday's attendance was only ten. In order to complete the quota of 10,000 dressings, it will be necessary to maintain a large attendance each day. The room is open Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 2 to 5, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10.

Workers the past week were: Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Mrs. Luther Hannah, Mrs. F. E. Cartier, Mrs. W. H. Supernaw, Mrs. R. L. Lewis, Mrs. Peter Tapovic, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. A. W. FARM ACCOUNT BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE HERE

Farmers Should Keep Record for Income Tax Purposes

A large supply of Michigan farm account books is now available for the use of farmers, announces B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent.

This book, developed by the Farm Management Bureau is especially adapted for summarizing farm business for income tax purposes. Every farmer should keep some kind of farm record, and this book is the equal of any thus far published.

Books may be purchased at a cost of 30 cents at the following locations: East Jordan State Bank, East Jordan Cooperative Company, Charlevoix State Savings Bank, Charlevoix Co-Op. Co., Boyne City Cooperative Company and the county agent's office.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOWED GAIN IN 1943

Biggest Increase Indicated During Early Months of Year

Postal receipts for the Charlevoix post office during the year 1043, shown at the close of business on December 31, showed the highest totals in several years, according to figures released by Postmaster J. M. Foster.

Receipts for the year were $20,201.83, a gain of $902.99 over 1042 figures of $19,208.84. This figure also tops totals for 1041, 1940 and 1939.

Biggest gain was indicated during January, February and March, when receipts totaled $3,950.14 as against $3,430.08 in the previous year. Remainder of the increase in receipts was well distributed through the year.

CHURCH OFFICERS ELECTED THURSDAY

Reports Given at Annual Meeting of Congregational Church

Congregationni church officers were elected Thursday at the annual meeting in the church, at which 45 members were present.

Rev. Donald R. Evans presided at the business meeting, which followed a family supper sponsored by the Mary Browster Circle. Annual reports were read, and officers elected as follows: clerk, Mrs. Nelle Hammond; financial secretary, Don Swinton; superintendent of Sunday school, Clarence Wood; trustees, E. D. Hawley and Allen Campbell; statistician, Ray S. Hamilton.

CAUTION RETAILERS TO ORDER RATION TOKENS

File Requests for Supplies with Grand Rapids OPA Office

Food retailers in western Michigan are warned by the office of price administration that if they do not wish to get "caught short" on tokens when the token system starts on rationed foods February 27, they should immediately file requests for supplies.

The Grand Rapids district OPA office points out that only a few applications have been received. Those who have not already done so, should make their requisition at once, or may find themselves unable to obtain tokens on time.

SPEBSQSA WILL GIVE POLIO BENEFIT PARTY

Make Eleventh Annual Appeal for Infantile Paralysis Fight

A benefit party for the President's Infantile Paralysis fund will be given soon by Charlevoix Chapter No. 19, SPEBSQSA, according to announcement by Dallas Henry, chapter secretary.

Scheduled to be held at St. Mary's recreation center, further details of the party will be announced later. This is the 11th annual appeal for funds by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to carry on their fight against the malady which each year cripples thousands of American children and adults.

ANNUAL MEETING OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

W. A. Cline Re-Elected Warden at Business Session

Annual business meeting of Christ Episcopal church was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cline. Twenty members were present for the meeting, at which Rev. Arthur G-T Courteau presided.

Officers elected were: warden, W. A. Cline, who was recently chosen to fill the unexpired term of Sylvester Vaughan; secretary, Mrs. Walter C. Bergeon; treasurer, Miss Minnie E. Payton. Reports were read and business matters discussed.

TWO SERVICEMEN GET ST. MARY'S PRIZES

Winners of the servicemen's contest, which ended last week at St. Mary's recreation center were Tiny Cehak, of East Jordan, and C. P. "Bud" Heise. Over 40 servicemen have been awarded prizes thus far in the contest series. Another five-week contest starts this Wednesday night at the recreation center, to close February 16.

MRS. LENA WALLACE SERVICES THURSDAY

Was Life-Long Resident of This Region; Died Last Tuesday

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the See Funeral Home for Mrs. Lena Wallace, 77, who died last Tuesday afternoon following a short illness.

Mrs. Leigh H. Hagle conducted the service at two o'clock. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Lena Miller was born in Canada on February 9, 1860. She came to Michigan with her parents when she was about six years old. Most of her life was spent in this vicinity, except for a few years in Detroit and Albany, N. Y. About 63 years ago she married W. H. Wallace, who died in March, 1932.

Mrs. Wallace was a life-long member of the Methodist church and active in church work until her illness.

Surviving are three sons, Forrest L., of Toledo, Ohio; Harrison, of Libby, Mont.; and William H., of this city; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

SHORTAGE OF TIRES CONTINUES SERIOUS

According to information revealed by the office of rubber director, the office of price administration states that there is not only a continuing shortage of tires and tubes, but that there is a serious shortage of these items now confronting the nation. Local rationing boards have been ordered to restrict granting of certificates to applicants, unless extreme need can be shown and the applicant is eligible.

SECOND VICTORY WON BY RAYDERS

DEFEATED EAST JORDAN, BY SCORE OF 34 TO 12

Losing Streak Broken Last Week; Boyce Tossers Here Friday for First Encountar

Charlevoix high school's Red Rayders hung up their second basketball victory within a week when they defeated East Jordan 34 to 12, Thursday night on the Jordan court. The locals had defeated Ellsworth the previous Monday night, after a season's record of four straight losses.

The Rayders gained a decisive lead in the first quarter against East Jordan and held the advantage throughout the game. This till proved to be one of the roughest contests they have played so far, as both teams lost two players on fouls.

Charlevoix scored 11 points to Jordan's 2 in the first period. The locals added 13 counts while holding the Jordanites to 3 during the second quarter, to hold a 24 to 5 lead at the half. In the third period the Rayders made 6 points, and Jordan's two field goals brought the score to 30-9. Scoring in the final quarter was limited to two field goals for Charlevoix, a field goal and free throw for East Jordan.

Bellinger led Charlevoix's scoring with 10 points. Plum made 8, Hardy 6, Chambers accounted for 5 before he fouled out and was replaced by Brown, Ward scored 3 before his removal from the game on fouls, Belfy went in for Ward and netted one field goal.

Jordan scoring was credited to Weaver with 4 points, Seiler 3, Sommerville and Knrr 2 each, Bennett 1. Weaver and Ager went out on fouls.

Charlevoix's second stringers trimmed the East Jordan reserves 33 to 5 in the preliminary. Scoring for the locals was: Martin 12, Mol 7, Byers 6, North 5, King 2, Olach 1. Howe and Lord made 2 points each for East Jordan, Nemecek 1.

Midway mark in the Rayder's 14-game schedule is reached this Friday night when the play Boyne City for the first time this season on the local floor. Boyne, traditional foe of the local basketeers, has had a succession of defeats, but may prove a strong opponent for Charlevoix.

JANUARY MEETING OF FARM BUREAU

Interesting Session in Charge of Wesley Hawley

The January Farm Bureau meeting, held at the home of Oakley Saunders, proved to be an interesting and instructive session.

Wesley Hawley, district representative, was in charge. With the use of charts, he pointed out how the Farm Bureau works for the good of all.

Next meeting will be at the home of Amos Nusson on February 9.

PRE-INDUCTION ARMY EXAM IS POSTPONED

County's February Group First to Be Affected by New System

The pre-induction physical examination ordered for January 25 has been postponed to Monday, January 31, announces Fay Davis, draft board clerk. Postponement is due to lack of hotel facilities in Detroit.

Charlevoix county's February draft contingent will be the first to be affected by the new plan of pre-induction examination which takes the place of local board "screening" exams. The new examinations may be ordered by local boards regardless of whether the registrant has requested a personal appearance before the board, or whether an appeal has been made. Usual hearings and appeals will proceed during the time the registrant is ordered to take his pre-induction examination.

All registrants will be given not less than 21 days between their examination and date of induction. As local bourds build up a "pool" of acceptable men the intervening time may be extended to a minimum of 45 days.

PICK UP WASTE PAPER FRIDAY

CITY-WIDE COLLECTION IS SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Six Tons to Be Gathered; Search Homes and Business Places for Valuable Scrap

Waste paper will be collected throughout the city this Friday, January 28, announces Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman. Pick-up will be made by city trucks, beginning at 9 a. m.

Paper should be tied, bundled or in boxes when placed on the curb. Much of that brought to the city hall has been loose, and it is very difficult to handle in this condition. Cooperation of householders in securely packaging their waste paper before putting it out for collection, will be much appreciated.

Nine tons of paper have already been gathered, including both that picked up in the last drive, and a considerable amount picked up or brought to the city hall since the drive. At least six tons more is needed to complete the city's carload shipment, which will leave here as soon as possible after the drive.

A thorough search of homes and business places may reveal quantities of waste paper in the form of grocery sacks and wrapping paper, old letters or bills, discarded files, perhaps stacks of old magazines and newspapers. All these can be used to alleviate the waste paper shortage, which has been termed "the number one material shortage of the war".

If weather prevents picking up paper on Friday, the drive will be held Saturday.

FEBRUARY 1 IS LAST DAY REGISTRATION

Over 300 Names Taken from Rolls for Failure to Vote

Charlevoix voters are reminded that next Tuesday, February 1, is the last day for registration for the February 21 city primary election.

The city clerk's office in the city hall will be open that day from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. for registration of voters.

Many local voters may have lost their voting privilege without being aware of the fact, as over 300 registrations were cancelled in December because of failure to vote for the past two years. Prospective voters are advised to ascertain that they are properly registered.

HENRY E. VOEGELI IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Was Business Manager of Chicago Symphony Orchestra

Word has been received of the death of Henry E. Voegeli, 67, summer resident of Norwood for many years, who died December 28 in Chicago.

Mr. Voegeli entered the business office of the Orchestral Association of Chicago in 1900, and subsequently became business manager of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. As a tribute to his devotion to the orchestra, a special arrangement by Frederick Stock of Bach's "Andante in A Minor" was presented at the concerts on December 30 to 31.

CHURCH FAMILY NIGHT SUPPER IS WEDNESDAY

The February family night cooperative supper at the Congregational church will be next Wednesday, February 2, at 6:30 p. m. The Pilgrim Circle is in charge of supper and program. R. L. Lewis, Charlevoix county judge of probate, will speak on the subject of "Juvenile Delinquency."

BIRTHDAY BALL SATURDAY NIGHT

ELEVENTH ANNUAL PARTY AT THE ARGONNE

Charlevoix Chapter of SPEBSQSA Sponsors Local Appeal for Paralysis Foundation

Charlevoix's eleventh annual President's Birthday celebration is scheduled for Saturday evening, January 29, at The Argonne.

Sponsored this year by Charlevoix Chapter No. 19, SPEBSQSA, the event will be this city's answer to the appeal for funds made annually by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. An orchestra has been secured for the party, and tentative plans arranged for a program of entertainment. Tickets may be secured at business places of any member of the SPEBSQSA chapter.

Each year 50 per cent of the money raised through President's birthday parties is left in the area in which it was contributed, to finance the services of the local infantile paralysis chapter. The remainder is used by the national foundation to forward the national program of research, education and epidemic aid. As an example of how money is used by local chapters, some times chapters in larger cities have been financing courses of instruction in the Ken-

FOUR SELECTEES TO LEAVE FOR TRAINING

January Contingent Goes to Fort Sheridan This Thursday

Four Charlevoix county selectees will leave Thursday on the 3:35 train for Fort Sheridan, Ill., to begin army training.

They are: Joseph L. Smith and Glenn B. Snider, of Charlevoix; Raymond N. Green, Boyne City; Louis H. Drost, Clarion. These men were previously examined and inducted at Detroit.

CUB PACK MEETING WAS TUESDAY NIGHT

United Nations Will Be Theme of February Handicraft, Stunts

Five local Cub Scout dens held a pack meeting Tuesday night at St. Mary's recreation center. Sound movies on cub scouting provided the evening's main entertainment.

Special guests were Mr. Bosworth, Central Lake scoutmaster, and Mr. Taylor, Petoskey cubmaster.

At the next pack meeting, scheduled for Monday, February 28, cubs will display handicraft and present dramatized incidents on the theme of the United Nations. This should prove to be a very interesting meeting for parents of present and prospective cubs.

COAL AND ICE CO. SELLS EQUIPMENT

Booth Fisheries Will Cut Ice in Lake Charlevoix

Ice-cutting equipment of the Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co. has been sold to Booth Fisheries, according to announcement in an advertisement in this issue. Cutting operations will begin when Lake Charlevoix ice is of sufficient thickness.

While the Coal & Ice Co. will maintain a supply of ice for cash-and-carry business during the summer, they will not make deliveries. It is expected that some other distribution system will be arranged before the summer season.

WAR PRISONERS ARE AIDED BY Y. M. C. A.

Nearly 100 Representatives Are in Foreign Prison Camps

There are now 534 service men from Michigan who are held in war prison camps, according to a compilation made by War Prisoners Aid, Y. M. C. A., a participating service of the National War Fund.

Supported by contributions made to the National War Fund in the recent nation-wide campaign, War Prisoners Aid provides recreational, cultural and spiritual assistance to war prisoners under provisions of the Geneva convention of 1929.

Although they may be adequately fed, prisoners still face the problems of an endless procession of months of prison life. War Prisoners Aid has nearly 100 representatives working in prison camps, and last year shipped approximately half a million tons of recreational and cultural material to these camps, including books, sports equipment and musical instruments.

BIG PLANE ON ISLAND ROUTE

FIRST TRI-MOTOR TO LAND ON NEW AIRPORT

Schedule Three Flights Weekly from Pellston; Ice Delayed Arrival from Detroit

Making its first regular trip from Pellston to Beaver Island on Monday was the big tri-motored Model T Stinson plane which will be on the island mail route until opening of navigation about April 1.

A single-motor Stinson has been used awaiting completion of repairs on the bigger ship. Capt. Leroy Allers of the Beaver Island mailboat "Mary Margaret", passenger on the tri-motor's first flight, reported that the trip took only 20 minutes, and that the ship was the first tri-motored plane to land on the island's new landing field. Gus Mielke, of St James, and one other passenger, made the return trip.

Owned by the Wolverine Aviation Co. of Youngstown, Ohio, the plane carries 10 passengers and has a load capacity of about one ton. Pilot on the first flight was H. W. Vanouse, who brought the ship from Detroit. Leaving Detroit Friday morning, the plane was forced down at the Roscommon conservation department air strip by formation of ice on the wings, and did not arrive in Pellston until Saturday afternoon.

In the future, the plane will be piloted by Herman Colbeck, of the Wolverine Aviation Co., who has been flying the four-place Stinson used until the bigger ship was ready. Regular trips will be made each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, leaving Pellston airport at 10 a. m. Central War Time.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS WILL MEET THURSDAY

Blue Star Mothers of America, Charlevoix chapter, meets Thursday night of this week at the home of Mrs. Frank Bird, on Antrim street. Each member is asked to bring a friend who is eligible for membership.

BOND DRIVE OFF TO GOOD START

SALES OF $33,400 MADE IN OPENING WEEK

Blue Star Mothers Push Drive in City; Report Good Results In All Districts

Sales of $33,400 in series "E" war bonds for the Fourth War Loan drive were reported Wednesday morning by Robert Bridge, bank chairman for the campaign.

This figure represents nearly half of the total of "E" bonds sold in the entire county thus far, Mr. Bridge stated. Latest reports give Boyne City approximately $11,000 and East Jordan slightly more than $23,000. Total sales in the county amount to $67,525.

While other bond sales are known to be proceeding satisfactorily, only sales of "E" bonds will be announced, until after February 1. The city of Charlevoix must make a quota of $52,000 in "E" bonds—one-third of the county's $150,000 "E" bond quota. The treasury department has announced that no county will be given credit for making its quota in the Fourth War Loan unless its goal of "E" bonds is met, as well as its total of other bonds.

Twenty members of the local Blue Star Mothers chapter started their house-to-house canvass last Thursday night, and report excellent sales to date. The response in some homes, they report, has been discouraging, but often a bond sale is made in some home where perhaps no sale at all was expected. One such incident was reported by Mrs. W. E. Goss, south side canvasser. Making a call at the residence of a veteran of the first world war, where she had no expectation of selling a bond, she did not find the man at home. Shortly after she returned to her own home, the man on whom she had called came to her house to give her the money for a $100 bond—$75 saved from his small weekly earnings.

One of the first, and so far one of the youngest bond buyers was Don Gill, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gill, who saved $18.75 in brand-new nickels to buy a $25 bond.

FARM MACHINERY CARE URGED BY LOCAL FIRM

Servicing and Repairs Offered by Charlevoix Oil Co.

Better care of hard-working farm machinery is urged by the Charlevoix Oil Co., local distributors of Allis-Chalmers agricultural implements.

The real test of farm equipment lies ahead, states this dealer's advertisement in this issue. While new machinery will be manufactured in limited quantities, no farmer should make the mistake of assuming that enough will be available to fill all needs. Thorough servicing and prompt repairs are required to keep every implement in good working condition to produce the food this nation will need in the coming year.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

If there's any philosophy in a man, marriage will develop it.

It's an ironic fact that while so many Charlevoix men are at the world's battlefronts ready—if necessary—to give their lives to preserve the freedom and privileges of our democracy, that right here at home the names of 300 people have been removed from the city's registration lists because of failure to vote for a couple of years. True, some of those people may be service men who haven't voted by absent voter's ballots; some may be workers in other cities who have transferred their registrations. But a large percentage of them are just plain careless and don't care enough about their rights to get out and vote in an election that in itself may not seem important to them. They don't seem to realize that the ballot is the only way the ordinary man has of deciding how he shall be governed, and that if they fail to vote in a minor election, they are going to be unpleasantly surprised when they discover they are not registered as voters when a big election comes along.

When the war ends, there will be sharp competition between cities and towns to get trade. The town that has shown the most enterprise and hustle and effort to please customers will get the best share of it. Also, the town that will get out now and make a bid for postwar construction projects is going to have its name in bigger letters on peace-time maps.

Overheard at Cook and Fochtman's gasoline dispensary.

Jules: "What can't a man do now that a bird can?"

Clare: "Make a deposit on a car."

A year ago this time the ice of Lake Charlevoix was thick enough to start cutting operation, but anybody that tries it now is going to get their feet wet clear over their head.

Richard Hosegood, who lives out in Eveline township, tells us that his son, Pvt. Oswald Hosegood, recently paid a visit to his family's old home in Devonshire, England. Young Hosegood visited his father's birthplace in South Malden, and became acquainted with an aunt who still resides in the vil-

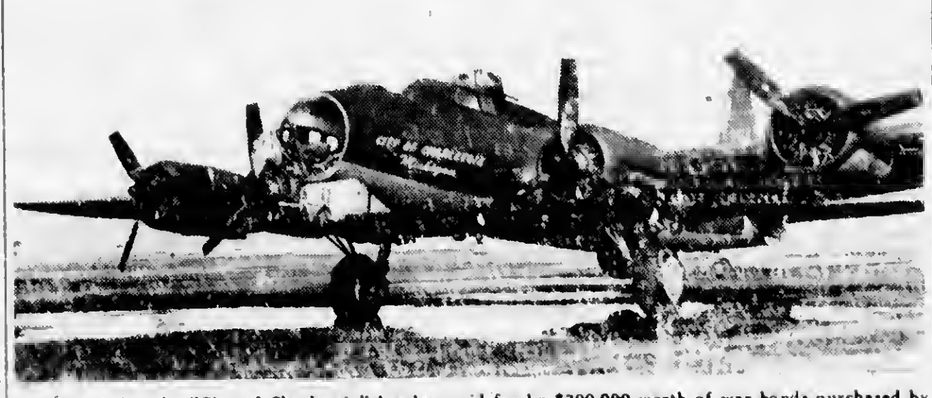
"City of Charlevoix" Bomber



Here it is—the "City of Charlevoix" bomber paid for by $300,000 worth of war bonds purchased by Charlevoix residents during the intensive campaign conducted last August. Bought by local and summer people, the mighty bomber is ready to enter a combat zone, location undisclosed. This big ship is the Boeing B-17G Flying Fortress, latest model of this famous high-altitude daylight precision bomber which is operating in war theatres throughout the world. With four engines, and a wing span of approximately 104 feet, it has a top speed in excess of 300 miles an hour, carries a bomb load up to 10 tons, has a service ceiling above 40,000 feet. The plane is heavily armed and capable of operating over a long range. Boeing plants are located in Seattle and Renton, Wash., Wichita, Kansas, and Vancouver, B. C. This picture was received by Mayor Robert Bridge from Julius Gilbert, of Detroit, under whose chairmanship the bomber campaign was so successfully conducted.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

First I want to thank you a million for the Charlevoix paper.

Please hold the paper for a few days, as I am leaving tomorrow morning for Bar Harbor, Maine. Six of us men are being sent to navigation piloting school for a six weeks' course. So back to school days again for me. Expect to take in a bit of celestial navigation along with it.

I am very glad I took that U. S. power squadron course with the Charlevoix power squadron. I have my friend, Bill Bellinger, to thank for that. The compass, charts, etc., along with the tides and currents which I learned about most certainly come in mighty handy here on the coast.

About myself—I have been assistant engineer aboard the P-81, an 83-foot crash boat. She has two V-12 Hall-Scott Defender engines. Very nice motors, but they sure do burn the gas and oil. Also have been in charge of the J 11 speed boat.

We were 40 miles up the James river for a week, with the P-81. A B-24 bomber crashed in the river up there with eleven men in the crew, and two sergeants were drowned. We located the plane and had the navy retriever with divers come up and salvage the plane. It was a total wreck. While bringing it to the surface, she all fell apart. One of the bodies was still in the front part of the fuselage when they brought it up at 11 p. m., and at midnight we were identifying the body on board our boat. He was from California. The other body we had to drag for, as he was not in the plane, and there is a 7 or 9 knot current in the James river. We had the fishermen help us drag for him the next morning, and in a couple of hours the fishermen had hooked him not far from where the plane was sunk in 15 feet of water. I helped put the body aboard our boat. He was from West Virginia.

By the way, the major we were dragging for off Cape Charles came to the surface and was picked up by the fishermen in the bay. But the two P-47's he had the crack-up with while in formation flying are still at the bottom of Mrs. Paul Mosseau and son, Bernard, are spending a few days in Detroit visiting relatives.

Our county agent, B. C. Mellencamp, was in the neighborhood Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Straw visited Mrs. Straw's sister, Mrs. McMullkin, Sunday.

Two of the Blue Star Mothers called at the homes in Marion Center in the interests of the 4th War Loan.

BEAVER ISLAND

The mail plane is making regular trips now, three times a week, betwen Pellston and Beaver Island.

Last year at this time the island was blanketed with snow, but this year we have no snow and only half of the bay is frozen over. The boats can come and go as in the summer, as there is no ice in the lake, either.

Lloyd McDonough, Mrs. Vernen Lafreniere and son, Jerry, and Mrs. Archie Lafreniere were passengers on the plane going to the mainland last Wednesday.

Russell Martin, who has been working at the REA plant, returned Wednesday to his home in Grand Rapids, making the trip to the mainland by plane.

Robert Gatliff arrived home Saturday from Sheppard Field, Texas, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gatliff.

John Martin is the first to have his ice house filled this year.

Gus Mielko went to South Haven this week to visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Soergel and family.

The Beaver Island coast guard boat made a trip to Charlevoix, Saturday.

EVELINE ORCHARDS

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

Mild winter weather so far with only a little snow.

Farmers are putting their annual supply of stove-wood.

Lots of sick people at present, caused by colds and flu.

Mrs. H. J. Timmer, who has been seriously ill for some time, is improving somewhat at this writing.

Peter Staal, of Zeeland; William Staal, of Holland; Mrs. John Kruis, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. J. P. Loherse, of Zeeland, Mich., spent the week end here to visit their sister, Mrs. H. J. Timmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Postmus and Mrs. Jake DeGraat were in Charlevoix last Wednesday.

Mrs. Jake DeGroot and Miss Kathryn Timmer were callers in East Jordan, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Lydia Losey, who has lived on the Frank Kass farm for a year, moved to a farm east of Central Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Timmer visited with their parents Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Timmer, of Ellsworth, called on their parents Tuesday afternoon.

Some pretty nice catches of fish are reported taken through the ice by the neighbors at present.

Donald Senneker and Junior VanStraten left for Grand Rapids, Friday morning, for a few days' vacation.

We are having our January thaw this week and what little snow we had is disappearing. Much bare ground can be seen, and our main roads are drying up nicely. Quite a difference from last year when we had several feet of snow by this time, and very cold. Of course we can expect a few blizzards yet before spring opens up.

J. B. Oosterbaan left for Zeeland last week Monday on business. Mr. Oosterbaan is busy at present taking orders for chicks for the Townline Hatchery of Zeeland, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuiper, Sr. will observe their 53rd wedding anniversary Tuesday, Jan. 25, at their farm home. They were married Jan. 25, 1891, in Grand Rapids. They resided in Grand Rapids until 1913, where Mr. Kuiper was a hand-carver by trade, then they moved to their present home. Mr. Kuiper is 77, a native of The Netherlands, and came to the United States in 1883. Mrs. Kuiper, 75, was born in Grand Rapids. They have two daughters, Mrs. Effie Weidenaar, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Cornelius VanAndel, of Battle Creek; four sons, Tony and Jay, of Ellsworth, and George and Albert, Jr., of Grand Rapids. We congratulate them, wishing them many more years in our vicinity.

Mrs. W. J. McKay, of Norwood, was hostess last Friday evening at a surprise birthday party in honor of Mr. McKay. There were 31 Barnard Grange members present. The evening was spent in playing progressive pedro, with first prizes going to Mrs. Will Ager and Clarence Murray, second high to Mrs. Lige O'Brien and Orville Hilton, while consolations went to Mrs. Bill Parsons and Edd Gregory. At the close of the evening a lovely lunch was served by the hostess, including a candle-lit birthday cake. An enjoyable time was had by all. Mr. McKay received several lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson, of Charlevoix, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Medrick Waffle, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner and daughter, Betty, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hilton, Sunday.

Patsy and Joyce Murray were visitors of Miss Betty Warner Saturday afternoon and night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. John Fratrick, Jr. and son, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ager, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Medrick Waffle, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ager and Mr. and Mrs. Medrick Waffle were callers at the John Fratrick, Jr. home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ager received a telegram from their son Monday evening, saying: "Arrived in California safe, fine, and hope to see you soon. Herbert." Herbert has been overseas for two years and more and he has spent most of that time in Australia and New Guinea.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray entertained a group of 15 young people from the Church of God last Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing games. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Emma Sutton was a visitor of Mrs. John Fratrick, Sr., Sunday afternoon.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Farmers' Week February 1-2-3

Program for the annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College has been concentrated in three busy days. Outstanding speakers have been secured to discuss vital agricultural subjects. Many state associations have their annual meetings in connection with Farmers' Week.

All departments will have exhibits and displays showing the importance of adopting short-cuts to production. Something will be doing every minute of the day.

Any farmer who can get away for this short time will profit by this three days' session. You will be surprised what a lift you will get by this little vacation. Don't forget that it is good for all of us to get away from our responsibilities for a short time. Somehow or other the farm looks more attractive when we get home from a little vacation like this. Several are planning on attending from this county.

Alfalfa Seed Is Scarce

The kinds of alfalfa seed preferred for Michigan are Hardigan, Grimm, Laduk, or uncertified seed from Michigan, Canada and such northern states as Montana, Idaho and the Dakotas. Such northern-grown seed is too scarce to take care of Michigan's 1944 requirements. Therefore, alfalfa seed from such states as Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado will have to be used. It should give a stand that will endure satisfactorily for two years on well-drained soil. If bromegrass is used with the alfalfa, the tendency for the alfalfa to heave is reduced.

Alfalfa seed from Argentina or from such areas as Arizona and New Mexico is not satisfactory for use in Michigan.

Which Cow Should Be Culled?

In 1944, culling several cows may be the means of feeding the remaining milk producers more liberally and adequately for milk production.

Five cows yielding 204 pounds of butterfat each will have a feed cost, according to D. H. I. A. figures, of $345 and make $195 returns over feed costs; three cows at 349 pounds butterfat will yield as much total product as the five lower-producing animals.

Three such cows will have $63 less feed cost and will return $273 over feed cost or $78 more than the lower-producing cows. Thus, less feed will be needed for the same amount of product.

AT THE MOVIES

"Holy Matrimony"

If you'd like to see a wild and Woolley-Fields day of fun and frolic—and who doesn't, these days—don't miss "Holy Matrimony," which is slated for the Palace Theatre next week Wednesday and Thursday.

For when he of the pointed beard and double-jointed tongue—Monty Woolley — gets together with that lovable lady of laughter and song—Gracie Fields—there's bound to be an uproar!

"Destination Tokyo"

"Destination Tokyo," a picture that should make us want to take a personal trip to Japan and throw our own bombs, will show Sunday and Monday, Jan. 30-31, at the Palace Theatre.

The new Warner Bros. film, which stars Cary Grant and John Garfield, is the story of an American submarine, the USS Copperfin, operating against Japan, and of the men aboard her. The film features Dane Clark, Robert Huttnn and Warner Anderson.

"Give Seven to Ten to the Service Men"

They're busy during the day. A few hours each night are about the only time they have to telephone. Wouldn't seem right if a casual call of yours held up a soldier's call back home.

Best way to avoid that is to play safe and not place any Long Distance call between 7 and 10 P. M. unless it is really urgent.

Tonight and every night, "give seven to ten to the service men."

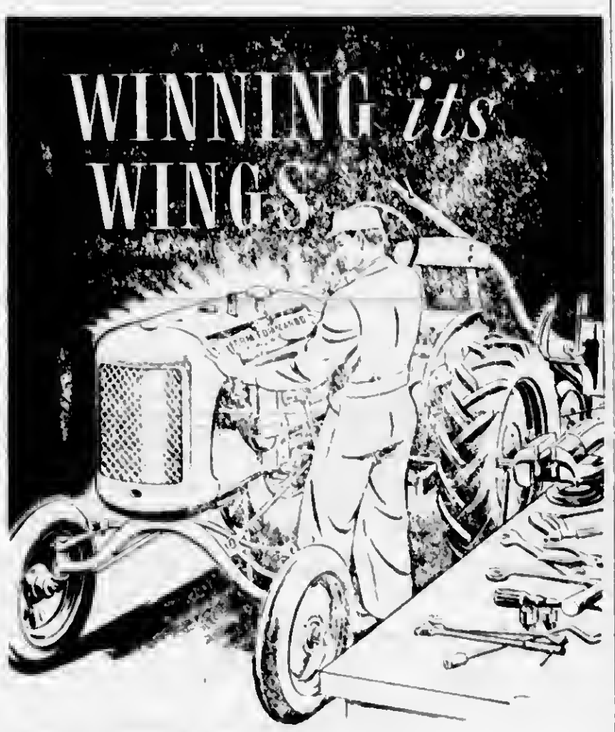
WINNING its WINGS



Farm equipment is facing the battle of its life. The year past was tough, but ahead is the real test. Old machines—overworked and worn to the danger point — must continue for at least another year.

New machinery will be manufacturerd in whatever quantities war conditions permit, but it would be a fatal mistake to assume that enough will be available to meet all the urgent needs. Demands for food are becoming so great that every salvageable implement must be pressed into service.

But don't order extra parts not needed to keep the machine in serviceable condition. We are equipped to repair or rebuild parts where possible. That's a rule we all should rigidly observe this year.

We have set as our goal the complete preparedness of every possible Allis-Chalmers machine in this community . . . tractors, All-Crop Harvesters and implements, back to the early serial numbers.

No matter how old, your equipment can win its wings as a qualified Farm Commando. Every machine certified by us as a "ready to roll" will be awarded the Farm Commando eagle emblem of honor. Have all your equipment inspected now.

EARLY PLANS FOR SUMMER HARVEST

Board of Commerce to Cooperate With Farmers, Fruit Growers

Because many of Charlevoix county's 1943 crops were harvested largely by volunteer labor, the board of commerce is making an early appeal to farmers in this vicinity to cooperate in plans for next summer's harvest.

Last summer, splendid help was received both from local and summer residents who went into the fields and orchards to harvest beans, cucumbers, beets, potatoes, apples and cherries. However, it is felt that even better results can be obtained if farmers will inform the board of commerce as far in advance as possible as to the approximate time they will need help, and how many people will be required.

Farmers and fruit growers should bear in mind that next summer's crop harvest may depend on volunteer labor even more than that of last year. The board of commerce stands ready to offer the fullest cooperation in obtaining such aid for farmers.

Spaniards in Cuba began to import Negro slaves as early as 1521.

OFFER NEW PLAN IN JANUARY WAC DRIVE

May Choose Branch of Service, Get Duty in This Area

During the January Women's Army Corps recruiting drive, a direct challenge is being directed to all women in this area to play a vital role in the coming offensive against our enemies.

The Women's Army Corps has been set to fill the 155 different types of behind-the-line army jobs, so that well trained soldiers can be released for combat duty. The urgent demand for soldiers at the fighting fronts can be supplied only when women replace the men now on duty in camps throughout the country.

As a stimulus to recruit the thousands of Wacs needed for immediate enlistment, the war department has instituted a new plan for the current drive, known as the "job, branch and area recruiting plan". This plan offers to eligible women from the ages of 20 to 49, inclusive, the opportunity to join the Women's Army Corps in which she will be assigned a job for which she is best qualified; in the branch of service she chooses, and if she desires, she will be sent to duty in the sixth service command, which comprises the states of Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, thus remaining in the vicinity of her home. The drive ends January 31.

TRUNKLINE TRAFFIC DECLINES IN STATE

Traffic on Michigan rural trunklines in 1943 decreased 29.3 per cent compared to 1942 and 43.3 per cent compared to 1941, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has announced. A steady decline has been noted throughout the state during a four-month period, as December traffic was 18.6 per cent below that of September.

There were 3,455 West Point men serving in World War I.

USED FATS QUOTA INCREASED BY WPB

State Collection Jumped Twenty Per Cent In December

Michigan's used fats quota for 1944 has been increased by the war production board, which has readjusted its figures to reflect changing population conditions.

The 1944 quota will be 843,333 pounds a month, compared with 800,500 pounds in 1943. The ration increase of 30 per cent in meats per family and the larger per cent of fat per pound of meat also were taken into consideration in establishing the quota.

LETTERS FROM THE ARMY CAMPS

the hay, as we gave up the search for them. They are in 30 feet of water.

I guess this will be all for now, so until you hear from me, please hold my paper.

Best of luck to my nephew, James Annis, in the south Pacific, and all the rest of the Charlevoix boys wherever they may be.

Best regards to all my Charlevoix friends,

Pfc. Charles J. Krulik
921 Q. M. Boat (Avn.)
Langley Field, Va.

P. S.—Be seeing you up in the north some day, I hope.

Dear Ken,

How are you and all the folks in Charlevoix?

I have been getting the paper every week. I want to thank everyone in Charlevoix and you, for making it possible to send the good Charlevoix paper to all of us in the service.

I have been transferred to Fort Clark Texas. From what I have seen of it, it is a big place. I am in a remount outfit. I would like to tell you a lot about it, but it is impossible. I am shoeing army mules and horses. They sure got a lot of life in them. I am sorry I didn't write sooner, but we sure keep very busy.

I sort of like Texas from what I have seen of it. There is no snow here, at least.

Well, I must close. Good luck, Ken. Hope to see you all soon.

Cpl. T/5 James Raymon

Hi, Ken,

I'm writing to you to tell you I've moved. I'm at River Rouge Park, outside of Detroit. I like it here pretty good, but not as good as the camp I left. Maybe after I've been here a while I'll like it better.

We have small huts instead of barracks here. Six men to a hut. It isn't so much to keep shined up, but in a barracks there were more fellows around all the time. I'm still on M. P., but so far I haven't pulled any M. P. duty here, just a little guarding.

They have very good amusement here. Movie once a week and dances twice a week. I would appreciate it if you send the paper to my new address.

As ever,
Joe.

Dear Ken,

I got the Courier again today. Have received it every Monday for the last three weeks. After reading the letters from men in the service, I thought I'd better throw you a few lines.

It's been real nice wenther here lately. Of course it never rains in California, where the sun shines all the time, but there is about a foot of heavy dew running down the streets some mornings when we get up.

There are several other guys here from Charlevoix that I run into once in a while. Lloyd Cummings is in the barracks next door, so I see him about every day. Melvin Niswander and Leo Fairbanks aren't very far from here, but I don't see them very often.

I got a letter from John Swanson the other day. Evidently the Missouri weather doesn't agree with him.

It's a great life if you don't weaken, so they say, but I'd better close and give some socks a G. I. bath.

Dear Ken,

Thanks a lot for the paper. If it isn't too much trouble to change my address so I can get it without it being in bard shape, I'll buy you a drink at The Argonne if Bill is still alive.

I don't know, but I think some of the boys are crippled up there, because they can't write.

Here's hoping we're all back by this summer so I can go and catch the big ones that you can't.

As ever,
Frank J. Krulik.

Note:—As Frank's new address denotes he is on sea duty, we cannot print it. However, it will be given to friends who wish to write to him.

Dear Ken,

While reading the good old home town paper today, word for word, I see that you want to hear from the east coast. As far as I'm concerned, they can keep the whole east coast, but seeing that I'm here, I won't let you down for a letter.

First of all, I want to thank you and all the people that help make it possible for the boys and girls in the service to get the home town news, which means a lot to me as well as all the others.

I also want to thank the Blue Star Mothers, Kiwanis Club, and that "cop on the beat," Glenn Rose, for the very nice cards at Christmas.

I sure like your column, Ken, it's most always what I read first and is always very interesting. Just keep up the good work.

I am still holding my old job on shore patrol and am doing all right for myself as a whole. But I am ready to come back to Charlevoix any time that Uncle Sam gives the good word.

I haven't run into any of the home town boys in almost two years, so if you know of any, I would like to have their address.

Thank you again.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS OBSERVED THURSDAY BY NORWOOD COUPLE

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones held open house at their Norwood home last Thursday afternoon.

About 50 friends and relatives called during the afternoon to congratulate them on observance of the anniversary. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, on which was a large bouquet of American Beauty roses, and a wedding cake decorated in gold and white, with a golden arch and bell ornament on top. Mrs. I. L. Dice and Mrs. W. J. McKay presided at the table, while Mrs. Vern Jones and Mrs. Clarence Heise served.

Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and Bert Jones, of Port Huron; Gene Jenas, of Detroit; and Cpl. and Mrs. John Jones, of Columbus, Ohio.

GREGORY-SHORT VOWS EXCHANGED AT HOME CEREMONY WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Jessie Gregory and Clifford Short, both of Charlevoix, were united in marriage Wednesday evening, January 19, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregory on Bridge street.

Rev. Maurice R. Peterson performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 30 guests. An arch of evergreens and poinsettias formed a pretty background for the bridal party.

A blue velvet dress was worn by the bride, who carried a bouquet of white carnations and snapdragons. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Short will make their home at 1302 Bridge street.

ENGAGEMENT ESTELLE LIVINGSTON TO ENSIGN RALPH HAHN IS TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Livingston announce the engagement of their daughter, Estelle, of Detroit, to Ensign Ralph Hahn, U. S. naval reserve, stationed at Miami, Fla. Ensign Hahn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hahn, of Detroit.

Graduate of Charlevoix high school and Grace Hospital school of nursing in Detroit, Miss Livingston is a registered nurse. Ensign Hahn graduated from the engineering course at Lawrence Tech, Detroit, and has just completed the naval reserve training course at Annapolis, Md.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Honoring Miss Esther West, whose marriage to First Sgt. Donald Ballard, of Camp Hood, Texas, is an event of the near future, a shower was given Monday evening by Mrs. Edward Golden at her home on West Garfield avenue. Honors at cards were won by Mrs. Franklin Curtis and Miss Ann Cunningham. After serving of refreshments, gifts were presented to the honored guest on a table attractively decorated with a ruffled pink parasol.

Students of the Congregational Sunday school, except the primary department, enjoyed a cooperative supper Tuesday in the church dining room. About 70 young people were present. This was the culmination of a race for best class attendance, which was won by the Bible Readers class led by Mrs. Clair Webster. After supper, all joined in singing familiar songs, led by Mrs. Webster and Sally Miller.

To Our Ice Customers:

After being in the ice business for 22 years, we are forced, because of the labor situation, to discontinue our ice distribution service.

We have disposed of our ice harvesting equipment to Booth Fisheries, who, we understand, will harvest enough ice for the city's needs.

We wish to thank our many customers for their past patronage.

If it can be arranged, we will endeavor to have ice at our office during the summer months for cash and carry service.

American banking is in the fight on many fronts, four of the most important being: Financing of war production and plant expansion, sale of U. S. Defense Bonds and tax notes, cooperation with the government in its control of consumer credit, and collaboration with the Treasury in the control and freezing of alien funds. Not every bank can serve in every way, but all — like ours — are ready and eager to help in every way possible.

South Arm is considered the best highway now between Ironton and East Jordan, the cold weather having converted it into a public highway as well as a vast skating rink.

Instead of a gospel sermon, Rev. Mr. McCartney gave his reminiscences of the war to a full house on Friday evening.

Wouldn't it be a good scheme to put runners on the fire engine? Eight or ten men would find pretty hard pulling to take it to a fire with suitable speed.

The little son of J. R. Dixon, in trying to amuse himself with a feed cutter, caught his hand between the cog-wheels and bruised it badly. Last week, the little son of A. R. Struthers, of Hayes, cut two fingers nearly off while playing with a hatchet. The little daughter of Henry Supernaw was severely burned a day or two ago. Coming too near the stove, her dress took fire, but by the efforts of her brother, Willie, the flames were extinguished.

Musician D. C. Nettleton, still in France with the A. E. F., says he hiked down to Toul recently to see his brother, Arthur. Twelve miles on a worn-out French bicycle with no air in the tires, five miles afoot, five miles by army truck—then met some soldiers coming along the road, and behold, one of them was Arthur. Doug thinks his regiment may be sent to Luxembourg as a part of the army of occupation.

When the Gorham Brothers of Mt. Pleasant complete lumbering operations on the Arthur Beattie farm, three miles south of town on the state road, it will mark the passing of the last tract of virgin timber in this locality. The farm, now occupied by Louis Shapton, contains about 40 acres that was heavily timbered, but which will be cut down this year.

Harold McMullkin and John Kelderhouse collided head-on Monday night at the rink, when the sophomore basketball team was practicing. Thrown to the floor, McMullkin has not recovered full consciousness yet, two days after the accident.

The fish tug A. & M. Link, owned by Frank Left, of St. James, made a trip to Charlevoix, Saturday, for the mail. Trying to get back to the island the same afternoon, the tug was forced to put back because of heavy seas, and now lies ice-bound at the foot of the Wilbur dock.

Headlining attractions for the Thursday afternoon Polar Bear Day program will be horse racing on Bridge street. To many, this feature will recall the old days when horse racing on the ice of Pine lake was very much in vogue. Horses entered for Thursday's program are those of Floyd Black, Dr. Newman, Ralph Bucot, and two by Jess Smith. Four horses from Hooker's stable will be used in ski-joring races on Bridge street.

Snow-blocked highways caused postponement of the Gaylord-Charlevoix basketball game here Tuesday evening. Today, Wednesday, the rotary plow is working towards Charlevoix from the vicinity of Hilton school; the Traverse City bus is snowbound somewhere near Atwood; Fowler's bus reached Petoskey this morning after considerable difficulty, but has so far been unable to return.

Instead of the scheduled basketball game Tuesday, a pick-up team composed of Stewart Coleman, Vernon Gamble, Ted Cooper and Coach Kipke and Harry Bingham, took on the high school tossers but proved no match for the regulars.

While Boyne regulars beat Charlevoix 12 to 7 Friday night, their second team took the local reserves, 25 to 5. Joe Smith, Norman Anco, Ile Helms, Roy Kelderhouse and Bill Foster played on the local second string.

Unless the Michigan legislature acts next month to acquire possession for the public, the heart of the nation's largest single tract of virgin hardwood-hemlock timber—the scenic Porcupine Mountain area of the upper peninsula—will be razed soon by the woodman's axe.

It's the old, old story.

A big firm from Wisconsin—the Connors Lumber company—is interested in the prospect of war-time timber profits.

Heretofore, the inaccessibility of the tract and prevalent lumber prices were the only reason why the valuable forests were spared from exploitation. Today's high prices, however, make it profitable for the Connors company to build a railroad line into the Porcupine area, to construct special roads, and to hire lumberjacks at 40-hour-week wages with extra trimmings thrown in for good measure.

Hence, to the Wisconsin lumber company, it's now or never.

With fat profits at stake, the Connors company recently sent a lobbyist to Lansing. The threatened acquisition by the state of their 8,000-acre holdings is being opposed vigorously by the Wisconsin outfit.

The lobbyist, in talks with state officials at Lansing, indicated in plain words that Mr. Connors is more interested in Mr. Connors than in the welfare of the people of Michigan. Appeals for cooperation in the name of "public interest" have fallen, so far, on unreceptive ears.

Here's how the situation stands, at present.

Purchase of the Porcupine Mountain tract, of which 39,000 acres are now privately owned, is approved by the following:

Governor Harry F. Kelly.

Michigan Planning Commission.

Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

State conservation commission.

What would the state do with the land?

1. Create a virgin forest museum for future generations.

2. Utilize ultimately the recreational value of the scenic Porcupine Mountains. In fact, the National Park Service has offered to provide a hotel or lodge for overnight accommodations, if the tract becomes a federal park.

It is the location of the famed Lake of the Clouds and the picturesque Presque Isle river which tumbles for miles through deep gorges and falls over jutting ledges of sandstone. The "Porcupines" would become one of Michigan's greatest tourist attractions—one, incidentally, which would require travel by many tourists through most of the lower and upper peninsula enroute to and from.

Complementing the Upper Peninsula program is the Southeastern Michigan recreational plan, also supported by the governor, state planning commission and the state conservation commission, which would convert 100,000 acres of worn-out moraines, stretching from southern Lapeer county to northern Hillsdale county, into a near-continuous chain of parks and hunting lands, accessible to three-fifths of the people of the state.

Here, also, is a challenging idea.

Within 50 miles radius of 3,500,000 persons, the 100,000 acre "half-circle" of parks, playgrounds and hunting grounds would greatly remedy the deficiency of recreational facilities in the Detroit metropolitan area. This deficiency has already reached a point of embarrassment, as the Detroit region now has only 0.3 per cent of land in park use compared with 1.3 per cent for Chicago, 3.8 per cent for New York, 4.2 per cent for Cleveland, and 6.0 per cent for Boston.

Because the two recreational plans are being offered to the state legislature at the same time, chances of their adoption are decidedly favorable.

Predictions are being made confidently by P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the state conservation department, that the legislators will approve the two plans and will authorize the recommended expenditure of funds looking toward the ultimate purchase of the entire acreages.

The southeastern Michigan area would not offer resort facilities and thus would not compete with Northern Michigan's cottages, cabins and hotels. It would provide ready access to woodlands and lakes for hiking, canoeing, horseback riding, overnight camping, picnicking, and hunting for 3,500,000 men, women and children. These counties would benefit the most: Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Washtenaw, Livingston, Oakland, Macomb and Lapeer.

Such an introduction to the lure of Michigan's great outdoors would result, Mr. Hoffmaster believes, in the travel of many families to the Northern Michigan vacation-land, just as radio broadcasting of baseball has actually stimulated attendance of the public at games.

It's a long-ranged plan, looking ahead to the post-war period of a short work week and a long weekend for leisure use.

Benefit to the masses is more important than profit to a few individuals.

That is the spirit of Michigan conservation.

"The public be served" is the modern creed.

With adoption of the two recreational programs, Michigan's conservation program—already nationally famous—will move forward in public service.

Now the devil's throat will starve. Merico's dreadful pit of horror, that has swallowed so many crime victims and suicides, will no longer feed on human morsels. Don't miss this dramatic feature by William Seabrook, the noted author, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

The United States was without a navy of any kind for only nine years of its existence, the nine years following 1785.

A sterile solution of pectin obtained from the white peel of citrus fruits has been used successfully as a substitute for blood plasma in treating 125 surgical patients to prevent shock.

Kicking Nazis From Greenland

Vital war informotion was reaching Germony from o post not far from the North American continent. A Nozl rodio and weather base was operating in the Arctic off the coast of Greenland. It was solidly built and its occupants, hidden by blizzords ond orctic wostes, expected to remain permanently. But the Nozis were surprised by vigilont Danes who spotted the bose, battled its occupants ond got word to the United States. Soon U. S. troops smashed the Nozl nest. The compaign is shown in the following sketches by Norman Thomas, combat ortist, and photographs taken at the bose.

Coastguardsmen and soldiers go ashore from a cutter. Guns of the cutter cover the landing. This landing was preceded by a heroic fight by Danish hunters, one of wham was killed by the Nazis. Another Dane, who was captured, acted as a guide for the Nazis. But at his first chance this Dane seized the commander of the base and delivered him to U. S. custody.

Top: Reconnaissance patrol is left behind to occupy landing base camp and watch for any enemy landing attempts. Bottom: Coastguardsmen and soldiers charge in skirmish formation toward the Nazi radio base just beyond the hills.

Besides a radio station, the enemy post included a power house, emergency generator, machine gun emplacements and food caches.

Top: Another view of U. S. troops. Bottom left: Taking a Nazi prisoner. Bottom right: Searching for further signs of the enemy.

German equipment is examined by U. S. soldiers. Some Germans got away in planes, it was believed.

CHATTERER GROWS VERY, VERY BOLD

"I'M NOT AFRAID. I'm afraid. I'm not afraid. I'm afraid. I'm not afraid." Chatterer the Red Squirrel kept saying these two things over and over again to himself. Ynu see, he really was afraid, and he wes trying to make himself believe that he wasn't efraid. Tha trouble was that every time he said it a little volee, e little truthful volee down inside seemed to speak right up end tell him that he was afraid.

Poor Chatterer! It hurt his pride to havs to own to himself that ha wasn't as breve as litile Tommy Tit the Chickadee. His common sense told him that thera was no reason in tha world why he shouldn't be. Tommy Tit went everyday and took food from the hand of Farmer Brown's Boy. It seemed to Chatterer and to Happy Jack the Grey Squirrel and to Peter Rabbit and to Sammy Jay and to Blacky the Crow, all of whom had seen him do it, as if it was the very bravest thing they ever had seen, and their respect for Tommy Tit grew wonderfully.

But Tummy Tit himself didn't think it bravo at all. No, sir, Tommy knew better. You see, he has a great deal of common sense under tha little black cap he wears. "It may have been brave of me to do it tha first time," thought he to himself when tha others told him how brave they thought him, "but it isn't brave of me now, because I know that no harm is going to come to me from Farmer Brown's Boy. There isn't any bravery about it, and it might be just the same way with "Coward! Coward! Coward!" screamed Sammy Jay.

Chatterer and all the other little forest and meadow people if only they would think so and give Farmer Brown's Boy half a chanee."

Chatterer was beginning to have soma thoughts himself as he tried to make himself think that he wasn't afraid. He heard the door of Farmer Brown's house slam and peeped out from the old stona wall. Thera was Farmer Brown's Boy with a big fat hickory nut held out in the most tempting way, and Farmer Brown's Boy was whistling the same little whistle he had used when Chatterer was his prisoner and he had brought good things for Chatterer to eat. Of course, Chatterer knew perfectly well that that whistle was a call for him, and that that big fat hickory nut was intended for him. Almost before he thought he had left the old stone wall and was halfway over to Farmer Brown's Boy. Then he stopped short. It seemed as if that little voice inside fairly had shouted in his ears, "I am afraid." It was true. He was afraid. He was right on the very point of turning to scurry back to the old stone wall when he heard another voice. This time it wasn't a voice inside. No, indeed! It was a voice from the top of one of the apple trees in the Old Orchard, and this is what it said: "Coward! Coward! Coward!" It was Sammy Jay.

Now it is one thing to tell yourself that you are afraid and it is quite another thing to be told by someone else that you are afraid. "No such thing! No such thing! I'm not afraid!" scolded Chatterer, and then to prove it he suddenly raced forward, snatched the fat hickory nut from the hand of Farmer Brown's Boy and was back in the old stone wall. It was hard to tell which was the most surprised—Chatterer himself, Farmer Brown's Boy, or Sammy Jay. "I did it! I did it! I did it!" boasted Chatterer.

"You don't dare do it again, though!" said Sammy Jay, in the most provoking and unpleasant way.

"I do, too!" snapped Chatterer, and he did it. And with the taking of that second fat nut from the hand of Farmer Brown's Boy the very last bit of fear of him left Chatterer, and he knew that Tommy Tit the Chickadee had been right all the time when he insisted that there was nothing to fear from Farmer Brown's Boy.

Almost expected to see the crocuses in bloom this morning, as the temperature is up to 50 degrees, sidewalks almost entirely clear, not a pile of snow to be seen, as it all washed away in the rain Monday. It's the most spring-like January weather in about 25 years, we believe. But probably by the time you read this, the snow will be falling so thick you can't see out the windows.

Many thanks to Mrs. P. E. Vandermade, whom some of you may remember as Gail Cruikshank, for her friendly letter. Says Mrs. Vandermade: "May I say thank you for the 'Do You Remember?' There are a lot of us in Detroit who do remember, and we always appreciate the brief items. Charlevoix will always be home and the most beautiful spot in America." Hope the rest of you feel the same way about the town and column, both.

Letters from the fellows in service are kinda absent this week, but we did hear from Frank Krulik, navy, who has gone on active sea duty; Pfc. Chuck Krulik, army, Langley Field, Va.; Cpl. T/5 James Raymon, army, Fort Clark, Texas; Pvt. Daniel Haggerty, army, Camp Roberts, Calif.; Pvt. Joe Bellinger, Camp River Rouge, Detroit. Answering our plea for letters from the east coast was Vernon Cook, boatswain's mate first class, coast guard, who is in Boston. This must have been a busy week for you other guys, but any time you feel like writing your letters look good to us.

BOUNTY ON RATS SET BY COUNCIL

Rodents Must Be Killed Within City Limits Or at Dump

By action of the city council at their regular meeting Monday night, a bounty was authorized for rats killed within the city limits or at the city dumping grounds.

The bounty, set at five cents per rat, can be collected until further notice by bringing the tails to the city clerk's office. It is anticipated that such a bounty will do much to lessen the property and crop damage done by rats in this vicinity.

Milk Production in 1943

In the year just ended approximately 118¾ billion pounds of milk were produced on the farms of America. That is the second highest annual production in the history of any nation, and is exceeded only by the production of the United States for the preceding year.

SERVICES FOR MRS. SHANANQUET FRIDAY

Born on High Island, Life-Long Resident This Vicinity

Funeral services were held Friday morning for Mrs. George Shananquet, 53, who died Wednesday afternoon at Charlevoix Hospital after a short illness.

Rev. Fr. A. V. Ulanowicz conducted services at 9 o'clock, followed by interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Mary Andrews was born May 3, 1890, on High Island, and had spent her entire life in this vicinity. As a watcher at the local aircraft observation post the past summer and fall, she had a total of 88 hours to her credit, and was one of the most reliable members of the watch tower staff.

She is survived by her husband, George Shananquet, two stepsons, Cpl. Orville Shananquet, with the army overseas, and Murley, at home, and a stepdaughter, Virginia.

EAST JORDAN CLUB SPONSORS LECTURES

Oriental Nations Topic of Third Number, Friday, January 28

Under the title of an Institute of International Understanding, the Rotary Club of East Jordan is sponsoring a series of lectures by persons who have first hand knowledge of various foreign countries.

Third number in the series will be presented by Mrs. Geraldine Townsend Fitch at the East Jordan high school auditorium Friday, January 28, at 8 p. m. For over 20 years Mrs. Fitch was closely associated with leaders of the new China, and her topic is "The Nations of the Orient As Contributors to a New World Order."

A number of Charlevoix residents attended last Friday's lecture by Dr. Orn D. Foster, who spoke on Latin-American nations.

FOURTH CRIBBAGE GAME TO MASONS

Odd Fellows Retain Series Lead in Winter Tournament

Masons emerged victorious Monday night in the fourth game of their winter cribbage series with the Odd Fellows, played at the Odd Fellow hall. It was their first victory of the series.

Team score for the Masons was 11,698, while Odd Fellows tallied 11,549. Winning this game, the Masons did not eliminate the Odd Fellows' series advantage, although it was reduced from 627 to 478 points.

High man for the winners was Horace Fowler, with a card of 924. Robert Stafford led the Odd Fellows with 944. Six and a half tables were in play. Next game of the tournament is at the Masonic temple.

ny method of treatment to train doctors and nurses in this new technique of fighting the crippling after-effects of the disease.

Last year, about 12,000 persons were stricken by infantile paralysis—most of them children 5 to 15 years of age. It costs about $1,800 to give a year's care and the Kenny treatment to one patient. Although swift medical attention spared many from crippling and also saved many dollars, there still are thousands of children who will require this long course of treatment. Money contributed to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will not only provide treatment for these children, but will aid in continuing the fight to conquer the mysterious enemy and find the cause, cure and prevention of the disease.

Mary Pickford's interest in children and their future as citizens finds a natural outlet in her position as Chairman of the Women's Division of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Her adopted daughter, Roxanne, with whom she is pictured above, gives Mary a poignant reason for her militant effort on the American Health Front. Miss Pickford, appointed by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, has selected leaders in the forty-eight states and in the territories to carry the women's fight against the children's enemy on the home front. The Annual Fund Appeal and "March of Dimes" in nationwide celebrations of The President's Birthday occurs between January 14 and 31.

RAYDERS SCORE TWO VICTORIES

DEFEAT BOYNE AND JORDAN ON HOME FLOOR

Teams Scheduled for Three Tilts in Coming Week with Petoskey, Pellston and Grayling

Charlevoix's Red Rayders added to their growing string of basketball victories by two successive wins on their home floor during the past week.

The Rayders downed Boyne City 34 to 27 Friday night, and hung up a 32 to 20 triumph over East Jordan on Tuesday night.

Charlevoix 34, Boyne City 27

In the Friday night contest, the locals scored 7 points to Boyne's 6 for a slim lead in the first quarter. Charlevoix added 11 points in the second frame as Boyne tallied 8, giving the Rayders an advantage of 18 to 14 at the half. During the third period, the locals made 9 points to Boyne's 7, to lead 27 to 21. Boyne sank three field goals in the final period, but Charlevoix kept a one-point lead with a successful free throw, then alternated two field goals and two free shots to score a decisive victory.

Bellinger led the local's scoring with 12 points, Hardy made 8, Plow 6, Chambers 5, Ward 3, Metzcrge, Boyne forward, led his team with 15 points, Russell made 9, Lockman 2, Goodwin 1.

Charlevoix reserves rounced Boyne's second string in the preliminary, 24 to 13.

Charlevoix 32, East Jordan 20

Chambers led off Charlevoix's scoring with a neat long shot in the early minutes of the Jordan game. Leading 8 to 3 at the end of the first quarter, the Rayders piled up their winning margin in the second period when they scored 16 points to Jordan's 6 to hold a 24 to 9 advantage at the half. Jordan topped Charlevoix's scoring during the second half, but could not overcome the local's lead. The visitors made 4 points to Charlevoix's 3 in the third frame, which ended 27 to 13 in the Rayder's favor. In the final period, Jordan gained 7 points as the locals made 5.

CSO WILL SEND BOXES TO MEN IN HOSPITALS

Want Names of Local Service Men Either Wounded or Ill

Appointment of Miss Frances Martin and Mrs. P. R. Ross as a special committee for the Charlevoix Service Organization was announced this week by Ralph Hamilton, CSO chairman.

The committee will make up boxes, using CSO funds, to send to local men who are hospitalized because of wounds or illness requiring long treatment. Small books, magazines, writing material, candy, games and other articles will go into the boxes.

Anyone who knows of service men who are in hospitals and are expected to be there for a considerable time, is asked to communicate with Miss Martin, phone 367, or Mrs. Ross, phone 103."

BLUE STAR MOTHERS INSTALLED OFFICERS

January Meeting Held Thursday at Home of Mrs. Frank Bird

New officers of the Blue Star Mothers chapter were installed at the January meeting, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Bird.

Taking office were: president, Mrs. P. R. Ross; first vice president, Mrs. William Fisher; second vice president, Mrs. J. M. Festor; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Goss; treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Smith.

Progress of the Fourth War Loan drive, being conducted in Charlevoix by the chapter, was discussed. New members were initiated, and honorary membership was conferred upon Mrs. F. F. McMillan.

Following the business meeting was a social hour. Prizes for various games were awarded to Mrs. Goss, Mrs. A. L. Livingston and Mrs. W. H. Supernaw. Refreshments were served to the 23 members present.

Mrs. J. M. Foster will be hostess for the next meeting, February 24.

GROUND OBSERVER ACTIVITIES HALTED

AIRCRAFT WARNING SERVICE CEASES OPERATION

Civilian Volunteers Relieved of Duties; Watch Tower Is Ordered Closed

Charlevoix's post of the Aircraft Warning Service, on an alert status since early last fall, has been ordered discontinued by Lt. Col. C. A. Cossady, commander of the central air defense headquarters at Fort Brady.

All activity of the Aircraft Warning Service in this region was brought to a halt last Wednesday, January 19, by Lt. Col. Cassady's order. Observation posts in the area have completely ceased operation, and all civilian volunteer personnel of the Ground Observer Corps have been released from their duties.

Army flash and red flash telephone calls, transmitting information on aircraft activity to Fort Brady, are no longer authorized.

Miss Marjorie Webster, appointed chief observer for Charlevoix upon the resignation of Clifford McKibbin, Jr., former city superintendent, has been instructed to retain all post records and papers.

It is evident from the nature of Lt. Col. Cassady's order that the need for widespread networks of civilian aircraft observers has passed, although these volunteers played an important role in the nation's air defense during the past two years.

Lt. Col. Cassady expressed his gratitude to Miss Webster and the loyal observers who helped to bring the aircraft warning service in this region to the high state of efficiency which it reached and maintained.

FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN MONROE

Native of Canada, Lived Here and at Ironton Many Years

Mrs. Selinn Brown, 70, widow of Bert Brown and a former Charlevoix resident, died Sunday, January 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Don Swartz, of Monroe. She had been in ill health following a stroke several months ago.

Mrs. Brown, the former Selinn Saunders, was born in Canada and came to Ironton with her parents when she was a child. She made her home there and in Charlevoix for many years, and after a short period of residence in Petoskey, she went to Monroe to make her home with her daughter.

Surviving are the daughter, Mrs. Swartz; two grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Hester Campbell, of Washington, D. C., and Martha Denno, of Flint Rock.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church in Monroe.

ST. JAMES YOUTH SUCCUMBED SUNDAY

Illness Is Fatal to Pfc. Hubert Green, Stationed in Utah

Pfc. Hubert Green, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Green, of St. James, died Sunday at Wendover Field, Utah, following a serious illness.

The youth had attended Beaver Island schools, and entered the army air corps about a year ago. He was stationed for some time in Lincoln, Nebr., and had recently been transferred to Utah.

The body will be brought to St. James for burial.

VICTORY CLOSE IN BOND DRIVE

QUOTA OF "E" BONDS WAS TOPPED SATURDAY

Fourth War Loan Nears Success In Second Week; Credit to Blue Star Mothers

Success in the Fourth War Loan drive in Charlevoix is assured, as bond sales passed the $112,000 mark this week. The city's goal is $117,200.

The quota of series "E" bonds was topped Saturday when sales climbed to $53,000, well above the $52,000 goal for this issue. Sales of other types of bonds have been equally successful, reports Robert Bridge, bank chairman.

Blue Star Mothers have canvassed every home and business place and their enthusiasm and untiring zeal is a vital factor in success of the campaign so far.

Reports from other sections of the county give East Jordan a total of $65,000, Boyne City $58,500. These figures represent both sales of "E" bonds and other types.

Another "youngest" bond buyer in Charlevoix is Sally Harrington, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harrington. Sally's Christmas gift money bought her second $25 bond. It is probable that she is the most youthful bond purchaser in the city.

NOTICE

Attention is drawn to the ballot on page 4, to be used for nominations for Charlevoix Board of Commerce officers. Those who wish to name candidates should fill out the ballot and mail it at once to the Board of Commerce.

WAVE ENLISTMENTS AT RECORD LEVEL

Information Given Traverse City Recruiting Station

In Michigan and throughout the nation, WAVE enlistments are currently at a record level, it was announced by Lieut.-Cmdr. Byron E. Fletchner, officer in charge of navy recruiting in this area.

A total of 246 different kinds of jobs are being performed by WAVES at naval stations in this country. No special experience is required for any job although frequently the navy places its Waves in positions for which they are best fitted through civilian experience.

Main headquarters for the WAVES in lower Michigan is the ninth floor of the Book Building, in Detroit. Information may be obtained and preliminary enlistment steps taken at the navy recruiting station in the post office building at Traverse City.

CARLOAD OF PAPER IS READY TO SHIP

Six Tons Collected Last Friday; Continue Saving Scrap

More than six tons of waste paper was collected in Charlevoix by city trucks last Friday, reports Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman. Added to the paper gathered in the previous pick-up, a full carload of 15 tons is now ready to be shipped to a paper mill.

Plans for a spring paper collection will be announced later. Local residents are advised to continue saving paper, particularly brown wrapping paper, sacks, and corrugated board, as these types of paper are most vitally needed.

MISSIONARY TO CANADA TO SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Paul Gelott, for many years a missionary in northwestern Canada, will speak at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock Friday evening. We will show colored slides of Canadian scenes. Retired because of ill health, Mr. Gelatt now makes his home in Central Lake. The public is invited to attend his lecture.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

LEO L. CLOSE IS NAMED SCHOOL COMMISSIONER

Former Superintendent of Boyne City Schools Appointed

Leo L. Close, of Bay City, has been appointed Charlevoix county school commissioner to fill the unexpired term of the late William C. Palmer.

Announcement of the appointment was made Saturday by County Clerk F. R. Bulow, who, with Probate Judge Rollie L. Lewis and Prosecuting Attorney C. M. Bice, composed the appointing committee.

Superintendent of schools in Boyne City for several years, Mr. Close left there about seven years ago to become associated with the state department of public instruction, later was superintendent of the Henry Ford school at Pequaming, Mich., and until his appointment to the Charlevoix county post, has been assistant to the Bay county school commissioner, with offices in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Close will reside in Boyne City.

REEMPLOYMENT OF WAR VETS

APPOINT LOCAL COMMITTEE TO OUTLINE PROGRAM

Governor Kelly Stresses Need of Community Plan to Assist Returned Soldiers

A program of rehabilitation and employment of returning war veterans is to be undertaken in Charlevoix by a committee of representatives of civic organizations, acting upon the request of Governor Harry F. Kelly to Mayor Robert Bridge.

Established under the re-employment division of the national selective service system, and supervised by state selective service headquarters, the rehabilitation program in this city will be organized at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Various state organizations were asked to appoint local members on the committee. Charlevoix's committee is as follows: LaVern McGhan, Farm Bureau; Fred Willis, Grange; Charles Hamlin, American Legion; Fred W. Bancroft, Kiwanis; Frank C. Brown, of Boyne City, CIO; Delbert Paquette, secretary of the Boyne City chamber of commerce; Dr. Bernard J. Beuker and John Porter, of East Jordan, members of the county selective service board; Harvard Smart, director of the U. S. Employment Service office in Petoskey. Others may be appointed from civic groups and service organizations.

"The importance of a community plan for re-employment of returning veterans cannot be underestimated," said Governor Kelly. "While there can be no slackening of our war effort, intelligent community action now may offset the difficulties which may develop when the armed forces are demobilized."

Auto Accident Victim

Word was received this week from Mrs. F. J. Fessenden that her father, Edgar Watson, of Carlton, Minn., was killed in an automobile accident last Thursday evening. Mrs. Fessenden, who is in Muskegon with her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Hohn, left immediately for Minnesota.

MARINE TANKS WON AT TARAWA

TURRET GUNNER TELLS OF THRILLING ACTION

Pfc. Warren Duplessis Was Hit by Shrapnel After Jap Shell Knocked Out "Commando"

(The following story was written by Marine Sergeant Jack A. Gertz of Denver Cole.)

Somewhere in the Pacific—The back-bone of Japanese resistance on Tarawa was broken by marine tanks, says a wounded gunner who operated the turret guns on "Commando", one of the first tanks to reach the shore.

Private First Class Earl Warren Duplessis, 22, of Route 3, Charlevoix, Mich., is recovering at a navy hospital here from a hip fracture. He was hit by shrapnel while climbing out of his tank after it was struck by a Jap shell.

The tank gunner was "embarrassed because his tank was knocked out of action before the Tarawa battle was finished. Pfc. Duplessis told this story:

" 'Commando' was successfully landed by a tank craft, and immediately went into action. There was plenty to do. Through our periscope we could see machine gun emplacements, which prevented marine riflemen from pushing ahead. We tore down the barbed-wire entanglements and knocked out the machine gun nests.

"Marines blew up coconut obstacles and we rolled forward, ramming shells and bullets into Jap pill-boxes, heavy artillery gun positions and many machine gun emplacements.

" 'Commando' and our crew continued on alone across the island, destroying several five-inch, anti-boat guns, pill-boxes and sustaining many direct hits. Finally, 'Commando' was knocked out for good. A direct hit from a Jap anti-tank shell caused an explosion inside of our tank.

"The rest of the crew climbed out okay, but when I got out of the turret, another shell hit the tank. Shrapnel pierced my hip. The others pulled me away from the tank, and placed me in a shell hole. They waited until dark to carry me behind the lines for medical attention."

REGISTRATION SOME SERVICEMEN RENEWED

State Legislature Takes Action to Reinstate Voters

Charlevoix men in the armed forces who were registered as voters in December 1943, have not lost their right to vote even though they have not voted for two years.

Registrations are reviewed annually in December, and those voters who did not vote for two years previous are removed from the rolls.

However, by act of the Michigan state legislature last year, registrations of service men which would have been cancelled in December were automatically renewed. This does not mean that all service men's registrations are renewed, but applies only to those which were reviewed in December, 1943.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

We seem always to be looking backward to good times or forward to good times.

Don't think it would be revealing military secrets to say that in the past week or so we've received overseas addresses for Cpl. Keith Wagner, T/pl. Lyle Miles and 2nd Lt. Bill Foster. And in the servicemen's column you'll find letters from Pfc. Don Meggison, army, Camp Hood, Texas; Staff Sgt. Bob Heise, army, India; Warrant Officer Bob Fochtman, south Pacific; Robert Bergmann, FC3c, navy, Pacific; Cpl. Merlyn Ostrum, army, Camp Gordon, Va.; Cpl. Howard Davenport, army, Camp Gordon, Va.; a difference in opinion about the state of Virginia from Sgt. Perry Smith, of Camp Pickett, Va., and Pfc. "Chuck" Krulik, who is stationed at Langley Field, Va., but is now taking special training at Bar Harbor, Me.

And speaking about Perry Smith, he called me a bigger liar (the good-natured, over-exaggeration kind) than his father was, and if it wasn't for the fact that it's quite an accomplishment to be a bigger liar than Perry Sr., I'd be kinda sore about what he said. Well, anyway, Perry, you didn't disappoint me, because that's just the kind of letter I expected you'd write when you got around to it. Was glad to hear from you this time and will be any other time in the future. Regarding my not getting any fish and game, will say that all sportsmen are optimists, and the getting isn't half so much fun as the going after.

A doctor examined a man in a hospital. As the man bared his chest he revealed tattoed portraits of Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt.

"Want to proclaim your patriotism, eh?" said the doctor.

"Right," was the reply. "And you should see where I've got Hitler."

If automobiles were built on a cost-plus basis like war equipment, most of us would never be able to buy one.

Bonds Help Bring Them Home

These are the Charlevoix men and women in the nation's service, for whom the Blue Star Mothers are selling $117,200 worth of bonds in this city during the Fourth War Loan. Nearly 250 pictures are now on display in the Central Drug store window, shown above. They represent 250 reasons for Charlevoix citizens to back the Fourth War Loan to the fullest extent.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

A conscience is indeed a bad thing. Mine has been getting in the way for quite a while now, so I finally decided to write ye noble editor and thank him and all responsible for sending me the Courier. Thanks, it really is appreciated no end, even the Shootum at Random.

The army is getting to be quite an obstacle. It seems to have a priority on my time these days. Maybe it's just a coincidence, but I hear quite a few fellows say the same thing, with different adjectives, of course. But after serving my rich uncle for fifteen months or so, it finally has dawned on me. In other words, our commanding officer, Colonel Jones, isn't a bit scared of me at all. He hasn't been for quite some time.

There is one thing we will have to get straight, Ken, old boy, you are a bigger liar than my dad. Really you are. Every time bird season starts, you seem to be all set for a record bag. Then the same thing seems to happen to fish, fowl, deer, rabbits and all the other quarry you blaze away at. All you get is back. 'Tis a rotten thing to ask, oh noble editor, but could you hit a bear in the hinder with a snow shovel? Seriously, tho, I'd give ten or fifteen cents to hike about the old homesteads whether I shot anything or not.

Whatever you do, confine your activities to the north side of the Mason-Dixon line. All I've seen has been south of it and it all seems the same—all bad. If I had a garbage-eating hound and he even looked like he was going to roam down south, I'd shoot him. All we have here is mud, although it is clearing up now. It even snowed twice over this way. The only things pretty down south that I've seen are the pine trees, but not being a four-footed canine, I can't enjoy them day in and day out.

I might as well be in the navy. We're so crowded in the barracks, every time the guy above me combs his hair I get the dandruff. Even the mice run around hump-backed. The fellow by the door really has it the worst. When he

LET'S GET EVERY MACHINE READY TO ROLL....

A neglected tractor or farm machine might mean a boy in battle would go hungry. It could happen to one of our own boys from this community.

Let's not have it on our conscience that we neglected farm machinery. Let's check every machine NOW. Don't put it off. Don't overlook a single worn part or weak bearing which can be detected in advance and repaired or rebuilt to save a new part — perhaps a whole new machine.

We are here to help you. Our shop is equipped to completely recondition tractors, harvesters and implements. Come in — schedule your repair work early — be safe.

Every A-C machine pronounced ready to roll will be awarded the red-white-and-blue Farm Commando eagle. You are welcome to come in and consult our Farm Commando Register of Allis-Chalmers equipment, some available for work on neighboring farms.

YOU TAKE THE HIGH ROAD

SEE GOOD PRICE FOR 1944 CROPS

It's only a guess, yet a Michigan State College farm management specialist gives the opinion that Michigan farmers can expect slightly higher prices for farm products in 1944 as compared to 1943.

Campus visitors attending the 29th annual Farmers' Week program at East Lansing, heard Dr. Karl T. Wright analyze prospects for rural families facing the farm battle fronts in 1944.

Average farm prices can be less, can be the same or can he more in 1944 than they were in 1943, hut prospects indicate some increase. The economist pointed out that 1943 prices averaged twice those of 1939 for 20 leading farm products marketed in Michigan.

Will feed grains, protein supplements, labor, machinery or repairs, seed grains and fertilizers be plentiful? Answers to those factors do not seem to be encouraging, farmers were told. Machinery supplies should be better than last year but other elements of production may be short of demands.

Costs of running a farm may increase another 15 per cent in 1944, Dr. Wright predicts. Farm costs in 1943 were roughly 50 per cent higher than they were in 1939.

Dollars per farm, however, the increase in cost apparently will not exceed the average increase in farm income. That factor, he informed Michigan farmers, means that production of maximum volume will pay well in 1944 if a farmer wisely uses his resources of land, buildings, equipment, labor and feed to produce the most food and the highest net profit.

"Henry Aldrich Haunts a House"

Skeletons, mummies, gorillas and goons are due to have their day when Paramount's newest Aldrich hit, "Henry Aldrich Haunts a House," opens Wednesday and Thursday, February 9-10, at the Palace Theatre.

In this latest Aldrich comedy, Henry's new girl friend abhors brute strength and admires the "mental type." So Henry goes scholarly and throws consternation into the camp of his friends and family. The payoff comes when Henry accidentally downs a vial full of mystorious liquid whose qualities are intended to triple a man's strength.

"The Desert Song"

Playing at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday, February 5-6, is the much-awaited film version of that perennial stage favorite, "The Desert Song." Warner Bros., the first of the film companies to bring musicals to the screen, has apparently outdone itself in this technicolor production.

Dennis Morgan and Irene Manning are starred as Paul and Margot, and lend new beauty to the familiar Romberg tunes in their renditions of them. In the featured cast are Bruce Cabot, Gene Lockhart, Lynne Overman and Faye Emerson.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

They say there is a manpower shortage in Michigan.

Sure, didn't you read about it in the papers?

Then read this story about Muskegon. The waste of manpower in Muskegon war industries has become so disgraceful the town's daily newspaper, the Muskegon Chronicle, pronounces it to be "rotten" and worthy of the word "sabotage."

Freedom of the press still exists in the United States.

And newspaper editors are still expressing their convictions candidly for what they are worth. In the case of the Chronicle the newspaper's verdict cannot be interpreted as "anti-labor" for several reasons.

First, the newspaper employs union printers who have enjoyed contractual relations with the Chronicle and previous daily papers for 57 consecutive years. Second, the newspaper concludes that Muskegon's waste of manpower, scandalous in its proportions, is the joint responsibility of labor and management and that "both sides . . . invited what is happening."

Proof of this joint responsibility is presented by the newspaper in the following cases, both of which are vouched for as authentic. We quote:

(1) "I am leaving Muskegon although it is my home and I want to stay.

"I have recently been honorably discharged from the navy after two years service. I wanted to do my part on the home front.

"I applied for work at the office of an industry where it seemed my previous experience would be of value. I was employed and assigned to a desk. I sat there for nine days without a thing to do. I protested I would sweep floors, if they did not have anything else for me to do, rather than do nothing. The answer was, 'You are getting paid, aren't you'?

"I found two hundred men and women in the plant in about the same situation. I could not stand it any longer, so I am leaving."

(2) "My small business has been curtailed by war conditions. I found I had time on my hands. I felt I should be doing something in the war effort, and besides I could use the money very conveniently because of reduced income.

"So I sought employment in a war industry near my home. I am a pretty good mechanic and hoped to get a chance to operate a machine, so I went to work as a helper.

"On an eight-hour shift, I could manage to keep doing something for an hour and a half. Then there was absolutely nothing for a few hours; then about twenty minutes of honest work that I had to try and make last the rest of the turn.

"Everybody in the shop was killing time the same way. I stood it as long as I could and quit."

In a few months our American troops, forming a majority of Allied Nations forces, will launch the crucial assault upon Hitler's fortified Europe.

Of course, we expect these invasions will succeed. Competent military authorities warn us, however, the price will be high in lives. Many thousands will be wounded. Who will pay this price? Will it be your son or perhaps his buddy? Think it over.

The war manpower commission has bluntly told Muskegon that additional labor is not needed there; that the production job could be accomplished by workers who are already on payrolls; that landing boat parts are urgently needed—today!

In the failure of labor and management to do their duty under our present voluntary system that we sentimentaly call "private initiative", the "American system" and "free labor", labor and management are recklessly sowing the seeds of fascism.

Men in the military services—and there are millions of them, remember—will not forget this treason at the hour of national crisis. Surely, today's greed is going to be costly tomorrow. Here is a field awaiting the demagague, an invitation to iron dictatorship itself.

The moral in the Michigan newspaper's courageous appraisal is clear. American labor and management must not put private profit ahead of the lives of our American sons and fathers. If they fail to do their duty today, they will inevitably lose their freedom tomorrow!

A President is Born

HE is so small and helpless. So dependent on you for his life and well-being. And yet you are able to look at him and say—

"Someday he may be President."

Put it down as foolish sentiment. Put it down as parental pride. But where else in the world could you envision for your child the possibility of his attaining, one day, the highest office in the land?

Maybe your child won't make it. But one child, very much like him, will. One child out of the three million babies born this year—or the next—or the year after.

Whether or not he attains this high position is not so important. What matters is that here, in America, he is born with that opportunity. He is born in the stubborn tradition of free men—men who felt that in government, the wisdom of the many is preferable to the ambition of the few. He is born in a tradition of self-reliance—where he may succeed or fail, win or lose, rise or fall, according to his own efforts.

Because of that, you will train him to think for himself, to fight his own battles, to make his own way.

You will teach him that responsibility is inseparable from freedom. And that if he joins with other men in an enterprise he should demand the same responsibility and freedom for his business that marks his birthright as an individual.

Someday he may hear, as you have heard, voices that say, "Surrender your opportunity for the certainty that you shall always have bread"—as if man lived by bread alone. As if the country were better served by limiting all to mediocrity—instead of assuring to all, under law, an equal chance to rise by their own efforts, conscious of their obligations to others.

What that son of yours learns at your knee will decide whether or not he will ever have to bend his knee before dictation and tyranny.

And because of what you teach him, he too may one day look with that same foolish pride on his own son to say, "Someday he may be President—"

MATTER OF AFFORDING

"I bought a lot of—bonds already. I can't afford to buy more in the Fourth War Loan."

A fellow told this to us. Maybe you heard similar statements.

Tell your friends who say they can't afford to buy a bond, that they can't afford not to. If we fail to buy victory, we will have German and Japanese troops in Washington, maybe even in Charlevoix.

You've heard the atrocity stories. The atrocities can happen here. But aside from that, what would conquest cost you in dollars and cents? The wealth of America would be grabbed. We would pay through the nose, and we know it.

High interest bearing war bonds provide for our future. What future can we expect if we fail to pay the price of victory?

PRESIDENT'S PARTY REPORTED A SUCCESS

Singers Sponsored Annual Event Saturday at The Argonne

Saturday night's President's Birthday party at The Argonne was successful, reports Dean Davenport, chairman of the event.

Sponsored by Charlevoix Chapter No. 19, SPEBSQSA, the party cleared $01 for a substantial contribution to the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Riley's orchestra furnished music for dancing. Musical numbers were presented by the SPEBSQSA chapter's men's chorus, Charlevoices Trio, Donna and Doris Ouderkirk, and the audience joined in several songs. A "magic" act by Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Ross proved highly entertaining.

ROBERT ADDISON NEW COMMERCIAL TEACHER

Miss Nellie Smith Resigns; Will Enter Branch of Service

Following resignation of Miss Nellie Smith as Charlevoix high school commercial teacher, the board of education has secured Robert Addison, of Chicago, as commercial instructor.

Miss Smith plans to enter some branch of the armed services in the near future.

Mr. Addison, whose home is in Marshall, Minn., has taught in South Dakota, Ohio, Kentucky, and Chicago Business College. For the past two years he has been employed in a Chicago war production plant. His wife, who is in Des Moines, Iowa, recovering from illness, it expected to arrive soon.

Bellinger, Rayder captain, topped his own scoring record with 19 points, sinking 7 field goals and all but one of 6 free throws. Chambers made 6, Belfy 4, Plum 3. Weaver made 7 points for East Jordan, Bennett and Perry 4 each, Ager and Carr 2 each, Seiler 1.

In the preliminary, local reserves took a 32 to 18 victory over the visitor's second team.

Three games are on the Rayder schedule for next week, all played away from home. They meet Petoskey, Friday night on the Northmen's court. A return game with Pellston will be played at the Pellston gym Tuesday night, and next Friday the locals meet Grayling.

Next to getting a free meal, the prospect of getting into a group picture will bring out the largest number of people.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD SERIES ADVANTAGE

Take Fourth Victory Monday in Winter Cribbage Contest

Odd Fellows scored their fourth cribbage win Monday night in the fifth game of their winter series with the Masons, played at the Masonic temple.

Making 10,974 points to the Mason's 10,841, the Odd Fellows now have a series score of 52,791. The Masons, with a total score of 51,882, trail by 909 points.

W. A. Cline turned in a card of 952 for high Odd Fellow score. Leading the Masons was Erwin Belfy, Sr., with 955. Six tables were in play.

Next Monday night's game is at the Odd Fellow hall.

GUESTS ENTERTAINED BY KIWANIS TUESDAY

Story of Four Years in China Was Told by Rev. J. O. Wells

Members of the Kiwanis Club and their guests heard an interesting talk by Rev. J. O. Wells, pastor of the Petoskey Baptist church, at their guest night dinner, Tuesday.

Rev. Wells and his wife and child returned to America on the S. S. "Gripsholm" in December, after four years in China. During the last 21 months of their stay, they were interned by the Japanese.

Thirty-seven Kiwanis members and guests were present at the meeting.

I'd also like to thank Coleman for the letter he hasn't written. Below is a letter from Staff Sgt. Bob Heise, written to his father, Paul Heise. Bob went to Australia in April, 1942, and was recently transferred to India.

Dear Murph,

I received your letter yesterday and was sure glad to hear from you. I was getting worried, I hadn't heard in so long.

I got a letter from LaVerne the other day, with a picture of him and the baby. My God, how kids grow. It sure doesn't seem that I've been away that long, although at times I do get a little homesick.

I was talking to a few boys who just joined us, fresh from the States not so long ago, and according to them I guess we'll all be a lot happier if we stay over here until after the war. They said the States wasn't like it used to be two years ago. From what they told me, the people were making too much money and are getting so they don't even act human. If that's the case, I think I'll be content to stay over here for the duration. I wouldn't want to see it in that condition. I think a few bombs scattered around that area might do these kind of people some good—or to get a look at a few Yanks with their guts hanging out or their head blown off—or maybe even eat a meal next to a body loaded with maggots. Oops, sory, Murph. I seem to be getting a little radical, don't I? It must be the weather that makes me that way. It was beastly hot today.

I'm going to write Bud a letter when I finish this. He's owed me one for a year, but I guess the navy keeps him pretty busy, so I won't condemn him too much.

Take care of yourself, Murph.
Bob.

Dear Ken:

I have intended for some time to write you how much I have appreciated receiving the Courier. It has been a very bright spot in each week to look forward to, however, I haven't received one for three weeks and thought possibly my name got misplaced on your list. Keep them coming, Ken, as I really enjoy them.

I finished my basic a month ago and we are going thru the furlough period at present. As only a small percent can be absent on furlough at a time, it will be a lengthy process. Mine is due 5 Feb. 44, and as Jean is here with me, we are going to Florida. After furloughs are over, and about 6 weeks' maneuvers, the 63rd should be ready to ship to wherever we are scheduled. An interesting part of an army camp are the rumors that fly around. We call them "Latrine-o-grams", and so far we have been scheduled for every battle area from Burma to Italy, so I can't enlighten you much as to where I'll eventually settle.

This camp is situated 150 miles from New Orleans, north, and the two closest cities are Baton Rouge, La., and Natchez, Miss., both about 50 miles. This week has been very warm days; today the temp was 90 around noon, but I'd like to see some good old snow. I'm sure I'll never be caught south of the Mason-Dixon line when this is all over. However, Jean and I are having a lot of fun and I get home about every night.

There are a lot of boys here from Michigan, but I don't know of any from Charlevoix, at least there are none in the 253rd. If you know of any in the 63rd, let me know who and where they are located.

Tomorrow comes pretty early for me, so will close with a reminder to keep the Courier coming.

Thanks!

Dear Ken,

I see no mistakes in the other fellows' spelling, so will take the chance that you will fix this one up too, and write you a few lines.

I have noticed the coach's kids aren't doing so well this year. But do think he could have a few more Careys to pick from. Has he been getting his share of fox, and does he still take "Irish" along to dig his car out for him?

I sure wish I could have been there and missed my deer with you. I sure would enjoy a steak off the one Dad got. There isn't anything we miss or talk about more than our hunting.

I haven't changed addresses or anything else, just thought I would let you know I am still alive and hope this navy sees fit to give me a few days leaves pretty soon, so I can see you all again.

I have seen quite a few of the kids from home and had a good talk with them. Tried to get to see Warren Duplessis, but he had transferred when I got there.

Well, Ken, keep the lake open the rest of the winter and have a hole for me to take a swim in if I ever do get back. By the way, did the "capper" get a buck this fall?

'Till you can draw more ration cards, I hope yours holds out.

As ever,
Bergie.

Dear Ken,

I have been thinking of writing you ever since the time that Milton Block's truck took its swim in my swimming hole. I was wondering if he was jealous. If he wants any lessons on how to wash a truck, just have him call on me. I don't think I will be able to wash my Dad's car the next time I come home on furlough, because Round lake should be frozen over.

We are having nice spring weather now. About two weeks ago, we had a nice snow storm. I crawled out of the barracks one morning to find about one inch of snow. The next morning we had six inches. It stayed for about two days and then it melted all in one day. The Texans seem to be afraid of the snow, because they canceled the bus and taxi service. I was wondering what would happen of the people in our little city would stop everything when we had six inches of snow.

I have received a letter from Frank Krchak, in California. The way he talks, he is enjoying the army. He is stationed near San Francisco and he drives the mail truck.

I got last week's Courier today (Sunday). I was reading where the Rayders have taken their first ball game. They sure are having tough luck. I hope they can come out on top during the tournament. We have a battalion basketball team and as yet we haven't lost a game. We have only played two games and both of them were close. The first game was 30-32 with two overtime periods. The second game was 27-20. We played two other battalions here in Camp Hood.

I can't seem to think of anything else to write, so I'll bring this letter to a close. I want to thank all of the people who make it possible for me to receive the Courier. It sure keeps a fellow posted on the events of his home town.

Here's hoping to see you next month.

Dear Ken,

Just a line to tell you I have a change in address and would like for you to send the Courier, as it sure is good to get the home town newspaper down here.

Tell all my friends in Charlevoix "hello", as I probably won't have a chance to get home for a long time yet.

I want to thank you for the paper and, hoping it keeps coming, I will close.

Sincerely,

Dear Ken,

Just a line to thank you all for the Courier and give you my new address.

I met Lewis Brown about three days ago. Boy, was I glad to meet someone from home. We had a long talk. He told me where Calvin Plum was, but Calvin had left before I got to see him.

Jim Annis is over here some place, but haven't seen him as yet.

It is getting too dark to write, so will close, hoping we'll all be together soon.

As ever,

Harold Holm

Dear Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know my new APO number. I guess that I should write a long letter, but when I start I can't think of anything to write about. I received the paper of December 1 today, and was sure glad to get it because all the letter I have received were written in December.

—I am in Great Britain and the people over here treat us very nice. We had a very nice Christmas and New Year's day dinner. When we get through drinking what beer they will sell us, we go and get some fish and chips and they are very good.

I guess that I will close for now.

Yours truly,
Cpl. Lyle W. Ross.

Dear Ken,

A few lines to let you know my new address for the time being. As you know by now, I am going to piloting school here at Bar Harbor, Maine.

It sure is beautiful scenery up here, and we also have a little snow, although it isn't very much at present.

Gosh! We fellows sure were tired when we got here. We were on the train all night with no sleep. I get to eat with the navy boys here. They are a bunch of nice boys, too. There are about 35 men in one big house here. Some of the crash boat men are taking up engineering, some piloting, and a few celestial navigation. I am now taking piloting. Today was the first day and they gave us a few numbers to add, multiply, divide and subtract, then they had us tie different knots.

How is the old Charlevoix Power Squadron class coming along? I hope you have a lot of new members in the squadron now. How is Bill Bellinger coming along with his new boat? I suppose he has plenty of time to work on her these days.

I will be back at Langley Field, Va., in 30 days or so. And I will tell you that I'll be mighty glad to get back there, as I do not think I could have picked a better spot if I tried.

How is the snow and ice up in Charlevoix these wintry days? I suppose you have plenty of it up there now.

Thanks for the paper, and tell the boys in the service I send best of luck to them all.

Your Pal,
Pfc. Charles Krulik

LUCILLE GALLAGHER, LLOYD BARNETT WED IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Miss Lucille Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gallagher of this city, became the bride of Lloyd Barnett, motor machinist second class, U. S. coast guard, in a ceremony performed at seven o'clock Saturday evening, January 29, at the Church of God.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barnett, of Waukegan, Ill., and is stationed at the local coast guard station.

Rev. W. D. Wood officiated at the ceremony, in which the couple were attended by Miss Ilena Zeitler and Charles Williams, motor machinist second class, also stationed with the local coast guard unit. Fifty friends and relatives were present. Miss Ernestine Chew, pianist, played the wedding march and accompanied Charles Tingley, coast guardsman, who sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride chose a simply made gown of light blue silk, with short sleeves and street-length pleated skirt. With this she wore brown accessories and a corsage of red roses. Miss Zeitler wore a dress of darker blue, with brown accessories and pink rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception for fifty guests was given at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lon Hewitt, on West Lincoln avenue. Refreshments were served from a table which was centered with a beautifully decorated wedding cake.

The couple are making their home in this city, at 310 West Lincoln avenue.

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS ALLARD TO MARK 53RD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allard, residents of Charlevoix for more than a half century, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary on Friday, February 4.

While they plan no special observance of the day, the Allards will have many recollections of their long residence in this city.

Mr. Allard was born on Fox Island, and came here about 1887. Mrs. Allard, who before her marriage was Pauline Cheney, was born in Bracebridge, Ontario, Canada, and came here at the age of 16. When they were married in the winter of 1891, there was no Catholic church in Charlevoix, so they went to Petoskey to be married by Fr. Norbert in St. Francis church. As there was no railroad, the trip was made with a team of horses and sleigh.

The Allards have one son, Lee, of this city; one granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Herington, of Detroit; two great-grandchildren, Robert and Michael Herington.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Leo Powers entertained her bridge club Monday evening at her residence on Clinton street. Prizes were awarded to Miss Clarabelle Curtis and Mrs. Keith Wagner. Other guests were Mrs. Clayton Brown, Mrs. Maurice Dixon, Miss Pearl Erickson, Mrs. Fay Johnson, Mrs. Glenn Rose. Late in the evening, refreshments were served by the hostess.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Ernest Howe submitted to a major operation Monday.

Sharon Moore, daughter of Walter Moore, of East Jordan, was admitted Thursday for medical treatment.

Lawana Noonan underwent a minor operation Saturday.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF COUNTY PASSES

Mrs. Eliza Dixon Succumbed in East Jordan at Age of 90

Mrs. Eliza Dixon, who died last Thursday at the home of her son, Henry, of East Jordan, following a brief illness, was a pioneer of this county. She was 90 years of age.

Born at Perry Sound, Ontario, Canada, on September 25, 1853, Eliza Hopps was united in marriage to Henry Dixon at Perry Sound in 1871. In 1874 they came to Charlevoix county, making their home in Marion township for many years. Shortly after the death of Mr. Dixon in August, 1915, she went to Detroit to make her home. For the past two years she had resided in East Jordan with her son. She was a devout member of the Pilgrim Holiness church.

Surviving are three sons, Henry, of East Jordan, Thomas and William, of Detroit; seven daughters, Mary Hulch, of Charlevoix, Ethel Harrison and Eva Welch, of Detroit, Eleanor Williams, of Canada, Lillian Olsen, of Washington, Mabel Wilson, of Nashville, Tenn., and Lottie Williams, of Ironton. Another son, Gunson, died in March, 1929. Also surviving are 55 grandchildren, 84 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren, and a brother, John Hopps, of Canada.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church in East Jordan, conducted by Rev. Ellsworth Swanson, of Ellsworth. Interment was at Brookside cemetery in Charlevoix.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and sympathy extended to us during the illness and at the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Eliza Dixon. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dixon, Jr., and family.—Adv. 5t1.

Kentucky Rifle Still Gets Deer

Reminiscent of Michigan's early hunters and settlers is sportsman Les Fitzgerald of Pontiac who gets his buck with a long Kentucky rifle. Fitzgerald, dressed in authentic buckskin hunting clothes, has shot a deer with this heavy-caliber flint-lock rifle for the last three seasons. Ammunition for this type gun, which has not been in general use since pioneer days, is a 32 caliber, ¼ oz. ball that is wrapped in a canvas patch and forced down the barrel with a wooden ramrod. It is accurate up to 100 yards in the hands of a marksman like Fitzgerald.

4-H Club Leaders Hold Training Meeting

The annual 4-H Club leaders' training meeting was held in the dining room of the Charlevoix high school last week Wednesday with a good attendance of club leaders and club friends. Miss Lois Corbett, assistant state club leader, outlined the club projects to those interested in girls' activities, while K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club leader, met with the leaders interested in boys' activities.

Mrs. Anna Warner, county junior Red Cross supervisor, gave a splendid talk to the leaders relative to the Red Cross program. It was enlightening to learn that all schools in the county are doing Red Cross work except three, and they are now being organized.

With war conditions prevailing, the 4-H club activities are largely geared up to meet these needs. The requirements for successful completion of projects have been somewhat changed due to the difficulty of buying materials. However, the 4-H club folks are cooperating nicely and we expect some wonderful exhibits when the spring achievement day takes place in Charlevoix on April 28.

Conservation Department District Meeting February 9

Plans have been perfected for a district meeting of county agricultural agents, conservation officers, state forest supervisors and county area managers in the northern part of the lower peninsula. This meeting, with an estimated attendance of 25, will be held in the Dilworth Hotel, at Boyne City, on Wednesday, February 9.

Representatives of the state department of conservation and Michigan State College are leading the discussion. Policies relative to the use of state lands will be discussed. More and more, the proper handling of state lands is of vital concern. Problems of postwar planning will receive attention. The meeting will be an all-day affair with dinner served at the hotel.

Iodine for Goiter

Michigan is in the iodine-deficient region, although not all drinking water is deficient. If goiter or big neck is experienced in sheep or cattle, or hairlessness in pigs, the pregnant females should receive iodine at least the last half of pregnancy. One ounce of potassium iodide crystals purchased from the druggist should be mixed with 300 pounds of salt. For sows, it is better to mix one ounce of potassium iodide with one quart of water. Give a tablespoonful of the solution in the feed once a week.

Get Tools in Shape

It is not too early to start getting the spring tillage tools in shape. Check up on the plow shares and other repairs which may be needed. If shop work is needed on the spike-tooth and the spring-tooth harrows, get them to the repair man as soon as possible. Labor and repair materials are still scarce, and the shop manager needs all possible assistance.

Do not delay the tractor checkup. If overhauling is going to be needed, make arrangements as soon as possible. All shops must be kept busy all winter if our tractors are to be ready for the hard season ahead in 1944.

Order Your Spray Materials

The supply of most of the fungicides and insecticides for using to control diseases and insects on fruits is reported to be adequate for 1944. Labor shortage, containers, and transportation may limit the supply of these materials in some sections, if orders are delayed until the materials are needed next summer.

This is the industry's advice to growers, presented in the Agricultural Insecticide and Fungicide Association News December 1943:

1. Decide early on your minimum needs.
2. Consult early with your local dealer, your distributor, or your source of supply, so that he will be ready with the materials.
3. Get your order in early.
4. Give your supplier all possible leeway on when, and in what sort of containers, he will deliver.

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD people say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself . . . without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

Yet it is ridiculous, when you think about it. Because today, with national income at an all-time record high . . . with people making more money than ever before . . . with less and less of things to spend money for . . . practically every one of us has extra dollars in his pocket.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond . . . above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources and check your expenditures, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200 . . . or $300 . . . or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either . . . yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds . . . the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

Marching Through Mud on Bougainville

Heavily laden marine infantrymen slosh through deep mud of a jungle trail as they near the battle front. Continued American attacks on Japanese positions in the Pacific are steadily lengthening our striking power from the air. As the battle continued on Bougainville, American troops battled toward Buin, which is considered a vital Japanese base.

the imagination. Here is a lone man who has conducted experiments with his own small funds and now comes up with a report of results which, if confirmed, will make the farming practices of the last century seem like the work of men intent on self-destruction. "This book," says the author, "sets out to show that the moldboard plow is the least satisfactory implement for the production of crops. The fact is that no one ever advanced a scientific reason for plowing." The soil should not be deeply turned, he says. Nature struggles to keep the top soil rich. The perfect soil economy is seen in the forest floor and the natural meadow. Of machinery presently available for preparing land for planting, the disk harrow is the best. By incorporating green manures into the surface with the harrow, Faulkner has transformed ordinary, even inferior soils, into extremely productive, high-yield crop lands. Faulkner unfolds his discovery in 161 pages of lucid text, a masterpiece of condensation. He offers a reasonable theory to explain his claims and miracles. He foresees not only higher yields from all land—good and bad—but conservation and enrichment of all our land, the end of soil erosion, and perhaps the conquest of weeds and pests. He predicts that commercial fertilizer will no longer be needed nor will drain tile, nor lime. Larger crops will be grown with less effort and will be richer in vitamins and minerals. If all this sounds crazy, get the book and be astonished. The publisher is the University of Oklahoma Press, Norman, Oklahoma, and the price $2.

Santa Claus is the only one who can run around with a bag all night and not get talked about.

Nobody's catching any perch, and there aren't no smelt, but Bill "Jock" Gibson and Pete Scott took ten of the nicest whitefish I ever gazed upon from Lake Charlevoix, Monday morning. They were a trifle over two hours getting this haul weighing over 24 pounds through the ice off the Belvedere swimming pier and it was the largest day's catch I've heard of in some time.

There was no little bit of excitement down around the Foater Boat Co., Tuesday afternoon when a black bear was discovered crossing Lake Charlevoix on the ice midway between the west shore and Loeb Point. According to witnesses watching with glasses, bruin was making tough going on the slippery surface and was thought to have broken through the light ice several times. According to reports, the bear went ashore somewhere near the Newman place on the south shore. Where it came from, nobody seemed to know. That it was the first bear seen in this vicinity in quite some years is no guess.

Christmas in Australia is comparable to Fourth of July in Charlevoix, but Lewis Brown, yeoman second class, U. S. navy, had one tangible reminder of an American Christmas this year. In his Christmas box, his sister, Mrs. Frank Courier, sent a little Santa Claus figure which Lewis had given her 20 years ago—we'd guess it was his first Christmas gift to her. As a traditional holiday decoration at the Courier home, the figure carried a spirit of Christmas which few articles could transmit over such a distance. This week, the little Santa Claus returned from Australia after a trip covering at least 18,000 miles and lasting 10 weeks—a long jaunt for such a little fellow.

FARMERS ARE WARNED NOT TO BUILD FIRES

Winter Brush Burning Dangerous, Difficult to Control

Because the lack of snow and rainfall this winter has made it possible for farmers to burn brush in agricultural areas, ordinarily an impossibility in Michigan in the middle of winter, conservation department men are warning against this practice.

Damage can be done to land that is apparent waste land, game men point out, because it burns over potential nesting areas and game cover as well as destroying winter food for pheasants.

These winter fires also are dangerous because they present a problem in fire fighting. The grass is so dry flames spread rapidly over a large area and are difficult to control. Regular methods of fighting fire cannot be used because the frost line is too deep for the ground to be dug or plowed, there is lack of labor for beating out the blaze and water freezes before it puts out the fire, conservation fire fighting experts point out.

TIN CAN SALVAGE NOT SATISFACTORY

Housewives Asked to Phone 37 to Have Cans Picked Up

Collection of tin cans in the city has not been satisfactory in recent months, states Robert C. Emrey, city salvage chairman.

Appealing to local housewives to make an intensive effort to salvage cans, Mr. Emrey asks that anyone having prepared cans should phone 37 to request that the cans be picked up. Shipments of salvaged cans have been leaving the city at regular intervals.

When prepared for salvage, cans should be washed to remove all food particles, ends removed and placed inside the can, which is then thoroughly flattened both for ease in packing for shipment, and to reduce danger of rust which would make the can unfit for salvage.

FOSTER BOATS SEEN IN DISTANT PORTS

Warrent Officer Robert Fochtman Stationed in Pacific Area

The following letter from Warrant Officer Robert C. Fochtman with the army air forces somewhere in the south Pacific, was received by his uncle, Clair S. Webster:

Hi, CS,

This report is a long time overdue, having received two letters from you and not having had time to answer either one of them. I have a little news this time, but not very much. Note the new APO number, 'cause I done moved again. This time I was really involved in the moving because I had a whole department to move. We really worked for a couple of weeks packing the stuff so it would stand shipment and most of it came through o. k.

I saw about a dozen of those Foster Boat Co. taxi jobs you are building, and a couple of the other ones, just a few days ago. They are being used for many things besides the purpose for which they were designed. They look pretty nice, and getting in one of them and reading the nameplate was just like a letter from home. Sorry, I can't tell you where I saw them.

I haven't had any mail of any kind for quite some time now, due to the move, but I suppose it will all be catching up with me one of these days and then I will have a lot of letters to answer. All we live for over here is mail and news regarding the new bill in Congress concerning troops overseas for two years or more. You know, I will have completed my two years the 17th of February, and am getting plenty tired of the south sea islands. They all look alike after the first two or three. It would be nice to come out here on a pleasure cruise with nice quarters aboard a luxury liner, with lots of ice cold drinks and a little feminine company and I could really enjoy the tropical moon. Right now a full moon is the most dreaded thing that can happen. Dark, cloudy nights are the favorites. The only other things that really bother are the hot sun, and I do mean hot, and the daily rain. The flies could be worse, but they are only a minor bother.

We listen to all of the news reports we can, and I sure like the way things are going over on the other side of the world. If they keep that up for a few months longer they should have that war licked. I don't know much about this war over here, being right in the middle of it I don't get the facts as often. Sometimes I think that the folks back home know more about what is going on over here than the men do who are right on the spot. All we know is just what is happening right in our own area.

You mentioned in one of your letters that you were sending me a knife and some leather to make a sheath. No sign of them yet, but I suppose they will catch up with me one of these days. I just finished making a nice shive out of stainless steel and it really was a honey. I traded it off to another officer for a quart of Scotch, and in turn I will trade that for something I want. Over here it is mostly a trading problem because money has no value. Some of the stuff is so hard to get that trading is the only way to get it.

That's all for this time.

Bob.

UNENDORSED COUPONS INVALID FEBRUARY 2

Tuesday Final Day of Acceptance by Gasoline Dealers

Warning that February 1 has been set by the Saginaw district office of price administration as the final date for acceptance of unendorsed gasoline ration coupons by banks from service stations or distributors was served this week by Edward C. McRae, chief enforcement attorney for the district.

In making the announcement, McRae declared, "It must be recognized that coupon endorsement has become extremely valuable in combating gasoline black markets and in tracing stolen and counterfeit coupons. The endorsement also has proved to be one of the most effective deterrents to the transfer of over-issued, stolen, or counterfeit coupons."

MARINE TANKS WON AT TARAWA

Pfc. Duplessis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duplessis, attended Charlevoix high school and was graduated in 1939. He participated in several sports and distinguished himself on the school's track team. He enlisted in the marines in July, 1941, and went overseas in July, 1942.

First admitted to a naval hospital in the Pacific, from which this story was relayed, Pfc. Duplessis is now at the naval hospital in Oakland, Calif. The Purple Heart medal has been awarded to him for his wounds received in the action at Tarawa.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.

ASK SPORTSMEN TO CHECK GUN PERMITS

Many Unnecessary Applications Received in Lansing

Look over your old gun permit to make sure it isn't a permanent one before sending in for a renewal, is the advice being given by the field administration division of the conservation department to farmers and hunters who want to shoot predators or do target practicing during the closed season.

Many applications are being received in Lansing for renewal of gun permits from men who apparently do not realize that they no longer need to send for renewals.

Gun permits issued for the first time or renewed within the last two years are permanent and do not need to be renewed annually as was the case prior to 1942 when the new regulations went into effect, the conservation department points out.

WEIGHT AND GAS TAX REFUNDS TO COUNTIES

Charlevoix County Gets Share of Regular Allocation

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler last week submitted vouchers to the auditor general for return of $1,565,016.00 in weight and gasoline tax revenues to Michigan counties.

Current returns include the 4th quarter allotment of 1943 revenues from the weight tax, and second half payment of the annual appropriation to the counties of gasoline tax revenues. The gas tax refund totals $1,275,000.

CHANGE SCHEDULE MAIL DELIVERIES

TWO CARRIERS WILL SERVE ENTIRE CITY

Post Office Department Requires Only One Delivery Daily in Residential Districts

A change in mail delivery schedules in Charlevoix will he necessitnted by reduction of the post office force, announces Postmaster J. M. Foster.

Induction of Dan W. Goaelt, city carrier, into the armed forces will reduce the city delivery staff to two men, Ray Ashdon and Walker Miles. Effective next Monday, February 14, only one delivery a day will be made in the residential districts.

Since tho beginning of the war and the resultant manpower shortage, it has been the policy of the post office department to curtail mail delivery in those cities where city carriers are inducted into service. Tho department will not nuthorize filling of vacancies caused by induction unless tho remaining carriers cannot maintain adequate service. According to the department ruling, adequnte service requires not more than ono daily delivery in residential areas.

Carriers Ashdon and Miles will begin deliveries Mondny on the following schedules:

Ashdon—Business district, comprising Bridge street from Antrim street to the bridge, 9:30 a. m. and 3:00 p. m. Clinton and Antrim streets, 10:30 a. m. East Hurlhut and Belvedere avenues, 1:30 p. m. Park avenue, Clinton nd Palmer streets, 3:45 p. m.

Miles—South hill, east of State street, 9:30 a. m. South hill, west of Stnte street, 1:30 p. m. North Side, 3:15 p. m.

Mnny persons lt is realized, will be inconvenienced by this new schedule. However, Charlevoix is fortunate to have had two daily deliveries until now, as lnrger cities such as Detroit and Chicago instituted one-delivery service for residential sections some time ago.

RAILROADS REPORT ON HEAVY 1943 TRAFFIC

Freight and Passengar Volume Greatest In History

Although United States railroads in 1943 hauled the greatest volumo of freight and passenger traffic in their history, alrendy they expect to exceed that mark in 1944, the Michigan Railroads Associatiun reports.

Freight traffic of the lines last yenr was 725 billion ton-miles, ar 14 per cent nbovo that in 1942, the previous record year. This figure is more than double the haul ln 1039. Estimates are that tho freight haul in 1944 will be oven greater than last year's.

Passenger traffic in 1943 was by far the greatest in railroad history, amounting to 85 billion passenger miles, or 68 per cent over 1942, twice that of 1018 and four times that of 1939. One factor la the increase was the heavy movement of servicc men, in organized groups or as individuals on furlough, and of prisoners of war.

TWELVE DRAFTEES WILL ENTER NAVY

THIRTEEN MEN QUALIFIED AT DETROIT STATION

First County Contingent Taken Under New Pre-Induction Examination Plan

Thirteen Charlevoix cuunty men passed pre-lnductiun physical examinations at Detroit on Monday, January 31.

This group was thu first from this county to be qualified for service under the new draft plan. Men are not now inducted at the time of examination, hut after passing examinotions they remnln under jurisdiction of their local draft board until cnlled for army service. It is understood the period between exnmination and induction will vary from 21 to 90 dnys, and that some of those passing examinations may still appeal their induction.

All but one of the county group will enter tho navy. Those accepted were:

Charlevoix—Clifford G. Riley, Daniel E. Gillespie, Franklin H. Mnscho, Orvil W. Davis, Clifford W. Mayhew, navy.

Boyne City—Richurd B. Erno, army; George W. Everest, Edwnrd O. Miller, Cecil E. Kirby, navy.

East Jordan—Roscoe V. Barber, Archie E. Derenzy, navy.

Boyne Falls—Andrew Jarema, Edward J. Surko, navy.

Another contingent was sent to Detroit last Wednesday for preinduction examinations. No report has been received by the dlrnft board as to the number of men who were accepted for service from that grnup.

NO SMELT RUNS ARE EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Species May Become Abundant by 1945, Say Conservation Men

With smelt present only in Crystal lake near Beulah in Benzie county, no smelt runs are anticipated this year, according to Fred A. Westerman, chief of the conservation department's fish division.

Although ice fishermen are catching one or two pounds a week nt Escanaba, they are getting none at all in Lake Charlevoix where the fish were so plentiful until last year.

If juvenile fish were not affected by the plague which caused the death of adult smelt and prevented the run last spring for the first time in ten years, it is possible for the species to become abundnnt again by the spring of 1945. If the young fish were also killed, however, it will take a much longer period to build up the species to its former proportions, fish authorities state.

TWO SPEAKERS ON KIWANIS PROGRAM

Glenn Ingalls, Lt. Col. Cooper Describe Northern Lands

Kiwanis members turned out 100 per cent Tuesday night to hear two speakers, both recently returned from lands of the far north.

Glenn Ingalls had many incidents to relate of his seven months in Greenlnnd, where he was employed on government construction projects by the McWilliams Dredging Co., of Superior, Wis.

An interesting talk on his three years in Newfoundland nnd Labrador was given by Lt. Col. Airel B. Cooper, army signal corps. Visiting this week nt his home in Charlevoix, Lt. Col. Cooper is to be assigned to the personal staff of Lt. Gn. McNair, commander nf the army ground forces, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

PASSENGER CAR TIRE SUPPLY IS DEPLETED

Grade I Tires Will Be Granted for Essential Driving Only

Serious depletion of the supply of used passenger car tires available for rationing to low-mileage drivers, coupled with inadequate stocks of Grnde 1 tires, has caused a change in tire rationing procedure.

Effective February 1, the purpose for which a person drives his automobile, rather than the distance he drives it in n given month, will determine his eligibility for passenger car tires.

As in the past, Grade III tires (used tires nr those made nf reclaimed rubber) will go to motorists whose driviag is less essentinl. Drivers not eligible for tires of any sort must cnntinue to rely on recnpping to meet their tire needs.

ISLAND CONTRIBUTES TO PARALYSIS FUND

Will Give Complete Report on Campaign in County

Beaver Island's 300 residents contributed $62.25 to the nationnl infantile paralysis fund, reports Dean Davenport, county chairman of the campaign.

Vernon H. Lafreniere was chairman of the island drive. It wns pointed out by Mr. Davenport that the islander's contribution was more than that raised in Charlevoix.

A complete report of funds raised in the county will be given soon.

CITY OVER TOP IN BOND DRIVE

WAR LOAN QUOTA REACHED WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Blue Star Mothers Will Continue Canvass Until February 15; County Goal Distant

Even though Charlevoix has gone well over the top in the Fourth War Loan, Blue Star Mothers will continue to sell bonds until the drive is officially closed February 15.

Latest report from Robert Bridge, bank chairman for the city and county, gives a total of $128,483 in bond purchases in the city. This represents sales of $96,150 to individuals, and $32,333 purchased by corporatins.

Charlevoix is now more than $11,000 past the quotn of $117,200 assigned this city. That figure, it is revealed, was reached twn weeks after the Blue Star Mothers lnunched their campaign on January 27.

Boyne City and East Jordan, with quotas equal to Chnrlevoix, both report bond sales of approximately $70,000. About $83,000 worth of bonds must be sold before the county quota of $352,000 is reached.

A report from the U. S. treasury war finance committee for Michigan shows that Charlevoix county has sdld the highest percentage of "E" bonds in zone three, comprising 35 counties. To date, a total of $137,000, or 88 per cent of the county's $156,000 "E" hond goal, has been sold.

SCOUT ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED THIS WEEK

Local Troop Represented Tuesday at Petoskey Court of Honor

Boy Scouts of the Scenic Trails Council, of which the Charlevoix troop is a member, started their celebration of the 34th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America on Tuesday.

Charlevoix scouts with their scoutmaster, E. D. Hnwley, attended n court of honor held in Petoskey on Tuesday evening to open the anniversary week. Those representing this city were Nick Hamilton, who received his first class award, also Warren Shndko, Bill Blissett, Norman Bartlett, Jim Niewnndor and Glenn Cook. Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, and son, Sam, also attended.

Throughout the nation, rndio programs this week will congratulate the Scouts on reaching their anniversary with a membership of over 1,000,000.

RATION POINTS LOWER BECAUSE OF GARDENS

More Home Grown Food Required This Year, Warning

Removal or reduction of ration points on severnl important items of canned food should not be taken to mean that the vegetahle crop situation is such as to permit n curtailment in the 1944 victory garden program.

Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, said it was the total production of 1943 victory gardens which made possible nn inerense in the allowances of staple foods sold from grocers' shelves. Unless even more home grown foods are produced this year, he added, it will be necessary to increnso ration points during the spring, summer and fall.

HOME NURSING CLASS TO ORGANIZE MONDAY

Mrs. D. C. Nettleton, R. N., Is Instructor for Course

Red Cross home nursing classes will be organized next Monday night, February 14, announces Mrs. A. W. Goddard, home nursing director for Charlevoix.

Those interested in taking the course will meet at the club room in the city hall basement at 7:30 Monday evening. Mrs. D. C. Nettleton, R. N., who is to instruct the classes, will preside at the organization meeting.

BOYNE CITY MAN IS VICTIM OF ASSAULT

County Authorities Investigate Fatal Attack by Son

Dwight Herrick, 66, Boyne City jeweler, was fatally beaten last Thursday morning by his son, Theodore. Tho nttack occurred nbout six o'clock. Admitted to Lockwood General hospital in Petoskey soon after the nssault, Mr. Herrick died Friday night without regaining consciousness.

Released from the Traverse City state hospitnl two years ago, the son had been employed in Detroit until just a few days before his nttnck on his father. Sheriff Floyd Ikens took young Herrick in custody, and pending further investigntion by county authorities, he has been returned to the Traverse City Institutlon.

Mr. Herrick is survived by his wife; the son, Theodore; two hrothers, Rny L. Herrick, of Petoskey, and L. W. Herrick, of Sanger, Calif.; and n sister, Miss Carrie Herrick, of Petoskey. Funernl services were held Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian church in Boyne City.

VETERANS GIVEN MUSTER OUT PAY

ALLOWANCE DETERMINED BY LENGTH OF SERVICE

Servicemen Honorably Discharged Since December 6, 1941, Are Eligible for Bonus

Discharged war veterans will probably begin receiving their mustering-out pay in tho middle of February, it was learned this week as the war and nnvy departments prepared to put into effect the law signed Friday by the president.

Payment will be made in the order in which applications are received, and as rapidly as they can be processed. Lato applicants may face delays, since approximately 1,300,000 vetorans discharged since December 6, 1941, must be handled.

To be eligible, vetorans must have been honorably discharged or released on or after December 7, 1941, from the various armed services, including the four women's reserves. Those already mustered out must apply for the pnyments. Those discharged hereafter will receive their mustering out pay nutomatically.

Veterans with less than 60 days service will receivo $100; those with longer active service but no foreign duty will receive $200 in two monthly installments; those with more than 60 days service, as well as some with foreign duty, will receive $300 in three monthly installments.

RADYERS HALT WINNING SPURT

LOCAL QUINT DEFEATED BY PETOSKEY, PELLSTON

Play at Grayling Friday; Game with Ellsworth Scheduled Here Next Tuesday

Two successive basketball defeats in the past week halted the Charlevoix Red Rayders' winning streak. Defented by the Petoskey Northmen by a 34 to 20 score Friday night at Petoskey's gym, the Rayders went to Pellston, Tuesday night, to lose an overtime game by the slim margin of one point, 22 to 21.

Petoskey 34, Charlevoix 20

In tho opening quurter Charlevoix scored first with a long shot, and held an 8 to 5 advantage as the poriod closed. During the second quarter, Petoskey furged uhead by tallying 0 points while the Rayders made only 3, making the count 14 to 11. The Northmun went well ahead in the thlrd frame, nnking 13 points as Charlevoix again marked up 3, to make thu tally Petoskey 27, Charlevoix 14. The Rayders added 6 points to their score in the final period. Petoskey tallied 7.

Bellinger, consistont high scorer for tho Rayders, made 7 points, Hardy 5, Chambers und Plum 3 each, Belfy 2. Maybanks was high point man for the Northmen with 12 points, Knlbfleisch made 9, Cosgrovo 8, Tousain 4.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By KEN USHER

When our men return from the front, we ought to have some War Bonds in storage to prove that we hustled and saved when they were fighting.

I knew it was too good to last—that spring-like weather we enjoyed for a couplo of weeks. No sauw in February was just a little too much for us natives, anyway, nnd I think everybody feels more natural now that the young blizzard of Saturday nnd Sunday nnde conditioas more in keeping with tho season.

With wartime conditions prevalent and self-denial of many privileges we used to enjoy necessary on every hand, the thought has often flit through my mind that social functions should also he in keeping with these cnnditions. If it is not too presumptive to make the suggestion, I would say that the annual high school J-Hop, an affair of the not too distnnt future, should be informal. While the students probably will not welcome such an attitude, parents who have to dig up the price, at wartime figures, of a formal gown, shoes to match, a wrap of some sort and matching purse—all necessary fo a one-night fling—would no doubt be pleased. The thought also runs in mind that the J-Hop in Charlevoix for several years past, has lost its identity as a school function. Tho attendance has been made up in the majority nf older peoplo, whose conduct, in numerous instances, it is regrettable to relate, has not been above reproach. The students, I am glad to say, remained sober and refrained from tearing down the decorations and otherwise acting in an unbecoming manner for such a function. If the J-Hop is to be a school party as we have a right to suppose it is, let it he just that, and in addition, in keeping with the times.

It ought not to be a very hard or complicated job to permit our soldiers and sailors to vote on foreign soil. If it is legal for them to fight and dio in foreign lands, then surely it ought to be legal for them to vote where they are fighting. We'd like to know just who is afraid of the Big Bad Wolf.—Uncle Josh, in the Boyne Citizen.

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Just received the most welcome letter written by Luther Hannah, representiag friends in Charlevoix.

I hope everyone back there realizes how much a letter like this means to the fellows and girls in the services away from home.

It meant a lot to me today to receive it, as I happen to be in a navnl hospitnl here right now, and it was good to hear from home. I was admitted last Monday night with cat fever, and in the meantime, the ear that has given me trouble before has gone back to its old tricks of aching nnd draining, and now I am wondering when I will get out of here.

Our battalion is on a work program now, and we're standing guard duty, hulldiag runways and nlmost everything frnm carpenter work to running "eats". I pulled a good detail as a replacement guard, but I didn't get much of it before I landed in here.

Must seem kind of funny up there, not to have a lot of snow piled up.

There's a fellow from Detroit in the bed next to me. Yesterday he got some photos of some fish they caught up on the Au Sable river. (If that isn't the way to spell it, you can correct it for me.)

It's kind of hard to write with your knees up in the air, and a Master Dectective magazine to write on. I read one of the stories this morning, and Captain Hathaway, of the Michigan State Police post at Traverse City, was in it.

There isn't much to write about, Ken, just the same old stuff all the time. I'm still getting the Courier regularly and sure enjoy it a lot. It's swell to be able to follow things by reading the Courier.

I'm sure everyone in the service feels the same about Charlevoix and the people as I do, and we know they're behind us. I'm sure we'll all head for Charlevoix when the curtain comes down on this war. I have a picture of Charlevoix, looking from the south hill through town, and every so often I get it out and look at it and say.

SIMPLER TAXES

Have you taken a look at the federal income tax form with which you are free to struggle from now until March 15? If you have, you probably will share the astonishment we felt when we read Gov. Dewey's announcement that the New York state tax commission has prepared a simplified tax form, "one page in length, easily understood and capable of being filled out by an average taxpayer in five to ten minutes."

But of course the New Yorkers will have to struggle with the complicated federal forms, too, and for that they'll need all the time they save with their simplified state tax form.

Charlevoixans who find their income tax blanks difficult will be amused by the experience of four Detroit newspaper reporters who filled identical income statements and went to deputy internal revenue collectors in Detroit for advice and assistance. Two were told by the "experts" that the government owed them money and two were told that they owed the government money. In every case the amount of refund or liability was different.

When the "experts" can't understand the intent of the blanks, it is high time for simplification.

A FLEECE CLOTHED WOLF

Here comes another wolf in sheep's clothing! Under the rather thin and indefensible pretext that trade marks on packaged goods and other products are, in some vague way, linked with monopolies, cartels and exclusive patents, certain groups in this country—bent on destroying the American way of life—are trying to abolish them.

Trade marks are an important factor in the maintenance of our economic well-being in several ways. They present a barrier to the elimination of mass production and national advertising, which would result in a subsidized press and the wiping out of one of our vital freedoms. To the manufacturer, trade marks are a curb to dishonest practices or careless production and inspection and also the means of his reward for good products and efficient service. To the consumer, trade marks are a protection against faulty or dangerous commodities and an indispensable guide to quick selection of the best in each line of goods and his greatest guarantee of uniformity in what he eats, uses and wears.

If you feel the same way about trade marks that we do, make vigorous protest to your congressman or state representative when bills about to come up for hearing are publicized and you are able to detect in them any suggestion of an attack on trade marks or attempt to curtail their use. If you and I and the man down in the next block relax our vigilance, another large chunk may be chiseled out of the Bill of Rights before we know it.

AT THE MOVIES

"No Time for Love"

A highly diverting comedy having to do with the always intriguing battle of the sexes is promised by Paramount Studio with its Claudette Colbert-Fred MacMurray starrer, "No Time for Love," which is due next Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 12-13, at the Palace Theatre.

Ilka Chase, super-sophisticate and author, appears as Miss Colbert's sister. Richard Haydn, he of the frog-like radio voice, plays a composer-pianist friend of Claudette's. Paul McGrath of Broadway stage fame, June Havoc and Marjorie Gateson round out the cast.

(From the files of the Charlevoix Journal)

Charles Swallow and Frank Lamphear started Wednesday for Chicago, where they expect to labor until spring.

Report of Charlevoix public schools, as of January 29, shows 205 students enrolled, with an average attendance of 184. Classes are divided into first, second and third departments and high school. The third department, having the highest attendance record, has the following pupils: Bertie Wood, Julia Miller, Una Suffield, Artie Kanagy, Chauncey Upright, Aggie Lawrence, Ralph Washburn, Herbie See, John Goss, Joe Hallett, Georga Newman, Willie Lewis, George Metcalf, Ella Carr, Lottie Moore, Aggie Shurrow, Charlia Lawrence, George Carr, Mamia See, Arlie Nettleton, Lillie Sine, Abbie Crmpau, Bertie Johnson.

O. W. Smith has invented a runner for use on baby carriages in winter, by which wheels may be changed to runners in three minutes, and vice versa.

George W. Jefferies is in Clara this week, calling on old friends.

A. B. Noyes has been appointed postmaster at Ironton.

Thirty Years Ago
Wednesday, February 4, 1914

That an automobile can be run in Charlevoix at almost any time of the year was demonstrated last Sunday, when Loren Hart, in his Ford car, made the run to Boyne City to get a passenger who had been refused transportation by the local liverymen, on account of the severe snow storm and bad roads.

The city council will build a new approach to the bridge this spring. The old planking will be torn out and replanked, also the timbers underneath will be replaced with concrete and steel girders. The old structure has been in bad shape for some time and has been gradually sliding toward the bridge. On several occasions it has made trouble in swinging the bridge.

Lee Howland, of this city, has the contract for building the first cement sidewalk at Port Orange, Fla., where he and his family are spending the winter.

Dear Ken,

I guess it is about time I was dropping you a few lines to give you my new APO number, and thanking you all for the home paper. We enjoy reading it, word by word, to get the news of what is going on back in the home town. It is just like getting a letter from our best girl friend.

It may be a long time before I get to write again, so the best of luck to all back in the states, and everyone in the service. I hope I will see you all in 1947 and maybe a little sooner—we all hope.

It is about time I was getting a little shut-eye, so I thank you again for sending me the home paper.

As ever,
Pvt. Andrew Speigl,
Somewhere in England.

Dear Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know my change of address and that I have been receiving the paper quite regularly. It sure does make a fellow feel good to read about things that are happening back in the old home town.

The people sure treat us swell over here. They try to make us feel right at home. They have dances and parties for us a couple of days a week.

I am hoping to get into London some time soon, but it would be much nicer if it were New York city instead.

We had quite a nice trip over here. There were a couple of rough days, but only very few of the boys were sick. It was a little crowded, but we came through in very good shape.

Will have to sign off now. Thanks for the paper.

Sincerely,
Pfc. Arland Howe.

Hi, Ken,

Here I am again with a new address. Have been receiving the paper right along, and enjoy it very much. We are now in advanced training for six weeks. The marines are training us, and boy, they're really tough eggs!

I have one thing to look forward to, and that's a 10-day leave after this six weeks is over with.

I went on board the new aircraft carrier "Wasp", and she's quite a ship.

Guess I better knock off and go to chow. I wish to thank the CSO and the people who make it possible for us boys to receive the paper.

Yours truly,
Harry.

Dear Ken,

I do believe that it is just about time I dropped you a few lines, as I know that other fellows like to hear from me and I guess that this is one way.

At present I am at station hospital here in camp, just recovering from an operation on my nose, but hope to go back to duty soon.

That bomber the Charlevoix folks bought makes a fellow want to join the air corps. It sure is a bird. I suppose that is what they would call it if I were in the air corps. Makes a fellow feel that everyone must have had a lot to do with getting something like that for a city of that size. I know that all the boys are like myself—filled with pride to see something like that.

I have often wondered if, when this thing is all over with, will all the old Polar Bears get together again? What a real group of fellows that was—Brown, Vic Smith, Klp, Bodie, Sape, Gimble, Ike, Joe Smith. Where are they all now?

I do believe I had better close for now. Thanks a million for the paper—and that bomber is my pin-up girl.

Elmer Hott Wins Sweepstakes at State Show

When it comes to potatoes, Charlevoix county's outstanding exhibitors again came through with flying colors. At the recent state seed show held in connection with Farmers' Week, Elmer Hott, of East Jordan, won the sweepstakes award on his peck of Chippewas. Local farmers who saw the show report it was easily the best peck exhibited. He also won first on his bushel of Chippewas.

Lee Sneathen, of Charlevoix, came within one place of winning two prizes, but had to be content with seconds in both the peck and bushel of Russet Rurals. These two exhibitors, along with those from Dickinson and Emmet counties, dominated the potato show.

Other winners were Harry Behling, of Boyne City, and William Shepard, of East Jordan, who won fifth places in Cobblers and Chippewas, respectively. In the 4-H club competition, the Boyne Falls club won third. Within the club exhibits, Eddie and Henry Sellaz won "B" awards, while Felix Brown, Ralph Harmon and Walter Kondrat were placed in the C group.

Among the folks from Charlevoix county who attended the Farmers' Week were K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club leader; Percy Penfold, menager of the East Jordan creamery; William Petts, of Boyne City; Clayton Heelay, Ray Loomis and Art Nicloy, from East Jordan, and Joe Leu, of Charlevoix.

Farmers Using Fertilizer Must Place Orders Now

All reports indicate that the fertilizer situation is rapidly reaching a crisis. The problem is not that there will not be a sufficient supply available, but that it takes many weeks to deliver the goods.

Labor shortages in the manufacturing plants are delaying the preparation of fertilizer. Delays in transportation and distribution are even more evident. Limited manpower in shipping departments, combined with decreased tracking facilities, are slowing down the rate of delivery after they are made. The result is that a large quantity of fertilizer cannot be handled in a limited time shortly before the planting season, as has been done in the past.

Our advice is to order your fertilizer immediately. Give the local dealers a chance to serve your needs early. Even if you have to store it for two or three months at home, don't hesitate, because the man who gets his fertilizer now will be the one that will have it when the planting season arrives. See your local dealer today and make your plans. Don't wait!

Nine Income Tax Meetings Are Scheduled for Farmers

All reports indicate that farmers are somewhat uncertain about making out their income tax statements this year. The forms are more difficult and do require very accurate information of all income and expense. It is suggested that each farmer list, previous to the meeting, all items of income and expense. For instance, in the case of income, total the cream, egg, cattle, potato, and other crop sales. By the same logic, separate the expenses such as feed bought, crop expense, livestock expense, repair and maintenence of machinery, hired labor, etc.

The following meetings are scheduled for the entire county, beginning this week and continuing the following week:

Thursday, Feb. 10, 1:30 p. m., Hayes township hall.

Friday, Feb. 11, 9:30 a. m., Marion Center Grange; 1:30 p. m., Barnard Grange.

Wednesday, Feb. 16, 9:30 a. m., Rock Elm Grange; 1:30 p. m., East Jordan city building.

Thursday, Feb. 17, 9:30 a. m., Horton Bay hall; 1:30 p. m., Walloon Lake community hall.

Friday, Feb. 18, 9:30 a. m., Boyne River Grange; 1:30 p. m., Boyne City library.

Please be on time, as this will be a long job.

RAY S. HAMILTON, City Clerk — ROBERT BRIDGE, Mayor

Whether the State of Michigan is to have an adequate post-war planning program during the next five years will depend, to a large degree, on what the state legislature does—or does not do—during the next few weeks.

General reception of the program has been favored by legislators and the public, due chiefly to the careful preparation made by the state planning commission in consultation with key legislative leaders. But the big test is to come.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown sums up the situation in these words: "The program as developed and adopted by the State Planning Commission is based upon the assumption that the experience of the State of Michigan in the matter of finance over the past five years will be matched by a period of equal affluence during the next five years."

In other words, the sales tax revenues will remain high and the State Treasury will be able to accumulate and retain a surplus annually.

Of course not even the auditor general can determine with accuracy today what the economic trends will be during the next five years. He cannot foretell whether the present high level of sales tax revenue will continue to persist, during the next five years, a continuation of the annual surplus that has blessed the state treasury.

But, assuming that the inflationary period will continue for several more years, then the next hurdle before the post-war planning program is already discernable. It is the pressure of local governments—cities, counties and townships—for a greater share of the state's surplus. The township supervisors have already informed the governor that they want some of the Lansing plums, and the governor has informed them that the state's need should have priority.

Actually the records for 1943 fiscal year show that local governments received 62.5 per cent of all state-collected revenue.

The Kelly administration has adopted the following program for use of the surplus state funds:

1. To create a reserve fund for post-war contingencies. As Auditor General Brown explains it, "the program of expenditures is based upon retaining at all times approximately half of the total accumulated surplus as an emergency fund against any contingency which might arise." This is a bread-and-butter insurance for a post-war unemployment period.

2. To spend the remainder, or one-half of anticipated surplus funds, for a state building program plus acquisition of lands for recreation and conservation. This is the state's own responsibility to its citizenry; Adequate building facilities for hospitals, educational institutions, state departments, and prisons and penitentaries Fire-hazards would be removed; rentals for state offices would be saved through a new office building.

The state's building program, which is spread over five years, began with an inventory by the planning commission of the state's 1200 buildings throughout Michigan, representing an investment of $500,000,000 and utilizing 20,000 acres.

Here is big business—YOUR business.

Amazing to state elective officials was the discovery of disgraceful fire hazards, actually fire traps worthy of immediate condemnation—through an inventory made by A. N. Langius, acting director of the planning commission. Those records alone have meant a substantial saving to the taxpayers in annual operating expenses. For the first time in its history, Michigan possesses a complete technical file of the networks of pipes, conduits, tunnels, sewers, and electrical cables, existing under the ground of every state building. This technical file permits intelligent and economical planning for future needs.

Governor Kelly's policy was expressed by these words in his message to the legislature: "It seems self-evident that it is unwise to reduce taxes in good times and later be called upon to increase taxes in hard times."

It is interesting to note that the New York state legislature, under leadership of Governor Thomas Dewey, recently adopted, with only one dissenting vote, a bill impounding $140,000,000 surplus in the New York state treasury to be used for a post-war program of the state government.

The same philosophy that prompts the purchase of war bonds during the Fourth War Bond campaign is likely to induce the Michigan legislature to safeguard Michigun's reserve fund for post-war needs. As the governor phrases it, "this fund belongs to the soldiers who are fighting today as much as it belongs to the people who are such an important part of the supporting line in Michigan."

You Can Heat Your House with Sunlight

One way to beat the coal and oil shortage is to let Ol 'Sol do the heating. Dr. Robert D. Potter, science editor, writing in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (Feb. 13) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times, describes a new house which sunlight helps to heat, and how old houses can easily make use of the same principle. Deer should come through this winter in tip-top shape. Conservation department reports indicate that snowfall has not been sufficient to make the deer yard, thus there should be little starvation. Hunting next fall should be the best ever.

Ras Hendrickson did his good deed this week. Tuesday, while putching nets in his shanty on the south shore of Round lake, he was attracted by the barking of two small dogs that had ventured out on the ice and broken through near the center of the lake. Rather than leave them to their fate, Ras started up his tug, broke ice out to where they were stranded, backed the tug up to where he could reach and picked one of them up with a pike-pole. The other was able to scamper ashore when movement of the tug shoved the ice under it and gave it footing. If Ras would take that much trouble to save the life of a dog, one cannot help but think he'd go a long ways to aid a human.

Scoring was close throughout the game. The Rayders led 4 to 2 as the first quarter ended. Five field goals for the Rayders and four for Pellston made the tally 14 to 10 at the half. Pellston outscored Charlevoix 7 points to 3 in the third period to knot the score 17-all at intermission. Each team connected with one field goal in the fourth period and Pellston won the game with a free throw in the overtime period.

Scoring for the Rayders were Bellinger with 7 points, Chambers 6, Hardy and Plum 4 each. Pellston scores were made by Wareek, with 7, Snider 5, Bonter and Shurtleff 4 each, Sydow 3.

The Ruyders play at Grayling this Friday night. Ellsworth comes here next Tuesday for their second meeting with Charlevoix. Defeated by only three points in the game played January 17 on their home floor, the Ellsworth quintet is expected to be a strong opponent for the Rayders.

AER ORGANIZED FOR SOLDIERS' BENEFIT

Emergency Assistence Offered by Army-Directed Agency

Every soldier and every soldier's dependent should be familiar with Army Emergency Relief, an army agency set up for the purpose of assisting in caring for deserving emergency cases among soldiers and their dependents.

Incorporated as a non-profit organization, AER collects, holds and uses funds to relieve distress among army personnel and their dependents in emergencies. Its activities are closely co-ordinated, in all cases, with those of the American Red Cross. AER is directed by a board of war department officials, including Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war, as chairman, and Robert P. Patterson, under secretary of war, as president.

Funds for AER come from membership fees of soldiers and officers; from gifts, donations, shows and benefits held in its behalf when authorized by the board of managers. There are no deductions from these funds for salaries or overhead expenses.

Any soldier or soldier's dependent who is in need of emergency assistance for any reason may contact the following officers: 1st Lt. John A. Rongon or Sgt. James S. Guy, 105 State Highway Building, Cadillac; or the Officer in Charge, Army Emergency Relief, Fort Brady, Mich.

MASONS ARE GAINING IN CRIBBAGE SERIES

Odd Fellows Lose Monday's Game; Retain Tournament Lead

Winning their second cribbage victory in the sixth game of the winter tournament Monday night at the Odd Fellow hall, Masons gained slightly on the Odd Fellows but did not overcome their opponents' series lead.

The Masons scored 10,020 points, as Odd Fellows tallied 0,-707. George Priest led the winners with a card of 961, while Bill Cook was Odd Fellow high man with 954. Six tables were in play.

Tournament standings now give the Odd Fellows, with 62,498, an advantage of 506 points over the Masons with 61,902 points.

Seventh game of the series will be at the Masonic temple.

TEMPORARY SCHEDULE FOR STRAITS FERRIES

Sainte Marie Damaged; Railroad Ferry to Carry Traffic

The state highway department last week announced the adoption of the following temporary ferry schedule at the Straits of Mackinac by the chartered railroad ferry, Chief Wawatam:

Leave St. Ignace: 6:00 and 9:30 a. m., 12:30, 3:30 and 6:30 p. m.

Leave Mackinaw City: 8:00 and 11:00 a. m., 2:00, 5:00 and 8:00 p. m., Central War Time.

The schedule change was necessitated because of damage to the ferry Sainte Marie caused when the boat ran into a crib at St. Ignace last week.

Discloses Secret Weapons Now Used

Some Once Called Impossible by Scientists.

WASHINGTON, — Secret weapons of a revolutionary nature once called impossible by scientists have been developed and are being used by the American navy in its battles with the enemy, Rear Adm. William H. P. Blandy, chief of the navy's bureau of ordnance, told a press conference here.

These weapons, knowledge of which is unknown to the Japanese and Germans, "will rank as high or higher than the German radio controlled bomb and the acoustic homing torpedo when the story is finally told," he said.

"One or two of our developments will be called 'romances of science,'" Blandy said. "One development now in use was once proclaimed 'impossible' by foreign scientists.

"Hundreds of new developments are still in progress. Some are refinements, others will be revolutionary in character."

It is important to keep these weapons a secret from the enemy at present, Blandy added. He told newsmen, however, that when and if any of these weapons were captured by the enemy the American public would be told the story behind them.

"It is enough to know at the present time," he said, "that some of these weapons have been in use for many months and even the purpose for which they are used cannot be disclosed.

"Progress has been made in combating German secret weapons as well, such as the acoustic homing torpedo. As for the Japs, they have developed no new weapons and the quality of their weapons is not as good as ours, but we shouldn't become complacent because of this."

Ingenious Radioman Finds Sale for Strayed Lotion

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC (Delayed).—Sales of hand lotion have been brisk aboard a subchaser convoying Leathernecks to primitive Pacific islands.

It's pretty much accepted that marines and sailors aren't in the habit of worrying about "lovely, romantic hands." But they've bought plenty of the beautifier because of persuasive 21-year-old Radioman Second Class Robert L. Albertson, USN, of Indianapolis.

Radioman Albertson turned hand lotion salesman when a case of balm was delivered to the ship's stores in place of the shaving lotion requested.

When the storekeeper wailed over his misfortune, Albertson offered to put on a commercial program over the intraship radio network.

A former announcer on radio station KWAT in Watertown, S. D., Albertson played records between commercial plugs on his station "CORN—The Victory Station" and disposed of the entire supply within 36 hours.

"Even sold myself a bottle," he admits.

"Mike likes the smell of it," he explains.

Flying Dog Is Becoming Veteran of Air Action

NEW GEORGIA ISLAND (Delayed).—Sidney, the flying dog, is fast becoming a veteran of air action. He has completed 55 hours of flight time, 20 of which were in combat.

On his latest mission he was "co-pilot" of a marine Corsair fighter that helped strafe Jap barges in the northern Solomons.

An air unit headquarters mascot, Sidney recently was promoted to marine corporal for "meritorious conduct in action." His master, marine First Lieut. Paul Havens of Pasadena, Calif., and others reported that the devil dog stood guard at outpost 13, atop their foxhole, during a heavy bombardment by enemy aircraft.

The promotion was announced when the citation was read at a muster of all men in the unit.

RED CROSS DRIVE TO OPEN MARCH 3

E. J. EDWARDS CHAIRMAN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

Quota Double Last Year's Goal; City Asked to Contribute $2,900 to War Fund

E. J. Edwards, Charlevoix county chairman for the 1944 American Red Cross war fund campaign, has announced that the drive will open in this county on Friday, March 3.

Charlevoix county has been assigned a quota of $9,000, more than double that of last year. This quota has been apportioned as follows: Charlevoix, $2,900; East Jordan, $2,400; Boyne City, $3,300; townships and villages, $1,300.

City chairmon for the drive are: Charlevoix, Otto Krueger; Boyne City, Lester Jersey; East Jordan, Mrs. Grace Boswell. Committees of solicitors are being appointed in each city.

"Financial assistance requirements of the American Red Cross are many times greater now than they were two years ago, and they will continue to increase as this war continues", stated Mr. Edwards. "Everyone should be aware of the gigantic task which confronts the Red Cross organization, and how capably this task is being met and handled.

"We have all been buying bonds, and must continue to do so", Mr. Edwards continued. "When buying bonds, we not only aid our armed forces, but also help and enrich ourselves. In giving to the Red Cross, we help and enrich humanity, and have our best opportunity of contributing directly to the immediate relief and comfort of our men and women in the armed services.

"Take time to read and listen to facts relative to the Red Cross and its work. Acquaint yourselves with what it does and how it operates, and how vitally important it is in times of war and disasters. Then, when a solicitor asks you for a contribution to the 1944 war fund, you will give a sum larger than you have ever given before."

RETAILERS ADVISED GET RATION TOKENS

New "Change" System Effective Sunday, February 27

All dealers and retailers who handle rationed meats, fats and processed foods may obtain their allotment of ration tokens from banks on or after February 17, advises the Grand Rapids district office of price administration.

This should be accomplished as soon as possible, so that all retailers will have an ample supply on hand on February 27 when tokens go into use as change for ration stamps.

Red tokens will be used as one point each in conjunction with red stamps for meats and fats. Blue tokens, also worth one point each, will be used as change for blue stamps for processed foods.

Fuel Oil Consumption

As of February 14, fuel oil consumers in the Traverse City area should not have burned more than 57 per cent of their yearly fuel oil ration allotment, advises the office of price administration.

1943 DEER LICENSES DROP ONE PER CENT

Hunting and Fishing Are Popular Relaxations in Wartime

Contrary to early predictions that war work and transportation difficulties would have a drastic effect on the amount of deer hunting license sales, collections have been made for 210,600 licenses, with a few late accounts still to be tallied, the conservation department has announced. This is a drop of only one per cent from the number sold in 1942.

Indicting that hunting and fishing are a popular means of relaxation in wartime, collections for these licenses were within 10 per cent of the total 1942 revenues. Collections for 1943 fishing licenses have reached 529,700, only 58,000 less than for the total amount of 1042 collections. Nearly 500,000 small game hunters took out licenses according to present collections.

DISCUSS VICTORY GARDEN PROBLEMS

COUNTY LEADERS MET HERE TUESDAY EVENING

Begin Plans for Next Summer's Gardens; Michigan State College Cooperates

Victory garden problems for the coming season were discussed at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the Charlevoix high school building.

L. B. Carr, of East Jordan, county victory garden chairman, and B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, conducted the meeting, at which about 15 people were present.

Special mention was made of the fine showing made last year by Charlevoix victory gardeners. A 20 per cent increase in gardens is asked for the coming year. Mr. Bowser, Michigan State College specialist in home gardening, discussed gardening problems, especially seeds, fertilizers and insecticides. He also showed colored slides of some of the fine results of last year's work.

Fred Willis, city victory garden chairman, will have instructive literature available for distribution in the near future. The Charlevoix Garden Club is also actively cooperating in distributing literature and in planning next summer's gardens.

BANDED SHARPTAIL IS FOUND AT AUTO CAMP

Bird Released Near Boyne City in February 1943

The band on a sharptail grouse found entangled in wires in the auto camp at Charlevoix showed that it was released near Boyne City in February 1943. The bird traveled at least seventeen miles in less than a year.

This is the first sharptail to be reported on of a group of approximately 45 of the species that were released February 27, 1943, by the game division of the conservation department. Most reports are received from hunters who have shot the birds.

MOTORISTS URGED TO PURCHASE LICENSES

Deadline February 29; Office Is Open Saturday Afternoons

In view of the fact hundreds of Charlevoix motorists have but 10 days in which to purchase 1944 auto licenses, Fenton R. Bulow, local branch manager, urges car owners to act now to avoid the usual last-minute rush before the February 29 deadline.

The license bureau office at the court house will be open from 2 to 4 p. m. this Saturday, February 10, and from 1 to 5 p. m. on Saturday, February 26. The office will be closed, however, on Tuesday, February 22, Washington's birthday and a legal holiday.

BENEFIT CONCERT TUESDAY EVENING

MARINE AND HIGH SCHOOL BANDS WILL COMBINE

Proceeds Washington's Birthday Event Will Go to Charlevoix Service Organization

Charlevoix marine and high school bands will give their second combined concert next Tuesday evening, February 22, at eight o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Proceeds of the Washington's Birthday event will be given to the Charlevoix Service Organization, as were proceeds of the Armistice Day concert previously given by the combined bands.

Max H. Smith, former Charlevoix city and high school band director, and now musical director in Petoskey high school, will be guest conductor. Several numbers will be sung by the Charlevoices trio, composed of Mrs. E. D. Hawley, Mrs. Charles Bellinger and Mrs. Clair Webster. The high school girls' glee club will also appear.

Opening with "Star-Spangled Banner", in which the audience will join, the program is as follows: "Monitou Heights", march, by F. Melius Christiansen; "Balero Ritmico", a Spanish folk tune by Fredico Longas; selections from the operetta "Show Boat", by Jerome Kern, in which the Charlevoices will sing; two early American marches written for the Revolutionary army, arranged by Richard F. Goldman; "This Is My Country", by Al Jacobs; "Army Air Corps", by Robert Crawford, sung by the high school girls' glee club; "Cypress Silhouettes", by David Bennett; "Amperita Roca", Spanish march, by Jaimie Texidor; "El Condor Pasa", Inca dance, by Daniel Robles; "Lady Be Good", George Gershwin; "Deep South", a rhapsody, by Merle Isaac and Clifford Lillya.

COUNTY REACHES WAR LOAN GOAL

INDIVIDUAL, CORPORATION QUOTAS ARE TOPPED

Blue Star Mothers Praised for Success of Drive in City; County Leads State

An overwhelming victory in the Fourth War Loan drive in Charlevoix county was recorded as the campaign officially closed Tuesday, February 15.

First county in Michigan to top their Fourth War Loan quota, Charlevoix county was awarded with presentation of a German soldier's helmet which is now on display in the Central Drug store window. Ralph Price, county war finance committee chairman, received the helmet from the U. S. treasury war finance committee for Michigan.

Total sales in the county reached $394,350, well past the $352,000 goal set for the drive. Quota for bond sales to individuals was $259,000, which was surpassed by more than $3,000 as individual sales went to $262,650. Within this individual quota was another goal of $156,000 for "E" bonds alone, which was passed in the first two weeks of the drive.

Approximate figures to date give Charlevoix a total of $143,000 in bond sales. This figure comprises $105,000 in sales to individuals, and about $38,000 in corporation purchases. East Jordan reports individual sales of $88,000 and corporation sales of $47,000 for a total of $135,000. Boyne City's total of $116,000 includes individual sales of $68,000 and corporation sales of $45,000. Each city was assigned a quota of $117,200, one-third of the county total. A $10,000 bond purchased by the county of Charlevoix was apportioned among the three cities.

Great credit is due to Charlevoix Blue Star Mothers for their fine work in putting the band drive across in this city. Reaching their quota long before the drive ended, they continued to sell bonds until well beyond their goal.

RURAL TEACHERS TO MEET FRIDAY

Reception for New Commissioner at High School Building

A meeting of Charlevoix county rural teachers will be held this Friday evening, February 18, at the Charlevoix high school lunch room.

The meeting will be a reception for Leo L. Close, new school commissioner for Charlevoix county. All rural teachers are urged to be present.

Cafeteria supper at Methodist church, Thursday, Feb. 17. Serving begins 5:30 p. m.—Adv. 6t2.

Supper will be served at Barnard Grange, Friday night, Feb. 18, at 6:30 p. m. 50c.—Adv. 7t1.

CLOSE FEBRUARY 22

Charlevoix city and county offices, and banks, will be closed all day Tuesday, February 22, in observance of Washington's birthday.

IRONTON COMMUNITY FARM BUREAU MET

Soil Conservation and Postwar Agriculture Discussed

Agriculture after the war was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Ironton Community Farm Bureau, held last Wednesday evening at the home of Amos Nasson.

Gus Cellner spoke on soil conservation, and suggested formation of a soil conserving district in Charlevoix county. Need of a cooperative marketing association was discussed, particularly the need of a livestock market in this territory.

Twenty-four members were present for the meeting.

RAYDERS TAKE TWO VICTORIES

GRAYLING AND ELLSWORTH BOW TO LOCALS

Charlevoix Plays at Boyne City Friday; Harbor Springs Game Ends Season February 25

Two more basketball victories were added to the Charlevoix Red Rayders' record the past week as they scored successive wins over Grayling and Ellsworth.

One field goal decided Friday night's game at Grayling, when the locals won 26 to 24. Tuesday's tilt with Ellsworth at the Charlevoix gym was a walk-away for the Rayders, ending in a score of 41 to 14.

Charlevoix 26, Grayling 24

Charlevoix took the advantage early in the game, scoring 8 points to Grayling's 5 in the first quarter. Adding 8 more points in the second period, the Rayders allowed Grayling two free throws to lead 16 to 7 at the half. In the third frame, Charlevoix tallied 10 points and Grayling made 12, putting the score 26 to 12 in the local's favor. Grayling almost overcame this margin in the final period when three Charlevoix players, Belfy, Plumm and Chambers, fouled out in rapid succession and were replaced by substitutes. The Rayders made no score in the fourth quarter while Grayling rang up 12 points.

It may be mentioned to the Rayders' credit that this is only the second game this season in which they have made more fouls than their opponents. Their record of good sportsmanship has been excellent this year, as for many previous seasons.

Bellinger accounted for 13 points for Charlevoix, Chambers 8, Hardy 3, Belfy and Plumm 2 each. Bennett was Grayling's high scorer with 14 points, Stevenson made 6, Hatfield 4.

WRITE LICENSE NUMBER ON RATION BOOK COVER

Motorists obtaining new 1944 license numbers on covers of their gasoline ration books, and inserting their new number. However, they will not be required to change numbers on all present ration stamps if the old license number already is written on the stamps. When new rations are obtained, the new number may be entered.

CANVAS DIVISION GETS NEW ORDER

Foster's Petoskey Plant Assured Day and Night Operation

The Foster Bout Company has received a new order from the army air forces for over 40,000 canvas assemblies, deliveries to begin in July at the rate of 6,000 per month. This new order assures uninterrupted operation of the Petoskey plant for many months to come.

One of the orders, now being processed for the army ordnance division, requires a quantity of canvas sufficient to cover the highway from Charlevoix to Petoskey and part of the way back, according to the computations of a former Charlevoix resident, Ross Alexander, night superintendent.

The canvas division of the Foster Bout Company has developed into the largest canvas products concern north of Detroit or Grand Rapids.

NINETEEN PASS SERVICE EXAMS

AWAIT CALL TO DUTY IN ARMED FORCES

Pre-Induction Tests Were Given at Detroit February 3; May Still Get Deferment

Nineteen Charlevoix county men who passed pre-induction physical examinations at Detroit on February 3 are now awaiting their call to the armed services.

While these men were qualified for service, none of them have actually been inducted. They may be called within 21 to 90 days, and those in essential occupations may be granted deferments.

Men qualified for induction are:

Charlevoix—Dan W. Geneit, Fay C. Davis, Franklin Boss, Thomas W. Louiselle, army; Theo A. Jeffery, navy.

East Jordan—Jerome A. Sulak, Marvin R. Benson, Martin Elzinga, Gabriel D. Thomas, James F. Lilak, Alfred Dougherty, army; William E. Malpass, Edward C. Perry, Cyril J. McKenney, navy.

Boyne City—Theodore C. Spencer, Warren B. Gardner, army; William C. Price, George E. Wuerth, navy.

Bay Shore—John R. Willis, navy.

NEW REGULATION FOR FIELD TRIALS

Make Application Two Weeks in Advance of Meet

Sportsmen planning field trials and chases with their dogs after March 15 are being notified by the conservation department of changes in the regulations for the sport.

After that date it will be necessary for applications to be sent so they will be received in the field administration division of the conservation department in Lansing two weeks previous to the date of the scheduled field trial or chase.

Trials and chases will now be allowed, with permits, at any time during the year and will not be banned between April 15 and July 15 as in former years.

VOTE AT PRIMARY ELECTION MONDAY

ONE CONTEST FOR WARD OFFICE ON BALLOT

Urge Voters to Polls in Spite of Lack of Opposition to Present Officials

Charlevoix's annual spring primary election for choice of city and ward officials for 1944-45 will be held Monday, February 21.

One contest for ward office appears on the Republican ballot. Dr. D. C. Nettleton, second ward alderman, is opposed for re-nomination by George LaBlance, Jr. Robert Bridge is unopposed for mayor for his seventh term, nor does Ray S. Hamilton have any opposition for city clerk. Nelle A. Hammond has no opponent for the office of city treasurer. No other ward contest is listed.

Charlevoix voters are urged to go to the polls next Monday, even though the election promises to be a quiet one. Extremely light balloting at spring primaries in recent years indicates a tendency among voters to vote only when there is a contest on the ballot. While second ward voters will need no urging to vote, residents of other wards should at least show that they are interested in city government by expressing their approval of the present administration.

Election polls will be open in the city clerk's office at the city hall from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Following is the list of candidates:

City

Mayor—*Robert Bridge.
Clerk—*Ray S. Hamilton.
Treasurer — *Nelle A. Hammond.

First Ward

Supervisor—*Angus L. Fochtmann.
Alderman—Karl J. Erber.

Second Ward

Supervisor—*Arthur Bergeon.
Alderman — *D. C. Nettleton, George LaBlance, Jr.

Third Ward

Supervisor—*Clarence B. Meggison.
Alderman—*W. E. Goss.
*Denotes incumbent.

BLUE GILL FISHING ENDS FEBRUARY 28

Only Spear Fishermen Get Extra Day of Sport in Leap Year

Leap year gives spear fishermen an extra day of ice fishing this year, but anglers for bluegills will have only through February 28 to do their fishing as in regular years. Spearing is legal through the month of February, but the bluegill law definitely states that the winter season ends on February 28.

Ice fishermen may catch perch, cullco bass, northern pike, walleyes, white bass, rock bass, muskellunge, lake trout, whitefish, and a few other species in unclassified lakes until March 31. On pike lakes, however, these fish may not be caught after March 15.

Pomona Grange Meeting

Charlevoix county Pomona Grange meets with Marion Center Grange next Tuesday, February 22, with potluck dinner at one o'clock, followed by the business meeting.

Rifenburg & Co.'s "North Star" flooring mill is completed and in operation. Built on the John S. Dixon lot on the north side of the channel, the mill fills a long-felt need for this village. As we go to press, a large crowd of citizens is watching the process of milling the first patent flour made in Charlevoix. (This is the present Argo Milling Co.)

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Ken,

Just a line to let you know I am now back in the good old U. S. A., after serving several months in the southwest Pacific. Sure seems good to be back, and no kidding.

Have missed several copies of the Courier, so sure would appreciate it if you would kindly send it to my new address for the time being. Thank you. Will be seeing you all in Charlevoix-the-Beautiful soon.

Your friend,
Herb Ager.

Dear Ken:

I am now receiving the Courier regularly. It seems good to read a paper from the home town, and I appreciate it very much. About the only newspaper we can get in this country is the Stars and Stripes, which is an American paper printed here. We also can get plenty of French newspapers, but I don't understand French, not much, anyway.

I am getting along o. k. here in Africa. The weather has been nice for quite some time. It is warm in the daytime, and cold at night.

I am on M. P., so you can guess pretty close to what I am doing.

Hoping this letter finds you in the best of health, I remain,

Yours truly,
Pfc. Frank Novotny, Jr.
North Africa.

Hi, Scoop!

I guess it is about my turn, et cetera and et cetera.

This is really quite a camp—clean, good food and they keep regular hours, also strictly routine. One thing that has helped is that for a change California is having the kind of weather the chamber of commerce is always raving about. While it is supposed to be the rainy season, we have had very little rain. However, when it does rain it would surprise you. It usually starts at night and rains steadily for two

NO WALK-OVER

The realities of these wars have come slowly to the American people, and are not yet learned by the people at home. Those who do the fighting are under no illusions of a quick and easy victory on either battle front.

Most civilians, perhaps, have been wondering why the Italian situation isn't cleaned up more quickly. The reason is that the Germans on that front are literally fighting like hell. They fight on the beaches, they fight in the cities, they fight in the houses, in the cellars, in the attics, they fight from room to room and roof to roof, so that it often amounts to a small military campaign merely to capture another house.

The Japanese are much the same with their islands. It is evident that with a few exceptions, the Americans have to fight over those vast ocean reaches, from one island and one small group to another, in a course that covers many thousand miles. The nearer they get to Japan, the stronger the defense will be, and nobody knows how long it will take to reach and occupy Tokyo.

We hear more of such realistic comment lately, and it is well that we do. The American people can take anything, and the armed forces can and will do anything that needs to be done; but the greatest disservice anybody can render either civilians or fighters is to pretend that either war is a walk-over.

STAYING IN SCHOOL

"Stick to her, kid! I wish I had that old high school diploma!"

That's the kind of talk the big brothers are sending back home. That's what they say when they come on furloughs or leaves. That's what they say when they are discharged and come home to start over again.

That's the kind of talk school principals and teachers like to hear, too. They have been telling youngsters that for years, but many of them yield to the lure of easy money and leave school the first possible minute for jobs which will not last and will leave the kids high and dry with no sound basis of education to base their future lives on.

That's the kind of talk, also, that employers like to hear. They will take any boy or girl who can operate a punch drill at the present moment, but they know full well that these war jobs are due to end in the next year or two. Then they will have fewer jobs to fill and want better-balanced people to fill them.

Good balance means good schooling. Education is never lost. The world is full of people who wish they had more. Did anyone ever wish he had less?

NEW INVENTIONS IN WAR

If a perpetual motion machine that really worked were invented, it would not be used in this war. So says Charles F. Kettering, of General Motors, chairman of the National Inventors' Council.

This is not because the army and navy are prejudiced against new ideas, but because the introduction of a radically new machine requires thousands of changes in methods of manufacture, maintenance and operation. It works out better to take an existing machine and perfect it gradually. After all, the airplane did not become really important until a good many years after its invention.

This does not mean that no important new devices are likely. A good many have already been introduced, like the bazooka and radar, and more will be. The Council has found, out of the 160,000 or more inventions submitted to it, at least 5,000 worth passing on the army and navy. After the war announcement will be made as to which ones were used.

Meanwhile Americans can feel confident that national inventiveness has not flagged, and that the German and Japanese are feeling the results.

Tungsten and smaller amounts of molybdenum, copper, silver, and gold are being taken from mines high in the California Sierras.

N. C. C. M. OFFICERS ELECTED THURSDAY

Financial Statement Shows Bond Sales and Purchases

Officers were elected by the Charlevoix council of the National Council of Catholic Men, meeting Thursday night at St. Mary's school hall.

New officers are: president, Emerald LaBlance; secretary-treasurer, Guy Eccleston. Retiring president is George LaBlance, Jr.

The 35 members present were served a fish "booyah" supper, prepared by J. M. Foster and George LaBlance, Jr. Following the meal, Fr. A. V. Ulanowicz gave a brief talk on the aims and purpose of the National Council of Catholic Men. This group nationally sponsors the Catholic Hour broadcast, and is affiliated with USO through the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Ralph Hamilton, retiring secretary-treasurer, gave a financial statement which showed that $2,915 in war bonds and stamps was sold through St. Mary's recreation center from May 26, 1943, to January 1, 1944. Recent series "G" bonds purchases by the council have bought a bombardier kit for the bomber "City of Charlevoix", a sub-machine gun, a parachute, all valued at $55. A $10 contribution to the "March of Dimes" was made from proceeds of the Wednesday night parties.

Motion pictures of news events, including the Teheran conference and the landing on Tarawa, were shown. Card games concluded the evening.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF HELEN BRUKARDT AND BURTON BLACK

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Brukardt, of Menominee, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Joyce, to Burton H. Black, boatswain's mate first class, U. S. coast guard, on Thursday, February 10.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Black, of Ellsworth, and is in command of the Menominee coast guard port detail.

The bride graduated from Menominee high school in 1941 and from Blodgett Memorial Hospital, Grand Rapids, in 1943. She is at present a member of the nursing staff of Marinette General Hospital.

A graduate of Ellsworth high school, Mr. Black attended Michigan State College, East Lansing, and was stationed at the Charlevoix coast guard station for a time.

HOSPITAL COUNCIL MEETING THURSDAY

Seven Northern Institutions Were Represented at Session

A meeting of the Northern Michigan Hospital Council was held Thursday in this city, with Dr. F. F. McMillan, president of the council, presiding.

Following a dinner at Mont's Cafe, Thomas Cook, assistant director of the Michigan Hospital Service of Detroit, spoke to the group relative to the growth and future program of the organization.

An educational sound movie film entitled "Satures Since Lister," was shown at Charlevoix high school. Following this a general discussion was held concerning hospital problems.

Hospitals represented were: Mercy hospital, Cadillac; Mercy hospital, Grayling; Alpena General hospital, Alpena; Munson hospital, Traverse City; Lockwood General and Little Traverse hospitals, Petoskey; Charlevoix hospital.

Next meeting of the organization will be held at Cadillac.

Cafeteria supper at Methodist church, Thursday, Feb. 17. Serving begins 5:30 p. m.—Adv. 6t2.

EDWARD D. FARLEY SUCCUMBED TUESDAY

Resident of City Three Years; Funeral Set for Thursday—

Edward D. Farley, 65, a resident of Charlevoix for the past three years, died Tuesday morning after an extended illness.

Born in Marshalltown, Wis., Mr. Farley was employed as chauffeur for Mrs. A. H. Whiting of the Chicago Club for 20 years, and spent summers in Charlevoix during that time. Three years ago he made this city his residence.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elizabeth Spath, to whom he was married June 12, 1910, in Chicago.

Funral services will be held Thursday afternoon from the See Funeral Home. Interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

LEGION OFFERS AID TO DISCHARGED VETS

Should Record Discharge Papers in County Clerk's Office

Leslie T. Shupton Post No. 226, American Legion, is prepared to offer aid to local veterans in applying for mustering-out pay.

A committee composed of Fenton R. Bulow and Floyd A. Supp has a supply of application blanks and will help veterans in filling out and submitting these forms for their pay.

It is suggested that veterans have their discharge papers recorded in the office of the county clerk. This will be done at no charge to the veteran, and will be of value in the event that original discharge papers are lost.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through the Charlevoix Courier.—Adv. 23

BEAVER ISLAND

Trim Reynolds, of Boyne City, spent a few days here this week as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mielke. Mr. Reynolds returned home Friday.

Edward Boyle returned to his home in Chicago, Wednesday, after attending the funeral of his nephew, Pfc. Hubert Green, who died at Wendover Field, Utah, on January 30.

After visiting her husband, Leo Adams, coast guard, for several weeks, Mrs. Adams returned Wednesday to her home in Racine, Wis.

Jack Barke, son of Mrs. Edw. Burke, and Alfred Ricksgers, son of George Ricksgers, arrived home from Detroit, Friday, to visit their parents before going to the army. They were inducted the 8th of this month.

Pvt. Arthur Lewis arrived home Friday from Fort Bliss, Tex., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis. He was accompanied by his sister, Lydia, who is employed in Detroit.

The entertainment given Friday evening by the St. James high school pupils was a big success, both socially and financially.

We cannot say now that we have no snow, because we have plenty of it. Also had lots of ice, but that is gone again.

days and three nights. Some guys have to really slosh through the clay the next day. Oh, yes, this camp is built on a big clay bed. With the shoes the army issued me, I take my rifle butt and scull around the place. If you know anyone who has an outboard motor, I would gladly split with them what I could make ferrying the boys around.

So, Scoop, I guess this is it. Thanks for the paper. I really enjoy it, but would much rather be getting it Wednesday evening.

The signal corps is a great spot, so encourage some of the lads to come out here, will you?

Dear Ken,

I thought I had better drop you a line so you would know where I am. I wish you would send me the Courier, as a guy misses the old home town.

So far, from what I've seen of the merchant marine, I like it. I am on a 400-foot boat and all we do is stand watches and wheel. I go on watch at 8 o'clock, stand an hour's watch, take an hour off for coffee, then go and wheel for two hours. After that, I get eight hours off before I repeat it. One good thing about it, you have fixed hours. You know when you go to work and when you quit.

I have made one small trip. I got aboard ship at Norfolk, Va., and am writing this in Boston harbor. I was ashore last night, and from what I saw of the city, it was all right. I am going ashore again tonight and see if there is anything stirring. You know what they say about sailors, "a girl in every port"—well, don't believe a word of it.

They just rang the chow bell, so will close for now. See you about July, I hope.

As ever,
Bud.

Willis A. Cross, Jr.
Merchant Marine.

To you a howdy, Ken,

Yep! Situation normal today, as I always want it to be 'till I leave here and hip hooray back to good old Michigan again—and I ain't just a-shootin' the breeze.

I've been getting your newsy Courier right along, and it really keeps my weariness up—on the level. Although I get the paper rather late sometimes, what's the difference in this man's army when I can read it in my spare evening hours. It's really a pleasure to read what's going on around Charlevoix vicinity, and all events of the past. You know, it makes me more home comfort when I read the paper, and I really appreciate reading what you put out for the boys in the home town also.

We have plenty of snow here. Last week it sort of covered the huts, which were half hidden by the drifts, and I'm telling you it had to be shoveled away.

By now you must imagine I'm somewhere in the Aleutian area, where I have been the past (censored) months, and the good Lord knows where I'll be the in the next dozen months.

Well, to top it all, I just wish to be out of here within a good length of time, and be again myself.

Here's to you a snappy salute for service to Old Glory!

Closing with tons of luck,
Somewhere in the Aloutians.
Pvt. Enos Waaageshik.

Dear Ken,

I assure you I fell ashamed of myself for not writing my sincere thanks for the ever-present Charlevoix Courier—which I now do—that has followed me on my many travels, with the help of the army, of course!

At present, it has reached me here in Hawaii on the island of Oahu, which, by the way, is everything the critics say.

Honolulu is a very exciting city, that I had hoped to invade as a visitor, but the army granted me this wish, so to speak. I also have the feeling that millionaires have while sitting on the beach at Waikik, which is an odd one—"would rather have the beach at Charlevoix."

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to those who are doing an excellent job of sending the paper to the armed forces from Charlevoix.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Gerald Nanegos,
Hawaii.

Dear Ken,

Just a few lines to thank you for sending me the home town paper. It really makes a fellow feel good to be able to read about the news at home.

This navy life is o.k., but you can give me good old Charlevoix any day. I am a land-loving sailor, myself.

Guess I better sign off, because the lights go out in a few minutes. Thanks again for the paper, and here's wishing you all in Charlevoix the best of luck. Hope to see you all when this war is over.

Your friend,
Ted F. Jancha, S1c
U. S. Navy.

Hi, Ken,

Just a few lines to let you know that I now have a new address. It will only be for a few weeks, then back to V. J.-4, Norfolk.

I have been attached to this army air force training detachment for a 34-day course of instruction on the B-26 medium bomber. After spending a week here, I find this to be one of the most complete and interesting courses in the country. The first week was spent studying the hydraulic system, and we are now studying all the electrical units of the B-26. The instructors are all civilians, and they really know their stuff.

Give my regards to all the folks at home, and to all my buddies, wherever they may be.

Best regards,
Bruce.

Dear Ken,

I have intended for some time to write you how much I have appreciated the Courier. The letters from the army camps seem the only way to keep track of old friends in service. No time these days for continued correspondence with each of them.

Several Charlevoix fellows and I got ashore together around Christmas time—Don Stevens and Clair Stevens, Charlie Cellner, Bob Gould, from Boyne City. Also have seen Bob Bergmann, Jim Brady, Ager, Roy Pluro, at various times during the past few months. Oh, yes, also Bill Edwards. He dropped over one day after he returned to duty, and since he is an old married man, didn't get to have such a long visit with him.

We are all anxious to get back in northern Michigan. Probably none are more anxious than I, but having been here when it started, would just as soon stay until it's over and then return to the mainland and enjoy seeing more of the good U. S. A.

Say, Ken, can you send Bob Heise's address? Reckon he has owed me a letter for 18 or 20 months, so would like to keep in touch with him. See by the paper he is in India. He sure gets around, too.

Regards to you and yours,
Bob.

ORDER SEED NOW, MSC MAN ADVISES

It's not too early to scan those early seed catalogs, figure out 1944 garden needs and order seeds for the vegetable garden.

An allocation of 275,252,000 pounds of vegetable seeds for farmers and gardeners in the United States has been announced by the War Food Administration. In Michigan an increase over the 720,000 victory gardens cultivated in 1943 has been suggested for 1944.

To get the best selection from old supplies, early orders are suggested by Perry Bowser, Michigan State College vegetable specialist. He recommends: for pole beans, Kentucky Wonder is unexcelled; for bush beans, Tendergreen, Grand Stringless, Plentiful, Stringless Greenpod, and Refugee; for wax beans, Pencil Pod Black Wax.

Carrots are still the same standby varieties, Chantenay, Danvers Half Long, Nantes and Imperator. For beets, select Detroit Dark Red and Crosby Egyptian.

Cabbage varieties are numerous but the seed supply is short. Try to purchase an early variety such as Copenhagen Market or Golden Acre, and then a late variety for storage such as Hollander or Ballhead. Savoy and Red cabbage varieties are really scarce.

There are many varieties of peas and a plentiful supply of seed. Take your choice—early: Thomas Laxton and Little Marvel; midseason, Laxton's Progress; and late, Alderman and Morse market.

Sweet corn varieties are numerous, but the seed supply is not up to expectations, so look over these varieties and choose 2 or 3 varieties for a succession of harvest: Early-Seneca 60, Harris Extra Early Bantam, Surprise, Golden Early Market, and Northstar; midseason, Marcross and Erlibird; late, Northern Cross, Early Bancross, and Golden Bantam. The last variety is the least desirable and latest maturing of any mentioned.

There is a relatively new parsnip on the market—Model.

Lettuce has two new names in the catalogs this year, Great Lakes, a new head lettuce, and Bibbs, new bunch lettuce.

"Hats off to Studebaker for cars that stand up in wartime"

SAYS W. M. Byrd, engineer on a U. S. Navy job at Bay City, Michigan: "My hat's off to Studebaker. You're certainly right when you say the Studebaker Champion is engineered to save an owner money and built to withstand hard punishment.

"I know. I've owned three Champions. The one I'm now driving, a 1941 model, has 31,000 miles on it and its tires look good for 30,000 miles more.

"My two previous Champions gave me remarkable mileage over rugged West Virginia mountain roads.

"On the three Champions, my total maintenance bills, outside of proper servicing, did not exceed $40."

Mr. Byrd's experience, after two years of war, is matched by that of many other Studebaker owners.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

To 40,000 Michigan men, veterans of World War II, the war is already over.

Post-war is here—today—for them.

This fact was emphasized by Dr. Alexander Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, at a conference with members of the educational committee of the state legislature which is now in session at Lansing. Approximately 3,000 Michigan men are being discharged each month by the army and navy, he said. Seventy percent of these being returned to civilian life because of physical and nervous disabilities: a surprisingly large percentage of the national total represents psychiatric casualities—inability of the human nervous system to absorb the shock of modern warfare.

These facts, little known by the public, present one of the serious growing problems of 1944: How to assist these vntiants to readjust themselves to a new world—new to them because of their new handicaps. The unswer, in the eyes of education, is just this: adult education!

While the State of Michigun, from its very inception, has accepted the responsibility of free education for youth, the state has not ventured into the newer field of education for adults.

Hence the decision of Gov. Harry F. Kelly to submit a state program of adult education to the state legislature is the breaking of precedence. The state would assume responsibility for adult education but only to the extent of financial support and over-all supervision. Educational services themselves would be given by colleges and schools, for the most part, and hence under control of local communities and the state boards of education.

Furthermore, since ths program would be an innovation, it is the governor's belief that the 1944-45 cost to the state should be in keeping with the experiment as a long-range objective.

The idea of adults going to school is not new. Scan its history.

The lyceum movement wes born 100 years ago; the 1870's saw the birth of the free public library. The Philadelphia Centennial Exposition gave an educational impetus to museums. In the same decede the Chautauqua Institution was founded, and that brought the traveling chautauqua to rural communities everywhere prior to the day of the automobiles, good highways and movies.

The university extension movement came in the late 1880's, modeled after the extramural activities of Cambridge and Oxford university in England.

In 1014 Congress passed the Smith-Lever act establishing an extension service in the United States Department of Agriculture. Michigan State college has made this service in Michigan a national pattern: Michigan is the recognized leader.

Next comes the George-Deen act of Congress during the post-war economic depression of the 30's, and it was put to good use during the pre-Pearl Harbor days when national defense was mobilizing mechanical skills.

Is there a real need for adult education in Michigan?

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, points out that the 1940 census disclosed these following facts which tell their own story: 300,000 citizens of Michigan received an education through the first three grades; 72,000 others did not finish the first grade. We have 200,000 aliens.

Because we have not learned yet to live with each other, Michigan is spending a million dollars a year in Detroit alone to maintain state troops as insurance against race riots.

Leaders and labor unions concede privately the need of rudimentary economics for the rank-and-file membership which continues to pressure officials at the top for more and more wages without reckoning the ultimate effect on the cost of living—their own pocketbook.

George H. Fern, director of the state board of control for vocational education, recently announced a post-war plan to provide technical training for war veterens as well as for young people who do not go to college.

Fern's program calls for vocational rehabilitation for disabled residents through a federal-state relationship whereby instruction is given in local school districts and hence is the responsibility of local school districts—grass roots democracy itself.

It is Fern's suggestion that trained instructors be assigned to each school district for the purpose of vocational education. Dr. Elliott favors a broad program of adult education in which vocational training would be included and general instruction would be provided by teachers now on the staffs of local school districts. The state would reimburse the local schools for 75 per cent of the instructional cost, and Dr. Elliott believes that much of the remaining 25 percent could be financed through educational fees paid by those who received benefits.

Here is the broad picture:

Approximately 500,000 men from Michigan will be in military service in World War II.

Of these perhaps one-tenth or less — Dr. Elliott estimates the number to be, 30,000—will have the mental capacity to go to college for post-war training.

The Federal Communications Commission has assigned five Frequency Modulation wave lengths for educational radio stations. Radio is a long-range possibility. In the meanwhile, Michigan State college's radio station, WKAR, is already providing daily service for adult education and is making application for "FM" broadcasting.

Assisting Michigan veterans to readjust themselves to civilian economy is a tremendous challenge. It is a post-war problem that is already here—today!

GARDEN GROUPS BEGIN CAMPAIGN

Mobilization toward a 10 per cent increase in Michigan's victory gardens in 1944 has been started in the state through a training program that will contact leaders in each of the state's 83 counties.

Joint efforts of the Michigan State College extension service and the victory garden section of the state civilian war defense division will provide county and community garden leaders with practical information through discussion, charts, bulletins and leaflets on vegetable gardening.

In Charlevoix county, meetings were held Monday and Tuesday of this week, through the cooperation of B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent.

Best estimates of victory gardening in Michigan in 1943 indicate 720,000 gardens produced enough fresh produce to partially ease the wartime food situation. More than 150,000 farm gardens were included. The goal for 1944 is a 10 per cent increase, or a total of 792,000 gardens.

Lessons learned from gardening in 1943 should be used by every gardener, says Paul Krone, chief of the state victory garden section of the civilian war service.

Some gardens may have been too small, some gardens may have been too large for adequate care. The canning of more garden produce is to be stressed in the statewide educational program. A statewide contest is not planned, although county or local groups will be encouraged and given guidance if they desire to operate contests.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Sure's a lot of talk going around nowadays about post-war planning...folks passing resolutions . . . statesmen holding conferences . . . governments making promises to each other.

But as Bert Childers says: "What good is all this drawing up of plans unless each one of us decides to make his corner of the world a better place to live in?"

From where I sit, Bert's put the problem in a nutshell. Governments can pass all the resolutions and make all the treaties they can think of—and it's still up to the people themselves to see to it that the world is ruled by tolerance and understanding.

Unless we make up our minds to respect the other fellow's rights and liberties—whether it's the right to enjoy a glass of beer occasionally or the right to vote according to our conscience—all our post-war planning won't be worth the paper that it's printed on.

Payroll Planning

On August 1, 1943, the National Resources Planning Board went out of existence. Congress demanded its abolishment in order to effect a saving of over one million dollars annually. Recently, however, it was revealed that 29 of the full-time key officials of the NRPB are still on the public payrall, having been transferred to other positions in the hundreds of New Deal agencies. Our national planners are highly successful when planning for themselves if not so successful when planning for the public.

Household Hints

Recently the OPA issued a little booklet entitled "Uncle Sam Keeps Your Rent Down—You Must Keep Your Home Up." Some two million copies of this booklet were printed at the taxpayers' expense at a cost of some $25,000.

The booklet has 15 pages and contains some 80 suggestions to householders. Among these suggestions we find: Keep your children from writing on the walls. Do not throw paper or debris where it will clog drain-pipes. Oil all squeaking hinges. Do not throw lighted cigarettes out of the window. Mop up spilled water.

It seems to me these who got up this booklet consider the general public rather illiterate. I wonder how many of you who are paying income tax relish the thought of your tax contribution going for the printing of such a simple booklet?

Quoting Another Roosevelt

Here is what Theodore Roosevelt said about criticizing the man who occupies the high office of President of the United States:

'The President of the United States is merely the most important among a large number of public servants. He should be supported or opposed exactly to the degree which is warranted by his good conduct or bad conduct, his efficiency or inefficiency in rendering loyal, able and dis-interested service to the nation as a whole.'

"Therefore, it is absolutely necessary that there should be liberty to tell the truth about the acts of the President of the United States, and this means that it is exactly necessary to blame him when he does wrong or to praise him when he does right. Any other attitude in an American citizen is both base and servile. Nothing but the truth should be spoken about the President of the United States, or anyone else. But to announce that there must be no criticism of the President of the United States or that we are to stand by the President right or wrong, is not only unpatriotic and servile, but is morally treasonable to the American spirit.'

Congress invariably is criticized not only by the President, but by the public, for their heated arguments and debates over various important legislation which comes before us. We are accused of creating disunity, of hampering the war effort, of playing into the hands of our enemies. But constructive argument and criticism spells democracy in action. No two people think exactly alike and it is only through debate and discussion—even though it sometimes becomes heated and points out errors in the administration of our government—that a law is enacted which received the approval of the majority.

Continuing the OPA

A controversial issue will be before the Congress in a few weeks, namely, the question of what changes to make in OPA. The present OPA law expires June 30, and must be extended or revised if price control continues. Congress in the main is determined to force administrative improvements; to whittle down OPA practices which many believe go far beyond Congressional authorization. Congress, angered not at the basic doctrine of price control, but the extremes to which it has been pushed, is thinking about specific restrictions to be placed on OPA practices. In the making will be a call for a review of OPA decisions by regular courts. This would establish the right of appeal from OPA decisions in the regular way. If present indications are borne out, it is probable that Congress will take advantage of the renewal of OPA legislation to settle exactly how far this agency can go in its rules, regulations and practices.

Not by air or on the ground, predicts the eminent scientist and Nobel prize winner Dr. Langmuir, but in a luxurious magnet-propelled train whisked through a frictionless vacuum tunnel. How such a train could make up to 5,000 miles an hour is told by Gobind Behari Lal, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

LEGISLATURE ASKED TO PURCHASE LAND

Porcupine Mountains, Recreation Area Under Consideration

State acquisition of 100,000 acres of land in southeastern Michigan to provide outdoor recreational outlets for three-fifths of Michigan's population, and of approximately 46,000 acres in the Porcupine Mountains area in the far western end of the northern peninsula, is being sought by the department of conservation in a bill now before the special session of the legislature.

The bill, providing for an appropriation for 1944-45 of $1,500,000 to begin purchases in southeastern Michigan and $500,000 with which to start acquisition of the Porcupine Mountains, has been given the endorsement of Governor Harry F. Kelly and the Michigan Planning Commission.

Plans for the acquisition of a large area of land in southeastern Michigan to be used for all types of outdoor recreation have been in the process of formulation by the department of conservation for more than a decade.

Proposal for acquiring the Porcupine Mountains includes not only the mountains themselves but a considerable tract of adjacent virgin timber. The entire area would include 46,000 acres. Not only would the project include the last considerable stand of virgin mixed hardwood in the country, but also the highest mountain ranges in the middle western states. According to a resolution adopted by the conservation commission last summer, the mountains, if purchased, would become a public recreation area and a monument to preserve Michigan's last spot of primeval wilderness.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—In grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

A REMINDER...

VOTE MONDAY

American men and women are fighting and dying today to safeguard our rights under American democracy—to guarantee forever our precious right to choose, by popular ballot, those who are to represent us.

It must not be said that we of Charlevoix do not cherish the right of a free ballot—once purchased, and now protected, by American blood.

It is the duty of each and every one of us to express his convictions at the polls, Monday, February 21st.

FIRST IN THE HEART OF WASHINGTON

THERE were a lot of "firsts" attributed to Washington, but in the heart of this great patriot there was only one first: his country . . . our country. While we are fighting for what he founded, let's put personal ambitions behind us and make this country our first thought, too.

Will the war affect your lending policy?

Our willingness and readiness to lend continue unchanged. However, now the thought foremost in our mind is American victory in the war. Loan applications for purposes that in any way help the war effort will have first call on our attention.

We by no means wish to discourage applications for other types of loans. If you need money for any sound purpose, come in and apply. Borrowers are always welcome here.

Kit Carson No Longer Believes In Ancient Adage

You can't tell Kit Carson now tthat a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush—and make him believe it.

While fishing at Ironton, Sunday, Mr. Carson saw an unusual sight for this time of year—a flock of Canadian geese flying north. As the birds approached, they swooped down on what they unfortunately mistook for open water—a sheet of glare ice. The shock of the unexpected impact stunned them somewhat and Kit conceived the bright idea of catching one for dinner. He ran for the dark ice, but at its edge, stumbled and shot sprawling on his stomach into the midst of the flock. When he came to, there was a goose in each hand. But the right hand bird made a pass at his nose and he was forced to let go of the other. By the time he had subdued the belligerent bird, the flock (numbering about a hundred) had risen and, circling a couple of times, headed north again.

But, there is yet more to the tale. Kit took the remaining goose home and put it in the chicken house. Monday morning, he found it had killed one of his prize roosters. At latest account, he was engaged in looking up the law to see if any international complications would result from shooting a Canadian goose on its way home.

STUDENTS OFFERED MSC SCHOLARSHIPS

File Applications with Alumni Chairman by April 15

Sixty-four undergraduate scholarships having a total value of $7,680 will be offered graduates of accredited Michigan high schools this year by Michigan State College alumni, it was announced by Glen O. Stewart, alumni secretary.

There will be a minimum of one award in each of the state's 32 senatorial districts. The individual scholarship amounts to $120—or $40 a quarter—and represents a waiver of tuition by the college, exclusive of matriculation fee. If scholarship standards are maintained, the grant may be continued through the entire college course of 12 quarters.

Applications for scholarships will be handled by alumni committees in the districts. Each may choose a maximum of six candidates and to be eligible applicants must have been in the upper one-third of their class and their economic status must warrant financial aid. April 15 is the deadline for filing applications with district chairmen, whose names are available from high school principals. Scholarships will be designated by a college faculty committee after an examination of contestants in May at five places in the state.

Youngest Bond Buyer

Local taxpayers will receive assistance in preparing intangibles tax returns during March from W. F. Brooder, field examiner for the Michigan department of revenue.

Mr. Brooder will establish headquarters at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank on March 10, 17 and 24, from 1 to 5 p. m.

Intangibles tax returns for 1943 must be filed not later than March 31, 1944, to escape interest and penalty charges. Bank accounts, cash on hand, mortgages, land contracts, stocks, bonds, building and loan investments, matured annuities, accounts and notes receivable, and other similar investments are taxable as intangible personal property. Bank accounts and building and loan investments are exempt to the extent of $3,000. War bonds, as well as other types of U. S. government bonds, are exempt from the tax. Postal savings, however, are taxable.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mr. Brooder at 308 Park avenue, phone 358-J, or by writing the Michigan Department of Revenue, Intangibles Tax Division, 200 Tussing Bldg., Lansing, Michigan.

NAVY POPULAR CHOICE OF MICHIGAN YOUTHS

Educational Opportunities Are Offered to Enlistees

Popularity of the navy among 17-year-olds is evidenced by the fact that 5,940 youths of this age joined the navy in lower Michigan during 1943.

This was announced today by Lieut.-Comdr. Byron E. Fletchner, officer in charge of navy recruiting and induction in this area.

He said that questions asked recruiters by 17-year-olds indicate they enlist, not only because of patriotic motives and a lust for adventure, but for the opportunity to better themselves through navy training.

He urged 17-year-olds to choose the navy now while they still can be assured of getting in this branch of service.

Information about the navy's earn-while-you-learn program may be obtained at the navy recruiting station in Traverse City's post office building.

RAYDERS TAKE TWO VICTORIES

Charlevoix 41, Ellsworth 14

Charlevoix made 5 points in the first quarter while holding Ellsworth to no score. Twenty points for the locals in the second frame, and two field goals for Ellsworth, brought the count 25 to 4. Scoring was slow in the third period. The locals made 3 points to Ellsworth's 5, to hold a 28 to 9 lead. During the final period, Charlevoix tallied 13 points as Ellsworth made 5.

Bellinger rang up 20 points for the locals, Hardy made 6, Plumm 5, Chambers and Ward 4 each, Belfy 2. VanStedum and Supernaw each made 4 points for the visitors, Ruis, Tyrrell and Bergsman netted one field goal apiece.

Two more games remain on the Rayders' schedule. This Friday night they go to Boyne City, with hopes of repeating their 34 to 27 victory over the Ramblers. Harbor Springs comes here February 25 for the final game.

The County Bank building at the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets, one of Charlevoix's oldest landmarks, was destroyed by fire Friday morning. B. L. Harrington first saw the flames from his residence diagonally across Clinton street, and turned in the alarm. Loss included all bank records and fixtures except that which was in the main vault; stock and fixtures of the J. L. Crane store; contents of the offices of A. L. Fitch, Lisle Shanahan and Justice Joseph R. Cooper, on the second floor; and equipment, regalia and furnishings of the newly opened K. of P. lodge rooms on the third floor. Temperature which reached 28 degrees below zero hampered firemen in their work.

Albert Staley, manager of the Charlevoix Hardware Co., is attending a hardware dealers' convention in Grand Rapids this week.

School Notes—Student council members for the new semester are: seniors, Musa Richardson, Margaret Krulik; juniors, Leon Solomon, Elizabeth Higman; sophomores, Lucile Belding, Margaret Lennis; freshmen, Vincent Madison, Billy Fessenden; eighth grade, Lawrence Parmalee, LaRue Higman. Charlevoix's fifth annual winter carnival, held last Wednesday and Thursday, attracted people from the entire northern Michigan region. Horses were raced on Antrim street's half-mile straightaway track. In ski-joring races, William Woods, Fred Hardy and Earl Harrington placed in the order named. George LaBlance, Glen Dixon and Donald McHugh were one, two, three in the dog sled races on Bridge street, featured by the usual free-for-all among the canine participants. Skating race winners were Bill Bergmann, Bruce Withers, George Smith, Drew Young, Harold Bolton, Robert Livingston, Norman Anee, Frank Smith, Dan Geneit, David Livingston, Marvin Dixon, Charles Novotny, Janet Livingston, Byrnece Lamphear, Dick Marshall, and Dr. Claire Curtier of Grand Rapids. Prizes for the longest bobsled runs down Bridge street went to Devere Bird, 1st; Eugene Stroud, 2nd; Will C. Heilinger, 3rd; and Harley Ochs, 4th. The annual carnival parade was held Thursday afternoon, with floats lined up for half a mile.

Bridge street hill will be kept iced and in good condition for coasting throughout the winter season.

To Second Ward Voters--

I am a candidate for re-election as alderman for the second ward of Charlevoix in the Primary Election of February 21st.

I am emphatically in favor of the acquisition of whatever new industry Charlevoix can obtain.

I believe our present zoning ordinance will need some modification, but also believe that any revision should be in the best interests of the whole community, rather than for the special benefit of a few. I do not believe that any enterprise has the moral right to depreciate the value of adjacent property.

I also believe that the disposition of this question will influence the future of Charlevoix sufficiently to warrant the earnest consideration of every voter.

Let's All Vote!

PIONEER GROCER DIES SUDDENLY

MARTIN BLOCK IN BUSINESS HERE FOR 36 YEARS

Respected Merchant Prominent In City's Business And Fraternal Life

Martin Block, pioneer merchant and respected citizen, died suddenly, Saturday afternoon, in his store, as the result of a stroke.

While not actually ill, and able to perform his duties in connection with the grocery and meat business that he has carried on for the past 30 years, Mr. Block was known to have been in poor health for a long time. Even so, the news of his death came as a considerable shock to his family and friends.

Born in Allegan, Michigan, March 12, 1881, the son of Peter and Hannah Block, Martin came with his family to Atwood at the age of 12. In 1890, the Blocks settled on a farm near Barnard and it was from there that, in 1008, Martin came to Charlevoix and started in the grocery business, which has been in its present location since 1917.

On April 6, 1010, Mr. Block was married here to Harriett Andersen, who survives him. A son, Martin, Jr., died in infancy.

Deceased belonged to the Masonic lodge, was a member of the Charlevoix hospital board for several years, a charter member of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club and a member of the Methodist church since 1017.

There are four surviving brothers: Henry, George and Milton of Charlevoix, James, of Alpena, and a sister, Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Flint.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday, with Reverend Leigh H. Hagle officiating and interment at Brookside cemetery. Charlevoix business places were closed for the funeral.

RECEIVES NEWS FROM RELATIVES IN NORWAY

American, Norwegian Red Cross Transmitted Message

Mrs. Trina Nelson received welcome news Friday from relatives in Bergen, Norway, from whom she had not heard since March, 1043.

Coming through the Norwegian Red Cross, the message was in reply to one Mrs. Nelsen sent nearly a year ago through the American Red Cross. It was written by a cousin with whom Mrs. Nelsen had made her girlhood home in Norway, and simply stated that the family were all well and sent greetings.

This is the second message Mrs. Nelson has received from her family in Nazi-held Norway.

Joint Lodge Supper

Members of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow lodges hold a co-operative supper at the hall on Thursday evening, with an attendance of about 50. An evening of games followed the meal. Arrangements were in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. E. E. Stroud, chairman, Mrs. Walter Yemmans and Mrs. Maurice Dixon.

CSO Contributors

The Charlevoix Service Organization acknowledges contributions from Mrs. Frank Bird, James Raymon, Walter H. Henley.

BOARD OF COMMERCE OFFICERS ELECTED

Charles A. Hamlin Is President For Ensuing Year

Officers of the Charlevoix board of commerce were chosen Monday in a popular election held concurrently with the city primary election, at the city hall.

Charles A. Hamlin, vice president for the past year, was elected president, defeating Fred E. Cartier by a close vote of 165 to 154.

For vice president, Arthur Wexstaff was victor over Harold Miller by a decisive majority of 180 to 131.

Dean Davenport and Arthur Bergeon were elected directors for three years, to succeed Charles A. Doerr and E. J. Smith, whose terms are expiring. Opposing Mr. Davenport for office of director were Mr. Duerr and Kit Carson.

The new officers will assume their duties at the next board of commerce meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, March 1.

RED CROSS ASKS LARGE WAR FUND

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY, CITY QUOTAS ARE DOUBLED

Chairman Otto P. Krueger Names Committee Heads for City; Drive Opens March 3

Chairmen of committees for the 1944 Red Cross war fund campaign which begins Friday, March 3, have been announced by Otto Krueger, chairman for the city of Charlevoix.

Solicitation will be in charge of the following: first ward, Mrs. Clair S. Webster; second ward, Mrs. Carl F. Kohler; third ward, Mrs. Fred V. Tyler; business district, Joseph Howard; city hall, Mrs. Nelle A. Hammond; court house, Fenton R. Bolow; school, Ray L. Kipke; Foster Boat Co., Clair S. Webster; organizations, Lou Comfort. Other committee members will be appointed to aid in solicitation in residential districts.

Solicitation in rural districts of the county will be in charge of AAA committeemen, who capably handled the task in last year's campaign.

Charlevoix county has been asked to raise $10,000 this year for the American Red Cross, of which this city's share is $2,900. The county quota is more than double the amount raised last year. In order to reach this goal, every citizen will be called upon to give generously to the war fund campaign.

ODD FELLOWS REGAIN MARGIN IN CRIBBAGE

Two More Games In Winter Card Series Between Lodges

Odd Fellows regained their cribbage lead over the Masons Monday night, winning the eighth game of the winter series at their own lodge hall.

With only four and a half tables in play, Odd Fellows made a team score of 8,226 to the Mason's 7,083. They now hold a slender lead of 41 points.

High point man for the victors was C. V. Miles, with a card of 953. John Macy led the Masons with 930 points.

Next Monday's game will be played at the Masonic temple.

LIBRARIAN RESIGNS AFTER LONG SERVICE

Charlevoix Library Directed By Miss Payton for 26 Years

Miss Minnie E. Payton, librarian at Charlevoix public library for more than 26 years, presented her resignation to the board of education this week.

The resignation will take effect May 15, and Miss Payton will leave immediately after that date for San Diego, Calif., to make her home with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon S. Payton.

Since she accepted the position of librarian on September 1, 1017, Miss Payton has worked constantly for the improvement of Charlevoix's library. She is resigning because she is greatly in need of a complete rest.

Through her zealous efforts, the library has come to be recognized among visitors from all parts of the nation as a thoroughly modern, up-to-date institution. Much favorable comment has been received from summer residents, most of whom reside in large cities, as to the completeness of files, clippings on a great variety of subjects, and promptness with which new books are obtained here.

Miss Payton has devoted much time to building up a section of books and clippings on Michigan, concerning both historical events and the state's natural history. She has also made perhaps the most complete existing record of the city of Charlevoix's history, through clippings and newspaper files.

Within the past year, a children's reading room has been instituted in the library under Miss Payton's sponsorship. Mrs. Margaret Bowman is in charge of this section of the library.

No decision has yet been made by the board of education as to the appointment of a new librarian.

PYTHIANS TO HONOR STUDENTS OF C. H. S.

Merit Awards Presented Before Charlevoix-Harbor Game

Pine Lake Lodge No. 122, Knights of Pythias, will make their annual presentation of awards of merit to outstanding students of Charlevoix high school on Friday night.

Presentation of the awards will take place at the gymnasium, at 8 o'clock, preceding the Charlevoix-Harbor Springs basketball game.

To be eligible for this honor, students must have earned at least a "B" semester average in each course, including citizenship, for the last two semesters of enrollment in this high school. Several students are receiving the award for the fourth time.

Those who will receive awards are:

Ninth grade — Janet Bulow, William Carey, Phyllis Ann Trimble, all first-time awards.

Sophomores — Bonnie Sutton, Elaine Taylor, second award; Joan Heiso, Maxine Lewis, Beth Meggison, third award.

Juniors — Joan Nelson, Mary Jane Usher, first awards; Anne Campbell, Marion Craig, Beverly Hooker, fourth award.

Seniors — Phyllis Martin, first award; Jean Celiner, Clara Cummings, second award; Otto Harvey, Marie Jancha, Lucile May, Ione Wickersham, third award; Lois Walstad, Virginia Young, fourth award.

RATION PROGRAM CHANGES SUNDAY

TOKENS VALID; NEW FOOD STAMPS EFFECTIVE

Rationing System Simplified By March 21; Get Same Quantity Food Under New Plan

Beginning February 27, Charlevoix housewives will be handling a new type of ration currency. When the new plan of the office of price administration goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. Sunday, tokens become the small change of rationing.

After that date, all red and blue point stamps in ration book four will have a value of 10 points each, regardless of the value now indicated on these stamps. However, stamps carrying over from earlier in February will retain their original value of 8, 5, 2 and 1 points until they expire on March 20.

Tokens, valued at one point each, are made in red and blue to correspond with the red and blue stamps in book four. Consumers will not have to obtain a supply of tokens before the program goes into effect, but will receive them when making purchases after the new system starts. Tokens may be used in making purchases as well as in change for stamps. Thus, children can be sent to the store with tokens, and the ration book can remain safely at home. Consumers will not be permitted to exchange stamps into tokens without making a purchase of rationed commodities.

Blue stamps totaling 50 points are allotted for the first month of the new plan, as compared with 48 under the old plan. Red point allotments will, however, be 15 points a week instead of 16 as at present. These changes in allotments will be taken into consideration when the new point values are established. Each ration book holder will receive the same quantity of food as under the old system.

Following is the schedule of red and blue stamps which become valid February 27. Stamps, it will be noticed, will be used horizontally across the book.

Processed foods — Blue stamps A8, B8, C8, D8, E8, valid February 27 through May 20. Next series valid from April 1 to June 20.

Meats, Cheese, Butter, Etc. — Red stamps A8, B8, C8, valid February 27 through May 20. Red stamps D8, E8, F8, valid March 12 through May 20.

The following stamps will carry over from earlier February and retain their original value of 8, 5, 2 and 1 points.

Processed foods—Green stamps K, L, and M, in book four.

Meats, Cheese, Butter, Etc. — Brown stamps Y and Z, book three.

By March 21, the merchant and consumer will be concerned with only one food ration book, stamps numbering 10 points each instead of different values, and the tokens for change.

WELL-KNOWN LOCAL WOMAN PASSED AWAY

Lottie E. Coon Died Last Thursday of a Heart Attack

Mrs. Lottie E. Coon, wife of Fred Coon and long a resident of this city, was suddenly stricken, last week, at her home in Indian River, following a short illness which had been slowly developing since an accident which she suffered fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Coon was born in Norwood township, June 1, 1878, at the farm home of her parents, Henry and Eleonor Hantz, who came to this country from Germany. She attended the McGeogh school and was married to Fred Coon in 1901. The couple made their home on the old Miller place, or what is now the Greiner farm, in Marion township. Shortly afterwards, they moved to Charlevoix and had made their residence here until a year ago, when they went to Indian River. No children were born of this union.

Deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Charles Allard, of this city, and Mrs. Etta Quick, of Grand Rapids, who was here for the funeral. Another sister, Mrs. Mary Schaeffer, formerly of Charlevoix, and a brother, Edward Hantz, preceded her in death. She had two nieces, Mrs. John Dupree of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Robert Schmidlapt, of Madison, Ind., and a nephew, Harold Quick, now in the service.

Services were held at the See funeral home on Monday, February 21, with Rev. W. D. Wood, Church of God, officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

MUST HAVE NEW AUTO LICENSES WEDNESDAY

Last-Minute Rush Is Expected At Local Branch Office

Tuesday, February 28, is the last day on which 1942-43 automobile license plates may be used legally, warns Fenton R. Bulow, manager of the secretary of state's local branch office.

Indications point to the usual last-minute rush of motorists to obtain new plates. As an added convenience to auto owners, the office at the court house will be open Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Motorists are requested to bring car titles with them when buying new plates. There is no extension from the Tuesday deadline.

METHODIST MINISTER RETURNS TO PULPIT

Rev. Leigh H. Hagle to Resume Duties Sunday Morning

Rev. Leigh H. Hagle will return to the pulpit of the Methodist church at the 11 o'clock service Sunday, after an absence of 16 weeks because of ill health.

During Mr. Hagle's illness and convalescence, the pulpit has been filled by Rev. Fred T. Champion, member of the Indiana conference who has made his home in Petoskey this winter.

Rev. Champion has been called to supply the pulpit of Ashury Methodist church in Traverse City until June, as their pastor is entering service in the navy.

Youngest Bond Buyer

Current holder of the title of "youngest bond buyer" in Charlevoix during the Fourth War Loan, is Mary Jo Koboski, daughter of Pfc. and Mrs. Joseph Koboski (Evelyn Hull). Mary Jo, who was born January 27, received her first war bond when she was eight days old.

LOCAL QUARTET PLACES EIGHTH

"Tunetwisters" Compete At State Meet In Muskegon

Charlevoix chapter No. 19, S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., sent one of its three charter quartets, the "Tunetwisters", to Muskegon, last Saturday, to compete at the annual state convention of this nationwide organization of chord warblers.

The quartet, consisting of Robert Miles, tenor, Dean Davenport, lead, Clifford ("Tip") Riley, baritone and Casmir Rose, bass, placed eighth among the seventeen competing quartets from all over the state.

The boys had a good time and reported that the "Harmony Hails" of Grand Rapids, whom Charlevoix people had the pleasure of hearing at the local chapter's "jamboree" at the Beech Hotel, last August won first place at Saturday's singfest, thereby establishing themselves as state champions for 1944. These Gr. Rapids barbershoppers will go to Detroit in June of next year to take on all comers at the national convention of the association.

RAYDERS WINNERS OVER BOYNE CITY

SCORED 21 TO 15 VICTORY ON RAMBLER COURT

Harbor Comes Here Friday Night For Last Game; Undefeated In Class C Conference

Coach Kipke's Red Rayders took Friday night's basketball game from the Boyne City Ramblers, winning 21 to 15 on the Boyne floor.

The Raydors repeated their previous victory over the Ramblers, who hover near the bottom of the northern Michigan class C conference. Boyne made a good start, but were speedily headed by the locals.

Scoring was slow in the first quarter, which ended 4 to 3 in Boyne's favor. The Ramblers retained a small lead at the half, scoring 7 points to Charlevoix's 5 to place the count at 11 to 8. Charlevoix's attack began to click in the third frame, when they tallied 8 points, allowing Boyne two free throws to make the score 16 to 13. In the final period, the Rayders netted a field goal and three free shots, holding Boyne to a single field goal.

Chambers scored 6 points to top the Rayders' scoring; Plum made 5, Bellinger and Hardy 4 each, Belfy 2. High point man for Boyne was McGeorge, with 8 points; Lockman made 5, Miller and Russel 1 apiece.

In the preliminary, Charlevoix reserves defeated Boyne's second string by a narrow margin of 13 to 12. High point men were Mol, Charlevoix, and Price, Boyne City, scoring 5 points each.

Basketball fans are promised an exciting tilt this Friday night, when the Rayders meet Harbor Springs at the local gymnasium. Harbor is undefeated in the conference, winning all five conference games they have played, including a 23 to 20 victory over the locals early in the season. Charlevoix has won five of seven conference games, and while they cannot win the championship by defeating Harbor, they can cut Harbor's lead so the Rams will be tied with Mancelona for the title.

Given Majority of 30 Votes Over George LaBlanc Jr., In Only Contest On Ballot

Monday's primary election resulted in re-nomination of all city officials whose names appeared on the ballot.

While the vote was somewhat larger than last year's record low of 169 ballots, the greatest number of votes cast for any candidate was 301. Total number of ballots was 321.

Only contest on the ballot was in the second ward, where Alderman D. C. Nettleton was opposed for re-nomination by George LaBlanc Jr. The challenger was defeated by a vote of 140 to 116.

Mayor Robert Bridge, unopposed for nomination to a sixth term, received 293 votes. Ray S. Hamilton received 294 votes for nomination to his 17th term as city clerk. Nelle A. Hammond, city treasurer, received 301 votes.

Others nominated without opposition were: First ward—supervisor, Angus L. Fochtman; alderman, Karl J. Erber. Second ward—supervisor, Arthur Bergeon. Third ward—supervisor, Clarence B. Meggison; alderman, W. E. Goss. All are present office holders.

Following is the vote by wards:

First Ward

Bridge	25
Hamilton	26
Hammond	27
Fochtman	27
Erber	23

Second Ward

Bridge	205
Hamilton	203
Hammond	208
Bergeon	192
Nettleton	140—30
LaBlanc	110

Third Ward

Bridge	63
Hamilton	65
Hammond	66
Meggison	64

LOCAL BOY VICTIM LINGERING ILLNESS

Charles Ashdon Died Last Week Wednesday At Hospital

Charles, N. Ashden, nineteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashdon, died at the Charlevoix hospital, last Wednesday afternoon following an illness of several weeks, the culmination of a long period of poor health.

A popular and promising student at Charlevoix high school, Charles had endeared himself to his schoolmates, and other townsfolk who knew him, by his cheerful and friendly disposition. He was born in Charlevoix, January 12, 1925 and spent his entire life here.

He is survived by his parents, a brother, Robert Ashdon, boatswain's mate, first class, U. S. coast guard, stationed here and a sister, Mrs. Dan Dalton, also of Charlevoix.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Leigh H. Hagle, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Highest prices paid for good used cars. See Karl J. Erber, Northern Auto Co., Charlevoix, Mich.—32tf.

Lest We Forget

Reviewing a Bit of Charlevoix's History Through the Time-Worn Pages of Old Courier Files.

Fifty-Eight Years Ago

Thursday, February 18, 1886
(From the files of the Charlevoix Journal)

(Proof that our grandfathers were more logical than ourselves—three full columns of advertising on the front page—the stuff that brought in the money got preferred position.)

A. J. Mudge placed the first wholesale order for flour with the new mill.

Al Washburn is in Cadillac on business — expects to return today.

We have tried the flour from the new mill and knew it to be equal to the best in the market. Last night they run out fifteen barrels after supper to meet the immediate demand.

(However, someone is always trying to take the joy out of life, as follows.)

Speaking of our rejoicing in our new mill the Petoskey Record says: Charlevoix folks and Charlevoix county farmers will be kicking in due time. No flour is ever popular in the town where it is made and there are no farmers anywhere who don't think the miller gouges them. Milling is the queerest business under the sun and the notions of people about flour are wonderful and past finding out." (Of course, the Journal editor had a snappy comeback for this rude jibe.)

Married—At the parsonage, by the Rev. J. T. Iddings, February 15th, Mr. John S. McIntosh and Miss Serepta Cooper, both of Marion.

(Notice how they put the man's name first. A bridegroom really counted for something in those days.)

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

(The following letter was addressed to the Foster Boat Company and turned over to the Courier for publication.)

Gentlemen:

Well, here we are, just waiting for our chance to get over there, get this war over and come back home again. We have our training in now and are just waiting orders to move.

I have been here in the Seabees since October 28th, but now a part of us have transferred back to the regular Navy and expect orders to move any time. They can't come too soon to suit me. I thought I might get a ten day leave about January 1st and planned to get some fishing up there with Bill Bellinger and some of the other boys.

How are the perch biting up there now? Fine, I hope. There is nothing I would enjoy better right now than a big plate of perch or trout.

I was just looking through "Motorboat" for May, 1943 and imagine my surprise to find on the second page a picture of Charlevoix and a letter from your firm that really made me homesick for dear, old Charlevoix and all my dear friends there.

I get letters from quite a few buddies in service and also get the Courier regularly, so keep up on the news. Just keep 'em sailing and the Navy will, too.

Yours truly in service,
Clarence C. McCalmon, WT3 c

Dear Editor:

I want to write and let you know that I have a new address. Also, I wish to thank you and all the people of Charlevoix responsible for sending the Courier to me. I enjoy it very much, for I feel like I am a part of your city. I made many swell friends and my graduation from High left me with many lifelong acquaintances. Although I only lived a short time in your city, I will never forget the good times I had there.

As you know, I am in the Army Air Corps, and have been since August 9, 1943.

ARMY TESTS NEW DEVICE

Charlevoix county's record-breaking low temperature of 33 degrees below zero, which up to 1941 broke all previous records, was balmy compared with sub-zero temperatures recorded the year around at Lawrence, Mass., in the arctic room of the U. S. army quartermaster corps.

Created to test cold weather clothing for Uncle Sam's doughboys, this unique laboratory utilizes one of industry's newest electronic devices, an electronic potentiometer.

Each soldier volunteering for the tests remains for hours at a time in the arctic room, exposed to temperatures varying from 40 to 60 degrees below zero. During these test periods the new and ingenious electronic device is connected, it was stated, to a wired harness which each man wears under his clothing.

Temperatures at eight points on his body, beneath the clothing being tested, are electronically recorded in a matter of seconds by use of the potentiometer, according to army officials.

The tests at Lawrence are said to have verified one conviction of veteran Charlevoix county amateur weather experts, namely, that when a man shivers he becomes warmer.

Data accumulated there on the reaction of the human body to long periods of intense cold, and on the warmth-giving qualities of different kinds of clothing and fabrics, have enabled the quartermaster corps to make available the improved types of arctic protection being used by our armed forces.

The results of the tests will, it is believed, be reflected in warmer clothing which will be available to civilians after the war.

FARM BOOM

Even while this nation's attention is centered on a great war—or possibly on account of it—people's attention seems to be turning again strongly toward the land. Reports from the military camps and the fighting fronts tell of men from the cities and towns talking about getting a farm, or at least a piece of land in the country, when they return home. It may be merely a pleasant dream in most cases, a natural reaction from the military jobs. But anyway it shows what they are thinking now, and such thinking in thousands of cases will lead to action when the time comes.

It is natural enough. Americans have always been land-hungry. It has been shown equally in their love for the soil and in their purchase of homes in cities. And the love for home-ownership and farms seems to grow after every war. The land suggests safety and refuge. Modern transportation, which makes it easy to get back and forth, tends to spread out the cities until it is often hard to tell where city ends and country begins.

MAPLE SAP RUN TO BE PREDICTED

Aid of the weather man has been enlisted to give warning to Michigan's maple syrup makers. When weather forecasts indicate the sap should start flowing, the warning will be issued to sugar-bush operators so that sap buckets can be hung before the first flow begins.

It's that early sap that makes the best syrup and sugar, says P. W. Robbins of the Michigan State College forestry department.

For two years the college has used the forecast system to hang out 500 to 600 buckets 24 hours before the sap starts to drip and to put out an equal number the day the first sap run starts. By taking advantage of these weather forecasts the college syrup makers have produced 30 to 40 more gallons of syrup than in former years when the buckets were not hung until the sap began to flow.

Weather notices are broadcast by the college radio station WKAR during the noon Farm Service Hour. When the sap forecast appears it will be broadcast at 12 noon, Eastern War Time, Professor Robbins announces.

Beaver Island "Out In Front"

Beaver Island has exceeded its quota in the Fourth War Loan drive up to date by ten per cent, according to information given out by H. E. L. Priest of St. James, chairman of the drive. The quota, set at $3,000, has been topped to $3,300, largely through the efforts of the island's school children, and the drive is still in progress, with February 29 as the deadline.

INCREASE SEA LAMPREYS MENACE TO LAKE TROUT

The abundance of sea lampreys in Lakes Michigan and Huron, particularly in the northern end of Lake Huron, is increasing to such an extent that this eel-like creature is becoming a serious menace to lake trout, according to the fisheries division of the state conservation department. Fishermen report as many as seventeen trout from a catch of twenty-eight examined to have lamprey scars.

Thursday evening, February 19, the Order of Knights of Pythias will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the order.

Death came shortly after 3 o'clock Monday to Mrs. Myrtle C. Young, after an illness covering about a year's duration. (She was a successful business woman and much beloved in the community.)

(Blacksmiths were still plying their trade, as witness ad. of Eugene Fairchild, announcing having secured one of the best horse-shoers in the state.

A runaway created a little excitement on Bridge Street, Sunday afternoon. The young lady driver, who was the only occupant of the sleigh, pluckily held on to the reins and succeeded in bringing the frightened steed to a standstill near Hines drug store, after narrowly escaping a collision with another rig which was standing near-by. (Wonder who she was.)

On January 23, 1914, Mr. Brayton Saltonstall read a paper before the Historical Society upon the subject, "Father Charlevoix." (We remember this occasion and the essay was a good one.)

The Senior class of 1914 were entertained, Saturday evening, at the home of Fred Zipp at Bay Shore, whose daughter, Ethel, is a member of that class.

Gangs of men are cutting ice and putting up the large supply for summer use. The ice is in excellent condition, ranging from 12 to 14 inches thick.

(In this week, Baker's Inn, which afterward became the old Hotel Charlevoix and burned, underwent one of its several transformations. The dining room was moved to the front of the building.)

Twenty-five Years Ago
Wednesday, February 19, 1919

(This was the week of the deadly flu epidemic that swept the country, following the war, and took its heavy toll of lives. The legislature was taking steps to prevent children under sixteen years of age from driving automobiles and the government was explaining the new income tax law and warning of heavy penalties for violation.)

A. Bergeon, forced to move on account of his present quarters being sold to Ed Kinoster, has leased the Earl Young building, first door south of the Central drug store, and will commence moving operations on March 1.

The council has disposed of the boiler and engine formerly used in the swing bridge on Bridge Street to Charles Hendrickson, Sr., who will install it in his fish tug.

Captain Pugh, former captain of the coast guard station here, and who is now stationed at Ludington, was in the city last week, calling on old friends.

(About as many soldier letters in this issue as we have now. It would be interesting to print them side by side and compare note, if time and space permitted.)

We hasten to correct an error in last week's notes. We stated that Thomas Covey had submitted to five operations for goitre, all on the same day. The item should have read that Mr. Covey's operation was one of five operations taking place at the hospital on that day. Our sincere apologies to the doctor. (Somebody's face was red.)

Mrs. John F. Smith, an old resident of this city, passed away Sunday, February 10th, at the home of her son, George W. Smith at Holly Hill, Fla.

(Twenty-four criminal cases on the court calendar, this week—mostly violations of the liquor law.)

Charlevoix trounced Harbor Springs for the second time here Friday night to earn a clear leadership in the Tip of Michigan Class C basketball conference. The victory, by a 20 to 12 margin, was their fifth in Class C competition and eighth in ten games.

Fred Christiansen, janitor at the home of Dr. George King, was slightly injured Saturday afternoon when a hot air furnace in the home exploded from some unknown cause. The furnace was blown into hundreds of pieces, causing considerable damage. (Seems as though Fred likes to be around things that blow up — he's an expert dynamiter, among other accomplishments.)

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herlan McGhan was badly damaged by fire, shortly after noon, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Paddock of East Jordan and Charlevoix have received a communication from their son and daughter-in-law, Commander H. E. Paddock, U. S. N., and Mrs. Paddock, telling of their being honored as guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt at a White House reception, February 8th.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Bob Newcomb was reading me a letter the other day from his son in the Marines. Dick Newcomb's somewhere in the South Pacific, thousands of miles from home, yet he writes to ask:

"Tell me, Dad, do they still pitch horseshoes back of Ray's? Is Johnny keeping my tools in shape? Are the trout still biting in Seward's Creek?"

Makes you realize what the men over there are thinking about. Sure, they're fighting for Democracy and Freedom and a Better World Tomorrow.

But the things they dream of coming back to are the little simple pleasures that mean home to all of us—like a home-cooked meal, a glass of beer with friends, a game of horseshoes in the backyard.

From where I sit, one of our most sacred obligations here at home is to keep those little things exactly as they remember them—to keep intact the world they're fighting for.

Rubber Salvage

We all remember the nation-wide rubber salvage campaign of 1942. Rubber Director Dewey reported recently that of the 754,000 tons collected, from 10 to 20 percent will have to be discarded as valueless. This 10 to 20 percent cost our government from $1,875,000 to $3,750,000. We certainly will continue to pay and pay in various ways for the lack of foresight on the part of those of our officials who refused to recognize the hand-writing on the wall with respect to our rubber picture before Pearl Harbor.

Our Federal Judiciary

It is generally known that President Roosevelt has appointed seven of the present nine members of the Supreme Court and elevated another, Harlan F. Stone, to the Chief Justiceship. It is not so generally known, however, that he has also appointed to the Circuit Court of Appeals 37 now sitting, as against 17 appointed by other Presidents and to the Federal District Courts, 113, as against 80 who were sitting before 1932. Thus a majority of the whole Federal Judiciary is obligated to him.

War Bond Turnover

It has been revealed that redemptions of war bonds are running about one for every five sales during the first five months of this fiscal year, indicating that sales pressure is selling many bonds which are being cashed in at considerable expense to the Treasury. The sales — 122,133,305 bonds; the redemptions 25,507,377 bonds. For the full year it is estimated sales will total around 490 million bonds and redemptions in the vicinity of 60 million. The Office of the Treasurer has asked for a higher appropriation to take care of the higher rate of redemption.

The Treasury must be commended for its decision to reduce the size of savings bonds by one-half which has resulted in the following savings — $5,000,000 in cost of manufacture, 3,400 tons of paper, 40% of shipping charges.

Our Oil Problem

Last week the House debated and passed a bill reported by our Mines and Mining Committee designed in years to come to alleviate in some measure our ever growing oil shortage. It authorized the Secretary of the Interior, acting through the Bureau of Mines, to construct and operate demonstration plants to produce synthetic liquid fuels from coal, oil shale, farm products, and other substances. That bill was the result of approximately one year and nine months of study by our Committee and a subcommittee of the Senate Public Lands Committee. By authorizing an appropriation of 30 million dollars it will make possible the construction of three pilot plants in which our Bureau of Mines experts would develop the methods by which synthetic fuels may be produced. One such test plant is already in operation in Pennsylvania.

This legislation had the support of the oil industry, because the industry believed the Government could lay down a pattern which they very quickly, perhaps, could follow and take over as a private enterprise. One most interesting fact was brought out during the course of our debate in regard to coal. According to figures produced of our natural resources, the value of our coal resources is more than four times as much as all others combined, yet the national income from coal for the year 1942 was less than one-percent. There are 28 states in this country which have coal deposits and about 12 having oil shale deposits. We were told that we have sufficient oil shale to furnish our oil and gasoline requirements at the present rate of use for 65 years. Oil shale at present is used for no other purpose and is going to waste. Research has indicated we would have sufficient coal to furnish all that is needed for heating and the ases to which it is now put and for all our synthetic liquid fuel for over 1,000 years.

The Interstate Oil Compact Commission in a report dated October, 1943, made this statement:

> "It is alarming to note that after every available barrel of oil is produced from the presently known and developed oil fields in America, including the 246,000 additional barrels (per day) that can come from Texas, we still will be 500,000 barrels a day short of the anticipated demands at the peak of the 1944 estimates of crude oil requirements."

Statistics show we are rapidly approaching the day when our natural resources of petroleum will be exhausted. Congress wisely recognized its responsibility and took steps which will help toward insuring a continuation of the progress our country has made since it "went on wheels."

I have been here since the 28th of December, but on January 1st I was taken ill with a slight case of pneumonia. I finally got back to duty January 28th and finished my classification tests, which I passed o. k.

I am now classed as a navigator and aviation cadet. I will remain here at San Antonio for my preflight course. This course is nine weeks long and, thereafter, I will probably be sent to gunnery school for six weeks and then finish my training at some advanced navigation school.

From the way things look, I won't be back in the north until next fall, for most of the training for navigators is here in Texas.

The climate isn't too bad, although we do have rain, fog and wind. But, still, we have had some of the "sunny" Texas weather.

Since I have been in San Antonio, I have visited the Alamo, which was fully as interesting as they say it is.

I must close now, as it is time for lights out. Thanking you again for the paper and hoping that I may see you sometime in the future, I remain.

Cordially yours,
Charles W. Harter

Dear Editor:

I sure am grateful to you for keeping me in mind and sending me the Courier. I want to acknowledge the fact that I enjoy reading your paper very much. Although I have been away from Charlevoix for some time, I still enjoy reading of my friends and the news of town.

At present, I am in my twelfth week of basic training and have five weeks more of it.

I sure was proud when I read of our town buying a bomber, and it means a lot to know that the town folks are behind us.

I will inform you of any change in address.

I remain,

Dear Editor:

Guess its about time I dropped you a few lines and thanked you and a lot of other people at home for sending me the paper.

I know that I should have written and let you know that I appreciated it a long time ago, but I never seem to get around to it. Have been awfully busy, lately, and tired — so, about all I do is go to the movie at night and then turn in for a little sleep.

Don't receive the Courier regularly, but, when I do, there are quite a few copies and I really read them from page to page.

I see where a lot of the fellows are out here in the South Pacific, but I don't seem to be able to run into any of them. Sure wish I could. Would like to have a running chatter about home with some one who has been there in the last couple of years.

Have about half of my time in out here, so, if it keeps on going as fast as it has been, it won't seem long until I am back in the states.

I hope some of the fellows have sent for my address and they think they are near this outfit. Would sure be glad to see them.

Guess I'll have to close now, as there isn't much to write about out here.

The following poem, dedicated to the merchant marine service, was sent by Willis Cross Jr., who recently entered that branch of service.

You can have your khaki,
You can have your navy blue;
But there is still another higher
I want to introduce to you.

The uniform is different,
The best you've ever seen—
The Germans call him "Water Dog,"
But his name is merchant marine.

He trained at St. Pete, Florida,
The land that God forgot,
Where the sand is nine feet deep
And the sun is scorching hot.

He has set many a table,
And many a dish he's dried.
He has learned to make his bed
And a broom so smoothly ride.

He has peeled a million onions
And twice as many spuds,
And all his leisure time is spent
In washing up his duds.

Now girls, just take a tip from me,
I'm sending this to you—
Find yourself a merchant marine,
There's nothing he can't do.

But when he goes to heaven,
To St. Peter he will yell,
"A merchant marine reporting, sir,
I've spent my time in hell."

Dear Editor:

Just a few lines to let you know I'm still alive. I'm receiving the paper every Saturday and I want to thank you and everyone in Charlevoix that makes it possible for us guys to get it.

I'm still doing office work and, so far, like it o. k. I guess they're going to make a yeoman out of me. I wrote to Henley about two weeks ago, but I haven't heard from him only once. I guess he's really getting the works down there.

Has Harry Zeitler been home on leave, or is he still in boot training? I used to hear from him quite regularly when I was at the Lakes.

I'd better sign off for now, as it's almost time for muster.

Dear Editor:

I'm in for a bit of traveling around, so if you'll just hang onto those good little weekly editions for me for a month or so until I can send you a permanent address I'll certainly appreciate it.

After almost three years in the navy it looks like I'm finally going to not only see a Navy ship, but actually take a trip on one. This trip should be a lot different than my yearly outings to Beaver Island aboard the "Mary Margaret", and I'm looking forward to a few days (or weeks) of empty stomach until I acquire some sea legs.

While the holiday season has long since passed, I'd like to take the lazy man's way out of thanking the Blue Star Mothers club, Kiwanis club and all the others at home who remembered the boys in uniform at Christmas time. Glen Rose's card and Luther Hannah's letter are also gratefully acknowledged at this time.

The Courier has been one of the "high spots" of the week for me for some time now even tho I've been fortunate enough to be stationed nearer home than any of the other boys from Charlevoix. I'm sure each mile I travel away it will mean just that much more to me, so don't forget to save each and every edition for forwarding. Thanks a million!

Sincerely,
Maurice Foster

Dear Editor:

Just a line to let you know I got back to camp o. k. after a swell trip. I really enjoyed my five days in Charlevoix, outside of the fact that I expected to have a good fish fry and also expected to see some snow, and was disappointed both times. Outside of that, everything went swell.

I spent two days in Detroit, visiting friends, then back to camp. Got in Sunday at midnight, tired but happy that I had a few days at home.

We are planning to move Saturday. About 50 per cent of us weren't accepted by the navy, and stay with the seabees. They told me I had an excellent chance of going to naval diesel school. Sure hope it is General Motors diesel in Detroit, that would sure be swell.

I am working in the post office now, helping get the mail straightened out. While we were on leave, they changed our barracks, but I finally got my last January Courier and 15 letters today, so I guess we will have it all straightened out soon.

I must ring off. Greetings to all my pals in service. I am trying to write to all of them as fast as I get their addresses.

Yours in service,
Clarence McCalmon WT3c

Personal Booklets for Telephone Numbers

FOR your convenience in telephoning, and to help reduce wasteful calls to "Information", we have reprinted "Telephone Numbers", a booklet for listing names, and addresses, and telephone numbers that are frequently called.

You can have copies free for the asking!

There are two handy sizes, one for pocket or handbag and one for home or office use. They are alphabetically tabbed and indexed for quick reference.

More than a thousand operating hours are wasted each day by calls to "Information" for numbers that are listed in the Telephone Directory. Here is how you can help eliminate that waste of switchboard and operators' time:

1. Call "Information" for a number only when it is not listed.
2. If you must call "Information", write the number down in your personal directory so you will have it next time.

To obtain copies of the booklet, call, write or visit the Telephone Business Office.

Michigan's soldier-suiter ballot plan, calling for the primary election July 11 and filing of candidates' petitions by May 16, is already speeding up stute politics.

Certain people must make up their minds.

For example, the Kelly-Keyes situation which is the current A-1 question in the Republicen purty. Will Dr. Eugene B. Keyes, lieutenant governor, abida by his 1943 pledge not to eppose Governer Kelly in the 1944 election or will he listen to voices of dissident partisans who would like to chastise the gevernor now?

In the Democratic camp tha absence of a strong candidate is causing concern. Judge Frank Picard is adamant to pieus that be should foresake the federal bench for state politics. Former Governor Murrny D. VanWagoner is reported to he disinterested in the hazards of the gubernatorisl twe-year term and, on the othor hand, very gratified by his substantial earnings as a consulting engineer.

Governor Kelly is a candidate for renomination and re-election. He has the support ef a solid front of Republican officials; secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and auditor general — all of whose terms end also noxt Dec. 31.

These men have the advantage accruing to the party in power. Their acts are being publicized almost dnily by performance of public duties, as contrasted to the Democrats' handicap ef awaiting for nominees to emerge.

The single possible threat to Kelly's renomination in the July 11 primary is the independent und politically ambitious Lieutenant Governor Keyes who apparently has not made up his mind whether to run for governor in 1944 or in 1946. Last spring he authorized nn interview stntement, verified in writing, that he would not oppose Keily for re-elcction in 1944. Recently he is said to have advised friends that he would not run for re-nomination as lieutenant governor in 1944. As these two stntements are at cross purposes, it may be assumed that Dr. Keyes has not reached n decision but will do so within the next ten weeks.

The Kelly-Keyes situation is out new in Lansing.

Governor VanWagoner found his running mate to be an attorney, virtually unknown upstate to party leaders, who possessed by happenstance the charmed und magic name of Frank Murphy. The two men had little in cemmon, and the lieutenunt governer was not summoned frequently for censultation at the governer's office.

Dr. Keyes finds himself in much the same position of his democratic predecessor. During the 1943 legislative session he was not invited to the gevernor's office for counsel, probably for the reasen that Kelly thought it more practical to get advice from other state leaders because of their background of experience.

Whether Keily intended it to be such is mere side speculntion, but the fact remains that Keyes has nat received the spetlight ef public attention which his personal ambition haa craved. He feels that he sheuld be mere than the presiding chairman of the state senate. In fact, as the potential governer of Michigan in the event of the death of the governor, he sheuld bo an active partner in mnking decisions nf government.

Unfortunately for Dr. Keyes, it has net worked out that way. It didn't werk out that way fer Lieut. Governor Frank Murphy. And there ure observers whe might add thnt the function of the lieutenant governor, under the state canstitution, was never intended to bo atherwise. For yeurs the lieutenant governor has been regurded mure as part of n pelitical cembinantion to woo the veters. The late Luren Dickinson possessed unique ballet virtua among upstate church-dry voters and was renominated almost biennially for second place ef the state ticket.

To a man of Kelly's well-defined logic it would be more sensible to provide in tho canstitution that one of the state elective officials—secretnry of stnte for example — should succeed the governor in event of the intter's deoth. Kelly's experience in state government was as secretnry of state. State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Auditor General Vernon J. Brown both received valunble trninlag in the state legislature.

The new governor then would be n man who had experience as a stnte administrntor, who wns familiar with current problems, and hence was in an intelligent position to net with wisdom.

As it is today, the lieutennatgovernor devotes perhaps one day each week to his duties of office except for the poriod of the legislative session at Lansing when he presides as chairman of the state senate. This isn't the fault of Dr. Keyes; it is just the official system.

Dr. Keyes' viewpoint is probably as follows: Another two years of limited opportunity to serve the public would autematically impose denial of self-expression. He would continue to be the presiding chairman of the senate, a month or so, now and then. He would attend sessions of the state administrative board. In brief, his chances for leadership would remain limited, while elective officials would have the accumulative benefit of the public spotlight because af their full-time services.

This dissatisfaction with his role may have led him to embrace the political opportunism of making a personal attack on Governor Kelly before the township supervisors, a move said to huve been countennnced by Melvin McPherson, Mayor George Welsh of Grand Rupids was unable to persunde the gevernor for diversien of sales tax to municipalities, and he nlso utiiized Keyes us a handy thrent of retaliation. County road commissions also remember the governor's veto of the 1943 highway act.

Other pressure comes from the C.I.O., for example, who condemn the governor for failuro to do this und that. Any special session puts the governor on the spot, for he is responsible nlene for inclusion of subject matter in the official call.

Because of the personalities involved, the Kelly-Keyes' clash was, and is, inevitable.

As the time nears when petitions must be filed, Dr. Keyes must make his decision — either to abide his time until 1949, as he pledged he would da in an authorized statement in this column last spring — or risk his politieal futuro in 1944 with a win-all-lose-all showdown with Governor Kelly.

Pride, an emotional fuctor, may prompt him to assume the risk now. Or cautious judgment may lead him to reuffirm his original decision which would bring the fateful test to 1946, a non-presidential election year.

The day af decision is drawing near.

AAA GETS SOY BEAN MEAL FOR FARMERS

Carload Distributed; Shipment Of Second Load Awaited

The car of soy bean meal which was allocated to Charlevoix county farmers by the state Triple-A committee has been distributed to dairy farmers through the three county co-operatives. Although the amount was inadequate, it has helped considerably and another car will be received in the county within the next few days.

It was only through the efforts of the War Food Administration that this meal was made available to farmers. Up to this time all soy bean meal had been going to large feed mixings companies.

Government feed wheat purchased from the Commodity Credit Corporation through the Triple-A office is still available to the farmers of this area. About 35,000 bushels have already been purchased by farmers in this county. Consequently, the production of meat, dairy and poultry products have been greatly augmented.

Feed wheat is still the lowest cost feed that the farmer can buy and at no time should a feeder pay in excess of $1.41 per bushel.

In the first place America needs great sums of money to fight the war. Much of this will come from the sale of Defense Bonds to the public. Taxes are mounting and require thrift to be met in an orderly, sensible manner. Personal thrift is important to ward off inflation. Thrift is desirable because it is the opposite of spending, which would compete with our defense effort. It is a means of providing for emergencies that may arise during the war, and for the period of adjustment after peace comes. We welcome the accounts of earnest savers.

REGULAR MEETING OF RED CROSS CHAPTER

Report on Furnishing Day Room Local Coast Guard Station

Officers and directors of the Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter held their monthly meeting Tuesday night at the Red Cross room in the city hall.

Following secretary's and treasurer's reports, an account of junior Red Cross work was given by Mrs. Anna Warner, Charlevoix, who has enrolled nearly every school in the county in this project.

Mrs. Paul Clark, chairman of the camp and hospital council, reported on work done at the Charlevoix coast guard station. Furnishing a pleasant day room with chairs, card tables, a radio, draperies, magazines, books and games has been undertaken by the county chapter. Charlevoix residents who have current magazines or interesting books which they would like to give to the station, may contact Mrs. Allen Campbell, phone 654.

Next meeting of the county chapter will be in East Jordan on Thursday, March 30.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Sprayer Service Meetings Wednesday, March 1

All farmers who own sprayers will be interested in the announcement that two meetings will be held on Wednesday, March 1, to discuss the care and operation of sprayers. G. L. Ricks, engineering expert of the John Bean Manufacturing Company, will be present to handle the subject matter.

The first meeting will be held in East Jordon city building in the afternoon of March 1, beginning promptly at 2:00 o'clock. The evening meeting will be in the basement of the Boyne City library at 8:00 o'clock. Colored slides will greatly help the speaker to discuss sprayer servicing.

The information presented is designed to fit all makes and models of sprayers. The construction and care, common field troubles and how to correct them, nozzle construction and adjustment and potato sprayers will be covered. Likewise all problems in handling potato sprayers will be considered. Certainly any farmer who operates a power spruyer, and more especially the farmers who have older models, should take the opportunity of learning how to care for their equipment. With the difficulty in purchasing new equipment it is more important now, to properly care for the used machinery. The entire public is welcome and urged to attend.

Home Economics Extension Leaders To Meet February 29

Charlevoix county homemakers enrolled in Michigan State College extension groups, sponsored by B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, will join forces with other state organizations in making sure that every family adopts the national food slogan "produce, conserve, share and play square."

Group leaders will meet on Tuesday, February 29, in the Boyne City library beginning at 10 a.m. Suggestions for extending high point meals by increasing the use of fish, game and poultry and by using home stored and preserved vegetables and for saving and stretching fats will be discussed. A feature of the meeting will be a check-up on unseen food waste in Charlevoix county homes.

Such questions as "May canned strawberries substitute for tomatoes?" and "Is three points worth of string beans as nutritious as three points worth of peas?" will be answered. During the meeting charts to aid the homemaker with furture questions on food substitutions as well as recipe leaflets will be distributed.

The club leaders are sponsoring three sewing machine repair schools to be held on April 11, 12 and 13. It will be possible to work on, from ten to fifteen machines daily. If yu are interested contact your local extension leader. A day each, will be spent in East Jordon, Boyne City and Charlevoix.

Organize County Soil Conservation District

Plans for incorprating Charlevoix county into a soil conservation unit will be organized at an important meeting of farm leaders in the Charlevoix city hall on Friday afternoon, February 24, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Already some 60 signatures on petitions have been forwarded to the state committee, in support of the project.

A soil conservation district in Charlevoix county will make possible the services of a soils expert located within the county. According to B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, over 10 per cent of our land has already lost three-fourths of its topsoil. Another large area has lost over one-fourth of the topsoil. Prevention of soil losses is the big reason that farmers are interested in this program.

The County Farm Bureau has already endorsed this project. The County Pomona Grange, at its meeting held at Marion Center Grange on Tuesday of this week, likewise approved this program and is actively boosting its adoption.

A public hearing will be held on March 30, when all interested farmers can meet and discuss with the state committee all details of its operation.

Previous to this, all farm organizations in the county will be discussing its advantages and benefits at all farm meetings throughout the month of March.

Watch this paper for further information next week.

Be Ready For Spring

Many farmers are taking the advice of the United States Department of Agriculture by ordering the fertilizers now that they are going to need this spring, and accept delivery as soon as this material arrives.

Have YOU planned your needs and placed your order?

If not, be prepared to do your part in producing the much-needed food and fiber for our Uncle Sam by following this advice.

KIWANIS NOTES

John S. Blasky, lieutenant-governor of this Kiwanis district, was present at the Tuesday night meeting. He reviewed some of the achievements and suggested goals for the local club.

Dr. F. F. McMillan, speaker for the evening, gave a splendid address on Lincoln and Washington. He reviewed Carl Sandburg's poem on Lincoln's gloves, revealing the human side of a phase of Lincoln's life in Washington.

Arlo Wickersham became a new member of the club at this meeting.

NIGHT PHONE RATES START HOUR EARLIER

Michigan Bell Announces Change Effective March 1

Estimated savings of $400,000 a year will accrue to Michigan long distance users as a result of rate revisions effective March 1.

Under the new schedules, night rates begin at 6 p. m. instead of 7 p. m., as at present. Overtime rates on tele-typewriter exchange service also are reduced.

The revisions first were authorized for interstate service, in negotiations between the Federal Communications Commission and the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The Michigan Public Service Commission and Michigan Bell Telephone Company agreed to make rates and practices between points within Michigan conform.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF MARIAN DURANCE AND B. DALE CASE

Mr. and Mrs. Ned E. Durance, of Flint, former Charlevoix residents, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marian Jane, to B. Dale Case, U. S. navy.

The ceremony took place Saturday, February 12, at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Emma Lou Durance, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bride is a graduate of Flint Northern high school, and is now a student at Asbury college, Wilmore, Ky. The groom has returned to San Francisco, Calif., where he is stationed at present.

Perch Fishing Poor Now

Local fishermen report that, while there are plenty of perch in Round and Charlevoix lakes, they won't bite. Reason given is — too many minnows. Of course, this condition is likely to change momentarily.

LIST KEY POINTS OF FARM MACHINES

Lists of the fatigue points on typical Michigan farm machines have been summarized as a service to farmers by agricultural engineers at Michigan State College. Machines ready to go when a job needs to be done can help solve many an individual farm labor problem, the college men point out.

On a plow, for instance, there are 14 inspection points that ought to be watched. Disk harrows have six, grain drills have 13, corn planters 10, potato planters 6, and manure spreaders 10.

Winter attention to a plow would take in the complete check list of the share, landside, frog, beam, moldboard, jointer, coulter, wheel bearings, bails and collars, frame, lifting clutch, lifting springs, levers and all bolts.

On the disk harrow the critical points are the disks, levers, disk bearing, tongue or trucks, scrapers and the gang bolt. The spring-tooth harrow should be checked for teeth, tooth clamps, tooth bars, tooth bar bearings, levers, quadrants and all bolts.

Grain drills should be kept clean when not in use, greased regularly. Check points include the hopper, agitator, feeding device, seed shaft, seed tubes, furrow openers, drag bars, scrapers, wheel bearings, frame, wheels, levers and the fertilizer and grass seed attachments.

Corn planters should be checked for bearings, hoppers, plates, feed shaft, clutch, valves, checking heads, variable drop mechanism, furrow openers and all bolts. Six points on a potato planter involve the hoppers, payls and springs, wheels and bearings, clutch, sprockets and chains. The 10 points on a manure spreader include wheel bearings, drive pawls and springs, apron and apron drive, apron shaft bearings, beater shafts and bearings, drive chain, beater chain, feed pawls, feed ratchet and all bolts.

Inspection should lead to listing all needed repair parts.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Roy Gregory, of East Jordan, was admitted Friday for medical treatment.

Mrs. Theodore Peck, of East Jordan, is receiving medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bussler, of East Jordan, announce the birth of a son on Thursday, February 17.

Blue Star Mothers of America, Charlevoix chapter, will meet on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. M. Foster, 203 Nettleton street.

ARMY LETTERS

Dear Editor:

I've received the paper for over a year, now, and have just found time to thank you for it. I've received it a little late and regular, but it has always proved interesting while in the Aleutian Islands, in the state and out here in Hawaii.

I'm on the main island, only a short way from Honolulu, Waikiki Beach and Pearl Harbor. Compared to the Aleutians, this duty is paradise. We should be here for quite a while.

We get into Honolulu about once a week and find plenty to do and see. I've picked cocoanuts and had plenty of fresh pineapple.

I guess I had better close now. Best regard to you and all my friends in Charlevoix.

Yours sincerely,
Harold I. Hamlin.

Dear Editor:

As it's quite a while since I wrote you, and I have a slight change of address to give, I thought I would drop you a line to thank you for the paper, which I have been getting regularly every Tuesday. I always look forward to it.

I also want to thank the Kiwanis club, and Luther Hannah, from whom I received a swell letter yesterday. It certainly makes one feel good to know that there are people back home who are doing all they can to get this old war over with as soon as possible.

For my part, it can't end too soon, even though I happen to be one of the lucky ones who hasn't had to go out and meet the enemy face to face yet.

But as it seems, Uncle is satisfied with me staying here for the present.

As it is about chow time, I will wind this up. Thanks again for the Courier.

Dear Editor:

Thanks a million for the town paper.

Am supposed to be leaving here Monday, going back to Langley Field, Va. Would appreciate your changing my address back to 921 Boat (Avn.), Langley Field, Va.

Had a couple of trips on the P-103, the 104-foot boat that is stationed here. We plotted courses, took bearings, and fixes, with the polorus. Also had a chance to steer the boat.

So long, see you in the south again. Will sure be glad to get back where it is warm, too.

Best regards to everyone up in Charlevoix.

Pfc. Charles J. Krulik

Dear Editor:

Well, I guess it is about time I wrote you a letter to let you and my other friends in good, old Charlevoix know that I am in the best of health and I hope all of my friends are o. k. also. I have been getting your paper for some time and I surely enjoy it.

Well, I am not in the guard any more because they put me in another company, and I don't have to work nights any more. So, you see, I get plenty of sleep when I don't go to town. I have been out here in Reno for a year, and I still don't like it and I never will. I will take good, old Charlevoix any day.

I suppose Glenn Rose, the Charlevoix cop, is cruising around, but there can't be a heck of a lot for him to do.

I'd better ring off for now, so thanks for sending me the home-town paper and I sure enjoy every bit of it, a whole lot.

Solong until next time,

MILKWEED FLOSS PRODUCTS PLANT OPEN TO PUBLIC

Quarter Million Dollar Concern May Be Viewed Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Open house at the plant of the Milkweed Floss Products Corporation at Petoskey will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, March 2, 3 and 4, from two to five o'clock.

Visitors will be shown the quarter million dollar plant in full operation and may view the milkweed pods from the first conveyors, through the triple-drying ovens, separators and to the finished floss, baled and ready for shipment.

A delegation of from thirty to forty government officials from Washington, Chicago and Lansing, including Dr. Boris Bakman, president, and L. J. Lyon, vice-president of the Milkweed Floss Products Corporation, will be present.

W. C. Jackson, local plant manager, stated that the 1944 quota has been set at 3,000,000 pounds of floss, which is the equivalent of six million sacks or thirty million pounds of pods.

According to the War Hemp Industries, Inc., in charge of guthering the pods, an intensive campaign will be waged this year throughout 25 states in pod collection. Last year the program included the states of Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Wisconsin and northern Indiana.

The two government organizations are working 100% on war effort to obtain sufficient floss for life jackets to take the place of the Japanese controlled kapek market.

RED CROSS WORKERS MET AT BOYNE CITY

Quotas, Work In Army Camps and Drive Plans Discussed

A Red Cross rally, preceding the War Fund Drive which opens today, was held at the Boyne City high school Tuesday evening. Fifteen directors and workers from Charlevoix attended.

Mrs. C. F. Kriegoff, of Boyne City, Charlevoix county chairman, presided at the meeting. E. J. Edwards, county War Fund chairman, addressed the group and outlined quotas. Robert Manlove, Red Cross Field Director, of Fort Brady, spoke on the work of the Red Cross in army camps. A Red Cross film was also shown.

Light refreshments were served to the forty members present in the high school dining room.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF ISABELLE SCHANTZ AND PVT. GERALD REID

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schuntz of Norwood announce the engagement of their daughter, Isabelle, to Private Gerald Reid of Windsor, Ontario. The wedding will take place at the Methodist church in Windsor on March 28.

Immediately after the wedding, the couple will spend their honeymoon here in Charlevoix. Private Reid will then report back to the Canadian army.

SCHOOL OFFICERS MEET ON MARCH 9

Howard Prine and Henry Ponitz Will Appear On Program

According to Michigan school law it is required that a meeting of all school officers be held every two years. Attendance is required by law and the expenses of those attending are to be paid by their respective districts. The purpose of these sessions is to inform school officials of new school legislation, any changes in school financial set ups and general information and recommendations affecting school matters, teachers and school boards.

It was announced today by L. L. Close, county school commissioner, that the meeting for this district will be held on March 9 at 10 a. m. in the East Jordan high school. The state Superintendent of Public Instruction together with other speakers from that office will aid in conducting this meeting.

All rural as well as city teachers and school boards are concerned with these sessions and it is the duty of all school boards to see that all teachers are present.

Howard Prine, Dept. of Public Instruction, will discuss Child Accounting, school finances and school law while Henry Ponitz, of the same department, will discuss teaching methods and general school matters.

GRANGE MET AT MARION CENTER

MEMBERS SUPPORTED NEW SOIL EROSION PLAN

Readings, Songs, Stories and A Tasty Luncheon Were Enjoyed By Pomona and Its Host

Charlevoix county Pomona grange met on Washington's birthday, February 22, with Marion Center grange for an afternoon meeting, following an enjoyable luncheon. There were 41 members in attendance.

After the business meeting was called to order by the master, Joe Leu, an enjoyable program was conducted by the lecturer, Mrs. Lulu Clark. It consisted of several good readings and stories, a song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Sister Willis, Sister Winney and Brother Murry. Joe Leu gave a summary of his trip to Farmer's week, and his visit to two outstanding dairy farms in southern Michigan.

Brother Knutsen gave reminiscences of grange meetings in the past; how people used to come from all over the county driving horses, staying over night with friends, holding a two-day meeting, and going home happy and inspired. He raised the question of "Whether people are as grange minded as they used to be." Mr. Mellencamp gave a very comprehensive explanation of the new set-up on control of soil erosion.

The grange went on record heartily supporting the program, and intending to do all possible to aid in furthering the plans.

Each master of each grange and Pomona master are to attend the meetings and learn all possible about the soil control set-up, and carry the information back to their grange members.

The next meeting will be with Barnard grange, April 28, for an evening meeting.

PAST MATRONS' CLUB ENJOYS QUIZZ CONTEST

Mrs. Halea Cook Honored As Birthday Guest for February

Members of the Past Matrons' club of the Eastern Star were entertained, last Friday evening, at the home of one of their number, Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman, 412 Dixon Avenue.

A delicious potluck supper was served for twelve and was followed by an interesting newspaper quiz question program to test the familiarity of the ladies present with recent developments as found in the current press. Winners of the contest were Mrs. Edith Curtis, Mrs. Bernice Wexstaff and Mrs. Esther North.

The affair was in part a celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Helen Cook, who was presented with a beautifully decorated birthday cake. This was the regular monthly meeting of the club and it is a custom each month to honor the member or members whose birthday falls in that month. Apparently, Mrs. Cook was the only February past matron. The next meeting will be held at her home on March 31st.

INSTRUCTION SCHOOL FOR STAR MEMBERS

Grand Lodge Officer Presides At Lodge Affair Wednesday

Members of the Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan chapters of the Eastern Star attended a school of instruction at the Masonic temple here on Wednesday evening, at which Mrs. Lelah L. Brown of Bellevue, associate grand conductress, presided.

A social hour and refreshments followed. The three large tables were decorated in a patriotic motif and lighted with tapers. Mrs. Brown was accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Catherine Isbell of Eaton Rapids.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS

Youth Dies When Car Strikes Light Pole

James M. Davis, 20-year-old East Jordan boy, was killed last Friday evening in a peculiar accident. He took the family car, started for town and, when about half way down a hill, changed his mind and ran into an alley to turn around. In backing out of the alley, he put his head out the window to look back just as the car sideswiped an electric light pole.

His head struck against the pole, the impact breaking his neck and fracturing his skull. His body was thrown from the car, the door of the car was torn off and the vehicle ran back out of the alley across the street and stalled against a bank on the other side. Young Davis had been married about five months to a niece of Martin C. Pedersen, West Lincoln Ave., this city.

NOTABLE SPEAKER COMES MARCH 7TH

HAROLD LAWRANCE TALKS IN SIMPLE TERMS

Sponsored By Board of Commerce Educator-Executive Brings Distinctive Message

At the Palace Theatre on March 7, eight p. m., the Charlevoix board of commerce will present a speaker that's different. No admission will be charged.

Harold G. Lawrance believes the biggest truths, the most vital facts can be presented in simple everyday language. He may startle you. He will make you laugh. He always makes you think. He uses contrast, climax, surprise and suspense. But he also uses a vast amount of common sense. When he is through, you can rest assured that the substance of his theme is authoritative and up-to-date. He is a research student who has written extensively.

A university graduate with a number of degrees; a college instructor and college president; a business man and executive with national organizations, a public relations counseller, he is well equipped in training and experience to contribute something worth while to your comfort and security.

This speaker has been a student of American cities for many years and has built up an unusually large library of city plans, charters, city developments, and photographs, sketches and drawings of all sorts of city buildings, industrial structures, schools, homes, churches, parks and other features, as well as a mass of data on city government, based on extensive travel in this and other countries and a broad study of municipalities.

Lawrance has talked before hundreds of groups in the middle west on American cities of the past and present but now he gives a picture of the future American city — a composite view of how present trends may, after the War, expand into an entirely different type of municipality. He quotes largely from city planners, nationally known architects, city managers and engineers and leaders in education, religion, recreation, and government.

The picture is rather startling and may serve to arouse citizens into the tremendous power and influence of even the smallest community which, he thinks, possesses a distinct, human, many-sided and colorful personality which must be understood and intimately known to be fully appreciated. The voice of the city, Lawrance says, is the voice of the nation — and it is also the voice of each of us.

Local Fish Tug Stuck In Ice Off South Point

On last Thursday, Joe Arvilla of Charlevoix brought his fish tug down from Northport to lift nets off Beaver harbor. He was successful in this attempt but, in trying to get into Charlevoix later, his boat stalled in the drift ice and was only released after several hours work by the Beaver Island coast guardsmen at a spot just off South Point here.

CHURCHES OBSERVE WORLD PRAYER DAY

Protestant Denominatins Take Part In Union Service

The Charlevoix Protestant churches observed the World Day of Prayer at the Christ Episcopal Church here on Friday afternoon. The service held annually the first Friday in Lent, was well attended.

The theme: "And the Lord wondered that there was no intercessur" was read by Mrs. Walter Bergeon, of the Episcopal church; Reform church; Mrs. Winifred Mrs. John Boss, of the Bernard Bambach, of the Church of God; Mrs. Frank Bird, of the Methodist church; Mrs. Jeff Novotny, of the Congregational church and Mrs. Walker Miles, of the Baptist church. Miss Eddis Leigh Ingle sang the offertory accompanied by Mrs. S. E. Coleman at the organ.

The service and offering had as its objective Christian literature for women and children in the mission fields; Union Christian collegos and migrant and shareeropper; Indian students in government schools.

FIGURES SHOW GOOD BOOST IN CSO FUND

Chairman Hamilton Much Pleased With Gratifying Receipts

Charlevoix Service Organization desires gratefully to acknowledge the public's fine co-operation in the recent drive for funds. The sum of $210.00 was realized and it is hoped that the coming campaign in April will be equally successful.

Recent contributors to the newspaper fund are Dutus Dean, Mrs. Nellie Myers, Epworth Ladies Aid of Inwood, Robert Cummings.

Ralph S. Hamilton, chairman of the C.S.O., also desires to thank the members of the Charlevoix high school and marine bands, their director, E. E. Beach, guest director, Max Smith of Petoskey, the Charlevoices and all who participated in the concert, on Tuesday of last week, at the gymnasium and helped to make it a success. The affair netted $31.36.

PIONEER BAY SHORE WOMAN IS HONORED

Mrs. Ida Murray Reaches Seventy-sixth Milestone In Life

Mrs. Ida Murray was pleasantly surprised, Tuesday evening, when eighteen friends gathered at her home to honor her seventy-sixth birthday anniversary.

Pedro was played at three tables with first prizes awarded to H. Murray and Mrs. F. Myers, consolation prizes to Mrs. Florence Lawson and D. Bassett.

Two large birthday cakes and ice cream were served. Mrs. Murray received a lovely assortment of gifts.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray and daughters of Charlevoix, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deschermeier, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bassett, Mrs. Florence Lawson, Wm. Vosburg, Mrs. Carrie Murray and daughter and H. Murray.

MRS. O. ATCHISON DIED LAST MONDAY

Sister of Mrs. Horace R. Fowler Suffered Long Illness

After an illness of long duration, Mrs. Olive Atchison, former resident of Charlevoix and well-known to older people here, passed away Monday at Traverse City, where she and her family had made their home for a number of years.

Olive Shrier was born in Charlevoix, May 11, 1889, the daughter of John and Julia Shrier. She was married to Leon B. Atchison in 1906 at Washington, D. C., where they resided for several years before coming to Charlevoix.

Deceased is survived by her husband and four children: Sergeant Bradley Atchison, who is in New Guinea; Robert Atchison of Detroit, Mrs. D. R. Wales and Miss Julia Atchison of Traverse City, and two grandchildren; a brother, Robert Shrier of Washington, D. C., and two sisters, Mrs. A. N. Burney of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. and Mrs. Horace R. Fowler of Charlevoix.

Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home on Friday, March 3, at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. Heward Towne, pastor, First Congregational Church, Traverse City officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

TWO DIE FROM FURNACE FUMES

FORMER SUMMER RESIDENTS VICTIMS IN FLINT

John T. Schofield and His Sister Survive His Wife and Her Sister In Tragedy

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. John T. Schefield and her sister, Miss Mary Roscoe, in Flint on December 22. Gas fumes, escaping from a furnace into their home in which they lived with Mr. Schofield and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Schofield, caused their death.

Mr. Schofield and his sister were found in time and after several weeks in the hospital, have been dismissed to their home.

They were well known in Charlevoix having been summer guests for ten years at the Bartlett hotel and for the past two years at the Tower hotel. Mr. Schefield organist at the Congregational church in Flint, played at the church here on many occasions.

RED RAYDERS 18 HARBOR SPGS. 20

LOCAL TOSSERS GET SETBACK IN FAST, CLOSE GAME

Chambers High Man In Last Game of Season Before Tournament Next Week

Playing before one of the largest crowds of the season, Charlevoix's Red Rayders bowed once more to Harbor Springs to the tune of 20 to 18.

The final score is indicative of the game as a whole, which was — from start to finish — a real thriller.

The Rayders have come a long way since December. Every boy on the squad shows a marked degree of improvement and, with the tournament coming next week, will make a strong bid at East Jordan.

Charlevoix used Bellinger, Hardy, Belfy, Plumm, Chambers and Ward; Harbor Springs, Haase, Newman, Smith, Allerding, Hovey, Jardine and Kishigo.

The score at the end of the 1st quarter was Harbor, 5; Charlevoix, 4; at the half, Harbor, 11; Charlevoix, 8; at the 3rd, Harbor, 10; Charlevoix, 13, final, Harbor, 20; Charlevoix, 18. Chambers was high man for Charlevoix with 5 points to his credit and Harbor's Smith topped with 8. A. E. Wolgast of Petoskey refereed. Charlevoix's season record — seven won, seven lost; conference record — five won, three lost.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS AT MRS. FOSTER'S

The Charlevoix chapter of the Blue Star Mothers met with Mrs. J. M. Foster on Thursday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. P. R. Ross presided at the short business session. Four new members, Mrs. Joseph D. Smith, Mrs. O. P. North, Mrs. Selma Pearl and Mrs. Bert Beaudoin joined the organization.

A social evening with card games followed the business period. Mrs. Ross won the door prize. Refreshments were served by the hostess late in the evening.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edward Olach, May street, on March 30.

Cub Scouts Graduate

Pack No. 111 of the Cub Scouts held a pack meeting at the recreation hall on Monday evening, with E. D. Hawley and Ralph S. Hamilton in charge. Billy Barber and Don Gill graduated from the Cubs and were formally turned over to the Scouts. The Scouts present received earned awards and, until their next pack meeting in May, will devote their time to the April scrap paper drive.

Odd Fellows Lead 14 Points

Standings in the cribbage contest, Monday evening, were Odd Fellows, 9,779 and Masons, 9,806. However, the Odd Fellows net a 14 point lead, with next Monday the last play of the tournament. It has never been that close before on the last night of play. High men were Robert Stafford, Odd Fellows, with 937 and Clifford ("Tip") Riley, 939 for the Masons.

Lest We Forget

Reviewing a Bit of Charlevoix's History Through the Time-Worn Pages of Old Courier Files.

Fifty-Eight Years Ago

Thursday, February 25, 1886
(From the Files of the Charlevoix Journal)

A cat, aged 22 years, belonging to Mr. Bolton, the postmaster at Inwood, died recently. (The remarkable thing here is — not that the cat was 22 years old, but that Inwood had a postmaster!)

Dr. Kanagy of Atwood was seriously injured, recently, by the dynamic heels of a horse.

In a late Florida paper the principal advertisement, which is six times larger than any other advertisement in the paper, is devoted entirely to the sale of coffins and undertaker's goods. Healthy country that! (California papers please copy.)

William Miller returned last week from his visit to his Arkansas home. He has over 300 acres of land there through which a railroad is being built and on which a station will be located. It promises to become a mine of wealth for him. (Uh huh — we had a lot, once, in Saskatchewan.)

The new covered stage, recently put on the Petoskey and Charlevoix route, reminds one of the age in which he lives — a thing which cannot be said of every stage. Of course, it is not quite like a palace car, although so tastefully painted. It is substantially and tightly made, well lighted with windows and sash doors, well ventilated and heated by a nice little sheet iron stove that could not spill fire if the coach should capsize. The floor is double and carpeted and the seats cushioned. He who wants a better conveyance ought to be obliged to stay at home winters until Charlevoix has a railroad. (As proof of this contention, the article immediately following the above and

Dear Editor:

It is a good night to write, as it is raining. Am sitting under a wall tent by a nice fire to keep the chill out. I think I am lucky, in a way, as the division we are on maneuvers with are sleeping in pup tents and what a time they have to keep them from floating away. We slept two nights in them and I still can't figure out how we happened to stay on top of the hill. I have been on the military reservation for a month now. However, maneuvers don't start until the 25th of the month.

I am a lucky fellow but, as long as we have to live in the field most of the time, I wish they would send me across. We moved to Camp Cooke for just long enough to begin to enjoy ourselves then back in the field. But, I was real happy for a while, as the girl I have been engaged to for the past year and a half came out and we were married the 22nd of January in the camp chapel.

I wish my buddies and friends could have seen her, as she was beautiful in her white silk or satin gown, with a veil that hung to her ankles. The bridesmaid wore a blue velvet. The bride had a bouquet of white lillies blended with pink carnations. The bridesmaid had a bouquet of pink carnations and some kind of blue flower to blend with her gown. She is still here, but I don't get in except on week ends or, I should say, I have had my last pass until maneuvers are over.

When we came here, we were going back to Camp Cooke, but now there has been a slight change so I thought I had better change my address, because I do want the paper and always look forward to it, and, since I came here, I have only received one paper, which was February 9th. Oh, I'll get them, but forwarding is too slow.

I hope you can read this. I never could write a letter and, since I came to the army I am worse. My light isn't so good, either. You ought to see it — a kerosene lamp, which we bought today. We made a holder for it from a gallon can nailed to the center upright.

STARK TRAGEDY

We granted the enemy a quick and thoroughly complete victory of major importance in February when a two-and-a-half-million-dollar concern engaged in building engines for Liberty ships was demolished by fire on the West Coast. Twenty-four engines in various stages of completion were also destroyed. All of this did not cost the Axis a single bomb or plane. While the cause of this particular disaster is not known definitely, an overheated steam pipe was suggested. It is known, however, that the majority of such fires are preventable. A moment of carelessness in a vital war plant today can do the work of countless bombers. Day after day we read the historic flights of American planes that fly hundreds of miles in broad daylight over enemy territory, through hour after hour of relentless attack from above and below. Their objectives are often war plants. If they can destroy an important plant and get home again with a loss of a few hundred men and twenty to forty planes, their mission is considered justified. After a few flights like this, men are retired to easier jobs — if they live that long.

How must they feel, these fighters — when they read about our war plants being destroyed needlessly, with the flick of a lethal pen — neglected pile of waste, [illegible] Our worker in a mo[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON
From Your Congressman

The Tax Bill Veto

On the anniversary of Washington's birthday, the President sent to the Congress a most caustically worded messnge advising that in the public interest he found it necessary to veto the tax bill which had received the attention and study of the congress for the past six to eight months. Seldom has congress been aroused over presidential action. Members of his own party broke with him in a swift rebellion unprecedented in American history. Senate majority leader Barkley of Kentucky, who has been carrying the President's banner so to speak in the senate for the past 7 years delivered a most stirring speech in which he advised his colleagues that he had resigned his leadership of the senate. He branded the President's tax veto message as a calculated and deliberate assault upon the legislative integrity of every member of congress. He accused the President of trying to convince the American people that congress has deliberately used its taxing power "to impoverish the poor and make the rich richer." As for Mr. Roosevelt's assertion that he had asked a loaf of bread and received a crust, Mr. Barkley pointed out that the "crust" is more than twice the annual cost of the entire government up to World War I and that the President was in the position of a starving man who said: "Unless you serve me a full eight-course dinner, I will not eat."

In the House, Chairman Doughton of the House ways and means committee (D) of North Carolina, and Congressman Harold Knutson, ranking minority member of the committee issued a joint statement to all members of congress, the opening paragraph reading: "The President's veto of the Revenue Bill places squarely before the Congress and the American people the question whether the taxing power shall continue to be exercised by the duly elected Representatives of the American people or whether such power is to be surrendered and turned over to, or be dictated by, a small group of irresponsible theorists in the treasury department who advise the President on taxation and who seem to have lost patience with constitutional government by law and who favor government by executive decree." They charged that the position taken by the President in his veto message was indefensible, and that "The congress gave most careful consideration to the Administration's request for 10½ billions of additional taxes, and after months of deliberation came to the conclusion that any such increase, added to the existing Federal tax burden of 42 billions, and the 10 billions of state and local taxes, would be too oppressive to taxpayers and dangerous to the national economy. The Congress did however increase taxes by $2,300,000,000. which it felt was as high as it could safely go at this time." The joint statement ended with this sentence; "It is our hope that congress will retain its constitutional taxing authority by over-riding the veto — which as you know now the House did by a vote of 299 to 95 and the senate by a vote of 72 to 14. Mr. Roosevelt has lost the power he once had over congress and this without a doubt. Congress has returned to itself its constitutional prerogatives. This is the firm conviction of Republicans and Democrats alike. It is a healthy sign and gives those of us who have feared for the survival of constitutional government much encouragement.

Shall We Be Governed By Directives or Laws?

Nothing can be gained by minimizing the seriousness of the situation in which this country finds itself. We are engaged in a global war. This is certainly enough to exact our utmost energies, our utmost attention. But we find ourselves also up against the determination of the President, running for a fourth term, to subordinate the legislative branch of our government. It is not a case of his simply being bent upon subordinating the Republicans in this branch. He is determined to crush the constitutional Democrats as well. It is just about as serious as anything this country ever had to face. The outcome will shape the future of this country for generations to come. On it will determine whether the Congress is to remain as one of the three coordinate branches of the government or go the way of the Gorman reichstag. If there were any previous doubts as to the truth of this statement, certainly they have been dissipated by the President's message vetoing the above-mentioned tax legislation. It followed his insistence upon applying inflationary roll-back subsidies in spite of congress' opposition and his false charge that the congress was trying to impose a fraud on the armed forces and the country in its insistence that the former be given a full state ballot instead of a federal "bobtail" ballot.

It also follows his insistence upon administering the gigantic reconversion program by directive instead of by law. In this latter clash lies the definite issue with which the American people are faced. Do they want to be governed by directive or decrees, or do they want to be governed by law? It is not a matter of preserving the vanity of the legislative branch. There are 531 of us of all faiths and creeds of the heterogenous racial origins which make up our great melting pot. There are women and men in congress, Jews and a Negro. Among us are men of great ability and attainments, men of lesser ability. There are rich men and poor men. The point is that we are of you. From you comes our strength. Our strength, our ability is no greater, no lesser than the strength and ability of the country as a whole. Last week the congress in both branches courageously met the challenge. Representative government has returned to our America.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Somethin' special catch your eye in the paper, Judge?"

"Sure did, Chet...an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check.

"It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet... prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too.

"Same thing happens every time...as soon as legal liquor is voted out, bootleg liquor with its crime and corruption moves right in."

A huge bald eagle has been noticed at Harbor Springs, leading a large flock of seagulls that hover about the many fish shanties on the ice for bits to eat during the time the lake and harbor are frozen.

Mrs. Josephine Ingalls, wife of Elmer Ingalls of rural route No. 1, Charlevoix, died at the Charlevoix hospital, last Sunday evening, from the effects of peritonitis, following an operation for the removal of a ruptured appendix. She was in her sixtieth year.

(P. D. Campbell and family, who at that time occupied apartments over the Faulkner building, when the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering offices occupied the lower floor, were almost trapped in their sleep by a fire that broke out in the partition.)

(Dr. R. E. Palmer's first report to Lansing justified to the state the placing of a doctor on Beaver Island.) The doctor in the first fortnight has seen about thirty patients, some of whom are acutely ill. There are several streptococcic infections and cases of influenza. Navigation to the Beaver group is now closed and mail is forwarded more or less regularly from Cross Village by Indian runners. This occupation is full of risk, because of the intense cold, shifting ice floes and blinding snowstorms. (Just a thought — how long it takes even democratic government to recognize its plain responsibility to the people who create it — no resident doctor on an isolated group of islands until 1924!)

A few of the W. R. C. ladies met at the home of Mrs. Ed Burns on Wednesday, February 20th, and had a fine lunch which had as its chief feature warm biscuits made by Mrs. Burns' mother, Mrs. Blanche Craven, who is 94 years old but hasn't lost her nack of turning out good things to eat, by any means. (We have inside information that Mrs. Craven must have transmitted a great deal of her culinary skill to her daughter.)

(In the hospital notes) The steam heating plant is being installed in the new annex.

A communication from Will E. Hampton of Ann Arbor announces the marriage, on Saturday, February 16th, of his son, Victor H. Hampton to Miss Frances Linehan of Detroit, at St. Paul's church, that city.

A number of friends met at the home of Mrs. Clyde Ogden on Mason street, Thursday evening, to celebrate Mrs. Ogden's birthday anniversary. A potluck supper was served at six o'clock. Guests were Mesdames William Bluck, Frank Bird, Hugh King, Lilly Saunders, Jos. William Flanders, George Jardine, John Nasson, Sam Alexander, Charles Dean and the Misses Sylvia Black and Lillis Flanders.

Following an illness of several years duration, Mrs. J. B. Kirby died at her farm home, near Norwood, Monday morning, at 12:45.

(From Beaver Island news) on Tuesday night the men's sleeping quarters at Nomad, owned by G. Cole, burned to the ground. Joe Koss froze both his feet, making his escape from the burning building (How come?)

(Also Beaver Island) Saturday morning, February 23, William McDonough, Roland McDonough, Patrick Lafreniere, Joe Floyd and W. J. Gallagher, Jr. went by car, via the ice route, to Charlevoix, making the trip in steam boat time. This was the first time such a trip was made by car to Charlevoix all the way on ice.

(Incidentally, this was the first time in 27 years that a trip, in any manner, over the ice had been accomplished between these two points. The men covered 75 miles, as against the steamboat course of 33 miles and the journey consumed only a little over four hours. A Ford touring car was used and two 16 foot planks were carried along to span the cracks in the ice, which caused them to make many detours.)

EASTERTIDE

Heralds the joys of spring, but it brings to the hard-working Dyer and Cleaner the heaviest burden of the year. Only the splendid co-operation of American men and women in 1943 averted a serious situation, when the industry — like many others not directly connected with the war effort — was short-handed and materials were hard to obtain.

Will you please help us again? Have your spring and Easter dry-cleaning done as early as possible. Don't delay until the last minute, as then we may not be able to serve you. We will appreciate your kind consideration.

Red Cross Asks $200,000,000 To Cover Wartime Needs

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Confronted with responsibilities of unprecedented proportions, as the war enters its most crucial stage, and with a staggering task ahead in the post-war period, the American Red Cross opens its 1944 War Fund appeal March 1, confident that the American people will respond to the limit of their ability.

President Roosevelt, president of the American Red Cross, Norman H. Davis, chairman and active head of the vast organization, and Leon Fraser, national War Fund chairman, join in urging the people of this country to help Red Cross reach its national objective of $200,000,000 because of the vital part it must play within the next twelve months.

Chairman Davis, in opening the campaign, will stress the fact that with the decisive stage of the war at hand, the Red Cross must assume a greater burden than ever before, and at the same time must provide aid to servicemen being returned in ever-increasing numbers.

Red Cross operations over the entire world during 1943 have dwarfed its activities during the first two years of war.

An even greater burden will be placed on Red Cross services in 1944.

Thousands of American men and women are now in Red Cross service with U. S. troops at home bases and overseas. Field directors, hospital, club and recreation workers are with American armed forces in virtually every command, Mr. Davis asserted.

Both in Europe and in the Far East, Red Cross workers have either gone with invasion forces into new combat areas, or have followed within a very limited time.

On the home front, the Red Cross has broadened its service tremendously. Field directors are serving in every sizable military establishment and camp throughout the country, and recreation and social service workers are located in Army and Naval hospitals.

One of the most important and necessary war-time Red Cross functions has been the collection of human blood for plasma. Thirty-five blood donor stations are now operating.

The dramatic story of the Red Cross Blood Donor Service, through which thousands of soldiers and sailors have been saved from death, began in February, 1941, when the Surgeons General of the Army and Navy asked the Red Cross to procure 15,000 pints of blood. Last year more than 3,700,000 pints of blood were collected for the Army and Navy. This year the goal is more than 5,000,000 pints.

With major battles of the war yet to come, the Army has asked the Red Cross to supply many millions of surgical dressings. American men wounded in battle will depend acutely on the vast Red Cross surgical dressing production program.

Numerous other Red Cross home operations, such as Prisoner of War packaging centers, where more than a million parcels for war prisoners are prepared each month for shipment overseas, are supported by citizen-participation in the Red Cross War Fund.

So extensive is Red Cross service during this war that every American civilian can contribute something to at least one of its functions. To continue this gigantic work, all Americans must assume their share of the responsibility of carrying on this far-reaching service.

The $200,000,000 quota will enable Red Cross to alleviate suffering and pain at home and abroad, and to carry on its vast military welfare service.

PILGRIM CIRCLE AT HILLER HOME

Mrs. E. J. Hiller entertained the members of the Pilgrim circle of the Congregational church at her home, on Wednesday afternoon, with a February birthday party. Mrs. Oscar Smith lead the devotionals and opened the meeting with a prayer for peace. Mrs. Jeff Novotny had charge of the program, which included a poem, "Abraham Lincoln,)) and a reading, "Lincoln's son Willie." A February birthday quiz followed with Mrs. A. B. Saltonstall and Mrs. Lou Comfort winning the prizes. The meeting closed with a discussion of George Washington.

Refreshments, which included a beautiful lighted birthday cake honoring the anniversaries of two members, Mrs. Richard O'Neil and Mrs. Comfort, were then served by the hostess. The next meeting will be on March 8 with Mrs. Saltonstall.

NORWOOD

Pfc. George Light of Lansing, also Mrs. Light and son, George, of Detroit, spent the past week visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Light, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBride and family, of East Jordan, were Sunday visitors of the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrell and family, who live near Eastport, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Henry.

Word was received by relatives that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stott of Pontiac, are the proud parents of a baby boy, born February 18th, named Buddie Joseph.

been assisting in the office since the recent appointment of Miss Flanders as treasurer.

(Spring primary was announced for the following Monday, with plenty of contests. L. S. Loe, incumbent mayor, was opposed by Arthur Bergeon; Robert J. Madill was running against F. J. Fessendon for alderman in the second ward; J. J. Hallett against William Higman in the third ward and D. J. Eckinger threatened W. E. Parmelee's tenare of the supervisor's office.)

(Mayor Bergeon defended the acts of his administration against an attack made by Shirley Henry, editor of the Charlevoix Sentinel. His article was a ringing challenge and, had the late Willard A. Smith been alive at the time and in his editorial chair, it is our opinion that the resulting battle royal would have melted the Sentinel presses and caused clouds of sulphurous smoke to issue from its doors. But, ah me, them happy days of journalism has gone forever.)

(The Charlevoix County State Bank reopened this week, with fervent rejoicings on the part of everybody.)

Mrs. Philip Lemieur and Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, this city, were joint hostesses at a very delightful birthday party, given Tuesday evening in honor of the former's daughter, Mrs. Oscar Swenor, at her heme in Petoskey.

Fire of andetermined origin destroyed the roof and practically the entire third floor of the Geik C. Geiken residence, one of Charlevoix's oldest hemes and a city landmark, Tuesday forenoon.

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE UNDER WAY

EXCELLENT RESPONSE MET IN ENTIRE COUNTY

Charlevoix Chapter Retains Third Of All Money Raised During Current Campaign

While a complete report on progress af the Red Cross war fund drive in Charlevoix county cannot yet be made, E. J. Edwards, caunty wor fund chairman, states that an excellent response is being made to the campaign in all sections of the county.

Every Charlevoix citizen will be called apon for a contributian as large os possible, to meet the city's quota af $2,900 — appraximately twice the amount that was asked last year. Qaota for the caunty is $9,900. In 1043, Charlovaix caunty went well aver the gaal, and it is hoped to repeat this success during the current drive.

Of all money rsised in the county — regardless of whether the quata la surpassed ar nat — the Charlevoix county Red Crass chapter will retain 31 per cent for hame service work among servicemen's families, education in first aid, home nursing and water aafety, and variaus other uaes. The remaining 69 per cent is turned over ta the natinol Rsd Cross organizatian far services ta America's armed forces at home and nhraad, in addition ta expenditures fer bload donar service, nid to Ualted States prisoners of war, disoster relief and civilian war aid, foreign war relief, nnd production of surgical dressings, garments and other articles.

Wherever the American serviceman goes, Red Cross is at his side. All army and navy nurses are recruited by the Red Cross. Blood to save countless lives on the battlefield is collected by the Red Cross from civilian donors. Red Cross service clubs open their doors to Yanks in many distant lands. In these and many other ways, Red Cross serves the men who are serving America.

Remove 1942 License Plates From Your Car

State police are stopping motorists in various parts of the state in instancea where the owner has bought the new '44 single plate and affixed it to his car, but has neglected to remove the old '42 plate from the front end. Failurs to remove the expired plate causes unnecessary work for the police, who have to assume that the driver of the oncoming car is still driving with his old plates and also annoys the motorist. It's regulations, anyhow.

Window in his stomach lets doctors spy on emotions. An accident has enabled them to see how worry and hate make your innards blush, cause nches and ulcers, while contentment keeps them healthy. Govind Behari Lal, noted science analyst, describes this latest medical discovery in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Soil Conservation District Organisation Progressing Rapidly

The proposal to establish a soil conservation District in Charlevoix county is meeting with great enthusiasm on the part of farm leaders. Last week Friday, at a meeting in the city building at Charlevoix, eighteen fnrm lenders representing the Grange, Farm Bureau and other county organizations met and discussed the program from all angles. Potitions are now being circulated throughout the county, requesting that a district be organized within the county.

Such a move will make it possible for farmers to receive the assistance of a soil expert on all problems thnt relate to the conserving of soil-fertility and in preventing losses from soil orosion. This service will be given free to the farmers. The governing body will be made up of five farm directors who will have full responsibility.

Erosion has already depleted seversl inches of topsoil from a large portion of our land. In Grand Traverse district, land with

Junior Red Cross Is Doing Splendid Work

(Communication)

The Charlevoix County Junior Red Cross completed its membership drive this week with every schnol in the county enrolled. The Maple Grove school, Mrs. Ruth Hair teacher, was the first to enroll. A membership feo of fifty cents is necesary to enroll each room. A total of $41.50 enrollment fees wers collected aad sent to headquarters in St. Louis, Missauri. These memberships entitle each elementary room to receive The Junior Red Cross News, a magazine published monthly. High schools receive The Red Cross Journal which is af special interest to that group. A total of $63.69 was collected by the Juniors over the enrollment fees. This is deposited with the county secretary and used to purchase materials for construction wark.

Recently St. Mnry's School at Charlevoix and the Charlevoix Public School completed 200 napkins and tray fovors which were sent to North Camp Hood, Gatesville, Texas, and 200 decorated napkins, which were sent to Marfa Army Air Field, Marfa, Texas. A lovely afghan has been completed by the East Jordan Juniors who are also busy making writing portfolios, bedside bags, and convalescent slippers. Boyne City Juniors are busy with bedside bags, slippers, afgans, and utility bags. Boyne Falls schools are doing much Junior Red Cross work in connection with thsir 4H activities. Rural schools nre busy making washcloths nnd utlity hags. Beaver Island Juniors are making ice bag cövers and wash cloths.

K. C. Festerling, 4H District leader, has chargo of the Handicraft construction and reports much interest being shown in ths making of ash trays, hospital equipment and games. There is a great demand for metal ash trays. Materials for making theso are hard to find, so Juniors ure asked to collect as many as possible that nre in good condition or that can be reconditioned. Civilians will probably bo glad to substitute gloss or other trays, so our armed forces may have the metal ones. Will Juniors please inform Mr. Festerling or the local teachers

PELLSTON WINS CLASS C HONOR

ALANSON LEADER IN CLASS D AT E. JORDAN TOURNEY

Raydere Topped Harbor Team By Ono Point, But Trailed Pellston By Six

On Thursday last, Charlevoix, in the first round game, of the district tournament, won over Harbor Springs hy the score of 17 to 10.

Coming from behind in the 3rd quarter, the Red Raydera gained the lead and hold on until the final gun. This game was one of the best, if not the best, of the entire three day tournament. Both teams played superb basketball.

Charlevoix, on Friday, again bowed to Pellston by a seors of 29 to 23. Pellston had previously benten Charlevoix — twice by one point each time. For three quarters, it looked very much like a repetition of the two previous games hut, in the fourth quarter, Pellston turned on the heat and won by six points.

Scores by quarters in both gnmes were as fallws: 1st: Charlevoix, 4; Harbor, 7. 2nd: Charlevoix, 7; Harbar, 10. 3rd: Charlevoix, 15; Harbor, 13. 4th: Charlevoix, 17; Harbor, 16. Chambers was high mnn for Charlevoix, with 11 points to his credit; Allerding for Harbor Springs, with 5 points.

In Friday's game—1st: Charlevoix, 2; Pellston, 5. 2nd: Charlevaix, 13; Pellston, 16. 3rd: Charlevoix, 18; Pellston, 19. 4th: Charlevix, 23; Pellston, 29. Bellinger was high man for Charlevoix, with 9 points and Snider for Pellston, with 12 points.

We understand that the Boyne Statesman is to be enlarged next week (Now it's the Citizen — they're getting down to earth.)

He who complains of the weather we have had for the past few days deserves to he nanished to Siberia. (What a grand New Deal barraacrat Editor Straag would have made!)

Arthur Wilson met with an accident on Tuesday evening while acting as tonsor (barber to you) for himself, by which the debate in the young people's meeting was postponed, he being one of the disputants (probably gave himself one of those GI haireuts.)

The occasion of lawyer Fogg's frequent visits to Charlevoix, on "pressing" business, is now perfectly manifest. He was "courting" and had a "plea" to make and a "suit" to win. Ths lady was befogged — but only in name. (They doubtless rang the fogg bell at the wedding.)

After first providing for herself a home — buying a lot and building a house — Miss Ada Ackery has at last consented to take a husband to share the burdens and joys of life. Mr. Monty ought to consider himself fortunate in securing a wife with such ideas of business and economy. (Miss Ackery was an aunt of Mrs. Rosa Nettleton.)

(Oho! As our eye runs down the column we come upon a solution of the mystery, hitherto shrouded in Fogg — a brief announcement of the marriage, on February 28, 1886, of Mr. Frank E. Fogg of East Jordan and Miss Eliza Ann

LETTERS from the ARMY CAMPS

Dear Editor:

Well, how is everyone in the old home town? All looking for that first robin, I'll bet. From all reports, your winter has been mild compared to last year's.

I hope it isn't too late to thank the different organizations for their welcome Christmas greetings, this year. As no excuse will say that some of the Christmas mail was on its way nearly three months. Our first class mail generally comes through in ten days to two weeks. I just received a letter from my brother-in-law in Italy, which came over in 25 days. Good service, I'd say.

The Courier still comes and is as welcome as ever. It alone has done much to bridge those many miles across the blue Pacific. I wish to thank again those who make it possible that it be sent to all of us in the service.

Just received the Christmas edition a short time ago and enjoyed it very much. The picture of the honor roll is very nice and I'm looking forward to seeing the real thing by next Christmas. The views which the Kiwanis club sent were very welcome, too.

We are allowed to tell where we have been, now, so will list a few cities in Australia—Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Townsville and many other small cities. In New Guinea, have been in Port Moresby, Milne Bay, Buna, Sananarda, Nassau Bay and Salamua, also many other small native villages. Have witnessed many strange and interesting sights in regard to native life on the island. A native dance is a wierd sight, although I haven't seen one in the full dress. About the most pitiful sight was after the Japs released the native prisoners at Salamua. They were moving out as we went in, the women and children carrying their household goods, including the family dogs, on their backs in a fish net. Some of the loads looked heavier than the children, themselves. Every once in a while, you would hear a little baby crying from in among the pots and pans. The mother would move it around and comfort it, as only a mother can do, and still kept plodding along in the knee deep water along the rocky coast line.

Misses Edith Murray, Lucile May and Marilyn Hair were home over the week end.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Executive Office o Lansing

PROCLAMATION

Michigan is one of the highest ranking states of the nation in the production of potatoes. 187,000 farmers of the state answered the government's call last spring to increase the potato acreage thirty per cent in the state, and the harvest resulted in one of the best quality potato crops in the history of the state.

The state now has over 8,000,000 bushels of potatoes which must be consumed now, or in the next two months, to avoid food losses, therefore,

I, Harry F. Kelly, Governor of the State of Michigan, proclaim the Week of March 12 as "Michigan Potato Week", and urge the citizens throughout the state to join with me in recognizing the patriotic efforts of the farmers of the State of Michigan who participated in last year's crop production, under trying circumstances, by serving Michigan potatoes on all possible occasions.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this second day of March, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-four, and of the Commonwealth, the One Hundred Eighth.

12 inches of topsoil produced 331 Bushels of U. S. No. 1 marketable potatoes, while 5 inches of topsoil produced 113 bushels of U. S. No. 1 marketable potatoes on the Neil Morrison farm. The yield measurements were made by a vocational agricultural class and staff. Numerous other experiments show the same results. It is hoped that all farmers will become fully acquainted with the opportunity of organizing a soil conservation district in this county. A public hearing will be held March 30th. Talk this over with your neighbors.

It also may be more practical to collect and refinish such articles as Chinese checkers, dominoes and chess. Jigsaw puzzles and playing cards in good condition are requested. How many can you find, Juniors?

Much credit for the success of Junior Red Cross activities is due to the teachers and mothers who sponsor the work in each community. It is hoped that we may organize the county Juniors and their leaders this year.

LETTERS FROM THE ARMY CAMPS

Dear Editor:

I am sorry I have not written to you sooner, but I have been very busy.

I have been overseas for a little over two years, flying as a tail and turret gunner, and I have a number of missions in over the target. I can't tell you just where I am stationed, but I am somewhere in the Southwest Pacific on an advance aviation base.

I have been receiving the Courier for about two months, now, and I sure do appreciate it. Every time I receive one, I read about some of my old friends.

I am hoping that I will be sent home soon, so I can see my folks again and also old friends.

I will close now, saying cheerio to all my old friends at Charlevoix and hope to see Charlevoix again, soon.

Yours truly,
S/Sgt. Francis L. Mason.

Dear Editor:

Being home once again with family and friends really was a break worth waiting for.

My furlough was full of everything that makes far better morale and I left with a clearer conscience and a different outlook on present conditions. I'd like to thank everyone, personally, but this letter will help, I think.

Must close now, but will write a long one, some time.

Yours,

Dear Editor:

I have some more news and another change of address. I am officially a Cadet now and will start my Pre-Flight schooling Monday. I will be here for nine weeks. I sure appreciate the Courier and look forward to getting each and every issue.

Cordially yours,

Dear Editor:

Guess it's about time I dropped you a line and thanked you for sending me the paper, also the C. S. O. and their contributors. These papers really do mean a lot to a fellow in the service. It's really swell to see a few of the home town names in the home town paper.

Well, I'm finally at my last stage of training. I'm taking up combat crew training, now, which will last for three months. I'm on a B-24 Liberator bomber, as a nose gunner, and that sure is swell, too. I hear George Shaw had another short furlough before he starts training. Good luck, George, send me your address, please.

This sure is beautiful country down here. I'm only a few miles from Pike's Peak. It looks pretty with all the snow on top of it. Oh yes, the elevation of Colorado Springs is 6,116 feet. It seems pretty hard to breath up this high—especially if you do much double timing.

Well, I'll close for now and write you again when I get across.

Like to feel important?

YOU'LL BE important — to your country, and to your fighting men — if you take over a vital job in the Army.

In the Women's Army Corps you'll get expert Army training that may pave the way to a postwar career. You'll have a chance to improve your skill or learn a new one — to meet new people, see new places, have experiences you'll remember all your life.

March 15th is the deadline for filing your Federal Income Tax. In brief, these are the things you are to do:

1. File your tax return for 1943.
2. Pay in full the tax for either 1942 or 1943, whichever is greater.
3. Pay 25% of the tax for the smaller year. (You can pay this in two equal instalments this March and next March if you wish.)

From now on, accurate farm records will be highly important. Looking ahead, why not use a checking account? Each payment will be "on the record," when future tax times roll around.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, would you mind tellin' Charlie here what you told me the other night walkin' home from lodge. I can't word it just the way you did."

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a state, a county, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally...whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. That's the answer, boys... simple as A-B-C."

The high school, having the highest record in attendance and punctuality, the names of pupils neither absent nor tardy for the month are given as follows: Lunu Washburn, Phila Wood, Edith Hawkins, Josie Litzau, Annie Lake, Ella Adams, Sadie Miller, Edith Mason, Ada Litzuu, Ward Ainslee, Fred Green, Maggie Green, Charles Nettleton, Pearl Dart, Lulu Carter and Kutie Smith.

(Reporters and editors don't seem to have been very persistent in those days, unless it was that they were hampered by imperfect means of communication. Just read what follows, and imagine, if you can, what would happen to ye ed. today if a wedding announcement as sketchy as this one should appear in the Courier.) A young lady who formerly lived in Hayes, but who has lived in Charlevoix for the past two years, passed through here on her wedding trip on Monday. We did not learn the name of the happy man, but join with the multitude of friends in wishing them many years of happy wedded life. (This came from the Burgess notes.)

(Advertising men of the '80's knew a few attention-arresting tricks, even if they weren't expert psychologists, as are their modern brothers. For example — headline on an ad. for Parmelee's Blood Purifier—"Blood! Blood! Blood!")

(The county seat row between East Jordan and Charlevoix was just beginning at this time, with East Jordan — having been chosen by county-wide vote as the locale, with "good offices, a good hall and jail" already built — sitting in the seat of advantage and disposed to hold out the olive branch. However, the editor of the Charlevoix Sentinel takes an awful lambasting in this issue at the pen of an anonymous East Jordan contributor, who signed himself "B". Exciting stuff, but too much to print here. Seems the Sentinel ed. used some big Latin words in an editorial and got this guy's goat.)

Thirty Years Ago

Wednesday, March 4, 1914

After seven years of continuous business, Thomas Shawley disposed of his stock of goods, Friday, to H. E. McHugh, who will consolidate the stores and continue the business on a larger scale than ever.

A class consisting of a dozen Greeks from the tannery at Boyne City has just been organized to study the English language — when this class is under full headway, another class will be organized among the Assyrians of the city.

March came in like a lion.

Believing his children to be in peril in his burning house, Henry Vanderark of Ellsworth plunged into the burning structure and was burned to death. A moment after he entered the burning building, the roof collapsed, burying him in the ruins. (The children had previously made their way out of the building and were safe.)

William Black, for twenty-eight years a resident of Charlevoix county, died Tuesday afternoon at his home in Marion township.

O. W. Smith told the editor of this paper, some time ago, that he intended to make himself a new leg — that he could make a better one than any firm in existence. He has completed the leg and it is a dandy. While O. W. has not yet appeared on the street wearing the new leg, he practices every night at home, thus becoming accustomed to it before venturing out. (Born thirty years too soon. Nowadays, he could buy an artificial limb he could feel his corns in when it rained — almost.)

Fochtman's department store in Petoskey, the largest of its kind in Northern Michigan, was entirely destroyed by fire Monday forenoon. The $100,000 stock was completely burned and the handsome structure is practically a total loss.

Percy Edwards returned Saturday from an extended visit to California and other western points.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Simon Rose will succeed himself as mayor of Charlevoix for the year 1919-20 despite political combinations, newspaper attacks upon his record, hand bills and a 99th hour public meeting in which he was viciously assailed by those who were seeking to defeat him. (His majority was 331 in the three wards.)

There will be a meeting at the Congregational church at 7 o'clock on Friday evening of this week for the purpose of forming a cemetery association. The condition of the cemetery is and has been for years a disgrace to the community. The fences are down and the grounds foul with weeds and brush.
